

BOA continues work on Sanctuary deal

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Salado aldermen will continue discussing agreements with Sanctuary developers at their Nov. 19 meeting in the Municipal Building, after hashing over agreement updates from the developer at a Nov. 12 workshop.

There continue to be sticking points in the agreements, including the fact that the developer will not provide any kind of development schedule for the proposed 297 acre development.

Village attorney Leah Hayes told aldermen that Sanctuary developers are unwilling to provide a development schedule because "they want to remain as flexible as possible to respond to market conditions and do not feel it is necessary."

Aldermen tended to disagree with this, especially in lieu of requirements in the agreements for the Village of Salado to provide pump-and-haul services at the cost of the Village if sewer service is not on line when development in the Sanctuary first needs the services.

"If we don't meet the service commitment by the service availability date, then we will have to pump and haul for the Sanctuary. They would not include an amount that we would need to provide by that time. That would be an unlimited amount," Hayes added.

"They give us a drop dead date on providing sewer service with no obligation on their side to develop in a timely manner," Alderman Amber Preston-Dankert.

According to Hayes, the Sanctuary "does not wish to dedicate park land for open space," a requirement of the Subdivision Ordinance for new subdivisions. "All parks will be private and some streets will be private as well," she added. "They will also have some recreational areas that would include trails as private."

Further, because Sanctuary will finance improvements to the property through a Public Improvement District (PID) if it is annexed into the Village rather than through a Municipal Utility District (MUD) if it is not, the financing of projects is much more complex. Yet, to date, Sanctuary has provided the Village with no PID documents to show which improvements will be financed with PID as-essment funds and which improvements will be financed otherwise.

Land owners, by petition, may approach a municipality for the approval of a Public Improvement District. There must be a plan in place for the improvements in the boundaries of the PID and the improvements must serve the public, not private, good. "To pay for those improvements," Hayes told aldermen, "an assessment on the properties in that district is set."

A notice of public hearing must be published and there are certain other documents that must be in place before a PID can be approved.

"If you want to try to bond some of the projects that are in the plan," she added, "you have to have financial data of the developer in order to issue the bonds."

Even though Sanctuary would be annexed under the provisions of the Planned Development District of Zoning Ordinance, developers struck language from agreements that meet that code, such as requirements for changes to the PDD Comprehensive Plan to be approved by the Planning and Zoning Commission. SEE SANCTUARY, PAGE 6A

Graham will resign as head football coach

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Salado ISD Trustees will meet Dec. 15 to discuss the process of hiring a new teacher and head football coach after Brent Graham told administrators that he will be resigning effective with the end of the school year.

Superintendent Michael Novotny posted the position on Nov. 16 and told Salado Village Voice that the interview process could begin in January.

This will be the first time that Salado will hire a head football coach who is not the athletic director of the schools.

For two decades, Salado Family Relief Funds has made the Christmas holidays better each year for Salado children and families.

The Salado Family Relief Fund tries to make it better for more than 50 Salado families each year by providing Christmas presents to their children. Last year the Salado community donated toys and gifts to Salado Family Relief Fund in order to provide Christmas gifts to 59 families for a total of 123 children.

Salado Family Relief will again be managing the Christmas Project, whereby qualified families will be presented with toys and gifts for Christmas.

"We cannot do this without the generosity of our community," said Renee Oas, President of the Salado Family Relief Fund board of directors and organizer of the Christmas project.

Civic groups, church groups and school groups are encouraged to adopt a family or a child during the Christmas drive.

If you would like to "adopt" a child or family for Christmas, email Oas at cashmagnet@vvm.com or call her at 947-9471 for details. Contributions can be sent to: Salado Family Relief Fund, P.O. Box 461, Salado, TX 76571.

The SFRF protects the identity of the children receiving the gifts. No groups or individuals will know the names of the children they have agreed to adopt.

The Christmas drive benefits from the annual Salado Empty Bowl Project, which will be 11 a.m.-1 p.m. Nov. 21 at the Salado Intermediate School cafeteria on Thomas Arnold Rd. The location was changed from its usual place at the Salado Civic Center because of roof problems there.

For just $25, you can purchase a handmade bowl by area potters and enjoy all-you-can-eat soup provided by area restaurants and help support the Salado Family Relief Fund. You can have all-you-can-eat soup for just $10 per person.

Local potter Titia Arledge, of Mud Pies Pottery, works with potters from around the state to provide the handmade pottery bowls for the event.

Attendees get to select handmade bowls as keepsakes and fill up on soup provided by local restaurants and bed and breakfast inns.

Participating restaurants are these: Alexander's Distillery, Ambrosia Tea Room, Bush's (tea), The Baines House B&B, Brookshire Brothers, Cathy's Boardwalk Cafe, Inn at Salado B&B, Johnny's Steaks and Barbecue, Lively Coffehouse and Bistro, McCain's Deli and Bakery, The Pizza Place (breadsticks), The Range at the Barton House, The Salado Patio, The Shed and Stonecreek Settlement B&B,

The Empty Bowl Project comes at a great time for the Salado Family Relief Fund, according to Past President Mary Catherine Ervin. It helps replenish funds used for the annual back-to-school drive to provide school clothes and supplies to 150 Salado ISD students.

None of these projects would be possible without the support of local churches, civic groups, school groups and individuals who give of their time and money each year.

Since forming two decades ago, the Fund has helped families in the area in a variety of ways, including temporary assistance for medicines, rent, clothing, food and other necessities.

"We never give out cash," said Mary Catherine Ervin, longtime board member and Past President of the SFRF, "but we will always try to work to find a solution or a way we can help."

In addition to the annual Christmas drive, the SFRF also sponsors an annual Back-to-School drive in which families are given vouchers for clothing and school supplies.

Christmas parade kicks off Salado Stroll weekends

Salado will kick off its annual Christmas Stroll with a Main Street parade at 5 p.m. Dec. 3. Entries are now being accepted for the parade, which will begin at the corner of Royal and Main St. and proceed north to the Salado Civic Center for hot chocolate and cookies with jolly old St. Nick.

In Salado tradition, St. Nick will be the last entry of the parade, riding atop the Salado Volunteer Fire Department fire truck.

Registration is free this year. Deadline for registration is 5 p.m. Nov. 20. Entry forms can be downloaded from salado.com and mailed to Salado Chamber of Commerce, PO Box 849, Salado, TX 76571 or emailed to chamber@salado.com Entry forms can also be hand-delivered to the Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Center at 831 N. Main St.

Entries in the parade will be staged beginning at 4 pm. at Royal Street and Center Circle. All entries must be in position and ready to roll by 4:45 p.m. No entry in the parade after 4:45 p.m.

Parade Officials will be present in the staging area and along the Parade route to ensure a smooth and orderly Parade execution, and will have the authority to remove any entry that causes a delay, violates official rules, or fails to cooperate with Officials.

Some of the other rules to keep in mind:

Parade participants must adhere to assigned positions. Changing positions is not allowed unless directed by Parade Officials. Riding participants may not jump off and back on entries while the Parade is in progress. For safety's sake: please do not throw candy or other objects from the entry, and no handing out objects to spectators. Violators will be asked to leave the Parade. Insurance and liability are the sole responsibility of Parade participants.

All entries are to be decorated to reflect the season. Fire proof materials must be used where deemed advisable. No Santa Claus entries allowed, as the Village will provide the one and only Santa.

Parade participants are expected to conduct themselves in a courteous manner at all times. The use/possession of all alcoholic beverages by any Parade participant is strictly forbidden. Participants shall not display, promote or campaign with any form of political signage, T-shirts, or literature during the Parade. No firearms allowed except for active military units involved in the parade and cleared through their commanding officers.

Any entry that intends to advertise their business or service must meet these specific guidelines: (a) Participants must provide their own signage; (b) Signs must be in good taste.

An Open Exchange of Ideas

A Stupendous Bounty

We live in an age of miracles. Throughout all of human history, material progress essentially didn't exist until around 1800. The economic trajectory was flat until the human lot began to improve in ways that would have been unimaginable in prior millennia.

This change gave us the world as we know it. In her brilliant book on the transformation, "Bourgeois Dignity," Deirdre McCloskey writes how the average person in the world subsisted on roughly $3 a day during humanity's long economic stasis. Then, with the breakout, countries that experienced modern growth over the past couple of centuries saw their material well-being increase by at least a factor of 16 -- a transformational leap ahead for nearly everyone living in those countries.

Thanksgiving is, in part, a festival of abundance, and despite the steep recession and grindingly mediocre recovery, we still are better situated to celebrate it than people in any other age or place.

America has always been materially blessed, relative to other parts of the world. In the Colonial period, American men and women were already taller than their British counterparts, thanks to a better standard of living. "Americans achieved modern heights by the middle of the 18th century," according to economic historian Robert Fogel, and had already "reached levels of life expectancy not attained by the general population of England or even by the British peerage until the first quarter of the 20th century."

Life was nonetheless still characterized by deprivations almost completely alien to us. Across the 20th century, the routine misery lifted and we witnessed the profusion of almost all of the things we now take for granted.

Between 1900 and 2000, indoor toilets, telephones and automobiles in the U.S. went from rare to practically universal, according to the study "Century of Difference." In 1920, about a quarter of Americans owned an automobile. Now, 57 percent of households own two or more cars.

McCloskey catalogs the other indicators of progress. In 1875, people spent roughly three-quarters of their income on the basics of food, clothing and shelter. By the mid-1990s, the figure had shrunk to 13 percent. Meanwhile, spending on recreation doubled. (The author Gregg Easterbrook points out that in 2001, Americans spent a greater amount on recreational watercraft than the gross domestic product of South Korea.)

The bounty of consumer comforts and goods has extended to poor households. In 2010, 80 percent of poor households had air conditioning; only about third of all Americans had it in 1970. Even poor households have televisions (96 percent), and washers and dryers (68 and 65 percent, respectively). None of this is to deny that material deprivation exists, but what once were the hallmarks of middle-class life are now widely diffused.

The American public's economic discontents are justified, with the job market not yet healed, with incomes stagnant, and with income mobility too limited. But the epoch of the nearly inevitable $3-a-day livelihood is past. Compared to most of human history, when, in the words of Deirdre McCloskey, "illiteracy, disease, superstition, periodic starvation, and lack of prospects" were the norm, we live in the sunlit uplands. For that, we should be grateful.

Putting things in perspective

Putting things in perspective.

Kim Hill lives a long days drive from here. Diagnosed with acute lymphatic leukemia at age three, she remembers, "Days of chemotherapy and radiation treatments were painful and frightening. I never felt good when I was little. I always had pain, terribly nauseated, and stuck with big, long needles. I was always being taken out of school, in the hospital, or sick at home. I had few friends because in school, I thought every one was talking about me or looking at me."

Jim Murray, Philadelphia Eagles' assistant public relations director, knew Kim and launched a community campaign christened, "Eagles Fly for Leukemia." The campaign, built around her, had a goal to build a half-way house across from the hospital where parents could stay after visiting their children, take a shower or a nap or a cup of coffee. Jim called McDonalds and his goal became reality. The first Ronald McDonald House was opened October 15, 1974, at 4032 Spruce Street, Philadelphia.

When Kim attends a Ronald McDonald House grand opening, she sometimes explains, "in some ways I am glad I was sick. I did not enjoy it and I am glad it was me who was because so much good has come from it. I feel like I was put on this place for a purpose. After everything I've been through, I'm still here. Somebody must have big plans for me."

Putting things in perspective, the construction has been painful and we have not enjoyed the suffering. However, something good will come of it. We will be stronger, more resilient, and perhaps a model for other small communities. Like Kim, "we are still here. Somebody must have big plans for Salado." Each day something good is happening evidence that a new beginning is unfolding.

Will This Lord of the Manor Get Locked Up?

FORMER COAL CEO DON BLANKENSHIP IS IN THE HOT SEAT FOR PUTTING MONEY ABOVE EVERYTHING ELSE.

Jim Hightower

Don Blankenship had it all.

The West Virginia coal baron had personal wealth, absolute control over his workers, and unmatched political power that extended through every branch of state government — and deep into the back rooms of Washington policymakers. In the house of Big Coal, Master Blankenship lorded over the manor.

But soon, he could be moving into an even bigger house — as in "the big house."

The former Massey Energy CEO is presently on trial for intentionally neglecting mine safety laws, conspiring to cover up the violations, and effectively causing an explosion of methane and coal dust that killed 29 miners in Massey's Upper Big Branch mine in 2010. It was the worst mine disaster in modern American history.

Powered by Pollution, cartoon by Khalil Bendib

In a rare turn of events for the corporate world, the boss himself has now been brought before a jury of common West Virginians to answer criminal charges that could put him in prison for 31 years.

This is no mere formality. Already, four of Blankenship's top assistants have been convicted for criminally risking the miners' lives. And federal prosecutors have testimony, documents, and audio recordings revealing that the CEO himself was "plainly cheating" on rules to protect workers.

Blankenship bares his soul on one tape, declaring that it's OK to demand that miners increase production of coal at the expense of their own safety. "This game is about money," he explained.

Quite a few other gamers ought to be in the dock with Don — George W. Bush, for example, along with the bipartisan bunch of Congress critters who took Big Coal's campaign cash in exchange for defunding, denigrating, and discouraging the federal regulators who dared to stand up to Blankenship.

Those for-hire political fixers are co-conspirators in Massey Energy's corporate murders.

How to Ensure People Get End-of-Life Healthcare They Want

By Dr. David R. Grube

My mom paid a painful price for not completing an advance directive about her preferences for end-of-life medical care. She was an intelligent and organized woman who had everything in her and my dad's life planned out and written down. She even drafted her own obituary. Ironically, she never discussed her end-of-life care goals with my father or her physician son (me), preferring to talk about "more pleasant subjects."

As a result, after she developed colon cancer at age 86, my dad and I had to figure out how to treat her post-surgical medical complications of heart and renal failure. She died in hospice care after prolonged, unbearable and unnecessary suffering. It broke both my dad's heart and mine.

Unfortunately, my mother's story is all too common. Nearly one out of four older Americans (24%) say that either they or a family member have experienced excessive or unwanted medical treatment, the equivalent of about 25 million people, according to a poll conducted last year by Purple Strategies. A key reason for this problem is only about one out of six Americans (17%) say they've had discussions about their end-of-life healthcare goals, preferences and values with a doctor or other healthcare provider, according to a recent Kaiser Health Tracking Poll.

Evidence-based research overwhelmingly shows the need for more and higher-quality doctor-patient conversations about the patient's healthcare goals, preferences and values. The report "Dying in America" by the Institute of Medicine noted that:

"Most people nearing the end of life are not physically, mentally, or cognitively able to make their own decisions about care ... The majority of these patients will receive acute hospital care from physicians who do not know them. As a result, advance care planning is essential to ensure that patients receive care reflecting their values, goals, and preferences."

One important step that should facilitate advance care planning is the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services' (CMS) recent decision to reimburse doctors, starting Jan. 1, 2016, for communicating with patients about their preferences and values about end-of-life care.

As a next step, we urge CMS to stop reimbursing healthcare professionals for providing unwanted medical treatment that directly violates a patient's documented end-of-life care goals.

In addition, we encourage Congress to take additional steps to ensure that Americans get the end-of-life treatment they want. They include:

Establish federal payment for palliative care consultations with healthcare providers who will advocate for and support the values and choices of the patient with an advanced illness or nearing the end of life.

Ensure that there are enough trained palliative care professionals to provide this service.

Ensure advanced illness care encompasses access to an interdisciplinary care team, such as board-certified hospice and palliative care physicians, nurses and social workers.

Allow patients the option of enrolling in hospice while continuing to receive disease-specific and restorative treatments if patients still want them.

Absent these healthcare reforms, poor understanding of treatment options and/or lack of acknowledgement of the extent of the illness may lead to inadequate planning, dissatisfaction with the process, unnecessary medical treatment and loss of quality of life.

Dr. Grube is a board certified physician in family medicine and is a national medical director for Compassion & Choices, the nation's oldest and largest end-of-life choice advocacy organization.

"The Facts, Just the Facts" ... please

To the Editor:

I'm weary of the mayor sermonizing and cheerleading in his segment in the Salado Village Voice. What bothers me is the incessant underlying message that the mayor is trying to keep the Salado flock on the correct path -- albeit and arguably his path -- using questionable methods.

I don't appreciate his patronizing and continual pats on the back of like-minded Salado citizenry. Just give me the facts and I'll make up my own mind and give myself a part on the back, thank you.

People who don't share the mayor's views and vision for Salado are subtly marginalized as negative, not progressive, and in need of massaging their egos.

The approach may be indicative of the mayor's own psychic needs for conformity in the flock's thoughts. It serves as a great study of Janis' Groupthink Theory in which leaders and like-minded groups strive for conformity in thought for their ends through marginizing, coercion and ridicule, among others.

Our country was founded on the basis of dissent and the Constitution guarantees freedom of speech vice freedom from speech. The mayors also needs to recognize that many good decisions are arrived at through use of the Hegelian method of inquiry:

Thesis (proponents); Antithesis (dissenters) and synthesis (taking the best elements of both).

So, please skip the sermonizing and stick to the "knitting." The current approach by the mayor under estimates the intellect of his supposed flock.

The annual Christmas Concert performed by the Salado Community Chorus is scheduled for 7 p.m. December 10, in the auditorium of the First Baptist Church.

Chorus director, Jim Mohon, states "Christmas on our Minds and in our Hearts" has everything from fanciful "Elf" to the sacred "Hallelujah Chorus" with a multitude of Yuletide tunes in between. "In addition, Elves, Frosty the Snowman, Wise Men, and a surprise or two will join the Chorus in presenting an evening of amusement. Mohon also states "This concert will be the "Inn" place to be in Salado on December 10."

The Christmas Concert is the second major concert of 2015 for the chorus. Traditionally, the chorus performs two annual concerts; one in the spring and one in December. Salado Community Chorus is comprised of sixty-two members representing Salado and several other Central Texas communities. Members of the chorus enjoy learning new songs and providing choral entertainment.

The Chorus Christmas Concert is part of the festive activities surrounding the annual Christmas Stroll that occurs the first two weekends in December each year in Salado. The chorus welcomes local as well as all visitors to attend their concert and enjoy the variety of Christmas activities scheduled throughout the Village of Salado.

Village Thanksgiving Service will be held Nov. 22

The annual Community Thanksgiving Service will be held on Sunday Nov. 22, at the Church of Christ, beginning at 6 p.m. The devotional message this year will be brought by Pastor Robert Whitefield of 3C Cowboy Fellowship.

The Salado Community Chorus, directed by Jim Mohon, has become a regular feature of the service and will again present several songs. Another regular part of the service will be the annual collection taken to benefit Salado Family Relief.

Refreshments will be served after the worship service. Members of the various local churches are asked to bring their favorite desserts.

The church, located at 217 N. Stagecoach Rd., invites all to come and share in this time of praise to God.

Visit a participating restaurant for #GivingTuesday

The Body of Christ Community Clinic has joined in a growing international movement called #GivingTuesday. This is a designated day of giving that harnesses the collective power of individuals, communities and organizations to encourage philanthropy and to celebrate generosity worldwide. This year #GivingTuesday falls on Dec. 1, but the Body of Christ Community Clinic has extended its celebration to three consecutive Tuesdays, Nov. 17, Nov. 24 and Dec. 1.

On Nov. 24, a number of restaurants are working with the Body of Christ Community Clinic in downtown Temple and Belton in an initiative called #DowntownTuesday. At this time participating restaurants include Pignetti's, Nami's, The Patio on Main, Taste of Thai and Wes' Burger Shack all in Temple. In Belton #DowntownTuesday restaurants are The Gin and Coronas. Customers will need to present a paper or electronic flyer regarding #GivingTuesday at the time of service so they can track their BOCCC donations.

On the official #GivingTuesday on Dec. 1, BJ's Restaurant in Temple and Schlotzsky's in Temple and Belton will be donating a portion of their sales to the Body of Christ Community Clinic. Also on Dec. 2, Yummy Rummy's in Belton will also give the Body of Christ Community Clinic a portion of sales. At BJ's and Yummy Rummy's customers will need to present a paper or electronic flyer regarding #GivingTuesday so they can track their BOCCC donation.

Body of Christ Community Clinic is a medical and dental ministry which opened its doors in 2010 to provide care to the underserved populations who live in the Belton or Salado ISD. It is a 501(c)(3) not for profit organization and is sponsored by 14 area churches of various Christian denominations and is supported by the United Way. Since opening the clinic has had over 7,000 patient visits and has grown from three hours a week to fifteen hours a week. It is staffed primarily by volunteers.

Free Legal Clinic for Veterans, Nov. 20 in Temple

Veterans who need legal advice or legal assistance can visit a free legal clinic scheduled in Temple/Bell County on Friday, Nov. 20, staffed and sponsored by attorney members of the Bell County Bar Association in conjunction with the Veterans Legal Initiative, a coalition of local bar associations to provide pro bono legal services to U.S. veterans in 18 counties in Texas.

The clinic will be held at the Olin E. Teague VA Medical Center, 1901 Veterans Memorial Drive, Building 171, Room A25 in Temple, from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. No appointment is necessary. Any veteran, or spouse of a deceased veteran, can receive advice and counsel from a volunteer attorney in any area of law, including family, wills and probate, consumer, real estate and tax law, as well as disability and veterans benefits. Veterans who need ongoing legal representation and who qualify for legal aid may be assigned a pro bono attorney to handle their case.

For more information on the Nov. 20 clinic, contact the Veterans Legal Initiative at 713-759-1133.

Sales tax down 5% for Salado, but Temple's plummets by 44%

Sales tax rebates to Salado were down five percent in November compared to the 2014, but the City of Temple had a shocker when it learned that its November rebate check was down more than 44 percent compared to 2014.

The Village received a November sales tax rebate check (for sales made in September and reported to the State Comptroller in October) of $34,829.54. Last November, the Village received $36,914.22. For the year, the Village is down less than four percent compared to year-to-date payments for 2014. The Village has received $331,944.99 in sales tax payments for 2015, compared to the $343,389.60 paid through November last year.

Temple received a November sales tax rebate check of $1.9 million, which is more than 44 percent below last November's payment of $3.5 million. Temple had been showing modest growth in sales tax this year until the November surprise.

For the year, Temple has received $18.1 million, which is six percent less than the $19.3 million paid through November 2014.

Troy also saw a dramatic drop in its sales tax rebate this month. Troy received $17,565.93, which is 22 percent less than last November's payment of $22,564.37. For the year, Troy is down seven percent having received $192,249.87 compared to last year's payments of $206,795.27.

The state as a whole was also down for the month. State Comptroller Glenn Hegar said that sales tax revenue for the state in October was $2.28 billion, down 5.4 percent compared to October 2014.

"October state sales tax revenue was depressed, as expected, by declines in spending in oil and natural gas-related sectors," Hegar said. "Other major sectors of the Texas economy, including construction, information, and services, continued to show growth in tax remittances."

ing board and Board of Aldermen.

"They want to have maximum flexibility and control of how they develop," Hayes said of the Sanctuary. "They want to move those things around (single family housing, multi-family housing, etc.) without having to come back to the board of aldermen for approval."

A new wrinkle in the agreements between Sanctuary and the Village concerns the use of the effluent from the sewer plant. According to Hayes, the Village cannot just give the water to Sanctuary, it must be done through a Chapter 380 grant in which the Village grants the amount that it would charge a customer for the water.

Also, the agreements state that the land donation will be for six acres with an additional donation of two acres if needed, but Hayes warned aldermen that this was "not an enforceable provision."

Village engineers have told aldermen that the site for the sewer plant would be more efficiently and inexpensively developed if it were on eight acres.

Aldermen are also examining the purchase of property on the west side of the interstate for the sewer plant. Aldermen have two properties in mind, both of which meet the design needs for a sewer plant according to Rick Kasberg, whose company Kasberg Patrick Associates is under contract for design services of the wastewater system for Salado.

After the business items on the agenda for discussion with Sanctuary, there are two items to be considered in executive session, including the discussion of real estate. Whether that real estate is east or west of I-35 is not known as yet. . Meanwhile, Mayor Skip Blancett said that he wants to see work on laying pipe for the system to begin in January, during Salado's slower months of winter.

Last December, the district separated the duties and hired Marvin Rainwater, a former principal in the Killeen school system, as the Salado athletic director to be athletic director in February.

Graham retained his position as head football coach for the 2015 season, where he went 1-10, 1-3 in district and qualified for the playoffs by beating Smithville Tigers in the final game of district. Salado lost to Bellville 49-7 in the first round of the playoffs.

Graham won two games during his tenure at the helm of the Salado football program with an overall record of 2-29 in three seasons.

He followed Glenn Talbott who struggled through three seasons with a mark of 8-22. Most of those wins came in the second season when the Eagles went 5-5.

In the past six years, the Eagles have been 10-51, a big difference from the 2007 Salado Eagles who went 13-1 under head coach Jeff Cheatham, losing to defending champion Tatum in the state semi-final. Cheatham finished his sixth season at the head of the Round Rock Dragons football program, going 8-3, 6-1 and losing to the #12 Westlake Chaparrals in the 6A, Div. 1 bi-district round 35-14.

While interviews may begin as early as January to fill the head football coach and teaching position, the contract itself will not begin until July 2016, according to Dr. Novotny.

Communities in Schools collecting new shoes to give to students

Communities in Schools (CIS) hope to make a few Christmas wishes come true this season with its eighth annual shoe drive.

CIS is accepting shoe donations through Dec. 15 for high school, middle school and elementary school children registered in the CIS program. Donations of new shoes for all sizes and ages will be accepted – toddlers: 7-12; youth: 12.5 – 7; and adults: 7.5 – 16. Tennis shoes/sneakers must be appropriate for school-aged children.

“So many of the children in our program simply hope for a new pair of shoes for Christmas,” said Michael Dewees, CIS executive director. “While many kids hope for the newest toy or latest technology gadget, our kids just want a pair of shoes that fits properly and is not worn out. Many of them do not have the proper shoes to participate in school events or P.E. classes let alone a decent pair for everyday wear. We are asking for the community’s help to make this wish come true for our kids.”

In spite of the success of last year’s shoe drive the need for shoes still remains. “Last year, CIS served more than 5,500 kids,” said Dewees. “We are doing all we can to provide food support, clothing when necessary and other assistance to meet the basic needs of these children to get them on the path to graduation and a healthy future.”

Shoe donations will be accepted at Salado ISD Administrative Office on Main Street and the Communities In Schools office located in Killeen at 4520 E. Central Texas Expressway, Suite 106.

In addition to shoe donations, CIS will accept monetary donations to purchase shoes for those kids whose shoe size was not met with the shoe collection. Monetary donations can be delivered to the CIS office at the Intermediate School.

Brahmas bull past Eagles 49-7 in bi-district playoff

Salado Eagles football season came to an end as the Bellville Brahmas bulldozed over the Eagles 49-7 in their bi-district game Nov. 13 at College Station.

The Brahmas scored 42 first half points, including four touchdowns by Mac Briscoe, who carried the ball just 13 times for 180 yards in the first half.

The Brahmas reached the endzone on their first six possessions, the first on a four yard dive by Briscoe.

Chris Stallones followed with a 34 yard run but the kick failed to give Bellville a 13-0 lead.

The Brahmas extended it to 21-0 in the first quarter on a 61 yard run by Briscoe. Kaleb Henderson ran in the two-point extra point.

Bellville added another three touchdowns in the second quarter for a 42-0 lead.

They came on runs of 2 yards and 51 yards by Briscoe and a 2 yard by Tylin Bryant.

Stallones ran for his second touchdown of the night in the third quarter, this time for 4 yards.

Salado got on the scoreboard with 1:34 left in the game on a 24 yard pass from Hayden Ebeling to Aaron Torczynski. Alex Carmona kicked the extra point.

Salado had 101 yards on the ground, led by Ebeling's 78 yards on 22 carries. Torczynski caught five passes for 41 yards to lead the Eagles and Kaden Trice followed with 28 yards on five catches.

Ebeling threw 12 completions on 17 tries for 60 yards in the game.

yards on the ground, led by Briscoe's 180 yards and Stallones' 63 yards on seven carries.

The Brahmas (9-2) face Hampshire-Fannett in the Area Round.

Caldwell, the second place team from District 11-4A Div. II, beat Columbus, the third place team from 12-4A, last week 28-21. Caldwell faces La Marque in the Area Round. La Marque beat Liberty 35-6 in the bi-district round and is the winner of District 10-4A, ranked #9 by Dave Campbell's Texas Football.

Giddings, winners of District 11-4A and ranked #8 in state by Dave Campbell, beat Sweeny 35-7 in the bi-district game and will face Orangefield in the Area Round.

La Grange, the third place team in District 11-4A, lost to Wharton, runner up in District 12, 27-24.

Only one of the 16 fourth-placed teams in 4A Div. II survived the first round of the playoffs: Anna, which beat Madison 50-16. Anna plays in District 3, which still has all four teams in the playoffs, led by Celina, which crushed Venus, 63-0.

Houston Scarborough, which broke its 53 game winless streak this year, went to the playoffs despite winning none of its district games. It lost to West Orange-Stark 63-0.

The worst loss between a first place and fourth place team, though, was Geronimo Navarro's 72-0 thrashing of Poteet.

All together, first place teams in 4A, Div. II outscored their fourth place counterparts by a score of 728-216.

Winners announced for Central Texas Art Competition

Students from eight area high schools and colleges received awards in the 36th annual Central Texas Art Competition.

Nearly 600 entries were submitted for the competition, which is coordinated by the Temple College Visual Arts Department. Works accepted for the competition included original paintings, pen and ink, photography, ceramics, sculpture, drawings, prints and jewelry. The juror for the competition was O. Rufus Lovett, who teaches photography at Kilgore College and is a nationally recognized artist.

The competition offered a total of $1,800 in cash prizes to the student artists. In the college division, the $200 Best of Show Award went to Myrna Hawkins of Central Texas College for her ceramic piece titled "Zuni Inspired." In the high school division, the Best of Show Award went to Lauren Jones of Georgetown High School for her photo titled "Bite."

Six $100 Awards of Excellence were presented in each division. Parks home part of Tour

The Dena Parks home will be one of the featured homes during the Salado Historical Society Tour of Homes Dec. 4-6.

The Dena Parks Home was built by her late husband, Lloyd Lee Parks. This spectacular home was built in the fall of 1993 by Stillwell Construction Company. Lloyd's daughter Karyn Parks, of Phoenix, Arizona, was the architect of the home. Lloyd Parks commissioned his daughter to design a home adopting the style of Frank Lloyd Wright. One of the inspirations for the home was the world famous Charles Weltzheimer home designed by Wright in Oberlin, Ohio. This home has been restored and now belongs to Oberlin College.

The Parks home was built on the highest point in Salado and occupies three lots. Features of the house are a three car garage, a vaulted rotunda in the center of the living area, and a sweeping inside porch. There are five bedrooms, 7 bathrooms, and an indoor poolroom. The pool was removed and the room was converted into an arts and crafts hobby room. The master bedroom suite and double bath has dual private entrances. The home also has a large fully furnished private office. Mr. Parks accumulated many original business documents and awards that are framed in his office. Guest rooms in the home have their own private baths. You cannot miss the sweeping shaded indoor patio.

Dena has a stunning collection of art, fine china, pottery, seashells, screens, posters, paintings, and photography. Visitors will see works by well known Salado artists Ronny Wells and Troy Kelley's

"Serena".

This masterpiece with private patios and porches is filled with sunlight and beauty. Be sure to include this magnificent home in your Historic Home Tour.

The Salado Historical Society 2015 Home Tour, will be 5-8 p.m. Dec. 4, 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Dec. 5 and 1-4 p.m. Dec. 6.

Tickets are now for sale at the Salado Visitor's Center and Chamber of Commerce, 881 North Main Street (phone 254 947 8634) Ticket price before November 26 is $18.00, after November 26 is $20.00.

A Christmas Carol on stage in Dec.

Kelly Parker will direct Tablerock's 23rd annual performances of Charles Dickens' A Christmas Carol at the Goodnight Amphitheater on Royal Street in Salado. Dates for the production are 7 p.m. Dec. 4, 5, 11, and 12.

Kelly and his wife, Anna, live in Salado. He served as Director for Tablerock's production of Shakespeare's Twelfth Night this past spring. He was appointed to the Tablerock Advisory Board in 2013 and elected to the Board of Directors in 2014. A Belton High School graduate, Kelly was a Performance Major at Baylor University where he earned his MFA in 2006. Kelley is the Theater Director at McLennan County College in Waco. Professor Parker has performed professionally in numerous productions throughout Texas and in New York. Kelly has studied the Meisner acting technique with Larry Silverberg and is a certified teacher through the True Acting Institute. He has trained in voice and speech work in New York City and Los Angeles with Catherine Fitzmaurice, Patsy Rodenberg, and Phil Thompson. Currently, He holds the distinction of a candidate for certification as a Fitzmaurice Voice-work® Teacher. He is a certified UIL OAP critic judge. This year, Parker has been appointed as the adjudicator for the UIL OAP 1A State contest.

A Christmas Carol has a cast and crew of 60, some new-comers to the play and a handful who have been associated with the play since its inception, 23 years ago. A Christmas Carol was adapted to the stage by Harry Sweet. Sweet, director of Carol for 15 years and a retired Ethics Professor at Mary Hardin Baylor said, "No one can improve on Dick-ens's works," so the show remains pure Dickens, to the delight of all who come back year after year to enjoy the production. Kelly Parker agrees with Sweet's theory about Dickens and plans to "Keep the play true to Dickens."

Tickets are available at the gate: $10 for Adults, $5 for students and $3 for children 12 and under. Tickets may be purchased on line at www.tablerock.org. Concession stand opens at 6:30 for sandwiches, cold and hot drinks, chips and candy.

EASY CHICKEN POSOLE

Serves 6 - 8

This big pot of soulful Mexican-style stew can be prepared start to finish in well under an hour. It's ideal for feeding a crowd or for cooking ahead for the week. If you wish, have thinly sliced radishes, fresh cilantro, diced avocado and crispy corn tortilla strips on hand for garnishing.

- 1 tablespoon expeller-pressed canola oil
- 1 large onion, diced
- 5 poblano peppers, seeded and diced
- 5 garlic cloves, finely chopped
- 5 1/2 cup low-sodium chicken broth
- 1 1/2 pound boneless, skinless chicken breasts
- 1/2 teaspoon fine sea salt
- 5 cups thinly sliced chard leaves and stems (about 1/2 bunch)
- 1 can hominy, drained and rinsed or 2 1/2 cups frozen corn kernels
- 3 tablespoons chopped fresh oregano leaves
- 1/8 teaspoon ancho chile powder or cayenne pepper
- 2 limes, cut into wedges

Heat oil in a soup pot over medium-high heat. Add onion, poblanos and garlic, and cook, stirring, until vegetables soften, 7 to 8 minutes. Add broth, chicken and salt, and cook until chicken is tender and cooked through, about 20 minutes. Transfer chicken with tongs to a cutting board and let cool 5 minutes. Shred chicken with 2 forks and return it to the pot. Add chard, hominy and oregano, and cook 5 minutes more. Taste and add ancho chile powder or cayenne pepper. Serve with lime wedges and additional garnishes of choice.

BUTTERNUT SQUASH-COCONUT CAKE

Serves 16 - 20

Surprisingly, grated butternut squash adds delicious moisture to this rich Bundt cake, which is flavored with coconut chips and nutmeg.

- 3/4 cup coconut oil, at room temperature, plus more for the pan
- 3 cups whole wheat pastry flour, plus more for the pan
- 1 cup unsweetened coconut chips, divided
- 2 teaspoons baking soda
- 1 teaspoon grated nutmeg
- 1/2 teaspoon fine sea salt
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 eggs
- 2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract
- 1 cup lowfat (1%) buttermilk
- 2 cups grated raw, peeled butternut squash

Preheat the oven to 350°F. Oil a 10- to 12-cup Bundt pan and dust with flour, shaking out the excess. Scatter 1/2 cup of the coconut chips evenly over the bottom and slightly up the sides.

In a medium bowl, whisk together flour, baking soda, nutmeg and salt. Set aside. In a large bowl, whisk together sugar and oil until smooth, about 30 seconds. Whisk in eggs and vanilla until combined. Add half of the buttermilk and then half of the flour mixture, stirring after each addition until just combined. Repeat with remaining buttermilk and flour mixture. Fold in butternut squash and remaining 1/2 cup coconut chips.

Spoon batter into the prepared pan, smoothing the top. Tap the pan gently on the countertop. Bake until cake is golden brown and the center springs back when touched, about 45 minutes. Cool on a wire rack for 15 minutes, then invert onto a cake plate and cool completely before serving.

YOUR PROPERTY TAXES JUST WENT UP. OR HADN'T YOU HEARD?

When local governments want to increase tax revenues, they are required to publish notices in the newspaper so that you will know. But that right to know could disappear.

Local government entities across the state want to hide their public notices on little seen, rarely visited government websites.

What you don't know will affect you personally!

If it is not in the newspaper, you won't know about it.

Texas Legislature creates new way to transfer Real Property upon death

Thanks to the 84th Legislature, Texans have a new, easy way to transfer real property to someone else upon their death. It does not involve going through probate court, which can be a lengthy and costly process. It also allows the owner to keep the exact same rights to the property that they've always had while they are alive - they can get the property tax exemption, use it as collateral on a loan, or sell the property as they like.

It works similarly to a life insurance policy or a payable on death bank account because the asset passes directly to the beneficiary named in the transfer on death deed outside the probate system when the owner dies.

While the transfer on death deed is a welcome benefit for all Texans, it brings substantial relief to our low-income homeowners. "The family home may be the only real asset they have, but the most common way to transfer title in Texas is often financially beyond their reach," said Harry Reasoner, Chair of the Texas Access to Justice Commission. "Many cannot afford to have a will prepared to properly transfer title to the property after they die, and even if a will exists, their heirs may not be able to afford to probate the will."

Failure to transfer clear title to property is a significant problem for low-income homeowners. The homes are often informally passed down to a family member, but that person is at risk of losing the home when clear title cannot be shown.

When a natural disaster strikes and a property has been informally handed down through generations, the people living there cannot qualify for FEMA benefits because they cannot show that they are the legal owners. The same is true for property tax exemptions.

These homes are often abandoned, causing blight and an invitation to crime to our neighborhoods.

Texas Supreme Court Chief Justice Nathan Hecht commented, "While it is always best to have a lawyer, millions of Texans cannot afford one. The transfer on death deed is a useful tool for low-income Texans to transfer clear title to property. It will help keep families in homes, which benefits the communities in which we live by keeping people off the street and reducing blight."

Now, people can convey clear title to their property by completing a transfer on death deed form, signing it in front of a notary, and filing it in the deed records office in the county where the property is located before they die at a cost of less than fifty dollars.

The Texas Access to Justice Commission has created a do-it-yourself Transfer on Death Deed Kit that includes forms and instructions for completing a transfer-on-death deed as well as a revocation form in the event that someone wants to cancel or change the transfer on death deed, and an affidavit of death that must be filed when the property owner dies. The kit is available on TexasLawHelp.org.

The benefits to buying local this holiday season

Holiday shopping dominates many people's free time between the day after Thanksgiving and the final days before Christmas. While many people may shop 'til they drop on Black Friday and Cyber Monday, those days still account for a relatively small amount of the hundreds of billions of dollars that are spent each holiday season.

Shoppers now have a bevy of options at their disposal as they embark on holiday shopping season. Traditional in-store retailers are still around, and online shopping continues to grow in popularity with each holiday season. But many holiday shoppers are looking to buy local this holiday season, and such a decision can pay a host of dividends for both shoppers and the communities they call home.

• Buying local benefits your local economy. Studies from Civic Economics, an economics and strategic planning firm, found that independent, locally-owned retailers return a far greater percentage of their revenue into their local economies than national chain stores. One such study examined the disparity between revenue recirculation among independent, locally-owned businesses in Raleigh, North Carolina, versus four major national chains in the city. The former recirculated 51.1 percent of revenue into the local economy, while the latter recirculated less than 14 percent. Similar results were discovered in many cities, indicating that buying local not only benefits local business owners, but also the communities those owners and their customers call home.

• Buying local creates jobs in your community. One of the biggest ways local business owners in Raleigh recirculated their revenue in the local economy was job creation. While national chains also create jobs, such jobs only benefit your community if the chains are located within your community. If your local mall is a considerable drive away, chances are the chains within that mall are not employing many of your fellow community members. Local businesses in your community are more likely to employ residents of your town.

• Shopping local may provide access to more unique gifts. In addition to the economic benefits of buying local, shoppers may find merchandise made by local craftsmen is more unique than mass-produced items found on the shelves of national retailers. Recipients may cherish more unique items that they cannot find on their own, and that appreciation may even spur them to visit more local retailers after the holiday season has come and gone, benefiting their own communities in so doing.

• Local business may provide a more personal touch. Buying from national chains has its advantages, but customer service is not always one of them. Should your loved ones encounter problems with their gift that requires assistance, they might be forced to wait on the phone for extended periods of time as they and thousands of others wait for customer service representatives to answer their calls. Local businesses do not deal with nearly the volume of customers as national retailers and, therefore, are capable of addressing concerns more quickly and personally than large chains.

Buying local not only benefits small business owners, but it also pays dividends for their customers and the communities they call home.
