Rosine Smith Absolutely Incredible!

The Central Texas Youth Coalition will host the 15th Annual Incredible Kid Celebration on April 10, recognizing ten area students. The Central Texas Incredible Kid Celebration recognizes the special children in our lives, whether they are our children, grandchildren, nieces and nephews, students, or even the child of a friend or neighbor.

Rosine Smith

Salado senior Rosine Abuwe Smith will be among the 10 Absolutely Incredible Kids to be honored at the luncheon.

She is the adopted daughter of SHS Principal Burt Smith and his wife Jami.

She was nominated by Salado ISD Superintendent Michael Novotny.

She "is one of the most resilient and positive young ladies I know," Dr. Novotny said in the nomination. "Where you see her, she will have a smile on her face and she will be making those around her laugh. Her kind heart and sweet spirit make her one of the most incredible people I know."

Smith has lived in the U.S. for five years. Her mother sent her along with her brother to the U.S. from Rwanda, Africa to escape the violence and threats to their lives. Most of Rosine's family, who were Tutsis, were murdered, including her father, grandparents, aunts, uncles and cousin. Her mother and three brothers lived in a refugee camp in the Congo for two years. When they returned to Rwanda, they were threatened, beaten and had their property damaged or destroyed.

When she was only 12, the Hutus told her mom that they were going to rape and kill her, so her mom made the choice of protecting her children by sending them to America.

When her two older brothers could not get visas to leave the country, Rosine's mother made the decision to stay with them.

Rosine and her 15-year-old brother Adalgis were sent to live with a distant cousin in Maine. They spoke no English.

They moved to Plano to live with the sister of their priest from Rwanda. This was where they met the Smiths, where Burt served as an administrator in the school they attended. The Smiths learned that the two children were going to be sent back to Africa, they contacted Child Protective Services and became foster parents. In June 2011, the Smiths received permanent managing conservatorship.

In her first two years of high school in Plano, Rosine excelled in and out of the classroom. Even though English was her second language, she enrolled in Advanced Placement and honors courses and was involved in Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps and theater.

She received the academic excellence award in AP Human Geography and AVID and received the Shepton High School Outstanding Citizenship Award for the character, honor and integrity she exemplified.

She was the captain of her rifle team and color guard, Company Sweetheart and won both the Military Order of the Purple Heart National Leadership Award and the Superior Junior Cadet Decoration Award. She was one of 10 cadets to attend the Junior Cadet Leadership Camp. She was a class member of Plano Youth Leadership.

When her father took the principal's job in Salado, the Smiths moved here for the final two years of Rosine's high school career.

She continues to take AP and honors courses and is active in many extra-curricular activities.

She was the manager for volleyball and boys basketball, and well-loved as Eddie the Eagle, SHS mascot.

She is involved in Student Council and is a leader in her church youth group.

"While living through threats to her life, separation from her mother, living in a country where she did not know the language and being moved from place to place," Dr. Novotny said, "Rosine's spirit never let down. She has always maintained a positive attitude, worked hard and never missed a day of school."

"She loves people," he added, "and has a natural way of making them feel better no matter what they are dealing with."

Rosine is going to be a Marine. "She wants to serve this amazing country," Dr. Novotny said, "that has embraced her, taken care of her and saved her from danger."

Joyce Hazlerig of Gypsyharte Arts works fibers during the Texas Wine and Rogue Art Fest on the grounds of Salado Winery and Salado Wine Seller, 841 Main St. last week. The Festival, by all accounts, was a tremendous success with more than 3,000 souvenir wine tasting glasses sold. More than 20 wineries from around Texas participated in the festival, pouring tastes of their wines for the throngs of people who came out on March 29-30. Several wineries sold out of stock and had to go back for more for the second day of the show. (PHOTOS BY TIM FLEISCHER)

Village to consider sewer

Salado aldermen at their 6 p.m. April 3 meeting will consider accepting the donation of the Stagecoach Inn Sewer Treatment Plant.

The board will discuss the proposal during a 4:30 p.m. workshop session and again at 6 p.m. City administrator Jim Reed and village attorney Alan Bojorquez have been working with Morris Foster and aldermen on the details of the proposal to accept the donation of the sewer treatment plant that serves Stagecoach Inn and at least a dozen other commercial properties on the south side of Salado Creek. Reed has stated that he wants to assure that the Village does not incur unforeseen expenses for the plant during the time that it prepares a bond proposal for the construction of a central sewer plant for the Village.

In other business, aldermen will conduct the first of two public hearings on the proposed West Side Overlay, which will give the Village additional authority in influencing how the west side of I-35 is to be developed. In addition to the current regulations in the zoning ordinance and building codes, the West Side Overlay will cause developers to consider such things as pedestrian sidewalks, green space and how the building looks from West Village Road when building commercial properties on the west side of I-35.

Aldermen will also conduct the first public hearing on an amended sign ordinance.

In other business, the board will discuss a swap of extra-territorial jurisdiction with Belton, accepting an annexation request from a homeowner and a proposed veterans memorial for Salado.

Candidate forum April 10

Salado Chamber of Commerce will host a Candidate Forum at 6 p.m. April 10 at the Salado Civic Center.

Candidates for Salado ISD Board of Trustees, Salado Board of Aldermen and Salado Mayor will be given an opportunity to speak at the forum, followed by a period of questions and answers from the audience.

School board will go first, followed by the Village candidates.

Salado Village Voice candidate profiles begin on April 10 edition.

In a feat that would have been unimaginable a few decades ago, the anti-vaccine movement has managed to breathe life into nearly vanquished childhood diseases.

It took all the ingenuity and know-how we are capable of to find safe, effective ways to dramatically diminish diseases like measles and whooping cough in the developed world; it took all the hysteria and willful ignorance we are capable of to give them a boost. A developer of the measles vaccine, Dr. Samuel Katz, says the question "is not whether we shall see a world without measles, but when."

Not if Jenny McCarthy has anything to say about it. The former Playboy model and current co-host of "The View" is a leading light of the anti-vaccine movement. She has a boy with autismlike symptoms that she is convinced were caused by the vaccine for measles, mumps and rubella (MMR). You can credit her passion for her child, sympathize with her heartbreak -- and still cringe at her wholly irrational cause.

No amount of discrediting makes a difference. One theory was that a preservative in children's vaccines called thimerosal was causing autism. But the U.S. removed thimerosal from most child-

Rich Lowry

But the number is much higher in some states. The more kids go unvaccinated, the greater the chance that diseases can get a foothold.

They usually are imported from abroad, but the absence of vaccination is a boon to their spread. A study in the journal Pediatrics found that the 2010 whooping-cough outbreak in California -- when the state had the highest number of cases since 1947 -- hit hardest in areas with high levels of nonvaccination. In 2013, measles cases tripled nationwide.

In the panic created by the Wakefield article, England saw MMR vaccination rates fall to 80 percent in 2004 and Wales to 78 percent. In 2012, England and Wales had the highest number of measles cases in 18 years.

These are dangerous illnesses, and the victims of an outbreak are often infants too small to have yet received vaccinations. Jenny McCarthy styles herself a "mother warrior." If so, the kids sickened in the fallout from reduced vaccinations are the victims of friendly fire. Nothing good can come from undoing one of the miracles of medical progress.

Rich Lowry is editor of the National Review. (c) 2014 by King Features Synd., Inc.

hood vaccines in 2001. If the theory had been sound, this should have reduced cases of autism. It didn't. Cases have continued to rise, and the same held true in Canada and Denmark after eliminating thimerosal in the 1990s.

Another theory, latched onto by McCarthy, is that the MMR vaccine in particular causes autism. Dr. Andrew Wakefield publicized this supposed link in a famous article in the British medical journal The Lancet. It has since been thoroughly debunked. The Lancet retracted Wakefield's paper, and the British Medical Journal reported that he "falsified data." He had his medical license revoked. All of which should have been enough to give the anti-vaxxers pause.

Nonetheless, they fight on. In a recent interview with the Fox Business Network, former MTV star Kristin Cavallari plugged the anti-vaccination cause, citing "books" and "studies."

Most parents don't listen. Only 1.8 percent of kindergartners get exempted from vaccinations, according to NBC News.

Scout builds tables for sculpture garden

Salado Sculpture Garden is located just off of North Main Street on Salado Plaza Drive in Salado. Folks who stroll along the path can now rest or enjoy a shaded spot for a sack lunch at one of two picnic tables that Troop 153 Boy Scout Joshua Lesley completed this winter for his Eagle project. "I was glad Salado Mayor Danney McCort and Keep Salado Beautiful chairwoman Susan Terry allowed me to complete my Eagle project in the Salado Sculpture Garden." Joshua, who was 14 years old when he finished the project this past November, is a ninth grader at Salado High School and member of the SHS soccer team. He is shown at top with fellow Life scout Josiah Guthrie and his father

If you can make it to the top of Eagle's Nest Hill west of Salado, you have really done something. Salado Smokin Spokes had more than 400 entries and more than 350 actual riders for their event on March 29, according to Salado Volunteer Fire Department Chief Shane Berrier. The day was beautiful despite hail storms that did damage throughout Salado on March 28.

Eagles in spot they don't like: third

Shortstop Britton Hawes turns to throw the runner out trying to reach second as part of a double play to end the sixth inning on the road against Rogers. The damage had been done, however, as Rogers added two runs in the sixth for a 4-1 lead.

It has been a long time since this happened. Salado Eagles lost back-to-back district games last week. The losses drop Salado into third place in District 22AA.

Salado Eagles left five runners stranded on six hits and committed two errors in the bottom of the sixth that allowed two runs to score, helping the hosting Rogers Eagles put the game away 4-1 March 29.

The game was scoreless through the top of the fourth, but Rogers scored two runs with two outs in the inning and Carson Skala at second base. Blake Hoelscher doubled to left to score Skala. He advanced to third on a single to left by Mason Drake, scoring on a fielding error.

Salado closed the gap to 2-1 in the sixth. Cole Haag doubled and courtesy runner Jake Bloomer advanced on a groundout by Little. Chase Basham flied out to left field to score Bloomer.

In the bottom of the sixth, Rogers added two runs to seal the game. Maiorka singled to center and advanced to third on an errant throw by the pitcher. He scored on a single by Skala. A fielding error put runners at first and second. Salado walked Hoelscher and Drake flied out to center, scoring Skala. Britton Hawes, Jacob Little and Preston Payne combined on a double play to end the inning.

With one out, Craig Lightfoot singled, but Rogers pitcher P. Moore forced a fly out and struck out the final batter for the win.

Salado outhit Rogers 6-5 in the game, but committed three errors, each of them costly as they contributed or allowed runs to score.

The Eagles had opportunities to put away Cameron Yoe, but passed on them both offensively and defensively to suffer their first loss in district March 25. Cameron won 3-1 thanks to a fifth-inning home run Michael Evan with two base runners. The Eagles had recorded two outs in the inning before Justin Pratt and Jaime Dominguez reached on a fielder's choice and a single. Evan then took the second pitch over the left field fence for the 3-1 lead.

Yet Salado had a chance in the top of the seventh as the Eagles loaded the bases with no outs with a single by Casey Frazier, a walk to Jacob Little and a single by Chase Basham. However three straight flyouts ended the Eagles' chances.

Athletic Boosters tee off golf classic April 18

The Salado Athletic Booster Club is having their Annual Golf Classic Tournament on April 18 at Mill Creek Country Club. Money raised from this event will be used to fund scholarships to all eligible Salado High School Senior Athletes.

"It is time to get your team of four together to come out and play," Shann Armstrong said. "If you don't have a group of 4, come play anyway! "

Teams of four will be created from individual entrants and partial teams, men and women included.

"We need as much community support as possible as we have a record number of eligible seniors this year," Armstrong said. Every year, the Salado Athletic Boosters award scholarships to graduating seniors.

If you are unable to play, you can support this event by sponsoring a hole. A Hole Sponsor is $100 and your name will be displayed on a sign as a supporter.

Prizes will be awarded for first through third place,

Longest Drive, Closest to the Pin, and Most Challenged Team. The Hole-in-One is being sponsored by Don Ringler.

Reserve your spot to play by emailing Shanna Armstrong at armstrongs_5@yahoo.com. You can also download an entry/sponsor form from the booster club website and mail it in. www.saladoathleticbooster.org.

For questions contact Shanna Armstrong at 512-217-7776 or Suzanne Payne at 254-721-3605

Packards return to Salado

The 37th Annual Texas Packard Meet will be held April 4-7 at the Stagecoach Inn in Salado. It is the oldest regional Packard meet in the country and one of the largest.

This meet is sponsored by the Texas Packard Association, comprised of the four Packard Clubs in Texas.

Typically there are 40 to 70 cars and well over 100 master registrations. Being the 37th edition of this meet will likely increase the numbers. Last year, there were over 60 Packards on display with collectors coming from 11 states.

Participants enjoy a tour, all Packard swap meet, people's choice competition, seminars, and awards dinner. Packard lovers from all over the country compete for the long distance award.

Viewing for the public is free on Saturday morning April 6 on the grounds of the Stagecoach Inn.

Packards were once seen as some of the most prestigious on the market. The founder of the company, James Ward Packard, was an engineer by trade and began producing automobiles as early as 1899. The first Packards were designed as luxury automobiles and were priced much higher than the competition. In 1902, the Ohio Automobile Company was renamed The Packard Motor Car Company and moved to Detroit. The last Packard came off of the assembly-line in 1958.

Famous hand

Contract Bridge

By Steve Becker

France won the 1992 World Team Olympiad, defeating the United States in a 96-deal final. Today's deal provided the French with a substantial pickup in the match.

When France's Alain Levy and Herve Mouiel held the North-South cards, the bidding went as shown, and West led a heart. No doubt many declarers would have taken the first heart and played the A-K of diamonds without giving the matter much thought. But when the diamond queen failed to fall and the club ace later proved to be offside, they would have gone down, unable to reach the A-K of spades in the closed hand. However, this was the final of the world championship, and Mouiel, as would be expected, spotted the virtually sure way to make nine tricks. After taking the first heart in dummy, he led the diamond deuce to his ten. This lost to West's queen, but the diamond nine was established as an entry to the closed hand, and there was no way the defenders could stop South from scoring five diamonds, two hearts and two spades for a total of nine tricks.

At the other table, the U.S. North-South pair of Michael Rosenberg and Seymon Deutsch reached five diamonds. Rosenberg, North, won the opening heart lead and played the A-K of trumps. He then cashed his other high heart and ruffed a heart in dummy. Next came the A-K of spades, declarer discarding two clubs, followed by a spade ruff. Rosenberg then exited with a diamond to West's queen.

Had West started with precisely a 3-3-3-4 pattern, he would have been forced to return a club at this point, allowing dummy's king to score the game-going trick. As it was, though, West was able to exit with his last spade. Rosenberg had no choice but to ruff and lead a club to the king, and when West produced the ace, the contract was down one, giving the French a 12-IMP gain on the deal.
