Aldermen discuss incentives for potential Stagecoach Inn project

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Salado aldermen will consider during their July 2 meeting taking action on a Master Development Agreement with 4T-LFT Ventures, LP for redevelopment of Stagecoach Inn and Restaurant and a Tourism Marketing Agreement.

According to city manager Kim Foutz, 4T-LFT Ventures has "proposed to redevelop the historic Stagecoach Inn, restaurant and site."

Terry Potts, owner of Stagecoach Inn, told Salado Village Voice on June 29 that the property has not yet sold.

However, he added that he has "entered into an agreement in principle for the sale of the Stagecoach Inn property, which includes the restaurant, coffee shop, conference center and hotel."

Potts informed his employees of this potential purchase of the property last week.

"For confidentiality reasons, I cannot divulge the name of the prospective buyer at this time," he said.

"We will not know for sure if the transaction is going to take place until July 15," he said.

In the meantime, 4T-LFT Ventures, LP is in discussions with the Village

Feds award $1 mil grant for business district sewer

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

The Village of Salado learned June 26 that it has qualified for a $1 million economic development grant from the U.S. Department of Commerce for construction of a centralized wastewater treatment plant that will serve the business districts of downtown Salado and the west side of I-35.

Aldermen also received an updated map of the preliminary design for the wastewater treatment and collection system for Phase I that is estimated to cost $7.56 million.

The main trunk lines of the Phase 1 area are Main Street from Salado Plaza Dr. south to Royal. A collection line will then extend east along Royal Street to the proposed wastewater treatment plant at The Sanctuary. Another trunk line will travel along the west side of West Village Road south to Salado School road. This trunk line will then proceed underneath the access roads, interstate and local road to the Main Street trunk line.

The Phase 1 collection system is divided into six sections with these costs and descriptions:

1A: South Main Street from Mill Creek Roast to Lift Station 1 south of Pace Park Road. $1,994,983.06.

1B: Lift Station and force main from Lift Station 2 connecting to existing Salado wastewater treatment plant with proposed lift station 2: $544,903.75.

1C: Lift station 2 and Force Main A-2 from Lift Station to proposed gravity sewer along Royal St.

Aldermen meet with police chief prior to assessment

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Salado aldermen have tasked a Public Safety Committee with conducting an assessment of the Police Department. The board will meet July 2 in workshop session to discuss a draft of the assessment methodology following an executive session on June 30 regarding the "appointment, employment, evaluation, reassignment, duties, discipline or removal of a public officer -- Police Chief."

City manager Kim Foutz said that the special called meeting was called at the request of alderman Michael McDougal in order to review the duties of the police chief prior to discussion of the assessment of the police department.

The one-item agenda was posted on June 27.

"We are not doing an evaluation tonight," Foutz said of the special called meeting.

She said that the aldermen would look at the duties of the police chief in order to prepare for the assessment by the public safety committee.

Public Safety Committee members are aldermen Dave Williams and Amber Preston-Dankert and citizens John Jennings and Martin Verhagen.

A draft version for the methodology guiding the assessment of the police department has 15 "methodological features."

It requests a formal Texas Commission on Law Enforcement audit to be conducted. The police chief will be provided with a preliminary audit 24 hours prior to the assessment.

The assessment will include a review of police department general orders, standard operating procedures and administrative processes.

All officers of the department may be interviewed in the process of the assessment, such interviews being confidential. Interviewers will "have deep policing and organizational experience," according to the assessment document.

The results of the interviews will be arranged into major themes and patterns. The initial and follow up assessments plus the themes and patterns "will be the data to become the foundation for Gas pipeline could run through southern Bell Co.

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Local property owners in southern Bell County received certified letters early last month alerting them that Enterprise Crude Pipeline LLC will be constructing and installing pipeline through the area as part of the Midland to Sealy Pipeline Segment 4.

Enterprise Products

Partners L.P. announced on April 30 that it has executed long-term agreements that support development of a new 416-mile, 24-inch diameter pipeline to transport crude oil and condensate from the company's Midland, Texas terminal to its Sealy storage facility west of Houston.

The pipeline, which is set to come online in the second quarter of 2017, will have the capability to provide up to 540,000 barrels per day of take-away capacity for growing volumes of crude oil, and condensate from the Permian Basin.

The pipeline has sparked concern among local government officials including County Commissioner Tim Brown and property owners such as Kirk Michaux, who owns

Supreme Court ruling legalizes same sex marriages

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Bell County Clerk Shelley Coston's office on June 29 issued the first marriage license for a same sex marriage to Tracy McLoud of Belton and formerly of Salado and Roxane Patrick of Belton, following the June 26 ruling by the U.S. Supreme Court making same sex marriage legal in all 50 states.

McLoud and Patrick went to the Bell County Clerk's office on June 26, but found a printout of an email from Coston stating that "In regards to the Supreme Court ruling in favor of same-sex marriage, the Bell County Clerk's Office is awaiting direction from our legal counsel, the Department of State Health Service - Vital Statistics Unit and the Texas Attorney General before issuing such marriage licenses. Our office will continue present operations until directives are received by the State."

McLoud and Patrick returned the morning of June 29 to learn that the Bell County Clerk's office would issue a marriage license to them.

Coston stated that the County Clerk position is ministerial in its duties, performing functions "without the use of judgment by the person performing the act or duty."

The Department of State Health Services - Vital Statistics Unit issued revised Marriage License application forms that replace "Male" and "Female" with the terms "Applicant 1 and Applicant 2."

Attorney General Ken Paxton issued an opinion that states that Justices of the Peace and Judges are not mandated to conduct same-sex ceremonies.

"However, there are no such alternatives as to who can issue a marriage license," Coston said. "Only a County Clerk can do so."

Situations in which county clerks refuse to issue a marriage license to a same sex couple could result in lawsuits against the county.

"The costs of defending such a lawsuit and the potential for damages would be substantial," Coston stated. "I cannot do that to our taxpayers."

"Under state law, Texas Family Code Section 2.008(a), states that County Clerks "shall" issue marriage licenses to conforming applications," Coston added.

"Based on state law, revised forms from the Vital statistics Unit, and Attorney General Opinion KP-0025, the Bell County Clerk's Office will issue marriage licenses to conforming applications, as now defined by the United States Supreme Court," Coston stated. "Reasonable accommodations will be made for Deputy Clerks that have religious objections to participating in the issuance of such licenses."

Salado Village Voice reached out via phone calls and email to all Bell County Justices of the Peace and Judges with this question: "In light of the recent ruling by the Supreme Court on same sex marriage and the opinion by Texas Attorney General Ken Paxton that JPs and Judges do not have to conduct ceremonies for same sex couples, will you be conducting ceremonies for same sex couples in your capacity as a Justice of the Peace or Judge?"

Here are the responses that were received by press time for this edition:

Justice of Peace Precinct Two Donald Engleking: "My religious beliefs keep me from being able to perform those (same sex) weddings. I also believe that if I don't conduct same sex weddings I should not do any others either. Therefore in the best interest of this office and because of my personal beliefs, I will not be conducting any weddings. If I am provided some type of legislative relief in the future I may reconsider conducting weddings."

Justice of the Peace Precinct 4, Place 2 Bill Cooke: "Judge Cooke shall perform a marriage ceremony for any couple with a valid and current Marriage License," according to a response from Jeanie Ortiz, Justice Court Clerk.

Justice of the Peace, Precinct 3, Place 2 GW Ivey: "Judge Ivey is out of the office on medical leave until mid July. I did speak with him last night and he stated that if a couple presents a marriage license and request to be married then he will perform the ceremony," according to Dorothy Bland, Chief Clerk/JP Assistant.

Salado Village Voice also reached out to the Bell County Court at Law and Bell County District Judges because they are allowed by law to conduct wedding ceremonies. Following are the responses we received by press time.

264th Judicial District Court Martha J. Trudo: "I rarely get asked to perform weddings for anyone anymore, although I have performed them for friends and family and several others in years past. We district judges do more in the way of criminal cases and divorcing people rather than this aspect while JPs do more of the marrying than any of us. I would not anticipate a rush to get to the Courthouse to find any of us district judges to see what we would do."

169th District Judge Gordon G. Adams: "The Bell County District Judges are not in the business of performing wedding ceremonies. We spend our time presiding over the cases that are pending in our courts. On very rare occasions, we perform wedding ceremonies for relatives and friends. I cannot speak for the other district judges, but if a relative or friend asks me to perform a same sex marriage for them, I will do so."

Salado Village Voice reached out to the several Salado area churches regarding their positions on same sex marriage with this question: "The recent ruling by the Supreme Court does not affect whether churches or clergy will or will not conduct wedding ceremonies for same sex couples. In view of that, will your church be conducting any wedding ceremonies of same sex couples?"

The responses we have received from the ministers follows:

3C Cowboy Fellowship: Robert Whitefield, Pastor: "Governor Abbott signed into law the Pastor Protection Bill that states that the pastor nor churches can be forced by the Government to go against their beliefs. At 3C we believe that the biblical mandate of marriage is between a man and woman. We further believe that the bible teaches homosexuality is a sin just as adultery and fornication. With that being said I as the pastor will not perform a same sex marriage nor will the church be used to do the same."

Grace Baptist Church, Pastor Steve Waechter: "While we at Grace Baptist Church believe the love of God extends to all persons everywhere, we also stand on our conviction that the Bible teaches of Salado government for economic development incentives that could include sales tax rebates, property tax abatements and a tourism marketing agreement that could return hotel occupancy funds directly to the entity for its use in promoting hotel and meeting space.

Foutz told Salado Village Voice that it is not unusual for a developer that is considering a major investment in a community to seek out incentive packages before actually making the investment.

In her board agenda memorandum for aldermen, Foutz states that the proposed redevelopment of the Stagecoach Inn property will be in two phases.

According to the Village memo on the agenda item, the first phase will be "the redevelopment of the existing restaurant and coffee shop, as well as the renovation of the existing 5,000 square feet of meeting space and renovation of existing retail space along the west side of Main Street."

According to the Village memo, the second phase of the Master Development would be the hotel re-development. This would include renovation of the existing 82 hotel rooms and the addition of 38 hotel rooms. Newly constructed amenities, according to the memo, will include a full service fitness center, a mineral pool with spa services, addition of a 5,000 sq. ft. of meeting space, lounge, landscaped courtyard including outdoor event and activity spaces, extensive landscape improvements especially along I-35 for buffering.

The final report will be presented to the Village Administrator.

The Assessment Methodology is "intended to act as a guideline and not be construed as a hard and fast restrictions on the assessment staff," according to the draft document. "Variations are authorized that would best facilitate completion of the assessment and be in the best interest of the Village."

Foutz said that the last time an evaluation of the police chief was conducted was in 2012.

He also had an extensive collection of model trains, taking great pride in having a Lionel train set-up in his garage so great-grandsons and visitors could watch in amazement. As the boys grew older, he would even let them run the trains!

ROBERT E. DENMAN

December 21, 1927
June 27, 2015

Robert Denman was born to Oran Harvey and Mary Margaret Denman on December 21, 1927 in Fort Worth, Texas, and was proudly a fifth generation Texan. His Great Great Grandfather was Moses Denman, a Bell County pioneer. Robert graduated from Meridian High School in 1945 and enlisted in the United States Army in 1946. He served through 1949 being stationed in Virginia, Washington, Alaska, Kentucky and finally Fort Sill, Oklahoma. There he met Doris at First Baptist Church Lawton; she was home from college for the holidays. They married June 12, 1949, and had 65 wonderful years together until her death July 2014. Robert attended North Texas Agricultural College, now Tarleton State University, where he studied architecture. He was stricken with polio in 1951 at age 24. With prayer warriors and great doctors, he survived to live a great life. Robert sold Real Estate with his dad in Stephenville and later began a 25 year career with Texas Highway Department (TXDOT) in Fort Worth. He was transferred to Austin in 1963 and remained there until 1977 when he and Doris moved to Salado and purchased The Barton House on Main Street. Collecting Antiques, which began as a hobby, evolved into the opening of their store The Royal Emporium on Main Street in 1989. Eleven years later, in 2001, Robert designed and built a new building on North Main Street that became the new location of the business; the building was later purchased for the The Salado Public Library and serves the entire community. The Denmans retired from retail in 2003.

Robert loved the Lord, America, Texas, and The Village of Salado. He worked tirelessly for his God, country, and community in many capacities, including the following: President of Salado Chamber of Commerce, President of Salado Merchants' Association, Founding member of Tablerock Festival of Salado, Member of Salado Lions Club, 20+ years on the Selective Service Board of Bell County, Board of Directors Bell County Health Department, Village of Salado steering committee, Bell County Historical Commission member, 50+ years as an ordained Deacon in multiple Baptist churches in Fort Worth, Austin, and Salado serving in ways only known by those served and His Lord.

Robert was preceded in death by: parents Oran and Mary Denman, brothers Cecil and Jack Denman, wife Doris Denman, and great grandson Elijah Crece-lius.

Robert is survived by: Daughter Cathy Sands and her husband Larry, of Salado; grandson Monty Sands and wife Caroline with great granddaughter Anabelle of Frisco; grandson Zachary and wife Jessica with great grandson Jaden of Coppell.

Daughter Christie Justice of Salado; grandson Jonathan Willman with great grandson Colton of Sugar Land; Mary Crece-lius and husband Brad with great granddaughter Maya and great grandson Liam of Austin; Hannah Young and husband Tyler with great grandson Indiana of Silver Spring, MD.

Son Larry Denman with grandson Nathan of Dallas.

Many family members and friends.

Robert remained faithful and maintained his sense of humor until he took his last earthly breath. He instantly met Christ and was united once more with Doris in their new heavenly home, surrounded by family and friends.

In lieu of flowers, please make donations to First Baptist Church of Salado Tomorrow Fund or Wounded Warriors.

A visitation will be at Broecker Funeral Home on Wednesday, July 1, 2015 from 6-8 p.m. Services will be Thursday, July 2, 2015 at 11:30 a.m. at First Baptist Church, Salado. Internment will be private.

Services are in the care of Broecker Funeral Home, Salado.

What keeps the church going? What happens if certain key people drop out of the picture? The Bible tells us what to do... "what you have heard from me in the presence of many witnesses entrust to faithful men who will be able to teach others also" (2 Tim. 2:2). That's what keeps us going...one person teaching another person. Join us at Grace this Sunday, as we hear the Word from a brother in Mexico. It's 2 Timothy 2:2 en vivo!

An Open Exchange of Ideas

Pope Francis Goes Off the Rails

A quasi-religious movement now has a genuinely religious leader.

The pope's encyclical on the environment is being hailed for its embrace of science, although it is about as scientific as the Catholic hymnal.

Pope Francis writes that Sister Earth "now cries out because of the harm we have inflicted on her by our irresponsible use and abuse of the goods with which God has endowed her." Really? Is that what the United Nations' Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change says?

The Catholic Church brings comfort and meaning to the lives of countless millions. That doesn't mean that climate science, economic policy and cost-benefit analysis are its core competencies. No one has ever said: Yes, but what did Gregory VII do to fight the onset of the Medieval Warm Period?

All that matters to the media, though, is that Pope Francis has taken an apocalyptic climate alarmism and given it the imprimatur of the Vatican. The same people who dismiss the pope on more central moral matters, like the dignity of life, are now attributing to him an authority that might have made Pope Innocent III, who challenged kings, blush.

The document could

have benefited from an editor cutting out the bizarre ramblings. The pope writes of "harmful habits of consumption," including "the increasing use and power of air conditioning." He argues that "an outsider looking at our world would be amazed at such behavior."

That's assuming the outsider lives in a very cool climate, or doesn't mind sweating. Anyone not so lucky probably thinks the inventor of air conditioning should be canonized.

While the pope pays lip service to technological advances, he doesn't truly appreciate their wonders. The Industrial Revolution was a great boon to humankind. Consider the unrelieved misery -- the disease, the poverty, the illiteracy -- before around 1800, when if you weren't an aristocrat, a general or a bishop, your life was probably nasty, brutish and short.

But at least when everyone died at a much earlier age, we weren't engaging in the ravages of the planet that so exercise Francis. This sinful assault on Earth, by the way, largely consisted in taking otherwise completely useless glop from the ground and using it to power economic and technical advances that enriched average people beyond anyone's imagining. This is obviously a secular miracle of the highest order.

And the bounty hasn't ended. Something like a billion people have been lifted out of poverty in places like India and China in recent decades as they have embraced markets and global trade. The pope should be delighted, except he has a blinkered view of capitalism as a zero-sum game benefiting only the privileged.

For all that the pope portrays modern development as a long exercise in environmental devastation, it is the advanced countries that have the cleanest water and air, and are best prepared to adapt their way around any far-off environmental challenges.

His encyclical will be portrayed as the best thing the church has done since Pope Leo dissuaded Attila from sacking Rome, but on climate change, it merely bends to the fashions of the hour.

NRA called-out to be involved

To the Editor:

"Since Sept. 11, 2001, nearly twice as many people have been killed by white supremacists, antigovernment fanatics and other non-Muslim extremists than by radical Muslims..." -- The Dallas Morning News, June 25, 2015

The killing of nine black prayer meeting attendees (after offering a stranger a place at the table) is definitely the latest, and in its own way, singularly the most tragic -- not just the sheer number involved, but the color of their skin; their faith; and their historic meeting place--mass murder yet. A hate crime by a kid full of hate. Where did he learn to hate with such a rabid, twisted understanding of our Declaration of Independence "All men are created equal." Recall the seventies band Crosby, Stills, Nash and Young who sang the poignant line "Teach your children well." Who taught this kid to hate? How often did he hear, "N..... are gettin' everything." or worse?

Your Voice

But I digress. In May of 2013, the question was asked of readers "But is nine okay to die?" I s'pose it is okay. Nine young school children, nine worshipers, nine black citizens. Yep, nine or less seems just right. After the December 2012 massacre of those kiddos, our President asked, "Is such violence...the price of our freedom." His question remains unanswered today.

Again I call on the NRA to join the discussion about how to reduce gun-related violence. (No. Arming everyone is not the answer.) The NRA is big and persuasive. Rather than being an extremist "aginner" they could lead the way toward responsible firearm acquisition and ownership. If you are an NRA member why not contact that organization's leadership and demand meaningful involvement, not stonewalling?

Home grown terrorism; xenophobia; racial intolerance; gun-related violence. Pick a topic and do something. To paraphrase Bonhoeffer, When we don't say something, we say something.

We have our share of Warriors

Warriors, a fascinating description of people who do not spend time thinking about what they do not have. They think about the resources they do have and how best to use them. In a discussion with Salado artist, Larry Prellop, he said, "we cannot blame poor business on just I-35 construction. We must learn how to get people off I-35 and introduce them to Salado and the wonderful Village we have." Larry Prellop is a Warrior front-and-center.

Warriors, a fascinating description of people who are fearless and lead by example. They have faith in themselves and those battling with them. Dave, Melanie, Tim, Michael, and Fred are Warriors. They fearlessly took on James Construction through TXDOT and wrote letters to Federal/State Representatives requesting their help in ending the "mission creep" of I-35 Construction. In a meeting with TXDOT and James Construction leadership, they did not back down. Now, things are happening that will speed-up the Construction conclusion.

Warriors, a fascinating description of people who use the element of surprise to achieve their victories. Susan, Jill, K.D., Billy, Hollye, Debbie, Susan, and Jennifer are Warriors who turned their dreams into fantastic events like BlueLapis, Jack and Beanstalk, July 4th Fireworks, ArTexas Competition, Dog Daze, and others.

Warriors, a fascinating description of people who refuse to ignore a problem, create an alibi, blame someone else, or make others look bad so they can look good. They refuse to lie dead in the water and do nothing. Your Name is on this list. It has been seen a 100-times over; highlighted with encouragement and courage; and spelled with honor and respect.

You have earned the title, WARRIOR. As SUN TZU wrote in The Art of War: "If you know the enemy and know yourself, you need not fear the result of a 100-battles."

The Wheels Come off Jeb's Victory Wagon Another Bush's coronation as a GOP presidential nominee no longer looks so assured.

A funny thing happened to Jeb Bush on his way to the White House.

He was rolling assuredly toward his coronation as the next GOP presidential nominee. He was sacking up millions of dollars in campaign cash from his dynastic family's extensive coterie of reliable corporate donors and wealthy patrons. And he was confident that he'd roll to victory next year.

But then -- Screech! Wham! Eeeek! -- the wheels came off his golden victory wagon.

As the campaign entered the month of June, the supposedly seasoned politico was looking incompetent. He badly bungled an easy question about his brother's disastrous invasion of Iraq, fell behind in key states, and watched as his campaign staff fell into disarray.

Bush Brothers Hugging nordique/Flickr

Jim Hightower

Now, a mere six months before the 2016 primaries begin, Jeb is hitting the reset button. He's shifting his strategy and style from cruise-control to overdrive, including getting a new campaign manager notorious for full-throttle and nasty attacks on opponents.

As one close ally put it, the Bush operation will now be like "Pickett's Charge" to win the nomination.

But wait -- George Pickett was the Confederate general who led 12,500 men in a suicidal infantry assault on Union troops at Gettysburg in 1863. Marching in formation over an open field for nearly a mile, the attack was a horrendous folly that produced a humiliating defeat for the Confederacy and left more than 6,000 of Pickett's men dead.

That's an unusual model for a presidential campaign. But Jeb's got a strategic weapon that poor George Pickett didn't have: a $100 million war chest. Double the amount raised by all the other Republican candidates combined, it surely can cover up a lot of Bush's incompetence.

Randy Rogers acoustic tour lands in Salado July 3

Randy Rogers will perform an acoustic set at Johnny's Outback on July 3 to help kick off the Independence Day weekend in Salado.

Rogers and Wade Bowen, who also played at the Outback, recently released Hold My Beer: Volume 1. The new album is described by the two performers as part road movie, part joke book, part Western philosophy. It is the story of enduring friendship and the value of personal integrity, Saturday night dance parties and a couple of good, stiff drinks.

Rogers will play songs from Hold My Beer: Volume 1 as well as from the nine albums that the Randy Rogers Band has released in the past decade and a half.

Randy Rogers and his band's new album, "Homemade Tamales: Live at Floore's," debuted in June. The new release reminds fans why he remains one of the biggest draws in Texas.

"Satellite," the sequel to Rogers popular song "In My Arms Instead" is a thoughtful and introspective comment on staying connected with those you miss. Singer, songwriter Rogers conveys the heartfelt message without saying I love you.

Gates open at 6 p.m. July 3 for the show. Tickets are available online at johnnysoutback.com for $20 per person.

Who Wants to be a Superhero?
 July 11 | 2 p.m.

Watch highlights from the second season of the Sci Fi Channel series "Who Wants to Be a Superhero?" and share Defuser swag from the winner, Jarrett Crippen.

The show has plenty of special effects and fun but what it has most of all are heartfelt moments. It was a show about the type of character it takes to be a hero. The competitors encourage each other as they face their fears and become stronger people.

Jarrett is a detective with the Austin Police department and runs a non-profit which raises money for the Breast Cancer Resource Centers of Texas so he is still a hero every day.

better as the trump suit than hearts. Three spades guarantees at least four-card support and willingness to go on to game in either suit, and four spades closes the auction.

Unfortunately, these exchanges of information can sometimes backfire. As the bidders send their messages back and forth, the opponents can listen in, and what they hear often helps them find the best defense.

West took full advantage of the North-South bidding and found the killing opening lead. He led the ace and another heart, and later gave East a heart ruff to set the contract.

West reasoned that his opponents had to have at least eight hearts between them for the opening heart bid and immediate raise. This in turn indicated that East had either one or two hearts, and that he could sooner or later trump a heart. Had South adopted a less-scientific approach to the bidding and jumped directly to four hearts over two, there would have been no way to stop him from making that contract.

Eco. Dev. leader will facilitate July 7 Chamber meeting

Salado Chamber of Commerce will hold a general membership meeting 5:30 p.m. July 7 at the Salado Civic Center with the vice president of the Temple Economic Development Corporation acting as a facilitator for the meeting.

Charley Ayres joined the Temple staff in January of 2011 after more than eight years with the Round Rock Economic Development Partnership as Vice President of Business Retention and Expansion and 16 years in the marketing profession. He serves as the Vice President of the Temple Economic Development Corporation. He is responsible for the efforts in business expansion and recruitment, and oversees the overall program of Temple's Economic Development. Ayres' experience includes sitting on the Board of Williamson County's Municipal Utility District #10, Round Rock Partners in Education, Foreign Trade Zone of Central Texas, (FTZ 183), he was invited by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce to serve as a participant in the Institute for a Competitive Workforce, and currently serves on the Executive Board of the Centroplex P-20 Regional Council and Board of Directors for the Texas Economic Development Council.

Ayres received his MBA Business Management Certification from Tulane University and completed Basic Economic Development Certification at The University of Southern Mississippi.

the 8,000 acre Solana Ranch in southern Bell County and northern Williamson County.

Most of the 400-plus miles of the Midland to Sealy Pipeline will be built within the easement of the Seminole Pipeline. However, that pipeline runs through Williamson County where population growth in the Georgetown area has made Bell County a cheaper option for the new pipeline.

Brown told Salado Village Voice that he has expressed his concerns to Enterprise representative over the placement of the pipeline in an ecologically fragile area.

The proposed route for the pipeline is over the Edwards Aquifer in Bell County and near the Gault archeological site.

Michaux said that the current proposed route crosses his Solana Ranch property in three areas, including the Rumsey Creek and Salado Creek watersheds. It is also near the Solana Ranch Preserve, an $881,250 Recovery Land Grant acquisition of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Services. The proposed preserve will be located on a 256-acre tract in Bell County and will benefit the Salado salamander.

According to USFWS, "the acquisition will provide protection for the species (Salado salamander which was listed in 2014 as threatened) in three of the seven springs in which it is known to occur. Acquisition of the Solana Ranch Preserve will protect an area of 75 percent of the proposed critical habitat units for this species in the Service's Southwest Region. The acquisition will also protect the quality of cave and spring water, minimize ground water pollution, protect groundwater and spring flow, and exclude cattle and feral hogs."

But the preserve is on a small portion of the Solana Ranch.

"We expressed a lot of concerns with the preliminary plans," Dirk Aaron, general manager of Clearwater Underground Water Conservation District, told Salado Village Voice of a meeting that he attended with Brown and representatives from Enterprise Products.

In a letter to Tim J. Dyk, manager, land for Enterprise Products, Brown stated that the "route transects the catchment basin for Salado creek and the northern segment of the Edwards Aquifer. This is an environmentally sensitive region for two reasons. The recharge zone for this segment of the aquifer is a karstic region characterized by rapid infiltration and high transmissivity making it vulnerable to contamination."

Salado Water Supply Corporation and Jarrell Schwertner Water Supply Corporation both draw water from the section of the Edwards aquifer over which the preliminary drawings show the oil and gas pipeline running.

Enterprise has 51,000 miles of fossil fuel pipelines and storage capacity of 225 million barrels and 14 billion cubic feet of natural gas storage capacity.

The Midland to Houston Pipeline project, according to an Enterprise Products project overview, would be 416 miles of new 24" pipeline for the Midland Terminal to the Sealy Terminal. The initial design capacity would be 200,000 barrels per day, expandable to 540,000 barrels per day.

Same sex marriage

that marriage is a relationship for man and woman.

We don't believe this to be a culturally conditioned and, thus, only temporal matter for a bygone era. Consequently, we will not perform same-sex ceremonies at Grace."

Presbyterian Church of Salado, Reverend Carl Thompson: "The Session of the Presbyterian Church of Salado voted to keep the traditional, Biblical interpretation of marriage as between a man and a woman. Therefore, any requests for a ceremony that would deviate from the understanding of the definition of marriage will not be conducted in this church."

Salado United Methodist Church, Minister Lara Whitley Franklin: "Salado United Methodist Church is one congregation within the connectional system of The United Methodist Church. Therefore, my response to your question concerning Salado United Methodist Church is to offer to you the paragraph below that has been released by the Central Texas Conference of The United Methodist Churches on behalf of Bishop J. Michael Lowry, episcopal leader of the Central Texas Conference. "While fully respecting the Supreme Court ruling, the United Methodist Church's position on same-sex marriages has not changed. The understanding of Bishop Mike Lowry, episcopal leader of the Central Texas Conference of The United Methodist Church as well as that of the Central Texas Conference's Chancellor is that the Supreme Court's decision is directed at state laws that bar same-gender persons from marriage and not at religious doctrine or church law, therefore the decision does not change section 341.6 of the United Methodist Discipline or any other church law. As such, nothing about our current doctrine or discipline has been changed. United Methodist clergy are not permitted to perform same-gender marriages and such ceremonies may not be held in our churches according to the United Methodist Discipline. Performance of a same-sex wedding ceremony is a violation of current church law (§ 2702.1(b) The Book of Discipline, 2012, p. 776). Only General Conference has the right to change church law. The General Conference of The United Methodist Church next meets in May 2016 in Portland, Oregon."

Salado Church of Christ, Minister Joe Keys: "As a body of believers who are striving as best we can by God's grace to be faithful to what He tells us in the Bible, we could not in all good conscience honor any same sex couple's request to be married in one of our church facilities. Speaking for myself personally, I could not nor would I ever perform a marriage ceremony for a same sex couple. Though God loves every human being as his child by virtue of creation, the Bible is very plain as to what He says about not only the sin of homosexual union, but about his disdain for those who would sanction or try and institutionalize the same. See Romans chapter 1, verses 24-32 as to what the apostle Paul says on the matter."

St. Joseph Episcopal Church, Father Bob Bliss: Salado Village Voice reached out via email to Father Bliss and found out from a follow up phone call that he is out on vacation for three weeks.

St. Stephen Catholic Church, Father Aloysius Nzewke: "The Bishop is the chief shepherd of the Catholic Churches in Diocese of Austin. therefore, the bishops stand on the issue is the official position of St. Stephen's church. That position, stated by Bishop Joe S. Vázquez: I am deeply saddened by the Supreme Court's decision to require States to recognize same-sex marriages, because the opinion is based on the court's belief that the culture has changed its views of marriage. This causes confusion among those who are faithful to the Gospel and erodes rights of persons in each State. Regardless of the court's decision, the nature of the human person and marriage remains unchanged and unchangeable. We will remain true and faithful to the Gospel and we will continue to call people to look deeply into the beauty of our theology of marriage and to come to a full understanding of a true sacramental marriage. Jesus taught that from the beginning marriage is the lifelong union of one man and one woman. We follow our Lord and will continue to teach and to act according to this truth. I join my brother bishops in encouraging the faithful to move forward with faith, hope, and love: faith in the unchanging truth about marriage, rooted in the immutable nature of the human person and confirmed by divine revelation; hope that these truths will once again prevail in our society, not only by their logic, but by their great beauty and manifest service to the common good; and love for all our neighbors, even those who disagree with our faith and moral convictions. We intend to proclaim the goodness, truth, and beauty of marriage as rightly understood for millennia."

While Salado Village Voice did not receive responses from all of our contacts (it is summer vacation time), we will continue to publish those statements if and when we receive them. Additional coverage is at saladovillagevoice.com
