Hearing tonight on deficit budget

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Salado aldermen will conduct the first public hearing on a proposed $199,205 deficit budget when they meet 6 p.m. Sept. 5 at the municipal building.

The board of aldermen will formally adopt the proposed budget of $961,091 in expenses and $841,887 in revenues at its Sept. 19 meeting, following a second public hearing on the matter.

Aldermen have proposed a tax rate of $0.1200 per $100 valuation, which maintains the current tax rate.

If the board approves the proposed budget with no further cuts in expense, it will be the first time that the budget has been a deficit budget since Salado was incorporated in 2000. In fact, the Village ended the 2011-2012 fiscal year with almost $300,000 more in income than expenses.

The draft budget estimates $829,931 in revenues, including sales tax and property taxes, based upon a 12 cent property tax. Bell County Tax Appraisal District recently informed the Village that taxable property values have declined for the Village by almost three percent. The Village has $160 million in taxable property. Salado offers a homestead exemption of either $5,000 from the homestead value or 20 percent of the homestead value. It also offers to homeowners 65 and over and disabled homeowners a $50,000 deduction from the taxable value.

The $160 million in taxable value will generate an estimated $218,331.25 in property taxes at the current rate of 12 cents per $100 taxable value.

Sales tax revenues are estimated at $330,000 for the 2013-14 fiscal year.

The draft budget estimates $961,091 in expenditures, which is almost $150,000 more than the 2012-13 budgeted expenditures of $815,095.

So far this year, the Village has actually spent $520,381 and has received $740,611 in revenues. However, aldermen voted in June to expend money for street resurfacing, which will bring the revenues and expenditures closer in line.

In the draft budget, expenses increase remarkably in police department, street maintenance and the municipal building. The police department budget increases from 253,606 to $327,071 for the anticipated hire of an additional patrol officer. The street maintenance budget adds another $50,000 for resurfacing of roads.

The budget for the municipal building and fire department contract also increases from $41,900 to $63,425, all of it chiefly for repairs and improvements to the municipal building.

The Village currently has a general fund balance of more than $1.1 million.

Total tax rates for 2012-2013 by Bell County municipality (including all taxing entities such as county, water districts, junior college, school district, road and bioscience taxes, where applicable): Bartlett, $2.219980; Belton, $2.635900; Harker Heights, $2.403100; Holland, $2.355400; Killeen, $2.468900; Nolanville $2.245600; Rogers, $2.604800; Salado, $1.875100; Temple, $2.549170 and Troy $2.27870. Based upon $100 evaluation.

Aldermen will also discuss the duties of the city administrator, appoint tourism council members and consider a change from a Conditional Use Permit to a Permitted Permit for Johnny's Outback.

Library harvests rainwater for landscape

Nine 85 gallon water urns were installed to capture rainwater from the front roof of the Salado Public Library for landscape irrigation purposes. Three 250 gallon barrels were installed at each end of the Library with one in the back. These rain barrels will permit the new landscaping project to be watered during dry periods. After the last rain, all barrels filled up. Tapping them will give you an idea of how much water is in them. Because rainwater does not contain purification chemicals or salts it is particularly beneficial for landscape plants. The use of rainwater for landscape watering will significantly reduce the Library's water bill.

Legislation benefits victims of Ft. Hood attack

On Labor Day at the Killeen Civic and Convention Center, U.S. Senator John Cornyn (R-TX), Congressman John R. Carter (R-TX 31) and Congressman Roger Williams (R-TX 25) announced new legislation -- the Honoring the Fort Hood Heroes Act -- to be introduced in both Houses of Congress that would honor and support the victims of the Nov. 5, 2009 Fort Hood shooting.

"We are a nation at war, and the location in which our men and women in uniform come under hostile fire from a terrorist should not unduly prejudice them and their families from receiving the full honors, recognition and benefits associated with their courageous service," said Sen. Cornyn. "As a nation, we have a sacred obligation to take care of them."

"Justice was served when Nidal Hasan was found guilty and handed the death penalty. But justice has not been served for the victims of this horrific shooting. This legislation will ensure the victims of this obvious act of terrorism receive the benefits they not only need, but justly deserve," Congressman Carter said. "We cannot continue allowing the Obama Administration to turn its back on these men and women by failing to admit this was indeed a terrorist attack on American soil. If the administration had properly labeled and managed the Fort Hood shooting from the beginning, this legislation would not be required. I will not stop the fight for the victims and I know my colleagues, Senator Cornyn and Rep. Williams, will seek every avenue to ensure justice is served for these victims."

"The heinous attack on Fort Hood was a direct attack on the values and ideals our soldiers have sworn to defend. Nidal Hasan, the man who killed 13 and injured 32, said he switched sides in what he called a 'U.S. war on Islam.' This was not a disgruntled employee taking his anger out on coworkers, as the Administration would have you believe by labeling this an act of workplace violence. No, this was a terrorist attack meant to harm and kill U.S. soldiers who defend freedom and liberty for all Americans," Congressman Williams said. "Because the President has placed more importance on political correctness than upholding his promise to take care of the victims, the victims have been neglected. This injustice must come to an end, and the Fort Hood Heroes Act is the right thing to do. It will restore the benefits, treatment and honor these men and women so rightly deserve. I applaud Senator Cornyn and Rep. Carter for their commitment to our troops at Fort Hood."

Currently, the victims of the Fort Hood terrorist attack have not received the same awards and benefits as their deployed counterparts who are wounded or killed either through enemy action or a terrorist attack, because this attack took place on U.S. soil rather than in a designated combat zone. The Honoring the Fort Hood Heroes Act would correct this inequity and provide these benefits to the Fort Hood victims.

Bill Summary

The bill declares that: (1) the attack constituted an act of terrorism, not merely workplace violence; (2) the U.S. Government has a fundamental duty to our troops to safeguard them against avoidable harm, and the Fort Hood attack could and should have been prevented; (3) the perpetrator, Nidal Hasan, had become radicalized while serving in the U.S. Army and was principally motivated to attack by an ideology of violent Islamist extremism; and (4) Hasan proved himself to be not just a terrorist, but also a traitor and an enemy of the U.S.

Military Awards. The bill would require the Secretary of the Army to award Purple Hearts to those Soldiers who were killed/wounded in the attack, and require the Secretary of Defense to award the Secretary of Defense Medal for the Defense of Freedom (Purple Heart equivalent for civilians) to civilians who were killed/wounded.

Certain Benefits. The bill would provide certain benefits to the victims of the attack who were killed/wounded and their families (retroactively to the date of the attack), by deeming the killing/wounding to have occurred:

For Soldiers, in a combat zone and at the hands of an enemy of the United States.

For civilian DoD employees, by hostile action while serving alongside the Armed Forces during a contingency operation, and in a terrorist attack.

Benefits:

Under this legislation, victims and families of victims of the Fort Hood terrorist attack would be made eligible for certain benefits that have been withheld from them, including:

- Combat-related special compensation;
- Maximum coverage under Servicemembers' Group Life Insurance;
- Tax breaks after death in combat zone or terrorist attack;
- Special pay for subjection to hostile fire or imminent danger;
- Combat-related injury rehabilitation pay; and
- Meals at military treatment facilities.

Ted Cruz, Traitor to His Class

Henry Adams said that politics is the systematic organization of hatreds. For the left in the past year, it has seemed at times to be the systematic organization of hatred of Ted Cruz.

The freshman senator is not the first Texan to be so honored. In fact, the state isn't holding up its end if, at any given moment, it isn't throwing onto the national scene at least one Republican reviled by the other side.

The party's highest-profile Texans, George W. Bush and Rick Perry, tended to match inarticulateness with cowboy swagger and lend themselves to mockery as intellectual lightweights. Bush went to Yale and Harvard Business School, yet no one naturally thinks of him as an Ivy Leaguer. The two Lone Star State governors played into the left's stereotypes so nicely that if they didn't exist, the New York Times editorial board would have had to invent them.

Cruz is different -- a Princeton and Harvard man who not only matriculated at those fine institutions but excelled at them. Champion debater at Princeton. Magna cum laude graduate at Harvard. Supreme Court clerkship, on the way to Texas solicial Eric Holder try to fend off Cruz's questioning on the administration's drone policy a few months ago was like seeing a mouse cornered by a very large cat.

Cruz hasn't played by the Senate rules that freshmen should initially be seen and not heard. At another hearing, as Cruz says that the highest commitment of senators should be to the Constitution, another senator can be heard muttering that he doesn't like being lectured. Chairman Pat Leahy (probably the mutterer) eventually cuts him off and informs him he hasn't been in the Senate very long.

None of this is to endorse all of Cruz's tactical judgments or to deny he can irk his own side at times. His push to defund Obamacare this fall is a grass-roots-pleasing slogan in search of a realistic path to legislative fruition.

It is no secret that Cruz has presidential aspirations. Even if he ascends no higher, though, he will be a force in the Senate. He could spend decades making liberals recoil at what Princeton and Harvard hath wrought.

tor general and dozens of cases before the U.S. Supreme Court.

Cruz is from the intellectual elite, but not of it, a tea-party conservative whose politics are considered gauche at best at the storied universities where he studied. He is, to borrow the words of the 2008 H.W. Brands biography of Franklin D. Roosevelt, a traitor to his class.

Democrats and liberal pundits would surely dislike Cruz no matter where he went to school, but his pedigree adds an element of shocked disbelief to the disdain. "Princeton and Harvard should be disgraced," former Pennsylvania Gov. Ed Rendell exclaimed on MSNBC, as if graduating a constitutionalist conservative who rises to national prominence is a violation of the schools' mission statements.

One of the left's deepest prejudices is that its opponents are stupid, and Cruz tramples on it. At hearings, Cruz has the prosecutorial instincts of a ... Harvard-trained lawyer. Watching Attorney Gener-

Scott Walker's Sick Leadership

A RASH OF "STATE PREEMPTION" LAWS MODELED ON WISCONSIN'S PRECEDENT-SETTING LEGISLATION IS BLOCKING LOCAL MANDATES REQUIRING SICK LEAVE BENEFITS.

To paraphrase an old bumper sticker: "When the people lead, leaders will follow. Or not."

Not when the "leaders" are in the pocket of corporate interests that don't like where the people are leading. Take Gov. Scott Walker of Wisconsin, a conservative Republican who never met a corporate pocket too grungy to hop into.

The story starts in 2008, when the people of Milwaukee took the lead on the crying need for workers to receive paid sick leave. Without paid leave, employees feel compelled to go to work when ill, which spreads their illness. Seven out of ten voters approved that measure in a citywide referendum.

Jim Hightower

and lobbyists. There, legislators are handed model laws to benefit corporations — then sent home to pass them.

At a session overseen by Taco Bell, attendees got copies of Walker's no-paid-sick-leave law, along with a how-to lecture by the National Restaurant Association. "Go forth and preempt local democracy," was the message.

And, lo, they did. Bills outlawing paid-sick-leave ordinances are being considered in at least 12 states this year, and nine have already passed theirs, including Arizona, Florida, Indiana, Louisiana, and Kansas.

By spreading Walker's nastiness from state to state, money-grubbing fast food chains are spreading illness all across our land.

Low-cost drugs, ill-gotten gains

By PETER PITTS

Some major American healthcare providers are padding their bottom lines by exploiting a federal program meant to help low-income patients. This behavior is netting them billions in ill-gotten gains. And it could be preventing many vulnerable Americans from accessing the low-cost drugs they need to treat and prevent illness.

This abuse needs to be stopped.

In 1992, Congress created a program -- known as "340B" -- to help caregivers serving disproportionately large numbers of low-income beneficiaries and uninsured patients. Under 340B, drug manufacturers are required to sell their products at a discount to such institutions. The discounted prescriptions are dispensed either through the caregiver's in-house pharmacy or through a contractual arrangement with an outside pharmacy.

340B has a noble cause. And many of the medications discounted through 340B do in fact go to clinics, hospitals, and medical facilities providing care almost exclusively to uninsured and poor patients.

However, some 340B participants are exploiting the program.

340B only requires caregivers to meet certain minimal thresholds for the number of medically underserved people they treat. For many hospitals, these eligibility standards are easily reached, and some are benefiting from the program's deep drug discounts while still serving a relatively affluent clientele.

Moreover, participating caregivers are not actually required to pass drug savings along to their patients. The huge discounts they're getting from pharmaceutical manufacturers don't necessarily translate to lower pill prices for uninsured and low-income patients.

Given what we have recently learned about some hospital administrators inflating charges for a broad variety of basic services, there's good reason to believe many sell those discounted drugs at full price to insured patients and then pocket the difference. Indeed, a report by the Raleigh News Observer last year found hospitals that "routinely mark up prices on cancer drugs two to 10 times or more over cost. In some cases, the mark up is far higher."

Meanwhile, the vulnerable patient populations 340B was intended to help are often still stuck struggling to gain access to affordable pharmaceuticals.

In large part because some healthcare providers are abusing the 340B system, the size and cost of the program are ballooning out of control. The Berkeley Research Group estimates the total value of all the medicines sold through the program will more than double from $8 billion in 2010 to $19 in 2016.

Such a surge in expenses might very well be worth if it 340B was largely helping needy patients. But it is not clear that this is actually happening. Although 340B was created to help low-income patients obtain the medicines they need, it has turned into a revenue generator for many hospitals.

Caregivers are now allowed to qualify for the program's deep drug discounts without passing along those savings to patients in need. Administrators are getting rich off a well-intentioned public program. Too many uninsured and poor patients still don't have access to discounted drugs. 340B needs to be fixed.

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:

Based upon the article in the Salado Village Voice last week (August 29, 2013), it appears that Representative John Carter was recently in fine fettle. It was especially good to see how, at his advanced age, he was still able to shovel up so much...red meat for his devotees. It's always informative to read the good representatives' apoplectic effusions. Please continue to publish his words and thoughts at every opportunity so we can keep tabs on what he is thinking.

Martin Museum of Art will feature black/white photographs of renowned photographer Ansel Adams in Exhibition

An exhibition of work by American photographer Ansel Adams, best known for his black-and-white images of nature, will be displayed at Martin Museum of Art at Baylor University from Sept. 10 - Nov. 14.

The exhibition, Ansel Adams: Distance and Detail, is composed of 29 photographs, with images that include dunes, lakes, trees, surf crashing on rocks, storms, sunsets and sunrises. Related events will include a reception and gallery talk, as well as a complimentary lunch and discussion by Baylor photography professors.

Ansel Adams was integral in elevating photography from documentation to fine art," said Karin Gilliam, director of Martin Museum of Art. "We are very pleased to bring this extraordinary exhibition of some of Adams' most memorable images to Central Texas."

Adams (1902-1984) also was an environmentalist, writer and lecturer. He was known for his technical mastery of photography. He published eight portfolios from 1927 to 1976 of his original prints and 10 volumes of technical manuals. He also wrote more than 40 books.

Adams was born in San Francisco and from a very young age he was drawn to nature, although at one point he was focused on becoming a musician. But that changed when his father gave him a camera — a Kodak Brownie box — during a family vacation to Yosemite National Park in 1916. Adams' love for the environment eventually became the subject of his work and photographs.

At 17, he worked as a summer intern in Yosemite Park with the Sierra Club, which is dedicated to preserving the natural wonders of the world. Adams created iconic images of the Yosemite landscape and other parts of the American West, including national parks and Native American reservations.

While known for his black-and-white images, he also experimented with color with works ranging from portraits to landscapes to architecture. But experts on Adams say that he felt color could be distracting and divert an artist from achieving the full potential when taking a photograph.

Water quality training focuses on Nolan Creek

A free Texas Watershed Steward Workshop on water quality issues related to Nolan Creek will be held from 8 a.m.-4 p.m. Sept. 19 at Texas A&M University - Central Texas, at 1001 Leadership Place in Killeen.

The training is open to anyone interested in improving water quality in the Bell County area, said program coordinators. Participants are encouraged to pre-register at <http://tws.tamu.edu>

The workshop is sponsored by the Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service and the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board as part of the Texas Watershed Steward program. It is being held in coordination with the Texas Institute for Applied Environmental Research (TIAER).

The workshop is designed to help watershed residents improve and protect their water resources and gain a better understanding of how water quality in Nolan Creek is being managed.

The workshop will include an overview of water quality and watershed management in Texas, but primarily will focus on water quality issues relating to Nolan Creek and South Nolan Creek, including current efforts to help improve and protect this important water body.

Nolan Creek extends from its headwaters Northwest of Killeen to its confluence with the Leon River just South of Belton. Nolan Creek is an important part of the area, having been used for recreation and also serving as a wildlife habitat for many species.

The training will include a discussion of watershed systems, types and sources of water pollution, and ways to improve and protect water quality. There also will be a group discussion on community-driven watershed protection and management. Pre-registration is open through the Texas Watershed Steward website, <http://tws.tamu.edu>.

Eagles must 'take care of ball'

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

"We've got to take care of the football," Head Coach Brent Graham said of the upcoming road game against the 3A Lorena Leopards, kicking off at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 6.

The Salado Eagles struggled with that in their 47-21 loss on opening night of Texas High School football. "You can't put the ball on the ground eight times and expect good results," Graham said, adding that his Eagles spent most of the 48 minutes "playing on our heels."

To be successful against Lorena, the Eagles will have to stop the run, something they were unable to do against the big and speedy Rockdale Tigers. Graham said he doesn't expect the challenge to be any easier this week.

3,669 yards combined offense with a balanced attack from a spread offense. "They love to have the quarterback run at you from the spread," Graham said. Expect Coleman to throw to wide receiver Andrew Marrero when he is not running the ball.

Defensively, the Leopards are a 3-4 with three big, fast linemen: defensive tackles Cody Williams and Chance Feldman and noseguard Trevor Beard. Returning outside linebacker Bobby Strahan was named all district and had 116 tackles, 21 for a loss and three sacks.

Salado's offensive line will have to stiffen against Lorena. The Eagles allowed new quarterback McLane Carter to be sacked eight times in last week's opener.

If that continues, it will be a long hard road for Salado, whether they play at home or away.

Rockdale breezes past Salado in season opener, 47-21

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Rockdale Tigers got off to a fast, furious start of the football season, scoring three times in the first 10 minutes of the game against the visiting Salado Eagles on Aug. 30. Rockdale went on to win the season opener 47-21.

The Tigers had almost 500 yards total offense, most of it on the ground as Elijah Brooks had 102 yards on 15 carries, including a 13 yard touchdown in the fourth quarter.

Clayton Gibbs started the 40-point first half for the Tigers, keeping the ball for a 13 yard touchdown with 8:02 left in the first quarter to top a 10-play 83 yard drive.

After forcing Salado to a quick three-and-out, Rockdale scored 20 seconds later on a 25-yard run by Dailynn Ramey with 6:11 left in the first quarter. The point-after kick made it 14-0. Ramey had two touchdowns and 92 yards in the game on 10 carries.

The Tigers scored their third touchdown in the first quarter on an 84-yard drive that took 1:52 off of the clock. Clayton Gibbs hit an open Devante Burgess for a 45 yard pass and a 20-0 lead.

Salado finally answered on the next series, a six play 63-yard drive. McLane Carter found Jacob Little past the secondary and Little raced into the endzone for the 60-yard score with 2:12 left in the first. The PAT brought the score to 20-7.

The Tigers drove half the length of the field in four plays and 92 seconds to score their fourth touchdown of the first quarter. Gibbs threw to Austin Caeffy crossing into the endzone for a touchdown with 31 seconds remaining in the quarter. Adolfo Chavira added his third PAT kick for a 28-7 lead.

The Tigers tacked on two more touchdowns in the first half, on a 12 yard run by Ramey with 8:11 left in the half and an interception by Hayden Offield and his return of 38 yards with just under 4 minutes left in the half.

Salado added a touchdown with 31 seconds left in the half. The Eagles drove 70 yards in 3:24. Ryan Simmons took a handoff on first down with 3:55 left in the half and ran it for 49 yards to give the Eagles the ball at the Rockdale 21 yard line.

After a false start call against the Eagles, Clayton Cole ran for 7 yards before the Tiger defenders Preston Ehler and Jakob Moreland sacked Carter twice to force a fourth-and-18 at the 29 yard line.

JV Eagles outplay Rockdale, but lose on scoreboard

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

In every account except for one -- the final score -- the Salado Junior Varsity Eagles outmanned the visiting Rockdale JV Tigers as the Tigers edged Salado by a mere two points on Aug. 29.

Rockdale scored first when Andrew Perz stepped in front of a pass by Salado's Tate Hill and returned it from mid-field to score midway through the first quarter. Tyler Land connected with Perez in the endzone for a two-point conversion and an early 8-0 lead.

The Eagles answered by marching 63 yards on the next drive, taking seven plays and just under a minute. Jake Elliott connected with Cody Brown for an 11 yard touchdown at the 5:11 mark of the first quarter. The point-after failed and left Salado trailing 6-8.

Salado took the lead on a 75-yard drive in the second quarter, scoring with 3:14 left in the first half. Elliott scored on a quarterback keeper from the five yard line. Elliott threw to Cody Chambliss for a two-point conversion and a 14-8 lead.

Rockdale returned the favor on the next series, driving 74 yards in eight plays to score with less than two minutes left in the first half. Perez connected with Christian Lara for 18 yard touchdown. Lara broke three open field tackles on his way to the endzone. Perez found Joey Montelongo for the two-point conversion, which was the difference in the final score of 16-14.

The Eagles missed an opportunity to go ahead in the game after Salado recovered a Tiger fumble at their own 29 yard line with 5:25 left in the game.

The Eagles converted two fourth downs to get into Rockdale's side of the field. Elliott ran for 17 yards on a fourth and 8 to go and later handed off to Justin Waits who ran for 12 yards on a fourth and 6 to go to move the ball into Tiger territory.

On a fourth and 1, Elliott dropped back and then ran through the Tiger defense for 21 yards to set up Salado with a first and goal at the Rockdale 9 yard line with 8:10 left in the game.

An offensive penalty pushed the ball back to the 14 yard line on a second down and 10 to go. Salado ran the ball twice, pushing to the six yard line, forcing fourth down. Elliott looked for an open receiver but threw an incomplete to turn the ball over to Rockdale with just under 5 minutes left in play.

Salado forced Rockdale to punt and took over at the Tiger 47 yard line, but the Tigers intercepted a pass and ran it back to the Salado 41 yard with 2:31 left in regulation. Cody Brown intercepted a Tiger pass to give Salado the ball with just over two minutes left in the game, but the Eagles could not convert the opportunity into points, finally giving the ball back on downs with 1:12 left to play.

Rockdale 9th 38

Salado Eagles ninth graders had few bright spots in their 38-0 dubbing back the visiting Rockdale Tiger ninth grade squad on Aug. 29.

The Rockdale squad outsized their Salado counterparts, as well as having more speed and athleticism at the talent spots. The Eagles squad struggled with getting the ball to the quarterback in the shotgun formation, resulting in several loss-of-yards plays. Salado's secondary saw a lot of runners as the defense struggled with the Tigers.

Bell County 4-H open house Sept. 10

The 4-H program is more than just showing animals, cooking, and sewing. 4-H is a community of young people across America who are learning leadership, citizenship, and life skills. 4-H is the biggest organization for youth in America. Bell County 4-H is an opportunity for 4-H members to have fun while learning new life skills and gaining lifelong friends. The 2013-2014 4-H year has started and to recruit and gain new membership, the Bell County 4-H will be hosting a free 4-H Open House 5:30-8 p.m. Sept. 10 at the Bell County Expo Assembly Hall. The Open House will give parents and children; kindergarten (age 5) through the 12th grade (age 18) to come and learn about 4-H, its programs, and opportunities. This will be a come and go event with members of Bell County 4-H clubs providing project booths for the public to view and learn about the various activities within 4-H. Some of the booths to be exhibited at a 4-H Open House will include: food and nutrition, photography, consumer education, dog, vet science, clothing and textiles, camps and activities, livestock, Bell County Youth Fair, Horse, Public Speaking, Leadership, 4-H Exchange, and many more. Participants will learn about 4-H and have the opportunity to sign up and join a Bell County 4-H club when they get home via the internet. The Open House will also offer mini sessions during the evening to learn more about some of the projects. The schedule for the evening includes: Food Challenge Contest; Animal Selection- Hosted by Lyle Zoeller, CEA; Fashion Show- Hosted by Clothing Advisory Board; Parliamentary Procedure/ What is Leaders 4 Life- Hosted by the Leaders 4 Life Participants, 4-H Dancing Demo- Hosted by the Bell County 4-H Ambassadors, and much more. The Texas agriculture extension service would like to invite all new members and those members who would like to come and learn more about the 4-H program to come to the new member orientation 6 p.m. Sept. 26 at the County Extension Office. They will be introducing their staff as well as go over the family handbook, and answer any questions you might have about the 4-H program. They also plan to have some 4-H members talk about their 4-H career. 4-H will have a participation fee to join and enrollment will be done strictly online. Participation will be $20 before Oct. 31 and $25 after Oct. 31. Any 4-H enrollment information can be found by going to: <http://agrilife.org/bell4h/4-h-enrollment-guidelines/4-h-enrollment-information/>. There you will find a step by step process for joining 4-H as well as documents to help assist you when enrolling. Let your youth experience what 4-H can offer them! 4-H is for everyone, from those in the biggest Texas city to the smallest community. For the young person that wants to learn about computers to the teenager that wants to travel around the country. 4-H allows you to "Make it Yours". For more information about Bell County 4-H, call the Bell County Extension Office at 933-5305 or email Micah Holcombe, 4-H Agent, at mlholcombe@ag.tamu.edu. You can also look up 4-H on the internet by going to: <http://agrilife.org/bell4h/> Educational program of Texas AgriLife Extension Service are open to all people without regard to race, color, sex, disability, religion, age, or national origin. Brookshire Brothers helped get 30 students off to a great start! Brookshire Brothers store director Nick Radke and David Milner delivered 30 bags of school supplies to Salado Middle School in time for the start of class. Brookshire Brothers shoppers bought the pre-bagged supplies for students not able to purchase their own. Louise Daggs accepted the supplies on behalf of Salado Intermediate School. The bags were priced at $5.99 or $9.99. Many of those buying the bags as a donation do not have children in school.

Freedom Walk

Students join 3d Cav soldiers, first responders on Sept. 11

On the twelfth anniversary of the September 11 attacks, Salado students, along with local law enforcement and fire fighters, will join with troopers from the 3d Cavalry Regiment to honor the sacrifices of so many brave individuals that day by completing a Freedom Walk.

The Freedom Walk will begin at 9:30 a.m. at the Salado Eagle football Stadium, as students from Thomas Arnold Elementary School, Salado Intermediate School, and Salado Junior High School and Salado High School observe the posting of the Nation's colors and then hear from Col. Cameron Cantlon, commander of the Regiment, and Dr. Michael Novotny, Salado's school superintendent. Students, first responders, and Cavalry troopers will then exit the stadium and walk a circuit around the schools' block, ending back at the stadium. The event is open to the public.

Booster raffle Sept. 21

Tickets are now available for the annual Salado Athletic Booster Club Dinner, Dance and Reverse Raffle Sept. 21 at Tenroc Ranch Blue Heron Room. With a grand prize of $3,000 VISA gift card, tickets are $150 each with an additional $50 mulligan for each ticket. Second place prize is a $1,500 VISA gift card and third place is a $500 VISA gift card. Tickets admit two people for dinner and drinks (an open bar with beer, wine and margaritas will be available) and dancing. Purchase your tickets as soon as possible as only 250 will be sold. The doors open at 5:30 p.m. with dinner at 6 p.m. Dancing and a computer-drawn raffle begin at 7 p.m. The Night will include Bucket Raffles, Card Raffles, Live and Silent Auctions. Eagle Event sponsorships are available for $1,500 and includes signage at event, four tickets, four mulligans and reserved table for eight. For more information about sponsorships or tickets, contact DeeDee Hawes at 512-845-1740 or via email at Hawes422@gmail.com.

Deryl Dodd performs at Johnny's Outback Sept. 7. His first single off Random as I Am, "Baby Where's My Bottle", topped the Texas music charts. Dodd pours his soul, passion and humor into what may be his best effort to date. "I have been blessed to make music for this long. I never had a plan, still don't. But, I hope it's made a difference and done something good for somebody. That's the whole reason I started doing it." Tickets are $10 per person and can be purchased at the gate or online at johnnysoutback.com.

Musicians play at Stagecoach Inn in Sept.

The month of September will feature Central Texas's Singer/Songwriters performing each Saturday in the Stagecoach Saloon. The shows will start at 6:30 p.m. and admission is free.

The list of performers is as follows:

Rick Bussey Sept. 7

Rick has been a singer/songwriter for the past 40 yrs. After an 8 yr. hiatus Rick began writing and performing again just last yr. In years past he played all the venues in Austin. His songs are heartfelt, ballad, Americana and ear pleasing blues folk. He has won numerous awards for his songs including song of the year at the Kerrville Folk Festival. He has been a featured guest on Austin's radio. Rick released his first cd Aug 6, 2010 and has met great success with airplay in several states including his home state of Ohio. This year Rick has been performing every week at Senderos in Liberty hill. Crazy Gals Cafe in Bertram Tx. numerous showcases in Llano, Marble Falls, Jonestown and Austin. Rick has been inducted into the Gatesville Tx. country music hall of fame and was featured in this fall issue of Texas Hill Country magazine. A new CD is in the works with hopes of release the first of next year. Rick has graced the stage with some of the finest Texas songwriters around and hopes to keep on going as far the path will take him.

Mark Huber Sept. 14

Mark Huber moved to Salado in 1999 from Austin where he spent 20 years playing music. Today he still writes and plays music, not as much now for the pursuit of a dream, but for the mere love of it. His influences are many and a mixed bag of artists who have touched his soul over the years yet he says he doesn't hear Johnny Cash, Hank Williams, Bill Monroe or Neil Young in his songs. "My songs are, for the most part, short stories relating to what was, or what is, going on in my life at the time the pen hit the paper. I have been fortunate thus far to survive some good and bad times that have made for some interesting song writing, to say the least." Locally Mark can be found hosting Front Porch Pickin' at various venues in the area and playing in the 3C Cowboy Fellowship Band on Sunday mornings. Outside of playing music, Mark stays busy providing live sound production for some of his songwriter friends on Music Road Records. However, hands-down, his favorite and most important role today is being a family man.

John Dunham Sept. 21

John Dunham has lived in Austin since 1988. He has played guitar and bass with a number bands since arriving in Austin encompassing a variety of styles including pop, rock, jazz, folk, country, bossa nova and bolero. He is also a singer/songwriter whose favorite songwriters include John Prine, Lyle Lovett, Townes Van Zandt, Butch Hancock, Paul Westerberg, Warren Zevon, and etc. John does occasional solo gigs as well as playing regularly with his current bands Mary Welch Y Los Curaunders and The George Kinney Band.

Jan Seides Sept. 28

Jan Seides says she first felt the pull of music when she was three years old. "My mother would always turn on the radio while we ate dinner, and one day I surprised her by singing to her by heart one of the songs we had heard. She was pretty excited about that, so I immediately learned another."

Her parents bought a piano when she was four, for her older sister's lessons. "Well! I wasn't having any of that! So I would go to the piano after she was done practicing and pick out and play her songs," she said.

Seides took piano lessons for 14 years and studied piano and composition, exploring folk, classical, jazz, pop, rock and country at the University of Texas School of Music.

She learned to play guitar as well. "I fell in love with traveling, and out of that began touring with my music. Really, I haven't yet decided which is in the service of the other," she said. "I've left footprints in almost every state in the U.S. by now, played in many unique and rewarding venues, and had a great time. The first time I crossed the Atlantic, I found out that venue owners and audiences in Europe and the UK are very receptive to original music. Most of the time, really, all I had to do was ask."

HIP IMPLANT RECALL

EXPERIENCE COUNTS
 Lawyers with more than 100 years combined expertise.

Johnson & Johnson has recalled the DePuy ASR XL Acetabular hip socket implant system due to an unacceptably high failure rate: 1 in 8 patients experience symptoms like infection, bone fracture, dislocation and pain. Other complications include increased metal ion levels in the blood, bone staining, necrosis, swelling, nerve damage, tissue damage and/or muscle damage. If you had hip replacement surgery during or after 2005, please talk to your doctor right away, then contact us toll-free for professional insight into your legal rights.

selves, and you might have to hunt a bit for replacements for older models. Unscrew the old fan's mounting bracket and ease the unit out of its housing. Unplug it from the receptacle, if it's a plug-type unit, or disconnect it from the house wiring (after ensuring no power is reaching the unit). With a helper holding the new unit steady, attach the new unit to the house wiring in the same way as the old

-- or plug it into the receptacle if it has a plug -- and mount in place with the existing brackets.

HOME TIP: Clean the kitchen fan's filter every month by removing it, soaking it in warm soapy water, and cleaning with a soft cloth. Reinstall when it's completely dry.

Septic System Maintenance Workshop

Lampasas — The Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service, Texas A&M AgriLife Research and the Lampasas River Watershed Partnership is offering a free homeowner education event discussing homeowner maintenance of septic systems. The program is from 6 p.m.-8:00 p.m. Sept. 17 at the Lampasas County Farm Bureau Building, 1793 US HWY 281, in Lampasas.

This course provides a basic understanding of the operational and maintenance activities of a septic system, and explains how activities within the home impact septic systems. Presentations will cover the treatment processes, health and safety considerations, how to inspect, care for and feed the system, and general maintenance procedures.

This program is a part of the Lampasas River Watershed Protection Plan, developed by the Lampasas River Watershed Partnership, a collaborative effort by local stakeholders, Texas A&M AgriLife Research, and Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board to address water quality concerns within the Lampasas River watershed. The Lampasas River watershed encompasses parts of Mills, Hamilton, Lampasas, Coryell, Burnet, Bell and Williamson Counties.

To register, contact Lisa Prcin, Lampasas River Watershed Coordinator, 254-774-6008 or lprcin@brc.tamus.edu. For information about the program, contact Ryan Gerlich, Extension Program Specialist, 979-458-4185 or visit <http://ossf.tamu.edu/>.

Funding and support for the development of the Lampasas River Watershed Protection Plan is provided through a Clean Water Act §319(h) Non-point Source grant from the TSSWCB and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.
