Donald Trump has been elected the 45th President of the United States.

Trump leads a Sea of Red

Donald Trump won the presidency taking at least five states that Barack Obama won in 2012. Trump flipped Florida, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Iowa.

It is likely he will take more when the final results come in from New Hampshire, Michigan, Arizona and Minnesota.

As of presstime 8 a.m. Nov. 9, Trump had 276 Electoral College votes while Hillary Clinton had 218 with Michigan, New Hampshire and Arizona all leaning to Trump and only Minnesota leaning to Clinton. With 97 percent of the popular vote reporting, Clinton held the slightest of leads with 59,168,466 compared to Trump's 59,032,954, but that lead will likely disappear when the late states are called.

The Republican Party held both houses of Congress, losing only one seat in the Senate to hold on to a 51-seat majority. The GOP keeps the House with 236 seats compared to the 199 Democrat seats.

Locally, Salado turned out heavy for the Republicans, with more than 75 percent voting for Trump.

There will be some new faces at the State House, with two of them representing Salado.

Scott Cospers

Salado will have a new Republican State Representative in Scott Cospers, who easily won election to Dist. 54.

Salado will also have a new Republican State Senator with the election of Dawn Buckingham for Dist. 24.

Dawn Buckingham.

The Mass Bands Parade marks the opening ceremonies of the Scottish Gathering at noon on Nov. 12 on Main Street.

Scottish Gathering Highland Games this weekend

The 55th Scottish Gathering and Highland Games (www.saladoscottishfestival.com) will be held on the grounds of the Salado Civic Center, Nov. 11-13. Heralding all things Scottish, this landmark event is the oldest Scottish festival in Texas and has been sponsored continuously by the Central Texas Area Museum since 1961.

The three-day event includes the skirl of bagpipes, wearing of the tartan, tossing the caber, Highland dancing, Celtic entertainers, shopping, food and fun. One of the event's main features is the Clan Village, the largest gathering of Scottish Clan tents in Texas where members from nearly 40 Scottish Clans will share information about Scottish history and genealogy.

The weekend begins on Friday evening with the Calling of the Clans at 6 p.m. Nov. 11 on the Salado Creekside just north of the Museum building on south Main Street. This is a solemn torchlight ceremony that recreates the coming together of the ancient Scottish clans to fight with Robert the Bruce for Scotland's freedom in 1314 at Bannockburn. The ceremony is followed by a Welcome Social at the Museum.

The Civic Center grounds are open Saturday 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Nov. 12. The official opening ceremonies begin at noon with the Bands and Clans Parade on Main Street followed by presentations and massed bagpipe bands on the grounds. The parade will start at North Pace Park Road and move north on Main Street to the Civic Center grounds. The day's activities include Scottish athletics competition, Highland Dancing competition, bagpiping and drumming competitions, Battle of the Clans tug-of-war, live Celtic music, a Celtic marketplace, local and Scottish food vendors and more.

The day closes with the Texas Tattoo at 5 p.m. Nov. 12 on the grounds at the entertainment tent. The Tattoo includes performances by bagpipe bands, Highland dancers, and Celtic musicians. Entertainers for this year's Gathering are Scottish singer Ed Miller, Celtic band The Here and Now, Scottish accordionist Hugh Morrison with singer Jed Marum, and singing trio The DramBeauties.

Sunday events (9 a.m.-3 p.m.) begin Nov. 13 with the Kirkin' o' the Tartan, a traditional devotional service in which family groups carry banners of their family tartans and ask blessings on the families. The day's activities include bagpipe band competition, Clan tents, children's Scottish athletics, dog parade and contest, music, food, and shopping.

The Wee Scots Gift Shop will be open all three days in the Museum building, located on South Main Street across from the historic Stagecoach Inn.

Bowls from the kiln will be available during the Salado Empty Bowl 11 a.m.-1 p.m. Nov. 12 at the Salado Intermediate School Cafeteria.

Empty Bowl is Nov. 12 at SIS

Salado Empty Bowl will be 11 a.m.-1 p.m. Nov. 12 at the Salado Intermediate School cafeteria. The fund-raiser features soups from many of the Salado restaurants and bed and breakfast inns coupled with a take home pottery bowl from local potters.

Tickets are $25 per person for the soup and the take home handmade pottery bowl or $10 for the soup lunch alone.

Participating restaurants and inns are these: Alexander's Distillery, Cathy's Boardwalk Cafe, Stonecreek Settlement, Baines House, Johnny's Steaks & BBQ, Inn at Salado, McCain's Bakery and Cafe, Ambrosia Tea Room, Salado Patio, Brookshire Brothers, The Pizza Place, The Shed, The Range, Lively Coffee House & Bistro, Heart-Filled Bakery and Mill Creek Grill. Proceeds from Empty Bowl benefit the Salado Family Relief Fund, established in 1996 as a non-profit tax deductible organization.

Since then, Salado Family Relief has helped thousands of children in the Salado area during Christmas time and back-to-school.

Each year, the Family Relief Fund provides

Christmas for about 150 children in the Salado ISD. It provides back-to-school vouchers for clothing and supplies to 150 students each fall.

Salado Family Relief Fund receives no tax dollars and relies entirely on contributions of money and in-kind services from local individuals, churches, civic organizations, businesses and groups.

The Democrats Asked for This

Before Democrats burn James Comey in effigy, they should think about how the FBI director came to have an outsized influence in the election in the first place.

It's not something Comey sought or welcomed. A law-enforcement official who prizes his reputation, he didn't relish becoming an object of hate for half the country or more. No, the only reason that Comey figures in the election at all is that Democrats knowingly nominated someone under FBI investigation.

Once upon a time -- namely any presidential election prior to this one -- this enormous political and legal vulnerability would have disqualified a candidate. Not this year.

The country has clearly lowered its standards in this election, as evidenced by Donald Trump's mad-cap candidacy. But Hillary's nomination was itself an offense against American political norms and an incredibly reckless act. And the Democrats were supposed to be the party acting rationally.

Clinton effectively locked up the nomination in June and wasn't cleared of criminal wrongdoing by the FBI until July. What if she had been indicted? Would Democrats have run her anyway? Would they have substituted a 74-year-old socialist who had lost the nomination battle, or someone else who hadn't even run?

The Democrats risked it, in part, because they could never bring themselves to fully acknowledge the seriousness of the email scandal and, relatedly, the ethical miasma around the Clinton Foundation. They considered it all another desperate trick of the Vast Right-Wing Conspiracy.

Democrats bought the just-so stories offered up by the Clinton campaign. The FBI investigation was just a "security review." The FBI wasn't investigating Hillary, but only her server. Anything to deflect from the seriousness of the matter.

While Democrats willfully looked the other way, they put James Comey in an impossible position. An indictment would change the course of American history. That was all on him. He ultimately blinked. But he also put on the record the recklessness of Clinton's practices as secretary of state in an attempt to create public accountability.

Comey's conduct is open to criticism, but there is no way to please everyone when handling an investigation with such high political stakes. All that can be said is that if Democrats didn't want the FBI to have any part in the election, they could have considered that before handing Hillary Clinton their nomination.

Trump may be a deeply flawed candidate, but he caught a wave of popular fervor; Hillary, with her astonishing vulnerabilities, is a production of the Democratic elites who did everything to get her over the finish line.

Just how vulnerable is she? If it weren't for the new trove of Huma Abedin emails, the blockbuster news would come via a Wall Street Journal report that the FBI is investigating the Clinton Foundation -- although Fox News reported the same thing at the beginning of the year, and Hillary, of course, dismissed it as an "unsourced and irresponsible claim that has no basis."

The email scandal and Clinton Foundation will dog Hillary until Election Day and, should she win, into her presidency. For this, she has no one to blame but herself -- and her irresponsible enablers.

Let's talk Deer

Let's talk deer.

Facts: (1) Salado's growing deer population is difficult to manage. (2) The Board of Aldermen/Lady (BOA) never sanctioned or approved killing deer by any means.

To understand managing the deer population, the BOA invited Texas Parks and Wildlife Biologist, Derrick Wolter, and Game Warden Officer, Captain Scott Jurk (pronounced Yurk), to present a workshop, 3 November. The public presentation, presented the following information:

- (1) Sterilization of deer in Texas is illegal -- State Law.
- (2) Trapping or netting deer is legal but expensive (approximately $125 a deer). Even with available funding, no known landowners want trapped deer for fear of disease/illness.

(3) In season, deer can be harvested on a person's private property with a hunting license.

(4) However, no person may pursue wounded/dead wildlife or an arrow across a property line without the consent of the property's landowner. Under the Penal Code trespass provisions; a person on property without the landowner's permission is subject to arrest.

(5) Discharging a weapon on or across a public road is illegal.

(6) Hunting at night or with a light is illegal.

(7) For archery weapons, 4-5 acres is recommended for safety.

(8) Without managing deer, disease/poor health is inevitable.

(9) Banning deer feeding is a "step in the right direction." Corn is the poorest deer feed as it cannot be digested. Within six hours, corn alters the rumen turning it acidic and destroying the microbes needed for digestion. Death is likely.

(10) Fawns can breed and produce offspring 7 months from birth.

(11) Deer generally remain in one location and do not travel to other locations.

Following the workshop, the BOA and Village attorney met and directed Alderman Williams and Coachman to write an Ordinance, Managing the Deer Population and present it for review.

Eight Ways to Strengthen Our Democracy Beyond Voting

By CHUCK COLLINS

Throughout this trying election season, we've been told how much is at stake with our vote. But the success of any democracy depends on continuing to pay attention long after we cast our ballots.

So let's pledge to strengthen our democracy with a few resolutions to focus our intentions and keep us moving forward over the next four years.

1. Change your media diet.

Way too much ink, air-time, and mental real estate has been consumed by the horserace reporting on elections -- it's all about who's winning and losing. So unplug from the talk shows that interview pollsters and engage in partisan bickering all day. Find the commentators and independent media outlets that strengthen our civic life.

2. Turn off corporate media.

This election has been very profitable for big media corporations, but bad for our democracy. As CBS chairman Les Moonves remarked, "Man, who would have expected the ride we're all having right now? The money's rolling in and this is fun."

Our differences have been compounded by media reports that amplify the loudest and most partisan utterances. Election coverage this year has encouraged us to view one another as cartoon caricatures, not neighbors.

3. Reject the consumer mentality in elections.

We're encouraged to view national elections like consumers buying a car, but presidential elections can make most of us feel like spectators, not participants. Election Day is a small part of our real democracy -- think of voting as a tiny fraction of your civic life.

4. Make your voice heard.

Pledge to communicate with your elected officials all year round, not just when they want your vote. Call, write, email, and attend community forums. When a politician hears from a dozen constituents with the same concern, it matters.

A few resolutions must address our polarized political atmosphere. The only way to break through this is by connecting with people we don't always agree with.

For instance, the liberal California sociologist Arlie Hochschild spent five years interviewing conservative Tea Party activists in Louisiana, making friends and asking deep questions. She urges us all to scale the "empathy wall" and learn each other's stories.

Here's a few easy ways to get started.

5. Try a social media fast.

Social media is amazing, but it mostly serves as an echo chamber to reinforce our existing views. It's not a substitute for talking to people, asking questions, and learning why people support certain policies.

6. Practice the art of civil discourse.

Find ways to meet others face-to-face to engage in conversations, not soap-box speeches and debates. Look at the "Living Room Conversation" movement that brings people together across political divisions. Their goal is to encourage "authentic, respectful conversations" to "strengthen relationships and advance understanding of the challenges, opportunities, and solutions before us."

Finally, other resolutions should focus on changing our polarizing election system.

7. Eliminate the wealth primacy.

Long before voters cast their ballots in a primary, big money donors have winnowed the field and selected who will stand for election. People all across the political spectrum agree that we need fundamental campaign finance reform to reduce the influence of big money, including the repeal of Citizens United.

8. Break the two-party duopoly.

A growing number of voters have declared independence from the two major parties. So why do we allow other voices and perspectives to be excluded from presidential debates? Our democracy would benefit if we had real choices outside the two major parties, as they do in most other countries in the world.

The strength of our civic life depends on what we do outside elections. And especially after the deeply toxic experience of 2016, we all need to step up to protect our real democracy from those who profit from division.

Bayleigh's Bears collects stuffed animals for AWARE Central Texas

Bayleigh's Bears reminds you that the group is once again collecting stuffed animals to donate to AWARE Central Texas. Boxes are located at all of the Salado ISD campuses for the donations of stuffed animals. Bayleigh's Bears are collected in memory of Bayleigh Ringo and distributed to agencies that use the stuffed animals to help children who are suffering through immediate crises situations.

The mission of AWARE is prevention of child abuse, neglect, and family violence.

Education is key to prevention. Prevention is the key to diminishing child abuse and domestic violence in our community, according to the AWARE Statement of Philosophy.

AWARE focuses on three level of prevention: Primary Prevention – where abuse has not been identified.

Secondary Prevention – focuses on underserved and at-risk families.

Tertiary Prevention – where abused has been identified.

To reduce child abuse and domestic violence in Central Texas using the following strategies:

Create awareness in the communities of Central Texas and beyond

Educate the community about child abuse and domestic violence.

Provide volunteer family coaches to at-risk families

Provide parenting, anger management, and mood/stress management classes

Provide anti-victimization (anti-bullying) training in schools and the community AWARE was formerly Family Outreach of Bell County. It was started in 1986 as the volunteer arm of Child Protective Services of Bell County. The purpose of the agency was to assist in the prevention of child abuse and neglect in high-risk families. Up until a few years ago, there were 34 similar centers across Texas and four were located in Central Texas. In 2003, the Texas legislature eliminated funding for the supervising Family Outreach social workers and as a consequence all but ten centers closed.

Central Texas had gone from four centers to only one.

In 2006, Aware Central Texas was born. This agency is no longer associated with Family Outreach Services but the legacy of compassion, mentorship, and prevention continues.

AWARE (Aware Central Texas) has become a nationally recognized CAP Center (Child Abuse Prevention Center) through the National Exchange Foundation. With this title comes accreditation using a research based model.

AWARE is the only agency focused solely on the prevention of child abuse.

It is also only one of three Children Abuse Prevention Centers in all of Texas. Aware believes that education is the key to prevention and prevention is the way to diminish the high rate of child abuse/neglect and family violence in our area.

HPU first-year students enjoy exciting semester

BROWNWOOD – An exciting fall semester at Howard Payne University is rapidly drawing to a close. The first-year students at HPU's Brownwood campus comprise the university's second-largest class in 16 years. Nikolas Lowrance from Salado is among the first-year students at HPU.

Recent campus events include Homecoming, during which students participated in activities such as a parade, bonfire, fireworks show and more. Other fall events include a variety of music recitals and concerts, theatre performances, athletic events, weekly Chapel programs and more.

Students at HPU participate in 30 official student organizations, and the university's co-curricular programs include Moot Court, Model United Nations, Student Speaker Bureau and Mock Trial. Student athletes at HPU compete in six men's and six women's sports through the American Southwest Conference, and many students participate in intramural sports.

Dr. Magen Bunyard, vice president for student life and dean of students, said the first-year students quickly acclimated to life at HPU.

"With the encouragement of upperclassmen, faculty and staff, our new students have made a home for themselves at HPU," she said. "We're proud of their involvement in campus life, and we're looking forward to the successful completion of their first semester as HPU Yellow Jackets."

SARW meeting to hear Colbert on the Convention of States Project Nov. 17

Salado Area Republican Women will learn about the Convention of States Project at their 11:30 a.m. Nov. 17 meeting at the Salado Civic Center.

The lunch will be provided by Ambrosia Tea Room of Salado. The featured speaker will be Tamara Colbert, the co-director, Texas, for the Convention of States Project. Tamara is a small business owner, wife and mother to three boys, one who is currently serving overseas in the U.S. Air Force.

Tamara Colbert

Tamara is the 12th great-grand daughter of Captain Miles Standish. "I believe that every citizen has the duty to stand as a Guardian of Liberty,"

she said. "The Convention of States Project is the Founders tool put into Article V of the Constitution for the States and citizens to use to protect liberty."

"Regardless who wins the Presidency it will take more than a change in personnel to fix the structural issues with the federal government," Colbert said. "The only way for the States and the People to restore liberty and the Constitution is through getting together to propose amendments and solving our challenges together as citizens through our states legislatures."

She will explain Gov. Abbott's "Texas Plan", the Convention of States Project, and the upcoming 85th legislative session.

Visitors are welcome but reservations are requested for seating and food. Cost to attend is $12 and reservations may be made by contacting Barbara Swarhout at bswarhout@exede.net or 414-491-2341 no later than Friday, Nov. 11.

Obituaries

PVT. DAKOTA LEE STUMP

FORT HOOD, Texas -- Fort Hood officials have released the name of a Soldier who was found deceased Nov. 3 here.

The remains of Pvt. Dakota Lee Stump, 19, were discovered next to a flipped-over vehicle, which was registered to Stump, in a wooded area approximately 100 yards from the roadway near Building 43028 on Fort Hood. Stump had been missing since Oct. 10.

The vehicle was discovered at approximately 11:50 a.m. Nov. 3 by Soldiers who were conducting land-navigation training. Based on the extensive damage to the car and surrounding trees and foliage, early indications are the vehicle left the roadway, entered the wooded area and rolled over multiple times, according to law enforcement officials. Due to the terrain and heavy vegetation, the vehicle was not visible from the road.

Stump, whose home of record is listed as Avon, Indiana, entered active-duty service in March as an indirect-fire infantryman. He was assigned to 4th Squadron, 9th Cavalry Regiment, 2nd Armored Brigade Combat Team, 1st Cavalry Division, Fort Hood, since July.

Stump's awards and decorations include the National Defense Service Medal and Army Service Ribbon.

Circumstances surrounding the incident are currently under investigation by Special Agents from the U.S. Army Criminal Investigation Command. An autopsy will be performed by the Office of the Armed Forces Medical Examiner, Dover Air Force Base, Delaware.

He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. To him who overcomes, I will grant to eat of the tree of life which is in the Paradise of God.

Chef Angell works his food magic to diversify SISD menu

By MICHAEL NOVOTNY
SISD SUPERINTENDENT

Our food service staff have the difficult task of preparing meals for hundreds of students each day and doing it for a very low price while meeting the many state and federal regulations regarding calories, fat, sugar, and sodium content. This year we are working with Chef Kelly Angell, a culinary consul-can develop a culinary program to help prepare interested high school students for possible careers in food service as well.

An essential part of improving our school meals is constructive feedback from parents, teachers and students. We would love to hear not only your opinions on how we can improve, but also your ideas for future menu items. Our ultimate goal is to feed our students a healthy, delicious meal so they can learn and achieve what we know they are capable of accomplishing. We know learning is impossible on an empty stomach. Our food service director, Brenda Hodges is excited to hear from you. Brenda can be reached at brenda.hodges@saladoisd.org, by phone at (254) 947-6987, and in her office located in the Salado High School Cafeteria.

We are excited to be serving a Thanksgiving Lunch Nov. 18 at Salado High School. Parents and community members are invited to join us that day for lunch to get just a small peek at what Chef Angell is doing for SISD. Anyone interested should contact Brenda Hodges, by Wed., Nov. 16.

tant, who many Saladoans might know from his work as Chef and Owner at Adelea's on Main Bistro that was in Salado for several years. Kelly is helping to diversify our menu to provide our students with the best possible food and to train our staff in the culinary arts. A few of our goals include:

1. Increasing meal participation by offering Chef inspired items like our Caprese Chicken Flatbread Sandwiches, Fish Tacos and Thai Chicken Flatbread Pizzas
2. Providing more variety by creating new grab and go items like entrée salads with house made salad dressings and our healthy take on Lunchables

3. Cooking from scratch as much as possible in an effort to serve our kids more whole foods

In addition to improving our department's culinary skills, we are also excited to employ a few of our older students with special needs in our cafeterias to help them develop employment skills and earn an income. It is our hope that eventually we

Legal Services to Low-Income Texas Veterans

Mark Richardson

AUSTIN, Texas - There seems to be no shortage of challenges to overcome for those who have served in the U.S. military, but when the problem involves a legal issue, help is available for veterans in Texas.

The Texas Veterans Legal Assistance Project serves low-income veterans, stepping in to provide free legal help, including for family and employment issues and securing veterans benefits.

Tim Gasaway, the project's managing attorney, says many Texas veterans need extra help in getting a handle on life's problems.

"We have a pretty extensive outreach program," he points out. "We cover the entire state of Texas.

"Our goal is to serve under served populations so we attempt to reach out to veterans across the state, particularly rural veterans who often don't have any access to legal assistance or representation."

Gasaway says the project provides attorneys at no charge to veterans, spouses, dependents and survivors whose household income is at or below 125 percent of the federal poverty line. He says the projects handles most cases in-house, but sometimes refer cases to attorneys near where the veteran lives, who agree to work without a fee.

Gasaway says the project provided help to more than 1,300 veterans last year.

"We handle family law, employment cases, housing cases, consumer protection cases, bankruptcy, probate, and Department of Veteran Affairs benefit applications for compensation benefits," he states. "We also do military discharge upgrade applications."

Gasaway says low-income veterans can face unique challenges with the legal system.

"Oftentimes, those people simply just don't have access to legal assistance because they can't afford an attorney," he explains. "They don't have the resources to pick up and travel to a distant city to meet with attorneys, and so we step in and provide assistance."

The project does not handle criminal cases. Gasaway says the program, part of the Texas Legal Services Center, receives the bulk of its funding from the Texas Access to Justice Foundation.

Veterans can contact the hotline at 1-800-622-2520.

SHS theatre's fall show created 'from scratch'

The Salado High School Theatre Department will present its annual fall show November 10 and 17 at 7 p.m. in the cafeteria.

Using a method called "devised theatre," students have created a show from scratch based on the Gandhi quotation "Be the change you wish to see in the world." Students were asked to write on this topic as part of their audition process and eventually developed their ideas into a full-scale production of original work.

"Our show's director, Dixie Darling McColough, came to me with the idea of doing devised theatre for the fall show," SHS Director of Theatre J.J. Jonas said. "Over the past three months, students were guided to write original monologues, compose original music and lyrics, and create original choreography that would complement the written segments using complex metaphorical imagery, movement, and music."

In general, devised theatre typically begins with little more than a rehearsal space and a group of people committed to an idea.

"Over time, a text emerges, one covered with

Former HS Principal Burt Smith inspires his Eagles

On the Friday morning before their last home football game, the Salado Eagle Varsity football team hosted a special guest in their weekly team forum Nov. 4.

He was an All-District Linebacker and All-State Fullback in high school, where his team was ranked #1 in the State of Oklahoma during his Senior Season. A multi-sport athlete, All-District Baseball player, batting average and Homerun leader, he was also a powerlifting State-Qualifier, as well as Track athlete. He received multiple offers to play at the collegiate level, was High School Valedictorian, Class President, and

Dr. Travis Burleson, Burt Smith, and Eagles quarterback Hayden Haire.

Who was this all around athlete and talented individual? Bo Jackson? No. Burt Smith, Salado's own Deputy Superintendent for Salado ISD.

The theme of the morning was "mental toughness" and Burt spoke to the Eagle squad about how success and mental toughness had gone hand in hand in his life. He would know. Burt is currently battling one of his toughest tests in life, fighting his way through cancer treatments.

"Guys, I can't begin to tell you how my learning to stay focused, motivated, and mentally-tough as a student-athlete, has proven so valuable to me throughout my life. At the end of the day, it's you who decide your value and what you're going to get out of life," said Smith.

Following his successful career as a high school athlete, and earning his bachelor's and master's degrees, Burt went on to become a successful teacher, coach, Principal, then Administrator. Under his leadership as Principal, our own Salado High School was back-to-back UIL Lone Star Cup Champions.

"It's so important what you have right here. This team, this comradery is going to last a lifetime," added Smith to the team. "And the way you're learning to handle adversity now will take you far against the tests of life later."

Following their inspiring time together, Eagle Quarterback Hayden Haire, along with Director of Player Development, Dr. Travis Burleson presented Smith with a special token of their team appreciation - an Eagle-jersey with Burt's old high school number 40 and name on it. "For your commitment, attitude, and all you stand for, we wanted to present this to you," said Dr. Burleson. "We know there will never be another rambling #40!"

The team talk on mental-toughness must have worked! The Eagles stayed focused and powered their way to victory in their final Home game - even after it was delayed until the next day. The Eagles now play LaGrange in the first round of the playoffs Nov 12 at A&M Consolidated high school stadium in College Station.

Eagles post winning records, sweep final week of games

Senior running back Jake Harvey racked up 179 combined rushing and receiving yards, scoring 4 touchdowns against Waco Connally. PHOTO BY RON LEQUIN

For the first time in eight years, the Salado Eagles have a winning record.

The last time the Salado Eagles had a winning record in football, George W. Bush was the President of the United States and Rick Perry was Governor of Texas. In 2008, during Jeff Cheatham's final year at the helm of the Salado Eagle football program, the Eagles went 7-3 and 5-1 in district play.

This year, in his first year as Head Football Coach, Alan Haire inherited a 1-9 team and turned it into a team with a 6-4 record, 3-2 in district play as the smallest team in District 9-4A Div. II, rather than the largest team in District 25-2A, Div. 1.

To get there, the Eagles beat the Connally Cadets 33-28 on Nov. 5, in a game that was delayed by malfunctioning lights at Eagle Stadium.

Connally took the early lead in the final game of the regular season on a two yard run by Kristian Evans. Gerardo Bazaldua kicked the PAT.

Jake Harvey scored on a 22 yard run and Jake Walrath tied the score at 7-7 with his kick.

Connally took the lead again in the first on a 76 yard pass from Ricky Gerik to Devin Miles. Bazaldua kicked the PAT for a 14-7 lead.

Salado scored twice in the second to take a half-time lead of 19-14.

Quarterback Hayden Haire dove in from the 1 yard line, but the kick failed.

Harvey caught a rare pass from Haire for a 30 yard touchdown. The PAT pass failed.

The Eagles stretched their lead with a three yard run by Harvey in the third quarter. Walrath's kick made it 26-14.

Connally bit away at the lead in the third on a six yard run by Evans. Bazaldua kicked the PAT to bring the score to 26-21.

Salado extended the lead to 33-21 on a 46 yard run by Harvey. Walrath toed the PAT.

The Cadets scored in the fourth on a three yard run by Evans and kick by Bazaldua, but it was not enough as Salado held on for the win.

Salado had 301 yards on 61 carries. Harvey led the rushing attack with 125 yards on 18 carries. Trey Sheppard was close behind with 124 yards on 22 carries. Aaron Torczynski had 54 yards on 14 carries.

The Eagles also had 125 yards in the air. Haire threw nine passes with seven completions and a TD. Torczynski caught five of those passes for 71 yards while Harvey had two catches for 54 yards and a TD.

The Eagles held Connally to 325 yards total offense, including 140 yards on the ground and 185 yards passing.

With the win, Salado will represent District 9-AAAA Div. II as the third place team, behind the powerhouse Lorena Leopards and Robinson Rockets.

The Eagles (492 enrollment) will face the La Grange Leopards (627.5), the second place team from District 10-4A Div. II where the competition is not as fierce.

Salado and La Grange kick off at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 12 at A&M Consolidated High School, 1801 Harvey Mitchell Pkwy S, College Station.

Beyond the dominant #7 Giddings Buffaloes, District 10-4A does not have the strength of schedule and teams that District 9-4A has. It resembles Salado's old 3A district of Giddings, Caldwell, La Grange and Smithville with the additions of Columbus and Gonzales.

Giddings (587) will face the Connally Cadets (660) in the bi-district round. Lorena Leopards (537) will play Gonzales (721) in the area round. Robinson (712) will play Caldwell (538) in the area round.

Salado JV Eagles aren't used to trailing at the half, but Waco Connally held a slim 8-6 lead on Nov. 3. The Eagles would overtake the Cadets in the third and hold on for a 20-8 win to post an 8-2 record.

"This was a great game and season for this team," Coach Troy Ramsey said. "The team won the game because they never gave up and continued to play physical football the entire time."

Connally took an early lead with a touchdown and two-point conversion in the first quarter.

Salado scored in the second on a two-yard run by Brandon McEndree. The conversion failed and Salado trailed 6-8.

McEndree scored in the third on a six yard run. Bradley Poteer ran in the conversion for a 14-0 lead.

Poteet scored in the fourth quarter on a six yard run, but the PAT kick failed.

The defense was led by Hunter Bales, Rustin Hale, Gordy Wilson, Clayton Zak, Tommie Barker, Juan Castillo and Garrett Knight.

The offense was led by McEndree, Poteet, Jeb Sproul, Walker Hawkins, Trace Medlin, Sydney Blisard and Caleb Chambliss.

"This is a great group of guys to work with," Ramsey said. "A special thanks to the team moms who provided pregame snacks and locker room decorations before every game."

Salado 34
Hendrickson 0

Salado ninth grade Eagles posted a winning football record after crushing Pflugerville Henderson in their final game of the year, 34-0 on Nov. 3.

Ethan Scott scored on a seven yard run but the conversion failed in the first quarter.

Caleb Self hit Jacob Markham for a 40 yard touchdown. Hunter Turk ran in the conversion to give the Eagles a 14-0 lead at the end of the first.

Tyler Compton scored on a 34 yard run in the second. Hunter Pannell ran in the conversion to give Salado a 22-0 lead.

Pannell scored on a 38 yard run later in the second. The conversion failed and the Eagles took a 28-0 lead to the lockers at the half.

In the fourth, Hunter Turk caught a seven yard pass from Self. The conversion failed.

The Eagles finished the season 6-4 on the year.

the fingerprints of each and every participant," McCollough said.

McCollough said she was eager to introduce Salado students to devised theatre because it is such an organic process and one over which students can claim true ownership and discover hidden talents.

"A director guides the process, but the dividing lines between performer, author, choreographer, musician, technician, and even designer often blur or disappear over the course of rehearsals," McCollough said. "The end result is that no one person writes the play. It is a collaborative effort and an organic process of shared ideas."

Segments in the show include a wide range of topics ranging from the personification of Compassion as a near-extinct creature to a humorous song about two girls and their "First World Problems." One segment promotes the importance of seeing from various "Perspectives," and another shows how one girl fights the battle for a positive self-image in "Less Big." Original songs by Rayne Polkowski ("Sorry") and Bailey Tindell and Bobby Cunningham ("Don't Change for Me") are two of the musical highlights of the show; violinist Brooke Miller and guitarist Nolan Maldonado round out as accompanists.

Several of the scenes throughout the production depict stories in which a person overcame obstacles in his or her life. Titles include "Drowning," "Tap Story," "Vulnerability," and "Invisible." A particularly unique segment about the courage of standing up as an individual is entitled "Bar Code."

"The title of the show, 'Ab Intra,' is Latin for 'from within.' All the stories in this show came 'from within' in the sense that they are original material, but also because it takes courage from within each of us to change who we are for what we can become," McCollough said.

Technicians and set designers were tasked to create a set that represented the raw potential of a person who could change from a rigid mindset to a growth mindset. The SHS technical theatre class and show crew accepted the challenge of making the set part of the storyline as well. Cracked brick walls of graffiti surrounded by rusted barrels and fire create the infertile grounds of the past perceptions and moving water lights irrigate the ideas of positive change and growth.

"One of our campus goals under the direction of our principal, Ross Sproul, has been to encourage a growth mindset among our students. The Gandhi quote was the springboard that encouraged our students to really consider this kind of thinking—to see challenges in life not as defeats or failures, but as opportunities from which they can grow and learn," Jonas said.

Objectives of the devised theatre project were to feature students' undiscovered skills and give them opportunities to shine as well as to advance high critical thinking through a culmination of combined fine arts, including writing, music, dance, and design.

"I was privileged to witness the process and to have watched the journey of these students over the past few months. I am so very proud of our growth and the advancements we have made in self-confidence and performance," McCollough said. "I think Salado will be very proud of what we have created."

Tyson home featured on Salado Historical Society Tour of Homes

The walls are graced by art collected on world travels and inherited from family members. Vintage stained-glass windows bring sun into the rooms. Rugs soften polished floors of reclaimed wood. Rooms are full of furniture from many eras, chosen by Knox and Betsy Tyson, who have eclectic tastes and keen eyes for the things they like to have around themselves.

The Tyson home was the first built by Darwin Britt, Lonnie Joe Edwards and Steve Wesson. It is one of three private homes that will be part of the annual Salado Historical Society Tour of Homes Dec. 2-4.

The Tour of Homes will feature the Tyson home at 615 DeGrummond, the Newman home at 2221 Chisholm Trail, the Cooper Home at 2101 Bluff Circle, the Historic Log Cabins on the grounds of the Salado Civic Center and the historic Salado United Methodist Church Chapel, all decorated for the season.

Tickets purchased before Thanksgiving are $18 per person and are available at the Salado Visitor's Center. Tickets purchased after Thanksgiving will be $20 per person. Tickets will be available at each step on the tour.

The Homes Tour will be 5 - 8 p.m. on Dec. 2, 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. on Dec. 3 and 1 - 4 p.m. on Dec. 4.

Darwin Britt built the house of beams and planks that were harvested from cotton warehouses in Waco. It is built in the Rustic Contemporary style.

High ceilings soar over the living room, allow light to flow in through stained glass windows. In this room is a Wooton desk or Wells Fargo desk. This treasure was featured in the 1998 Antiques Road Show from San Antonio.

One of five family dwellings to be seen on the annual homes tour sponsored by the Salado Historical Society and a feature of the Christmas Stroll held on the first two weekends of December.

The DeGrummond property roams over its wooded terrain like a ranch house. Constructed entirely of wood, except for stone planters around its base and its brick chimney, it stands on huge timbers planted deep in the rocky soil. All the windows are old and are of different sizes--not to worry, the aforementioned architect, Darwin Britt, designed the home to fit the windows and interior doors. For all his buildings he scoured old warehouses and wherever good old wood, grayed beautifully by time and weather, could be found. It appears to have been there forever.

Beadboard and pine paneling are in every room as well as ceilings with heavy exposed beams.

Two features have created its memorable appeal: one, its incredible staircase supported by 26 ft. tall timbers. Second, an enormous 200 year old oak tree around which the deck has been built.

This is a house in which you would expect to find old family pictures, beautifully framed mirrors, paintings by known and unknown artists (there is an original Salinas bluebonnet oil painting on a prominent wall); velvet parlor sofas and chairs (Victorian era); a kimono brought to the States by the owner's grandfather, an officer in the Navy, now hidden under the upholstery of a love seat; splendid furniture and linens in guest bedrooms as well as the master suite; several tapestry wallhangings; books, books, and more books. Strangely enough all the above might suggest dust and the aroma of age. But not here. Everything is fresh, light and airy as if built and decorated yesterday.

Monarch Butterfly

Monarch Butterfly travels far

For a naturalist, living in west Texas definitely has its share of fringe benefits. The diversity of the flora and fauna that can be observed here is nothing short of amazing. One of the amazing feats of nature west Texans are privy to are the roundtrip travels of a small insect. Of course, one does not have to be a naturalist to be impressed with the epic journey that the Monarch butterfly makes every year, as well as the beauty that this species possesses.

The Monarch Butterfly's (Danaus plexippus) natural range is rather mushroom-shaped in appearance. It frequents the small Mexican states of Michoacan and Mexico during the winter months, while it occupies a large east-west ranging portion of the northern United States and southern Canada during the summer months. It is during its travels to these haunts that it passes through the corridor of west Texas. The Monarch will typically make its appearance here first in mid-April to early May as it heads north to its summer home, and then appear here again in late September to early November as it travels back to the warmer climate of its winter home. The Monarch is the only butterfly known to migrate on a regular basis

The Monarch Butterfly is one of the most distinctive and colorful butterflies that occurs in west Texas. The upper wings are dark orange in coloration and are bordered in black. There are numerous small white spots randomly situated inside this black border, as well as along the rear edges of the orange-colored wings. There are also several orange spots close to the tips of the forewings, and the veins and margins are deep black. The head and thorax are black and the head is littered with small white spots, while the thorax is solid black. The abdomen has several pairs of white lines that traverse either side of this body part. As this butterfly lands, the wings are clasped together to reveal the under wings, which are yellow-orange in coloration, rather than being dark orange like the upper wings. The under wings also have larger white spots than the ones that appear on the upper wings. This species is also sexually dimorphic, which means that the males and females have differences in coloration. Males have a black patch of scales along the hind wings that are responsible for the release of female-attracting pheromones, and the black lines on the veins are much narrower than those that appear on the female. Males are also the larger sex, with adults achieving a total wingspan of approximately four inches, while mature females only attain a wingspan of about three and one-half inches.

This type of butterfly is an almost plant-specific feeder, feeding on the flowers of most milkweed species. It utilizes an appendage known as a proboscis to feed on these items. The proboscis is long and almost threadlike, and in times of non-use is curled up under the head of the butterfly.

The Monarch, like other butterfly species, undergoes a four-stage life cycle that can be described as nothing short of miraculous. In the beginning stage, their life begins as an egg, which hatches after a few short days into the next stage. Upon hatching, the larvae are known as caterpillars, and at this stage, the growth rate is highly accelerated. Caterpillars can eat twice their body weight in a single day, and as such, grow quickly. As they grow, they literally grow out of their skins, and they shed their outer layer of skin up to five times (known as molting) before they enter the next stage of their life cycle. Caterpillars of the Monarch are quite colorful as they are banded with white, black, and yellow rings, and attain a length of about two inches. After the caterpillar finds a spot in which it feels is secure, it will pupate as it forms a protective shell about it known as a chrysalis. The chrysalis version of the Monarch is pale blue-green with small golden spots. Inside of this shell, the larvae changes into the butterfly that it will soon become. After about a week, the adult will emerge from this shell with its wings intact, although they are crumpled into small balls on the sides of the body. The butterfly will then pump a clear fluid into the veins of their wings, causing them to expand much the same way a stick can reinforce a kite.

Upon reaching maturity, the Monarch will immediately begin searching for food, water and a mate. After mating, the males will continue their search for other receptive females, while the females will begin to look for a site suitable to lay eggs so a brand new life cycle can begin.

Like its close relative the Queen, the Monarch is a poisonous species of butterfly, said to be quite bitter and distasteful. As such, the Viceroy, another species of butterfly, has adapted to look like, or mimic, the Monarch.
