

Night Out will help launch COPS program

Salado neighbors are encouraged to gather together for the National Night Out on Oct. 3 with block parties and other gatherings where they will have a chance to meet and learn more about their neighbors.

Three local neighborhoods have confirmed that they will host block parties on National Night Out on Oct. 3: 500 Santa Rosa, 900 DeGrummond and 1600 Chisolm Trail.

Salado police will visit those block parties to discuss the reorganization of a Citizens on Patrol Salado (COPS) program here.

Citizen Patrol groups are designed to provide a means for citizens to organize into patrol groups for the purpose of reducing crime in their community.

Volunteers are trained before they are allowed to go out on patrol. Some of that training is that they are never to engage, but only to report activity on their patrols.

Larry Nathanson has taken the lead in reorganizing the COPS program here. Nathanson and Chief Ashe will lead an informational meeting at 7 p.m. Oct. 4 at the municipal building. An additional meeting will be held at the municipal building 7 p.m. Oct. 10.

For more information about the COPS program, contact Nathanson via email at moandlar@gmail.com or call 254-947-4907.

Nathanson will have information on the COPS program to give out to neighbors at the Community Picnic hosted by Mill Creek Community Association in Sherrill Park, 11 a.m.-2 p.m. Sept. 30.

Having additional eyes and ears help the limited police force in Salado, where five full-time officers are employed.

The need for a COPS program and others such as Neighborhood Watch and National Night Out come to mind with the recent reports of home burglaries this week.

According to reports on the social media website Nextdoor, two homes were burglarized in the daylight hours on Sept. 25.

One homeowner, in the 1500 block of Old Mill, reported that jewelry and electronics were taken. The home was not locked.

Another home, in the 2900 block of Chisholm Trail, had its front door kicked in on Sept. 25 and that TVs and jewelry were stolen.

Engleking will not seek 4th JP term

Don Engleking has announced that he will not seek a fourth term as Bell County Justice of the Peace for Precinct 2.

Judge Engleking was appointed by the Bell County Commissioners Court to fill an unexpired term as Justice of the Peace in Pct. 2 taking office on Jan. 1, 2004. He will continue as Judge until the end of his current term on Dec. 31, 2018.

Engleking says that he is stepping down to spend more time with his wife Trenaise, his family and his friends.

"We have wanted to do some traveling and see some of the great sites of this country," Judge Engleking said. "We are both committed to the work of our church and the support of our children and grandchildren in the goals of their lives."

JP Don Engleking

"At the end of this term I will have spent 48 years in service to the people of Texas and this United States," he said. His time in service has consisted of United States Air Force, the Amarillo Police Department, the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission and as Justice of the Peace.

Sewer to go out to bidders in Oct.

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Construction of the Salado sewer system will be ready to be put out for bid in early October after the final engineering design changes that aldermen approved at their Sept. 21 meeting are made.

City administrator Don Ferguson reported that HDR suggested some minor changes in their third party review of KPA designs of the wastewater system. One change is to replace some of the six-inch pipe with 8-inch pipe to give added carrying capacity and to avoid clogging of the system. With approval of the changes, KPA will have the final design ready to be sent out for construction bids in about two weeks.

The bid process will take approximately 45 days, according to Ferguson.

The bids will be broken into packages so that "if costs are higher than expected for the full system" then the Village can build the system in stages.

Ferguson reported that with the impact of Harvey on construction in Texas, the costs for the sewer will be high. "I want you to be prepared for that," he said.

Andy Jackson made the motion to approve the city administrator's recommendations and to have the bid documents prepared to release to bidders. Fred Brown gave a second to the motion that carried unanimously.

Ferguson also reported that an impact fee advisory committee will be formed and meet within the next two weeks as HDR moves forward with the Impact and Rate Fee study.

At their Sept. 7 meeting, aldermen authorized Ferguson to execute a professional services agreement of no more than $37,500 to develop services rates and impact fees for the proposed wastewater system.

Ferguson will continue interviewing firms for the construction management of

Salado Museum will manage Institute for Humanities at Salado

The 37-year-old Institute for the Humanities at Salado is undergoing an important change. The Institute will keep its name, and remain an independent non-profit organization, but it will come under new management. Beginning Oct. 1, the Institute will be governed by a board associated with the Salado Museum & College Park organization.

With diminishing funds available for the lectures and other activities the Institute has been known for, the board sought to partner with another organization that is active and growing and could provide new energy and leadership to the organization. "When the opportunity to partner with the Salado Museum and College Park presented itself, we jumped on it," explained Institute Executive Director Sara Mackie Shull. We feel this is a wonderful opportunity that can benefit both groups. Exciting things are happening with this organization and this will give the Institute a permanent home and an outlet for additional programs," she added.

Even though the Institute will remain intact, there will no longer be the regular kinds of Institute programs that there were in the past. The Museum will utilize the reputation and the strength of the Institute and will put on programming from time to time that dovetails with the interests of the Salado Museum and College Park.

Select members from the Museum board plus former Institute board members, Jane Wilmer, Debra Brock and Sara Mackie Shull, will comprise the new Institute board. The other members are Sterling Ambrose, Pat Suggs, Cele Cowen, Beverly Turnbo and Vic Means. Day to day operations will be handled by Salado Museum Executive Director and Curator Madeleine Calcote.

The Salado Institute for the Humanities began in 1980 when Dr. Wilmer, his wife, Jane, and a small number of like-minded citizens, founded the Institute to create a public forum to discuss important issues. The idea behind the Institute was to explore ideas and educate participants about the broad range of humanities topics--that is, anything that had to do with being human.

The first lecture was in 1981. Subsequently, the Institute gained a national reputation for its programs featuring world renowned scholars, writers, artists and scientists who presented lectures and seminars to members and the public. Other programs of the included seminars and lecture/discussions and special events such as trips, tours, workshops and weekend-long symposia on topics of major interest.

The Institute also sponsored the Wilmer Memorial Lecture, an annual gift to the

SISD launches groundwork for facilities plan

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Salado ISD administrators will lead tours of the district's facilities next week for members of the Long Range Facilities Planning Committee (LRFPC) which launched Sept. 25.

The tours will be 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. Oct. 2 beginning with Thomas Arnold Elementary school, which was built in 1967 with a wing and a metal gym added in 1988. It serves students in Pre-K through second grade.

Salado Intermediate School was built in 1999 and currently serves students in grades 3-6. When it was built, it served students in grades 5-8.

Salado Junior High was built in 1978 when it originally served students in grades 7-12. The football stadium was built the following year and expanded in 2006.

The baseball field was built in 1980 and the softball field in 1999. The ag barn was built before 1980. Transportation moved to its current location in 1998.

The newest campus is Salado High School, built on 50 acres in 2007. The original plan for the 50 acres included an athletic complex with a larger football stadium, baseball field, softball field, tennis courts, expanded agriculture facilities and an additional campus on 15 acres (either an elementary school or a ninth grade campus).

The plan for the 50 acres on Williams Rd. was changed to accommodate expanded extra curricular activities proposed in an $11.5 million bond that failed May 14, 2011 with 564 voting for the proposal and 778 voting against.

The 2011 bond included these projects and cost estimates: 3,000-seat stadium with artificial turf, concession stands and 150 sq. ft. press box, $4,275,000; 11,500 sq. ft. field house, $2,300,000; 600-seat baseball field with 100 sq. ft. press box, $760,000; 600-seat softball field with 100 sq. ft. press box, $495,000; 2,000 sq. ft. concession for baseball/softball, $305,000; four tennis courts, $400,000; visitor parking/ag drive, $125,000; wastewater upgrades, $30,000; 9,500 sq. ft. open sided metal ag barn with minimal air conditioning, $500,000; technology, $25,000; administrative costs, $45,000; expansion of existing competition gym from the current 800 (approximate) seats to 1,600 seats, $1,150,00 (including $105,000 in design costs) and design and testing, $840,000.

Following the Pct. 2 facilities tours, the LRFPC will have the following meetings: Oct. 23, Nov. 6, Dec. 4, Jan. 8 and Jan. 22, making its final recommendations to Salado ISD Trustees on Jan. 29, 2018.

The last day for Salado ISD to call for a bond election for May 2018 is Friday, Feb. 16, 2018 according to the Texas Secretary of State website.

The District has already hired the Huckabee firm to begin master planning and review the existing district facilities assessment from 2015. During the convening months of the LRFPC, the district will finalize a demographic study including future growth projections and educational facilities needs, assess its current and future technology needs and infrastructure and conduct an internal long range plans assessment.

Superintendent Novotny reviewed the process that the district will undergo with the LRFPC and explained school finance laws and their impact on Salado ISD to the more than 50 community members gathered Sept. 25 at the Salado Civic Center for the launch meeting.

He told the group that the Salado ISD operating budget is funded by 56 percent local revenues $8.36 million) and 40 percent state revenues ($5.99 million).

The current tax rate of $1.2238 per $100 evaluation is comprised of M&O tax of $1.04 and $0.1838 in debt service taxes.

Salado's tax rate is the lowest of nine area school districts, except for Killeen ISD, which is heavily supplemented by both state aid and Impact Aid federal funds.

'Handmaid's Tale' Lunacy

Donald Trump, much to his chagrin, never won an Emmy for "The Apprentice," but he can now take indirect credit for a clutch of the awards.

The Hulu series "The Handmaid's Tale" just won eight Emmys, a sweep fueled, in part, by the widely accepted belief in liberal America that the show tells us something about the Trump era.

Based on the 1985 novel by Margaret Atwood, the series depicts a misogynist dystopia. Christian fundamentalists have established a theocracy that -- after an environmental debacle craters the birth rate -- forces fertile women, called handmaids, into sexual slavery.

Set in contemporary America, the show combines the atmosphere of "The Scarlet Letter" with "1984." It is bleak, plodding, heavy-handed and occasionally gripping. What has given it extra oomph is the trope that it is relevant to Trump's America. This is a staple of the commentary, and everyone involved in the show's production pushes the notion.

The series is indeed highly relevant -- as a statement on the fevered mind of progressives.

The president doesn't want to impose his traditional sexual morality because, for starters, he doesn't have any to impose. His critics are mistaking a thrice-married real estate mogul who has done cameos in Playboy videos with Cotton Mather. He isn't censorious; he's boorish. "I thought this could be a great cautionary tale," director Reed Morano says of the show. "We don't think about how women are treated in other countries as much as we should, and I guess I thought this would raise awareness." Fair enough. "The Handmaid's Tale" does have something to tell us about, say, Saudi Arabia. But, in an uncomfortable fact for Christian-fearing feminists, none of the world's women-hating theocracies are Christian.

Elisabeth Moss, who won an Emmy for her portrayal of handmaid Offred, warns of "things happening with women's reproductive rights in our own country that make me feel like this book is bleeding over into reality." What this means is that Republicans want to defund the nation's largest abortion provider, Planned Parenthood, and roll back Obamacare's contraception mandate. If they succeed, this would mean less government intervention in matters of sexual morality, rather than more.

The progressive mind is unable to process that it has won the culture war in a rout (except for abortion, where conservatives are trying to chip away at our extremely liberal laws at the margins). We live in a country where Christian bakers get harried by government for politely declining to bake cakes for gay weddings, yet progressives still believe we are a few steps away from enslaving women.

According to Atwood: "If you're going to get women back into the home, which some people still firmly believe is where they belong, how would you do that? All you have to do is remove the rights and freedoms that [women] have fought for and accumulated over the [past] 200 years."

Yeah, that's all you have to do. Atwood doesn't explain who, straw men aside, actually wants to do this, or how they'd go about it. She wrote a book that, despite her intentions, has become a cautionary tale about how sophisticated people lose their minds.

US net worth increases $1.7 trillion in second quarter

The Markets

Despite all the excitement, financial, political, and international the big market news as the week ended was that nothing, or at least nearly nothing happened. The S&P 500 Stock Index (SPX) ended the week up 0.08%, closing at 2502.22. Notably the Index remained above the memorable 2500 mark. The Dow Jones Industrial Average (the Dow) closed very slightly lower than the previous week. Both Indices remained up impressive double-digits from where they were last September.

Threats by North Korea to detonate a hydrogen bomb over the Pacific, new legislation that would include large cuts to medical spending, and a hack of the SEC in the past would have set the stock market on a frenzy of worry and decline. Still, one or more of the real-world issues that don't seem to be worrying market traders now might just happen. If we do get a real shock, as opposed to the many cries of alarm which have come to nothing, a market dip will probably ensue. The point to remember is that all the issues that might cause such a dip ultimately will result in more economic activity and more corporate profits. Remember too, corporate profits are what drive market levels, not political rhetoric.

Gold ended the week down 2.1% at $1,300 per Troy ounce and is now down 4.30% from this time last year. West Texas Intermediate crude oil ended the week at $50.66, up 0.58% for the week, but down 11.20% year-to-date. The ten-year U.S. Treasury yield ended Friday at 2.255%, up from last week

Market & Economic Update

By Jeffrey W. McClure

and up significantly from the 1.57% yield we saw last year in September.

The Economy

What we believe to be the most important real economic news got little coverage in the media. The Federal Reserve announced last week that the total net worth of U.S. households and non-profits, defined as assets minus liabilities, rose $1.7 trillion in the second quarter to $96.2 trillion. The second quarter total marks the seventh consecutive quarter in which U.S. household net worth has broken all previous records.

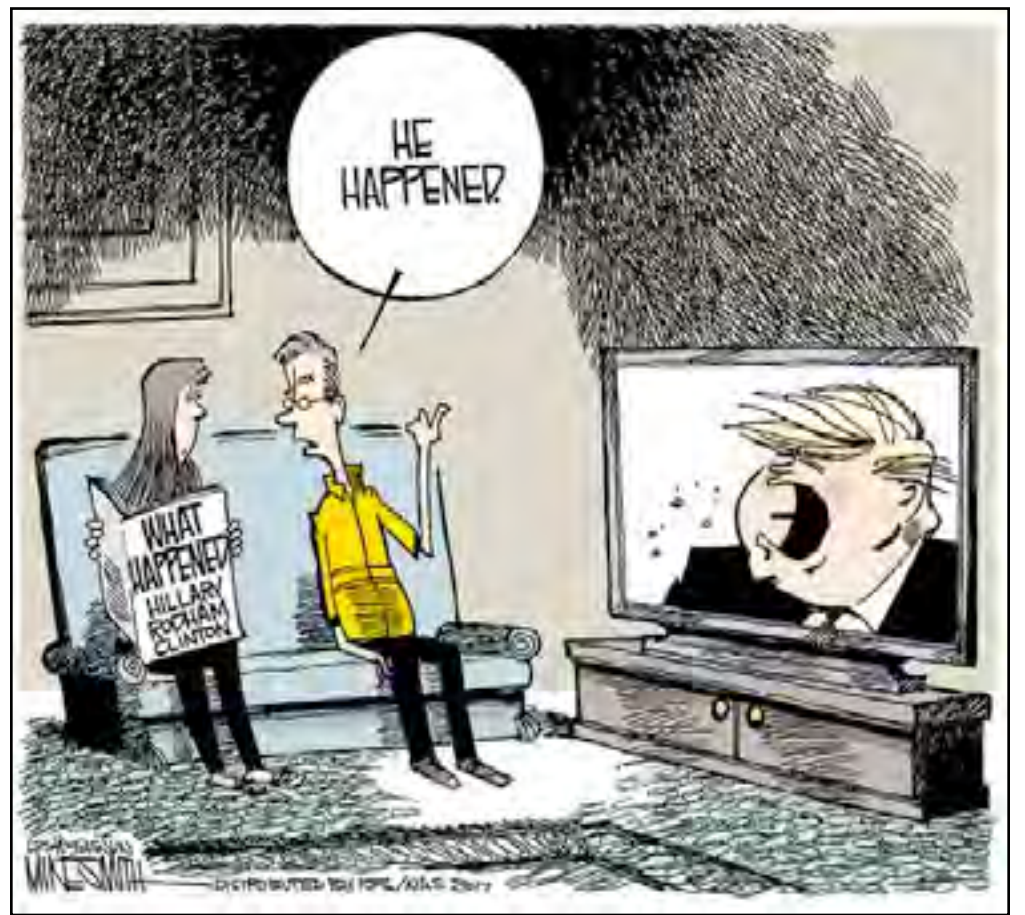

As we dig deeper into the numbers, the good news just gets better. Household liabilities as a percentage of net worth stand at $15.2 trillion, creating the best ratio of equity to debt since the market-boom days of 2000. This time around though, it is not a stock market bubble that is creating a good ratio, but rather lower debt, a good valuation on stocks, and rising house prices. Neither the stock market nor houses are unreasonably priced, so what looks good really is good in this case.

The Equifax and SEC cyber-security breaches have a lot of people concerned. We detailed exactly what you should do if you find that your personal data was compromised in the Equifax hack in our September 11 newsletter. Ideally, you should freeze your credit so that anyone without your personal PIN issued by the three major credit reporting agencies cannot open a new account or line of credit. In reality, if you have attempted to contact the agencies, you probably have spent a long time on hold and finally have given up.

We recommend patience. In a few weeks, the rush will be behind us and getting your credit lines frozen will be relatively simple. Meanwhile, to-date there have been no reports of the Equifax data being involved in identity theft incidents. At this point it is important to simply recognize that if your data was at Equifax, it is in the hand of criminals. At the same time, the only scams associated with the breach are cases where crooks contact people and tell them their data has been compromised, and then talk people into revealing exactly that data on the phone! There apparently are plenty of scammers who are trying to take advantage of your fear, so beware!

The SEC hack was less malignant. It appears that the hackers placed data from non-existent companies on the SEC's publically-traded company site, then convinced people to buy the non-existent stocks. Buying stock because someone calls you up and tells you about some unbelievable deal is an example of greed and foolishness at their highest.

Making memories in Salado

Saturday was amazing not for the number of people or the events. It was amazing and informative because of what people said and the spirit in which it was said. Riding the visitors trolley or walking and visiting; these remarks were expressed:

The Shoppes on Main presents program at ABWA meeting Oct. 6

The Chisholm Trail Chapter of American Business Women will hold their monthly meeting Thursday, Oct. 6, at the Presbyterian Church of Salado, 105 Salado Plaza Drive at 6:15 p.m. Social time starts at 5:45 p.m. with light refreshments. Speakers for the evening will be Lara Tracey and Amy Young, who co-own Shoppes on Main with their mother, Nancy Isakson. Visitors are welcome to the meeting and need not make reservations.

Overall Amy and Tracey have been in the retail industry for a little more than 10 years. Having been raised in a coastal town in California, the hospitality and tourist industry was one they grew up with, are familiar with, and embrace. Because of this it was always their dream to be in business for themselves.

Lara, after having been in Corporate America for 15 years, decided that she would join forces with her mother to start their first retail business, PizzazzingYou. They started out in California, traveling around, doing various events close to home. These events were primarily women's shows in an effort to give back to other communities. Lara moved to Killeen, Texas in 2008 where Amy's husband was stationed. After learning about the Marketplaces Model, the sisters first started out as a tenant in the current location in 2009, and bought the store in 2013.

Amy's background began in the dental field working for the last 15 years as a dental assistant for the Army. This allowed her to have continued job stability as they changed duty stations. Amy has always been involved with the family business, but started full time in May of 2016. This allowed her return to school where she received her certification in digital marketing.

With Amy being full-time at the shop, it provided an opportunity for them to work together and focus on the growth of the business. They maintain the Marketplace business model, hand-picking tenants and unique merchandise to offer customers a large variety and excellent price points.

Both Amy and Lara have embraced the Village of Salado as their own and now sit on the Board of Directors for the Chamber of Commerce. Their primary goal is not only to see to the success of their own business, but all businesses within the Village. Lara said she wants to see Salado bounce back and thrive again, which is one of the main reasons she and her sister organized the new Salado Fourth Fridays "Sip and Shop," where more than 24 shops stay open late.

family and friends to commemorate the lives of Harry Wilmer and his son, Hank Wilmer. With the reorganization of the Institute, the Wilmer family and the Institute Board chose to end the Wilmer lecture series. In order to give back to the community in a different way, the remaining endowed funds from the Wilmer Lectureship will fund The Wilmer Scholarship for students in the Salado public schools, administered by the Salado Education Foundation. The 20th and final Wilmer lecture was held in April and the Wilmer scholarship will begin next year.

During the last 37 years, the Institute has educated and entertained thousands from central Texas and all across the state with its yearly lectures, workshops, symposia and other programs. There have been Institute programs on such topics as evil, dreams, creativity, stories, the cosmos, and technology, to name just a few. The symposium on evil, which drew such luminaries as Rollo May, Maya Angelou, and M. Scott Peck, was filmed by Bill Moyers and made into a documentary for PBS. The programs were varied in their approach, but the Institute's core value was to present outstanding speakers who could challenge audience members to think beyond the every day.

Institute programs were designed to convey stories, ideas and information about the history, literature and values that are the human story. Since Liz Carpenter's inaugural lecture, more than 275 of the country's leading scholars, Nobel Laureates, writers, scientists, entertainers, educators, artists and leaders have come to Salado to share their knowledge. Some of the many prominent, past speakers include: Linus Pauling, Elisabeth Kubler-Ross, Story Musgrave, Denton Cooley; Linus Pauling, Albert Sabin, Seth Shostak, Michael Collins, Dean Radin, Michio Kaku, Ilya Prigogine, M. Scott Peck, Maya Angelou, John Kenneth Galbraith, Edward Albee, Horton Foote, Hon. James A. Baker, Rep. Barbara Jordan, Liz Carpenter, Admiral Bobby Inman, Sen. Bill Bradley, T.R. Fehrenbach, H.W. Brands, Betty Sue Flowers, Thomas Moore, Stephen Harrigan, Robert Bly, Lee Marvin, and Robert Carradine.

Live Well Expo Oct. 4

(Temple, TX) The Temple Convention & Visitor's Bureau is proud to host the inaugural Live Well Expo this fall! This free event is open to the public and will take place on Wednesday, October 4, at the Mayborn Convention Center (3303 N. 3rd St.) from 1 p.m. until 6 p.m.

Designed to showcase the many ways to Eat Well, Move Well and Live Well, right here in Temple the expo will bring together a plethora of health and wellness experts, specialists, and local vendors, all who will be on hand to provide useful information, samples and live demonstrations. Door prizes will also be awarded to the first 100 attendees through the doors, and additional prize drawings will be held throughout the afternoon.

This will be the kick-off event to help support the Live Well Initiative, which was implemented earlier this year to revive a culture of health and wellness within our community. To achieve this goal, the Live Well Expo will shine a light on the many wonderful wellness-oriented businesses located in our own backyard. Attendees to the expo will be given the opportunity to speak with businesses and learn about the many different ways they can improve upon their quality of life and wellbeing.

During the event, the expo floor will be divided into three sections - Live Well, Move Well and Eat Well. Each section will highlight applicable experts and vendors and will feature several different live demonstrations. The Live Well section will focus on overall quality of life, Move Well on physical fitness, and Eat Well will focus on nutritional wellness. While Temple is fortunate to have a large number of wellness oriented businesses, the Live Well Expo is intended to encourage all businesses, new and existing, to take another look at incorporating wellness into their business and workforce practices. Resources will be available to help businesses add wellness components to current offerings for customers and employees alike.

For more information or to take part in the Live Well Expo, visit DiscoverTemple.com or contact Nancy Glover at 254-298-5379.

Tourism to lease Chamber space for visitors center

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Over the objection of alderman Michael McDougal, Salado Tourism will sublease space for the Visitors Center from the Salado Chamber of Commerce for three years.

McDougal voted against the lease of the space within the Salado Museum on South Main Street while Mayor Pro Tem Fred Brown and aldermen Frank Coachman, Amber Dankert and Andy Jackson voted in favor of the lease at their Sept. 21 meeting.

The lease agreement comes after aldermen voted on Sept. 7 to end the contract of cooperative work with the Salado Chamber of Commerce that established the Salado Chamber of Commerce and Tourism Bureau. Under that contract, the Chamber of Commerce was responsible for all of the costs to operate the Visitors Center, which was moved earlier this year from its location on north Main Street to its current location at the Salado Museum.

Aldermen at the same time voted to name Erin Klingemann as the Tourism Director. Klingemann has served as interim Tourism Director since May.

Under the new three-year lease agreement, which begins Oct. 1, hotel occupancy tax dollars will fund the $1,937 per month lease, which includes all utilities costs, until April 30, 2019 when the lease will be reduced to $1,517. The additional $420 will allow the Village to adopt lower tax rate

Chamber to recover the expenses it incurred through a loan for the renovations and construction at the new Visitors Center.

Alderman McDougal asked if the Chamber was paying its "pro-rated share" for the space, as well as a pro-rated share for the utilities, including electricity, phone and internet.

According to the 2016-17 budget, the Village has paid nothing in rent or utilities for the offices of its two employees or the operation of the Visitors Center.

Instead, under the contract authorized by aldermen in 2016, Village HOT funds were predominantly used to pay for $125,000 in salaries and benefits to two employees. A remaining $35,000 was authorized for marketing expenses to be appropriated through the cooperative contract with the Chamber of Commerce.

The 2016-17 contract, although vetted by legal counsel for the Village, could be in violation of the prescribed usages of HOT funds because those funds were being used for salaries of employees who were doing "Chamber of Commerce work," such as working on the golf tournament or organizing the banquet for example.

The 2016-17 contract flipped the arrangement of the two parties of the original agreement. Under that agreement, the Chamber of Commerce turned over all of its funds to the Chamber and Tourism bureau for administration through its executive director (a Village employee) and an advisory board.

Field Events start at 9 a.m. and Track Events start at 11 a.m.

Field events include long jump, high jump, pole vault, shot put javelin, discus and triple jump.

Track events include 60M, 800M, 100M, 400M, 1500M, 200M and 4X100M Relay.

Online Registration is www.trackforlife.com.

On the day of the event, there will be registration for the 4 X 100 Meter Relay. Teams will be formed prior to the relay event at the end of the day.

Awards will be given for first through third place in each division.

Salado aldermen will set the tax rate of $0.5362 per $100 evaluation at 5:30 p.m. Sept. 28. Aldermen conducted a public hearing and adopted the budget for fiscal year 2017-18 on Sept. 21.

No public hearing is required on the tax rate because the rate is at or below the effective tax rate. The proposed tax rate lowers the current tax rate from $0.54190 to $0.5362.

The tax rate will help fund a budget of approximately $1.2 million in expenditures.

City administrator Don Ferguson said that municipalities must adopt the tax rate at a meeting separate from the public hearing on the budget.

The board approved a budget that anticipates approximately $64,000 in added revenues and $84,000 in added expenditures over the previous year.

Ferguson reviewed the changes in income and expense with aldermen before the public hearing.

During the public hearing, Tim Fleischer, a resident at 912 Cedar Park Circle addressed aldermen about the local option homestead exemptions offered by the Village of Salado. The Village offers a local homestead exemption of 20 percent. According to Bell County Texas Appraisal District, only two other entities (City of Temple and Temple College) offer this local homestead exemption.

Salado is one of eight municipalities in Bell County that offers a tax freeze for homeowners over 65 and one of seven that offers a tax freeze to those who are disabled. In addition to the tax freeze, the Village of Salado grants an additional $50,000 local option exemption for those over 65 and those who are disabled.

These local option exemptions cannot be repealed or lowered until 2019.

According to an Attorney General Opinion (KP-0072) by Ken Paxton in March 2016, "Subsection 1.13(n-1) of the Tax Code prohibits a school district, municipality, or county from repealing or reducing the local option homestead exemption from the amount that was adopted for the 2014 tax year through the 2019 tax year."

All of the easement documents have been finalized for the system to meet the requirements of the Economic Development Agency (EDA) requirements for the $1.0 million grant for the downtown system.

Prior to the administrator's report, aldermen Brown said he wanted to address some incorrect facts of a Letter to the Editor from King Copeland. "The Village applied for a $1.5 million EDA grant," Brown said, adding that the Village received a $1.0 million grant from the EDA.

"There was never half a million missing," he said.

Progress on the sewer comes despite the latest efforts in opposition to the sewer. The Village learned on Sept. 11 that a Motion for Rehearing (Motion) concerning the renewal Texas Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (TPDES) Permit No. WQ0014350001 filed on Aug. 4 by Michael and Darlene Walsh had been denied.

Earlier this summer, request for hearings on the Permit WQ0014340001 had been filed by Timely hearing requests were received by TCEQ "from Hans Field, Brin (sic) Sunshine, Darlene Walsh, and Michael Walsh" and were denied by TCEQ.

The Village operates the treatment plant at Stagecoach for the customers that it inherited when it accepted the gift of the 40-year old wastewater treatment plant and the approximately two acres on which it sits. At the time, the effluent was discharged on land west of Salado owned by Morris Foster, who donated the plant. It currently serves less than 20 commercial customers. The maintenance budget for the Stagecoach Inn plant is about $84,000 for 2017-18 with about $64,000 in income from those customers.

Ferguson said that the Village is doing its best to maintain the plant until it can be decommissioned when the new sewer system is constructed. "We are doing our best" to keep it operational, he said.

Manning is Merit semi-finalist

Salado High School senior Kayla Manning is among the 16,000 Semifinalists nationwide in the 63rd annual National Merit Scholarship Program.

These academically talented high school seniors have an opportunity to continue in the competition for some 7,500 National Merit Scholarships worth more than $32 million that will be offered next spring.

To be considered for a Merit Scholarship® award, Semifinalists must fulfill several requirements to advance to the Finalist level of the competition. About 90 percent of the Semifinalists are expected to attain Finalist standing, and about half of the Finalists will win a National Merit Scholarship, earning the Merit Scholar® title.

NMSC, a not-for-profit organization that operates without government assistance, was established in 1955 specifically to conduct the annual National Merit Scholarship Program. Scholarships are underwritten by NMSC with its own funds and by approximately 420 business organizations and higher education institutions that share NMSC's goals of honoring the nation's scholastic champions and encouraging the pursuit of academic excellence.

About 1.6 million juniors in more than 22,000 high schools entered the 2018 National Merit Scholarship Program by taking the 2016 Preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT®), which served as an initial screen of program entrants. The nationwide pool of Semifinalists, representing less than one percent of U.S. high school seniors, includes the highest scoring entrants in each state.

The number of Semifinalists in a state is proportional to the state's percentage of the national total of graduating seniors.

To become a Finalist, the Semifinalist and his or her high school must submit a detailed scholarship application, in which they provide information about the Semifinalist's academic record, participation in school and community activities, demonstrated leadership abilities, employment, and honors and awards received.

From the approximately 16,000 Semifinalists, about 15,000 are expected to advance to the Finalist level, and in February they will be notified of this designation. All National Merit Scholarship winners will be selected from this group of Finalists. Merit Scholar designees are selected on the basis of their skills, accomplishments, and potential for success in rigorous college studies, without regard to gender, race, ethnic origin, or religious preference.

Eagles crush Florence

BY LARNCE BARKER
CONTRIBUTOR

Salado Eagles scored 42 unanswered points in the first quarter of their homecoming game against the Florence Buffaloes on Sept. 22. The Eagles would go on to win 56-14 with substitutes throughout most of the game.

The Eagles offensive line brought their lunch pail and went to work on the Florence defense. Bobby Cunningham, Willy Wigham, Robert Soto, Trace Medlin, Bryce Wales, Ryan Kyburz, and Luke Miller showed how the Salado Eagles controlled the clock by opening holes in the Buffaloes defensive bunch.

The first play from scrimmage, quarterback Hayden Haire connected with Trey Sheppard on a 43 yard pass reception for an Eagle first down. Aaron Torczynski would take the Haire handoff 7 yards for the Eagles' first TD and a Jake Walrath PAT to make the score 7-0 with 10:40 left in the first quarter.

The Eagles would get the ball back and Cade Depoy finished the drive on a 55 yard TD run and the Walrath PAT to make the score 14-0 with 9:43 left in the first quarter.

The Florence Buffaloes would fumble on their next possession and Cutter Hud-gens would pick up the fumble and return the pigskin 31 yards for an Eagles TD and a Walrath PAT to make the score 21-0 with 7:40 left in the first.

The Eagles would get the ball back and Trey Sheppard would take the Haire hand-off 74 yards to the end zone and a Walrath PAT to make the score 28-0 with 5:49 left in the first quarter. Salado took another possession with the aid of Torczynski on a 62 yard TD run and Walrath PAT to increase the score 35-0 with 2:43 left in the first quarter.

Wrook Brown would pooch kick the ball high and the Salado Eagles would get the football back. QB Hayden Haire engineered the drive down to the 1 yard and would score on a one yard TD run and Walrath PAT to make the score 42-0 with 1:29 left in the first quarter.

Sheppard would start the second quarter with a 10 yard TD run and Walrath PAT to make the score 49-0 with 11:54 left in the second quarter. The Buffaloes would strike quickly on a CJ Giddens 65 yard TD pass to Ronnie Zuniga and a Manuel Castro PAT to make the score 49-7 with 11:34 left in the second quarter.

Salado Eagles Connor Cook would take a handoff from back-up QB Wrook Brown for a 1 yard TD run and a Walrath PAT to make the score 56-7 with 4:13 left in the second quarter. The halftime score was 56-7 and there would be no scoring in the 3rd quarter by both

8th Grade A

8A handled Lampasas in two games (25-21,25-23) to win their fifth consecutive match. Lainey Taylor's continued impressive serving would put the Eagles on top.

8th Grade B

The Lady Eagles would compete in a close first game, but fall 27-29 and could not recover in game two (19-25). Emma Grant's serving and back court play lead the team, but it wasn't enough as the 8B team slips to 1-3 on the year.

Bowhunting season gets underway on Sept. 30

Texas bowhunters will come "nocking" starting Saturday as deer hunting's early season, limited to archery equipment only, opens statewide. Hunting prospects are expected to be good across the state, according to wildlife biologists with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department (TPWD).

While the archery-only season kicks off this weekend, the general gun season opener is still more than a month away on Nov. 4. A special youth-only weekend season is set for Oct. 28-29. The general season runs through Jan. 7, 2018 in North Texas and Jan. 21, 2018 in South Texas. A late youth-only season is also slated for Jan. 8-21, 2018. For additional late season deer hunting opportunities and county specific regulations, consult the 2017-18 Outdoor Annual of hunting and fishing regulations.

Generally speaking, white-tailed deer in Texas have fared well in recent years with a stable population of about 4.3 million, according to Alan Cain, TPWD whitetail deer program leader. "The vast majority of the state had a good habitat conditions going into last winter and early spring, which helped bucks recover from the rigors of the rut, and gave them a good foundation to start the antler growth cycle this year," he said.

However, unlike the previous two years where widespread consistent rain and good habitat conditions persisted through the summer for much of the state, 2017 saw dry weather patterns take hold in May and continue into late August. These drier conditions late in the season will likely have some impact on final stages of antler development, body weights, and possibly fawn production, Cain explained, but hunters should still expect a good hunting season.

"Dry conditions were not uniform across the state and spotty rains from May through July left patches of green across the landscape in the western two-thirds of the state," said Cain. "Landowners and hunters with properties lucky enough to receive some of early summer rains and that have remained green may expect better than average deer quality this fall."

Although rainfall was more consistent in the eastern portion of the state, keeping the habitat in good shape, it was still drier than last year with the exception of southeast Texas where a deluge of rain from Hurricane Harvey left many river and creek bottom habitats flooded for a short term in late August.

"Some adult deer and fawn mortalities were possible due to flooding, but with water receding relatively quickly the vegetation in these bottomland habitat will be able to recover quickly," Cain reported. "Hunters should be cognizant that deer displaced by the flooding were forced into upland habitats, increasing deer densities beyond what is normally seen in these areas. As such, hunters might be cautious about overharvesting deer displaced by flooding."

Overall, Cain predicts Hurricane Harvey will not have a significant impact on the deer populations in southeast Texas, but hunting conditions may be a little tougher this season with the flush of vegetation growth that will likely occur in the next month or two.

"Once again we were missing several runners from both our boys and girls teams. If we ever get everybody at the same place on the same day we might be dangerous!"

The boys team placed 7th with 170 points but many of our athletes had a PR today on a very fast and flat course.

Individual results: 19 Isaac Huerta 12:43; 31 Ryan Novotny 13:05; 46 Boden Savage 13:38; 51 Ben Raines 13:48; 52 Jake Rechtefertig board against the Bartlett JV Bulldogs Sept. 21, losing 20-0.

Outside linebacker Bryce Thomas had seven quarterback pressures in the game to lead the defense. Cornerback James Elliott intercepted a pass in the second quarter but the Eagles couldn't convert the turnover into points.

The offense was led by Preston Culp, who rushed for 43 yards, and Daniel Frisby, who rushed for 34 yards.

"This was a tougher task having freshmen take on another JV team," Coach

Ramiro Mojica said, "but the athletes held their own and made the Bartlett JV work for those 20 points."

Junior High

The Salado Junior High football teams won three games against Florence last week in Salado.

The Combined "B" team beat Florence 14-0. Colton Dockray and Ramsey Davidson scored touchdowns while Kye Hayes added a P.A.T. Eli Rhea played well defensively.

The 7th grade A won 24-14. Drew Bird ran the opening kickoff back 64 yards to give Salado an early 6-0 lead. Adam Benevides, Seth Reavis, and Caden Strickland added touchdowns to round out the scoring. Jaxon Leiskau played outstanding defense for the 7th grade Eagles.

We believe in Mermaids

Festival and Mermaid Parade celebrate the legend of Sirena

The Legend of Sirena, a native Tonkawa who was doomed (or tricked) the day she met a magical catfish, is a story that is dear to the residents and tourists who come to Salado. Troy Kelley's bronze sculpture of the Tonkawa mermaid and the catfish that tricked her are an icon and one of the most important landmarks in this Central Texas town. Jackie Mills, a local playwright, published the legend in a book, Sirena of Salado. She also incorporated it into the Legends of Salado play, performed every summer for over 25 years.

A new generation of Salado and Sirena enthusiasts are hoping to honor the Legend of Sirena and the creators of this local legacy by holding an annual Sirena Fest & Mermaid Parade. Tiffany Schreiner, along with several other local business owners have organized an event that will bring whimsy as well as educational elements to children of all ages on Saturday, October 7.

The goals of Sirena Fest & Mermaid Parade are to highlight the legacy of Sirena in Salado, educate children on creek habitat and conservation, delight kids of all ages with the magic, whimsy, and artistry that the Village of Salado has to offer, and finally to raise money for a local non-profit each year. For 2017, funds raised will go towards Keep Salado Beautiful. This organization is working with the Salado Habitat Initiative to create a space for butterflies, pollinators, as well as to delineate the line between safe places for wildlife and the visitors who come to enjoy Salado, specifically Pace Park.

This festival is aimed entirely at children and families, hoping to encourage children to think outside the box, dream wild imaginative dreams, and fulfill them. In the words of local stonecarv-er Bob Ragan, "Imagination creates reality" and that is exactly what this festival aims to do.

The Mermaid Parade will begin at 2 p.m. October 7 in Pace Park and proceed a half mile to the festival grounds beside Salado Creek, near where the famous bronze sculpture of Sirena resides. Sirena Fest will run 2:30-6 p.m. and will include educational booths by UMHB Biology Professor Dr. Kaleb Heinrich and the Texas Fish & Wildlife Service, and a history booth from the Salado Museum. There will also be face painting, arts activities, delicious food and performers from Circus Picnic, a group of performers from Austin, Texas.

And of course, there will be real live mermaids!

It's never too early to think about Christmas! One of the best places to view "the latest" Christmas decorations and styles all on display in a charming setting is at the Salado Chamber of Commerce Ladies Auxiliary Christmas in October. The event is scheduled for 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Oct. 13-14 at The Venue on College Street (near the corner of Royal Street and College Street) in Salado. Admission is $3 per adult. This annual event is a preview to the Christmas season and will feature unique Christmas decorations, fall fashions from local and area merchants, jewelry, children's clothing, food, gifts, and home décor specialty items. just proceed on the assumption that one of the two suits would divide favorably. South found a way to overcome the possibility that both suits would break badly.

His first step was to cash the K-Q of hearts, discarding a diamond from dummy. This revealed that West had started with six hearts. Declarer then led the A-K-Q of clubs, hoping the jack would fall, but discovered instead that West had begun with four clubs to the jack. To complete the picture of West's hand before he tackled the diamonds, South next cashed the ace of spades and led a spade to the queen, noting that West followed to both spades.

With 12 of West's cards thus fully accounted for, it was now a simple matter to cash the diamond ace, lead dummy's ten and, after East played low, let the ten ride. A diamond to the king, followed by a spade to dummy's king, allowed South to score the queen of diamonds for his 13th trick.

Observe that if South had played any two of his three top diamonds earlier in the hand, as many players might have done, he would not have made the grand slam. By utilizing the magic number 13 from the outset, South wound up plus 2,220 points instead of minus 100.

The Diamond-backed Watersnake is nonvenomous

Old wives tales are often based on something that cannot be explained at the time, so of course when the big thinkers in Hollywood give their explanation, well then, it is taken as serious as something written on stone tablets. In the movie "Lonesome Dove" we see a group of cowboys "attacked" by nest of deadly aquatic snakes as they transverse the mighty Pecos River. But the facts remain: there are no venomous aquatic snakes in the Pecos River, and the old wives tale about a "nest" of aquatic snakes is based on the romantic forays of the pestilent, but harmless, Diamond-backed watersnake.

The Diamond-backed Watersnake (Nerodia rhombifera) is a moderately sized non-venomous serpent, with most adults reaching sexual maturity between twenty four and thirty six inches in total length. The largest specimen recorded, however, was just over sixty inches, but that enormous example was definitely an exception to this species size rule. Like most other species in the genus Nerodia, it is rather drab in coloration and pattern. The background pigmentation varies from olive green in young adults to dark brown in more mature specimens. Along the spine, there is a network of dark brown or black lines that form a diamond-shaped pattern, giving this variety of aquatic serpent its namesake. The belly is colored yellowish-cream and has numerous dark crescents randomly interspaced along the belly scales. The head is elongated and flat while the pupils are round, characteristics that can easily separate this harmless species with the venomous Cottonmouth. However, when this species feels threatened, it will often flatten its head into a "diamond-shaped" defensive posture, causing many individuals to be mistaken for the Cottonmouth, even in areas where the water moccasin does not occur.

Found throughout the southeastern United States, this species can be seen in the eastern two-thirds of the state of Texas. It ranges much further north and west than the serpent that it is most often confused with, the venomous Cottonmouth. As the name implies, most of the watersnake species are rarely encountered far from water, and this one is no exception. In fact, it is rarely seen more than twenty feet or so from the edge of the shoreline that it calls home.

Like most of the other nine species of watersnakes that occur in Texas, this type can survive in just about any body of permanent water, including creeks, rivers, lakes, and stock tanks. As a budding naturalist, I fondly recall observing this gregarious species inhabiting golf course water hazards.

As with almost all other reptiles that reside in temperate climates, they undergo a period of inactivity during the coldest months of the year, allowing sexually mature adults to generate the sperm and eggs necessary for successful reproduction in the spring. However, unlike most other harmless snakes found in Texas, Diamond-backed Watersnakes are ovoviviparous, or live-bearing animals. Mating occurs primarily during the months of April and May, and the breeding "masses" that this species congregate in is very well documented.

In fact, the stories of "nests of water moccasins" can be attributed to the Diamond-backed watersnake. What generally happens is up to twenty (yes twenty!) males may vie and compete with each other for the attention of one female, and despite any activities by potential threats around them, the males remain engaged with their one tract mindset. It can be quite disconcerting for someone with an aversion to snakes to witness a large group of serpents at one time, especially near the water's edge.

The young are usually born sometime between early August and mid-October. This species is quite prolific, with litter sizes averaging just over thirty young. The feisty babies, who are between eight and ten inches in length, resemble the adults in color and pattern and are quite capable of fending for themselves from the moment they are born.

Like the majority of other watersnakes, this species is diurnal (daytime active) during its foraging activities in the spring and fall, then it becomes nocturnal when the temperatures of summer reach temperatures too unbearable for most ectothermic animals. Like other members of the watersnake clan, they feed primarily on small fish, including minnows, shad, and sunfish, although frogs, toads, cray-fish, and turtles have also known to have been consumed. Although not nearly adept at capturing game fish as it is accused of, it is opportunistic enough of a predator that many a fisherman have had a Diamond-backed watersnake attach itself to a stringer of fish.

Despite the persecution due to its belligerent behavior, population studies of this species have shown that it is quite common in the areas that it occurs and therefore it is afforded no special protection from the state.
