Commissioner Tim Brown announces his intention to seek a final term on the Bell County Commissioners' Court.

Brown will seek final term as Commissioner

Bell County Commissioner Tim Brown announced that he would seek a seventh and final term on the Commissioner's Court in the March 2018 Republican primary. Brown made the announcement from the Commissioner's Court on Sept. 18.

"Protecting our quality of life while building for the future has always been and continues to be my goal," Brown said.

He pointed to several accomplishments achieved by Bell County government during the 23 years in which he has served, including the renovations of the historic Bell County courthouse, the construction of the Justice Complex and county jail on Loop 121 and "state-of-the-art technology" throughout the county government.

"We have done all of this while maintaining the lowest property tax in central Texas," he said.

He thanked other officials and Bell County staff for their work to improve the infrastructure of the county, increase efficiencies in every Bell County department and maintaining a AA+ bond rating. "This is the same bond rating that the federal government," he said, adding that "very few counties can boast this high of a rating."

"We have an incredibly talented and dedicated family of county officials and employees and it has been my honor to work with these people," he said. "We have forged strong relationships with leaders and officials at every level of government and with community leaders, volunteers and just plain good people who give so much here at home."

First elected in 1994, Brown said he sees the county continuing to address the same issues as those he campaigned for in his first election.

"They're just on a much larger scale," he said, pointing to water, transportation, public safety, growth management and the mandate to hold down the cost of government.

Brown was born and raised in Bell County, graduating from Belton High School before attending Texas A&M. As an Aggie, he received his undergraduate degree in Environmental Design and a Master's Degree in Land Development. Prior to his stint as a public servant, Brown worked as an independent designer.

Brown was first elected county commissioner in 1994, the same year that then-Governor George W. Bush won his first term as head of state.

Brown has led the charge on the establishment of the Clearwater Underground Water Conservation District. The commissioner is also one of the founders and two-term president of North America's Super Corridor Coalition, a group created to address infrastructure needs in response to the passage of NAFTA. Brown also helped coordinate local governments to provide funding to get the U.S. 190 upgrade started with the Texas Department of Transportation.

A lifelong Republican, Brown told that audience that he has maintained a strong fiscal responsibility by working with the commissioners' court to maintain a steady tax rate, while providing more services.

"Bell County is continuing to be one of the fastest growing counties in the state," he said. "With Interstate 14 now a reality, we must prepare to become a new crossroads for Texas' economy and military preparedness."

Brown said he will be hosting a campaign launch event in October.

He will present more information about how Bell County can address these important issues through his campaign website, www.BrownForBellCounty.com

Hearings Sept. 21 on Village tax rate, budget

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Salado aldermen are set to conduct public hearings at 6:30 p.m. Sept. 21 on the proposed 2017-18 operating budget and the proposed tax rate of $0.5362 per $100 evaluation.

The proposed budget will increase general fund expenses by more than $120,000 over the current year's expenses. Aldermen propose a tax rate of $0.5362 per $100 evaluation, which is lower than the current tax rate of $0.5419 per $100 evaluation.

The proposed general budget will be funded by $768,454 in tax revenues, including $365,454 in property taxes, $387,000 in sales taxes and $15,000 in mixed beverage taxes.

Other revenue streams for the Village are franchise fees from electric, telephone, waste disposal, cable and water totaling $217,000, an increase of $23,900 over current year.

Licenses, permits and fees will total $31,445, and increase of 13 percent over the current year.

Services fees for subdivision, zoning and Park rental will total $26,900, an increase of almost 50 percent over current year. The majority of that increase ($6,400) will be in plat fees.

The Village budgets $8,500 in investment returns.

The budget will return fines and forfeitures to Village revenue stream from the municipal court totaling $25,000.

Administrative costs will total $463,477, an increase of more than 10 percent over the current year expenditures. A large portion of this will be in personnel costs of $207,615.28.

The budget proposes professional fees of $102,530, an increase of $10,830 for this expenditure. Of that, the Village anticipated $45,000 for legal fees. So far this year, the Village has spent more than $50,000 on legal fees.

The Village will also increase what it spends to develop and maintain the saladotx.gov website from $5,500 to $15,500.

The Village will also spend another $97,510.32 for Development Services, which include code enforcement, zoning and engineering.

Public Safety will top $415,430 in 2017-18, an increase of $63,254.80 as it brings municipal courts back under the Village at a cost of $12,000 for contracted services.

Under public safety, the Village will spend $293,320.80 for police personnel.

The proposed budget allocates $45,953.91 for Public Works (excluding the Stagecoach Inn WWTP) and $8,606 for Parks.

The Village will spend $96,331 under the general budget for Streets, an increase of more than $18,000 over current year expenditures in that department. Of those expenditures, $50,000 will be paid from the Village's restricted fund balance.

The proposed general budget transfers $39,5761 to supplement the Stagecoach Wastewater Fund Budget. That budget calls for an additional $25,000 in revenue from the handful of customers tied into it.

Expenditures include $30,000 for contracted labor to operate the system, $10,000 for continued testing, $12,000 for sludge disposal and $8,000 for repairs and maintenance of the 40+ year old systems that will be deactivated when the new sewer system is built.

In addition to the general fund and Stagecoach fund, the proposed property tax rate of $0.5362 will generate $576,231 for the annual debt service payments for the $8.8 million in bonds issued by the Village. Of that, $231,231 will be paid in principal on the bonds. The other $345,000 will be interest paid on the bonds.

FORUM

An Open Exchange of Ideas

Turn Off the TV, Mr. President

Donald Trump is the first president in U.S. history to have been baited into undermining his own negotiating position by negative TV coverage.

Less than 12 hours after Attorney General Jeff Sessions explained that the administration is ending DACA -- Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals -- because it's unconstitutional, Trump tweeted that he might revive the program if Congress doesn't act.

This was an implicit admission that he's bluffing on DACA, which gives Democrats every incentive not to trade anything meaningful for a codification of the program. Why make any painful concessions to save DACA if the president is loath to truly terminate it?

Surely, Trump wasn't thinking of any strategic or legislative imperatives; he was thinking only of how to push back against commentators calling him heartless. The time of the tweet -- 8:38 p.m. -- suggests that he was watching TV, and reporting has confirmed as much.

Which raises the questions: Doesn't the president have better things to do than watch political punditry on cable TV shows? As one of the most famous and powerful people on the planet, why does he care what pundits say about him? And doesn't he realize that his immigration agenda will get attacked by most commentators no matter what?

President Barack Obama famously described himself as having a pen and a phone (that's how we got DACA). Trump has a phone and a remote control, and often works them in tandem as he criticizes, praises and comments on things said about him on air.

Trump is the most unusual combination of a politician who, on the one hand, was elected president by thumbing his nose at media elites and, on the other, is obsessed about what media elites write and say about him.

Trump is experiencing the agony of the media-bashing media figure. He follows what's said on cable TV more closely than many people who make a living as commentators on cable TV. He sometimes knows more about the industry gossip than people who work in the industry.

This reflects his background as a TV star who leveraged his fame into the presidency. But it is, needless to say, highly unusual.

George W. Bush didn't pay much attention to his press coverage, confident that history would get it right and unwilling to get diverted from doing more important things. Barack Obama had an Olympian disregard for political punditry (as for many things).

Trump clearly feeds off the attention and considers the negative coverage, in part, as a motivator (I'll show those bastards on CNN ...). But his obsession with the coverage also distorts his judgment. The DACA tweet was an enforced error, or, to be more precise, an error forced by cable chatter he should be ignoring.

There are a couple of ways out of the dilemma. Trump can abandon his program and perhaps get some praise for "growing in office" (while destroying his presidency). He can continue, agitated by the coverage, to lash out, sometimes self-defeatingly. Or he can turn off the TV.

The right answer is "Click!," but he's as unlikely to give up the remote as he is his phone.

Dow Jones jumps 2.16% for best week in 2017

The Markets

Last week saw the Dow Jones Industrial Average jump 2.16% for its best week in 2017, the S&P 500 Stock Index (SPX) rose a more moderate 1.58% to close at 2500.23, a record high and a nice round number worth remembering. The SPX is up 11.68% this year and 16.88% ahead of where it was this time last year. Meanwhile the ten-year US Treasury note yield climbed from the previous week's 2% yield about 10% to yield 2.203% by Friday's close. Gold was down 0.44% to $1,323.50 while US oil rose a couple of dollars to $49.83, remaining down about 60% from its high point a few years ago.

It has taken the S&P 500 more than 18 years to double; it was at 1250 in March of 1999. The best performing stock in the Index since then has been United Health Group. Number two was Kansas City Southern, and number three was Cummins, Inc. It is, in our opinion, a good sign that the best performing companies were in health care, railroads, and engine manufacture. No purchase recommendation implied here but hard core manufacturing and railroads to carry manufactured goods are not dead, but thriving.

We have received some inquiries about investing in Bitcoin. Notably those requests hit around the beginning of this month as Bitcoin hit a peak of about $4,846. Since then, it has been as low as $3,318 and closed out the week at $3,777. That 22% loss in two weeks is not at all abnormal in speculative commodities like Bitcoin. In our opinion, cryptocurrencies as such things are known, are an excellent way to lose a lot of money.

Market & Economic Update

By Jeffrey W. McClure

Things like Bitcoin are not properly "investments" but rather, a form of gambling. In speculative ventures, like gambling, professionals sometimes make a lot of money, but it all comes from losses taken by most who buy into whatever fad is currently in vogue. Investing in a portfolio of companies that create products or services that enrich the lives of their final purchasers can result in long-term gains for everyone. Certainly, it takes broad diversification and a lot of patience, but historically purchasers of a diversified portfolio of productive companies have come out ahead. That cannot be said for those who bought into speculative commodities like Bitcoin.

The Economy

The U.S. Consumer Price Index rose 0.4% last month, primarily on gasoline prices from Harvey. Average prices are up 1.9% from this time last year. Once volatile energy and food prices are removed, core inflation has been running at an annual rate of 1.7% for the past four months from last year. That is below the Federal Reserve's target of 2% but as the numbers have been very slowly rising, most economists are expecting another rate hike by the Fed in December.

Industrial production fell 0.9% and retail sales fell 0.2% in August. Again, those figures were strongly influenced by Harvey as the Houston and Southeast Texas economies effectively shut down. Similar distortions will likely be seen as this month's data comes in during October. The Index of Leading Economic Indicators as well as the other data points on U.S. economic health continue to suggest our economy is chugging along in a very healthy manner.

Cybersecurity

The Department of Homeland Security has now officially ordered its agencies to cease using Kaspersky Lab "computer protection" software. If you have been following our musings for the past several years, or have listened to our radio show on KTEM, you will be aware that we started warning about Kaspersky a couple of years ago. Kaspersky is a Russian company headquartered in a former KGB building adjacent to the current Russian foreign intelligence service (FSB) headquarters. Kaspersky's tech employees are in many cases reserve Russian intelligence agents or military members. More, Russian law requires that Kaspersky Labs provide the Russian government with all information requested without warrant or reason given. Eugene Kaspersky, the company's founder learned cyber-security through his KGB training at the agency's technical college.

Our recommendation is that allowing agents of the Russian intelligence services to "protect" your privacy may not be the most prudent of actions.

Not everyone wants a Trophy

Miriam Jordan is not front-and-center. She wants no trophy. However, mention Miriam's name and there is nothing but smiles and words of quiet praise. Her radiance lights up the universe.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Miller put their heart and soul into the people of Salado. They want no trophy. Humbleness, goodness, honesty, and heart-warming concern are their center being.

On Chisholm trail is a beautiful garden with new flag poles. On Hester Way there is a creek/cully immaculately cleared. Tommy and Joe, covered with sweat, dirt, and bites, did both. No trophy wanted.

No trophy wanted. If still birth or miscarriage occurs, they travel miles and with care/dignity prepare the child for burial; often for no pay. Pat and Dave Broecker see it as a ministry.

Just call him "doer." No trophy wanted. Larry Nathanson remembered Citizens-on-Patrol (C.O.Ps) and is single-handedly organizing citizens to work/ride with our Policemen.

There is a beautiful street garden that makes one smile. Look closely, a sign identifies "Carol's Garden." Carol Strong, even when feeling bad, manages it.

Tim and Marilyn Fleischer research, write, photograph, and lay out the Salado Village Voice every week. Not easy, especially with a broken leg. No trophy wanted.

There are small neighborhood book libraries attached to posts/trees. No trophy wanted. No charge. St. Joseph Episcopal does it for the love of you.

Flipping pancakes, making snow cones, clearing tables. No Trophy needed. Tom McMahan is always giving himself to a cause.

Our town is full of people who want no trophies, no recognition. They do it for the love of the Village.

They believe as SEN-ECA wrote: "People cannot live happily who regard themselves only; who turns everything to their own advantage. You must live for others if you wish to live for yourself."

Long range facilities planning committee formed to address growth in district

From 2012 to 2016, our district enrollment increased from 1,348 students to 1,747 students. Of those additional 399 students, 275 of them (69%) live in Salado and 114 of them (31%) are out-of-district transfer students.

In an attempt to slow down this growth, this past January our Board of Trustees voted to discontinue accepting new transfer students, with the following exceptions: children of school district employees, siblings of current transfer students, resident students that move out of the district, and children of active duty military or disabled veterans. While this change has prevented our transfer student enrollment from increasing, our enrollment this year still increased by 115 students (which all live in Salado). Thus, our enrollment has now increased from 1,348 students to 1,862 students during the past five years. Of those 1,862 students, 1,626 of them (87%) are resident students and 236 of them (13%) are transfer students. Over the past five years, our enrollment has increased an average of 103 students or 6.7% per year, for a total increase of 514 students or 38%.

Superintendent's Corner

by Dr. Michael Novotny

We have formed a long range facilities planning committee to develop a plan to address this continued enrollment growth. This committee is comprised of about 60 parents, community members, local business representatives, and school district employees. We have a large committee because obtaining different perspectives from the entire community is very important to the process.

The goals of this committee are the following:

1. Consider the educational needs of all students and align with the district's mission, vision and goals.

2. Represent the entire community, its values and perceptions in the facility planning process.

3. Assess and prioritize the district's current and long-term facility needs, including, but not limited to: district growth and capacity; building age, safety and condition; evolving educational delivery and programs.

4. Create a long-range facilities and equipment plan of the district.

5. Bring forward recommendations to the Board of Trustees as to how to proceed with a long-range plan. All of the meetings will be open to the public so everyone is welcome to attend and listen to the committee discussions. The meetings will be held on Monday nights from 6-8 p.m. at the Salado ISD Administration Building/Civic Center, located at 601 North Main Street. These are the dates for the meetings:

- September 25
- October 2 (this meeting will be a tour of all of our current facilities)
- October 23
- November 6
- December 4
- January 8
- January 22

UMHB Hosts Exhibit A Square Foot of Peace

The University of Mary Hardin-Baylor College of Visual and Performing Arts and the UMHB Art Department are proud to present a special art exhibition entitled A Square Foot of Peace: An Invitational Exhibition Celebrating International Day of Peace. The exhibit will be on display beginning Wednesday, September 20, in the lobby of the Baugh Center for Visual Arts on the UMHB campus. The opening will be marked by a reception at 5:30 p.m., which will include a performance by the university's elite choir, One Voice, and a reading by local poet Chris Boldt. This event is free and open to the public.

This exhibition, which will be on display through October 20, was curated by UMHB Art professor Helen Kwiatkowski in support of International Day of Peace. Invited artists were asked to create 12"x12" works which reflected their thoughts about peace.

The International Day of Peace is observed around the world on the twenty-first day of September. Established in 1981 by the United Nations, Peace Day is devoted to "commemorating and strengthening the ideals of peace both within and among all nations and peoples." Cedar Valley host Central Texas Master Singers

The Central Texas Master Singers will sing at Cedar Valley Baptist Church 6-8 p.m. Sept. 24.

Central Texas Master Singers (CTMS) is a vocal performance group specializing in the profound delivery of contemporary Christian choral and praise music - performing choral music arrangements across the spectrum engaging audiences with a wide variety of music styles for every interest. From classical arrangements and newly arranged hymns to today's ever popular praise and worship genre, CTMS delivers a remarkable performance of well-rehearsed and majestic music unsurpassed by the common community choir.

CTMS is the premier choral group under the organization of The Master Singers, Inc., a 501(c)3 tax exempt non-profit, faith based choral organization. While the choir performs predominately on a free-will offering basis, during the Christmas season CTMS is fully accompanied by top-notch professional orchestral musicians who perform regularly with area symphonies in and around the Central Texas region. With a unique performance personality and rich vocal blend, you are sure to be inspired and captivated throughout the entire musical experience.

The choir is made up of Christian singers of varying musical backgrounds, many of whom are public school music educators, freelance musicians, volunteer church musicians, current and past collegiate singers as well as non-vocally trained singers. Participating with the Central Texas Master Singers requires an extraordinary level of commitment. The choir performs fully memorized, maintains a rigorous performance schedule, rehearses weekly and pursues excellence in sound and musicianship. Singers are expected to attend all rehearsals with consistency and perform in all scheduled performances.

The choir was founded and organized by Steven Kirkpatrick in April 2009. CTMS is a direct inspiration from Steven's past singing experience in the world renowned Dr. Gary Bonner Singers while living in Riverside, California. Additionally, he has been studying choral conducting each summer with Dr. Bonner through rigorous weeklong choral conducting seminars since 2007 through the Bonner Institute for the Advancement of Choral Music. Steven has led church choirs for more than 20 years beginning at the age of 14.

Most Americans Do Not Use the Internet to Seek — or Share — Spiritual Matters, Baylor Survey Finds

MOST AMERICANS DO NOT USE THE INTERNET TO SEEK — OR SHARE — SPIRITUAL MATTERS, BAYLOR SURVEY FINDS BUT NEARLY 9 OF 10 AMERICANS DISAGREE WITH THE NOTION THAT TECHNOLOGY AND SCIENCE WILL MAKE RELIGION OBSOLETE

WACO, Texas (Sept. 14, 2017) — Despite the pervasive use of the Internet in everyday life, most Americans report they never use it to find religious or spiritual content, and most never use it to share religious views, according to the Baylor Religion Survey.

That holds true regardless of religious tradition, said Baylor University sociologists, who recently presented the latest survey findings at the Religion Newswriters Association's annual conference.

"Even the most religious typically refrain from using the Internet to proselytize, but Evangelicals and Black Protestants are the most likely to share their religious views online," said Baylor sociologist Paul McClure.

When asked about how the Internet affects their spiritual lives, 62 percent Ameri-

Auxiliary Call for Bakers

Attention! Bakers needed! Get your favorite recipes ready and start baking for the annual Christmas in October Bake Sale. The bake sale is always a popular part of Christmas in October, an event sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce Ladies Auxiliary. This year Christmas in October is scheduled on October 13th & 14th, at The Venue. Profits from the bake sale are dedicated to community grants and high school scholarships. The Village ladies (and sometimes men) bake pies, cakes, cookies, fudge, brownies and other delectable treats for the bake sale. Gluten free and sugar free items are increasingly popular. Each year the bake sale is successful by selling out of goods before the end of the Christmas in October event.

Bake Sale Co-Chairs, Dorothy Dentry and Maurine Nathanson, want "Village Bakers" to know that containers for baked goods will be available Sept. 25- Oct. 9 at the Visitor Center (across from the Stagecoach Inn). Baked goods can be delivered to The Venue, 8 a.m. - 5 p.m., on Oct. 12 or 13. They can also be delivered on, Oct. 14, 8 - 10 a.m.

cans said the Internet has no effect on them spiritually. Of those who attend church weekly, 45 percent said it has no effect, while 50 percent believe the Internet affects their spiritual life positively. Only 4 percent of weekly religious attendees believe the Internet has a negative effect on them spiritually.

Despite some worries that we spend too much time online, most Americans, especially older ones, do not think they are addicted to technology. But younger Americans feel differently, with 43 percent of those ages 18 to 24 reporting that they feel addicted to their technological devices, according to McClure and Baylor co-researcher Justin Nelson. Those with no religious affiliation are also the most likely of all religious groups to feel addicted to technology, they said.

Nearly 9 in 10 Americans disagree with the claim that science and technology will make religion obsolete, and no religious groups predominantly agree with the claim that technology will undermine religion.

Meanwhile, "just over one third of Americans with no religious affiliation think that religion is destined to the dustbin of history," McClure said.

The findings were included in Wave 5 of the survey, with the theme of "American Values, Mental Health and Using Technology in the Age of Trump." Participants were 1,501 adults chosen randomly from across the country. The survey was designed by Baylor scholars and administered by the Gallup Organization.

PUBLIC NOTICE Brief Explanatory Statements of Proposed Constitutional Amendments Special Election, November 7, 2017

Proposition Number 1 (HJR 21)

HJR 21 proposes a constitutional amendment that would permit the Texas legislature to expand the circumstances under which a partially disabled veteran or their spouse may qualify for an exemption from ad valorem taxation of part of the market value of the veteran's residence homestead. Currently, the Texas legislature may provide that a partially disabled veteran or their spouse is entitled to an exemption from ad valorem taxation of a percentage of the market value of the disabled veteran's residence homestead only if the residence homestead was donated to the disabled veteran by a charitable organization at no cost to the veteran. The amendment would allow the Texas legislature to provide that the exemption also may be taken when the residence homestead was donated, sold, or transferred to the disabled veteran by a charitable organization for less than the market value of the residence homestead. The amendment also harmonizes certain related provisions of the Texas Constitution.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to provide for an exemption from ad valorem taxation of part of the market value of the residence homestead of a partially disabled veteran or the surviving spouse of a partially disabled veteran if the residence homestead was donated to the disabled veteran by a charitable organization for less than the market value of the residence homestead and harmonizing certain related provisions of the Texas Constitution."

Proposition Number 2 (SJR 60)

SJR 60 proposes a constitutional amendment to require that certain conditions be met for the refinancing of a home equity loan to be secured by a voluntary lien on a homestead. The amendment also would: redefine what is excluded in the calculation of the cap on fees associated with a home equity loan, lower the cap from 3% to 2% of the original principal amount of the extension of credit, and specify that such fees are in addition to any bona fide discount points used to buy down the interest rate. The amendment would further specify the list of authorized lenders to make home equity loans, change the threshold for an advance of a home equity line of credit, allow agricultural property owners to acquire home equity loans, and update technical terminology in the Texas Constitution. The amendment would be effective on January 1, 2018, and applicable only to a home equity loan made or refinanced on or after that date.

The proposed amendment would appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to establish a lower amount for expenses that can be charged to a borrower and removing certain financing expense limitations for a home equity loan, establishing certain authorized lenders to make a home equity loan, changing certain options for the refinancing of home equity loans, changing the threshold for an advance of a home equity line of credit, and allowing home equity loans on agricultural homesteads."

Proposition Number 3 (SJR 34)

SJR 34 proposes a constitutional amendment that would prevent certain office holders from serving indefinitely beyond the expiration of their term. Office holders who are appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate and receive no salary would only be able to serve until the last day of the first regular session of the Texas legislature that begins after their term expires.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment limiting the service of certain officeholders appointed by the governor and confirmed by the senate after the expiration of the person's term of office."

Proposition Number 4 (SJR 6)

SJR 6 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the Texas legislature to require any court that is hearing a challenge to the constitutionality of a state statute to notify the attorney general of that challenge, if the party raising the challenge notifies the court that the party is challenging the constitutionality of such statute. Additionally, the amendment would allow the Texas legislature to set a period of not more than 45 days following the notification to the attorney general that the court must wait before rendering a judgment that a state statute is unconstitutional.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to require a court to provide notice to the attorney general of a challenge to the constitutionality of a state statute and authorizing the legislature to prescribe a waiting period before the court may enter a judgment holding the statute unconstitutional."

Proposition Number 5 (HJR 100)

HJR 100 proposes a constitutional amendment to provide a more detailed definition of "professional sports team" for purposes of their charitable foundations, which the Texas legislature may permit to hold charitable raffles. The amendment also deletes a requirement that an eligible professional sports team charitable foundation permitted by the Texas legislature to hold charitable raffles had to be in existence on January 1, 2016.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment on professional sports team charitable foundations conducting charitable raffles."

Proposition Number 6 (SJR 1)

SJR 1 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the Texas legislature by general law to provide that a surviving spouse of a first responder who is killed or fatally injured in the line of duty is entitled to receive an exemption from ad valorem taxation from all or part of the market value on the surviving spouse's residence homestead, as long as the surviving spouse has not remarried since the death of the first responder. It would also allow the Texas legislature to provide that the surviving spouse, who qualifies and receives the exemption and then qualifies a different property as the surviving spouse's residence homestead, receive an exemption from ad valorem taxation of the different homestead in an amount equal to the dollar amount of the exemption of the first homestead for which the exemption was received in the last year in which the surviving spouse received the exemption for that first homestead. Like the initial exemption, this benefit will only remain available if the surviving spouse has not remarried since the death of the first responder. The proposed amendment would apply only to ad valorem taxes imposed for a tax year beginning on or after January 1, 2018.

The proposed amendment would appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to provide for an exemption from ad valorem taxation of all or part of the market value of the residence homestead of a first responder who is killed or fatally injured in the line of duty."

Proposition Number 7 (HJR 37)

HJR 37 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the Texas legislature to make an exception to the law regarding the award of certain prizes. Currently, the Texas Constitution requires the Texas legislature to pass laws prohibiting lotteries, raffles, and other programs where the award of gifts is based on luck or chance. The proposed amendment would make an exception to this general rule to allow the Texas legislature to authorize credit unions and other financial institutions to institute programs which, in order to encourage savings, would award prizes based on luck or chance to the credit union's or financial institution's customers.

The proposed amendment would appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment relating to legislative authority to permit credit unions and other financial institutions to award prizes by lot to promote savings."

Jr High volleyball results

Salado junior high volleyball teams have been busy, playing teams from Burnet and Llano and competing in the Robinson tournament/

8th A	25	25	18
Burnet	14	18

Salado 8A won in straight sets (25-14,25-18) over Burnet on Sept. 16. Things started to really click for the girls who had their best game of the season against a good Burnet team. Consistent backcourt play combined with a dominant net performance from Eishen Young were too much for the Bulldogs. Lainey Taylor poured in effective serving as well.

8th B	14	14
Burnet	25	25

The B team would struggle to find their footing against a good serving Burnet team. Salado would drop two straight sets (14-25,14-25). Emma Grant and Kymberleigh Deen would prove to be the top servers for Salado, but it wasn't enough.

7th A	25	23	26
Burnet	23	25	24

7A volleyball would play a very close, back-and-forth match against Burnet all afternoon. Eventually winning in three games (25-23,23-25,26-24), the Eagles bounced back in a huge way. Down 8-20 in the final set, Salado rallied behind great serving by Mikayla Bush to get back in the game. "It was great to see the girls fight back after being down that late in the match and then to finish them off at the end," said Coach Kristi Wilk.

7th B	30	14	15
Burnet	29	25	5

7B would also find success being able to put away Burnet in three games (30-29,14-25,15-5). Madison Graham would lead the way for the Eagles in game one. Outside hitter, Hailey Piatak would serve nearly the entire game. After falling behind 2-5, the Eagles would score 13 consecutive points to rally for the victory behind Piatak.

8th A	25	25
Llano	22	18

The junior high Lady Eagles won in straight sets over the Llano Yellow Jackets Sept. 11 (25-22,25-18). Darcy Pryor's serve and Eishen Young's net play proved to be too much for the Yellow Jackets.

8th B	19	25	15
Llano	25	15	11

Salado would win in three matches (19-25,25-15,15-11). After the Lady Eagles struggled to get going early, they showed resiliency by taking the next two. Savannah Oyler's serving would lead the surge from Salado with Macie Pittman getting the game winning kill.

7th A	25	25
Llano	21	14

The 7th Grade A Team would win in two games (25-21,25-14). Team serving would be too consistent for Llano to overcome. Holly Giesecke and Cooper Meyer lead the way for the Salado.

7th B	25	22	3
Llano	22	25	15

The B team would find themselves in a back and forth serve battle. After winning the first game 25-22, Salado would drop the next two 22-25 and 3-15.

The Salado JH A Teams traveled to Robinson Sept. 9 for a one-day tournament.

7th Grade

Salado would drop the first match 0-2 (10-25, 8-25) to Lorena in the 9 a.m. game before rebounding to beat Gatesville 2-0 (25-22,25-6). The Lady Eagles would eventually lose to Lake Belton 0-2 (11-25,25-27) in a close match. The 7th Grade finished with a tournament record of 1-2.

8th Grade

Similar to 7th Grade, 8th Grade A Team first game was against a tough and experience Lorena team who won in straight sets (3-25,14-25). They struggled to find their footing in game one before putting up a better fight in game two. They would bounce back to beat Gatesville in a competitive match 2-0 (25-23,25-18). The 8th Grade Lady Eagles would build off of this and defeat China Springs 25-21 and 25-13 in straight sets.

Coach Kristi Wilk and Coach Clint Brown were pleased with the progress and resiliency. "It was an all-day tournament," Coach Brown said, "so the girls were exhausted."

"We were proud of their mental toughness and ability to bounce back and compete after tough early losses," Coach Wilk said.

Salado Taste of Art brings art out of the studio and into public spaces

The Public Arts League of Salado is hosting its first ever Plein Air Paint-out competition Sept. 22 - 23. Headquarters for the event is The Venue located at 212 Royal Street. Painting in this setting allows an artist and the observing public to interact, literally bringing art out into the fresh air.

Twenty Texas artists will be sketching, drawing, and painting in the historic village and surrounding countryside. The public is encouraged to observe the artists as they work their magic throughout the two days. The event includes a Quick Draw competition that gives the participating artists one hundred minutes to complete a painting.

The artist's work that most impresses the exhibition judges will be given cash awards. The judges for this event are Phillip Wade, MFA, Austin Museum of Art and Barbara Fontaine-White, MFA, Mary-Hardin Baylor.

The prize winning paintings will be auctioned. Additional auction items will be offered. New sculptures in the Salado Sculpture

Contract Bridge

By Steve Becker

Bridge is a competitive game in which each side tries to outscore the other. In a great many deals, the two sides achieve par -- that is, they each obtain the best result the cards entitle them to obtain. In some deals, though, the outcome is uncertain and depends on how well or how poorly one side or the other bids or plays. For example, take this case where South got to five spades doubled as shown. Had West led the king of hearts, a lead most players would select, declarer would have made the contract

West dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

Opening lead — four of clubs.

West's defense was certainly of the highest order, but South could and should have overcome it. West's opening lead was clearly a singleton -- no other club holding could possibly justify it -- so declarer should have directed all his thoughts toward stopping the impending ruff. Since the ruff could occur only if East gained the lead for a club return, and since East's only possible entry had to be in hearts, South should have tried to neutralize that entry.

Accordingly, declarer should have won the opening club lead with dummy's king and returned the king of diamonds at trick two, discarding the heart deuce after East followed low.

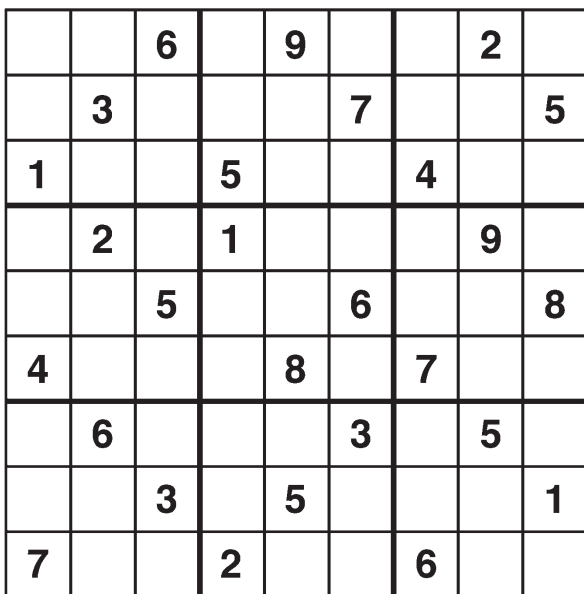

West would have won the king with the ace, but with no way to put East on lead for the killing club ruff, he would have found himself a loser in the battle of wits.

This non-venomous water snake likes fish and frogs

As a general rule, snakes bring about emotions in people that can range from terror to admiration, although the vast majority of people fall somewhere closer to the former. However, here in west central Texas, unadulterated hatred is the most common term associated with a small, non-descript aquatic snake that makes its home in the shallow waters of the Concho and upper Colorado Rivers. However, it is not that the snake has done anything to warrant such hate, but the politics surrounding this particular species and its home has been well publicized for nearly thirty years.

The Concho Watersnake (Nerodia [harteri] paucimaculata) is a small non-venomous serpent, with most adults reaching sexual maturity between sixteen and twenty six inches in total length. The largest specimen recorded, however, was a whopping 42 inches, but that specimen was definitely an exception to this species size rule. Like most other species in the genus Nerodia, it is rather drab in coloration and pattern. The background coloration varies from brown to dark gray and is adorned with muted darker spots that are primarily circular on each side of the spine. Occasionally, these darker spots are fused along the midline of the back, creating one oblong blotch rather than the customary two. There is also an alternating row of smaller secondary dark spots along the sides near the belly scales. The belly is rose or pink colored and is primarily unpatterned save for a few small dark smudges along the outer edges of the belly scales. The head is narrow and elongated and the pupils are round, characteristics that can easily separate this harmless species with the venomous Cottonmouth.

As the name implies, most of the watersnake species are rarely encountered far from water, and this one is no exception. In fact, it is rarely seen more than ten feet from the edge of the shoreline that it calls home. Unlike the other nine species of watersnakes that occur in Texas, which can survive in just about any body of permanent water, this unique species thrives in a niche habitat that consists of fast-flowing shallow water over small flat rocks devoid of vegetation. These particular sites are known as riffle areas and it is in these areas where the vast majority of Concho Watersnakes have been observed.

Not only does this species have a preference for a niche habitat, it also has one of the most limited distributions of any snake that occurs in the United States. Occurring only in approximately two hundred plus miles of the upper Colorado River and Concho River systems, this species, along with its closely related kin the Brazos Watersnake, are the only endemic serpents of the one hundred and nine varieties in this state.

As with almost all other reptiles that reside in temperate climates, they undergo a period of inactivity during the coldest months of the year, allowing sexually mature adults to generate the sperm and eggs necessary for successful reproduction in the spring. However, unlike most other harmless snakes found in Texas, Concho Watersnakes are oviparous, or live-bearing animals. Mating occurs primarily during the months of April and May, and the young are usually born sometime between late August and mid-September. Litters range in size from as few as four to as many as twenty-nine, although the average litter size is around eleven. The delicate babies, who are between seven and nine inches in length, typically mimic the adults in color and pattern and are capable of fending for themselves from the moment they are born.

Concho Watersnakes are diurnal (daytime active) during their foraging activities in the spring and fall, then they become nocturnal when the temperatures of summer reach temperatures too unbearable for most cold-blooded animals. Like other members of the water-snake clan, they feed primarily on small fish, including minnows, shad, and sunfish, although small frogs have also known to have been consumed. Due to the small size to the snake, as well as the limited habitat, populations of large game fish are in no danger of being decimated by this snake.

The combination of habitat selection coupled with the limited distribution is what has caused such a political stir over the past three decades. Based on population estimates that there were anywhere between three hundred and six hundred of these snakes alive in the wild, the federal government listed this species as endangered in the mid-1980's. This federal listing affected how the water from the two river systems could (and could not) be utilized, meaning that the snake had effectively slowed mans progress in this area of the country. This lack of scientific data was exposed in numerous studies that followed during the next several decades that showed not only was the snake far more numerous than first thought, it was also adapting to the "new" habitats of rocky rip-rap surrounding area lakes such as Ivie Reservoir, E.V. Spence Reservoir, and the Ballinger Municipal Lake. These studies, along with much political pressure from local representatives, led to this species being officially removed from the Endangered Species List in November of 2011.

Despite all of the ballyhoo, this species of endemic serpent is still a unique treasure of the Concho Valley that deserves its place in the natural world, regardless of the decades of politics that has surrounded its existence. Besides, it wasn't the snake itself that caused all of the issues, now was it?

Steel Magnolias perform at First Baptist Nolanville

The Steel Magnolias from San Marcos will present a fully Southern Gospel music concert at First Baptist Church in Nolanville at 11:00 a.m. Sept. 24.

The Steel Magnolias have sung throughout the United States for the past eleven years. They've sung along the east coast twice; the most recent tour was 16-days traveling as far north as Niagara Falls, singing 43 times through 15 states, covering 4600 miles. They presented 13 "Flash Mobs," including New York City at Radio City Music Hall, Rockefeller Center, Times Square, Liberty Island Ferry, the new One World Trade Center, and invited to sing at the Billy Graham Library and Samaritan's Purse in North Carolina.

The ladies have traveled through middle America and one of their favorite highlights was to sing at the Calhoun County Jail in Anniston, AL, where The Steel Magnolias were featured on the Birmingham News Station WEAC TV 24. On that same concert tour, the ladies presented five concerts at a 3-Day Virginia Beach Gospel Music Festival in Virginia Beach, VA.

These ladies present as many as one hundred fifty volunteer concerts a year. They do not charge nor ask for a love offering. Your life will never be the same after experiencing the dynamic witness and singing of The Steel Magnolias.

Pastor James Williams and the congregation of First Baptist Church invite the public to come hear The Steel Magnolias present their special gospel music program on Sept. 24. The church is located at 200 E. Avenue H Street, Nolanville, TX 76559
