Ladies earn berth in State soccer tourney

Salado Lady Eagles will face the Jasper Lady Dogs (22-3-1) in the 4A girls soccer state semifinals at 11 a.m. April 13 at Birkelbach Field in Georgetown after beating Boerne 3-1 in the Region IV finals. The game was held after this week's edition had been printed. Follow us on Twitter @saladovoice for updates.

Jasper and Kennedale both return from last year's state tournament, which Kennedale won by defeating Princeton 4-1 in the finals. Jasper went into the tournament last year with a 26-0 record and lost to Princeton 4-3 in the semi-final.

Jasper returns 11 players from the state semifinalist team: Julie Carter, #1, sophomore, forward; Shay Cochran, #4, junior, defender; Kylee Dominy, #5, sophomore, midfielder; Kaitlyn Campos, #7, junior, midfielder; Caitlyn Warren, #10, junior, defender Jordan Luther, #12, sophomore, defender; Yvette Carter, #13, junior, goalkeeper; Salma Segovia, #14, sophomore midfielder; Alivia Richardson, #15, junior, midfielder; Macy Kendrick, #18, junior, midfielder and Natalia Zavala, #19, sophomore, forward. Zavala was on the State All-Tournament team last year.

The Lady Dogs started their season with two losses to 6A teams The Woodlands and Magnolia West. They also lost to Royse City and tied Port Neches-Groves. The girls have not lost since Jan. 20. They won District 18-4A with an 8-0 record.

The Lady Dogs have run through playoff competition thus far, allowing only one goal to be scored in the past five games. Jasper beat the following: Bi-district, 6-0 over Lorena; Area, 6-0 over Little Cypress; Region Quarters, 9-0 over China Spring; Region Semi, 7-0 over Bay City and Region III Final, 4-1 over Hardin-Jefferson.

Salado has a deep reserve of experience as 17 of the 20 players return from last year's 25-2 team. The Lady Eagles were knocked out of the playoffs in the Region IV Finals by Boerne. Boerne lost 4-3 in the semi-final round to Kennedale.

Among the Salado returners are two All-State honorees. Senior goalkeeper Sam Isbell was named to the Second Team All-State last year. She was also named the District 25-4A Goalkeeper MVP. She anchored a defense last year that allowed just seven goals to be scored the entire season.

Junior forward Sara Wilkerson was also named to the All State Second Team, first team All-District and was the team's Offensive MVP. Wilkerson led the team with 47 points, scoring 20 goals and giving seven assists.

Senior midfielder China Saxton was named to the first team All-Region, as well as being the District 25-4A Overall MVP. She scored 43 points last year, from 17 goals and 9 assists. This year, Senior midfielder Katey Ewton received All-Region Honorable Mention and first team All-District honors. Ewton had 24 points last year from nine goals and six assists.

Other returning players that were named to last year's All-District first team were these: senior defender Morgan Bird, senior defender Carly Nichols, junior midfielder Kristin Crouch and sophomore defender Reagan Morreale, who was named the Freshman MVP last year.

Returners named to last year's All District second team are senior midfielder Jessica Ringstaff, junior forward Annie Ewton, junior midfielder Olivia Sula. Senior midfielder Daniela Gantenbein and sophomore midfielder Ashlen LaCanne received All-District honorable mention last year.

Other players returning from last year's varsity team are senior midfielder Julie Craig, junior forward Rebecca Gonzalez, sophomore forward Tyler Pierce and senior defender Carly Nichols.

Newcomers to this year's varsity team are senior forward Taylor Schoenrock, sophomore midfielder Rylie Stewart and freshman midfielder Brileigh Cole.

Salado has had an impressive run through its playoff opponents, as well: Bi-district, 10-0 over LaGrange; Area, 2-0 over Wimberley to avenge the only loss of the year; Regional Quarters, 3-1 over Giddings who were then ranked #1 in the state; Regional Semis, 2-0 over Rockport-Fulton and Regional Finals, 3-1 over Boerne, who ousted Salado in last year's Regional Finals.

Kennedale also returns an experience-laden team from last year's state championship. The Lady Kats are 25-2 on the year, having made an undefeated run through District 8-4A. Their only losses were to Midlothian (1-0) and Martin (4-2) back-to-back in late January.

Interestingly, both Midlothian and Martin were knocked out of the 6A girls playoffs by Flower Mound (15-3-6), which is in the state semi-finals this week as well.

Kennedale is coached by Michael Strange. Returning from last year's state championship team are these: Sara Calzada, #0, junior, goalkeeper; Marisa Echtle, #1, sophomore, defender; Abigail Olmos, #3, senior, midfielder; Baylee Gow, #5, junior, forward; Emily Hamilton, #6, junior, forward; Kylie Deel, #7, senior, defender; Cara Hunt, #8, senior, midfielder Alondra Olmos, #10, junior, midfielder; Daphne Hunt, #11, sophomore, defender; Megan Jakubisin, #12, sophomore, midfielder; Claire Hamilton, #16, senior, defender; Lauren Otts, #17, senior, defender and Alexis Thornton, #20, senior, midfielder.

Kennedale has four players returning who were named to the State All-Tournament team: Abigail Olmos, Alondra Olmos, Claire Hamilton and Tournament MVP Alexis Thornton.

Kennedale cruised past most of its playoff opponents: Bi-district, 12-0 over Hampton; Area, 9-2 win over Celina; Region Quarters, 3-1 over Argyle; Region Semis, 7-1 over Stephenville and Region Finals, 4-0 over Wylie.

Kilgore is the winner of District 16 in Region II. In their play off run, Kilgore allowed just three goals to be scored in five games: Bi-district, 9-0 over Gladewater; Area, 11-0 over Liberty-Eylau; Region Quarters, 2-1 over Kilgore-Mabank; Region Semis, 3-2 over Community; Region Finals, 7-0 over Athens.

Village approves design, gets land, permit

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

By adopting the Development and Design Standards for Sanctuary on April 7 and accepting a utility easement from Sanctuary owners, aldermen took the final two steps to secure the possession of the wastewater discharge permit and the six acres of property on which the future 200,000 gallon per day treatment plant will sit.

The board adopted the Sanctuary Development and Design Standards Ordinance, which includes 14 pages of exceptions to the Village ordinances including the zoning, subdivision and sign ordinances.

Among the exceptions are exceptions to street widths, lot sizes, building height limits and cul-de-sac lengths.

The Development and Design Standards allow for the construction of at least two, two-sided illuminated billboards "that shall be located on the Sanctuary project and closest permissible location to Interstate 35 and its service roads. Each sign face shall have a maximum sign area of 672 sq. ft. and maximum dimension of 14 feet by 48 feet and the overall top of the sign shall be no more than 50 feet from the grade level where the sign is located."

Street dimension for two way streets "shall have two 10 foot travel lanes in each direction with four foot minimum pedestrian or multi-modal zone flush; total clear zone is 24 feet."

Street dimensions for one way streets "shall have 16 foot cart way width plus one four foot parallel pedestrian lane and one four foot shoulder on the park side, total clear zone of 24 feet.

According to the Standards, the project may have private streets "as determined by the Sanctuary."

The minimum residential lot shall be 24 feet wide and 125 feet deep. There is no minimum lot size for a commercial lot.

According to the Development standards, "The Project can contain one-way streets. The Sanctuary is not required to submit a Traffic Analysis or compliance with the Transportation Plan provided Sanctuary does not exceed the total land uses pursuant to Article IV of the Master Development Agreement."

There is no minimum or maximum length for alley streets and there is no maximum length for a cul-de-sac street.

Block sizes shall average 250 feet by 500 feet with minimum block dimensions of 180 feet by 300 feet.

The Development standards reduce the minimum setbacks to 10' front, 6' side and 5' rear for single family attached or multi family buildings.

Single family residential requires 15' front, 6' side and 5' rear.

The Development standards will have five styles of architecture: Flemish, Franconian, French Country, Texas Classical and Mediterranean Coastal.

Flemish is defined as Northern European style with primarily stucco on thick masonry walls, stepped gable roof parapet fronting the street, casement windows, flush facade and generous proportions of windows.

Franconian is defined as German Romantic style is similar to an English Tudor with steep rooflines, natural earthly materials and colors, use of half timbers on exteriors, multi-pane double hung windows, masonry foundation. Predominant in the center city of Rothenburg og de Taber.

French Country style was imported to the U.S. during the colonial period and is characterized by steep sheltering hip roofs, casement windows, stucco and stone. Greens, taupes and whites are used for body colors with bold accent colors on trim and door.

Texas Classical is epitomized in the Standards as "The Baines House is an excellent example of Texas Classical style."

Mediterranean Coastal style is "unmistakable influences of Spanish, Italian and Baroque styles developed for the warm climate. Asymmetrical composition of discrete building volumes. Masonry walls with stucco and low pitched flat clay tiled roofs. Acceptable materials for exteriors include stucco, stone, lap siding, brick, aluminum, metal and glass. Roofs may be fiberglass or asphalt shingles, metal, tile, wood shake, or membrane for low slope roofs. Fences may be iron, aluminum, wood, fiberglass, recycled materials or synthetic materials.

An Open Exchange of Ideas

Do Not Fear the Chalk

Students at the University of Michigan called police the other day -- because someone had written Donald Trump's name in chalk.

No arrests were made. The episode is part of a nationwide trend of Trump supporters writing pro-Trump messages on sidewalks, stairs and other surfaces at college campuses, where fainting fits are sure to ensue.

When they could get no relief from law enforcement, the University of Michigan students took it upon themselves to erase the offending messages -- including "Trump 2016," "Build the Wall" and "Stop Islam" -- while fighting through feelings of betrayal.

One student complained that there should be a special emergency number to call in such cases and said that the administration's inadequate response "perpetuates these really racist and hateful stereotypes that turn into violence and turn into students of color feeling unsafe on campus."

Rarely before have a few scribbles been so traumatizing -- and written not even in ink or paint or some other difficult-to-remove substance, but in the same chalk used to mark out hopscotch courts and write temporary promotional messages about sorority mixers. That chalk messages can be considered tantamount to a physical threat captures the crisis of free speech on campus perfectly.

Pro-Trump chalking took off after the reaction at Emory University, where some students were reduced to tears by the messages and said they felt "fear." Protesters gathered at an administration building and let loose the antiphonal chant "You are not listening! Come speak to us, we are in pain!" This might have been an appropriate response if the kids had been tear-gassed, rather than seeing a positive phrase about a candidate that is supported by some significant plurality of the American public.

The president of the school, James Wagner, promised to review security footage to try to identify the perpetrators, and in a statement full of campus-diversity jargon pledged, among other things, "immediate refinements to certain policy and procedural deficiencies" and "regular and structured opportunities for difficult dialogues."

How about striking an even greater blow for diversity and asking the kids to get over seeing an antidone political message that they disagree with? To his credit, Wagner himself chalked "Emory stands for free expression," a message that will evidently have trouble penetrating the formidable incuriosity of some of his students.

The reaction to "the chalking," as it's become known on social media, is a testament to the electric charge surrounding Trump. This branding isn't prudent positioning for a general election, but it makes Trump a perfect vehicle for provoking the other side, and it's in that thumb-in-the-eye spirit that the Trump chalking is spreading.

The students getting the vapors over it don't understand free expression or what it means to live in a free society, where you inevitably encounter people who have ideas and support candidates that you oppose. They hate Donald Trump. Fine. That is reason to argue and agitate against him, not to seek protection from any contact with supporters of his, no matter how tenuous.

If they are having a hard time handling this election cycle, just imagine how Republican National Committee chairman Reince Priebus feels.

Rule by Unelected Bureaucrat

President Obama opened the annual Easter Egg Roll at the White House this year by saying it was a bittersweet moment: it would be his last time hosting it.

The term "Easter egg" is also used to indicate little surprises hidden on a website or DVD menu. Of course, those surprises are pleasant and intended to be found. As the Obama administration approaches the end of its term, however, we can expect a different type of surprise -- and certainly not the friendly kind.

I'm referring to federal regulations, which have been growing at an alarming rate. The 2015 "Red Tape Rising" report from The Heritage Foundation (the 2016 one will be out soon) found that 27 new major rules were added in 2014, for a total of 184 over the first six years of the Obama administration. The cost, as estimated by the regulators themselves: $80 billion annually. (And that's not even the full amount.)

Who pays that cost? You and me. It's passed on to all of us, even non-taxpayers, in the form of higher prices for everything.

But for now, let's consider a bigger question: Why do federal agencies have so much power to begin with? In simplest terms, it's Congress's fault. The lawmakers you elect to, well, make law, have gotten into the habit of passing remarkably vague legislation.

The law your senator or representative votes for to do Good Thing X is often

Heritage Forum

by Edwin Feulner

full of blanks. Somebody has to fill in those blanks -- to specify all the details about how X will be accomplished. Increasingly, that somebody is not a man or woman who's directly answerable to you, but someone you'll never meet. Someone who can't be voted out of office for failing to look after your interests.

The situation is exacerbated by something known as the Chevron Doctrine, which evolved out of a Supreme Court case in the 1980s. It boils down to this: When a federal court is interpreting an ambiguous federal law, it should defer to the agency that enforces it when deciding what the law means.

So if, for example, the Environmental Protection Agency says some pollution-prevention law should be interpreted a certain way, the court will -- unless there's some compelling reason to rule otherwise -- let the EPA's reading of the law stand.

Rep. Tom Marino (R-Pa.) recently provided an example of how things can go awry under the Chevron Doctrine. Noting the presence of a small stream by several farms near his home, he said the EPA and the Army Corps of Engineers tried to push through a rule stating that because a farm sometimes has some standing water after a rainstorm, the Navigable Waters Act gives the EPA control over that farm.

"I've been living out where I live for 15 years, and I have yet to see a ship go through that little stream that goes past my house," Marino said.

Now, by and large, Congress likes the Chevron Doctrine. It makes the job of legislating easier, obviously. No need to sweat the details -- let bureaucrats do that! The Executive Branch likes it, too: When a rule is challenged in court or elsewhere, an administration can point to the Chevron Doctrine.

But We the People shouldn't like it. As Sen. Mike Lee (R-Utah) has put it:

"You don't trust [the power to legislate] to other people. As hard-working, well-intentioned, well-educated and highly specialized as they might be, the men and women who work within our Executive Branch agencies don't work for you. You cannot fire them, almost regardless of what they do. You have no opportunity to review their work at regular intervals. And that is a recipe for tyranny."

He's right. Our system of government relies on checks and balances. Under the Chevron Doctrine, things have become remarkably unbalanced. For the sake of our freedoms, it's time to recalibrate.

Operation Paul Ryan

Republican insiders are as confused as goats on astroturf when it comes to grasping Donald Trump's appeal.

Exciting news, people: The Republican Party establishment has a secret plan to stop blue-collar voters from supporting Donald Trump. The plan is code-named "Operation Paul Ryan."

Good grief. The GOP's old-line clique of congressional bulls, corporate funders, lobbyists, and right-wing think tanks is as confused as goats on astroturf when it comes to grasping a core part of Trump's appeal.

Trump's winning because he's reaching out to longtime Republican voters who've finally realized that it's the party's own Wall Street elites who knocked them down economically. And it's the insider cadre of influence peddlers who've shut them out politically.

The party power powers are insisting that The Donald is winning only because he's drawing voters who are ignorant, racist, xenophobic, and sexist.

Jim Hightower

Some of them certainly are. But he's also drawing huge numbers of disaffected Republicans who are mainly opposed to the party's own power players.

Far from being Koch-headed, laissez-faire ideologues, these voters like Trump's opposition to job-busting trade scams, his mocking of big-money campaign donations, his call to hike taxes on Wall Street's pampered hedge-funders, and his support for Social Security, among other things.

For these voters, the idea of nominating House Speaker Paul Ryan in a brokered convention is a dud, a farce, and an insult.

The Wisconsin Republican has long been the darling of the rich and powerful. The obtuse establishment snootily calls him "serious" presidential material -- only because he champions such plutocratic policies as privatizing Social Security, cutting taxes on the super-rich, deregulating Wall Street, and replacing Medicare benefits with vouchers.

The only thing serious about Ryan's agenda is that it's a dead-serious loser with the great majority of Americans. Trump has his own issues. But trying to knock him off for Ryan is a sign of the GOP's irreversible decline into cluelessness and political irrelevance.

Readers on Sewers and Big Trucks

To the Editor:

Since when does a city government take out a full page ad on the taxpayer dime to politically advertise and defend their position on sewage treatment during an election season?

Last week's propaganda effort gives the mirage of a deliberative process, but excludes many details, including: zero public input into the agreements as promised, the two dozen secret meetings with Sanctuary while the public was kicked out into the cold, the short timeframes for consideration of red herring options, the actual cost of a regional solution, overinflated values of the land donation and TCEQ permit transfer, the unexplained disappearance of the Sanctuary's $1 million dollar gift, how the aldermen's non-negotiable tax break/economic development/effluent benefit timeframes suddenly went from 10/10/10 to 15/15/45, why the EDA sewer grant was reduced from $1.5 to $1.0 million, any explanation why it took seven weeks from the time the annexation and economic development agreements were signed to have the land donation and TCEQ permit transfer in hand, and why there was delay after delay after delay throughout this Sanctuary sewer fiasco. The sewer bond was approved in November 2014 and other than studies, plans and hundreds of thousands already spent (including over $600/day in bond interest since August 2015), there's not been a single shovel of dirt turned in more than 17 months.

This full page ad is nothing more than a political advertisement funded by taxpayers to cover for the infinite missteps of your incumbent elected and salaried public officials during this election season.

Belton will be constructing a 1,000,000 Gallon Per Day (GPD) wastewater lift station near the Lampasas River at Toll Bridge Road. It's scheduled for completion in mid- 2017. This date is prior to the scheduled completion date of the Village's proposed new 200,000 GPD Wastewater Treatment Plant (WWTP) in Sanctuary.

The current north most main line of the proposed Village sewer is 4 miles from this future lift station. A Low Pressure Sewer (LPS) 4 inch line along this route is estimated to cost no more than $750,000 to install. A 4 inch LPS line has a wastewater capacity of 700,000 GPD. LPS lines can be tapped into at any point, thereby extending the Village's sewer main line an additional 0.6 miles further north.

The remainder of this route north along IH-35 adjoins the Belton City Limits. Since this LPS

Salado Family Relief Fund serving for over two decades

For two decades, the Salado Family Relief Fund has made Back to School, Christmas holidays and hard times better for Salado children and families.

The Salado Family Relief Fund helps more than 50 Salado families each year by providing Christmas presents to their children. In 2014 the Salado community donated toys and gifts to Salado Family Relief Fund in order to provide Christmas gifts to 59 families for a total of 123 children.

Salado Family Relief will again be managing the Christmas Project, whereby qualified families will be presented with toys and gifts for Christmas.

"We cannot do this without the generosity of our community," said Renee Oas, President of the Salado Family Relief Fund board of directors and organizer of the Christmas project.

Civic groups, church groups and school groups are encouraged to adopt a family or a child during the Christmas drive. If you would like to "adopt" a child or family for Christmas, email Oas at cashmagnet@vvm.com to get your name on the list that you will be participating.

Contributions are accepted year round, send to: Salado Family Relief Fund, P.O. Box 461, Salado, TX 76571.

The SFRF protects the identity of the children receiving the gifts. No groups or individuals will know the names of the children they have agreed to adopt.

The Empty Bowl Project held in November benefits the SFRF. It is the only fundraising event held by the SFRF.

Local potter and avid SFRF supporter for many years Titia Arledge Califano, of Mud Pies Pottery, works with potters from around the state and local volunteers to provide the handmade pottery bowls for the one day event.

Attendees get to purchase a handmade bowl as a keepsake and enjoy all-you-can-eat soup provided by local restaurants, bed and breakfast inns and individuals who furnish their trademark soups in support of the day.

The annual Back-to-School drive provides school clothes and supplies to 150 Salado ISD students. During Back-to-School drive families are given vouchers for clothing and school supplies.

In 2015 The Salado Chamber of Commerce helped provide new shoes for students going back to school through the Midnight Madness 5K in August.

None of these projects would be possible without the support of local churches, civic groups, school groups and individuals who give of their time and money each year.

Since forming, the Fund has helped families in a variety of ways, including temporary assistance for medicines, rent, clothing, food and other necessities. "We never give out cash," said Mary Catherine Ervin, retiring director and Past President of the SFRF, "but we will always try to work to find a solution or a way we can help."

The Fund has established a school supply bank at the school, administered by the Communities in Schools.

The SFRF also ensures that children get a hot meal at school by working with cafeteria staff.

It is never too late to become an active member with this organizations. Contact any board member to let them know you are willing to give of your time to further the efforts of the Salado Family Relief Fund.

line could also be utilized by the City of Belton, it's likely they would pay a portion of its installation cost.

Currently the City of Belton has metered wastewater customers that pay a rates as low as $2.50 per 1,000 gallons. The proposed 200,000 GPD Village WWTP will cost a minimum of $200,000 annually to operate, not including bond principal or interest. The lowest possible operating cost of the proposed WWTP at maximum capacity is $3.10 per 1,000 gallons.

But if all properties adjoining the proposed main line runs were FORCED by the Village government to connect, the initial daily flow will be 20,000 GPD. At that volume, it will cost $27 per 1,000 gallons in operating cost. As for likely income from fees, there'll be one-time connection fees totaling $28,000 and $50,000 in annual wastewater fees, leaving an initial annual operating deficit of $122,000.

As for properties not adjoining a main line, by utilizing LPS, properties as far away as 1.5 miles are in range of the main lines. Anonymous is silent as to who pays for these connections to the main lines.

As for "The Rest of the Story", there's nothing positive if a new WWTP in Sanctuary will be hemorrhaging public money for decades. If Billy Hanks Jr could have established a Municipal Utility District (MUD), he would have done it long ago. The financial advantages of a MUD even outweigh the unprecedented giveaway package to him the Village government approved.

And it's all moot now after the passage of the "Development and Design Standards for the Sanctuary Planned Community" Ordinance. There isn't a legitimate Developer or Commercial Interest that will build there now. Sanctuary has been condemned to be another Shepard's Glen ghost town.

In the same Ordinance, the Village Alderman abdicated their duty to enforce building code(s) through construction inspection and ambiguously attempted to diluting the building code by requiring only "health & safety" to be complied with. I'm certain that the International Building Code Congress views the entire code as addressing "health & safety", and should be enforced in its entirety.

As for "Currently", it seems hardly anyone got that far in the blurb and its microscopic schedule. It's notable for what Anonymous omitted.

The premature issuance of $8,200,000 in wastewater bond money that's accruing $670 a day ($244,550 annually) in interest. By the microscopic schedule, it'll be until August of 2017 before the WWTP will be done and wastewater fees for the new sewer would apply for the operation of the sewer system.

The proposed Village Sewer lines are to be a combination of gravity mains and LPS laterals (lines from properties to the main line). All the LPS lateral lines will be on the opposite side of the street where the gravity main is located.

Construction of the gravity main will be as if James Construction has come to Main Street. The trench for the gravity main will be between 10 to 20 feet deep, requiring the removal and hauling off of any street or driveway in its path and generating spoil (excavated material) piles the heights of small houses.

And we must be living on "James Construction time" if the Consulting Engineer Kasberg, Patrick & Associates, LP (KPA) schedules 5 months for the Main Street gravity line construction. Village residents have first-hand experience with public work construction schedules. It'll take much longer than that.

And to send the wastewater to a new WWTP in Sanctuary 80 feet above Main Street, two lift stations and their forced mains (that can't have lateral lines) are necessary too.

A gravity sewer will have infiltration (ground water entering the main), causing wastewater spills into Salado Creek. Fortunately for the Village government, only spills exceeding 100,000 gallons require public notification. There is an alternative and it's a 100% Low Pressure Sewer system.

LPS sewers cost a fraction of gravity sewers, are installed instead of constructed in far less time and are fully sealed, eliminating infiltration. There are no lift stations and their forced mains. The trench for a LPS line is 12 inches wide by 3-1/2 feet deep and is unaffected by grade changes. At streets and driveways, LPS lines are bored underneath, leaving improvements undisturbed.

The perceived drawback to LPS is that a pump in a wet well is necessary. For customers with an existing septic tank, a Septic Tank Effluent Pump (STEP) can be installed for $1,000. For new construction, a grinder pump in a wet well is necessary for $5,000. It's not necessary that each property have an individual wet well and grinder pump. Multiple properties could share a single wet well and grinder pump if the topography allowed it. Currently, there are over 100 wet well pumps already operating in Salado.

NO COSTS WERE INCLUDED IN THIS ANONYMOUS BLURB. The only information publicly available had KPA proposing a construction cost of $2,841,000 for just the Main St. and West Village Road gravity sewer and a fee of $533,400, which is 18.75% of construction cost. No costs have been made public for the new 200,000 GPD WWTP. There are government entities that publish statutory professional rate scales. The highest published rate found for the same professional services is 8.7%. KPA's fee would be a World's Record for this kind of work (unless another Engineer wants to come forward and claim a higher charged fee).

Paying KPA nearly $1 for every $5 spent constructing the sewer is obscene.

Sincerely,
John Newman, RA

To the Editor:

The buzz these days is much about the accidents and delays on I-35 involving those 18 wheelers that carry our consumer products. However, let me remind the readers that the rubber tired vehicles pay huge road taxes as compared to the family sedan and yes, they also bring our much needed groceries, medical supplies and a thousand other products to our doors. They regularly travel I-35 past Salado to and from the East and North and Mexico and beyond so most are "Interstate" travelers. And, our present circumstances are a direct result of voters' previously rejecting one of the several proposed reliever highways east of here. We can't change the past but we can intelligently respond to the present circumstances as follows:

- Temporarily designate I-35 between Austin and Dallas as a thruway for Interstate traffic
- Sell Intrastate permits for those who can otherwise access alternate routes to I-35
- Assign more state troopers within this designated segment and;

FROM PAGE 3A

- Raise the penalties for wreckless and distracted driving
- Rigidly enforce the truck permit provisions (overweight, over height, over length, etc.)
- Rigidly enforce the speed limits
- Reserve the inside lane for passing and emergency vehicles for quicker clearances

And lastly, it's time we qualify drivers to operate in the Interstate environment with emphasis on defensive driving around larger vehicles.

Some years ago I was driving one of those big trucks before sunrise one morning on a freeway that lacked acceleration ramps. A young (and obviously distracted) driver in a small, underpowered car attempted to enter the highway by outrunning me. I never saw him until I saw a headlight beaming on the left guard rail. He tried to cut in front of my truck which clipped his rear quarter fender and flipped his car sideways in front of my truck which pushed him sideways several hundred feet.

Just because you can see the truck doesn't mean the trucker can see you and you can avoid him much easier than he can avoid you, especially at highway speeds. Give them space and don't linger next to a large vehicle. Obey the law and drive defensively so you can tell all about it another day.

The Lady Eagles added two more in the second. Dreitz led off with a single and Schattle hit a two-bagger to left to put Dreitz on third. Dockray hit a sacrifice fly to score Dreitz. Schattle reached home on a double by Murray before the Taylor defense could get out of the frame.

Hill hit a triple to right field, scoring Mancilla, who led off the third inning by being hit by the pitcher. Hill scored on a single to left by Schattle. She was left stranded on third, while Dockray was left on second.

Malory Schattle scored the first run for Salado in the third inning by reaching first on a fielder's choice. She stole second base, went to third on a single by Payton Dreitz and scored on a passed ball.

Schattle scored again in the fifth inning. She hit a triple to deep right and scored on a single by Jenna Calder. Dreitz also score in the fifth, reaching on a fielder's choice. She advanced on singles by Murray and Bailey Tindell, scoring on a single by Meagan Hill.

Schattle scored in the sixth, on her third hit of the game. She singled to left and scored on a booming triple by Calder to right field.

Hill got the win on the mound, striking out 13 batters. Only four Lady Jackets reached base, two of them on walks. Sydney Hicks doubled in the fourth and scored the only run for the Eagles on the throw to first by the catcher when Hill struck out Manning and the final strike was dropped by the catcher.

Lady Eagles get sweet revenge earning berth in state tourney

Katey Ewton took a cross shot from Tyler Pierce and put it in the net with less than five minutes left in the Regional Finals April 9 to put the Lady Eagles lead out of reach for Boerne, winning 3-1 to earn Salado's first berth in the State Soccer Tournament.

Salado was ranked as a top team in the state when it lost to Boerne in the Regional Finals last year, so the win was one of sweet revenge for the girls. It was only their second loss last year in a season that has only been surpassed by this group of girls that have grown up playing soccer together.

On a hot and humid Saturday afternoon, both teams were scoreless after the first period, although Boerne took twice as many shots on goal as Salado.

It was 15 minutes into the game before Boerne's goalkeeper even touched the ball. Meanwhile, Salado goalkeeper Sam Isbell had three saves in the first 10 minutes of play alone.

The Lady Eagles missed a shot on goal by mere inches late in the first as the girls built towards each shot. Boerne, on the other hand, took shots anytime they were within 25 yards of the goal.

Salado scored on a throw-in by Carly Nichols that was ruled an own-goal as it skimmed the fingertips of the Boerne goalkeeper with 34 minutes left in the match.

Annie Ewton scored with an assist from Sara Wilkerson with 28 minutes left in regulation play for a 2-0 lead.

With less than 15 minutes left to play, Boerne closed the gap on a long shot that just barely missed the top corner post to make the score 2-1.

To get to the rematch with Boerne, Salado had to get past Rockport-Fulton in the Regional Semi-finals, which is what the girls did the year before by the same 2-0 score.

Katey Ewton scored both goals in Salado's Regional Semi-Final win against Rockport-Fulton on April 8.

Ewton scored on a throw-in ball by Sarah Wilkerson. She also scored on an assist from China Saxton that started with a free kick from Reagan Morreale for the 2-0 lead.

Eagles still perfect in district

Salado Eagles are undefeated through the first round of district play, beating Taylor 1-0 and shutting out Llano 10-0 in a game that was ended by the Mercy Rule.

Cody Wolf pitched all seven innings in the Taylor shut-out April 8, allowing four hits, no walks and striking out 10 batters for the win. Wolf is 6-0 on the year through April 8.

Twice, Taylor had runners in scoring position by putting a runner on third in the first inning and on second and third in the sixth, but could not convert either opportunity.

The Eagles only had two hits in the game, a double in the second by Ryan Dunnahoo and a single to lead off the seventh by Wolf.

The game ended with a whimper instead of a bang as the Taylor pitcher struggled with control, walking Chase Basham, hitting Jacob Wilk to load the bases and walking Dunnahoo to push across the winning run.

Salado shut out the Llano Yellowjackets in a Mercy Rule-shortened game of six innings on April 5, winning 10-0.

Drew Dobbins pitched the entire game, spreading three hits across the 20 batters that came to the plate. He struck out 10 of them and walked none.

Salado defense kept the ball in front of them, with second baseman Ryan Dunnahoo scooping up two grounders and a fly ball for three outs and Chase Basham grabbing one grounder down the line and throwing out the runner trying to reach first. Left fielder Garrett Lightfoot snagged a line drive and a flyball for two outs and shortstop Jacob Wilk nabbed a fly ball for an out to keep the Jackets scoreless.

Preston Payne led off the bottom of the first with a walk, scoring on a shot over the left field fence by Wilk to score two runs in the first.

Salado added three runs in the third. With two outs on the board already, Basham singled and advanced on an error that put Wolf at first. Dunnahoo singled to deep right to score Basham. Grant Taylor got two RBIs with a double to deep left. He was left stranded on second.

Lightfoot led off the bottom of the fourth with a single and advanced on a sacrifice bunt by Phillip Ellis. He went to third on a single by Payne and scored when Wilk hit into a fielder's choice that put Payne out at second to make the score 6-0.

The Eagles put up three more runs in the fifth. Wolf walked to start off the inning and went to third on a double by Dunnahoo. Taylor was hit by the pitcher, loading the bases. Dobbins doubled to left, to score three runners.

Payne had a triple to deep right to lead off the bottom of the sixth. A short fly-out kept him on base, but Basham's fly-out to deep right allowed Payne to score after tagging up and end the game.

Pinewood Derby

Salado Cub Scout Troop #1115 held its second Annual Pinewood Derby on April 10 at Pace Park.

The Scouts began the meeting with trash clean up around the grounds and an informal flag ceremony.

The Scouts meet every Wednesday from 3:45-5 p.m. at the SIS cafeteria. Everyone is welcome.

Ian McGarry took first place, Ayden Rose took second place, and Ethan Crawford took third place at the derby. Each scout received an individual award for their car in some form.

Trophies and medals are all lined up.

Keep Salado Beautiful Celebrates Earth Day Learn, Explore, Participate – Families Welcome, Free Admission

Discover and learn how to celebrate Earth Day every day at Pace Park's April 23 Earth Day Celebration.

The event will run from 10 a.m. – 4 p.m. and will feature environmental experts from all over the central Texas region. Hourly live demonstrations for both adults and children will provide information on outdoor activities for all.

Scheduled demonstrations include; Bats are Beneficial, Kidding Around with Goats, The Joys of Heirloom Chickens, The Beautiful World of Bees, and a Salado Creek Walk and Talk. In addition to the Live Demonstrations and Guest Environmental Speakers, there will be live animals, interactive exhibits, hands-on demonstrations, educational materials, and food trucks.

All events are free of charge with most of the activities taking place in the park's pavilion area.

In the spring of 1970, Senator Gaylord Nelson created Earth Day as a way to bring the environment into the national dialogue. In its first year, 20 million Americans celebrated Earth Day. Nearly 50 years later, Americans have conquered many of the environmental and public health challenges we've faced: acid rain, leaded gasoline, air pollution, and more. This Earth Day, Salado will celebrate our successes while we continue to protect our natural resources!

Keep Salado Beautiful, was formed in January of 2009 and is an active local Keep Texas Beautiful Affiliate. Keep Salado Beautiful is a charitable and educational organization to promote public interest in the general improvement of the environment through planning, directing and coordinating programs for improving the quality of life in

RAW: Royal Arts Walk kicks off in April

By JESSICA FLYNN CONTRIBUTOR

It's no secret that Salado's history in the arts is rich. Its roots run deep, deeper than many of us may even realize. A handful of legendary artists still create within and leave their mark on our Village through their art. Their work stands a proud representation of this community's history and expressive identity.

Rising up to continue that tradition are new wave of artists. Six galleries, each with our own unmistakable vibe, exist within a few short steps of each other on the south end of Salado. Royal Street and the immediate area are home to Sirril Art Gallery, Bentons Jewelry, Salado Glassworks, Ro Shaw Clay Studio, The 112 Collective [comprised of Davis Art and The Migrant Framer] and Gal-lerie V. Each gallery offers a one of a kind presence in this art community.

"We are eager to share our perspective with those who find themselves at our doorsteps," Gail Allard of Salado Glassworks says.

"It is from a love, curiosity and respect of Salado's artistic history that we have chosen this small Texas town as our home to produce our creative work."

"We believe in the power of art to motivate collective efforts within the community for the benefit, survival and progression of art," he added. "We trust this belief will enhance culture and the growth of Salado as a whole."

For this reason, the artists, have come together to form RAW - the Royal Street Art Walk.

On the fourth Friday of each month beginning in April, Royal Street will come to life from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. for an engaging gallery experience that is focused on highlighting the quality, edge and diversity of artistic talents. The intent of this reoccurring event is to bring awareness and growth to Salado's emerging Royal Street Art District.

Each month, the galleries will offer a new experience.

For up to date information on that experience, RAW and its artists, visit www.royalstreetartwalk.com.

The bidding:

 Opening lead — king of clubs.

The opponents' bidding sometimes draws a road map for declarer to follow that he would be unlikely to find had the opponents remained silent. For example, take this deal played by multitime world champion Bob Hamman in a U.S. national championship.

Hamman's opening one-club bid was artificial and forcing, promising at least 17 high-card points with almost any distribution. West's four notrump announced a strong two-suiter in the minors. The double by North indicated at least moderate values, and South's five-heart bid closed the auction.

Without a club lead, Hamman would have had no trouble collecting 11 tricks. But West's king-of-clubs lead cut South off from dummy's king of spades. As a result, declarer was faced with the possibility of losing three king!

West took the king with the ace, but, just as Hamman hoped, he did not have another trump to lead. Declarer ruffed the queen-of-clubs return, trumped his last diamond in dummy and so made the contract.

By playing the diamonds as he did, Hamman prevented East -- the player far more likely to hold two or three trumps -- from ever gaining the lead. Had Hamman put up the king of diamonds at trick two, or led the eight of diamonds instead of the king at trick four, East would have won the second diamond with the jack and returned a trump to sink the contract.

Scissor-tailed Flycatcher

Scissor-tailed Flycatcher signals warmer weather

We all have things that we call favorites: our favorite candy, our favorite song, our favorite movie. As much as I love all of nature, I am no different when it comes to certain animals. While growing up in the brutal winters of the panhandle of Texas, I always anticipated the arrival of spring, and when I saw my favorite bird, the Scissor-tailed Flycatcher, I knew that the warm weather was just around the corner.

The Scissor-tailed Flycatcher (Tyrannus forficatus) is a graceful bird that can be mistaken with no other indigenous avian species. During the colder seasons of late fall, winter, and early spring, it takes up residence in the warmer climates of southern Mexico and other tropical areas. As temperatures begin warming here in Texas, it migrates its way back north for the summer time. During the next several months, it can be observed in most of Texas, except the driest portions of the Trans-Pecos region, as well as all of Oklahoma, the southern quarter of Kansas and the western portions of Louisiana and Arkansas. This animal is so much a symbol of spring that many ranchers and farmers state that when they see this bird, there will be no more freezing temperatures until fall.

It is a moderately sized bird, with a total length (body and tail) of just over fifteen inches. The wingspan is about the same, topping out at approximately fifteen and one-half inches. This bird exhibits a beautiful array of subtle and elegant colors. The head is almost white, as is the breast area and throat. The belly and the sides are a faint salmon-pink color, while the beak and legs are black. The back is pale gray, while the wings are dark brown with white edging. There is typically a red patch at the junction of the wing and shoulder. What makes this species so distinctive is the very long, stiff, and straight black and white tail that is forked and can be opened like a pair of scissors, hence the common name. In fact, no other bird native to the United States has a tail as long as this species.

Scissor-tailed Flycatchers are strictly carnivorous, feeding on small invertebrate animals such as grasshoppers, wasps, butterflies, and cicadas. They will perch on branches, utility poles, and fences, often for long periods of time, waiting for the opportunity to snag a meal from midair in a very acrobatic flight. They will also scan the ground for terrestrial insects on which they prey upon.

Males of this monogamous species are quite the showmen for their mates during courtship. They will often perform a remarkable sky dance routine in which they fly over one hundred feet above the ground, then begin to plummet headfirst towards the earth in a zigzag pattern while trilling loudly. When they get close to the female, they will then u-turn and fly straight into the air again, then fall over backwards with two or three somersaults, showing off his tail the entire time. Only one brood per year is produced, and the three to six eggs are incubated by the female for just over two weeks. After hatching, the young are fed by both parents as they prepare to leave the nest in about another two weeks.

This beautiful bird can be observed in along roadways in open country such as prairies, grasslands, and farmlands. Look for them perching on utility poles and fences, and remember that the cold temperatures of winter are a thing of the past if you are fortunate enough to catch a glimpse of this common, yet elegant bird.
