BOA addressing vacancies at City Hall

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Chrissy Lee will take over City Secretary duties beginning Oct. 1 as Mary Ann Ray will take an early retirement package at the end of the month. In addition, Mayor Skip Blancett has announced that he is turning over the investigation into Village Administrator Kim Foutz to Village legal counsel.

On Sept. 15, aldermen voted 4-1 to place Foutz on paid administrative leave "for a period not to exceed 30 days under terms set by the Mayor, in order for the Mayor or his designees to conduct an investigation into complaints against the Administrator and to determine if the Administrator's employment contract should be terminated for Good Cause."

Initially, Mayor Blancett announced on Sept. 15 that he would appoint Mayor Pro Tem Fred Brown and Alderman Michael McDougal. That changed on Sept. 22 following the executive session when he announced that the Village legal counsel would conduct the investigation into complaints against the Administrator.

Aldermen on Sept. 22 voted unanimously to appoint Chrissy Lee as the City Secretary following an executive session to discuss "the appointment, employment, and/or reassignment of the following positions: interim Village Administrator, Village Secretary, Village Planner and Receptionist."

This will make Lee the fourth person as City Secretary since Margaret Murray left in October 2014.

Ashley Bingham is also leaving the Village. Lindsey Barrett left Village employ on June 17.

The Village will honor outgoing employees at a 6 p.m. reception Sept. 29 at the Municipal Building.

MCCA hosts annual community picnic

Mill Creek Community Association is holding their third FREE picnic at Sherrill Park 11 a.m.-2 p.m. Oct. 1.

Hamburgers, hot dogs, drinks and dessert will be served.

In addition to food, there will be music and activities for all, such as Volleyball, hula hoops, Frisbees, and other games. Some representatives from the Salado Volunteer Fire Department will be there to demonstrate the use of some of their equipment.

At noon, the air evac helicopter will land to be on exhibit during the picnic.

All residents of Salado are invited to attend.

SISD trustees adopt goals

Salado ISD Trustees at their Sept. 26 meeting adopted a dozen goals for 2016-17 in seven areas, including instructional management, student services management, staff development and professional growth, facilities and operations management, fiscal management, human resources management and community relations.

For instruction management, trustees adopted the following as the only goal: "Increase the percentage of students that earn a "satisfactory" or an "advanced" score on the State of Texas Assessment of Academic Readiness (STAAR) in the following areas: i. Economically disadvantaged students in writing; ii. English Language Learner (ELL) students in reading, mathematics, and science and iii. Special education students in reading and mathematics."

The board adopted two goals for student services management:

a. Develop and implement changes in the student drop off and pick up system to increase safety;

b. Increase district-wide alignment of services and paperwork for 504, Gifted and Talented, and Response to Intervention (RTI) programs.

Trustees adopted four goals in the area of Staff Development and Professional Growth:

a. Provide Level 1 Google training to employees;

b. Provide mental health and suicide prevention training to staff;

c. Provide training to expand the Advanced Via Individual Determination

Neighbors must work together to prevent spread of Oak Wilt

By MARY FRENCH

The oak trees of Salado are a rich heritage according to History of Salado, Texas compiled by Mary-Belle Brown and Bill Kinison. One can imagine Native American tribes camping near or under trees by Salado Creek as they carved flint and hunted. Mexican and American settlers also chose to build homes around and near the trees such as Dr. Benjamin McKie and his wife Eva who built their home in Salado amongst giant oak trees. Their home is now known as Twelve Oaks. Today we see families and friends gathering under the trees to play in the creek and share a picnic lunch.

Because of this rich heritage and the grace and charm the oak trees bring to the Village of Salado, seeing the signs of oak wilt again appearing is disheartening. Learning to identify oak wilt and taking efforts to prevent the spread of the destructive disease caused by a fungus is our only hope of reducing the damage to the oak trees in Salado.

Basic information is useful to help in this effort. First, Saladoans need to be able to identify symptoms of oak wilt. Texas A & M Forest Service Oak Wilt Specialist Emily Driscoll says to look for leaves on live oak trees that develop yellow veins and eventually turn brown. Infected red oak trees' leaves are more difficult to identify. In early spring, the infected red oak trees' leaves may simply wilt or turn pale green and brown. Mature infected red oak leaves may turn pale green or brown on the edges and progress inward. Red oaks may form red fungal mats that begin underneath the bark. If you find these symptoms, contact a trained arborist to verify oak wilt and provide you options for your next step.

Secondly, if you have discovered oak wilt on your property, please notify your neighbors. Healthy oak trees within 150 - 200 feet of the diseased tree can be treated with a good success rate according to Driscoll.

Last of all, we all need to follow these guidelines from the forest service to prevent new infections of oak wilt.

1. Do not prune oak trees from February through June.

2. When pruning oak trees, paint all the wounds and fresh stumps no matter what time of the year.

3. Most importantly, when hiring someone to trim your oak trees, insist and verify that they have painted all the wounds and stumps. If diseased red oaks are discovered, cut and properly dispose of them immediately.

The Texas A & M Forest Service provides valuable information on oak wilt at www.texasoakwilt.org.

"How to Identify and Manage Oak Wilt in Texas" brochures are also available at the Salado Municipal Building.

Even with more taking ACT, SISD increasing scores

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

With more than twice as many students taking the ACT test for 2016 than the previous year, Salado students increased by about a point in each of the four core areas and in the composite.

Salado tested 51 students for the graduating class of 2016, compared to just 28 in 2015, 37 in 2014, 27 in 2013 and 28 in 2012. On the composite score, Salado students increased the average ACT to 24.5 for 2016, compared to 23.0 in 2015 and to the 20.6 State of Texas average.

The greatest increase was in mathematics. In 2016, SHS students scored an average of 24.5 compared to 21.8 in 2015 and compared to the state average of 20.7.

In English, Salado students increase their SAT average score to 23.9 from 22.1 last year. The state average is 19.4 in English.

Salado scored its highest in Reading, though it was the smallest increase, scoring 25.1 compared to last year's 24.3 average. The state average in Reading was 21.0.

Salado also increased a point in Science, raising last year's average of 23.0 to 24.0 this year. The state average in Science was 20.7.

In addition to increasing the average scores on the ACT, Salado students also showed 57 percent were ready for college, according to the standard developed by ACT.

ACT reestablished the following as College Readiness benchmark score for designated college courses. The benchmark score is the minimum score needed on an ACT subject-area test to indicate a 50 percent chance of obtaining a B or higher or a 75 percent chance of obtaining a C or higher in the corresponding credit-bearing college courses.

Those benchmark scores were 18 on the ACT English Test to be ready for College English Composition; 22 on ACT Mathematics to be ready for College Algebra; 22 on Reading test to be ready for Social Science and 23 on ACT Science to be ready for College Biology.

Using those benchmarks, 57 percent of the Salado students were considered college ready in all four areas, compared to the 28 percent statewide.

For college English composition, 90 percent of Salado students were ready for college, compared to the 57 percent statewide; 78 percent were ready for college algebra compared to 42 percent statewide, 75 percent were ready for college social science compared to 43 percent statewide and 63 percent were ready for college biology compared to 35 percent statewide.

A Big, Beautiful Black Swan

If you aren't seriously contemplating the biggest black swan event in American electoral history, you aren't paying attention.

Fifteen months ago, Donald Trump was a reality-TV star with a spotty business record and a weird penchant for proclaiming that he was on the verge of running for president. Now, he's perhaps a few big breaks and a couple of sterling debate performances away from being elected 45th president of the United States.

Trump has no experience in elected office and, unlike past nonpoliticians elected president, hasn't won a major war. He perhaps knows less about public affairs than the average congressman. He has repeatedly advertised his thin-skinned vindictiveness and is trampling on basic political norms. No major political party has ever nominated anyone like this.

Trump now has a legitimate shot at winning the general election because he got the lucky draw of at least the second-worst presidential nominee in recent memory and, pending how she fares over the next two months, perhaps the worst.

All it took for Trump to wipe away most of Hillary Clinton's lead was acting like a somewhat normal presidential candidate.

Rich Lowry

Have a meeting with a foreign leader. Give some policy speeches. Read from a teleprompter at rallies. Use his NPR voice when appropriate.

None of this required strategic genius, only a decision not to throw away the election with repeated episodes of self-indulgent stupidity. Democrats should be feeling a creeping sense of panic:

--They are trying to win with a candidate who is loathed and distrusted and has few redeeming qualities. As Yuval Levin, editor of the journal National Affairs, points out, corrupt and dishonest politicians are often entertaining, and dull politicians are usually earnest and honest. Hillary manages to be both boring and corrupt.

--No one can be certain that her health is what the campaign says it is. Even if nothing else ails her, if Clinton has another episode in public like the one on Sept. 11, the bottom might fall out.

--President Obama probably can't close Hillary's enthusiasm gap. Obama is an adept campaigner, but there is no evidence he ever successfully transferred enthusiasm for himself to another candidate.

--If the kitchen sink hasn't killed off Trump, what else is there? The Clinton campaign has already used his greatest hits of most offensive statements in countless TV ads. If none of this has sunk Trump, what's left?

--A compelling Trump debate performance could change perceptions of his suitability to be commander in chief. Hillary is trouncing Trump on this attribute by a 2-to-1 margin. If Trump shows up and seems plausible during the biggest moment of the campaign, he could vastly improve his standing on this basic question of readiness.

All this said, Hillary probably still has an advantage. She has a campaign and Trump doesn't, and that must count for something. Demographics favor her. But if Trump can hoist himself over the bar of acceptability, he might give the voting public enough permission to make this the change election it is naturally inclined to be.

A Trump victory may not be likely, but it isn't far-fetched. And no, stranger things haven't happened.

Overcoming the obstacles step by step

Several weeks ago, a small Texas town friend came to visit. They said, "It is obvious construction is ending. We had no idea what a handsome highway you have. Our town got an ordinary 4-laner. How did you do this?"

Answer: "We networked. We went to Austin and Austin came to us. Once everything was on the table, we started working together. The Governor was personally supportive; progress was made."

Saturday, in a lengthy meeting with three friends that are long-time Salado residents, we discussed the influence of negativism. We agreed: "Negativism gets one nowhere. No one will say anything; they just stop listening and ignore the source."

Ann Landers said, "Some people believe that holding on and hanging in there are signs of great strength. However, it takes much more strength to know when to let go -- and then do it."

Each Sunday, I visit a different church. This month the Episcopal, Church of Christ, and First Baptist were visited. What dynamic congregations and pastors! Going to worship, I sit in the back and try not to be noticed. That's impossible. People are positive, willing, and encouraging.

Most Monday evenings, I meet with our TXDof regional engineer and every-other Wednesday evening with our Village sewer engineer. We frankly discuss problems and work together in solving them.

Martha Bolton writes, "People make a difference in life by being the best they can be. One must: Be courageous. Be disciplined. Be unique. Be willing. Be available. Be encouraged."

A retired city official said recently, "Salado is admired. You are facing the challenges and overcoming them. People are watching your example."

Tom Brokaw wrote, "It's easy to make a buck. It's a lot tougher to make a difference."

You are unique, Salado. There is no place like you and that is why people love you.

"I sign Petitions"

Dear Editor:

"I SIGN PETITIONS"

In 2000 I signed the petition that resulted in an election for the incorporation of our Village. Two previous petitions/election attempts failed. I also signed the petitions to sell wine (first), and then alcohol in our Village. I believe the right to petition to vote on any issue is the American way. After all, Congress has petitioned and voted to overturn Obamacare at least 65 times, and I uphold their right to try for a 66th time.

I voted for the 2014 sewer bond election as well. Why? Because I believe our business districts require sewer to succeed and because our current Village needed, and still needs, the sales tax income. Those monies pay for health and safety protection, as well as, road repair and maintenance.

My husband and I LOVE Salado, have owned a home here since 1993, volunteered time and invested substantially in this Village for decades.

I signed the petition to dis-annex portions of our Village for the same reasons I have signed other petitions. Americans should always have the right to vote, for as many times as they feel is necessary, to resolve any issue. There are, apparently, many Salado citizens who are not happy with the direction our elected officials are currently taking us. In my view, the majority of people who are paying the bills should have the ultimate say in how their tax dollars are spent, as well as how our town will develop and grow. Do leaders change direction after a vote? Yes they do. Do I have the right to change my mind? Yes I do.

Letters to the Editor

Sincerely,
Darlene Walsh
P.S. I STILL love Salado

To the Editor:

You and the citizens of Salado should be aware of this upcoming archery season! Archery season for white tail deer opens Oct. 1 and ends Nov. 4.

In Bell County, bow-hunting in and around Salado is legal. Safety and shooting with caution is always the daily thought process. No one without training should be shooting in the city limits or highly populated areas.

The limit per person is two does and two bucks. I would encourage hunters to leave the beautiful bucks in our city. It is well known that this -- Bow Hunting -- is the cheapest way to help control the overpopulation of Deer. One company has advised us that their charge for sharpshooting will be $250 per deer. This does include processing for the needy. I would also encourage hunters in Bell County to donate as many of their deer as possible to THE NEEDY.

The deer count was accomplished and the Texas Dept. of Parks and Wildlife has suggested that Salado harvest 300 (THREE HUNDRED) deer this year!

Although the City is working on plans, they don't have the money to pay for such a task. Most of the harvest this year will need to be accomplished by individuals and professionals that volunteer.

Management of our overpopulation of white tails will be a yearly ongoing issue and modified yearly. The TDPW will issue permits for hunters in Salado. However, your regular hunting license is legal. The City will work with the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture for possible sharpshooting during the regular hunting season. If and when money is available, other agencies may be used to deal with this issue.

Best regards,
Lewis Raney, M.D.

Christmas in October can help you plan early for holidays

It's never too early to think about Christmas! One of the best places to view "the latest" Christmas decorations and styles on display is at the Salado Chamber of Commerce Ladies Auxiliary Christmas in October at The Venue Oct. 7-8.

Christmas in October will be open 9 a.m.-5 p.m. both days in The Venue on College Street (near the corner of Royal Street and College Street). Admission is $3 per adult. This annual event is a preview to the Christmas season and will feature the wares of local and area merchants on display inside a beautiful setting at The Venue.

The Christmas in October Bake Sale is a tradition many look forward to each year. Customers will enjoy wandering through the booth area and the bake sale area all in the same facility. Most importantly, participants will have the opportunity to purchase delicious homemade pies, cakes, cookies and a wide variety of desserts.

A Style Show will be provided again this year. Models will feature fall fashions from local boutiques as well as out of town merchants. The "strolling time" for the models will be late morning and early afternoon on both days of the Friday and Saturday event. In addition, vendors will display their special and unique Christmas decorations, jewelry, clothing, gifts, food, and home décor specialty items.

"This year, we look forward to utilizing the expanded booth area with the addition of The Venue covered porch area. Usually we sell our booth space quickly because vendors know Salado's Christmas in October attracts a large crowd each year of early Christmas shoppers," states Christmas in October co-chair, Tommye Prater. "On Saturday, October 8, we are delighted to have a select group from the Salado Community Chorus stroll through The Venue at 10 a.m. singing Christmas arrangements. The Style Show is always a fun event as models feature the latest fall fashions," said Deborah Roberson, Christmas in October co-chair.

The Village trolley will be available to transport visitors from several Village parking areas to the entrance of The Venue on College Street. For more information, visit us online at www.salado.com or contact the Salado Chamber of Commerce at 254-947-5040 or contact the Village of Salado Tourism Department at 254-947-8634. Purchase tickets on Eventbrite or at the door.

The Salado Ladies Auxiliary strives to promote events and activities which enhance, improve and promote the community of Salado. Christmas in October is one of those events in which the money earned is given back to community organizations such as the Salado Volunteer Fire Department, Salado Family Relief, Salado Community Chorus, and the Body of Christ Dental Clinic. Funds also are used to provide annual scholarships for local high school students to attend college or technical school.

Christmas in October is a chance to get started on holiday decorating. The event, sponsored every year by the Salado Ladies Auxiliary, will be held Oct. 7-8 at The Venue on College Street. (PHOTO BY ROYCE WIGGIN)

Central Texas Area Museum hosts writer/waters expert Ron Coley

The Central Texas Area Museum, in conjunction with the Institute for Humanities Salado, will host a talk by renowned oceanic and waters expert Ron Coley, Sunday, Oct. 9 at 3 p.m., in the Museum Event Hall. The event, which will include a Q&A session and book signing, is free and open to the public. The museum is located on South Main Street, across from the Stagecoach Inn.

Coley is an internationally-recognized, award-winning filmmaker and underwater photographer, an innovator of SCUBA equipment, and an educational leader, author and publisher. Throughout his 40-year career, he has explored the world of water and its relationship to humankind. His new book, The Fountains of Saint Mark, about the Texas' San Marcos River system, will be available for purchase at the museum event.

For 20 years, Coley was Director of the Aquarena Center for Environmental Education for Texas State University in San Marcos. Prior to that, he developed special underwater instruments for the U.S. Navy SEALs and the Experimental Diving Unit; and was responsible for bringing to market the COMPUTEK diving computer that introduced air-integrated information with pictographic displays.

About the Museum
The Central Texas Area Museum (www.saladoscottishfestival.com) was established in 1959 to preserve the pioneer history of Central Texas and its colorful cultural diversity. The Museum houses artifacts of early frontier days in this region as well as a library of books and papers that document the settlement and heritage of the area. The Museum, a 501(c) non-profit organization, is located in a 100-year-old rock building on South Main Street in downtown Salado, Texas, across from the historic Stagecoach Inn.

SVFD Chief Berrier discusses fire prevention Oct. 6

The group of ladies meets at 6 p.m. at the Presbyterian Church of Salado, 105 Salado Plaza Drive. October is Fire Prevention Month, according to Vice President, Dorothy Dentry.

The Salado Volunteer Fire Department was established in the mid 1960's and was one of the first volunteer fire departments in Bell County. Station One was built in 1985 and Station Two, located on FM2484, was built in 2015.

Since its inception, the Department has twice been named as the First Responders of the Year for the State of Texas. The Department recently acquired a 2016 International Truck to replace a 20 year old vehicle. The truck was purchased through a grant from the Texas A & M Forest Service through the Rural Volunteer Fire Department Assistance Program.

Central Texas VA offers walk-in seasonal flu vaccination at area facilities

VA patients offered to “Get Armed against the Flu” with free flu shots Central Texas Veterans Health Care System (CT-VHCS) launched its 2016-2017 seasonal flu vaccination campaign Sept. 19, at all of its facilities in Central Texas. Veterans can receive their flu vaccination at any VA medical center or outpatient facility throughout Central Texas at the Veteran’s Primary Care Aligned Team (PACT).

The vaccination is free for all Veterans enrolled in the health care system. Walk-In Clinics are scheduled at the following CTVHCS locations from Sept. 19-30:

Temple: Walk-in clinics at the Olin E. Teague Veterans’ Medical Center will be located in the Teague Hospital (Building 204) waiting area near Valet Parking entrance and the piano, from 8 a.m.-3 p.m. at 1901 Veterans Memorial Drive in Temple.

Waco: Walk-in clinics at the Doris Miller Department of Veterans Affairs Medical Center will in the outpatient clinic located in Room BA165 in the basement of Building 4 from 8 a.m.- 3 p.m. at 4800 Memorial Drive in Waco

Austin: Walk-in clinics at the Austin Outpatient Clinic will be located in the lobby 8 a.m. - 3 p.m. at 7901 Metropolis Drive in Austin

The flu is a contagious respiratory illness caused by influenza viruses. It can cause mild to severe illness and at times can lead to death. Some people, such as the elderly, young children, and people with certain health conditions, are at high risk for serious flu complications. The best way to prevent the flu is by getting vaccinated each year.

This year’s vaccination will protect against the strains A/California/7/2009 (H1N1) pdm-like virus, A/Hong Kong/4801/2014 (H3N2)-like virus; and B/Brisbane/60/2008 like virus (this is B/Victoria lineage virus). Flu viruses are constantly changing, so the vaccine is updated each year based on which influenza viruses are making people sick, how those viruses are spreading, and how well the previous season’s vaccine protects against those viruses.

The seasonal flu vaccine will be available through March 31, 2017, through the PACT and/or Specialty care teams.

For contact numbers to other Central Texas facilities, visit the website: <http://www.centraltexas.va.gov/>.

Another source for Veterans to get their flu shots is Walgreens. Veterans who are currently enrolled in VA care may walk into any of the over 8,000 Walgreens nationally to receive a vaccination at no cost. After presenting a Veterans Identification Card and a photo ID, a Walgreens pharmacist administers the vaccine and transmits that information securely to VA where it becomes part of the patient’s electronic medical record. This program has been especially beneficial to enrolled Veterans who live in rural areas. Because many may live at greater distances from VHA medical facilities, the Walgreens/VHA partnership provides increased access to flu vaccine. VA is committed to keeping Veteran patients healthy, and during flu season, vaccination is the best way to prevent the spread of flu. No matter where you live, visit your local VA clinic or Walgreens to get a free flu shot. visit: www.publichealth.va.gov/flu or www.cdc.gov/flu For more information on flu and flu vaccine,

I urge, then, first of all, that requests, prayers, intercession and thanksgiving be made for everyone - for kings and all those in authority, that we may live peaceful and quiet lives in all godliness and holiness.

Cemetery comes to life with stories of Salado's pioneers

As the afternoon shadows slip into the dimness of evening on Oct. 1, the Salado pioneers who are buried in the Historic Salado Cemetery will come to life to tell their stories. Among those pioneers will be two visitors to the cemetery, Col. E.S.C. Robertson and Judge O.T. Tyler. All pioneers will tell how they came to Texas, when they came to Salado, and how they served their community and their country. Some will tell all; others will keep their secrets safely buried. Tablerock Festival of Salado and Salado Historical Society are sponsoring a walking tour of the Salado Cemetery located on Baines Street, 4-6 p.m. Oct. 1. The program title, "Our Salado Heritage Speaks," refers to the lives of Salado settlers buried in the old Cemetery who will have their biographies presented by re-enactors. The program is scheduled to begin late in the afternoon and will conclude before dusk. Eighteen early pioneers designated "Historically Significant" to the founding and early settlement of Salado are the focus of the walking tour. Seven grave sites have Texas Historical Commission markers. Five additional grave sites in the cemetery remain to be researched for historical markers. The early pioneers on the tour are: Col. Hermon Aiken, Dr. Welborn and Louisa Barton, Captain Milton Damron, Rev. James and Fannie Ferguson (parents of Gov. Ferguson), Capt. Robert Bonner Halley, Dr. Samuel Jones, Professor James Lowry Smith, James Anderson, Rev. George Washington Baines, Dr. Benjamin McKie, Archibald J. Rose, Leroy A. Griffith, John Paine, Jon Wesley Ray, Emily Bumpass Stockton, Col. Elijah Sterling Clack Robertson, Judge Orville Tyler, and Granville N. and Sophia Vickrey. Besides being noted Salado pioneers, these individuals made significant contributions to the educational, religious, political, and civic lives of people in Bell County and the State of Texas. In Salado proper, four pioneers have historical markers on their homes and two pioneers have family markers on their homes.

Tickets will cost $5 for adults and $3 for children 12-years-old and under.

Tickets may be purchased at the Salado Cemetery on the night of the program. Parking will be on site. Cars will not be permitted in the cemetery during the program.

Eagles make it 3 in a row with Homecoming win

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Salado Eagles get a week of rest before beginning District 9-4A football Oct. 7. The Eagles will be going into that game with what has been a rarity in Salado for the past several years -- a three-game winning streak.

The last time the Eagles strung three wins together was 2008, when Salado finished in second place in District football and 7-4 with a first-round loss to Altair Rice. That was coach Jeff Cheatham's last year in Salado.

If the last three weeks are any indication, Haire's Eagles may begin building a return to stellar football now playing at the 4A level.

For homecoming on Sept. 23, Salado ran over the visitors from St. Dominic Savio 42-17.

Salado churned up almost 500 yards of offense,

461 of it on the ground.

Two runners had over 100 yards. Workhorse Trey Sheppard carried the ball 12 times for 116 yards. Jake Harvey touched the ball five times for 109 yards with runs of 38 yards and 44 yards.

Jake Elliott had two carries, one of them for 78 yards, for a total of 80 yards.

Wyatt Bagley rushed for 61 yards on six carries while Aaron Torczynski had 52 yards on six carries and Cade Depoy had 35 yards on three carries.

Nine different Eagles carried the ball on the offense.

Hayden Haire had 27 yards on one completion to Elliott. Haire threw three times.

The opponents teamed up for 28 points in the first half.

Harvey scored the first touchdown on a 38 yard run with 8:57 in the first to cap a 45-yard drive for the Eagles. Jake Walrath toed the PAT for a 7-0 lead.

St. Dominic's Brandon White returned a fumble for 90 yards to score with 4:11 in the first. Nathan French kicked the PAT to tie the game.

Harvey then had a TD run of 44 yards. Walrath converted the kick for a 14-7 lead at the 3:23 mark.

With 44 seconds left in the first, Elliott scored on a 74 yard run. Walrath kicked his third straight PAT for a 21-7 first quarter lead.

Salado added two more touchdowns in the second quarter while St. Dominic added a field goal.

Sheppard had a touchdown run 48 yards with 2:03 left in the half. Walrath converted both to give Salado a 28-7 lead.

St. Dominic's French converted a 39 yard field goal to bring the first half score to 28-10.

The Eagles answered on the ensuing kickoff when Cutter Hudgens returned it 85 yards for the score with 1:51 left in the half. Walrath kicked the PAT for a 35-10 halftime lead.

Both teams scored in the third.

Midway through the third, St. Dominic quarterback Clay Orrison dove in from the one. The PAT was good to bring the score to 35-17.

Salado capped a 45 yard drive with a one yard dive by Sheppard with 2:18 left in the third. The PAT was good for the 42-17 win.

Art in the Garden - The Pennington Compound

BY MARGARET B. WILLIAMSON

The five acre spectacular and unique estate of Joyce and CR Pennington (CR describes it only as home) has a commanding panoramic view of the beautiful Salado Creek. It is a natural landscaped parkland composed of multi pocket gardens and fine art sculptures and artifacts. They have embraced the deer population and sometimes as many as 20-30 are grazing on the expansive lawn among the art. There is a network of stone walkways, terraces and patios which connect the main home with a large party barn, a pavilion, office and guest quarters. Deer resistant and Texas-tough natives are grouped into plant communities that fill various niches around the existing lawn and to enhance their outdoor sculpture and art collection. Within the gardens, several fountains add visual and audible interest both by the striking art pieces they are and the soothing sound of the splashing water drops on the rocks below.

The Pennington's have a vast collection of art in their landscape that represents a dramatic sense of place. An outstanding piece of sculpture titled "Shaman of the Benediction" by Bill Worrell (who, by the way, studied under Salado's Lonnie Edwards) has been placed on a stone out-cropping overlooking the creek. Nearby, is the sculpture of the "Spirit Stick", also by Bill Worrell. This Texas artist has been inspired by ancient pictographs and petro glyphs of the Lower Pecos Native Americans in creating his art. The symbols surrounding the Shaman represent the earth, sun and spirit that we all share. The spirit sticks were objects carried by the Shaman to help in their mission to awaken powerful healing spirits. Another outstanding piece is a bronze sculpture depicting a soaring eagle by Salado's Ronnie Wells. Other pieces in the gardens are from noted artists Jim Eppler (Texas wildlife artist), James G. Moore (signature bronze garden bells), Paolo Soleri (collection of bronze wind bells) and architectural artifacts collected around the world and exhibited throughout.

The native and adapted plants chosen are massed together to form texture, color and contrast. Included are groupings of yellow and purple trailing lantana, pink skullcap and autumn sage interspersed with bright accents of sculptural artichoke agave with their blue-gray leaves and background shrubs consisting of Texas sage, vibrant firebush and thryallis or 'golden showers'. Thryallis is a stunning highly deer resistant evergreen shrub that will shower one with profuse golden blooms from spring until frost. These mostly flowering species create a habitat which welcomes the birds, butterflies and bees while leaving the rest of the property for the deer. Yuccas, prickly pear cactus and santolina (lavender cotton) can be found on the outcroppings of rock. Surrounding the property are magnificent old native live oaks, some dating back 250 years with smaller Texas native trees such as crape myrtles, possumhaw holly and yaupon holly with their vibrant red berries in the fall that the birds love.

The garden tour will be on Saturday, Oct. 8 from 10 a.m. - 4 p.m.

Other private home gardens with a wide variety of inspiring landscaping styles are the yards and gardens of Linda and Mickey Rawls, Nancy Owen Messenger, Shirley and Bill Pinkston and Alice and George Romfh.

Tickets for the tour are $15 and can be purchased online at www.salado.com or at the Chamber of Commerce located at 813 N. Main Street. All proceeds from the tour will go toward future improvement of the Salado Sculpture Garden. For more information, visit the website at www.keepsaladobeautiful.com. Previous articles and additional photos of the gardens can be found on the Salado Village Voice website: www.saladovillagevoice.com

A rarely seen photograph of the second story of the original First Baptist Church of Salado chapel being moved. When the First Baptist Church was built, the Salado Lodge #296 Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons owned the title to the second story. The church met on the ground floor and the Masons met on the upper floor as many of those early day Masons were members of the Baptist Church. In the 1950s, when the First Baptist Church built its first brick chapel, the Salado Masonic Lodge #296 moved the second story to its current location at 90 S. Church St. There will be many historic photos of the Lodge as well as many of the Past Masters of the Lodge on display during the October 23 Open House. All of the more than 1,000 Lodges under the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of Texas A.F. & A.M. will be holding open houses in their lodges on Oct. 23. The community is invited to come to the lodge and learn more about the history of Masonry in Salado and Texas as well as the appendant bodies that include the Shriners, Scottish Rite, York Rite and Knights Templar. A stitch in time

Contract Bridge

By Steve Becker

A defender should always think in terms of how many tricks his side needs to set the contract. This becomes his goal for that hand, and if he absent-mindedly loses sight of it, disaster might soon follow.

Consider this deal where West led a spade against four hearts. Dummy's king took the trick, and declarer led a low trump to his hand, to which East followed low. South won with the queen and cashed the ace of spades, discarding a diamond from dummy. He then conceded a trump to East's ace, but the defenders could no longer collect more than a diamond and a club, so declarer made the contract.

It is easy to see that if East had gone up with his ace on the first heart lead from dummy and returned a diamond, South would have gone down one. The question, therefore, is whether East should have made this play without having seen all four

The answer lies in the principle set forth above. As soon as dummy appears, East should ask himself how and where his side might get the four tricks needed to defeat the contract. He can reasonably count on a club trick and a trump trick, but his only real chance of stopping the contract lies in the hope that his partner can score two diamond tricks.

The trouble with playing low on the first heart lead is that it allows declarer to get to his hand and discard a diamond from dummy on the ace of spades (South is marked with the spade ace, since West would not underlead an ace at trick one.)

East should therefore rise with the heart ace at trick two and shift to a diamond as the one and only chance to set the contract. In doing so, he abandons the usual practice of "second hand low" because the circumstances indicate that in this case it is the wrong thing to do.

Texas Spotted Whiptail

The Texas Spotted Whiptail lays eggs

The Texas Spotted Whiptail (Cnemidophorus gularis gularis) is one of eleven species of "racerunners" that live in Texas, and it arguably has the largest area of distribution. It can be observed statewide, save for a small portion of the Texas and Louisiana border, and the northern-most section of the panhandle. It also occurs to the north in the southern quarter of Oklahoma, west to southeastern New Mexico, as well as southward to the central portions of San Luis Potosi, Mexico.

The habitats that this elegant lizard prefers are arid to semi-arid grasslands, rocky arroyos, and rocky hillsides. They are most common on sandy soil where there is a sparse covering of shrubs and trees. They are also commonly observed near residences and in parks where there is ample moisture from irrigation.

The Texas Spotted Whiptail is an elongated reptile that is covered with small granular scales of equal size along its back and sides. It is one of the larger whiptail species that occur in Texas, with adults reaching a total length of one foot, although the average is between seven and nine inches. The background coloration is tan or brown, and the back is adorned with either seven or eight light stripes that run lengthwise from the neck to the tail. These lines can be white, yellow, or occasionally faint green. There are numerous light spots that appear in random order in between these light stripes, giving this animal the common name. The long tail, which can be up to 65 percent of the animal's total length, is either brown or orange in coloration. The belly scales are much larger and plate-like in appearance, and in females are light in coloration. Males have dark blue-black mottlings on the belly and orange chins during breeding season.

Texas Spotted Whiptails, like other lizard species, are "cold-blooded", or ectothermic. This means that they do not generate heat from the inside of their body, as mammals and birds do, but rather are dependent on outside sources for heating and cooling. They are active throughout the day from March to November, and unlike many other reptile species, the high metabolism of this lizard enables it to be observed during the hottest part of the summer afternoons.

This species of lizard is a dietary generalist, feeding on both animal matter as well as plant material. The term for this is omnivorous. It feeds primarily on small beetles, ants, grasshoppers and other arthropods, but it will occasionally feed on certain leaves and flowering blossoms like the dandelion.

The Texas Spotted Whiptail is oviparous, which is a fancy way of saying that it lays eggs. After emerging from the winter-long brumation period (reptiles do not hibernate in the true sense of the word), males will search out females to mate. After mating, the female will lay a small clutch of eggs (between two and six) in moisture retaining soil. Older, large females can lay two to three clutches of eggs per summer. After approximately two months of incubation, the delicate four inch long young emerge prepared to fend for and care for themselves.

These lizards are nervous and can be quite wary. They are constantly on the move, foraging for food in the ground cover and loose soil. Occasionally they will stop to bask in between meal items, but their metabolism is such that they will begin to forage within minutes of stopping. Their movement is based on short bursts of speed, rarely more than a few feet at a time unless they feel threatened. Look to observe this speedy lizard in and around city parks and nature trails.

Mosquito sample in Temple positive for West Nile

A mosquito sample in Temple has tested positive for the West Nile Virus. The West Nile Virus is transmitted in Texas by the Culex Quinquefasciatus mosquito. Lab results confirming the positive test result were reported to the Bell County Public Health District Sept. 20.
 The positive mosquito samples were collected from a residential area located East of Interstate 35 and West of 31st Street between Avenue K and Avenue T. Test results suggest at least some of the Culex mosquito population in this area are carrying the West Nile Virus. Bell County Public Health District has had no reported cases of West Nile Virus among Temple residents this year. Frequently healthy people do not experience symptoms of the virus so most cases go unreported. Symptoms include: headaches, fever, body aches, a rash near the bite site and joint pain. A feeling of fatigue and weakness can last for weeks. A small percent of people experience more severe symptoms that include: stiff neck, a high fever, sleepiness, disorientation, coma and paralysis.

 Bell County Public Health District wishes to remind Bell County Residents to be vigilant about mosquito bite prevention and mosquito habitat reduction around their homes.
 Protect yourself and your family against the West Nile Virus by following the recommendations such as the 4 ds:
 • Drain standing water in flower pots, pet dishes or clogged gutters so mosquitoes don't have a place to breed and treat water that can't be drained, • Defend by using an EPA-approved insect repellent, and

 • Dress in long sleeves and pants when outdoors.
 • Dusk and Dawn - Culex mosquitoes are most active at dusk and dawn, protect yourself by reducing your time outdoors when mosquitoes are most active.
 Bell County Public Health District is working with Temple officials to reduce mosquito breeding habitats in Temple.
 For more information on the West Nile Virus and how to best protect you and your family from mosquito borne disease go to www.bellcountyhealth.org.
