Deer at home in a Mill Creek yard.

Town Hall Forum on deer population Oct. 22

The Village of Salado will conduct an informational town hall forum, "Urban Deer Population: Discussion with a Panel of Professionals," 6:30 p.m. Oct. 22. The informational forum will take place in the Board of Aldermen Chambers in the Municipal Building, 301 N. Stagecoach Road.

Members of the panel include:

Derrick Wolter, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department game biologist. He will address TPWD rules and regulations that monitor and govern urban deer management and provide insight on how to start an urban deer management program.

Charles Edwards, Deer Committee Chairman, City of Lakeway, Texas. He will discuss the background of Lakeway's deer overpopulation issues, how the issues were addressed, and suggest methods to successfully manage deer within the Village.

Dr. Walt Cook, Chief

Wildlife Veterinarian, Texas A&M University College of Veterinary Medicine. He will address diseases in urban deer herds and concerns about diseases that can be transferred to humans.

A representative from the Bell County Game Warden's office, who will discuss laws specific to Bell County in relation to deer control in urban settings.

John Cornelius, Central Texas wildlife management business owner. He will discuss various methods of deer management within Village limits and the pros and cons of each method.

Mary Ann Everett, Master Gardener and Master Naturalist

Laura Murphy, past president of the Bell County Master Gardeners. She will discuss deer-resistant plants.

The town hall forum is free and open to the public.

Salado kicked off the beginning of the Christmas shopping season with its annual Christmas in October held Oct. 9-10 at The Venue by Inn on the Creek. With vignettes designed by local shops and a bake sale featuring homemade goods from Salado's bakers, Christmas in October is a popular annual event for the Salado Chamber of Commerce Ladies Auxiliary. ## Salado Education Foundation gives $300K in scholarships to local grads Salado Education Foundation has awarded more than $300,000 in scholarships to graduating Salado High School students.

The Foundation has also awarded more than $60,000 in Innovative Teaching Grants to Salado school teachers.

For more than a decade, the Salado Education Foundation has supported higher education goals of its students and improving local education through Innovative Teaching Grants to Salado school teachers.

Chiefly, it is able to do so due to the success of its annual Cattleman's Ball, which begins at 6:30 p.m.

Oct. 17 at Tenroc Ranch.

Last minute tickets of $75 per person can be purchased at Salado ISD Administration offices, Century 21 Bill Bartlett Real Estate, Johnny's Steaks & Barbecue and Ace Pest Control.

The Cattleman's Ball

will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Oct. 17 at Tenroc Ranch.

Bill Hall will gavel the auction, following a ribeye steak dinner catered by Johnny's Steaks and Barbecue.

Local favorite Freddie Fuller Band will entertain the crowd with classic country music.

Aldermen to review city manager

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

City manager Kim Foutz will be evaluated by aldermen at their Oct. 15 meeting, using a critique form that they discussed at their Sept. 24 meeting.

The board will also discuss a possible land purchase at the Oct. 15 meeting, which begins at 6:30 p.m. at the Municipal Building.

Beyond the job evaluation document itself, aldermen discussed who would and who would not provide input during the process. After she is evaluated, she in turn will begin an annual job performance evaluation of each of the city employees.

Alderman Dave Williams questions how Foutz' job for the past year would be evaluated since "this is the first one (job evaluation) and she has completed a full year of work without having these standards (in the job evaluation) to look at meeting. How will this year be handled?"

"We will have the job description to work from," Mayor Skip Blancett responded.

Alderman Amber Preston-Dankert brought up having city employees do an anonymous evaluation of the city manager as part of the process, adding that this gives the manager a view of "how the organization feels you are doing your job."

Alderman Michael Mc-

Dougal objected to this. "This is a slippery slope, folks. We are asking employees that Kim supervises to give us input on Kim.... We were elected to evaluate our administrator. If we can't do it, then shame on us."

"Something from that might be brought up that she is outstanding in certain areas," Dr. Preston-Dankert.

She also said, "There are things that we might not necessarily see that the staff sees."

"If we do this, you cannot pick and choose what you believe on this," McDougal said. "You have to believe all of it or none of it."

Foutz has a three-year employment contract with the Village of Salado.

In other business, aldermen will discuss a proposed policy for Open Records Requests. The board will also discuss the following items:

- A request for consent to the creation of a Municipal Utility District to be named Sanctuary Municipal Utility District.
- Keep Salado Beautiful application for Keep Texas Beautiful-- TxDOT Governor's Community Achievement Award and grant.
- Right-of-way entry letters and follow-up process.

Following an executive session, the board will consider action on the purchase of land for a wastewater treatment plant.

Keep Salado Beautiful will apply for $90K grant

Organizational meeting set Oct. 20 at Municipal Building

Keep Salado Beautiful invites local organizations and volunteers to a community meeting 10 a.m. Oct. 20 at the Municipal Building to discuss the application process for the Governor's Community Achievement Award and a $90,000 grant.

"That would be a nice paycheck for all of the volunteer efforts," said KSB President and former alderman Susan Terry.

Terry said that KSB has invited all of the Community organizations to be represented. "The Governor's Community Achievement Award (GCAA) represents the work of an entire community," she said. "Keep Salado Beautiful will write the grant, but we would like to include the work that all of our volunteer organizations have completed in the 2015 calendar year."

The $90,000 grant must be designated for landscaping on a Texas Department of Transportation right-of-way. "We anticipate our winning project will design landscaping for the south gateway sign," Terry said.

Early voting starts Oct. 19 on state amendments

Early voting begins on Oct. 19 in the November Constitutional Amendment election in which seven amendments have been proposed.

Early Voting will be 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Oct. 19-23 with extended hours of 7 a.m.-7 p.m. on Oct. 24 and Oct. 26-30. Early voting locations will also be open Noon-5 p.m. Oct. 25.

Early voting locations in Bell County are the following locations: Salado Civic Center, 601 N. Main St., Bell County Courthouse Annex, 550 East 2nd Ave in Belton; Bell County Annex, 301 Priest

Dr., in Killeen, Lions Club Park Senior Center, 1700 E. Stan Schleuter Loop in Killeen, Bell County Annex, 205 East Central Ave. in Killeen and Parks and Recreation Center, 307 Millers Crossing in Harker Heights.

Election day will be Nov. 3, 7 a.m.-7 p.m. Precinct 203 voters will cast their ballots on Election Day at the Salado Church of Christ Activity Center located at 225 N. Church St., Salado.

The following are the proposed amendments

Proposition 1 - SJR 1: "The constitutional amendment increasing the amount of the residence homestead exemption from ad valorem taxation for public school purposes from $15,000 to $25,000, providing for a reduction of the limitation on the total amount of ad valorem taxes that may be imposed for those purposes on the homestead of an elderly or disabled person to reflect the increased exemption amount, authorizing the legislature to prohibit a political subdivision that has adopted an optional residence homestead exemption from ad valorem taxation from reducing the amount of or repealing the exemption, and prohibiting the enactment of a law that imposes a transfer tax on a transaction that conveys fee simple title to real property."

Proposition 2 - HJR 75: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to provide for an exemption from ad valorem taxation of all or part of the market value of the residence homestead of the surviving spouse of a 100 percent or totally disabled veteran who died before the law authorizing a residence homestead exemption for such a veteran took effect."

Proposition 3 - SJR 52: "The constitutional amendment repealing the requirement that state officers elected by voters statewide reside in the state capital."

Proposition 4 - HJR 73: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to permit professional sports team charitable foundations to conduct charitable raffles."

Proposition 5 - SJR 17: "The constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature with a population of 7,500 or less to perform private road construction and maintenance."

Proposition 6 - SJR 22: "The constitutional amendment recognizing the right of the people to hunt, fish, and harvest wildlife subject to laws that promote wildlife conservation."

Proposition 7 - SJR 5: "The constitutional amendment dedicating certain sales and use tax revenue and motor vehicle sales, use, and rental tax revenue to the state highway fund to provide funding for nontolled roads and the reduction of certain transportation-related debt."

An Open Exchange of Ideas

Hillary's Gun-Control Non Sequiturs

Hillary Clinton has a new gun agenda that is the same as the old gun agenda.

We all are appalled and heartsick over the country's mass shootings, which aren't any less shocking for their routine occurrence. But that doesn't mean we know how to stop them. The Pavlovian Democratic reaction is to offer a raft of familiar gun-control proposals, whether or not they have any bearing on mass shootings.

Hillary's ideas are a testament to the essential sterility of the gun debate, no matter how much heat it generates. There is no way around the fact that marginal changes will do little or nothing to stop mass killers, while more sweeping changes -- even if they were practicable or wise -- run afoul of the Second Amendment.

Among other things, Clinton wants to renew the assault-weapons ban, which we had for 10 years before it lapsed in 2004. To review: A so-called assault weapon is a semi-automatic rifle tricked out with frightening-looking cosmetic features. It is functionally indistinguishable from any other semi-automatic rifle.

Assault weapons might play an outsized role in crime in Hollywood productions, but not in real life. Rifles generally aren't used in shootings, let alone assault rifles. All rifles account for about 300 homicides a year. A Department of Justice-supported study of a possible renewal of the assault-weapons ban called its effect on violence "perhaps too small for reliable measurement." Clinton wants to close the "gun-show loophole," which is one of the great cliches and myths of the gun-control debate. The loophole doesn't actually exist. Federally licensed dealers have to run a background check or otherwise ascertain that a purchaser has passed one, even if the dealer is selling at a gun show. Private sellers don't have to conduct one -- whether or not they are selling at a gun show.

The inordinate focus on gun shows might make sense if there were evidence of an epidemic of criminals using them to get their weapons. There isn't. A study in the journal Preventive Medicine of criminal offenders in Chicago found that most obtained their guns through personal connections. "Rarely," the study said, "is the proximate source either direct purchase from a gun store, or theft." Clinton also seeks to tighten up background checks. The problem is that very often the mass shooters don't have criminal records and haven't otherwise been adjudicated. This makes it impossible to use background checks to stop them from buying guns.

If it matters, none of this has anything to do with the Oregon shooting. The killer apparently used handguns to mercilessly shoot down his victims (although he also had a rifle, an AR-15). All of his 13 guns came from federally licensed dealers. He passed background checks. What Hillary has done is take a national tragedy and declared that it ought to catalyze us to pass a series of non sequiturs.

Her proposals aren't well-thought-out, because Democrats don't think when it comes to guns. They hold the same subrational belief that President Barack Obama expressed in his impassioned post-Oregon statement: that preventing mass shootings is easily within our power, with enough political will. Would that it were so.

Creativity committed to make change happen

Ever heard of Favio Chávez, Cateura, Paraguay. In Cateura, more than 50 percent of the children work in garbage dumps sorting through rotten trash to find something to sell. Many are homeless, abandoned by parents who could not afford them.

Enter Chavez, environmental engineer with some musical background. He had a choice: make excuses, pass the blame, or help. He chose to help by getting to know the children and teaching them music.

Chavez writes, "It was difficult. We had no place to rehearse and we had to teach in the landfill. The children had no musical experience and the homeless were difficult to contact. Additionally, we had more children than instruments."

Mayor Skip Blancett

Enter Nicolas "Cola," a garbage-picker who met Chavez and offered to make string and wind instruments from cans, forks, bottle caps, drums -- anything. Now there were two who refused to complain and blame. Nicolas' instruments proved better than wooden instruments, besides nobody wanted to steal a garbage instrument.

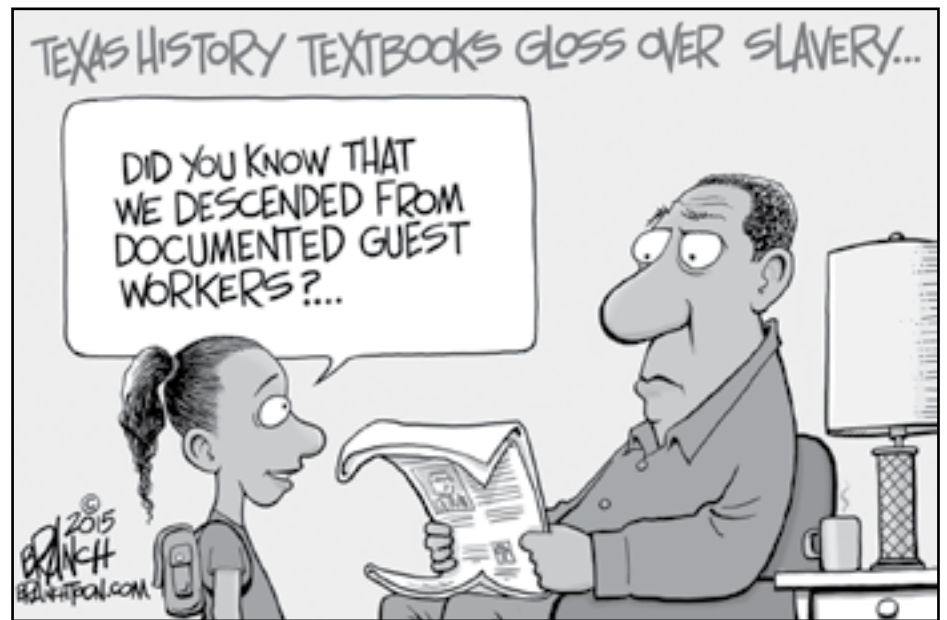

Enter the Internet. The Orchestra, unknown outside Cateura, appeared on Internet which triggered a media event that produced sold-out, world-wide concerts. Today, the Music

School of Cateura teaches music and building recycled instruments to over 200 landfill kids.

Two people changed a Village and a Country.

Last weekend, new citizens discussed Salado. Comments: "We refuse to listen to negative people, and fear does not motivate us. This is our Village; we are quietly involved, our time is coming. Issues: I-35 construction -- we will work harder to overcome it. Stagecoach; it will return. Sanctuary, growth is coming regardless. Sewer will happen."

And, they are smart, professional, committed, serious, and networking. By-the-way, some live next door to you, all live in the city limits, and some own a business. The true story of Cateura is not new to them.

A Model for Democracy at the Grassroots Level

To see an uplifting example of organized people power in action, look to the heartland.

Jim Hightower

American democracy is the gritty history of workaday folks who get fed up with the stuffed suits, get organized, and get moving to stop the thievery. Gutsy, grassroots confrontation is necessary for reclaiming, maintaining, and advancing our democratic values.

To see an uplifting example of organized people power in action, look to the heartland, where a coalition called Iowa Citizens for Community Improvement has been building democracy since 1975. They're uniting and empowering people of all ethnic backgrounds to push back against the avarice and arrogance of big-money corporations.

With more than 3,200 dues-paying activist members, CCI is organized

in every Iowa county. They've rallied thousands of other Iowans to join their local and statewide actions.

They've won battles against factory-farm manure polluters, corporate wage thieves that prey on low-wage workers, payday lenders that trap poor people in cycles of debt with 300 percent interest rates, gas and electric companies that gouge customers, and banking interests that were either foreclosing on or refusing to lend to good farmers.

Years ago, I came across a small moving company consisting only of two guys and one truck.

But they had a big, can-do attitude, summed up in their advertising slogan: "If we can get it loose, we can move it."

That's the operating model offered by CCI: Get democracy loose at the grassroots level, and the people themselves will move it forward. For more information about CCI go to www.iowacci.org.

Pursuing Peace Through Luck

Is the world becoming safer or more dangerous?

Few people would select the first option. It doesn't take Russia launching air strikes in Syria (to cite only one recent example) for most to admit that tensions are rising.

So why in the world are we cutting defense spending?

And not by small amounts. The U.S. military -- which is smaller today than it was on 9/11 -- has had to contend with cuts amounting to more than $180 billion over the last four years. And there's no relief in sight.

In fact, President Obama is preparing to veto a bipartisan bill that would increase the national defense budget by 6 percent. And all because he's upset that it wouldn't increase non-defense spending by the same amount.

Playing political games with national security is beyond the pale. Yet it's happening.

Meanwhile, as defense expert Justin Johnson notes in a recent article, Iran is receiving $150 billion under the deal it recently forged with the Obama administration.

Because of U.S. and

Heritage Forum

By Edwin Feulner

international sanctions, this money -- which had been held in non-Iranian banks -- wasn't accessible to Iran. But that's not the case anymore.

Sure, it won't have the full amount to spend however it would like. The U.S. Treasury Department estimates the regime will have about $50 billion left after it settles its debts. But that's still a lot of money available for it to plow into its military.

And when you take into account the increased revenue that's sure to come in as the country's economy revives, it's obvious that Iran's military can only become stronger and better equipped over the next few years.

"The contrast with the United States could not be more striking," Johnson writes. "While the Iranians are flush with cash and increase spending on their military and terrorist proxies, the United States continues to dramatically cut our military spending." Among the results:

The Army is cutting 40,000 soldiers.

The Navy won't have an aircraft carrier in the Middle East this fall for the first time in years.

The Air Force has proposed cutting whole fleets of aircraft.

So why are we making such deep cuts, and why now? Blame the Budget Control Act. Signed into law by President Obama in 2011, it was designed to curb federal spending. A worthy goal, to be sure, but the BCA was a blunt instrument.

The BCA hardly touches what is causing federal spending to soar -- entitlements such as Social Security, Medicare and Medicaid. But it's dealt a serious blow to the national security budget. And like a damaged vessel out at sea, it's been taking on water ever since. Entitlements, meanwhile, are climbing with abandon.

True, the U.S. spends more on defense than Iran does. But we also have many more threats worldwide to deal with, so the amount is hardly unjustified. You can't buy peace on the cheap.

"Russia has invaded Ukraine and is flexing its muscles elsewhere," writes Johnson. "China is building islands and gutting our computer networks. North Korea shows signs of another space launch or perhaps a nuclear test. And Islamic terrorism is still a grave threat to the United States."

Meanwhile, the refugee crisis in Europe continues, the Taliban is on the rise in Afghanistan, and Chinese hackers are mining our national secrets.

Is this the time to be holding our security hostage? So the Department of Housing and Urban Development can get an extra $6 billion? So the Department of Labor can get $1.3 billion more? To bag an additional $500 million for the EPA, it's necessary to make ourselves more vulnerable to attack?

We've been quietly transitioning from "Peace through strength" to "Peace through luck" for some time now. Let's hope we can reverse course -- before it's too late.

Citizens enjoy afternoon with Fire Department Volunteers

To the Editor:

The Salado Volunteer Fire Department had an Open House event on October 10 wherein all the community was invited. My husband and I were fortunate to be able to go. It was an excellent opportunity to meet and greet the individuals who serve us on a daily basis. The Chief, Mr. Berrier, and all of his staff were present to show the facility and answer questions about the fire department and its functions. What an unselfish crew!

It truly was an honor to have been in the presence of such fine folks! I can't think of a better organization in which to make a donation. They tirelessly serve all of us twenty four hours a day, seven days a week, fifty two weeks a year whether a for, automobile accident, home injury or heart attack/stroke etc.. God Bless all of them.

Thank you for the opportunity to send this to you to commend such a worthy organization.

Respectfully,
Joyce Goza

Saint Stephen Fall Festival fun, food, auction, cake walk happens this weekend

Fall is in the air, and it's now time for the great outdoor festivals including the annual Saint Stephen Catholic Church Fall Festival scheduled for 10:30 a.m.-5 p.m. Oct. 18 at 601 FM 2268 in Salado.

Organizers promise those attending will be in for an action packed day of food, fun, entertainment and a great auction and raffle in a family oriented venue perfect for all ages.

The festival officially kicks off on 10:30 a.m. To get everyone in a festive mood, Rebecca Jane and Victor Gomez and his music group will entertain you with some great sounds.

And as the urge hits you for great food, head straight for the Food Court that will feature Tom's Famous Barbecue dinners; Bryan's Brisket and Sausage wraps; a variety of Mexican food prepared by our Mexican ladies; hamburgers, soft drinks and snow cones sponsored by the Saint Stephen Youth; and much more throughout the day.

For sweets that you can take home don't miss Tina and Emmy's world class cake walk. The best homemade cakes you will find in Central Texas are available by participating in a game of chance.

The Live and Silent auction will feature some exceptionally fine items. The live auction, a major fundraiser for the church, will be under the big tent, and will feature Ronald Jordan as auctioneer, a professional auctioneer with more than 20 years experience.

For the first time, the Fall Festival will include a classic car show sponsored by Snyder's Certified Auto and Truck Parts.

The fun games are: Bean Bag Toss; Pumpkin Patch; Frog Hop; Ring Toss; Bull Ringer; and many more. How about Face Painting; Candy Art; and Spin Art. The games event is also under a big tent because our young people have such great fun and it is so well attended.

Don't miss the Saint Stephen raffle. This year as in past years there are fantastic raffle items: a 1 Ounce American Gold Eagle Coin; a John Deer riding lawn mower; a Red Explosion" Quilt and many more great items. Although tickets have been on sale since July, they will be on sale until 4 p.m. Oct. 18.

The parish Fall Festival is one of the main events of the year for the St. Stephen Catholic Church.

Pink Week at Salado High

Salado High School is going Pink this week to celebrate cancer survivors, remember loved ones, and raise money for cancer research.

To help with these events, the community is asked to come early to the football game at Eagle Stadium Oct. 16 at 7:05 p.m. and join the Salado High School Cheerleaders in an annual survivor walk around the Salado track.

Survivors as well as those wanting to walk for others are asked to wear pink and after the walk create a spirit line for the football team. The volleyball team's game Friday night will also be pinked out. Players will sport pink shirts for the event and fans are asked to wear pink as well.

At the high school this week, the Art Club will be selling bling hats and raffling off a Salado blanket. The National Honor Society will be selling Pink Week eye-black and the Student Council and Volleyball team sold Pink Week t-shirts. Mu Alpha Theta will be hosting a guessing game at the school and the Class of 2016 will be selling pink lemonade at the football game on Oct. 16. Anyone interested in purchasing or helping should contact the school's office. All the proceeds of the fundraising will benefit Doctor Alexander Asea's research at MD Anderson.

In addition to raising funds, students will dress according to the following theme days to raise school spirit in support of Breast Cancer Awareness week:

- October 13: Holiday Day (wear your favorite holiday outfit)
- October 14: Walt Disney Day (dress as your favorite Disney character)
- October 15: Mini-Me Day (recreate your favorite childhood photo)
- October 16: Pink Out (wear your 2015 Pink Week shirt)

Junior high girls take second in McGregor meet

Salado Junior High Girls placed second out of 21 teams in the McGregor Cross Country Meet on Oct. 10, in preparation for the District Meet, which will be in Lampasas on Oct. 16.

Salado scored 91 points to place behind Crawford, which had 50 points and three top 10 finishers.

Catalena Langlitz led Salado in 11th place with a time of 13:18 followed immediately by teammate Jaci McGregor in 12th at 13:20.

Also scoring points for Salado were Kimberly Kendall, 21st, 13:49; Taylor Rick, 28th, 14:03 and Preslee Webb, 29th, 14:05.

Other girls running for Salado were Natalie McBryde, 37th, 14:13; Lorna Fleet, 51st, 14:34. Morgan

Mays, 69th, 15:02; Savannah Heflin, 72nd, 15:04; Cuyler Aycock, 85th, 15:17; Lindsey Neas, 88th, 15:19; Hannah White, 100th, 15:42; Rachel Jett, 102nd, 15:47; Heidi Kelley, 134th, 16:43; Mimi Law, 144th, 16:58; Madeline Sunshine, 167th, 17:29 and Jessie Laverdiere, 171st, 17:33.

The girls field had 235 runners.

Even without two of their top runners, the boys teams placed fifth overall in a field of 17 teams.

Scoring for the boys were Horacio Huerta, 14th, 12:31; Zayin Fredrickson, 20th, 12:41; Christ Ortiz, 38th, 13:09; Skyler Lamb, 58th, 13:38 and Trey Graham, 61st, 13:39.

Also running for the boys were Cayden Meyer,

708th, 14:06; Dustin Wilson, 87th, 14:35; William Won, 88th, 14:35; Noah Mescher, 95th, 14:49; Kole Maedgern, 99th, 14:53; Juquin Tobias, 104th, 14:57; Sam Gist, 105th, 14:57 and Collin Wilson, 113th, 15:26.

"They ran against a lot of really large schools and both the boys and girls teams held their own," Coach Erica Meyer said. "The girls continue to be a top team against all levels of schools and the boys ran without two of their top 10 and still managed to be very competitive."

"All of these boys and girls have been a pleasure to work with and I look forward to seeing how they do at district," Coach Erica Meyer said.

Eagles lose to Caldwell 56-13

Caldwell scored 35 first half points Oct. 9 to hand Salado Eagles their 19th straight loss under coach Brent Graham by the score of 56-13. The last time Salado varsity Eagles won a football game was on Oct. 11, 2013.

While it seems an eternity since the Eagles have won a game, Salado is not even close to the records set by other Texas high school football teams in terms of losing. Houston Scarborough, earlier this season, broke a 59 game losing streak. Last year, at 0-10, Houston Scarborough actually went to the playoffs because their district only had four teams.

Dawson was 0-43 until it beat Texas Win in September and Grand Saline broke its 31-game streak beating Kerens.

Salado has three chances left to notch a win in 2015 and one of those is on the road against a top 10 team, LaGrange on Oct. 30.

The Eagles will host Giddings this week with kick off at 6:30 p.m. Oct. 16. The Giddings Buffaloes are 6-0 coming off of a bye week before they open district here in Salado. The Buffaloes beat Gonzales and Wimberley on the road 28-0 and 35-24 respectively. In their first home game, they escaped Bellville 28-26 and then shellacked Columbus 69-31 in a home game. Giddings got past Sealy 38-35 and beat Cuero handily 45-26 on the road.

Caldwell's Joseph Crnkovic had touchdown passes of 33 yards and 45 yards to get the Tigers out to an early 14-0 lead.

extra point to bring the score to 14-7, the closest Salado would be for the rest of the night.

Crnkovic connected with Dominique Chambers for a 58 yard touchdown, their second one of the first half. Crnkovic also dove in from the two yard line to give Caldwell a 28-7 halftime lead.

Chambers intercepted two passes by Salado quarterback Ryan Kyburz to give Caldwell a 42-7 lead in the third. He returned the first one 63 yards and the second one 5 yards.

Late in the third, Tyler Armstrong scored on an 8 yard run for the Eagles to bring the score to 42-14 going into the fourth.

Crnkovic threw his fourth touchdown pass of the night in the fourth quarter, this time a connection of 18 yards to William Deleon.

Caldwell's final touchdown came on a 25 yard by Will Faust.

Caldwell had 475 yards total offense while Salado had 212 yards offense.

Ninth Grade 20
Caldwell 9th 0

Jeremy Jarvis scored a touchdown and Juan Garza scored two as the Ninth Grade Eagles plowed through their Caldwell counterparts 20-0 Oct. 8.

Garza was named the Offensive player of the week and Hunter Haas was chosen as the defensive player of the week.

8th Grade A 6
Caldwell 8th 24

Salado Eagles lost to the Caldwell eighth grade A team 24-6 Oct. 8. Salado scored its only touchdown in the fourth quarter on a 12 yard pass from Shane Roche to Caleb Self.

8th Grade B 0
Caldwell 8th B 0

In a defensive battle, neither the eighth grade B Eagles nor the eighth grade B Caldwell scored in a 0-0 tie.

Girls tied for first in 25-4A volleyball

With a three-set loss to Burnet last week, Salado is knotted at the top of district 25-4A volleyball play with Burnet and Liberty Hill at 3-1.

The Lady Eagles will face both teams next week, playing Liberty Hill on the road Oct. 20 and hosting Burnet Oct. 23.

Following the loss to Burnet, Salado blew past Llano in three straight sets, 25-14, 25-8 and 25-18.

Recording aces were Malory Schattle and Kerrigan Hearne, 2 each and Kierstan Osborn and Amy Coleman, 1 each.

Recording kills were Schattle, 8, Tori Dekay, 6, Payton Dreitz and Brianna Washington, 5 each, Cheyenne Vaca, 4, and Meagan Hill, 1.

On defense, Schattle had 2 blocks while Washington, Vaca and Dreitz all had 1. Recording digs were Kerrigan Hearne, 16, Vaca, 10, Hill and Lindy Martin, 8 each, Coleman, 4, Schattle and Osborn, 3 each and Dreitz and Dekay, 1 each. Hill had 28 assists and Osborn had 1.

Salado lost on the road to state-ranked Burnet Lady Bulldogs Oct. 2 14-25, 21-25 and 22-25.

The girls struggled as only Hill recorded an ace.

Recording kills for Salado were Dekay, 8, Dreitz and Vaca, 5 each, Washington, 2 and Schattle and Hill, 1 each.

Schattle had 2 blocks and Washington had 1.

Recording digs were Osborn, 14, Vaca, 11, Martin and Hill, 9, Schattle, 7, Dreitz, 4, Hearne, 3 and Dekay, 2.

Hill had 25 assists.

SPICE-RUBBED BEEF SHORT RIBS
 Serves 4

These big, thick ribs offer a tender beef experience that's akin to braised brisket but packed with slow-cooked barbecue flavor. Note that these are knife-and-fork ribs, not finger food.

- 2 teaspoons mustard powder
- 1 1/2 teaspoon sugar
- 1 teaspoon chipotle chile powder
- 1 teaspoon ground cumin
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- 1/2 teaspoon coarse sea salt
- 4 pounds (about 4) English-style beef short ribs, English style, each about 6 inches long
- 3/4 cup prepared barbecue sauce

In a small bowl, combine mustard, sugar, chile powder, cumin, paprika and salt. Sprinkle the mixture all over the ribs, rubbing it in with your fingers, and set aside for at least 20 minutes, or cover and refrigerate for up to 1 day.

Preheat the oven to 275°F. Cover a large baking sheet with aluminum foil and place the ribs on it. Bake in the middle of the oven until the ribs are fork-tender and the meat has shrunk away from the ends of the bones, about 2 hours.

When ribs are tender, prepare a grill for medium-heat cooking. Mix the barbecue sauce with a tablespoon or two of water (this will make basting easier). Place the ribs on the grill and cook, turning them and basting them frequently with the sauce, until well browned and nicely glazed, about 15 minutes. (Be careful not to let the sauce burn; move the ribs to a cooler area of the grill if they begin to char.) Transfer to a platter and serve.

HARD CIDER SPICE CAKE WITH APPLES AND CARAMEL GLAZE
 Serves 16

What's not to love about this sweet, warmly spiced cake that's moist and dense from apples and golden raisins? Aromatic hard cider echoes the apple flavor, and does double duty by plumping the raisins and making the glaze. Perfect for brunch, teatime or a homey dessert, this cake also makes a great hostess gift.

- 1/3 cup golden raisins
- 2/3 cup hard apple cider
- 3/4 cup (1 1/2 sticks) unsalted butter, softened, plus more for the pan
- 2/3 cup granulated sugar
- 2/3 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
- 4 eggs, at room temperature
- 1 teaspoon vanilla bean paste or pure vanilla extract
- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 1/2 teaspoon ras el hanout spice blend
- Finely grated zest of 1 lemon
- 1/2 teaspoon coarse sea salt
- 2 apples, such as Granny Smith or Pink Lady, peeled and shredded
- Cider Glaze
- 1 cup sifted powdered sugar
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1/4 teaspoon coarse sea salt

Combine raisins and hard cider in a small heavy saucepan and bring just to a simmer over medium-high heat, and then remove from heat. Let raisins soak for about 20 minutes.

Preheat the oven to 350°F. Butter a 9-inch Bundt pan. Using an electric mixer on medium speed, beat together butter and sugars until mixture is light and fluffy, 3 to 4 minutes. Add eggs one at a time, beating after each addition, and then beat in vanilla. In a bowl, sift together flour, baking powder, ras el hanout, lemon zest and salt. Add flour mixture to butter mixture and beat on low speed just until ingredients are incorporated.

Fold apples into batter. Drain raisins, reserving soaking liquid. Fold raisins and 2 tablespoons of the soaking liquid into batter (reserve remaining liquid for glaze).

Spoon batter to the prepared pan, smoothing the top. Bake until cake is golden brown and the center springs back when touched, about 45 minutes. Cool cake in the pan on a wire rack for 10 minutes. Invert cake onto the rack and cool for at least 1 hour.

Meanwhile, make the glaze: In a medium bowl, whisk together 1 cup of the powdered sugar, lemon juice, salt and remaining soaking liquid until a thick, pourable glaze forms (add remaining 1/4 cup powdered sugar if needed for a thicker glaze). Immediately pour glaze over cake, moving slowly and evenly to cover as much of the cake as possible. Let glaze set before serving.

Ask an Agent Is there any seasonality to the market?

Peak selling seasons vary and weather has a lot to do with it. For example, late spring and early fall are the prime listing seasons because houses tend to "show" better in those months than they do in the heat of summer or the cold of winter.

But keep in mind, there are also more houses on the market during the prime season, meaning more competition. So while there is seasonality, it should not dominate your decision on when to sell.

EMV chip cards effective nationwide

Better Business Bureau serving Central, Coastal, Southwest Texas and the Permian Basin advises all retail businesses to get new EMV chip card readers installed this month. By the end of 2015, 70 percent of credit cards and 40 percent of debit cards in the U.S. will have embedded security chips called EMV (Europay, MasterCard and Visa). EMV cards will eventually replace magnetic stripe cards completely. In fact, many banks and credit unions are already issuing EMV cards to current account holders.

The EMV cards allow consumers to use their cards globally and makes in-store transactions more secure. They also help reduce credit card fraud and identity theft. The chip generates a unique, one-time code that is difficult to counterfeit but is needed for each transaction to be approved.

October 1, 2015, is an important deadline for American businesses – it is when a “liability shift” occurs that moves the responsibility for covering losses to the business where a fraudulent charge occurs. If a business does not have the new EMV reader, they are liable for the cost of any purchases made with a counterfeit card. In other words, the card issuer will no longer absorb the loss.

Businesses need to replace the old magnetic swipe machines as soon as possible. Most large retailers have already made the change, but many small and independent businesses have not. EMV readers cost around $25 (for a basic device that plugs into a smart phone), and go up to about $300 for a countertop model with all the “bells and whistles.” They are available from major electronics retailers and online. A business’s credit card processor may be able to provide additional information or recommendations.

Many consumers have already received new credit and debit cards with the EMV chips (it is the small metallic square located on the front of the card). The only other noticeable change for consumers will be when they shop at retail stores with EMV technology. Instead of “swiping” their card, consumers will “dip” the card into a slot in the terminal – or in some cases – “tap” the card on a flat reader. It may take a few moments longer than the old swipe card, but the transaction will be more secure.

For more business information about EMV cards, go to EMV Connection or GoChipCard for more consumer information.

What About Those Pumpkins?!

Did you know that Texas is the fourth leading state in commercial pumpkin production, and generates $2.4 million for farmers, with an economic impact of $7.4 million in the state? Texas plants 5000 to 8000 acres in pumpkins annually and 90 percent are in the west Texas region. The pumpkin is a cucurbit and over 90% are produced for seasonal ornamental use. So what do we really do with all those pumpkins!

With the pumpkin spice lattes and pumpkin cooking and of course those upcoming pumpkin pies just waiting to be eaten you may wonder what nutritional benefit do we get from pumpkin. Just from the orange color (beta-carotene) as we all learned in school, we get a extremely great source of Vitamin A from pumpkin. One-half cup of canned pumpkin will yield about 26908 IU of Vitamin A. Pumpkin provides another valuable nutrient, potassium, and one-half cup will yield approximately 250 mg. Pumpkin is low in calories (that is by itself minus creams or toppings that you may add), about 41 calories per half cup. In addition to potassium, pumpkin provides several valuable minerals of calcium, phosphorus and magnesium, and is low in sodium.

Now that we have the nutritional value of the pumpkin, what do you look for in a fresh pumpkin..... look for pumpkins in the 3 to 5 pound range, with no soft spots. The stem should still be attached and dark green. You can keep a whole pumpkin for up to a month at room temperature and in the refrigerator for up to 3 months. One small pumpkin should be enough to make a couple of pies. In addition to making pies, add pumpkin to baked products, as it adds great moisture, not to mention the valuable nutrients. If you buy fresh pumpkin, wash the exterior of the pumpkin, use a serrated knife to cut through the surface, scoop out the seeds (save for roasting if you wish), remove the stringy bits and scoop out the pulp of the pumpkin and roast, microwave, or steam the pumpkin. Use the cooked pumpkin in pies, muffins, cookies, soups, sauces or as a filling for ravioli. Now use the pumpkin ‘shell’ to design a decorative ‘face’ for your home or front porch.

Enjoy a pumpkin this fall, not only for the nutritional value, but for some fun decorating. Don’t forget the Pumpkin Spice Latte.

Check out the Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service website: www.healthyliving.tamu.edu for recipes using pumpkin. For more information contact the Bell County Texas A&M AgriLife office at 254.933.5305 or Jackie. mclaughlin@ag.tamu.edu

Preparing Your Will, Consumer Tips from the Independent Bankers Assoc. of Texas

Writing your will isn't a task anyone looks forward to doing. You're not only acknowledging your own inevitable demise but actively planning for it. In fact, an AARP survey found that two out of five Americans over the age of 45 don't have a will. However, creating a will is one of the most important things you can do for your loved ones.

By placing your wishes on paper, you help ensure that your heirs avoid unnecessary hassles and that a life's worth of possessions end up in the right hands. While preparing a will may seem like an overwhelming task, in most cases it is simple and straightforward. Below are tips to help you get started.

Options for Creating Your Will

Hiring a lawyer is the surest way to get peace of mind that your wishes will be fulfilled. The cost can vary depending on the experience of the lawyer, the complexity of your estate and the going rates in your area. If you live in a metropolitan area, call around to see if you can save money with a lawyer in a nearby small town. If you belong to a group legal service plan, a simple will may be offered at a reduced price or even free. You can also check with your state's bar association for an attorney or legal clinic in your area.

In the last couple of decades, several Internet-based products have become available that allow consumers to create their own will. Also, it is strongly advised that spouses create separate wills, rather than a joint will.

Think About the Small Stuff

While partners generally list each other in their wills, it's helpful to prepare for the situation if you and your partner pass away at the same time by naming the beneficiaries in that instance. Retirement accounts and life insurance policies name beneficiaries and aren't typically included in wills. If you want to leave sentimental items to particular people, specify that in your will, not in a non-binding note left with your will.

If you are a small business owner, talk to your accountant, banker and lawyer about what will happen to your business after your death to help avoid hardship for family and employees.

Name a Guardian

For parents it is extremely important that your will names a guardian for your minor children. Otherwise, a court will make this decision for you following your death. While it's an enormous decision, it's certainly one you would like to make rather than have made for you should a tragic event occurs.

Name an Executor

In your will, you will also need to name the executor. This is the person who carries out the wishes stated in your will and wraps everything up after your death—paying taxes and debts, distributing the property in your will, closing your accounts, etc. This person needs to be responsible and trustworthy.

Updates to Your Will

It's important to keep your will accurate and up to date. Because life changes very well may occur after you write your will, it is important to review it periodically and amend when necessary.

Where to Store Your Will

You may store your will in a safe deposit box or a waterproof and fireproof safe in your house. Many attorneys will store clients' wills. Otherwise, ensure that a family member or close friend has a signed copy. Just remember, your executor will need access to it after your death.

Big picture—creating a will isn't fun for anyone but it's easier than you think. You just need to sit down and do it.
