SALADO

A JEWEL IN THE CROWN OF TEXAS

In 2016, Salado was designated by the Texas Commission on the Arts as a Cultural District. The designation simply affirms what those of us fortunate enough to live in Salado have known for years: Salado is a Jewel in the Crown of Texas.

For 30 years, Marilyn and I have had the distinct opportunity to live and work in this gem of artistic talent and vision. We have published Salado Village Voice since 1988. We saw then the need for a regular publication celebrating the arts, events, history and culture of Salado and began Salado: A Jewel in the Crown of Texas.

Those first editions of the magazine featured the work of local artist Ronnie Wells on their covers; first it was pencil drawings, then pen and ink and finally watercolors of the historic buildings that dot our Village.

Come and visit our newspaper office at 213 Mill Creek Dr., Suite #125 and you can see the entire collection of the original works of art.

A renaissance of arts began to bloom at the same time that the Salado Village Voice was founded in 1979 by historian Dayton Kelley. The first edition of Salado Village Voice newspaper announced the formation of Tablerock Festival.

A few years later, Troy Kelley placed Sirena in the stream of Salado Creek to kick off the Texas Sesquicentennial in 1986. Salado has an artistic and cultural diversity that few small communities can boast. Within a stone's throw of each other, we have public art pieces that have been carved from stone or cast of bronze and dot the landscape of our small town.

We have a lovely Sculpture Garden, a joint effort of Keep Salado Beautiful and the Public Arts League of Salado. There, you can follow a natural trail and see the works of more a dozen Texas artists. The Sculpture Garden is a great place to introduce children to art.

Keep Salado Beautiful lives up to its name by working with local partners to maintain 10 Pocket Gardens: College Hill, Sirena on Salado Creek, Tablerock Trail, Salado United Methodist Church, Green Walking Bridge, Visitors Center, St. Joseph's Episcopal Church, Sculpture Garden, Salado Library, and Thomas Arnold Elementary. The gardens are maintained by their sponsors and the First Monday Gardeners.

PALS advocates and promotes public art and has helped to place pieces throughout town, including Self-Made Man at the corner of Thomas Arnold and Main St.

Salado boasts galleries with working artists, such as Ronnie Wells, who has been named by the Legislature as Texas State Sculptor, and Larry Prellop, who was picked as the Keep Texas Beautiful Artist of the Year. And for those who prefer contemporary art, we feature impressionist Kay Griffith, who was one of fewer than 100 in the nation to be chosen for the World of Art Invitational in Las Vegas, glass blower Gail Allard II, who has quickly built an almost cult-like following of admirers and collectors (including ourselves) and more.

If performing arts are your thing, you'll love Salado. You cannot make it through a week without multiple opportunities to listen to a variety of musicians at our restaurants, wineries, breweries and larger venues such as Tablerock Amphitheater and Johnny's Outback.

Not many towns the size of Salado have had traveling university theater programs presenting Shakespeare's A Midsummer Night's Dream in western garb. Fewer still have Chamber music performances and fewer still have a Met Opera singer that they can call their own (Carol Meyer Willingham, a renown soprano). Add to that our Gospel Fest, Prose and Poetry Reading, Salado Legends, A Christmas Carol and more throughout the year at Tablerock, and you can fill your weekends with theater and music in Salado.

Everywhere you look you find art and culture in Salado, including a remarkable, unique depth of architecture spanning from the Greek Revival style of the pre-Civil War era, to High Victorian to traditional Texas farmhouses to rugged log cabins and even modern homes that evoke the architecture of Frank Lloyd Wright.

We never stop growing and learning in Salado. The long history of Salado's Institute for Humanities has brought Nobel laureates (Linus Pauling), playwrights (Edward Albee), poets (Maya Angelou) and statesmen (Barbara Jordan) to this small town.

We believe that once you discover Salado, you will fall in love with our village just as much as we have. Welcome!

Rhyder headlines Lonestar Legends Music Fest

Brandon Rhyder will headline the Lonestar Legends Music Fest presented by Sirena Fest at Johnny's Outback on April 13.

The family friendly event offers free admission to kids 18 and under (adult tickets $20) with proceeds benefiting an all-abilities playground project for Salado in partnership with Variety's Peaceable Kingdom for Kids.

Activities include music, mermaids, art and food trucks at the April 13 event. Info at sirenafest.com and tickets on EventBrite. Brandon Rhyder

The first single from the self-titled release Brandon Rhyder explores the complexities of relationships and the push and pull that somehow seems to make it all work. "The Way They Need Each Other," a collaboration written and performed with singer-songwriter Lori McKenna, sets the tone for the new release, four years in the making for Rhyder.

The collection of songs is both reminiscent of the man that fans have come to love, while providing a new depth of emotion garnered from trials and tribulations felt in recent years.

"When you ponder the deeper questions:

who am I as a husband, father, songwriter and musician? It both humbles and inspires. And you can't answer those questions in a rush..."

Almost apologetically, Rhyder addresses the four-year hiatus from studio activity. "I had to step back and rethink who I was and what I was doing. I needed to clear my mind and take a break from the day-to-day business for a while. And it was the best thing I could have ever done," he explains. "In that time, I feel I've evolved, grown and realized it's not just about me, or even about my wife Kelli and I. It's about family, relationship, legacy. The big things."

There's no doubt that this record is Rhyder's line in the sand. A fresh resolve from a 15-year veteran of the road. "If I'm completely honest, I had to decide, for myself and my family, if this line of work is where I'm spending the rest of my working days. This collection of songs is my answer."

The 10-track album is receiving positive early reviews, professing this as Brandon's best work and drawing comparison to the critically acclaimed Conviction.

"Conviction was the one that was either going to work or not. This new record comes from the same place."

Brandon Rhyder is slated for July 14 release, and was produced by industry stalwart, mentor and friend Walt Wilkins. It is the third installment from the pair who also worked in tandem on 2006's Conviction and 2010's Head Above Water.

The new CD includes four co-writes with revered songsmiths including Keith Gattis, Michael Hearne, Bri Bagwell and multiple Grammy-winner Lori McKenna.

Dulaney Mill

The John T. Dulaney Mill, 1867-1912. (Robertson Plantation Archives.)

John T. Dulaney Mill: A mill and a community

By Charlene Carson Historian

In 1867 the southern states, including Texas, were still undergoing a period of reconstruction following the Civil War. It was in this same year that Salado incorporated for the purpose of issuing bonds to build a wire cable suspension foot-bridge across Salado Creek. Also, during this year, Rev. James E. Ferguson acquired the Chalk Mill, built in 1848, and the mill became known as the Ferguson Mill.

It was also around this time that John Thornton Dulaney built a new mill on the Salado River. It had been ten years since a new mill had been built on the Salado. When Dulaney built his mill, only three other mills, the Davis Mill, located near Main Street; Summers Mill, located near present day Belton and Holland roads; and Chalk/Ferguson Mill, located about mid-point between Davis and Summers mills were operating on the Salado.

John Thornton Dulaney, a millwright, writer, and adventurer, moved to Bell County in 1865 and bought acreage along Salado Creek on which to build a mill. John Thornton Dulaney was born on February 23, 1825 in Culpepper County, Virginia. He learned the value of hard work at an early age. His first job was 12 months of intense labor working in a flour mill at 11 cents per day. If he quit before 12 months he would only receive half pay.

After serving his 12 months, Dulaney, at the age of 17, realized that if he was going to make a living, he needed to find other work. He, therefore, started westward meeting up with a party of Mormons on their way to Nauvoo, Illinois. Finding no work in Nauvoo, he moved on to Burlington looking for employment. He found plenty of work, but no money. All trade was carried on in produce barter. Dulaney, with his earnings fast dwindling, retraced his steps back to Missouri where he was fortunate in getting employment at the high price wage of $8.00 per month working at millwrighting.

ing an ox-wagon team pulling an overland wagon train bound for the gold fields of California. About five months later he arrived in Sacramento, a small town of three frame houses. His company consisted of 64 men. The miners had to form into companies for protection against hostile Indians, with whom they had several fights with two or three Indians killed each time there was a battle.

Dulaney was in California about two years before returning to Virginia. Upon his arrival in Virginia, he immediately left for Texas and while passing through Washington County, he met a young lady by the name of Mary Jane Gates. The couple married on June 21, 1855, and settled in Washington County, the county of Mary Jane's birth. When the Civil War broke out in 1861 Dulaney volunteered in Hood's Washington County Volunteers, Company I. After the war, he moved his family to Bell County and settled on the Salado River at Dulaney's Crossing, which later became the Armstrong Community.

Dulaney told his own story in an article printed in the November 11, 1895, Dallas Morning News when he wrote the following.

"The [Civil] War left me where I began, at the bottom, and in the fall of 1865 I came to Bell county and with what cash I could command bought eight acres of land on Salado Creek with a dam site on it, built a house, erected a sawmill and went to work. I would haul logs with an ox team in the day time and saw them up of nights. For this dam site and eight acres of land I paid $500 cash down in Mexican gold dollars. I added as could make payments, a few acres of land at a time until at present I have bought and paid for about 2,500 acres. We have five children alive, all grown, three girls and two boys; the oldest boy 30 years old."

"I live thirty steps from the river bank, perpendicular bluff, thirty-five feet high, solid rock. I have a pontoon foot bridge across the mill pond, it being ten feet deep, to our garden on the creek bottom land opposite from my house; steps cut in solid rock to the approach of the bridge. I have two cotton gins and a gristmill run by water power. Timber being scarce I have discontinued sawing. We have waterworks, a continuous stream at our kitchen door; hog and horse lots."

In this same article, Dulaney also wrote, "I have but two fingers on the hand I write with. Can't write with a pen at all. I am no letter writer. I had rather build a mill than to write a letter."

Dulaney built what eventually became one of the largest and most successful of the mills on the Salado. The Dulaney Mill ran as a gristmill, a sawmill, and a cotton gin. Dulaney cleverly built his mill into a small cliff. The necessary mortar was made from limestone burned for that purpose. The mill race was cut out of solid rock. The dam, built of cedar posts, was so well built, that it withstood the ravages of floods for many years.

In addition to the mill, Dulaney built a farm complex consisting of a general store, blacksmith shop, a church, and a school. His gristmill, cotton mill, and store formed a center that was used by those passing to the new frontier of West Texas. Many weary travelers purchased supplies at Dulaney's store before continuing their journey westward. Dulaney provided housing for his workers by building tenant houses along the banks of the creek. At one-time Dulaney's land holdings included over 3,000 acres with 25 other families living on the land he had bought.

Dulaney was a mechanical genius and an inventor. Among his personal papers was a patent that Dulaney perfected for a cotton press. He used his skills and his blacksmith shop to make mill parts and other machinery that could not be purchased in Galveston or Houston. He also built tools and other devices to make life easier and more productive. One of those devices was a pulley system by which he drew household water from the creek. The remains of the pulley system hung in the trees long after the mill ceased to operate.

Dulaney was a colorful character and completely independent in his actions. Occasionally the spirit of wanderlust overtook him and he would simply walk off and "hit the trail." Fortunately, there was always some family member on hand to keep the business going until Dulaney returned with stories of his adventures in Canada, Singapore or the West Indies. There was always a boom of trade when Dulaney returned from one his adventures because of the interesting tales he had to tell.

The Dulaney Mill stayed in business until about 1912. A Texas Historical Marker, which is currently mounted to a stone-wall fence in front of the home located near the original mill site, marks the role that the Dulaney Mill played in the development of the Armstrong Community.

In 1916, Dulaney planned a trip from Temple to California retracing the route he took to the gold rush in 1849, sixty-seven years earlier. He returned via boat through the Panama Canal and from there traveled to Virginia to visit his sister. Dulaney died in Virginia August 29, 1916, near Lexington-Fairfield, where he was buried. Mary Jane Gates Dulaney died April 13, 1925 and is buried in Dulaney Cemetery on Elmer King Rd. near Salado, Texas.

The John Thornton and Mary Gates Dulaney children were as follows: 1) Virginia Texas Dulaney Steele married Walter Newton Steele; 2) Emma Ruth Dulaney Brooks married Thomas Sidney Brooks; 3) John A. Dulaney married Mary Elizabeth Stewart; 4) James A. Dulaney married Maud Beatrice Stewart; and 5) Lydia M. Dulaney who was about one-year old when she moved to Bell County with her family.

The Texas MG Register 2018 Spring Gathering of the Faithful will be held for the 43rd time in Salado on May 10-13.

The theme this year "The Tradition Continues" celebrates the magic of the cars and the many friendships made through the years. The GOF is an opportunity to see old friends and make new acquaintances. The trials and tribulations of owning, driving and maintaining these small British sports cars helps create a special bond with MG owners as knowledge is shared in keeping them on the road.

The event starts at the Salado Winery on May 10 at 4 p.m. There will be scenic drives, lunches, dinners and time to visit other MG owners during the weekend. The car show will start at 10 a.m. May 12 and the Awards Banquet will be on Saturday night, both at the Venue. The host hotel will be the Holiday Inn Express in Salado.

British automobile pioneer Cecil Kimber and his MG Motorcar Company Ltd. could hardly have imagined the impact their first sports car would have on the automotive world. And now more than 90 years later, and more than 35 years since the last MG rolled from the storied factory at Abingdon-on-Thames, that passion shows no sign of letting up.

This infatuation (some might say obsession!) is kept alive today by the more than 200 enthusiastic members of The Texas MG Register (TMGR). The TX MG Register was formed 43 years ago – and celebrated their very first event in Salado at the Stagecoach Inn. Since that time, TMGR members have always gathered in Salado during Mother's Day weekend – enjoying the town and celebrating their little British cars.

TX MG Register members are custodians of more than 500 classic British automobiles, ranging from a 1930 M-Type fabric covered roadster to some of the last MGBs produced. TMGR members are devoted to maintaining and enjoying one of the world's favorite cars.

Most automotive historians agree that America's affection with open, two seat sports cars began with the MGTC model of the 1940's, a distinction acknowledged in later company advertising with the slogan "The sports car America loved first". Like many a bride, servicemen returning from England after World War II brought home the tiny British roadsters they fell in love with during the war. Slightly more refined TD and TF models followed, and it was devotees of these "T Series" MGs who formed the original Texas MG Register in 1975. In 1993 the club welcomed owners of "modern" MGA and MGB models, and became the TMGR as it is today; a diverse group of all ages, backgrounds and interests hailing from all parts of Texas, the nation and even as far away as Australia!

Make a Difference Day April 14 in the Village

Make A Difference Day is one of the largest annual single-days of service nationwide.

Tens of thousands of volunteers have united across the country with a common mission:

to improve the lives of others through a wide range of community-driven service projects.

Keep Salado Beautiful is bringing this project to our Village.

The 1st Annual Salado Make a Difference Day will be Saturday, April 14. This event, co-sponsored with Salado Chamber of Commerce, is an expansion of our annual Don't Mess With Texas Spring Clean-up.

Last year a group of neighbors organized the Bike Fence renovation. This year, Keep Salado Beautiful proposes a variety of projects; you may need work done at your church playground, at the school, at the Museum or Civic Center. Perhaps a neighbor needs assistance.

There are projects planned for Tablerock, Pace Park and the Sculpture Garden that need willing volunteers.

Salado's Texas History Days event in June includes tours, classes

The Village of Salado will host an event June 8-10 held throughout the community. The event will include tours of Texas Historical sites, a speech by Sam Houston, demonstrations and exhibits.

Historically based vendors have been invited to show their hand-made and pioneer products. The state of Texas is now focusing on history based vacations and Salado is embracing the concept.

Many of Salado's non-profit organizations are planning unique exhibits showcasing Salado's historical past.

Established in 1859, Salado is famous for its Stagecoach Inn, its location on a branch of the Chisholm Trail, and for being the site of the first co-educational college in Texas.

Many activities taking place this weekend will be perfect entertainment for the young and mature.

There will be a "Homemade Ice Cream - Freeze Off", a western based rendition of Shakespeare's play "A Mid Summer's Night Dream", classes on beginning and advanced genealogy, tours of Salado's 19 National Registered Historic sites and many other pioneer and settler demonstrations and exhibits.

Most events will be offered free with a few that require an entry fee.

For more information on the event please call the Salado Chamber of Commerce (254) 947-5040

Divine Desserts May 19 at Tenroc

On May 19, the Children's Advocacy Center of Central Texas will be hosting Divine Desserts at Tenroc Ranch.

Guests will enjoy a wide array of scrumptious desserts provided by local bakeries as they compete for the title of Dessert Wars Champion, beverages, live entertainment by the GTOs, and a diverse and fun silent and live auction. Complimentary Beer and Wine provided.

Tickets to Divine Desserts are $150 for a couple or $85 per person. A Table can be reserved for $650.

All the proceeds will benefit the agency and ensure child abuse victims in Central Texas receive the quality services that reduce pain and promote healing.

The mission of the Children's Advocacy Center of Central Texas is to provide comprehensive services which protect, promote healing and enhance the quality of life for abused and neglected children in Central Texas through Children's Advocacy Center and Court Appointed Special Advocates programs. The agency serves 700 children and their families every year.

When children are abused and traumatized they are thrown into a legal and social system that, although well intended, is often not fully equipped to deal with these traumatized children. Children's Advocacy Center provides a safe, neutral place for children to come and tell their experiences to a trained forensic interviewer. This interviewer works with agency personnel through a multidisciplinary approach to child abuse. Child victims receive child focused services during investigation and beyond with the assistance of advocacy center staff and team members.

When children are in a situation that is unsafe, the State has to remove those children and often place them in foster care. This experience for these children is confusing, scary and often lonely. Court Appointed Special Advocates (CASA) advocate for children who have been removed from their homes due to child abuse or neglect. CASA trains community volunteers to serve as advocates for these hurting children. They are a consistent source of support as the child moves through the court system. They provide the child with a voice in court and work toward ensuring every child has a safe and permanent home.

The 30th Annual Tri-Regional meet of the Lincoln and Continentals Owners Club will be April 20-23 in Salado.

Lincolns, Continentals gather in Salado

The 30th Annual Tri-Regional meet of the Lincoln and Continental Owners' Club on April 20 - 23, 2018 will again be held at the Holiday Inn Express Hotel in Salado.

The national Lincoln & Continental Owners' Club (LCOC) was formed in 1953, by former Ford Motor Company employees and enthusiasts in Michigan, to recognize and preserve the historically classic 1940-1948 Continentals.

As interest spread, other regions were formed and other models of Lincoln and Continental were invited to join.

Today there are 23 regional clubs that make up the national organization.

Membership is open to anyone interested in Lincoln and Continental vehicles. Ownership of a Lincoln or Continental is not a requirement. However, membership in the national organization (LCOC) is a prerequisite to joining a local region. National has members in Europe, Japan, South America, along with regional clubs in Norway and the United Kingdom, making (LCOC) a truly international organization.

The three Texas Regions of the Lincoln and Continental Owners Club joined together for the first time 30 years ago, organized by Salado residents Doc and Micki Ellis from the Lone Star Region, Sonny Gray and Ron Stein from the Texas Gulf Coast Region and Ed Green from the North Texas Region. Doc Ellis, made arrangements with the historic Stagecoach Inn to hold the car meet. For thirty years now, the three regions have been putting on this car show.

The Friday night meet and greet will be at the Holiday Inn Express. It started out at the Stagecoach Inn. It outgrew the space there and Doc and Micki Ellis allowed the group to have its Friday night party at the City Garage on I-35. Last year Doc and Micki sold the City Garage and their car collection. The meet and greet on Friday night will be at the Holiday Inn Express.

The cars will be on display to the public on April 21 at the Holiday Inn Express, 1991 N. Stagecoach Rd. (exit 286).

Historic bridges over Salado Creek

For several years after the town was laid out, the citizens of Salado crossed the shallow creek by stepping from rock to rock, or on logs laid across the wider places. These logs were chained to the rocks and would sink down stream during freshets and be replaced when the flood subsided. But when in 1866 a dam was thrown across the stream at the lower end of the village, the water was backed up over the rocks. Then for a time "foot-logs" raised on legs standing in the water and chained to the rocks below were used; but they were narrow, rickety and unsafe, and pedestrians not infrequently tumbled off into the water. A general demand arose for a bridge. To meet this problem as well as others, it was decided to incorporate the village. Application for incorporation was made under the general law and the county court in January 1867, authorized and election for town officers. On February 23, Judge O.T. Tyler was elected mayor and a board of aldermen was chosen. These officials appointed the other officers, among the Colonel Thos. H. Jones as treasurer. The town officials first tried to raise funds for a bridge by voluntary donations, but finding they could not raise enough by this means, on December 3, 1868, they ordered an issue of bonds.

The bonds were purchased by the citizens of the town. With the proceeds and subscriptions amounting in all to some $2,500, the municipal authorities proceeded to build a wire cable suspension foot-bridge of substantial construction of unique design and graceful proportions. Two large galvanized rope-wire cables, anchored at each end in strongly built stone abutments, were carried over two double-turreted dressed-stone piers of towers. From these suspended cables wire cords extended down to catch and support the ends of sawed cedar cross bars or joists on which the plank floor was laid. It was one of the first of its kind in the Southwest and was designed, engineered and constructed entirely by home talent—Judge Tyler, Colonel Thos. H. Jones, Judge Wm. H. Garrett, Wm. A. Davis, John Hendrickson and others. It swung some twenty feet above the water and although it could be made to sway enough from side to side to frighten timid souls—especially groups of squealing girls when mischievous boys chose this method of teasing them—it served the people well for more than thirty years. After the county built a combination wagon and foot bridge a few yards upstream the suspension bridge gradually fell into disuse. In 1913 it was finally swept away when a cloud burst in the upper water-shed of Salado Creek sent down a terrific flood that carried away the county bridge as well. The latter was promptly rebuilt, only to be carried away again in the still greater flood of September 9 and 10, 1921.

Salado Olive Oil Co. is a foodie's fav

By Tim Fleischer

How did I survive my formative years without the sweet, thick, dark tang of 25 year aged balsamic vinegar or the flavors of Italy deliciously infused into the richness of Parmesan, Garlic and Rosemary olive oil?

Having discovered those delights, I can say that our kitchen will never be the same.

For fellow foodies and gourmands, a stop at Salado Olive Oil Company is to stumble upon heaven here in Salado. You'll find shelves full of a variety of more than three dozen flavored olive oils from traditional Mediterranean infusions of herbs such as Oregano and Rosemary to the zest of Persian Lime to the southwest heat of Jalapeno or Roasted Chilis.

Not just that, but some help to guide you along the way. Checked throughout are suggestions for marinades or vinaigrettes that you can mix at home and recipes that highlight the array of aromatics.

For marinades, keep to a one-to-one basis of one part oil and one part vinegar. For vinaigrettes, make it 2/3s olive oil and one part vinegar.

You will love the bright fresh flavor of white lemon balsamic paired to an oregano olive oil that is perfect for a Greek salad dressing or marinade for your springtime leg of lamb or kicked-up mid-week chicken dinner.

Want to give your dinner party guests something a little punchier? Try a maple balsamic vinegar paired to a jalapeno garlic olive oil for a sweet and hot kick.

Salado Olive Oil Company has more than five dozens flavored balsamic vinegars for you to try and to take home for your shelves. The store also has suggested recipes that you can take to try at home.

An array of flavors awaits you at Salado Olive Oil Co.

You'll also find three dozen flavored olive oils and unflavored extra virgin olive oils sourced from the finest locations worldwide, including Greece, Morocco, Egypt, Italy, California, Turkey, Mexico and Spain.

Owner Tyler Westrum has curated recipes that complement the many spices, oils and vinegars you can find in his store in Old Town Salado, across from the Salado Civic Center.

Among those is this one for a wonderful appetizer:

Pears with Cinnamon Balsamic over Brie

Ingredients:

- 3 Tablespoons Roasted Walnut Oil
- 1 pear, peeled and chopped into small pieces
- 1/4 cup packed brown sugar
- 1/4 cup apple juice
- 1/4 cup Cinnamon Pear Balsamic Vinegar
- 1 8 oz. Round of Brie
- 1/4 cup chopped walnuts

Directions:

Preheat oven to 350 degrees.

In a small saucepan over medium heat, saute the pear in the walnut oil until sauce. Approximately 1 minute.

Add sugar, apple juice and Balsamic Vinegar. Slowly bring to boil over medium heat, stirring constantly. Turn heat and allow to simmer until the pear mixture begins to caramelize and thicken, approximately 10-12 minutes Place brie in an ovenproof serving dish. Pour the pear and caramel mixture over the top and sprinkle with the chopped walnuts. Bake for approximately 10 minutes, enough to soften the brie.

Serve with baguette, crostini, crackers and additional fruits.

An orphaned eleven-year-old Calvin looks to the Great Tensas River Bottom as a means to escape the pressures of the real world. Located in Northeast Louisiana, the Tensas River Bottom is now an eighty-thousand-acre national refuge. A book of fiction that also records some actual events that have taken place in this magical part of North Louisiana.

This is a heartwarming story of Calvin, an eleven-year-old orphan boy and his dog—the larger-than-life 140-pound Catahoula Cur/Great Dane mix. They have made the Tensas River Bottom their home.

The boy and his five-year-old sister are sent to the Boyles' foster home near Tallulah, Louisiana, in the year 1944. Their father enlisted in the army and was sent overseas, leaving his pregnant wife and young Calvin behind near the end of World War II. Then only a short time after arriving in Dutch New Genie, he was killed in missing in action. Their mother died from medical complications after giving birth to his baby sister. On his mother's deathbed, she made him promise never to let him and his sister be separated.

Over the next few years, many couples wanted to adopt the cute little girl but not the eleven-year-old Calvin, who was now 1000 old.

The only chance for his little sister to ever have a family in his eleven-year-old mind was for him to break his promise and run away to the great swamp to live. The big dog is harnessed to a goat cart with a canvas top, which becomes his miniature covered wagon. When the weather is cold and rainy, he sleeps in the wagon. Together, they learned to survive off the land, as his Alabama Coonhounds ancestors once did, in the Great Tensas River Bottom.

Calvin is one-quarter Indian. This is a survivalist story, but much more.
