Scottish Gathering, Highland Games this weekend at Salado Civic Center

The Scots will invade Salado for the 56th Scottish Gathering and Highland Games on the grounds of the Salado Civic Center, Nov. 10-12.

The Scottish Gathering is the oldest Scottish festival in Texas.

The weekend will kick off with Scottish singer and folklorist Ed Miller presenting a one-hour lecture in word and song, 1 p.m. Nov. 10 at the Salado Public Library, 1151 N. Main St. The lecture, Edinburgh and Glasgow in Song, Literature and Humor, is sponsored by the library in partnership with the Salado Museum and College Park. The event is free and open to the public.

Miller is a native of Edinburgh, Scotland, who came to Texas as a young man and has made Austin his home. He holds a graduate degree in Folklore and Geography from the University of Texas at Austin. In addition to having recorded nine CDs of Scottish songs, he is a teacher, speaker, lecturer, radio host and leader of historical tours of Scotland.

The three-day event includes the skirl of bagpipes, wearing of the tartan, tossing the caber, Highland dancing, Celtic entertainers, shopping, food and fun. One of the event's main features is the Clan Village, the largest gathering of Scottish Clan tents in Texas where members from 40 Scottish clans and societies will share information about Scottish history and genealogy.

The Calling of the Clans at 6 p.m. Nov. 10 on the banks of Salado Creek off Royal Street just north of the museum building is a solemn torchlight ceremony that re-creates the coming together of the ancient Scottish clans to fight with Robert the Bruce for Scotland's freedom in 1314 at Bannockburn. The ceremony is followed by a Welcome Social at the Museum.

The Civic Center grounds are open 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Nov. 11. The Bands and Clans Parade on Main Street is at noon followed by presentations and massed bagpipe bands on the grounds. The parade will start at North Pace Park Road and move north on Main Street to the Civic Center grounds.

The day's activities include Scottish athletics competition, Highland Dancing competition, bagpiping and drumming competitions, Bonniest Knees Contest, live Celtic music, a Celtic marketplace, local and Scottish food vendors and more. The day closes with the Texas Tattoo at 5 p.m. on the grounds at the entertainment tent.

The Tattoo includes performances by bagpipe bands, Highland dancers, and Celtic musicians. Entertainers for this year's Gathering are Scottish singer Ed Miller, Celtic band Lonestar Stout, Scottish button accordionist Hugh Morrison with singer Jed Marum, singing trio The DramBeauties, and singer Joe Romeo playing Scottish small pipes and Irish bouzouki.

Sunday events (9 a.m.-3 p.m. Nov. 12) begin with the Kirkin' o' the Tartan, a traditional devotional service in which family groups carry banners of their family tartans and ask blessings on the families. The day's activities include bagpipe band competition, Clan tents, pet parade and contest, music, food, and shopping.

The Wee Scots Gift Shop will be open all three days in the Salado Museum building, located on South Main Street across from the historic Stagecoach Inn.

For ticket prices, go to www.saladoscottishfestival.com or call the Museum at 254-947-5232.

Participating restaurants and inns are these: Alexander's Distillery, Cathy's

Boardwalk Cafe, Stonecreek Settlement, McCain's Bakery and Cafe, Ambrosia Tea Room, Salado Patio, Brookshire Brothers, The Pizza Place, The Shed, Lively Coffee House & Bistro, the Stagecoach Inn Restaurant, The Range Full Service Catering, Lynette's Church Street Bakery and Mill Creek Grill.

Since then, Salado Family

Relief has helped thousands of children in the Salado area during Christmas time and back-to-school.

Each year, the Family Relief Fund provides Christmas for about 150 children in the Salado ISD. It provides back-to-school vouchers for clothing and supplies to 150 students each fall, as well.

Salado Family Relief Fund receives no tax dollars and relies entirely on contributions of money and in-kind services from local individuals, churches, civic organizations, businesses and groups.

Mill Creek Country Club re-opens famous creek holes

The ownership group of Mill Creek Country Club marked the re-opening of the creek holes, turning the Robert Trent Jones Jr. course back to its original form, something lost in the devastating floods of 2008 and 2010.

Billy and Vicki Helm cut the ribbon to mark the re-opening of those holes after a rehabilitation and rebuilding program of the creek holes that were destroyed by the flood in 2010.

The previous owner opted not to rebuild those holes and golfers for seven years have been playing a mixture of holes to reach a full round of 18.

However, Helm and the new ownership group realized that the long-term health of the golf course required the reconstruction of those creek holes, especially the most famous ones Creek #1, holes 3, 4 and 5, Creek #2, holes 7, 8 and 9 and Creek #3, holes 1, 2 and 3.

Salado Creek winds its way through the 27 holes and affects more than half of them, proving a worthy challenge to even the most experienced golfers.

Despite the abundance of water surrounding the golf course, forced long-carrying shots are a rarity at Mill Creek, which tends to help the less aggressive players.

A pond between the fifth and ninth holes on the fairways of Creek #2 provides another opportunity to put a misplaced shot in the drink.

If you can avoid the water, players still face dozens of daunting sand traps that dot the fairways and protect the greens.

The behemoth trap on hole five of Creek #1, a fairway bunker on the tough par-4 hole, is perhaps the most intimidating of the bunkers.

Other must-avoid are tactically placed on Creek #2's eighth hole, a high-lipped bunker that can cause trouble.

To score well here at Mill Creek, you better know your way around a putter for these fast-running greens.

With all of these challenges, though, Mill Creek still proves to be manageable for less experienced golfers. The fairways offer large landing areas to counter some of the tough terrain.

Overall, Robert Trent Jones II designed the course to reward well-considered, well-executed shots, yet punishes mistakes.

"Being a golf architect is a bit like being a stagehand," Jones. Jr. said when the Creek #3 holes were opened in 2001. "We set the stage for the real drama."

The Jones name has been synonymous with the ultimate in golf design for 50 years. Robert Trent Jones II has designed more than 270 golf courses on four continents.

"All great courses possess an overall mood or rhythm that engenders feelings of anticipation mixed with nostalgia in most players when they reflect on the course," he states in his biography on

Saladoan announces he will run as Republican for Bell County Treasurer

Gaylon Evans has announced his intention to run as a candidate for Bell County Treasurer on the Republican ticket.

Evans said that his work experience, together with his ability to work effectively with various officials within the county would lend to a seamless transition into the existing department.

"It would be like coming full circle in my career...back home, if you will" Evans said.

Evans is a life-long resident of Bell County, having moved here when he was one year old.

His father's family can trace their ancestry to the area back to the 1800's while his wife's family comes from one of the "old 300" original settlers of Stephen F. Austin.

Having attended Kindergarten through 12th grade at Salado, Evans then enrolled at the University of Mary Hardin-Baylor, where he received his BBA in Finance/Economics in 1992. Shortly thereafter, Evans began his work career with a local Credit Union in the accounting department.

For the next 17 years, Evans worked diligently at helping grow the Credit Union, 14 years of which he was the Finance Manager overseeing such duties as financial reporting, the ACH (payroll) department, check processing, investment tracking, and other duties normal to the accounting area.

In 2011, Evans changed career paths and began working in the government sector, as the Internal Auditor for Bell County, where he remains to this day.

He is married to Karen Evans, CPA. Together, they have two daughters and a son: Rachel, a junior at The University of Texas, Courtney, a freshman at Texas Christian University, and Justin, a freshman at Salado High School.

The Markets

While the S&P 500 (SPX) only rose an anemic 0.26 percent last week to close at 2587.84, it remains up 1.51 percent for the month and over 24 percent from this time last year. The legitimate question has arisen in the minds of many, "Is that too much?" and "Are we in for a fall after such a gain?" The reality is that stock market is priced based on the ratio of corporate earnings to share prices, the price-to-earnings (P/E) ratio. That P/E ratio remains about at its historical average of 18 to 20 and has not risen significantly in the last year.

The compilation of stock prices we refer to as "the stock market" is usually presented as an index, like the S&P 500 or the Dow Jones Industrial Average. Professionals tend to view the price of the broad market based on the P/E ratio of the fictional share of, typically, the SPX. There are times when the P/E ratio is low, and we see the market as underpriced. Other times in history, the P/E ratio has risen to absurd heights of as much as 45 as it did in the "Dot-Com Boom" that ended in the year 2000. In short, the stock market is higher because the corporations represented by shares in that market have increased their profitability that much. The estimates vary, but about 40 percent of those earnings come from outside the United States, so as European and emerging markets countries continue their recovery earnings still have room to grow.

The ten-year U.S. Treasury remained about the Market & Economic Update

By Jeffrey W. McClure

same as last week, but the broad bond market looks to us to be overpriced. Gold was down 0.35 percent for the week but is now down 4.13 percent from last year at $1,270.20. U.S. Crude Oil was up 2.13 percent at $55.70, which is unpleasant for gas prices, but great for oil producers and exports.

Employment Report

We had a lot happen in the economy last week, but the two big items were a near-record low 4.1 percent unemployment rate and a sweeping tax proposal presented by the chair of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Employers hired a seasonally adjusted 261,000 employees last month. In addition, the Labor Department reported that instead of losing 33,000 jobs, we gained 18,000 for the month. This is the lowest unemployment we have seen since the year 2000, but this time we are not in an overheated economy headed for a fall. As with the rise in corporate earnings, the global economic recovery and expansion is at least partly driving U.S. employment numbers. In the last major expansion of this length, the U.S. economy, while linked to the rest of the world, was not yet truly "global" in nature. In the two decades that have ensued, the globalization of our economic environment has accelerated. Much of what American companies create and sell in the U.S. is either composed of parts from elsewhere or assembled in another country of parts manufactured here. More and more U.S. manufactured parts and products are also winding up being sold in other countries. Defining the country of origin for a finished product has become a percentage judgement call and can change depending on whether one is counting parts or dollar value!

A New Tax Proposal

The Republican leadership of the House Ways and Means Committee unveiled a new federal income tax proposal last week. It is a complex 400-page document that has a lot of small changes and a couple of big ones. Fundamentally, it is based on the concept that cutting taxes and thereby increasing the federal deficit by $1.5 trillion over the next decade is a good idea, but at that point the tax breaks expire and taxes go back up. It chops the corporate maximum tax rate to 20 percent, and if it becomes law, will likely provide a substantial boost to corporate earnings. For individuals, families, and small businesses, some will see a relatively minor tax cut while others will see a small federal income tax increase. It is still just a proposal and will likely see some major changes. We will follow it and report.

Trump is the GOP Mainstream

The showdown between President Donald Trump and Sen. Jeff Flake turned out to be no contest. It wasn't Trump who was out of the GOP mainstream, but Flake. The Arizona senator supported Gang of Eight-style immigration reform, when immigration restriction is becoming a litmus-test issue in the party. He is a Goldwaterite, libertarian-inflected conservative, when the market for libertarianism within the party is limited and diminishing by the day.

He is frankly anti-Trump, when Trump owns the party. Many Republican voters are fully aware of the president's flaws, but they don't want to hear about them constantly from Republican officeholders.

Flake's criticisms of the president were honest, sincere and principled. If he's not a finalist for a Profile in Courage Award, the John F. Kennedy Library Foundation is falling down on the job. They also were malpractice. The most likely outcome was to make it more difficult to defeat the Trumpite insurgent Kelli Ward in a primary next year, which one would have thought was a paramount political goal.

Worse, Flake apparently rendered himself unelectable. Perhaps he considered speaking out more important than serving, a personal choice that no one can gainsay. But if the party isn't going to be overrun by Trump sycophants, it will need working politicians who are willing and able to better navigate these waters.

There are a few, more sensible approaches in the Senate.

There's the Ben Sasse model -- speak your mind without fear or favor, knowing that you aren't facing a tough primary in a matter of months and, if you decide to run again, it won't be until 2020, when the mood might have shifted.

There's the Mitch McConnell model -- hold your cards as close to the vest as possible and try to keep things from running completely off the rails so the party's congressional majorities aren't destroyed.

There's the Lindsey Graham model -- criticize Trump when he's wrong and never abase yourself in his defense, but develop a relationship with the president to maximize your sway.

But it's a mistake to assume that Trump will somehow magically evaporate, leaving everything in the party as it was before he showed up. At this point, a Trump failure will take down the party, too, and may deepen and intensify the Republican civil war rather than end it.

It's also a mistake to treat the Trump phenomenon as a fluke from which Republicans need learn no lessons. Establishment Republicans seem to believe Trump's rise says more about the inadequacies of their voters than about the inadequacies of their own, shopworn politics. The great advantage Trump has in Republican politics is that he's a Republican president, and partisanship is an awesome political force. So is the cult of personality that inheres in the presidency, augmented by Trump's celebrity. He has the right enemies, and his culture-war fights coupled with his traditional GOP legislative agenda offer something for everyone in the party, from the populists to the Chamber of Commerce.

All of this means that, until further notice, he occupies the commanding heights of the GOP. Full-frontal assaults may be bold and brave, but they will likely be ineffectual, if not wholly counterproductive.

What has TXDOT done for us?

Most citizens have heard but others are still asking, "What did the State do to help Salado get through and over a long period of construction?" One last time, the following is a recap.

1. After 2-Austin trips, Governor Abbott asked TXDoT to assign 2-top officials to work directly with the Mayor, citizens, Street Committee and the Aldermen/Lady. Randy Hopmann and Terry McCoy, working with James Construction's Mike Killgore, President, and Rick Lewis, Project Engineer, and Salado's Street Committee, reduced the time-line by approximately 4-months.

2. The 8-foot asphalt aprons on Main Street were not in the original plans. Nor was street paving between the Church of Christ and Municipal Building.

3. The Main Street apron Bike markings and some work on the North and South Salado Signs were not either.

4. When TXDoT received extra money, Salado put in a KTEMPO request for sidewalks and street-lights. The Mayor and Village Administrator represented the Village in meetings. Salado was selected for the sidewalk and lighting to begin in fiscal year 2019 (January-March). The approximate cost: 2-million dollars.

5. The sidewalks and lighting surveying: TXDoT.

6. The concrete bridge by the green walking bridge: TXDoT. Scheduled for this January and will be disabled accessible.

7. Congressman John Carter and Senator John Cornyn's assistance, invaluable. When "mission creep" occurred, Salado became priority.

8. The Salado letters will be attached to the South-bound Sign. However, the lighted tree paid by private donations. Needed: about $27,000.

Other news, Veteran's Day is this week. Thank you, Veterans.

The Scottish Clan coming this weekend to the Civic Center with Scottish tradition, games, and enjoyment. Enjoy!

On behalf of the Village, our sympathy to Marilyn Fleischer in the loss of her father along with all the other families that have lost a significant other this year.

Thank you, veterans, for sacrifice, continued service to our country

We greatly appreciate the sacrifice of our veterans, active duty military, and first responders. We have 173 students that are children of active duty military, which represents almost 10% of our 1,856 students.

All of our four schools have been adopted by units of the 3rd Calvary Regiment (Brave Rifles) at Fort Hood:

Thomas Arnold Elementary – 1st (Tiger) Squadron
Salado Intermediate School – 2nd (Sabre) Squadron

Salado Junior High School – 3rd (Thunder) Squadron

Salado High School – 4th (Longknife) Squadron

We also partner with Angelica Salinas, the School Liaison Officer with the Family and Morale, Welfare, and Recreation at Fort Hood.

Our annual "Freedom Walk" event will be this Thursday, November 9, at 9:30 a.m. at our athletic stadium. This event is to honor all of our veterans, active duty military, and first responders, including fire fighters, paramedics, and law enforcement personnel. All of our students and employees will be in attendance, and all parents and community members are also invited to attend.

The 3rd Calvary Regiment Longknife Squadron Honor Guard will present the colors. Everyone will participate in the Pledge of Allegiance, followed by the singing of our National Anthem by the Salado High School choir.

Brigadier General Jason Walrath will be our speaker. General Walrath became the Deputy Commanding General, US Army Recruiting Command, Fort Knox, Kentucky, in September of 2016. General Walrath has a Bachelor's of Science from the United States Military Academy at West Point, NY and a Master's degree in National Security Studies from the Army War College at Carlisle Barracks, PA. He's had numerous assignments in the United States to include overseas tours in Korea, the United Kingdom, Cuba, Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, Iraq, Afghanistan, and recently visited China as a CAPSTONE fellow at the National Defense University in Washington D.C. He is an Airborne Ranger and Master Army Aviator having flown numerous helicopter and fixed wing military aircraft over a 28 year career. In his civilian capacity he is a commercial pilot for United Airlines. Most importantly he is Kathi's husband and father to Olivia and "the Kicker" (Jake Walrath, the place kicker on our varsity football team).

General Walrath's speech will be followed by a moment of silence and the retiring of the colors. Then all veterans (including the Henry T. Waskow Chapter of the Veterans of Foreign Wars – Belton), active duty military, firefighters, paramedics, and law enforcement personnel will lead all of our students and employees on our one mile freedom walk. All parents and community members are invited to join us for our annual Freedom Walk event this Thursday, November 9, at 9:30 a.m. as we honor our veterans, active duty military, and first responders.

Coston shares importance of records

"Every piece of paper is a person."

Bell County Clerk Shelley Coston referred to this line repeatedly in her Nov. 6 presentation to the Salado Historical Society.

Coston brought with her examples of some of the thousands of life records that are collected, organized and maintained by the County Clerk's office.

She told the group that the office of the County Clerk was created by the Texas Constitution.

"These are the records that carry you through your life, beginning with your birth," Coston said. Bell County maintains birth certificates from 1903 when they were mandated by state law. In 1951, the City of Temple "Decided that it would be the local registrar of records for the municipality," she explained. Temple birth certificates are maintained through the city since that date.

She explained that with advances in health care, people are living longer lives. Because of this, the Association of County Clerks is lobbying to have the period that birth certificates remain confidential extended. Currently, birth certificates become a matter of public record after 75 years.

"Right now, there are lots of people who are still living whose birth certificates are now a matter of public record," she said.

The County Clerk maintains juvenile criminal records. These remain confidential, Coston said.

The clerk's office also maintains the election results dating back to 1850.

In the election to secede from the Union, 46,153 Texans voted in favor of secession and 14,747 Texans voted against secession. In Bell County, 456 citizens voted for secession and 198 voted against.

The clerk's office also maintained military records.

The office also maintains marriage records going back to the founding of Bell County in 1850. "We have some very interesting marriage licenses that go back to 1904 and 1905 that were never claimed by the couple," she said, adding that those licenses are made available to the descendants of those marriages.

Death records are also maintained at the clerk's office, but remain confidential for 25 years.

The Bell County Clerk's office has been working to preserve many of its oldest record books. Coston explained the process of de-acidifying the books, at which time the documents are taken apart, scanned and de-acidified to prevent further damage to the paper records.

The cost per book is $3,000 for those which are the most fragile and in need of the most work.

The Bell County Clerk's office has more than 9,000 record books in its collection before the office went digital.

Coston shared records of the inmates at the County Home, which was located between Temple and Belton near I-35. "These records are heartbreaking," she said, sharing some of the stories found in them of the age, cause of death and time spent in the indigent home. The County Home was open from the early 1920s to the 1960s, Coston said.

"These are the records that carry us from the beginning of our lives to the end," Coston said, adding that because of this, she does not underestimate the importance of her job.

The Advent Fair at St. John Lutheran Church is noted for the tasty treats and unique finds that fill its Teinert Recreation Center gym every year from 4-8 p.m. Nov. 11.

And this year, dessert donations will be donated to help the St. John's youth attend the 2018 Youth Triennial in Houston. The St. John delegation will join thousands of other Lutheran kids gathering for worship and to help with Hurricane Harvey cleanup. The April gathering is a triennial event, which has previously provided opportunities for youth from St. John and across the nation to pitch in working on special projects in needy areas like Detroit and New Orleans.

Church members are again sharing secrets about what they're making -- or hoping to find on sale at the Country Store and the big silent auction. Unique treasures will be offered at the live auction that caps an evening of turkey dinners, fellowship and family fun.

Some come to eat and stay to shop, while others come to shop but can't resist letting someone else make dinner. The church is located on Highway 95 just a mile north of Bartlett. The public is welcomed, and there is no admission charge.

Featuring home-cooked turkey dinners served with all the trimmings, there's always plenty of eating, shopping and fellowship at St. John's Advent Fair.

Many attend for an opportunity to take home a display-worthy quilt and many more make it a point never to miss the fundraiser because of the home-crafted pantry items, ready-to-heat frozen casseroles and other homemade treats on offer in the Country Store. Others wouldn't miss a chance to admire, and bid on, one of the distinctive items in the silent auction.

Prepared by church members, the turkey dinner will be $10 per plate, with serving from 4:30 until 7:30 p.m. or until sold out. Drive-through plates also will be available. Individual servings and whole cakes, pies, etc. will be priced separately.

During this year's live auction there will be a chance to bid on a distinctive Christmas quilt. Pieced by St. John's own PieceMakers, the red, green and white art-quality king-sized bedspread was hand quilted by long time Bartlett resident Dora Brock.

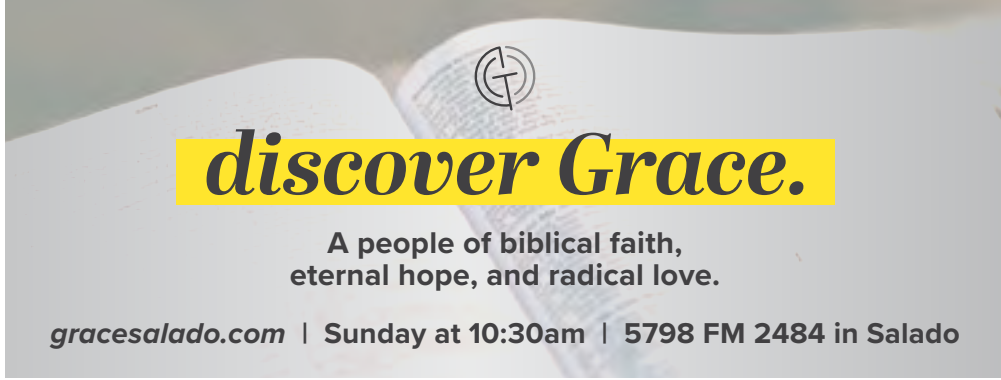

In addition to piecing heirloom-quality quilts for the Advent Fair, the PieceMakers are noted for the dozens of service quilts they create and pray over throughout the year for recipients assisted through Lutheran World Relief. This year's creations will be on colorful display during the annual Blessing of the Quilts and churchwomen's Thank Offering worship service at 10:30 a.m. on Nov. 19. Everyone is always invited to worship at St. John Lutheran, Bartlett. In addition to the festive quilt display, special music is planned for this upcoming Thank Offering service.

Open to the public since their 1978 event, the Advent Fair is sponsored by the women of St John.

Largely due to the generosity of attendees who come from miles away to support the churchwomen's only fundraiser of the year, St John's Advent Fair funds projects to support local, national and international charities and services.

Longtime beneficiaries include: local food pantries (in Holland, Granger & Bartlett) as well as Bartlett's Food for Friends project; Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA) World Hunger Relief efforts, Lutheran Social Services, and Lutheran Disaster Response; Temple's Ronald McDonald House and Family Promise of East Bell County; as well as scholarships for St John's graduating seniors. Special projects support is provided by Thrivent Action Teams.

Amazed in concert at Cedar Valley Baptist

The family group Amazed will perform a gospel music concert 7 p.m. Nov. 10 at Cedar Valley Baptist Church, 12237 FM 2843, eight miles-southwest of Salado.

The concert is free, but a love offering will be taken.

Amazed is a family bonded together, some of them by birth and others grafted by God in marriage. Amazed was formed in 2009 with John Watson, Kim Watson, Russell Thompson and Elisabeth Thompson, but have relocated to Central Texas and added Milissa Beechem.

Kim Watson has always had a calling on her life to sing for Jesus, but did not answer that call until about six years ago. "When God calls you to do something he will give you what you need to do it," she says.

John considers himself a very blessed man in many areas and wears many hats in the Amazed ministry. John is the sound engineer for Amazed, drives the bus, does all the photography, and manages the group.

Elisabeth was reared in a Christian home that was very musically inclined and has been singing most of her life. For the last several years Russell and Elisabeth have been part of the Praise and Worship team in their church. She has a passion for sharing the love, grace and mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Russell began singing and playing music at a very early age. He is gifted with many talents in that he can play several instruments with a deep love for the guitar. He has traveled and ministered with many groups such as Sovereign Grace Singers, Master's Harvest, Eastern Sky and Amazed.

Milissa Beechem, from a young age, began to sing. Inspired by the love of music from her mother and other family members. This Texas born singer began singing at the age of 3 in churches where her father was a minister and her mom or dad would stand her up on the altar to sing.

At the age of nine along with her family singing group known as the Sovereign Grace Singers they recorded a record album in Dallas. At the age of 14 her father passed away and it was a life altering event which forced them to stop traveling.

After the passing of her father, she began singing again at the age of 16 along with her mother, brother and his wife Elisabeth with the group named Masters Harvest and they recorded an album Title "Masters Harvest." She attended and graduated from Troy High School and eventually attended and graduated with a degree in Education from Baylor University.

Amazed family singing group

Tickets for the game are $60 per person and include admission to the 7 p.m. NBA game between the San Antonio Spurs and the Dallas Mavericks.

Salado will have seats in two areas of the stadium available.

Salado and Weatherford tip off at 1:30 p.m. Dec. 16.

For more information and to reserve your tickets, send an email to varsity basketball coach Kenny Mann at kenny.mann@saladoisd.org or call 940-768-8240.

Salado freshman Jaci McGregor (2044) broke the Salado High School cross country record when she placed seventh in the UIL State Meet on Nov. 4 at the Old Settlers Park in Round Rock. She ran the two-mile course in 11:53, six seconds ahead of the school record mark of 11:59 by Lauren Mewhinney in 2001. "I could not be more proud of Jaci," Coach Corey Baird said. "She has set goals for herself all season and has achieved every single one of them." McGregor placed behind Emily Garcia of Alvarado, a sophomore who ran the course in 11:28, and Caitlin Buendia, a freshman from River Oaks Castleberry, who ran the course in 11:33. She came from behind to place ahead of Dariana Vasquez from La Feria, and two other runners who had times of 11:54 Her official time of 11:53.29 was just behind Kaytlyn Kuta's time of 11:52.92. The State Record is 10:39.20, set in 2003 by Plano West's Erin Bedell. (PHOTO BY LEE LOUGHEED)

Mister 1,000

Just call him Mr. 1,000. That's what the other students in Chris Lillibridge's Principals of Manufacturing class are calling freshman Luke Grace. Lillibridge assigned the class with a project of building a structure out of pop sickle sticks and wood glue that would support 200 lbs. Grace built one that exceeded that by 800 lbs. The class ran out of free weights and added a steel A-frame to test the weight bearing limits of the structure. Other students cheered each time weights were added. (COURTESY PHOTO)

Four SHS freshmen sing their way to Area contest

This weekend, Salado HS Choir students brought home two first chairs and two second chairs from the Texas Music Educators Association Region 8 Pre-Area Choir Competition. This qualified them for advancement to the TMEA Area Choir Competition at Midway HS in January.

At this Pre-Area level, students were required to sing two cuts for a panel of five judges and had to sing a short composition without having seen the song before (Sight Reading). These students learned two movements from Hayden's "Missa brevis Sancti Joannis de Deo," and "Toutes Les Nuits," by Clement Janequin.

All four students are freshmen at Salado High School. They are Wesley Hernandez, Second Chair, Bass 1; Jessalyn Carrillo, Second Chair, Alto 2; Jayden White, First Chair, Alto 1 and Nikki Grace, First Chair, Soprano 1.

In addition to advancement to the next round of auditions, these students will perform at the TMEA HS All-Region Choir Concert to be held at the Midway Performing Arts Center 5 p.m. Nov. 11.

The students are under the direction of Amanda White, Salado ISD Choir Director.

Eagles wreck Rockets 62-21

BY LARNCE BARKER
SPORTS

Salado Eagles trounced the Robinson Rockets 62-21 on Nov. 3, the final home game of the season, locking in their playoff ticket for the third straight year.

The Rockets offense would find it difficult to run or pass the football on their first series against the Eagles, number one defense in District 9-4A -D2, as Robinson would have only four plays and had to turn the football over on downs.

Salado's offensive line went to work on the Rockets defense with their second play from scrimmage. Cade DePoy took a Hayden Haire handoff on the Buck Sweep to the left side of the Eagles O-Line following Bobby Cunningham kick-out block to go 47 yards for an Eagles touchdown. Jake Walrath would tack on the point after touchdown and with 9:19 left in the first quarter for a 7-0 lead.

On the second Rockets offensive series, Robinson would get just six yards before they would punt the football over to the Eagles.

The Eagles next series would be a five play drive with Aaron Torczynski scoring on a 51 yard run. A Walrath kick with 3:58 left in the first made the score 14-0.

The Rockets next drive took just two plays when Robinson's Isaiah Montgomery caught a 66 yard bomb from QB Mason Cooper. The kick failed.

Salado answered with a 15 play drive behind great blocking from the Eagles O-Line, chewing up the clock. Trey Sheppard would score from one yard out. A Walrath kick with 8:38 left in the second increasing Salado's lead to 21-6.

Wesley Quinn, Wrook Brown and Caleb Self pinned Robinson deep in their territory on Walrath's kick off when they tackled Mathew Armes at the 5 yard line. The Rockets went 95 yards on 11 play. Cooper scored on a 7 yard quarterback draw. He added two points on a pass to Jace Walker, cutting the Salado lead to 21-14 to end the half.

Robinson kicked off the second half with an onside kick to surprise the Eagles and the Rockets Talian Harbour would recover the football at the Eagles 49 yard line. Robinson's Cooper would call his own number on a quarterback draw play toward their left side for nine yards where Caleb Self laid the hammer on him, causing a fumble that Quade Brown recovered to give the Eagles the ball 1st and 10 at their 48 yard line.

After the turnover Salado took three plays to score, coming on a 56-yard pass from Haire to Torczynski with 10:24 left in the third. Walrath kicked the PAT for a 28-14 lead.

Robinson's next offensive drive would go three and out and Robinson's Adrian Ceballos punted to the Salado 5 yard line. The Eagles accepted the challenge. Sheppard took the pigskin to the "House" 95 yards for the touchdown. The Walrath PAT made the score 35-14 with 7:59 left in the third.

another 3 and out for the Rockets

Next, Salado's slot "T" offense scored on a four play drive when Torczynski took the Haire handoff to the right and handed the football to DePoy on a reverse with a Haire's block to go 63 yards for the Eagles touchdown. Walrath kicked the PAT for a 42-14 lead with 7:59 left in third.

Robinson scored on an eight play drive when Cooper hit Noah Richard for a 9 yard touchdown pass. A Ceballos kick made the score 42-21 with 1:11 left in the third.

Haire connected with DePoy on a 38 yard TD pass. The PAT failed with 11:03 left in the game and Salado led 48-21.

The Rockets struggled the rest of the night as the Eagles defense flexed their muscles to deny Robinson any ground.

Salado took three plays on their next possession to score, this time on a 25 yard run by Sheppard. Walrath kicked the extra point for a 55-21 lead with 8:13 left in the fourth.

The Eagles defense forced Robinson to punt the ball from deep in their own territory. The Eagles would set up a four play drive when Salado's Zack Adams would "tote the mail" 5 yards for the Eagles touchdown. Walrath kicked the extra point with 3:30 left in the 4th quarter to grow the Salado lead 62-21.

The Eagles Swarming defensive standouts Andrew Sniggs 20, Wyatt Bagley and Caleb Self both with 18, Zach Adams and Rustin Hale 16 tackles, Rustin Hale 13, Mac Miller 12, Quade Brown 11, Jacob Wilk 10, Tommie Barker 6, Kaden Smien and Zavier Bagio 4, Willy Whigham-Tate Harvey and Wesley Quinn 3 each, Wade Woods and Kash Eddleman 2 each.

Salado Masonic Lodge on Homes Tour

Salado Masonic Lodge on Church St. (PHOTO BY ROYCE WIGGIN)

Salado Masonic Lodge #296 will be one of the stops on the Christmas Tour of Homes Dec. 1-3 in Salado.

Much of the history of Salado is linked to Salado Masonic Lodge #296. Many of the men who founded Salado were Masons.

The Masonic Lodge marked its 150th anniversary in June 2017.

The petitioners for Dispensation and Charter were: E. Sterling C. Robertson, Harvey Smith, W.A. Davis, O.T. Tyler, A. Rowland, Robert B. Halley, Jno. A. Tyler, F. A. Bigelow, N.R. Land, H.J. Chamberlain, W.R. Karnes, G.W. Wade, M.W. Adams, Jno T. Flint, Geo. W. McWhirter, Welborn Barton, Jas. Tinnin, A. Tinnin, and Jesse Raborn.

The Minutes of Salado Lodge were destroyed in a fire about 1883 and we are deprived of that source of information as to the early activities of the Lodge, after Dispensation.

We may safely assume, however, that education was one of the principal objectives of the Lodge and a matter stressed in its discussions and proceedings.

Thirty-three percent of the teachers and seventy-seven percent of the Trustees of the College were Masons. The founders (of the College), most of whom have been found to be Masons, also made provision in the Deeds of purchase of lots to prohibit the sale of intoxicating beverages by the drink in Salado.

"It seems," writes Felda Shanklin, Salado historian, "that most all of those early Salado men were Masons."

The Charter for Salado Masonic Lodge was granted by the Grand Lodge of Texas on June 13, A.D. 1867, and was signed by Grand Master John R. Freitag.

The first Grand Lodge Report of Salado Lodge after the granting of a Charter shows the following officers: E.S.C. Robertson, W.M.; Harvey Smith, S.W.; W.A. Davis, J.W.; O.T. Tyler, Treas.; W. Barton, Sec.; J.W. Tinnin, S.D.; I. Raborn, J.D.; R.B. Halley, Tiler. This report also shows a membership of 22 M.M. by affiliation, one Fellowcraft, five Enter Apprentices, and one Past Master.

On the back of a Grand Lodge, Report U. D., there is this notation: "The Lodge Room of Salado Lodge is the second story of a stone building twenty by forty feet." These figures are the same dimensions as those of one wing of the Salado College building and there seems to be no doubt that the College and the Lodge were using the same building in those early days - an arrangement that is not surprising, since both had similar objectives and both had the same man, E. Sterling Robertson, as their highest official.

Later, Salado Lodge secured an interest in the title to the upper story of the Baptist Church in Salado, and for many years met in a Lodge room on the second floor of the church building. In a church rebuilding and enlargement program, the question came up as to how to dispose of the interest of the Lodge in the old building. This problem was solved by literally sawing off the upper half of the building and moving it to, and setting it up as a Lodge room a short distance away on some land donated to the Lodge by Bro. Charlton E. Johnson, Past Master of Salado Masonic Lodge.

The Lodge recently completed a project to put new siding on the building that was built in the 1870s.

Tickets for the Homes tour can be purchased at the Visitors Center at the Salado Museum before Nov. 23 for $18 per person. Tickets purchased after Nov. 23 will be $20.

Tour of Homes will be open 5-8 p.m. Dec. 1, 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Dec. 2 and 1-4 p.m. Dec. 3.

Other stops on the tour this year will be the the the Starcher home, the Lively home, the Seiler Home, the Baines House Museum, Salado United Methodist Church historic chapel and St. Joseph's Episcopal Church.

Clearwater UWCD hosts annual water symposium

Clearwater Underground Water Conservation District will be hosting its 17th Annual Bell County Water Symposium 8 a.m. Nov. 15 at Texas A&M Central Texas, 1001 Leadership Place, Killeen.

This year's theme is: "Water Planning for Texas, Now or Never."

This year's event will have two keynote addresses from key leaders in Texas. The first keynote address will be by Bech Bruun, Chairman of the Texas Water Development Board. Bruun has served as a Board member of the Texas Water Development Board since September 1, 2013. Governor Greg Abbott designated him chairman in June 2015.

Prior to his appointment to the Board, Bruun served on the senior staff of Governor Rick Perry's administration. Bruun has also worked as the government and customer relations manager for the Brazos River Authority. During the 81st Legislative Session, Bruun served as chief of staff to State Representative Todd Hunter (District 32) and as general counsel to the House Committee on Judiciary and Civil Jurisprudence.

Bruun currently is a gubernatorial appointee to the Western States Water Council and the Texas Environmental Flows Advisory Group. He also serves as an ex-officio member of the Texas Farm and Ranch Lands Conservation Council.

The second key note address will be by Lyle Larson, Chairman of the House Natural Resources Committee, Texas House of Representatives, District 122. The Natural Resources Committee addresses most of the water related legislation by the Texas House of Representatives. Rep. Larson served as San Antonio City Councilman, District 10 for 2 terms and as Bexar County Commissioner, Pct. 3 from 1997-2008. Chairman Larson currently chairs the House Natural Resources Committee; and is a member of the General Investigating and Ethics Committee. He has attained a reputation for being committed to working to secure Texas's water future. Over the course of the last 6 years, he has traveled across the state to meet with individuals involved in water policy and planning. Since 2011, Rep. Larson has visited 49 groundwater conservation districts, 12 river authorities, all large public utilities, and several other municipalities and water districts.

According to the Texas Water Development Board, about 7.2 million acre-feet of water currently stored in surface water reservoirs evaporates in an average year. While surface reservoirs continue to feature prominently in the recently adopted 2017 state water plan, many consider ASR to have several advantages over reservoirs that justify its expanded use. In addition to resisting water loss through evaporation, ASR does not involve the acquisition and flooding of land above ground, which can be expensive and result in destruction of wildlife habitat and private property.

In 2015, the 84th Legislature enacted HB 655 by Lyle Larson, which resulted in several changes to the way ASR is regulated. The bill specified how ASR facilities must account for the water they inject and recover and the role of groundwater conservation districts in such projects.

Clearwater UWCD embraced this bill as a critical strategy to help answer the regional question, "How can we meet the growing need for water in both Bell and Williamson Counties?"

This year's program will also include presentations from the staff and executive directors of both the Texas Water Conservation Association and the Texas Alliance of Groundwater Districts. Clearwater UWCD has been a proud member of both organizations since 2002.

The water symposium is open to the public free of charge.

Pace Park Advisory Board established

The Pace Park Advisory Board met for the first time Nov. 6 and elected Susan Humiston as Chair and Susan Terry as Vice Chair.

The advisory board also set the 1 p.m. second Thursday of each month as its regular meeting time.

As an advisory board of the Village of Salado, the Pace Park board will operate under the rules and procedures of the Open Meetings Act and the Open Records Act.

Village administrator Don Ferguson reviewed some of the pitfalls of the Open Meetings Act and Open Records Act to avoid.

He also reviewed some of the events leading to the formation of the advisory board.

The W.A. Pace Memorial Park Board of Trustees and the Village of Salado are cooperating to have the Village named as the sole trustee for the oversight of Pace Park. The village currently operates Pace Park on behalf of the Pace Park Board of Trustees, but this would remove that long-standing board and make the Village of Salado the trustee to oversee the use of the land that was donated by the Pace family more than 60 years ago.

"We are in the process of having the district court name the Village as the sole trustee of Pace Park," Ferguson said. In the meantime, the Village aldermen want to formalize the Pace Park advisory board to work on a development plan for the park.

"You will make recommendations to the Board of Aldermen," Ferguson said, adding that the board will work to develop the park more consistently with Village ideals in mind.

Pace Park consists of 8.44 acres along the north bank Salado Creek.

Members of the Pace Park Advisory Board are Humiston, Terry, Will Lowery (secretary), Amy McLane, Curt Strong, Bobby Whitson and Tim Fleischer.

Salado Recycles Nov. 15

Keep Salado Beautiful and Keep America Beautiful join forces to Celebrate America Recycles Day on Nov. 15.

Salado ISD students will collect the following items in the Clawson Recycle bins on campus. They are encouraged to bring items from home. The class that collects the most items on each campus will receive a prize. The items they are collecting include paper, metal, plastic and electronics (collected by the SHS Robotics team).

Recycling saves the equivalent of the annual energy consumption of nearly 10 million U.S. households per year.

Recycling also eliminates greenhouse gas emissions equivalent to removing more than 33 million cars from the road each year.

The nationwide average of recycling is 34 percent of all American households. Currently, about 30 percent of Salado households use curbside recycling. You can add curbside recycling by calling Clawson Disposal.

 Opening lead — king of hearts.

tain defeat, declarer attempted to cut his losses by leading a club, hoping to find the trumps divided 2-2 and so go down only one.
 But West won the club with the ten and continued with the A-K-Q, drawing all the remaining trumps. He then cashed five hearts to defeat the contract eight tricks!
 The penalty amounted to 4,400 points because at that time (1934), the first undertrick was 200 points, the second 300, the third 400 and so on.
 Furthermore, to add insult to injury, West scored 100 honors to bring the total loss on the deal to 4,500 points!

This female lizard stays with her eggs until they hatch

Being geographically situated where it is, the state of Texas has a multitude of habitats, and as such, is home to a myriad of animals. Rarely will a certain species be distributed throughout this state; more often than not a species will just inhabit portions. One such lizard species bears the namesake of our great state in its common name, but in actuality

Wild About Texas

it thrives primarily south of the border, and that lizard is the Texas Alligator Lizard.

The Texas Alligator Lizard (Gerrhonotus infernalis) is the only one of its genus that calls Texas home. There are other species, but they all reside far south of our man-made border. Observations of this subtly colored but pretty lizard are generally in a narrow swath that runs east-west from the Big Bend region eastward to just east of Austin. Elsewhere this lacertilian species can be seen include several Mexican states such as Nuevo Leon, Tamaulipas, Coahuila, San Luis Potosi and Queretaro.

The habitat that this slender lizard prefer are well drained rocky canyons that are littered with oaks and junipers, as well as rocky slopes and dry creekbeds.

Not particularly overbearing in coloration as adults, the Texas Alligator Lizard possess a background coloration running the gamut from yellowish, brown, tan, or even gray. On this background there are numerous narrow white and black crossbands.

But what this species lack in coloration it makes up in body shape and overall appearance. The body is quite elongated and there is a lateral fold that runs along each side. The legs are proportionally short and the head is not noticeably separated from the body, and the slender tail, which is colored like the back, is long and about twice the length of the body. Despite the slenderness, this species is actually the second-longest species in the United States.

The name alligator lizard is derived from the fact that the scales on the back are thick and keeled, giving this slim lizard the appearance of an alligator.

Texas Alligator Lizards, like other lizard species, are "cold-blooded", or ectothermic. This means that it does not generate heat from the inside of their body, as mammals and birds do, but rather is dependent on outside sources for heating and cooling. It is active during the early mornings and late afternoons from early April to October, and like many other reptile species it avoids the hottest part of the day by resting in shaded areas.

This species of lizard is an opportunistic carnivore, feeding primarily on small insects such as crickets, grasshoppers, and beetles, although small rodents and other lizards are consumed occasionally.

The Texas Alligator Lizard is oviparous, which is a fancy way of saying that it lays eggs. After emerging from the winter-long brumation period (reptiles do not hibernate in the true sense of the word), males will search out females to mate. During the breeding season, which is typically in early spring, males will attempt to mate with a suitable female, and after about a month following a successful copulation, the female will begin to lay a clutch of up to 30 eggs. These eggs are laid in areas of high humidity, and typically will hatch in about eight weeks. The female will often remain in the nesting site for the duration of the incubation period. The four-inch long hatchlings are patterned similarly to the adults, although the contrast between background coloration and crossbands is much more noticeable. Like most other lizard species, the young are capable of fending for themselves immediately.

When not threatened, this lizard species is slow and methodical in its movements. However, when it feels threatened, the short legs are folded along the body and the lizard will move in an undulating motion much like a snake as it quickly darts for cover among the leaf litter.

The Junior League of Bell County will continue its 2017-2018 Girls Empowerment Movement mentorship program 11 a.m., Nov. 11. at the Ralph Wilson Youth Club, 1515 S. 25th Street in Temple. All Bell County high school senior girls are invited to attend this three-event mentorship series, Girls who attend one of the three GEM classes will be invited to attend Project Prom, where they'll receive a prom dress, graduation dress, accessories, and gift certificates for prom.

This year's second mentorship event will be a Personal Finance 101 class, taught by Junior League of Bell County member, Jacqueline McKeever, who has been working in healthcare since 1998 but became passionate about finance and has since become active in teaching financial literacy. McKeever's background includes her volunteer efforts as a Financial Coach for Foundation Communities, a nonprofit offering affordable homes and on-site support to empower residents to achieve educational success, financial stability and healthier lifestyles. McKeever has since created 'Route to Victory' a nonprofit specializing wholly in Financial Literacy in order to build people's self reliance and to further empower families by teaching them money management and debt reduction.

The GEM Finance 101 class will focus on financial basics such as budgets, credit cards, credit scores, bank accounts, student loans, buying a car, and more.

Parents are encouraged to attend as well. Snacks will be provided at the event.

will be 11 a.m.-1 p.m. Nov. 11 at the Ralph Wilson Youth Club, 1515 S. 25th Street in Temple.

The final event in the 2017-2018 mentorship series will be held Jan. 20.

This event will be a Healthy Prom Prep class, where students will learn about healthier alternatives to the methods that young women often prepare for prom including nutrition, exercise, and skin care.

Members of the community are invited to support the Girls Empowerment Movement by donating money online at jlbello.org as well as gathering donations of prom dresses, shoes, and accessories.

Prom dress donations will be accepted starting in late fall.
