

Great customer service is best way to stop theft

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

The best way that shop owners and employees can prevent shoplifting and theft is to provide excellent customer service.

"Greet them when they walk in the door. Look them in the eye. Engage them in conversation. Pay attention to them," Salado Police Chief Rick Ashe told local businesses gathering for an Oct. 19 morning workshop on loss prevention prior to the Salado Chamber of Commerce board of directors meeting.

Chief Ashe spoke to the group for more than 30 minutes on what businesses can do to prevent loss due to shoplifting, theft and fraud.

Shopkeepers can prevent shoplifting by keeping their stores well-organized and lighted, eliminating blind spots in the store and having checkouts close to the store exits.

"This way you can see people coming and going," he said.

Blind spots can be eliminated or reduced by planning the store layout. You can use mirrors to reflect back to the register hidden areas within a store. Also, putting tall racks and shelves against walls rather than in the middle of the room will help eliminate spots for shoplifters to hide.

"Small, expensive items obviously should be locked and behind glass," he said.

Dressing rooms and restrooms can be locked so that people must ask for a key. Stores can also implement policies on the number of items that can be carried into a dressing room.

All of these help, but being aware will help even more.

"Pay attention to body language," Chief Ashe said. "If someone is intent on looking at you more than they are looking for stuff to buy," he explained that "they may not be there to buy anything."

Pay attention to strollers, umbrellas and large bags that can quickly and easily hide items. Also, "if they are wearing a really loose and bulky jacket and it's 80 degrees or more outside, you may want to look out for that," Chief Ashe said.

Shoplifters will sometimes work in pairs or groups. One will engage the shopkeeper to distract them from the other person who is taking things.

Salado Police Chief Rick Ashe spoke with local businesses on Oct. 19 about loss prevention.

Shopkeepers should also be on the lookout for other forms of theft, such as price switching. This is easier in a small shop that handwrites price tags than in large corporations that have anti-theft devices on valuables. "Make sure that your employees are familiar with the prices of items and that they pay close attention when ringing up items," Chief Ashe said.

Shopkeepers can also help prevent fraud and identity theft. "When someone uses a card to pay for something, ask to see their ID," Ashe said. He added that the few times anyone asks him for ID he thanks that business "for looking out for me."

If you still take paper checks, Ashe said, "Make sure the name and address on the ID match the name and address on the check."

The shopkeeper should write down the ID number and info, rather than relying on the customer to do that.

Video surveillance will also help prevent theft and fraud. "It used to be very expensive to have cameras and surveillance but technology is making it very cheap to do so," he said.

If you do have surveillance, Ashe asks "leave it on overnight so that if someone does break in you might catch them on video."

With alarms, there is always the possibility of false alarms going off. Some cities have nuisance ordinances for repeated false alarms, but Salado does not.

"If it becomes a problem, you will probably get a visit from me so that we can prevent it from going off," he said.

He quickly added that despite some false alarms, "We would rather you have alarms on your shops than not."

The Cattlemen's Ball dinner auction broke records with a party for 100 donated by Johnny's Steaks & Barbeque that was purchased by First Community Title (Claire Hartman, her husband Bill and Will Lowery are shown at right) for $7,100. Josh Bratton (above right) cooking ribeyes with Dakota Volk then donated the party again, purchased by Kristi Jarvis for $5,000 and given to Salado ISD for a staff party. With knives by Bill Smith and the auction gavel by Bill Hall, the Cattlemen's Ball raised $40,000+ for the Salado Education Foundation for scholarships to Salado seniors and grants to SISD teachers.

Barton House on Main has new owner; The Range will continue to cater events

The Barton House property at 101 N. Main Street sold to Clinton Harwell on Oct. 20.

Dave Hermann, owner of The Range at the Barton House, announced the closure of the restaurant shortly after the sale of the property was financed and completed.

The new owner of the property plans to re-open as a fine restaurant. It will carry the name The Barton House when it reopens.

Clinton Harwell, owner of Pignetti's Italian Restaurant in downtown Temple, told Salado Village Voice that he has not decided on a menu concept for the new restaurant yet or set a reopening date.

Hermann and Will Lowery, owner of Inn on the Creek properties, told Salado Village Voice that The Range Full Service Catering will now operate out of Inn on the Creek.

The Range will serve as the in-house caterer for The Venue by Inn on the Creek. Renters of The Venue may also bring in their own caterers, Lowery said.

The Range Full Service Catering will also continue to serve the area as one of the finest caterers for weddings, corporate gatherings, fund raisers, banquets and groups. Hermann and his team will serve as caterers for any location or function.

Hermann came to Salado 20 years ago to open The Range at the Barton House. To complete that task, a 1,200 sq. ft. kitchen was added onto the house.

Hermann is a classically trained chef, graduating from the Culinary Institute of America in Hyde Park, New York

The historic Barton House is a landmark in Salado and was a private home until it opened as a restaurant in 1997.

The house was built in 1866 by Dr. Welborn Barton and his wife Louisa Adeline Cox. Dr. Barton was a pioneering physician who received a medical degree from Kentucky's Transylvania University. During the war, Dr. Barton served in the Confederate Army as a surgeon.

Natives of South Carolina they moved their family to Texas during the reconstruction era. Once in Texas, Dr. Barton established a successful medical practice while his wife Louisa became an advocate for literacy. They had 10 children and were very involved in the community. They are buried in the Salado Cemetery.

The walls are solid 24 inches thick and the floors are constructed of long-leaf pine. The main floor was used to house Dr. Barton's medical practice.

An 1879 addition consisted of two stories with two new rooms on each level. One of the new rooms was used by Dr. Barton as a surgery room for his growing practice. Included in the design of the room is a limestone sink, with outdoor drainage, built into the wall of the house. Descendants of the Barton family speculate that this was some of the first indoor plumbing in Central Texas.

Be sure to watch the Salado Village Voice newspaper for more announcements about The Barton House restaurant and The Range Full Service Catering and Inn on the Creek in the coming weeks.

Tax reform could increase deficit to $1.5 trillion per year

For the week ending Friday, Oct. 20 2017.

The Markets

The venerable Standard & Poor's 500 Stock Index (SPX) ended the week at 2575.21, up 0.86 percent for the week, setting another record high mark. It now stands up just over 15 percent for the year and 20.27 percent for one year. While we generally don't report on the Dow Jones Industrial Average, Friday was an exception as the Dow closed above 23,000 for the first time. Today's highs come in a month marking the third longest running bull market in index history. Once again, good news in corporate earnings appears to be the driving force in this market. On Friday, the markets were buoyed by news that the Senate passed a budget resolution. Given the fact that overseas markets are also rising the Senate action was probably a minor contributor.

The ten-year U.S. Treasury note closed the week yielding 2.383 percent, almost exactly where it was last week but still yielding about 0.58 percent more than a year ago. Gold dropped 1.83 percent for the week to $1,282.30 as the dollar rose against other major currencies. Gold is down 0.40 percent for one year. West Texas Intermediate Oil was little changed at $51.66, about $6.22 less expensive than North Sea Brent as the U.S. continues to break oil-export records.

The Economy

The Labor Department reported last Thursday that the number of Americans filing for unemployment benefits during the previous week had dropped to 222,000 the

Market & Economic Update

By Jeffrey W. McClure

lowest level in 44 years. Higher numbers are expected in the next report as the filers in Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands were not counted as they must file using paper forms as most of the islands' towns are still without electricity. Considering how much the U.S. labor force has grown in the last 44 years, this level of unemployment claims is probably the lowest in U.S. history in terms of labor force percentages.

Another aspect of joblessness, voluntary quits, is also at a record or near-record low at 2.1 percent. Oddly, this record high job-retention rate comes as we are at or very near another record, the number of advertised job openings. Once again, economists are faced with another fact that seems to defy historical record and previously well-established theory. For some reason, despite job openings that offer higher pay but often require a move, workers are, in mass, electing to stay with what they have. This unwillingness to change jobs may be part of what is holding down inflation and wage growth.

The Senate followed the House in passing a FY 2018 Budget Resolution, albeit 20 days after the fiscal year began, but there were significant differences. The House bill called for a revenue neutral position in which the deficits would stay as they are each year, but the Senate version authorizes a deficit increase of $1.5 trillion over the next ten years.

A quick meeting of the leaders of both houses resolved the issue. The debt increase is a "go." There is still much negotiating to happen, but it appears that the budget resolution will stick and allow Congress to move on to negotiations on tax reform.

The new budget resolution would raise the projected increase in total federal public debt to $13 trillion. As of June of this year, the U.S. debt held by the public was $14.168 trillion, or about 77 percent of GDP, a high but not unreasonable level. According to the CBO numbers, the additional debt plus interest over the next 10 years included in the new budget resolution would raise the U.S. debt held by the public, not counting Social Security, Medicare, or civil service and military retirements, to about 100 percent of GDP. At the same time, the annual U.S. federal deficit, now estimated at $585 billion per year, would have tripled to about $1.5 trillion per year.

If we presume the tax cuts/reform pass and are signed into law, federal borrowing will need to triple over the next decade. That may well put intense upward pressure on interest rates. Increasing interest rates cause the market value of bonds to fall, so be forewarned. Stocks, on the other hand, may well benefit from a tax cut. Only time will tell.

Johnny Carson > Jimmy Kimmel

Jimmy Kimmel deserves credit for frankness, if nothing else. In a recent interview, the ABC late-night host said he doesn't care about losing Republican viewers.

We're a long way from Johnny Carson, whose "Tonight Show" was a national institution that enjoyed a broad audience -- and was conducted like one. Carson steered clear of politics and kept his views to himself because it would "hurt me as an entertainer, which is what I am."

Kimmel may be an entertainer, but has no such inhibitions. He uttered what could be the epigraph for our times, saying of viewers who strongly disagree with his political views, "I probably won't want to have a conversation with them anyway."

From Carson to Kimmel is the story of the fracturing of media environment that has made niche audiences the coin of the realm. Add an inflamed anti-Trump resistance cheered on by the elite media, and Kimmel kissing off Republicans is probably a good career move.

Stephen Colbert of CBS blazed this particular trail with increasingly over-the-top denunciations of President Donald Trump that vaulted him to the top of the late-night ratings. Jimmy Fallon, the heir to Carson's "Tonight Show" via Jay Leno, has pointedly declined to make his show the New York Times editorial page with a few jokes attached, and has seen a ratings decline.

It is important to note that these shows are competing for numbers that once would have been considered catastrophic. Carson could pull in 9 million viewers when one of his shows popped; he averaged 19 million viewers a night his final week on air in 1992. Colbert is winning the late-night race with 3 million viewers. This means that all it takes to become a giant of late night is winning over a Rachel Maddow-like audience, exactly Colbert's strategy.

If this trend is inevitable, it's not a good thing. It removes yet another neutral zone, free of social and political contention, from American life.

It means that the quality of the comedy on these shows probably goes down (agitprop isn't funny), while the quality of the political commentary is inevitably poor; Jimmy Kimmel's wholly ill-informed gun monologue subtracted from the nation's understanding of the issue, as you'd expect of a comedian who is only paying enough attention to absorb the flimsiest cliches of the gun debate.

As Kimmel's dismissive comments show, it's a short step from believing that you don't need the patronage of the other side to feeling contempt for it. Colbert isn't trying to convince anyone; he's scorning and mocking Trump for the benefit of people who already hate him.

It would have been hard to believe that the old, maligned CNN debate program "Crossfire" would appear in retrospect to represent a golden age of a relative commitment to civil, informed political debate, but here we are.

Johnny Carson once said: "I would love to have taken on Billy Graham. But I'm on TV five nights a week; I have nothing to gain by it and everything to lose." Stephen Colbert and Jimmy Kimmel, competing for the crown in a much diminished late-night kingdom, beg to differ, and unfortunately, they're right.

Work to begin on tree trimming

October is an incredible month. As the Village celebrates colorful fall leaves, cooler weather, bright blue skies, and an upcoming sugar-high evening; the news continues.

The sewer and waste water treatment plant bidding-process is in the second week. Village telephones continuously ring with questions to the Village Administrator. Much project interest. Bids open Mid-November.

Bids for cutting tree limbs overhanging Indian Trail, Mill Creek Drive, and DeGrummond streets are arriving. Village ordinance states that all overhanging street limbs 17 feet or less from the pavement must be cut. Reasons for cutting: vehicle/property damage, weather, utility lines, and public safety. Please know the Village will pay for trees in the Village Right-of-Way. Homeowners are responsible for trees inside their property lines. Contact the Village Administrator for concerns/questions - 947-5060.

Alderman McDougal's Street Committee has completed negotiation with Bell County to repair a large number of Salado Streets in 2017-18. The Village will pay for materials and Bell County will pay for labor/equipment. An excellent agreement saving thousands of dollars.

Flood gates are being researched for the Village's low water crossings. The moveable signs do not stop traffic and require a large number of volunteers to put-up/take-down with significant rainfall.

Salado Creek, at the low water bridge adjacent to Sherrill Park, is filling with debris, plants, and gravel. This summer, another cleaning will be necessary for reasons of health, safety, and reduced flooding.

BOA approved Bojorquez Law Firm to continue Village attorney and legal services.

The Village is discussing with Bell County the need for stray animal control within the corporate limits of Salado.

Thanks to the many volunteers who worked to make Salado beautiful last weekend.

The Salado Cattleman's Ball was a great success thanks to your support.

Saturday is the last Fright Night at Tablerock, 6:30 p.m.

We're not rumor-mongering

To the Editor:

Mayor Blancett's claim that "the same people who wanted Disannexation" are rumormongering about the new building at 535 Van Bibber is false. No signers of the disannexation petitions have been rumormongering and what organization there is for disannexation takes no position nor has applied any name to this building. If Mayor Blancett dares to go on the record and name names, he can find the names of all the signers of the disannexation petitions printed in front page articles in back editions of this tabloid.

Personally and professionally, I support live/work space buildings for the remaining under and undeveloped properties in the Village. It's up to the eye of the beholder, applicable subdivision covenants and Village ordinances whether a building's use and aesthetics are appropriate or not.

If a citizen is to contact the current Village Administrator Don Ferguson, ask him something important like the trial balloon he's floating of imposing an overlay district on the west side that'll halt any further commercial development there. When the revisions to the State annexation statutes are enacted in December, the likelihood that the limits of the Village will ever expand again are pretty much nil. What is behind prohibiting new commercial development on the west side in light of the soon to be revised State annexation statutes?

Your Voice

Letters to the Editor

Lack of disclosure is one of the many failures of this mayor and Board (or whatever they want to call themselves nowadays). The property this building is on was titled to mayor pro tem

Frederick H. Brown prior to the current owners. Mayor Blancett doesn't have to be a Charlie McCarthy to Frederick H. Brown's Edgar Bergen. If Frederick H. Brown has something to say, or better yet disclose, then leave it to him to do it. And if Frederick H. Brown wants us to believe what he says, there polygraphists to confirm his veracity. We'll even pay the polygraphist's fee for this service to the community.

Sincerely,
John Newman, RA

Long range planning group meets regularly

Our long range facilities planning committee has met three times so far. We have reviewed the functional capacities of our schools (based on the number of classrooms and square footage):

Thomas Arnold Elementary School: 309 students
 Salado Intermediate School: 544 students
 Salado Junior High School: 325 students
 Salado High School: 692 students

Total capacity of all facilities: 1,870 students

These are the current enrollments of these schools:

Thomas Arnold Elementary School: 450 students
 Salado Intermediate School: 574 students
 Salado Junior High School: 271 students
 Salado High School: 565 students

Total district enrollment: 1,860 students

Thus, this is how our current enrollments compare to the functional capacities of our schools:

Thomas Arnold Elementary School: 130 students over capacity

Salado Intermediate School: 7 students over capacity

Salado Junior High School: space for 54 more students

Salado High School: space for 127 more students

All four schools: space for 10 more students

We have had to convert other spaces such as conference rooms, computer labs, science labs, and cafeterias into classrooms to have

by Dr. Michael Novotny enough instructional space for this growing number of students. We have also had to convert portable buildings that were being used for storage at the elementary school and junior high school into classrooms.

Our enrollment has increased from 1,348 students to 1,860 students in the last five years. This is an increase of 512 students or 38 percent. Our school district's enrollment has increased the highest percentage of all 81 school districts in the Waco Region 12 Education Service Center area during the past five years. Here are the districts whose enrollments have increased the highest percentage during the past five years:

- #1 Salado: 38 percent increase
- #2 Academy: 33 percent increase
- #3 Belton: 17 percent increase
- #4 Midway: 10 percent increase
- #5 Killeen: 6 percent increase

In an attempt to slow down some of this growth, we stopped accepting out of district transfer students in January, with a few exceptions: children of employees, siblings of current transfer students, and children of active duty military or disabled veterans. Even though the number of transfer students decreased this school year, our enrollment increased 106 students (all resident students that moved into Salado).

Templeton Demographics conducted a demographic study for our school district and these are our ten year enrollment projections for our school district (only considering increases in resident students because of our change in policy regarding out of district transfer students):

- 2017-2018: 1,840 (which we have already exceeded by 20 students)
- 2018-2019: 1,950
- 2019-2020: 2,040
- 2020-2021: 2,122
- 2021-2022: 2,198
- 2022-2023: 2,308
- 2023-2024: 2,409
- 2024-2025: 2,485
- 2025-2026: 2,592
- 2026-2027: 2,716

Our long range facility committee meetings are open to the public. The upcoming meetings will be held on the following nights at 6:00 at the Salado ISD Administration Building/Civic Center, located at 601 North Main Street:

- Monday, November 6
- Monday, December 4
- Monday, January 8
- Monday, January 22

dale expanded on the topic to include; "Why Leave Europe," "Why our ancestor left England," and "Why did the ancestors of the Gov. Samuel Mathews CDXVIII membership Leave England and Europe."

Chisholm Trail Chorus Launches Shoe Drive Fundraiser To Raise Money for Music Education

Chisholm Trail Chorus of Sweet Adelines International is conducting a shoe drive fundraiser on Saturday, Oct. 28, from 9 a.m. -3 p.m. at the Belton Wal-Mart, 2604 Main St., to raise funds for music education. Chisholm Trail Chorus will earn funds from Funds2Orgs based on the total weight of the pairs of shoes collected.

Anyone can help by donating gently worn, used and new shoes. All donated shoes will then be redistributed throughout the Funds2Orgs network of micro-enterprise (small business) partners. Funds2Orgs works with micro-entrepreneurs in helping them create, maintain and grow small businesses in developing countries where economic opportunity and jobs are limited. The shoes serve as a philanthropic bridge to give people a hand-up and work opportunity, rather than just a hand-out. Funds2Orgs will pay the chorus a modest amount for the shoes they collect.

Proceeds from the sales of the shoes collected in shoe drive fundraisers are used to feed, clothe and house their families. One budding entrepreneur in Haiti even earned enough to send to her son to law school, according to Funds2Orgs.

"We are excited about our shoe drive," said chorus board member Shelly White. "We know that most people have extra shoes in their closets they would like to donate to us. Or if you have leftover shoes after a garage sale, we can take them. By doing so, we raise money to purchase music and hire vocal coaches, and we have the chance to help families in developing nations who need economic opportunities. It's a win-win for everyone."

Chisholm Trail Chorus is a non-profit all-female group that performs across Central Texas at a variety of venues, including assisted living centers, nursing homes, Temple Mall and Santa Fe Depot. The group holds weekly rehearsals on Thursday at the Cultural Activities Center (CAC), 3011 North 3rd St. in Temple. Each rehearsal is packed with music education to hone vocal production and choreography skills, and guest coaches are hired throughout the year. More information is available at: www.chisholmtrailchorus.org; as well as on Facebook.

Eagles breeze past Lorena 44-3

By LARNCE BARKER
SPORTS WRITER

Salado Eagles controlled the ball and Lorena throughout their district match on Oct. 20, winning 44-3 to improve to 6-1 and 1-1 in district play.

Lorena won the coin toss to defer to the second half and the Eagles would receive to start the contest.

After the Leopards opening kickoff, The Eagles Cutter Hudgens received the ball to start the game and was tackled at the 3 yard line. So the Eagles would start the game deep in their own territory 1st and ten from their own 3 yard line. The Salado offense went back to basics in their slot "T" and their running game was effective. The Eagles Trey Sheppard and Cade Depoy would assist the offense with great runs and convert on a few crucial 4th down plays during the opening drive. Trey Sheppard would score the 1st Touchdown on a 1 yard run after a 13 play drive and a Jake Walrath kick with 5:44 left in the 1st quarter to take lead 7-0.

Lorena would start the opening offensive after a great kickoff return to their 44 yard line to have great field position. The Leopards worked their spread offense with their read option plays with little success against the Eagles "bend but don't break" defense. The Salado defense has been ranked as one of the top defenses in the area.

Lorena would wind up punting on their first drive. Salado's second offensive drive would have some good runs but eventually turn the ball over on downs.

Lorena had 15 plays on their next possession with a mixture of run and pass plays but could only muster up a 27 yard field goal by Bradley Lina with 4:20 left in the second quarter to cut the Salado lead to 7-3.

Salado struck quickly on a two play drive with a 60 yard run by Cade Depoy and a Walrath kick with 3:23 left in the 2nd quarter to increase the lead to 14-3.

The Leopards QB Hunter Hudgens got the offense moving down the field until Salado's Tate Harvey would intercept the football at the Eagles 25 yard line to give Salado a first and 10 with 1:52 left in the half.

Hayden Haire would hand off the ball to Depoy on a "Belly Bump" play for an 18 yard gain to set up a third and two to go at the Eagles 46 yard line. Salado would get the first down to continue the drive. The Eagles managed the clock in the closing seconds to the Lorena 21 yard line with 4 seconds left. Jake Walrath kicked a 38 yard Field Goal as time expired in the first half to make the score 17-3.

Salado kicked the ball off to the Leopards to start the third quarter to set Lorena up at their own 19 yard line. Leopards QB Hunter Hudgens connected with Braden Smith for a 20 yard completion, but Eagles defensive back Jacob Wilk caused Smith to fumble and Cutter Hudgens recovered the ball at the Leopards 39 yard line.

Salado took advantage of the turnover and a mix of the run and pass to set up a 1 yard run by Sheppard and a Walrath kick at the 8:04 to extend the lead to 24-3.

On the next Lorena drive QB Hunter Hudgens fumbled the shot gun snap and Defensive End Zack Adams fell on the ball to give the Eagles the ball at the Leopards 28 yard line. Salado advanced the ball to the 2 yard line.

Sheppard would get behind Offensive Lineman Willy Whigham, Bobby Cunningham and Robert Soto to score. The PAT failed with 5:56 left in the third quarter to bring the lead 30-3.

The Salado Defense played tough on the next drive by Lorena to force the Leopards to punt and the Eagles would start in Lorena territory at the 47 yard line. Sheppard would find the end-zone again on a 3 yard run and a Walrath kick with 2:04 left in the third quarter to elevate the lead 37-3.

The Lorena offense sputtered the rest of the game as the Eagles defense would cause pandemonium for the Leopards.

The Eagles QB Hayden Haire and the Salado Offense maneuvered a 13 play drive when Haire would take the football in the end-zone on a 1 yard run and a Walrath kick with 5:33 left in the fourth quarter to expand the lead to 44-3.

The Eagles defense caused five turnovers and held the Leopards offense to 23 yards in the second half.

The Salado Eagles defensive standouts for tackles were Wyatt Bagley, 20, Zack Adams, 17, Mac Miller, 16, Jacob Wilk, 16, Rustin Hale, 15, Tate Harvey, 10, Chandler Wilhelm, 9, Willy Whigham, 7, Holden Ford, 6, Belton Farr, Andrew Sniggs and Hunter Bales with 4 each, while Quade Brown, Cutter Hudgens, Tommie Barker, Zavier Baggio, Kyle Saunders, Wade Woods all had 2 tackles each.

U8 Salado boys Soccer Academy players

The Salado FC U8 Pre-Academy are the youngest part of the Salado Youth Soccer Association boys Soccer Academy program which focuses on player development over team development and focuses on the technical development of each child without the pressures of short-term wins/losses/results.

SYSA has licensed soccer coaches that work to develop ball skill and decision making in the game. "We work to create a fun and dynamic atmosphere for players and to help educate parents on how to understand the sport and their role as a support of their child's development," said Robert Anderson with SYSA.

The program follows recommendations and guidelines from US Youth Soccer and the United States Soccer Federation for developing the best soccer players in Central Texas.

"This was a great statement win in district for these young men. It was against a tough opponent who kept fighting and never gave us a play off." Coach Ramiro Mojica said. "These Salado athletes work tirelessly for each other and it shows."

"The grind gets harder as the season grows older," he added, "but we have some young men who are up for that challenge."

Jaci McGregor (left) and Catalina Langlitz (Right) competed in the Region III-4A XC Championships held Oct. 23 at Sam Houston State University in Huntsville.

Catalina Langlitz finished 19th overall, missing a qualifying spot by one place. At the regional meet the top 4 teams and top 10 individuals, who are not a part of the top 4, qualify for state.

"I am very proud of how far both of these girls have come this season. All of their hard work, time and effort has paid." said Coach Corey Baird.

Two beautiful chapels will be part of 2017 Christmas Tour of Homes

Two beautiful chapels, the Salado United Methodist Chapel on Royal and St. Joseph Episcopal Church on North Main, will be decorated for Christmas and will be stops on the 2017 Salado Historical Society Tour of Homes Dec. 1-3.

The courtyard and cozy interior of St. Joseph's Episcopal Church had humble beginnings, but the gleaming stained glass windows set amongst the wooden ceiling and pews lend an atmosphere of reverence, reminding visitors of the true meaning behind the celebration of the Christmas holiday. The church has experienced quite the transformation during its short history.

Tyler Fletcher was instrumental in getting the Salado church started. The church is located just behind Fletcher's Books on North Main St. Fletcher, who was youth director for St. Luke's Episcopal Church in Belton in the mid-1990s, talked about having a chapel in Salado for the use of the E.Y.C. (Episcopal Youth Churchmen) of St. Luke's.

In the summer of 1995, he converted a storage shed behind Fletcher's Books into a tiny chapel. Four antique pews from the original St.

Luke's church and a simple altar made up the furnishings.

In 1996, The Rev. Joseph Sheldon celebrated the Ash Wednesday liturgy in the little chapel. This was the beginning of the weekly celebration of the Eucharist in the chapel.

During the spring and summer of 1998, members of St. Joseph's met in private homes while the building was being enlarged under the direction of Tim Brown of Salado.

Additional pews, and a suspended sanctuary lamp made by Lonnie Edwards of Salado were acquired with funds gathered by the congregation. Father Joe and Mildred Sheldon presented a hand-made ceramic paten to the chapel. A pair of antique French Eucharistic candle sticks were placed on permanent loan by Sandra and Lonnie Edwards. Sandra also carved the threshold stones and donated them to the chapel. A large antique plaster statue of St. Joseph was presented by Mr. and Mrs. Les Johnson of Austin.

A statue of St. Mary, formerly in the Incarnate Word Academy in San Antonio, was given by Fletcher in memory of his grandmother, who was an alumna of that institution. On Saturday, March 20, 1999, St. Joseph's Chapel was dedicated as a Parish Mission of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Belton.

The stained glass windows were purchased from various churches throughout Central Texas and incorporated into the chapel as though they were specifically made for it. The chapel grounds include a walking path frequently used for meditation. Despite the proximity to the busy I-35 corridor, the path provides an air of peace and tranquility. The bell tower and its surrounding foliage offer picturesque opportunities for memorable photographs.

The Salado United Methodist Chapel will also be on the Homes Tour.

A white frame, gothic design with steeple and bell, the Methodist chapel was built in 1890. The chapel was built with lumber hauled by wagon from Austin at the corner of Church and Thomas Arnold Streets where it remained until its move to Royal St. in 2006. The chapel was restored in 1996 to its original glory. It was relocated to the site of the new SUMC campus on Royal Street in 2006 and has been completely refurbished, again to the 1890 specifications. This move was shown on the History Channel on the program, "Mega Movers".

The Historic Sanctuary has received markers from the Texas Historical Commission and the National Register of Historic Places.

The soft beige tones of beaded board paneling and original pine floors, prayer rail and pulpit, accented by 18 stained glass windows, give the inside of the chapel an atmosphere of simple elegance, with or without traditional wedding decorations.

The Salado Methodist Church Pocket Garden, maintained by the Garden Guild, enhances the beauty of the historic Carpenter Gothic Sanctuary built in 1890.

Tickets for the Homes tour can be purchased at the Visitors Center at the Salado Museum before Nov. 23 for $18 per person. Tickets purchased after Nov. 23 will be $20.

Tour of Homes will be open 5-8 p.m. Dec. 1, 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Dec. 2 and 1-4 p.m. Dec. 3.

Other stops on the tour this year will be the Salado Masonic Lodge, the Lively home, the Seiler Home, the Starcher Home and the Baines House Museum

 Opening lead — king of spades.

Declarer play the hand?
 If you look at all four hands, it seems South must go down one due to the poor lie of the cards. He tries two club finesses, both of which lose, and since he cannot avoid a diamond loser also, he finishes down one.
 This result could be attributed to bad luck, of course, but actually, South has a way of assuring the contract from the beginning. He should not stake the outcome on winning one of two club finesses, but should adopt the only line of play that will win regardless of where the club honors are located.

 The key play occurs at trick one. When West leads the king of spades, declarer plays low from dummy and discards a diamond from his hand! West's next play does not really matter, so let's assume he leads another spade to dummy's ace, on which South discards another diamond.
 Declarer draws a round of trumps, cashes the ace of diamonds, ruffs a diamond, returns to dummy with a trump, ruffs the jack of diamonds, re-enters dummy with a trump and takes a club finesse.
 West wins, but must return a club or yield a ruff-and-discard. Either way, South is home.

The Black Widow Spider is a Cobweb Weaver

Not to push the “politically incorrect” button here, but honestly there are times when it is advantageous being a male. One example if this would be in the recent sharing in the experience of childbirth with my wife. Let me say how glad I am to be a man! Other times, though, being a male does not work in my favor. For example, I am not the one who decides where the furniture appears the most welcoming to visiting guests, I am just the one who places it where it really belongs.

In the animal kingdom, this situation can be a dichotomy as well, especially for a group of spiders that are in the genus Latrodectus, more commonly known to most as the aptly named Black Widow Spider.

Wild About Texas

Michael Price

The Black Widow belongs to the family Theridiidae, or Cobweb Weavers.

Cobweb Weavers are a large and diverse family of spiders with approximately two hundred species that can be found in every state of the Union. This group is represented in Texas by twenty-two genera and a whopping eighty-eight species. However, one of the most familiar and most feared members of this family is the Western Black Widow, Latrodectus hesperus.

Western Black Widows, like other species of arach-nids, have a body that consists of two parts (the cephalothorax and the abdomen) as well as the customary eight legs. As the common name implies, the dorsal coloration of adults is primarily jet black, although males and immature females often have jagged stripes of red and white that superficially resembles stripes of lightening. The abdomen of both sexes and all ages is hairless, smooth and shiny. One of the characteristics that can be used to identify Black Widows is the red colored hourglass shape on the underside of the abdomen. This is best observed while the spider is still in the web. Females are almost twice as large as the males, reaching a total body length of up to one-half inch and a leg span of two inches.

Black Widows are not particularly picky in their habitat selection, inhabiting a myriad of habitats ranging from humid, wooded areas to the driest portions of the Trans-Pecos. Two requirements are needed to support this species, the first being ample areas for them to spin their webs, which appear to be tangled and very erratic. This is especially true for the females, who allow food to come to them by becoming totally ensnared in said web. Once the prey item has become motionless from exhaustion does the spider make its way over and bite it. While it awaits its prey, Black Widows will often hang motionless near a top corner of its web. It is at this time that identification can be made very easily as the “tell-tale” red hourglass is exposed.

Prey items accepted by this species include just about any invertebrate creature that is small enough to become entangled in the web, including many harmful and nuisance species, including the non-native fire ant. But as the name implies, females of this species are known as widows as they have a propensity of feeding on the male after copulation if he is not fast enough to retreat!

As with other spiders, food is eaten in a very odd, if not disturbing, way. The fangs are inserted into the prey item, much like short, hollow straws, and the insides of the food are literally sucked from within. The exoskeleton that remains is discarded after the feeding. This is akin to a person drinking a milkshake. We drink the contents of the cup, (usually with just one straw) but then we throw away the inedible container.

Unbelievable to most people, given their dastardly reputation, most Black Widows are quite timid. Typically they will retreat when confronted by a larger animal, biting only as the last line of self defense. As with all other spider species, this species is venomous. However, unlike the vast majority of other spider bites, the bite of a Black Widow can be of serious consequence, depending on a plethora of variables. Rather than going into the gory details here, if one feels like they have been bitten by a widow, the best course of action is to remain calm, make a positive identification of the spider, and get to a medical facility as quickly as possible. Fatalities from widow bites are extremely rare, but that is still no reason to not seek medical attention if bitten.

October is Fire Safety Month

1. Examine your electrical cords. Replace any frayed or damaged cords immediately. Do not overload any circuits. Keep bedding and any paper away from plugs.
2. Be alert in the kitchen. Appx. 50% of all house fires start in the kitchen.
3. What is your escape plan? It is extremely important to have an escape plan for your family. Is there an upstairs? How are you going to get outside from upstairs? Teach your children how to leave your home. Fires and alarms are scary. Children need to know "don't hide, go outside".
4. Most important is to check your smoke detectors. Test your smoke detectors every six months to confirm they are in working order. Make certain every family member knows what to do when the fire alarm is activated.
