Glory to God

Let the story be told

King James Version:
The Gospel According to St. Luke, Chapter 2

1 And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed.

2 And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.

3 And all went to be taxed, everyone into his own city.

4 And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judaea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; because he was of the house and lineage of David;

5 To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

6 And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.

7 And she brought forth her first born son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

8 And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

9 And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid.

10 And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

11 For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Savour, which is Christ the Lord.

12 And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

13 And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

14 Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, and good will toward men.

15 And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known to us.

16 And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

17 And when they had seen it, they made known abroad they saying which was told them concerning this child.

18 And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

19 But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

20 And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

21 And when eight days were accomplished for the circumcising of the child, his name was called JESUS, which was so named of the angel before he was conceived in the womb.

An Open Exchange of Ideas

The War on Inequality

President Barack Obama has his answer to Lyndon Johnson's "War on Poverty." It is a war on inequality.

The president's formal declaration of hostilities came in a speech this month at the Center for American Progress, predictably praised as brilliant by his journalistic cheerleaders and touted by the White House as setting out the rest that will define the rest of his presidency.

While LBJ's war on poverty is nothing to emulate -- it costs $900 billion a year, yet has manifestly failed in the stated goal of uplifting the poor -- at least it had a clear, compelling rationale. Who can disagree that it would be better if fewer Americans were poor? Obama's implicit argument is that it would be better if fewer Americans were rich, or at least if they weren't quite so offensively rich.

He relied on dubious research and tendentious analysis to make his case, without ever admitting what, for him, must be the crux of the matter. Surely, income inequality offends his egalitarian sense of justice and aesthetics, and even if he didn't believe it had harmful real-world effects, he would wish the top 1 percent weren't so wealthy as a social good in and of itself.

There is no doubt that we long ago exited the economic Golden Age of the mid-20th century, and we aren't going to return to it. President Obama could give a speech about that and never need to make a questionable claim. But he wants to make a case for war.

In his speech, the president said that inequality is bad for the economy and cited "one study" showing that greater income inequality means more fragile growth and more frequent recessions. Of course, "one study" can show almost anything. The study in question analyzed developing economies.

He could just as easily have said that "one study" by a Harvard economist showed a correlation between increasing inequality and higher economic growth in the U.S. and other developed countries between 1960 and 2000.

To maintain that rising inequality is a threat to the American Dream, the president insists that it is reducing income mobility.

Here the evidence is just as weak. According to Scott Winship of the Manhattan Institute, the gap between the middle class and the poor hasn't grown much during the past few decades. It has been the very top of the income distribution that has gained the most.

America does indeed have a serious mobility problem, especially in getting people out of poverty. But it has nothing to do with a small fraction of people being spectacularly rich. Mark Zuckerberg could be stripped of all his wealth tomorrow, and it wouldn't help anyone further down the income ladder. It wouldn't increase wages, or reduce out-of-wedlock child rearing, or lead to less incarceration, or revive the work ethic, all of which would enhance mobility and lift more people into the middle class. It would just make Mark Zuckerberg poor.

Which is why Obama's war on inequality is so misconceived. We aren't beset by a wealthy 1 percent destroying opportunity and immiserating the rest of the country. The president needs to reconsider his casus belli.

This Thriller Is Both a Joke and No Laughing Matter

Our spymaster-in-chief wants to deny the media the freedom to report on Big Brother's surveillance.

In the standard spy thriller, our hero gets captured by agents of a repressive government. They take him into a dark interrogation room, where the sadistic spymaster hisses: "We have ways of making you talk."

In real life, the director of our National Security Agency hisses at journalists: "We have ways of keeping you from talking."

Well, not quite in those words. Gen. Keith Alexander, the NSA's chief spook and head of U.S. Cyber Command, has revealed his chilling disrespect for our constitutional rights to both free speech and a free press.

In an interview, he called for outlawing any reporting on his agency's secret program of spying on every American: "I think it's wrong that newspaper reporters have all these documents...giving them out as if these -- you know it just doesn't make any sense," he told Politico's Josh Gerstein.

Then came his spooky punch line: "We ought to come up with a way of stopping it...It's wrong to allow this to go on."

Holy Thomas Paine. Alexander says he thinks it's OK for the government to spy on us. But he wants to deny the media the freedom to report on Big Brother's surveillance.

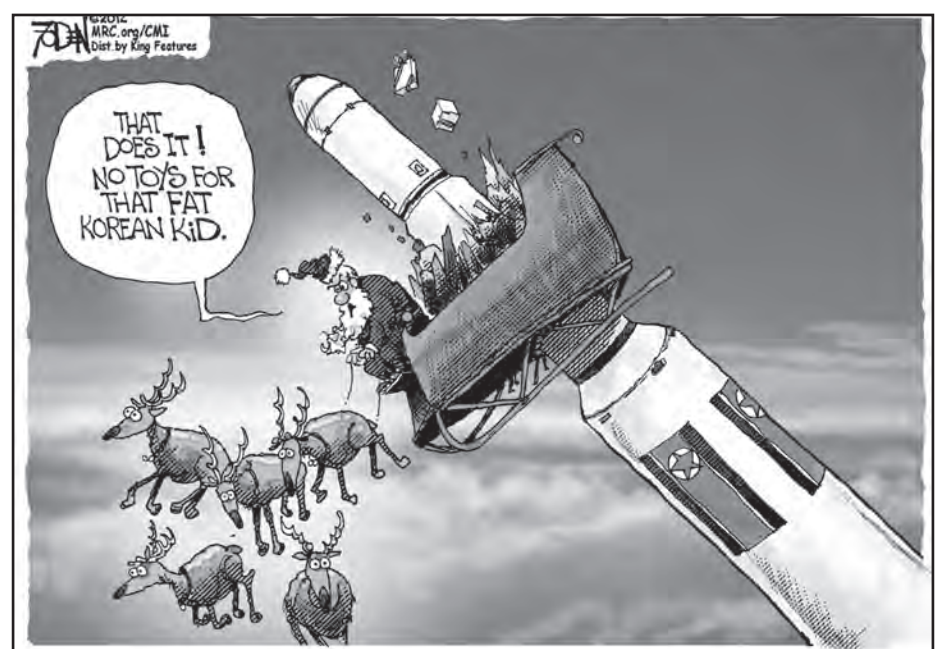

What country does this autocrat represent?

Alexander's secret, indiscriminate, supercomputer scooping-up of data on every phone call, email, and other private business of every American is what "doesn't make any sense."

It's an Orwellian, mass invasion of everyone's privacy, creating the kind of routine, 24/7 surveillance state our government loudly deplores in China and Russia -- and it amounts to stomping on our Fourth Amendment guarantee that we're to be free of "unreasonable searches and seizures."

That's the real outrage we should be stopping. But our constitutionally clueless spymaster is doubling down on his dangerous ignorance by also stomping on the First Amendment.

If this were a movie, people would laugh at it as being too silly, too far-fetched to believe. But there it is, horribly real.

Village will pursue 'due diligence' in sewer, Civic Center proposals

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

In the coming weeks, the Village of Salado will further investigate the details and possibilities of two proposals: one proposal is the gift by Morris Foster of the Stagecoach Inn wastewater treatment plant, the other a "swap" of office space that will move the Village offices to the Civic Center.

While no aldermen were ready to accept either proposal without further details, they were ready to pursue what city administrator Jim Reed called, "doing your due diligence" in looking at the feasibility of the two major proposals.

The mayor and three aldermen met in an afternoon workshop session with Foster on Dec. 11 and discussed the proposal to accept the gift of the Stagecoach Inn WWTP at their Dec. 12 regular meeting.

At the Dec. 12 meeting, the board voted 4-0-1 to direct Reed and Mayor Danney McCort to pursue negotiations and investigation of the WWTP. Reed will report to the board his findings on eight moderate citations of the WWTP by the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TECQ), the transferability of the permit from Stagecoach Properties, Inc. to the Village of Salado, any agreements for the day-to-day operations of the plant, the capacity of the plant and agreements for discharging the effluent of the plant.

Salado school trustees will meet in a called session 6 p.m. Jan. 13 to further discuss a proposal that would ultimately result in the school district and city municipal offices both being housed in the Salado Civic Center. Salado aldermen instructed city administrator Jim Reed to also further research the renovation costs, operating costs and other factors before they meet on Jan. 16.

At their Dec. 16 meeting, school trustees directed Superintendent Michael Novotny to further research the proposal that would relinquish the 27 years remaining on the lease of the old red schoolhouse and its accompanying acreage by the Salado Civic Center Foundation.

Aldermen discussed the proposal at their Dec. 12 meeting. The proposal is for the Salado Civic Center Foundation to relinquish the 27 years remaining on its 50 year lease of the Main Street property housing the Civic Center. That board would dissolve and the foundation would no longer operate the Salado Civic Center.

The school district could then enter into an agreement with the Village of Salado for the operations of the Civic Center property.

The Village would move its offices into space downstairs at the Civic Center that is currently occupied by the Texas Association of Private and Parochial Schools (TAPPS).

TAPPS would move into the space occupied by Village office at the Municipal Building on Stagecoach Rd.

The Police department and Municipal Court would remain at the current location.

Aldermen directed

Reed to investigate the annual operating costs for the property, the cost of adding new audiovisual equipment and the maintenance or replacement costs for the roof and heating and air conditioning systems at the Civic Center.

"We just spent $22,000 on this building," alderman Hans Fields said, "why would we allow TAPPS to move here for free?"

Bryan Fritch countered that the proposals that would allow TAPPS to take over space for free and to no longer require rent payments for the school district for the 2,000+ sq. ft. it occupies were just "starting points for discussion. We may find that we cannot do that."

"Up until now, the parties weren't even willing to look at this," Reed said. "It would be a waste of taxpayers dollars to research this if you as a board have no interest in it. If you are interested in pursuing this, then give me a laundry list of things that you want me to investigate. I will bring back an in-depth investigation of it."

On his way out of Salado, Foster gives $1.1 mil in land to Boosters

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Morris Foster deeded approximately $1.1 million in property to the Salado Athletic Booster Club, Inc., signing the paperwork for 13 acres of property in Salado at his local office with SABC President Curtis Crenwelle and Billy Helm, head of the owners' group of Mill Creek Country Club present.

"These assets have value for the future of Salado," Foster said of the three tracts of land he has given the Athletic Boosters. "I think the Athletic Boosters will be good stewards of those pieces of property and provide the best outcome for the use of the property."

Those tracts include .58 acres and a building that were once the Mill Creek dining room, the 8.56 acres on Park Rd. known as Sherrill Park and the 2.98 acres off of North Ridge Rd. and buildings that were once used by the golf course for storage and equipment.

Foster earlier was in discussions with the Village of Salado to deed the properties to the Village. However, he said that he backed away from those negotiations when the Village made several requirements on him that he felt were "completely unreasonable for someone receiving a million dollars of property."

Foster said that those requirements included paying for a "Phase one environmental study" of the property that had been used as a maintenance shed by the golf course and "having me pay for all the closing costs. This seemed at the very least to be unreasonable considering that the fact that I was giving them land valued at $1.1 million."

That episode captures some of the reason Foster said he is divesting himself of his investments in Salado.

"Over a span of 40-plus years I have invested more than $20 million in Salado and never taken a dime out of those investments," he said. "I have not had the support I had hoped to have from the community leaders over those years."

This has caused Foster to examine where he invests and to look at "other places where I am getting a good return on my investments and being treated well, too."

Despite what Foster describes as poor treatment by some in leadership and other positions, he says that he continues to "have a warm place in my heart for the place I was born and raised."

He is quick to tell stories about the walk up Main Street to go to school in the Old Red Schoolhouse or to talk about working on the first fire engines for Salado with his father, the late Wilbur Foster.

"I remember the days when everyone in town worked on the Art Fair. It was a big deal for Salado," he said, "I hated to see it not happen this year."

While he is divesting his investments here, which have included the Stagecoach Inn property and the Mill Creek golf course property, he wants to do so in a manner "that leaves the town in the best possible shape it can be."

He says that Salado will need strong leaders to step up the way that Billy Helm and a group of local investors did to buy the golf course. "Billy has spent so much of his time, energy and money trying to help the community as a whole," Foster said, "Salado will need more of those kinds of leaders."

Foster said that "when the highway is done, Salado is going to bounce back if it will pull together behind strong leadership that will support business."

Mill Creek ownership busy on expansion, improvements

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Over the winter months, when golf slows down, Mill Creek Country Club will be pressing forward with a new golf pro expected to be hired within the next month and an expansion of the grill and pro shop itself.

David Preston, golf operations manager for Mill Creek, said that the board has interviewed two Professional Golf Association pros with experience as head pros and will interview a third finalist in the coming week.

"Each of them brings their own skills to the position and are excited about the opportunity to come to Salado," Preston said. "They see the potential we have here and want to build on what the new ownership has started."

"They are students of some of the finest teachers in the nation" Preston said. The new golf pro will be "integral to the promotion of golf in the community and around the state," Preston said.

Mill Creek is working with lodging facilities to partner together on Stay and Play packages.

"We are also going to have a huge emphasis on junior golf. The golf pro will be working more directly with the schools and coaches to get young players on the course," Preston said.

"We want them to compete at every age level and develop a love for the game," he added.

Another demographic for the country club will be mothers of school age children. "If we can teach a group of them how to play better, they will want to come out and play more often and we have added some natural foursomes regular," Preston said.

Since a group headed by Billy Helm purchased Mill Creek earlier this year, the membership has grown from under 100 to more than 170.

"The board feels that with the expansion of the grill and pro shop and the improvements to the pool area over winter that we will be able to grow our family memberships," Preston said.

Building permits were issued in November for the expansion of the grill. Preston said the work will take six to eight weeks. The old deck will be torn out and the building will be extended toward the pool. At the same time, the pool will get a face-lift, Preston said. "It will be re-surfaced and re-tiled and a fence will give the pool privacy from golfers passing by. It will be a more family-friendly atmosphere by summer time."

The golf shop will be expanded by about 30 percent, but the floor-space will be redesigned to allow 50 percent more merchandise space. "This will reflect an emphasis on selling Mill Creek and golf merchandise to customers," Preston said.

In addition to the expansion of the pro shop and grill, the club will also reline the pond over the winter months.

Then the work will begin on holes #1 and #9 on the Creek 3 set of holes.

The greens will be repaired and ready for grass to be planted by late April so that the grass will have a chance to grow over the warm summer months.

Completing repairs on these two holes is important to give Mill Creek a contiguous 18 holes of golf play.

With the Creek 2 and Creek 3 holes in play, efforts can then be focused in 2015 on the Creek 1 holes that were so devastated by the 2010 flood.

Preston said that the greens of Creek 1 will be resurfaced with TIF Dwarf in June-July 2015.

"In the meantime, we will be maintaining those holes," Preston said.

Until the Creek 1 holes can be added back into the rotation of play, some of those holes will be used to practice short game.

The Club will pursue a three-year plan of re-seeding all 27 holes with TIF Dwarf grass to provide for a most consistent play.

Plans are to have Creek 2 greens resurfaced in 2016 to bring all 27 holes to the TIF Dwarf grass.

Returning to a 27 hole golf course is the long range goal of the new ownership because it will give the course freedom to host large golf tournaments and groups, as well as balancing the desires of daily players with Stay and Play traveling golfers and the needs for day-to-day maintenance.

Salado Shops Open Late for Christmas shoppers this weekend

Salado shops and restaurants will be open late this weekend to give Christmas shoppers one last chance at finding the perfect Christmas gifts. Due to forecasts of ice and dangerous sleet, traffic for the first weekend of the Stroll was less than half what a usual Stroll has. Travelers who typically come from the metro areas stayed home in droves as Dallas was iced in for several days. Local shops are hoping that the forecasts for this weekend continue to hold with highs in the 60s and 70s and that final weekend shoppers will discover all that Salado has to offer. Some shops and restaurants will have live music or other entertainment for the weekend.

Debaters win in Capitol

The Salado High School Speech and Debate Team won the Third Annual Capitol Congressional Debate Contest at the Texas State Capitol on Dec. 5. A competitive field of 213 students from across the state competed in this prestigious event. Salado's team was composed of Rachel Evans, Tyler Hubbs, Robert Cortes and Sydney Walter. The team is coached by Tim Cook. Pictured left to right: Rachel Evans, Tyler Hubbs, Robert Cortes and Sydney Walter.

Forensic speakers qualify for Tournament of Champions

The Salado High School Speech and Debate Team competed in the 2013 University of Texas Longhorn Classic on Dec. 6-7 against 103 schools from across the nation. More than 1,400 students participated in the meet. Over 200 students competed in both foreign and domestic extemporaneous speaking. Rachel Evans reached the semi-final round in both extemp categories and Sydney Walter reached the semi-final round in domestic extemp. Because the girls both reached the top 18, they both received additional bids to the TOC in Ex-temp.

One hundred, twenty-two students competed in Championship LD Debate. Isaac Hopkins reached the octofinal round of competition (top 16) and Abigail Sullivan reached the double-octofinal (top 32).

Salado Lady Eagles opened District play last week, splitting games with Rogers and Florence.

Lady Eagles 41
Rogers 56

Salado Lady Eagles were outscored 19-9 in the first quarter of their road game against the Rogers Lady Eagles and could not overcome the deficit, losing 41-56 in the opening district contest on Dec. 10.

Salado matched Rogers point for point in the second quarter to trail 32-22 at the half, but managed only 9 third quarter points as Rogers pulled away for a 46-31 lead going into the fourth.

The Lady Eagles shot only 20 percent at the free throw line, making three of 15 shots. Salado also committed 20 fouls, giving Rogers 33 attempts from the free throw line, of which the home team Lady Eagles converted 13.

Tori Atwood led Salado with 16 points, all from the field. She scored 10 first half points.

Taryn Kornegay followed with 12 points, including one of the team's two three-pointers.

Ashley Adams had the other shot beyond the arc, as she scored 9 points in the game.

Sarah Kelarek and Peyton Dreitz each had 2 points.

Lady Eagles 52
Florence 26

Salado bounced back from the loss to bull over the Florence Lady Buffs 52-26, winning at home on Dec. 13.

The Lady Eagles started slow with 10 points in the first quarter, but allowed just 5 from the visiting Lady Buffs.

Salado extended the lead to 28-9 by the end of the first half.

Taryn Kornegay (#32) and Sarah Kelarek (#3) defend against the Florence Lady Buffs in the Salado Lady Eagles' convincing 52-26 district win.

Kornegay hit three three-pointers on her way to a game-high 16 points.

Atwood followed with 12 points, all coming in the first three quarters.

Adams had 10 points, all from the field.

Dreitz, Kelarek and Becca Carroll all had 4 points in the game and Jaylee Sebek had 2 points.

Salado will host Rosebud-Lott Dec. 20 before competing in the Thornedale Tournament Dec. 27-28 over the Christmas break.

Letters to Santa

Each Christmas Salado Village Voice prints letters to Santa written by third graders at Thomas Arnold Elementary School.

Mrs. Marquis' Class

Dear Santa,
How is rodalph? Is he okay? Is it cold in the cold in the north pole? It nice to be santa? Santa Claws I want a few toys, for Christmas. All I want for cristas is a game and a transformar and a lot of other doth.
Sincerely, James

Dear Santa,
How was your year been? I hope that we don't have a fire that night. We might have a home alone marohtn. For Christmas I would like Madden 13 for Wii. I would like it because it has RGIIL. Andrew Luck, and Tim Tebow. I would also like video cam to film a video on youtube. I would also like a RC Heilapter to put in the video. I would also like a balrtormore Raven Jersey that says McLane #52. I would like because I love the Ravens. Is Mrs. Claus good? How was your summer? I hope it was good. Have a Merry Christmas!
Sincerely, Dray

Dear Santa,
How are you and Mrs. Clause doing? I would like beyblades, Pokemon and bakugan for Chistmas. Beyblades are awesome toys. They are fun to play with. Pokemon are awesome cards. Bakugan are balls that turn into monsters. Hope the elves are working I have a bigger list. I will leave cookies and milk. If I was an elf I would come with you on the trip around the world giving toys away. Hope you are safe for the trip.
Sincerlty, Aidan

Dear Santa,
How have you been? When you get to my house you're going to like the cookies that me and my mom are going to make for you. There is going to be Angel cookies, Gingerbread man cookies and Christmas tree cookies too. The gifts that I want are Disney Infinity for the PS3 so I can play it with my brother and SkylLandersGaints for the 3DS so I can show my brother how to play. Have a very good Christmas Ho Ho Ho!
Sincerely, Draven

Dear Santa,
How are you doing? I hope you make a lot of presents. I wanted to know if you could get me a lot of presents. I wanted to know if you could get me a lot of candy. Like Reeses the candy the 4 cuped ones. And if you could also give me a Crazy Loom Braclret set like the with glow-in-the-dark bands. Thats all I want to say have a safe trip to my house, down my chimney and to my tree.
Sincerely, Tia

Dear Santa,
I hope you will be ready for all those cookies and milk I hope the elves are working hard. I can't wait until Christmas morning the town will be full of snow because I'm going to New Mexico. Here are the things I want for Christmas. I want a ds 3d because I will take good care of it. I want anything horse because I love horses. I want arts and crafts I love arts and crafts. I also want a airplane. I love airplanes.

Love, Haley

Dear Santa,
How are the elfs getting everying done? I promise no one iwll ever touch Clyde (my elf.) Santa, can you please get me a phone that is green? I would also like a Lego Friends Cruise Ship that is so lean it sparcles! I would also love a kitten that is a tan-peach color. I hope Clyde is doing good!
Sincerely, Kate

Dear Santay,
How are you feeling? How big is your sleigh? For Christmas I would like Anikin, Obi-wan, 2 clones, 2 droids, General Greivous, and Darth Maul. All of those are lego mini figures. Oh! And also with Anikins Lego ship. The droids are regular. So are the clones. If you have Rodlph on your sleigh, please don't let any reindeer taunt him. Have a safe trip!
Sincerely, Noah

Dear Santa Clause,
How are Rudolph and Mrs. Clause doing? I won't froget to put out Christmas cookies. For Christmas I want a Duck Dynasty bobble head, because Duck Dynasty is my favorite show. I also want bubble gum, to try to break the world record for the longest time chewing gum. I also want some Duck tape to make a wallet and flower out of Duck tape. How do you fit so many toys in one bag? How do you get through the chimney if its on fire? Hope you have a safe trip.
Sincerely, Naysa

Dear Santa,
How many presents do you deliver to children every year?
For Christmas I would like a real camera so can take pictures of special occassions like Christmas.
I would also like telescope so I can look at the stars at night. Maybe a microphone with some speakers so I can tell my brothers and my sister to get out.
Last but not least a tv so I can watch television in my room.
Sincerely, Gavin

Dear Santa,
How do you know if kids are bad or if they are good? Well tell me when you get this. Now back to me. I don't want alot so let me tell you. I would like a makeup kit because I would like my mom to do it to me and my friends when they sleepover. I also a bunny for Christmas because they are cute and soft. I would love an art kit. Sincleley, Logan

Dear Santa,
I am very happy that you do this for us. Cristmis is the best holaday ever to me. I would like to ask you something. How do you get through the chimney? I would like a remoot control air plating a mirror for a locker, a white angry bird that makes noise, and a phone.
Your frend, Greyven

Dear Santa,
Do elves throw present off the sleigh? I hope you have a ringling dingling christmas. I want a cellphone, a gun, lego, fighting robots with remote control and an xbox 360 with live. I hope you have a safe trip.
Sincerly, Logan

Dear Santa,
How old are who santa? you must eat a lot of cookies on cristas. I would love to have these presents! I would like jenga for Christmas! I would love if I got gooie Louie from you! last, but not least I would like to have scrable flas. I hope you have a nice tirlp.
Sincerley, Nolan

Dear Santa,
How did Rudolph get his red nose? I hope you don't get sick from those cookies and glasses of milk! Hopfully that weather won't be so bad just a thought wear warm cloths!
Santa can I have a Kindle because i need something that has lots of games that I can play. Also I would like an Amazon gift card so I can get games on the Kindle cheaper. Oh, I would also like some american girl doll cloths for my american girl doll's!
Thank you soooo very much for my presents from the past!
Sincerely, Holly

Dear Santa,
How are the reindeer? I hope that you and Mrs. Clawse are ok. If I had a Xbox 360 I would shar it with my famly. I have been dreaming about having an iPad. If I had one I would shar it with my dad for his bisnas. Ok I have to say that you are great.
Sincerely, Reanna

Dear Santa,
How is Rudolph, I ho ho hope you can fit in my chimney it is very small. I have got cookies for you. The raindeer will get raindeer food. If that is ok? my christmas tree is huge. What I want for christmas is an American Gril Doll and a horse to fit it. Also some cloths for her. Thank you Santa.
Your friend, Camille

Dear Santa,
How do you get in the house if there is no chimney. I have an elf ont he shelf. His name is fred. Is he on of your favoirt efls. For Christmas this year I want a tablet. Because on road trip you can watch movies. I also want a barbie dream house. It is so big that it has two elvetors. Oh and some new cow girl boots. Mine are broken. I would also like head phones that wrap around your ear. hope you have a safe trip.

Sincerely, Carissa

Dear Santa Claws,
How are your elves? I'm going to make you some deliciouso cookeis and milk. I would like to have spy gear, makeup, nail polish. I hope this is not much asking. I hope you have a merry christmas. I love you Santa Claws. Thank you for everything.
Love, Heather

Dear Santa Clause,
How are your reindeer? I want an Ipod because I want to listen to music, then i want a pair of reebok shoes because if i get my red and black shoes dirty i got a back uplain. i would like clets because i play baseball I want Si Robinson Jase Robinson house slippers because i love si and Jase of Duck Dynasty i would also like a dumbugy because sometimes i want to go to my pond and hot walk. hope you have a save trip and your reindeer.
Sincerly, Braydon

Dear Santa,
How did Ruddph get his red nose? I hope you like the cookies and milk that I set out for you. I would like A Tablet because my brother can get so annoying sometimes and that way i could just sit back put my headphones in and play games. I would like some neon green beats please because the look awesome and also really cool! I would also cute stuff for my puppy because it will look so cod and cute!. The last thing is a big light bright because it lights up and it looks awsome for my room. I hope you have a Merry Christmas!
Sincirely, Reese

Dear Santa,
What do you feed your reindeer? I want a Ipad air really badly and I mean badly. I also want one w bike. The brand is mongoose. I actually believe in you. Although I am 8 years old.. I still believe in you. Oh by the way I also want a really cool rubber band shooter. Have a safe trip!
Sincerely, Jeffrey

Dear Santa,
How are you doing? Well have a merry Christmas and here are a few things I would like. I would like a Wii, Legos, and an automatic airsoft gun. I'd like to get the Wii the most because i have a broken one and I have a ton of games for it. I hope you have a saf trip. Hopefully you don't crash.
Sincerely, Wyatt

Dear Santa,
How have you and Mrs. claus doing I bet the North Pole is very cold I hope you get all your favorite cookies and milk. This Christmas I would like a puppy I want her to be a labrador retriever thats golden and white whith all pink supplies and some seasonal clothes. I would also like some new stuff for my room. Have a safe trip.
Sincerely, Alexandria

Dear Santa,
How did you get to the north pole? I hope you have a safe trip. Santa these are three things I would like for Christmas. I want clothes-not a lot. Then what I would like for Christmas is a real puppy. last but not least shoes. Thank you.
Sincerely, Kylie

Dear Santa,
How are you and Mrs. Clause doing? I ho ho hope you can fit in my Grammys chimney. I wold like a Lad for Christmas I wold shar it with my sisters. I wold like a Germen Sheperd I wold play with him all the time. i ho ho hope you have a safe trip.
Sincerely, Paityn
