PALS leads effort for Cultural District designation for Village; Deadline is June 1

From Sirena to Salado Legends to the Sculpture Garden to artists working in many media, Salado has been a home to the arts and to artists.

Public Arts League of Salado is working to apply through the TCA Cultural District program to designate much of the downtown and historic district as a Cultural District.

The program is not a grant program, but a designation program with an annual deadline of June 1.

PALS is sponsoring a meeting to garner support for the Cultural District at 5 p.m. May 26 at the Village of Salado Visitors Center. The meeting is open to the public.

The Cultural District designation may help Salado in securing arts and restoration grants. PALS secured a matching grant from TCA to bring Blue Lapis Light to Salado for performances in July 2014 and in April.

The Cultural District designation will also help with marketing Salado as an arts and culture destination. Just two dozen districts have been designated by TCA and Salado would be the smallest community to receive such a distinction.

This will be the second time that Salado has applied for the designation. PALS led an unsuccessful effort last year.

Among the communities that have received the designation are these: Abilene, Alpine, Austin, Bastrop, Clifton, Dallas, Denison, El Paso, Fort Worth, Galveston, Georgetown, Houston (four districts), Hunstville, McAllen, Rosenberg, San Angelo, San Antonio, San Elizario, Smithville and Winnsboro.

SISD trustees change class ranking policy

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Salado school trustees adopted at their May 18 regular meeting a change to its local policy governing Class Ranking as well as its local policy governing Transfer Students.

The board adopted the change to Local Policy EIC: Academic Achievement: Class Ranking on a 5-0 vote. Board president Kim Bird vacated the room before and throughout the discussion of and vote on the policy change.

The proposed change recommended by Salado ISD Administration strikes the following sentence from the section on Early Graduates: "An early graduate shall be ranked with the class in which he or she graduates and shall be eligible for all local honors."

That sentence is replaced in the new policy, which immediately goes into effect, with this sentence: "Early Graduates: The student's rank in class shall be computed with that year's graduating class. An early graduate shall not be eligible for valedictorian or salutatorian honors but shall be allowed to tie in rank with a four-year graduate. An early graduate shall not be allowed to displace a four-year graduate."

The policy also lays out the requirements for valedictorian and salutatorian as these:

1. "Have been continuously enrolled in the District high school for the four semesters immediately preceding graduation, with enrollment no later than the 10th school day of the fall semester of the student's junior."

2. "Completed the Recommended Program, the Advanced/Distinguished Achievement Program, of the foundation program with the distinguished level of achievement.

And the new requirement adopted by trustees: 3. "Be graduating after exactly four years of enrollment of high school."

The policy change is one that Dr. Novotny recommended after reviewing the policies of 200 other school districts. In essence, it holds harmless the four-year students who may not have had the same opportunity to take as many Pre-AP or AP courses as students who graduate early.

The changes in offerings and the changes in the weights assigned to advanced credit courses by the school district has resulted in some unforeseen inequities that may affect class rankings and honor graduates.

Those inequities include these:

Current juniors did not get to take Pre-AP World Geography, but sophomores were able to take the Pre-AP World Geography. This class has an additional 10 points of weight.

A second inequity was an eighth grade elective technology class that counted toward high school credit and toward the student's GPA. That class was a regular class and could actually lower a student's GPA because it was not considered advanced credit. The class is no longer counted toward a high school credit or GPA for the current eight grade students.

A third inequity is that prior to two years ago, any advanced credit course, whether it was Pre-AP, AP or dual credit, counted an additional 10 percent toward the student's GPA.

Two years ago, the district revised those weights so that Pre-AP counts an additional 10 points, dual credit is an additional 15 points and AP course is an additional 20 points if the student takes the AP test. If the student does not take the AP test, the weight of the AP class is 15 points.

Current juniors only got 10 percent weight added for the Pre-AP courses they may have taken as freshmen. A sophomore who graduates ahead of his class may have added weight for the Pre-AP courses taken their freshman year.

Other inequities may spring up because of the course offerings from year to year, according to Dr. Novotny. For example, AP Statistics was not offered this year because, but was offered the previous year. This year, AP Biology was offered, but is not going to be offered next year. Because of these situations, an early graduate student might have an opportunity at more AP classes than a four-year student.

Also, if new AP courses are added, younger students might be able to take AP classes that an older student does not have the opportunity to take.

The policy does not affect the class standings this year, as there are no early graduates for the Class of 2015.

The change gives any student who is considering graduating early next year and further on the information they need regarding class ranking and that early graduates will not be considered for Valedictory and Salutatory designations in time enough to shape those decisions, according to Dr. Novotny.

For those students who do graduate early, their rankings will be with the graduating class that year in a co-rank, which is important for students trying to achieve the top 10 percent rankings required by state university's.

Jeff Kelly gave the motion, which received a second from Darrell Street.

In other business, the board also amended its Transfer Policy by striking one sentence from it. Under the old policy, if a student transferred out of Salado they would be allowed to remain a SISD student until the end of the semester in which they transferred without going through the transfer process. The new policy will require students who move out of SISD to apply to be accepted as a transfer student as soon as they move, rather than waiting until the end of the semester.

The district considers the following criteria in approving transfer students: "availability of space and instructional staff, the student's disciplinary history, the student's attendance records, and the student's academic records, including, but not limited to, course grades and state-mandated assessment scores."

Memorial ceremony at Cemetery

Salado Cemetery Association will again host the annual Memorial Day Service at 9:30 a.m. May 25 at the Historic Salado Cemetery on Baines St.

"Everyone is invited to honor our veterans on this special day and pay tribute to their service to our country," said Bill Kinnison, Salado Cemetery Association board member.

The purpose of the Memorial Day ceremony is to remember the veterans buried not just in Salado Cemetery but in all of the Salado-area cemeteries, including family and church cemeteries, by a roll call of their names. All veteran's grave sites will have flags placed on their graves. The veterans are from the Texas Revolutionary War, Early Day Rangers, Home Guard, Indian Wars, Mexican War, Confederate and Union Armies, WWI and II, Korean War, Vietnam War, and from peace time service.

The Memorial Day ceremony will consist of: the Bell County Sheriff's Posse presenting the colors; honors to each of the armed services; a Commemorative Air Force flyover; and a brass ensemble lead by Clayton Capps playing music for the program. Keifer Marshall, as WW II veteran, is scheduled to give Memorial Day remarks. LTC (Ret) Stephen Peters, Cemetery Board Treasurer, will read the roll call of veterans' names this year. Taps will be played at the conclusion of the ceremony.

Light refreshments will be served following the closing of the Memorial Day ceremony. Seating will be provided by the Village of Salado, but the number of seats is limited, guests are encouraged to bring lawn chairs, also umbrellas, as tradition has it, the event is held outside in spite of sun or rain.

"We hope to see you at the Memorial Day ceremony," Kinnison said.

Fields: Honor and privilege to serve you

Your Voice

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor and to the citizens of Salado:
It has been my honor, privilege and pleasure to serve this Village as a voice for the people of Mill Creek the past four years. I have fought the good fight, my course is finished, I have kept the faith. I thank all who have supported me.

My greatest disappointment is not losing this election but rather in the apathy of the voters in the Village in that only 18 percent of the registered citizens voted. It is always easy to sit at home and complain. However, my fellow citizens, isn't it time to make your voices heard and tell this new board what your desires are in what this Village becomes? If you don't, this new board will make that decision for you and what you get may neither be what you expected nor wanted.

I will continue my work as a member of the Salado volunteers, trolley driver, and ambassador for the Mill Creek community because I dearly love this unique, historic, quiet and beautiful Village and I will work to see those qualities unchanged while supporting the future economic progress of the Village.

Sincerely,
Hans Fields

To the Editor:

We would like to thank the Salado Community Chorus for a fan(fun)tastic performance of their spring concert recently.

And, the Ft Hood 1st Cavalry Division Honor Guard, Salado Sixth Grade Choir, Salado High School Twirlers and the First Baptist Church Handbells, along with soloists Sandee Ostendorf, Bruce Anderson, Marjorie Hairston, Sheryl Calderon, David Sprout, Lezlie Mann, Risa Pajestka, Anita Johnston, Diane Wallin, Mike Stirman, Nan Cryar, Mike Stuckey, Marshall Duke, Kathy Keyes and Gypsy Girl, Maykla Hodge for making Salado Shine even brighter.

What a wonderful performance. Let's do it again.....soon

Attitude is everything; Rules for staying positive

Pop Psychology is not on the-things-to-read list. However, Mac Anderson, Simple Truths, "Attitude is Everything," gives seven rules for staying positive:

1. Wait to Worry. Only 8 percent of worries come true. "Anxiety does not empty tomorrow of problems, but empties today of strengths." Spruceon.
2. Keep an attitude of gratitude. Write down your blessings. "Feeling gratitude and not expressing it is like wrapping a present and not giving it." Ward.
3. Your health is your wealth. Lose it; you lose everything. "One of the main qualities of success is energy – it may be the only thing." Hepburn.
4. Joy Boomerangs. Do something for someone else. The good you do will boomerang back to you. "If you want to lift yourself up, lift someone else up." Washington.

5. Learn to say "No." There are limits to time and energy. "Always saying, 'Yes,' will run a greater danger of severing relationships than refusing right away." Hizes.

6. Understand the power of Discipline. If you discipline yourself today, you'll enjoy tomorrow. "Hold yourself to a higher standard than anybody expects of you." Beecher.

7. Surround yourself with positive people who will challenge you, believe in you, and inspire you. "To love and be loved is to feel the sun on both sides." Viscott.

Now here is one more .. Number 8: Salado is not standing still. (1) When the rain ends, neighborhood road-work begins. Be prepared. (2) Construction letter is going to 15-people: elected Federal and State officials, TX-DoT, and the Officers of James and PSC Construction. You may sign the letter, Chamber/Information Building, North Main. Mailing, 27 May. Sample on Salado Mayor Blog. (3) Sanctuary and Stagecoach. And, (4) Chamber's recent survey results will pave the way ahead.

Attitude is contagious. Stay positive; remain focused.

Bankers Elite (CLIC Bankers Elite-0112-TX) is a single premium deferred annuity. All withdrawals during the initial guarantee rate period are subject to surrender charges and market value adjustment. The death benefit may be subject to surrender charges and market value adjustment unless the death benefit is paid out over a 5 year period or longer. Maximum surrender charges are 7.9, 7.0, 6.2, 5.3, 4.4, 3.5, 2.7% but become zero after the initial rate guarantee period expires. The minimum guaranteed rate after the initial rate guarantee expires will be determined each year, based on a formula prescribed by the insurance code. It may not be less than 1% nor more than 3%. The rate determined by this formula for 2015 is 1.0%. Rates effective 3/16/15 and are subject to change. The IRS may impose a penalty for withdrawals prior to age 59 1/2. Annuities issued by The Capitol Life Insurance Company, 1605 LBJ Freeway, Suite 710, Dallas, TX 75234.

Obituaries

DELBERT WAYLAN BUCHANAN

Delbert Waylan Buchanan, 77, of Salado passed away May 14, 2015. He was born in Salado, Texas on August 14, 1937 to Walter Debs Buchanan and Ruby Ione Buchanan, who preceded him in death. Delbert had a brother, Sheron, who preceded him in death and is survived by his sister, Velda Carroll.

He graduated from Salado High School in 1955 and remained an active alumnus by attending sporting events and high school reunions. After high school, Delbert worked in construction and was a Building Trades instructor at Leander High School. He was, however, most proud of working over 20 years for Texas Parks and Wildlife, where he retired as the Director of South Texas Parks.

On any given day, Delbert could be found enjoying a meal or a hot cup of black coffee with friends at Brookshire's. Delbert was proud of his heritage and spent time researching the family genealogy for his descendants.

In addition to his sister, he is survived by his sons, Denny Buchanan and his wife Julie, and Dean Buchanan and his wife Talina. Delbert is also survived by grandsons, Blake Buchanan and Brady Buchanan and granddaughters, Morgan Adams and her husband Seth, Madison Buchanan and Brooke Buchanan. He was recently blessed with a step-granddaughter Chelsea Crawford, her husband Greg and daughter Blaire. Delbert has many nieces, nephews, family and friends who will miss him dearly.

Visitation was May 18 at 9:30 followed by a funeral at 11 at Harper-Talasek Funeral Home, 503 N. Main, Belton TX 76513.

Parade Clinic May 30 helps horses acclimate

Equusearch Bell County Chapter will host a Horse Owner's Parade Clinic 8:30 a.m.-1 p.m. May 30 at the Belton Feed Store, Second Ave. and Blair St. in Belton.

Marcia Cross will teach the clinic, which she says "is intended to increase the number of horse owners who are courageous enough to ride in a parade, and to also make the parades safer for rider, horse, spectators, and the entity that is putting on the parade."

The Second Annual Parade Clinic will be held on the grassy lot belonging to Belton Feed Store.

"We'll spend from 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. playing with objects in an obstacle course on the grassy lot, and then participate in a proper parade from the Feed Store around the County Annex and back," Cross explained. "Spectators are welcome to sit around the parade route and get up close to the horses."

She adds that there will be flags and banners, noisemakers, umbrellas, balloons, bottles and debris in the grass, strollers and wagons, etc. for the horse owners to play with at will.

The police and fire departments will be there. "They will conduct a controlled airing of their sirens for the horses to hear," she said, adding that these noises and sights will help "riders decide in advance if they would like to dismount before the sirens are set off."

"In the case of a real emergency in a live parade setting, emergency

The horse with a red bandanna over her face spooked when a nearby band started up, fell over, and got caught with her head under the horse trailer. A vet in downtown Belton, Dr. Edwards, sedated and sutured her, and they still participated in the 4th of July parade. The clinic in Belton is intended to help horse owners to prepare their horses for all of the sudden noises and other distractions that a parade like the Fourth of July parade in Belton can have.

personnel will have to use their sirens despite potentially frightening reactions from livestock," Cross said. "Anything that we can do preclude a catastrophic situation will be beneficial."

Riders will be encouraged to bring decorations for their horses to give the horses a chance to experience that kind of distraction as well. Riders will also receive hand-outs about desensitization tactics that they can practice at home or at the stable.

Some refreshments will be available for purchase on site.

All Riders must present a current coggins record to participate. The cost to participate in the Parade Clinic is $15. This will be a fund raiser for the Bell County chapter Equusearch Search and Rescue Team off the ground for Central Texas.

Participants will receive a list of up-coming local parades to participate in. Horse trailers can be parked on and around the Feed Store lot.

Equusearch was begun by a man in south Texas whose daughter was murdered. "Although we have had many a tragic events locally that required lengthy searches, and we have a county Sheriff's Posse," Cross says, "a local Equusearch team would have additional resources, such as boats with sonar, drones and the like."

Cross competes in Trail and Obstacle Competitions and trains horses in agility and obstacle course work.

You may contact Cross about the clinic via phone at 254-217-0321 or via email at marciaskier@att.net.

 Jacob Quick placed ninth at the UIL State Track Meet on May 8, competing in the 4A Boys High Jump. He had a mark of 6'2", which was considerably lower than his personal best at the Regional Track Meet when he had a jump of 6'5". Rascellis Williams, a senior from Mineral Wells won the event with a height of 6'8", followed by Kouri Walker, a senior from Cuero, at 6'7" and Austin Railsback, a junior from Tyler Chapel Hill at 6'4". Wet conditions during the track meet led to lower heights in the competition.

“Raiders of the Lost Art” Summer Arts Camp

The Cultural Activities Center is kicking off the summer with its weekly Summer Arts Camps starting June 8. Summer Arts Camp is special to the CAC, filled with creative opportunities for children ages 5-12 and memories that last a lifetime. The theme for Summer Arts Camp this year is “Raiders of the Lost Art,” come let your children get creative this summer at the CAC.

CAC Visual Arts Director Kristen Reichert, and Technical Director Byron Lovelace, along with other professional art teachers will help children create their own special works with activities in painting, printing, creative writing, three-dimensional art, set and costume design, music and movement, and so much more. With assistance from teen and adult volunteer helpers, the staff/child ratio will be 1:6 or less, assuring your son or daughter personalized attention and fun souvenirs to take home. On the last day of each camp there will be a celebration reception, open to parents and families, that highlights the projects children have completed. Jr. Campers will need to bring a snack to the half day camp beginning June 8. Junior Camp is for ages 5 & 6 and runs June 8-12, 9 a.m. - noon for $115. Camps I and II for ages 7-12 are June 15-19 and June 22-26, respectively, from 9 a.m. - 2:30 p.m. for $125 each week. Children ages 7-12 can attend camp for two weeks and the cost for both camps is $240. Boxed lunches can be purchased prior to each camp week June 15-19 and/or June 22-26, meals will be brought in from Subway, Bush’s Chicken and Wings Pizza N Things. If your child is attending Summer Art Camp “Raiders of the lost Art” which ends early they can continue all day at the Cultural Activities Center in Temple has a full slate of summer arts camps.

CAC by enrolling in Camp Art Extreme after Raiders of the Lost Art Camp ends at noon week of June 8 and after 2:30 p.m. the weeks of June 15-26.

Camp ART EXTREME takes art to the extreme with fun indoor and outdoor projects. Campers should wear comfortable clothes, bring water and snack. This camp is for ages 5-10, weekly in June, Monday through Friday, June 8-26 from 12:30-4:30 p.m., cost is $85 each week, or campers can join after Summer Arts Camp to finish the full camp day out at the CAC, June 15-26 from 2:30-4:30 p.m., for $45 per week.

Camp Enrollment forms are online at www.ca-cARTS.org.

Library offers Summer program at TAE Gym

Salado Public Library has announced the lineup for summer programs.

This year, children’s activities will take place at the Thomas Arnold Elementary School Gym at 11 a.m. on Mondays in June.

June 8 - Austin Reptile Show. These Austin area experts share their passion for creatures with the kids.

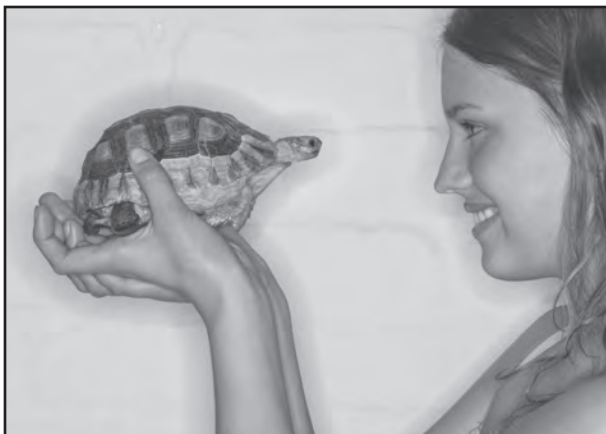

June 15 - Wild Things Zoofari. They bring the zoo to you to teach the wonders of the animal world through hands on experiences.

June 24 - Whirled on a String Show. Spintastic demonstrations in the art of yo-yo and top spinning.

June 29 - Mad Science of Austin makes it their mission to spark imaginative learning through unique hands-on science experiences.

Teens will enjoy a series of superhero movies and activities through the months of June and July.

Hands-on experiences will be part of the Summer Reading Program hosted by Salado Public Library.

PALS brings gift of children’s play Jack & the Beanstalk to Salado

The Public Arts League of Salado will bring San Antonio’s premier Children’s Theater to Salado for a free public performance of Jack and the Beanstalk 6 p.m. on June 27 at Tablerock.

The Magik Theater of San Antonio is known for creative performances designed to educate both young people and adults.

The all ages show will show you what happens when Jack learns that a true friend is the greatest treasure in the world. Would you trade your best friend for three magic beans?

Admission is free, a gift to the Village of Salado from PALS.

Concessions will be available on site with proceeds going to Tablerock.

The event is made possible through a grant from the Texas Commission on the Arts and the generous support of Tablerock Festival of Salado.

Twelfth Night comes to Tablerock stage for 8 p.m. performances June 5-6.

Shakespeare on the Rock Twelfth Night slated June 5-6 at Tablerock Amphitheater

Salado's Tablerock Amphitheater is the setting for Shakespeare's Twelfth Night for 8 p.m. performances June 5-6.

Kelley Parker, Tablerock Board of Directors member, will direct Twelfth Night which is one of Shakespeare's most beloved and renowned comedies.

Parker is the McLennan College Director of Theater in Waco and lives in Salado.

The following cast members will guide the audience on a hilarious voyage of far-flung twins, star-crossed lovers, mischievous shenanigans and romantic drama. Join us as two shipwrecked and separated twins, Viola and Sebastian, search for their place in the wild, raucous land of Illyria and discover possibilities far beyond their waking dreams.

Cast and crew in the Twelfth Night production are Jennifer Ringer as Viola; Cody Beseda as Duke Orsino; Savannah Cooper as Countess Olivia; Erik Anderson as Sir Toby Belch; Joshua Purvis as Sebastian; Alexander Jay Alvarez as Malvolio; Lacey Drew as Feste, a clown; Lauren Hill as Maria; Mitchell Voorhies as Sir Andrew Aquecheek; Lysie Gomez/Kenyai O'Neal as Fabian; Olivia Wise as The Captain/Officer; Lamec Rosas as Antonio; Matthew Lyons as Valentine/Priest; Keele Halbert as Olivia's servant; Elisabeth Stanley as Orsino's attendant; Sara Westerfield as Curio/Constable. Stage Manager is Cameron Gradel.

Tickets may be purchased at the June 5 and June 6. Prices are: $10 for an adult and $5 for children 12 and under.

The ticket office and concession stand will be open at 7 p.m., preshow begins at 7:30 p.m. and the play begins at 8 p.m.

Tablerock Amphitheater is located at 409 Royal Street

For directions and more information go to the Tablerock web site www.tablerock.org

For school and church groups of more than 20 attendees contact Jackie Mills at 254-947-9205 for bulk ticket sales.

Patriotic ceremony planned for annual Fourth of July picnic

Salado Historical Society will host its annual Independence Day celebration with a picnic at 6 p.m. July 4 at the Salado Intermediate School.

This is a community wide celebration that will include music, colonial reenactors, singing, a ceremonial signing of the Declaration of Independence, and, of course, a pot luck meal.

The Salado Historic Society will again provide fried chicken and drinks of iced tea and lemonade for the picnic.

Attendees are asked to bring a side dish, salad or dessert to share with the community.

A patriotic program is planned to celebrate the signing of the Declaration of Independence 239 years ago.

Heart of Texas Chapter (#26) of the Sons of the American Revolution will begin the evening with a colonial color guard representing the U.S. flag, with local children leading the community in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Following a pot luck dinner, the children will lead the community in singing several popular patriotic songs familiar to everyone.

A local brass ensemble will accompany the singing.

Colonial reenactors will recite quotes from seven notable patriots who were involved in declaring the 13 colonies "free and independent" from England. Following the re-enactors presentation of events leading up to and following the signing of the Declaration of Independence, a copy of the Declaration will be signed by all participants as a symbol of our continuing freedom and independence as a nation in celebration of this, our 239th year of independence..

For more information, please visit the Salado Historical Society web site at: www.saladohistoricalsociety.org or call Bill Kinnison, (254) 541-4130.

YOUR PROPERTY TAXES JUST WENT UP. OR HADN'T YOU HEARD?

When local governments want to increase tax revenues, they are required to publish notices in the newspaper so that you will know. But that right to know could disappear.

Local governmental entities across the state want to hide their public notices on little seen, rarely visited government websites.

What you don't know will affect you personally!

If it is not in the newspaper, you won't know about it.

White Grub Damage

LYLE ZOELLER
 TEXAS A&M AGRI LIFE EXTENSION SERVICE

Above ground we know them as that harbinger of summer, the ever present and all too numerous June beetle (or Junebugs). Below ground we know them as a white grub or grub worm, the larval stage of the coming beetle. Texas is home to almost 100 species of beetles, but the most damaging to turf grass are the June beetle Phyllophaga crinita and southern masked chafer, Cyclocephala lurida.

Warm season grasses such as bermudagrass, zoysiagrass, St. Augustine grass and buffalograss are very susceptible to white grub damage, although cool season grasses such as fescue, bluegrass and ryegrass may also be attacked. Damage from white grubs in Texas can occur anytime between June and October, depending on the region, during the three larval life-states, or instars of the life cycle of the adult beetle.

Apart from size, there is little physical difference in the three instars of the larval development, all being creamy white and C-shaped. The first two larval instars require about three weeks each to complete development and the third instar actively feeds until cool weather arrives. It is this third stage which is responsible for most turfgrass damage. At this stage it is a large grub (1/2 to 1 inch long) with a voracious appetite. Large groups of third-instar white grubs can quickly destroy turfgrass root systems resulting in significant loss of turf vigor and susceptibility to drying out, especially in hot weather.

You should suspect white grub damage if you see irregular shaped areas of turf which appear less vigorous or dead or dying. In our area, this damage will typically appear in the summer months, beginning in June. If the damaged area of your lawn can be easily pulled from the soil due to lack of root structure, you should suspect white grubs as a possible culprit and take steps to confirm your suspicions.

Examine several soil sections of at least 3 to 4 inches across and 4 inches deep (take deeper samples in sandy soils). A good rule of thumb is to take several soil plugs from diverse areas of the lawn (up to one square foot per 1000 square feet of turf). Do include areas at the edges of suspected grub damage. Five or more grubs per square foot justify treatment and the Texas A&M AgriLife Extension system recommends several research-proven controls, both non-chemical and chemical.

Recommended non-chemical controls include the use of beneficial nematodes within the genera Steinernema and Heterorhabditis. Nematodes are microscopic worms that attack white grubs and other soil inhabiting insects. Purchase commercial nematode products through garden supply catalogs or at retail garden supply outlets.

This product must be applied through a hose-end or hand-held spray to thoroughly mix the nematodes with water. The water is necessary for the nematodes to be able to travel down through the soil to reach the grubs. Apply at least 1/4 inch of water to the turf before application of the nematodes and 1/4 inch of additional water after application for maximum effect. Recent research has shown that under good conditions, commercially-available nematodes are capable of reducing white grub populations by 50 percent or more.

For white grub worm control via application of the newer chemical insecticides which are more persistent and less toxic to beneficial arthropods and earthworms, proper timing is critical.

One of these products, the insecticide imidacloprid (Active Ingredient) is effective against small and medium-sized grubs and may kill some grubs larger than 1/2 inch long. However, the insect growth regulator halofenozide (Active Ingredient) is lethal only if applied to the early growth stages (instars 1 and 2, e.g. 3-6 weeks after the eggs hatch.

Fortunately, both halofenozide and imidacloprid may be applied early and remain persistent in the soil. Adult beetles emerge and mate in late spring or early summer. The females return to the soil at depths of 2 to 5 inches following flight periods which may last for several weeks and can lay up to 30 or 40 eggs. Therefore, in Central Texas, the best treatment time if utilizing either halofenozide or imidacloprid products to prevent the emergence of the third-instar stage of the white grub is early to mid-July.

If grub damage is already present, use products containing trichlorfon or carbaryl. Products containing pyrethroid insecticides (such as permethrin, esfenvalerate, cyfluthrin and bifenthrin), bind to soil particles and remain close to the surface, even after irrigation, so are less effective against white grubs, especially in clay soils.

Two or more applications may be needed if soil conditions are unfavorable, e.g. difficult to penetrate. Dry soils will benefit from pre-watering the area to be treated. Apply 1/4 to 1/2 inch of water the day before treatment to improve soil penetration of the product and to encourage the grubs to come closer to the soil surface where they will come in contact with the product. Likewise, avoid application to soil that is too wet as this can result in equally poor penetration as well as run-off and loss of product.

When the soil condition is right, post-treatment irrigation is essential following the application of any grub control product in order to assure the insecticides reach the root zone and the grubs. Immediately apply 1/2 to 1 inch of water following application of any liquid formulations. Granular products should be watered into the soil within 24 hours of application to minimize the product's exposure to people, pets and wildlife. Use a rain gauge or straight-sided can to confirm the proper volume of irrigation applied.

Always keep environmental considerations in mind when using any insecticide product and always follow all label instructions. Most insecticides are indiscriminate and can have detrimental effects on beneficial organisms such as earthworms. For this reason and because unnecessary insecticide applications can increase the risk of insecticide resistance, routine "preventative" applications of insecticidal products is not recommended for white grub control.

Keep in mind that some insecticides can be toxic to birds and other wildlife. In addition to reading and following label directions, please read all precautionary statements pertaining to potential environmental hazards. Apply only at recommended rates, avoid use near streams and ponds and irrigate treatments promptly to reduce the risk to non-target organisms. Do not dispose of leftover pesticides in sewer or storm water drains as this can result in toxicity to fish and other aquatic organisms.
