Petition circulates for off-premise alcohol sales

By Tim Fleischer
Editor-in-Chief

A soldier passing through in July 1869 described "as being the first tee-total, 'sure enough,' 'total abstinence' village that I ever visited."

That impression has changed quite a bit as the Village of Salado now has three wineries, a grocery store that sells beer and wine and restaurants that offer a full selection of mixed drinks.

And after Nov. 11, that impression may change even more if a local man has his way.

Robert Dudeczka has collected well over 280 signatures himself in less than seven days since the Village of Salado Board of Aldermen approved his initial petition for a local option election for the legal sale of all alcoholic beverages for off-premise consumption.

Dudeczka says that he plans on turning in to Village Secretary Margret Murray a completed petition of the signatures of registered voters living within the municipal limits of the Village of Salado in order to call for the local option election to be part of the Nov. 11 ballot.

The signatures will have to be verified by the Village of Salado before the election can be called for November.

When the board of aldermen approved the initial petition of 10 signatures that allow for the circulation of a petition that will require a number of signatures of registered voters living within the Village of Salado boundaries totaling 35 percent of the total ballots cast in the Village of Salado in the last gubernatorial election.

Dudeczka said he needs 354 signatures, according to the Bell County Voter Registrar's office.

State law allows the local option petition to circulate for 60 days before it must be turned in to local authorities for verification. However, it is unclear to Dudeczka whether that 60 day window would allow him to collect signatures toward a May 2014 election or not.

He is shooting for the November 2013 election, though, and thinks he will have enough signatures by the end of business Aug. 8 to turn in to the Village of Salado.

If the requisite number of signatures are verified by Village of Salado staff, an election will be called for Nov. 11.

Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission states that there are 10 types of local option elections:

- "The legal sale of beer for off-premise consumption only." Beer in a grocery or convenience store.

- "The legal sale of beer." Beer in a grocery or convenience store AND beer in a bar or restaurant.

- "The legal sale of beer and wine for off-premise consumption only." Beer, malt liquor and wine in a grocery or convenience store.

- "The legal sale of beer and wine." Beer, malt liquor and wine in a grocery or convenience store AND beer, malt liquor and wine in a bar or restaurant.

- "The legal sale of all alcoholic beverages for off-premise consumption only." Beer, malt liquor and wine in a grocery or convenience store AND beer, malt liquor, wine and distilled spirits in a liquor store.

- "The legal sale of all alcoholic beverage except mixed beverages." Beer, malt liquor and wine in a grocery or convenience store AND beer, malt liquor, wine and distilled spirits in a liquor store AND beer, malt liquor and wine in a bar or restaurant.

- "The legal sale of all alcoholic beverages including mixed beverages." Beer, malt liquor, wine and distilled spirits in a bar or restaurant.

- "The legal sale of mixed beverages in restaurants by food and beverage certificate holders only." Beer, malt liquor, wine and distilled spirits only in a restaurant.

- "The legal sale of wine on the premises of a holder of a winery permit." The sale of wine at a winery.

Currently, the Village of Salado has approved the sale of beer and wine for off-premise consumption, the sale of mixed beverages by food and beverage certificate holders only and the legal sale of wine on the premises of a winery permit.

Hans Fields and Salado artist Lonnie Edwards carry a mural that Edwards painted in 1994 to its new home at the Central Texas Area Museum. The painting is based upon an historic painting of Salado and shows a walking bridge over the Creek, Salado College and the Tyler house among other landmarks. Also immortalized in the painting is the dog that followed Edwards around for more than a decade. (PHOTO BY STEPHANIE HOOD)

Mural finds new home

Artwork by local artists on display, for sale on Aug. 17 to benefit museum

Local citizens carried a large mural by Salado artist Lonnie Edwards from the old Tyler house on Main Street to its new home at the Central Texas Area Museum on south Main St.

Traffic stopped as volunteers carried the mural across the Main Street bridge to hang it on the wall of the Museum.

The Central Texas Area Museum is housed in the Grange store just north of the Salado College ruins. The old Grange store, a walking bridge over Salado Creek, the Tyler house and the two-story limestone Salado College building are key points of interest to the mural painted by Edwards in 1994 when La Mansion de Salado (later anglicanized as The Salado Mansion) opened in the old Tyler house, built in the late 1850s.

Central Texas Area Museum has its displays in the older part of the Grange building, but the Hall of the Clans and the nearby Wee Scots Shop are in newer additions to the building.

The mural now graces the south wall of the Hall of the Clans.

Central Texas Area Museum will have this piece of permanent art on display on Aug. 17, as well as several pieces of art by Salado artists that will be on display for a special evening.

A bronze sculpture by Ronnie Wells, who has housed his art gallery on south Main Street for about a quarter of a century, will be on display and auctioned off to the highest bidder. Wells is a monument sculptor of national renown. One of his monument pieces can be seen at the Ducks Unlimited headquarters in Tennessee.

Other items to be auctioned include these: an original landscape painting by Salado artist B. Herd, a folk art stagecoach sculpture by the late Wilbur Foster, a longhorn chandelier that hung in The Mansion, and an over and under shotgun commemorating the 50th anniversary of Ducks Unlimited that has never been

This bronze sculpture by Salado artist Ronnie Wells will be sold at auction Aug. 17.

Wine and cheese will be served at 5 p.m. with the live auction beginning at 5:45 p.m. Aug. 17. Phone bids and sealed bids will be accepted any time until items are put up for bid, by calling either 254-947-5232 or 512-484-5392.

All auction items will be available for preview at the museum beginning at 10 a.m. Aug. 17. Bids on the silent auction items may be made at any time during the preview until 6:30 p.m. Winners of the silent auction items will be announced following the live auction.

Tickets in the amount of $25 per person may be purchased at the museum or by calling 254-947-5232. Pre-registration is preferred but not required.

The live auction will benefit repairs and upgrades (electrical wiring, air conditioners, etc.) for the century-old building now housing the Central Texas Area Museum artifacts as well as the new home for the Salado Historical Society artifacts.

Eagles take field

All in. That's how Head Coach Brent Graham describes the efforts of the 85 players and the coaching staff, which started two-a-day practices on Aug. 5.

Practices have been upbeat, Graham said, and at a fast tempo. "There is a contagious spirit out there."

Graham takes the reins of a football program that has won eight games in the past three seasons.

While some statewide pundits debate whether the Eagles will make the playoffs in the toughest district in the state, Graham and his staff say there is a new spirit in Salado.

From last year's squad, 14 lettermen return for varsity play this year.

The Eagles return four offensive and four defensive starters from last year's 2-8 squad. Additionally, 16 seniors have turned out for practice, some of whom skipped last year. The two-a-days have also seen an influx of 35 freshmen, giving the young head coach a young team to build upon.

Players will don the pads for the first time Aug. 9 in preparation for an early morning scrimmage at 8 a.m. Aug. 10 at Eagle Field.

Returning starters include two-way starters Ryan Simmons, who played quarterback and outside linebacker and Clayton Cole, who started at linebacker and running back.

Other offensive starters include Chase Crenwelge, running back, and offensive lineman James Collins.

Returning to the defense are Peyton Womack, defensive line and Davis Little, defensive back who also saw a lot of time as a receiver last year.

The season officially starts on Aug. 30 on the road against Rockdale.

Obituaries

CLARENCE TRUETT HAMPTON

Services for Truett Hampton, 79, were held Aug. 6 at First Baptist Church, Salado with Reverend Dr. Scott Mescher officiating.

Clarence Truett Hampton, 79, died July 31, 2013 at his home in Salado surrounded by his family. Born in Ireland, Texas on August 2, 1933, he was one of four children born to Clifford Hampton, a Baptist minister, and Evelyn Pauline Elms. After working as a clerk and soda jerk at two local pharmacies, Truett graduated in 1951 from Hamilton High School. With a lifelong dream to become a pharmacist, Truett completed his basic college courses at Howard Payne University in Brownwood, Texas before enrolling in Pharmacy School at the University of Texas at Austin in 1953. His studies were interrupted, however, when he was drafted during the Korean War. Following his military service in the army, Truett returned to Pharmacy School, receiving his pharmacy degree and license in 1959 and relocating his family to Temple soon after. By 1970, he was able to open his own pharmacy in Temple before establishing Medical Arts Pharmacy at a new medical clinic in Killeen, where he operated for 27 years. Although his business was located in Killeen, Truett made his home in the Temple/Belton region throughout his pharmacy career that spanned nearly five decades.

He married Carolyn Kay Gearhart in 1978. They lived in Belton moving to Salado 24 year ago. He was a member of First Baptist Church of Salado, where he previously taught Sunday School. Truett was also an avid Texas Longhorn and sports fan who enjoyed playing tennis, bowling, dominos, and table tennis.

In addition to his wife Carolyn Hampton, Truett is survived by four grown children--eldest daughter Joni Lange of Temple, Jami Hampton of Austin, Randy Hampton of Carrollton, and Todd Hyer of Belton--sister Jean Dunlop of Waco, as well as eight grandchildren and 13 great grandchildren. He is preceded in death by his daughter Jeni Kim Hampton Taitano and two brothers.

Memorial contributions in lieu of flowers may be made in his name to First Baptist Church, Salado, 210 South Main Street, Salado, TX 76571, or to Scott & White Hospice, 2401 S. 31st Street, Temple, Texas 76508.

Services are in the care of Broecker Funeral Home, Salado.

Raymond L. McKee

Raymond L. McKee, age 81 went to be with his Savior, Tuesday, July 30, 2013, surrounded by the love of two daughters, 2 granddaughters and two sisters. The family will receive friends from 6:00 PM until 8:00 PM Thursday at Myers & Smith Funeral Home.

Funeral service will be at 3:00 PM Friday at Myers & Smith Chapel with Rev. Monroe Teeters and Rev. Randy Cotton, officiating. Burial will be at Mount Olive Memorial Park. Raymond was born June 6, 1932, to Lewis and Veda (Walker) McKee in rural Howard County.

As a young man he went to work for Smith & Coleman Oil Company. Later changing professions, he went to work as a used car manager for Polard Chevrolet and Farris Pontiac.

He had a love for music and in his spare time he played stand up bass at the legendary Stampede with Hoyle and Ben Nix. He became fast friends with Hoyle's son Jody Nix who was just a child. They remained lifelong friends and Jody was faithful in his weekly visits until Raymond's passing.

He enjoyed rodeos and was a calf roper. He introduced his children to horses at a very young age when he taught them to compete in the Howard County Youth Horseman Club and Rodeos themselves. He followed bull riding for many years.

In 1975, Raymond moved to Salado, Texas where he and his wife, Joan founded Cowboy's Bar-B-Que. At that time, he acquired the nickname "Cowboy" and to many that is all they knew him by.

In 2001 he returned to Big Spring to be closer to his family where he rekindled old friendships and made new ones. At that time, he became a born again Christian and a member of Salem Baptist Church. His jokes and sense of humor made him a joy to be around.

Raymond is survived by 4 daughters, Verlinda Phillips and husband Stanley, Rhonda Hayes, Brenda Canady and husband Clifton all of Big Spring and Terra Lawrence and husband James of Tyler. Two sons, Rance McKee and wife Cindy of Belton and Preston McKee and wife Gloria of Hobbs, N.M. Seven sisters, Rachel Shaffer and Neva Shaffer both of Big Spring, Mary Eggleston of Midland, Sue Whitaker of San Angelo, Karen Murphy and husband John of Odessa, Jennie Shaw and husband Ronald of Smyer and DeLores Andrews and husband Ray of Odessa. Raymond was preceded in death by his parents Lewis and Veda McKee, one sister, Frances Thomas, one grandson, Bryan McKee, one son-in-law, Dr. Robert Hayes and four brothers-in-law, L. B. Thomas, Jack Shaffer, Roy Shaffer and Bill Eggleston.

Pallbearers are Rance McKee, Preston McKee, Joey Fernandez, Zachary Fernandez, Trevor Williams, Chad Williams, Ricky Prater and Joey Jackson. Honorary Pallbearers are Ty Lawrence and James Lawrence.

The family would like to give a special thanks to Parkview Nursing and Rehabilitation staff along with Crossroads Hospice staff for their gentle care and compassion.

Arrangements are by Myers & Smith Funeral Home. Pay your respects online at www.myersand-smith.com

An Open Exchange of Ideas

Suicide by Government

Rich Lowry

The case of the city of Detroit isn't much of a murder mystery. Various suspects have been fingered in its demise: The global economy. The fall of the auto industry. The decline of manufacturing generally. But it's simpler than that. Detroit died of its own hand.

The city undertook a controlled experiment in what happens if you are governed by a toxic combination of Great Society big spenders, race hustlers, crooks, public-sector unions and ineffectual reformers. It spent and misgoverned itself into the ground. Detroit discovered that all the social spending in the world doesn't deliver order, family stability, education, economic dynamism or effective governance.

The city's downfall started long before anyone imagined that the Big Three would ever be anything but overwhelmingly dominant. Hardly anyone had heard of Toyota in 1967 when riots ripped the city and a long crime wave began that made it unlivable. According to Henry Payne of The Detroit News, the murder rate climbed from 13 per 100,000 residents in 1966 to 51 per 100,000 by 1976. It was the city's dysfunction that made it unappealing to the auto companies rather than the diminished state of the auto companies that made the city dysfunctional. The city's mayor for 20 years, Coleman Young, was an ethically challenged black nationalist who hated the suburbs. Under Young, journalist Zev Chafets writes, Detroit had "all the trappings of a third world city -- the showcase projects, an external enemy and the cult of personality." And this was in the good old days of the 1970s and 1980s.

By this point, Detroit had already reached terminal velocity on its own. GM had nothing to do with the City Council promising benefits to retirees that it couldn't possibly pay. Chrysler didn't disgracefully mismanage city agencies. Ford didn't disastrously degrade the city's human capital.

Detroit is a city that has celebrated and feasted on government for decades and yet is incapable of the most basic function of government. Crimes basically aren't solved. The clearance rate is 8.7 percent. This in a city that needs a first-rate police force. Its crime rate is five times the national average. Henry Payne notes that 80 percent of the city's children grow up fatherless, and that of the 50 percent of black men who are high-school dropouts, more than 70 percent don't have a job, and 60 percent have done time.

The city rewards anyone who can't escape its boundaries -- more than a million people have since 1950, when it had 1.8 million residents -- with stifling taxes in a futile attempt to keep up with spending. It has the highest per capita tax burden in Michigan, despite the low per capita income of its residents.

None of this is the product of the "creative destruction" of capitalism. Despite globalization, urban America is alive and well outside of Detroit. Pittsburgh experienced similar economic dislocation when the steel industry collapsed, but hasn't descended into an urban dystopia. Cities in the South like Houston and Raleigh, N.C., are economically vibrant and attractive to new residents. The way Detroit was once, a very long time ago.

Steve Cohen, Meet Al Capone

More than 80 years after the big-time mobster got busted for tax evasion, the feds may bar a cocky hedge fund manager from trading for his "failure to supervise."

Al Capone was a bad boy. How bad? He cheated on his income taxes.

He went to prison in 1931 for that. Not for the people he gunned down, nor for any of the other gross illegalities the guy committed as a notorious Chicago mobster. Tax evasion landed Capone in the slammer.

Now comes Steven Cohen. He's not known to have killed anyone and is not a mobster. (Capone didn't think he was one either -- he called himself a "businessman.")

Yet Cohen, a multibillionaire Wall Street hedge-fund huckster, shares with Capone the unpleasant experience of being pursued by the authorities -- and possibly getting nailed on the Wall Street equivalent of tax evasion.

Cohen's hedge fund, SAC Capital, was caught pocketing a gazillion or so in profits through the criminal enterprise of insider trading. But Steve was able to dodge those criminal charges in the usual Wall Street way: by buying off the government. SAC paid the Securities and Exchange Commission about $600 million to make the problem go away, without having to admit guilt or be bothered by a trial. Neat.

Yeah, a $600 million fine would be a death sentence for you and me, but it's barely a hiccup for Cohen & Company -- his outfit typically pulls in about a billion dollars a year just in "management" fees, not counting profits on investments. So Steve skated. Or so he thought. Now, his firm is fighting another criminal case.

And it turns out that Mary Jo White, the new chief of the Securities and Exchange Commission, is no pushover for hotshot finaglers. Suddenly, Cohen finds himself facing a civil charge: "failure to supervise" his hedge-fund traders. That might seem minor, but like Capone's tax evasion, it could be very major, for the SEC's punishment can include being barred from conducting Wall Street business.

See, when regulators have the will, there really are ways to go after Wall Street lawlessness.

Members of the Sam Houston Chapter of the Children of the Republic of Texas volunteered at the Historic Salado College Park during a work day on Aug. 3. Members toured the new signage that presents the history of the site and then picked up trash around the perimeter of the park. The youth were able to remove 40 pounds of trash, mostly discarded cups, bottles and cans from the historic site. The Children of the Republic of Texas organization began in 1936 when the Daughters of the Republic of Texas determined there was a need for a youth organization.

Singer-Songwriter Series continues

The Stagecoach Inn Resturant will feature Central Texas Singer/Songwriters at 6:30 p.m. each Saturday in August.

Patric D'Eimon will be featured on Aug. 10 and Aug. 24.

D'Eimon grew up in Seattle. At the age of 19 he joined the National Touring Company of HAIR and toured for 2 years to all the states. After that D'Eimon went San Francisco and began writing songs while singing in clubs, on the streets and in bands. He moved to Alaska in the early 80's where he continued to play in clubs and opened his own recording studio. He now lives in the Austin area. You can find him on facebook at facebook.com/patricdeimon

Dale Dillard will appear Aug. 17 and Aug. 31.

Born and raised in Central Texas, Dillard discovered his talent for music late in life. With the help and encouragement from his brother in law

Jerry Davis, he honed his talent for writing songs. He is a singer/songwriter doing what he loves, singing original tunes for audiences in the central Texas area.

Established in 1860, the Stagecoach Inn has served countless numbers of travelers during its 152 year long history. Throughout these years, the Inn has sheltered many and the restaurants have fed both locals and travelers alike.

Starting again this February, the Stagecoach Inn Longhorn Room will be the site for the continuing monthly music series to entertain not only the Stagecoach guest but is open to the general public for all to enjoy a wide variety of family entertainment. Weekend Concert & Lodging Packages and table reservations are also available. For more information, call 254-947-5111.

The Stagecoach Inn Resturant is located on Main Street.

and Entertainment. Nursery will be available at no charge with pre-registration. A $25 donation will purchase a high-quality backpack for a child.

"Our goal is to purchase 60 backpacks for use during the 2013-2014 school year," said Marilyn Griffin, one of the organizers of the event.

Call 254-947-5482 for tickets or reservations or email Marilyn Griffin at marilyn.griffin@medtronic.com for additional information or to make a donation.

Salado Family Relief is funded completely by donations from the community and the board of directors and staff are volunteers. Founded in January, 1999, the SFR organization has provided assistance to Salado families and individuals in need. There are a number of ways that assistance is provided including rent, utilities, clothing, food, school lunches, school supplies, and Christmas toys. The "Back to School" program began in August, 2002 and in the past 10 years there have been over 700 times when school clothing and supplies have been distributed. Women's Ministry at SUMC has donated almost 200 backpacks in the past three years and will be continuing to meet this special need.

a unique Tavern Experience...

Thank You Friends & Neighbors
for EIGHT GREAT MONTHS!

Since November our goal has been to create a unique tavern experience in Salado by providing good food and drinks in a fun, relaxed, family friendly atmosphere.

Your response tells us we've met that goal!

Our next goal is to be the place

"Where everybody knows your name"

A place for weary travelers, thirsty tourist and hungry neighbors!

Keep your eye on the ball

Contract Bridge

By Steve Becker

The great majority of mistakes made in bridge are of the common garden variety. A player who errs usually knows better than to commit the particular error he makes, but, for some inexplicable reason, he takes his eye off the ball at the critical moment.

Consider this deal where South failed to make three notrump in a fairly routine hand. West led the jack of hearts. Declarer won East's king with the ace and returned the club queen. West went up with the king and led the ten of hearts, forcing out the queen.

South now had to go down one, whatever he did next. In practice, he tried the jack of clubs, but West rose with the ace and cashed three heart tricks to put a quick end to the proceedings.

Declarer would have made the contract had he taken the simple precaution of ducking East's king of hearts at trick one. He should have realized that if East had another heart to lead, the defense could score at most two hearts and two clubs to hold him to nine tricks, while if East did not have another heart to lead, the contract could not be stopped regardless of what other suit East returned.

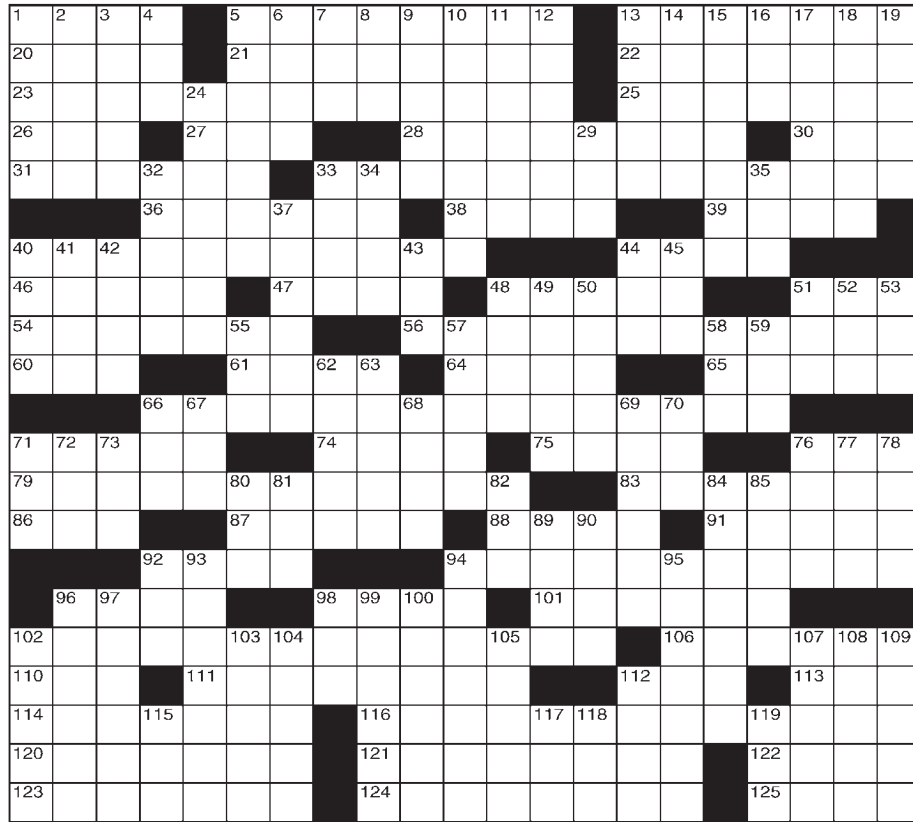

The only combination of cards that could prevent South from getting home safely was for West to have five hearts and the A-K of clubs. South should therefore have ducked the king of hearts at trick one to protect against this possibility. There was no good reason to take the king, and a very good reason not to take it.

Sandwiches taste terrific with the addition of fruit

CUCUMBER SANDWICHES WITH STRAWBERRIES AND WATERCRESS

When summer fruits are at their sweetest, peaches make a worthy substitution for the strawberries in this recipe.

- 8 large strawberries
- 4 ounces (8 tablespoons) Neufchâtel, softened
- 1 tablespoon chopped mint
- 1 teaspoon lemon zest
- 1/2 seedless cucumber, thinly sliced
- 1 bunch watercress, long stems trimmed
- 8 slices whole wheat sandwich bread

Chop 4 of the strawberries and slice the remaining 4. In a large bowl, mash chopped strawberries with a fork. Add Neufchâtel, mint and zest and mix until well combined.

watercress over half of the slices. Top with remaining slices to form sandwiches, then cut in half and serve.

MT. TAM CHEESE AND TURKEY BAGUETTE SANDWICHES

Need another reason to love Cowgirl Creamery's Organic Mt. Tam triple-crème cheese? It makes just about any sandwich a celebration. Here it's paired with turkey, tangy honey mustard and crisp apple on a hearty whole wheat baguette.

- 1 whole-wheat baguette, halved lengthwise
- 2 tablespoons honey mustard
- 6 ounces deli-sliced smoked turkey (about 8 slices)
- 1 Gala apple, cored and

- thinly sliced
- 2 handfuls watercress sprigs, mâche or other tender greens
- 1/2 wheel (5 ounces) Organic Mt. Tam cheese, thinly sliced

Cover with the top of the bread and cut into 4 sandwiches.

Spread the bottom half of the bread with mustard and layer with turkey, apple, greens and cheese.

OPEN-FACE APPLE TAHINI SANDWICH

Kids never seem to tire of this classic easy-to-make combination. Try Gala or Granny Smith apples, which go well with the nut butter. You may also want to try cinnamon raisin bread.

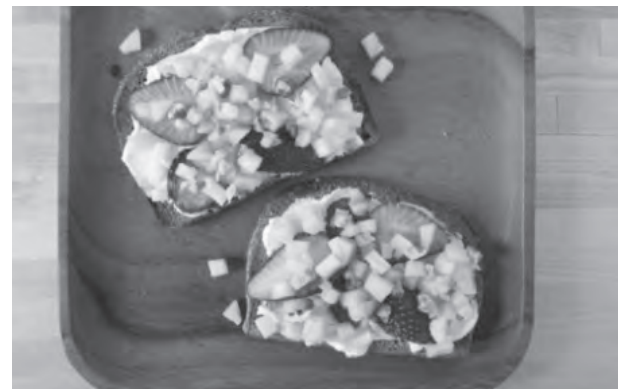

- 1 tablespoon peanut, cashew or almond butter
- 2 slices whole wheat or multigrain bread
- 1 small apple, cored and thinly sliced
- 1 tablespoon tahini
- 1 tablespoon honey or maple syrup
- 1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon

Spread peanut, cashew or almond butter onto each slice of bread. Arrange apple slices on top and drizzle with tahini and honey. Sprinkle with cinnamon and transfer to a toaster oven on a small baking sheet. Toast on high until hot then serve.

PINEAPPLE BREAKFAST SANDWICH

This open-face sandwich makes for a bright, filling breakfast. For a tropical twist, skip the strawberries and walnuts and top with bananas and shredded coconut instead.

- 1/2 cup finely chopped fresh pineapple
- 4 tablespoons part-skim ricotta cheese
- 2 slices whole grain bread, toasted
- 4 large strawberries, sliced
- 2 tablespoons chopped walnuts

In a small bowl, combine pineapple and ricotta cheese and then spread evenly on bread. Top with strawberries and walnuts and serve.

220 calories (120 from fat), 13g total fat, 5g saturated fat, 20mg cholesterol, 230mg sodium, 21g carbohydrate (4g dietary fiber, 8g sugar), 8g protein and serve.

BERRY WAFFLE BREAKFAST SANDWICH

This tasty breakfast treat is equally wonderful whether eaten off a plate at home or wrapped in parchment paper on the run.

- 2 frozen waffles, toasted
- 1 tablespoon whipped cream cheese
- 1 tablespoon strawberry preserves
- 3 strawberries, sliced
- 4 blackberries

Spread one waffle with cream cheese and the other with preserves. Top cream cheese waffle with strawberries and blackberries, then combine the two waffles to make a sandwich.
