Church invites public to ceremony

FBC breaks ground Feb. 20

First Baptist Church of Salado will break ground on its new worship center 1:30 p.m. Feb. 20 at the church location on Main Street and Salado Creek.

The church invites friends and family to take part in the groundbreaking celebration of faith and hope. There will be a dinner on the grounds at noon following the second Sunday service.

"The building of a new worship center is a huge project," said Pastor Brian Dunks, "but in God's grace and by His provision, we will be able to accomplish that which is before us."

The building of the new worship center, according to Rev. Dunks, "is an unprecedented opportunity to declare to the world that God is doing a mighty work in our lives."

Curtis Donaldson is campaign chairman for the building project. "Our new building will obviously allow us to expand our facilities to accommodate growth for the future, but more importantly reach more families in the name of Christ. This is not about building a building, but about building His kingdom."

First Baptist Church is one of the oldest congregations in Salado. It has a rich history intermingled with the history of the village.

Daniel Green, who was second in the world last year, and 10-time National Finals' qualifier Kory Koentz won the top prize of $26,682 with a time of 43.42 on six tries. Debbie Garrison and Sky Parmer won the Ladies' Roping prize of $4,855 with a time of 61.94 on four tries.

Trustees consider contracts

Salado ISD Trustees will consider contracts of administrators and coaches during the regular board meeting 7 p.m. Feb. 21. The board will meet in executive session at 5:30 p.m. to discuss the contracts before voting on them in open session.

The following are items slated for the executive session: superintendent's appraisal and contract; principal/assistant principal contracts; athletic directors contracts; central office contracts; directors of technology, food services, maintenance/transportation, custodial contracts; librarian and nurse contracts and school counselor contracts.

Presently, all Salado ISD administrators and teachers are on one-year contracts, which expire at the end of the 2000 school year.

After taking action on contracts, the board will also discuss a middle school counselor position.

In other business, the board will discuss bond interest money expenditures to possibly include SIS Science Lab Vent hood, sod between buildings, a sidewalk on the west side of the intermediate school and a fire alarm system in the Thomas Arnold Elementary school portable buildings.

In other construction committee business, the board will hear an update about the roof of Salado Intermediate School. The board will also consider a long-range plan for maintenance.

Committee reports will include these: Ft. Hood liaison, public relations, curriculum and technology and the policy committee.

The board will also call the Trustee Election for May 6.

The board may approve the MBIA Resolution and Participation Agreement. MBIA is an investment pool which the district may use in the future.

SHS senior wins Grand Champion at Bell Youth Fair

By Tim Fleischer
Editor-in-Chief

Salado High senior Matt Fleck took Grand Champion honors last week during the Bell County Youth Fair and Livestock Show at the Bell County Expo Center with his 1,256 lb. steer "Bubba." He also took home $18,840, or $15 per pound, during the auction. Clem Mikeska bought the steer, which he has done for 30 straight years. "Bubba" brought a record price for the history of the Youth Fair.

Bubba, an exotic Maine Anjou-Chinina-Angus cross won the Heavy Middleweight division before taking the Grand Champion honors.

Megan Fleck, Matt's sister, took first place in the lightweight class with a Buckeye Simmental steer that Matt raised.

Fleck said he will use the auction money to help pay for college. He plans to spend a year in a junior college before transferring to Southwest Texas State University. He is undecided about his college major, but said he would like to study wildlife.

A hunter, fisher and outdoorsman, Fleck has been showing steers for four years. He has been showing animals in 4-H since sixth grade.

Fleck is a Salado native who has gone to school here all 13 years. The son of Mike and Carol Fleck, Matt raises his projects on the family property.

Last year, he took Reserve Champion honors with Bubba's half-brother.

Raising cattle for the shows has taught Matt a lot about responsibility. "You learn a routine of feeding and working with the animals every day," he said.

He also learned about dedication as a steer or heifer is a commitment of almost a year and a half before it is time to show a project. "They are born in July through September, but you keep them through the year and don't show them until the following Spring," he said.

But once show season comes, it is fast and furious for competitors.

In fact, Fleck is getting ready to leave for a show this weekend in San Antonio.

From there, it's on to Houston.

Dale Kehn will be leaving next week as manager of Brookshire Brothers grocery store. Kehn has been manager of the grocery store since it came to Salado as Village Foods in the 80s. He has been an active supporter of community affairs and helpful to shoppers in finding and ordering the right items. He will be missed by many in Salado. A reception for Kehn is planned 3-5 p.m. Feb. 16 at the Salado Civic Center. Light refreshments will be served. The public is invited to say goodbye to Dale.

Accountability & Authority

Salado ISD Trustees will consider contracts for the school district's superintendent, campus principals, athletic directors and other administrators during its regular meeting 7 p.m. Feb. 21. Presently, administrators, athletic directors and teachers are on one-year contracts.

At this time, it is appropriate for the board to return to its policy of extending a three-year contract to the district superintendent and two-year contracts for campus principals and athletic directors.

Two key factors should weigh in the minds of school trustees when they consider the contracts of administrators: accountability and authority.

The board holds the superintendent accountable for the overall operations of the school district. The superintendent, in turn, holds campus administrators and athletic directors accountable for the performance of their said duties. Principals and A.D.s hold teachers accountable for more specific areas of performance.

This chain of command and accountability is built with links of authority. The chain may break when one of the links of authority is weak.

We presently have weak links in the chain of command. The board of trustees can take positive action Monday night to fix those weak links.

Our Voice

Editorial Opinion

By awarding a three-year contract to the superintendent and two-year contracts to campus administrators and athletic directors, the board will give those administrators the authority to do their jobs more effectively. Administrators often have to make tough decisions that may be unpopular at the time they are made. If an administrator faces those decisions without the security and authority of knowing he or she will have a job the following year, some of the tough decisions that must be made may not be made.

The board should stand behind its administration so that administration can stand behind the teachers. The board should also stand behind its administration so that administration has the authority to hold its teachers accountable for their jobs.

The board should also return next year to its practice of appraising the superintendent and acting on the superintendent's contract during its January board meeting, not waiting until the February meeting.

These are standard operational procedures for most school districts.

They should be for ours.

Saturday's primary may hold key to GOP Presidential nomination

In three short days a major turning point in the race for the presidential nomination will take place in South Carolina. Although this is true for both Democrats and Republicans - most political observers have their eyes glued on the battle being waged between Texas Governor George Bush and Arizona Senator John McCain - something not imagined a scant month ago and only a fact since the New Hampshire primary on February 1.

If McCain can hold his ground and win in the Palmetto State, and go on the following Tuesday, February 22, to win at least half the marbles in Michigan (58 delegates) and all his home Stat'se 30 delegates, the entire GOP political playing-field will do a "topsy turvy" with Bush then holding a slight underdog position for the first time since he entered the fray early last year.

It could also change things around in both California and New York - both huge delegate States where Democrats and independents appear moving towards McCain in the early Republican primary sign-up. Twelve States, including the "Empire" and "Golden", are up for grabs on March 7, and a week later - on Super II Tuesday - the battle, for all practical purposes, will either be over or so close that both men will be headed for an explosion at the GOP convention in Philadelphia on July 29.

POLITICS ALWAYS UNPREDICTABLE

If there ever was a year to prove the adage that predicting the outcome of a presidential race 18 to 24 months in advance, which is what some political gurus have been doing - is not only futile but borders on the insane.

"Bush is the inevitable GOP winner," was the early clarion call as conservatives dumped in money and effort in the Texan's race for the White House. "A man who can win and that's all we want," they said and away the juggernaut went. Seemingly unbeatable and smug at times, like the preppie he was before he saw the light, George the Younger roared out of the starting gate while racking up high poll numbers and funds that gave every appearance of a conservative runaway.

Then something happened on the way to the primaries. A former POW with a penchant for spending time with the media and sounding like a born again Republican with a dash of Democrat-Populist leanings - John McCain started "telling it like it is" which upset some hard line party faithful while making moderate GOPers and independents, who like the "cut of his jib", take a second look.

A tireless worker who feels comfortable with people and the press - McCain's campaign caught fire and Bush saw there was indeed a race to be won, or more importantly "lost", so he got busy. Called in mom and dad who told folks in the Granite State that their "boy" was just who was needed in Washington.

For some reason this didn't catch on and McCain dropped Bush like a bad habit in New Hampshire and a week later came in second in Delaware where he had spent no time nor money.

This is what makes American politics so great. The unexpected has to be expected and the underdog always has a chance. The front runner must be careful, humble and watchful or at least his handlers have to head in that general direction.

Bush failed in this department. As a result he is in the fight for his political life as we head down the road to South

South Carolina primary this Saturday will have a major impact on the Presidential aspirations of Bush and McCain as they head for March's two super Tuesdays. Current squabble is which candidate will promote the biggest tax cut despite the fact that a majority of Americans favor paying off the national debt first with a small tax cut second!

Carolina this Saturday, February 19.

Speaking Of Playing Nice!

Sidebar on the Bush-McCain advertising-about-face merits a brief mention at this point. Remember a few weeks back when the two GOP front runners promised they would wage only an issue oriented campaign? They even shook hands on national TV and promised to play nice together. Then things got sidetracked.

Happened after McCain's big win over Bush in New Hampshire. The money interests who had put in the lion's share of the $70 million that "Boy" George has available - got their heads together and decided their candidate was going to get stuffed if he didn't forget the "compassionate conservative" foolishness and start knocking heads with McCain.

Exactly who broke his word first and when is not material. Both candidates started airing attack ads that fell well below the decency level agreed on - termed hard nosed banzai spots by campaign veterans.

Just goes to prove that "nice" works only until one starts losing and then "not so nice" is called on to shore up a sinking campaign vessel. Even decent folks like Bush and McCain are not immune to pulling out the "personal-muddy slings and arrows" when necessary.

None of this was unexpected. After all - second place ain't much good except in horseshoes or a spot as the second banana we call "Veep".

FAREWELL DALE KEHN

Readers will note the front page story on Dale Kehn, manager of Brookshire's Grocery, who is moving to Fort Worth to work for Mrs. Baird's Bread Company.

Dale has been manager of the local grocery store since it first opened and before it was bought by Brookshire Brothers.

He immediately made a name for himself as a "helping-hand" citizen willing to help any and all groups as they raised funds for a variety of purposes.

Dale allowed scouts and civic groups to sell cookies, cakes and flags in front of his store; assisted the local Humane Society raise funds and provided feed for the animals; used his parking lot and front porch to serve any fund raising purpose by nearly every community organization in Salado - all without seeking publicity or self acclaim.

So, good luck - Dale. We'll sorely miss you. And for all you have done for Salado - we salute you with a heartfelt "Well Done".

National Consumer Week

John Cornyn
Attorney General of Texas

Feb. 14-20 has been designated as National Consumer Protection Week. Instead of my usual question and answer column, I am providing the following information for Texas consumers.

The best way to be a careful consumer is to be an informed consumer. The Office of the Attorney General is the consumer protection agency for the state. Our goal is to protect Texans from unscrupulous business and educate consumers on how to protect themselves.

My Consumer Protection Division produces free educational brochures on a variety of consumer topics from credit cards and ID fraud, to tenant rights and car repair. Consumers can request copies of our brochures by calling 800-621-0508.

CPD also publishes a quarterly newsletter called Consumer Watch. The newsletter provides tips on how to be an informed consumer. It also contains updates on lawsuits that this office may have filed on behalf of Texas consumers. To be added to the Consumer Watch mailing list, write to: List Manager, Office of the Attorney General, PO Box 12548 Mail Code 027, Austin, TX 78711. You can also call the above number to request a copy.

If you have a complaint

Even careful buyers can get stuck now and then. When it does happen, consumers do have some options.

Your first step should be to talk to the business directly - the sales-person, manager or customer service representative. Most problems can be resolved at this level.

If the business does not resolve the problem, you can file a complaint with CPD, your local Better Business Bureau and, in some cases, small claims court.

CPD provides a voluntary dispute resolution service for consumers who file written complaints with our office. My office receives an average of 30,000 complaints a year, and the majority of these cases are resolved through this process.

You can obtain a CPD complaint form by calling 800-252-8011 or by visiting our Website. When you file the complaint, make sure that you include the name and address of the business, a description of the problem and the steps that you have taken to resolve it, an explanation of the resolution you desire and photocopies of all related documents.

State law prohibits my office from providing legal advice or representation to private citizens or companies. CPD cannot act on behalf of a consumer or a business during the mediation process.

Protecting Consumers

On occasion, CPD files a Deceptive Trade Practices suit against a business. The suits are intended to protect the public interest. While we cannot file a suit on behalf of private individuals, we do monitor consumer complaints for possible enforcement actions.

When filing a suit, we consider several factors including among others, the severity of the case and the possibility of halting fraudulent activity. Even though we aren't always able to recover money for consumers, we file these cases to stop illegal business practices.

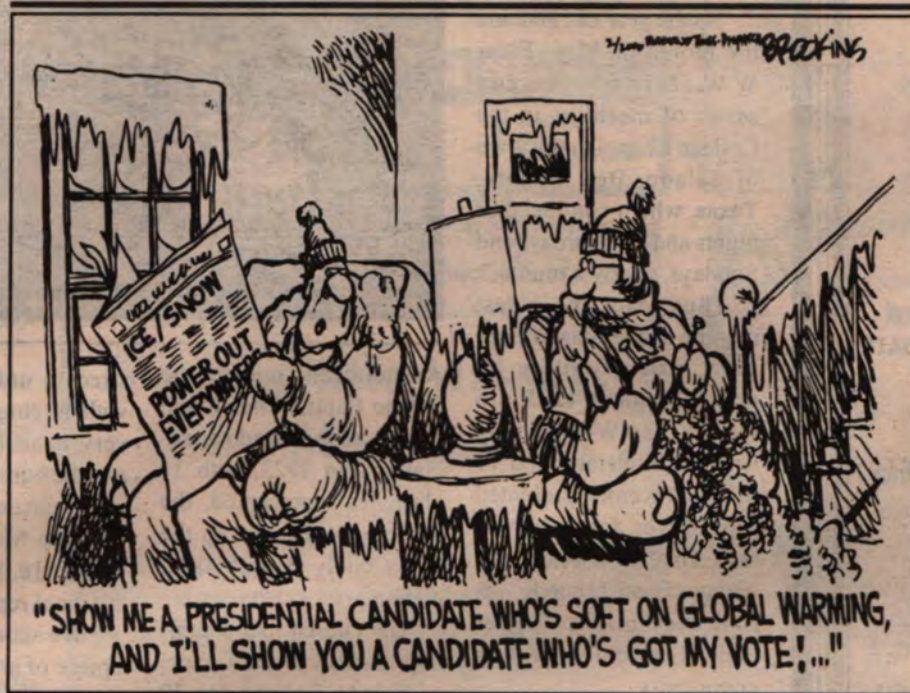

For further information

For more information on consumer information and referral sources, visit the Office of the Attorney General Web site at www.oag.state.tx.us. All of our consumer brochures and the Consumer Watch newsletter are available on the Web site.

If you would like to have a representative from CPD speak to your group, contact Arthur Troilo at 512/463-2185.

Chet Edwards speaks out to pay off the debt

by Congressman Chet Edwards

There's a saying here in Texas that if you find yourself in a hole, then stop digging.

That's a lesson folks in Washington need to learn. Right now, the federal government has a big hole in the budget and it's time to stop digging.

Every year the federal budget includes money for a program that doesn't educate one child, train one soldier, or provide health care for one senior. Not one single project or program receives funding from this $220 billion budget item.

Unfortunately, the item is the interest payment on the $5.6 trillion national debt. Money that was borrowed to finance 29 consecutive years of deficit spending is being carried on the books and absorbing billions of taxpayer dollars.

I believe the time to pay off our debt is NOW, when the country could see at least $750 billion in budget surpluses over the next 10 years.

The temptation in Washington will be to take the surplus money and fund new programs, expand old ones, or pass massive unpaid for tax cuts that could leave our children and grandchildren in the hole for years to come.

Instead of squandering the surplus, we should invest it in our children's and our country's future. The best investment possible is to pay off the debt and free up billions of dollars to strengthen Social Security and preserve Medicare.

Paying off the debt also helps hard working families. When the government gets out of the money borrowing business then interest rates drop. Lower interest rates mean it's cheaper to borrow money to buy a house, start a business, send a child to school or pay other expenses.

A reduction in the federal debt translates into fewer dollars being pumped into interest payments which this year amounts to almost $1,000 for every man, woman and child in the country. Future interest savings can then be used to fund education, strengthen defense, protect Social Security and Medicare, and provide a permanent tax cut.

Neglecting to pay down the debt is morally wrong and fiscally irresponsible. The right thing to do for our children and grandchildren is to pay down the debt and ensure that our fiscal house is in order for the 21st century.

Congressman Chet Edwards, 701 Clay Avenue, Suite 200, Waco, TX 76706 or call 254/752-9600.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

In the Sunday Edition of the Temple Daily Telegram, Judge Joe Carroll was quoted as saying "In the Republican Party, it's the only party where every meeting begins with the Pledge of Allegiance, every meeting begins with an invocation, and every meeting ends with singing "America the Beautiful".

Let's set the record straight, please. I am a member of the Bell County Texas Democratic Women, and its President since Dec. 1998. I am now in my second term as President. All democratic meetings I have attended have always started with an Invocation followed by the Pledge of Allegiance (God before Country). Judge Joe Carroll has been a dues-paying member of the Bell County Texas Democratic Women's club for many years, to include 1999. He obviously never attended our meetings, or arrived late, for they always begin with the Invocation followed by the Pledge of Allegiance.

The good Judge should not imply that ONLY Republicans are patriotic, God fearing people. I personally know many Democrats who served our nation with distinction, and some who gave their life so we may enjoy freedom. In time of war, political affiliation has never been a criteria for valor, sacrifice, or service to our nation.

Sincerely,
Julia Villaronga,
President

Mental Health in the Decade of the Brain

Karen F. Hale
TX Dept. of Mental Health and Mental Retardation Commissioner

A landmark event occurred on Dec. 13 with the release of the first-ever Surgeon General's report on mental health. It seems especially fitting that it was published near the close of the 1990s-declared by the U.S. Congress as the "Decade of the Brain"-and almost at the beginning of a new millennium.

Research during the past decade demonstrates what individuals with mental illness and their families, as well as those who provide services to them, know to be true: that mental health is essential to a person's overall well-being. As Surgeon General David Satcher's report emphasizes, mental health is as vital to optimal functioning in all areas of life as is physical health. Mental disorders are diseases of the brain that, like physical illnesses, can have devastating effects.

Mental illnesses are so prevalent that an estimated one in six individuals—children and adults of all ages, races and social and economic conditions—experiences some form of mental illness in his or her lifetime. In 1999, more than 2.9 million Texans had some form of mental illness. More than 200,000 Texas children through age 17 have a serious emotional disturbance.

Although the cost of human suffering related to mental illness is incalculable, tangible costs have been identified. Research by the World Health Organization shows that in developed countries such as the United States "mental illness is the second leading cause of disability and premature mortality." Just behind cardiovascular disease and ahead of cancer. In Texas the direct costs of mental illness in both the private and public sector were estimated in 1997 to be nearly $4.8 billion a year.

Yet, as the Surgeon General's report points out, mental disorders are treatable, and the future holds great promise for development of increasingly effective treatments. The Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation system offers services and support quality of peoples' lives. These include a new generation of highly effective medications effects than older medications. They also include housing, employment and family supports that assist individuals with mental illness in living successfully in their Community. Services for persons in crisis and those who have complex needs also are part of the array of MHMR supports.

Tragically, only about half of the Texans who experience a diagnosable mental disorder in any given year will seek treatment. The Surgeon General cites stigma, lack of information, lack of access and financial constraints as primary barriers to getting help. If these barriers are to be overcome, it will take more than the continued tireless efforts of people who have mental illness, their families and advocates and those of us who provide mental health services. Mental health and mental illness are public issues. It is important for everyone to be open to learning more about them. If people with mental disorders are to get the help they need, the public must accept that there is no more shame attached to mental disorders than to cardiovascular disease.

Another way in which Texans can act upon the Surgeon General's report is to support continued research into mental disorders and their treatments. Much has been accomplished during the Decade of the Brain. More remains to be done in decades to come. The Surgeon General's report also offers a timely opportunity to spotlight the need for insurance and funding for treatment of mental disorders at levels comparable to that for other illnesses.

"In the year of 1864 and the month of May, Elder W.W. Harris commenced a series of meetings in the College Chapel in the town of Salado, Bell County, Texas, which continued of nights and of Saturdays and Sundays, nearly a month."

Thus reads the oldest records of the Salado Baptist Church, written by Cyrus Eastland, clerk pro tem. Elder W.W. Harris acted as moderator and 11 men and women presented themselves for membership. Their purpose in organizing a Baptist church, was that they might "better honor God and serve their community...."

There is no record of a deacon in the church until March 1865 when Cyrus Eastland, an ordained deacon, joined the church by letter. During the same meeting, N.R. Hancock and James L. Smith were elected deacons and were ordained in May 1865....

On the first day of August 1874, messengers of 20 churches from Bell, Milam and Williamson Counties, previously affiliated with the Leon River

Association, met at the Salado Baptist Church and organized the Salado Association. (In 1923, with 31 churches represented, the name was changed to the Bell County Baptist Association.)

The church had continued to meet in the Chapel of Salado College for 20 years. On December 15, 1877, the building committee that had been appointed earlier in the year was dismissed for failing to act, and a new committee was named to proceed with plans for a building. The membership, now numbered 111.

A report in February 1878 informed the church that the Masonic Fraternity was making an effort to build a Hall, and if they could succeed in raising the necessary funds, they desired to unite in building with the church. The church very heartily endorsed it, and the building committee was instructed to confer with the Masons. On November 16, 1878 they made this final report:

"We set about to secure a piece of ground on which to erect a house of worship. After considerable search we found the ground on which this building stands, which then belonged to Bro. O.T. Tyler, who was pleased to donate the same to the church, by deed to the deacons and their successors in office.

"By your consent, we have built jointly with Masonic Fraternity of this place, with the understanding that the church through its deacons, deed the Lodge the right of way to their Hall as erected in the building, forever as long as the house may stand, provided that if the Lodge should determine to sell their Hall, that they give the church the preference to purchase, they paying as much as anyone else."

"Bro. J.W. Thomason and Sons, the builders, have done good and faithful work. The brethren agreed with us to build the house for $300 as per written contract. He has done $28 extra work as agreed to."

The church was ready for occupancy on November 16, 1878.

The church continues to be vibrant, growing congregation with a great future ahead of it of which the new building will be an important part.

Andy Phair is Village Artist of the Month

Saladoan Andy Phair has been selected Artist of the month for January and February. Her watercolors, featuring western landscapes, are currently displayed at Compass Bank and First State Bank.

Andy grew up drawing and says that she particularly enjoyed sharpening her skills during her middle school math and social studies classes. Her formal training was undertaken when her children, three sons, were small. This took the form of classes and workshops using oil paints. Later, she sought instruction in painting with acrylics. Now she paints with watercolors "to be sociable" as with many of the village artists use this medium.

It is Andy who is responsible for the formation of the Salado Village Artists organization. In 1983 she placed an advertisement in the Salado Village Voice asking persons who painted to contact her if they were interested in forming a group. Today, there are 63 members, who enjoy creating a wide variety of art works, quilting, embroidery, counted cross stitch, wood carving, photography, needlepoint, knitting, crocheting, and all forms of painting including china painting.

Andy has held every office in the organization and has had three terms as president. "The group means a lot to me," she says.

In addition to painting, she enjoys piecing quilts, sewing, and photography. She makes model cars from kits, and plans to make a dollhouse for her granddaughter.

She states that using her hands in a creative way is fulfilling and provides her much enjoyment.

Parent University held on March 6

The Parent University "The Power of Technology" Educational Software will now be held 6-8 p.m. March 6 at the Salado High School in Rooms 201 and 203.

This is a time to access and use the new SISD web site and experience the technology the children are learning. This is a hands on demonstration of different software.

Registration fee is $5 and deadline is March 3. Childcare will be available. You may register by calling 947-5479.

Jody Askins among UMHB Who's Who

Jody Askins of Salado will be among the students at the University of Mary Hardin-Baylor who will be honored during an evening chapel service with Awards and Who's Who recognition at 7 p.m. March 7 in W. W. Walton Chapel on campus. A reception will immediately follow in Shelton.

Askins will be receiving the Who's Who recognition.

Dr. Jerry Bawcom, President, will present the awards ranging from medals for academic excellence to scholarships.

For 1999-2000, 51 undergraduate and 16 graduate students will be honored as Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges.

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directory have chosen these students based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extra-curricular activities and potential for continued success.

They join a group of students selected from more than 1,900 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and foreign nations.

National Honor Society helps blood bank

Salado High School National Honor Society sponsored a blood drive Feb. 9, with 38 donors giving blood.

High School Principal Marvin Agnew was the first to give blood with 15 faculty and staff, 17 students and six community volunteers donating the gift of life.

The Scott and White Bloodmobile was at the school from 8:30 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. for donors to give blood.

NHS members thank teachers, staffers, students and community members for making the blood drive successful.

Davis to wed Waters

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Davis of Salado have announced the engagement of their daughter, Leah Michelle Davis, to Billy Eugene Waters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Ambrose of Like Oak, FL.

Davis is a graduate of Salado High School, and is now in her second year of study at Temple College as a Business major. Waters graduated from Suwannee High School in Live Oak, FL; and is currently in his third year in the United States Army stationed at Fort Hood.

The couple plan a June 3 wedding at the Salado United Methodist Church.

Jubilee planned for Feb. 26

Details for the upcoming Salado Village Jubilee are being finalized in preparation for an exciting evening of entertainment, food and fun. The Jubilee, sponsored by the Salado United Methodist Church, will bring talent from a variety of fine arts to the communities of Bell and Coryell Counties.

This year's event will be held at the Salado Intermediate School Cafetorium 4-8 p.m. Feb. 26.

Scheduled performers include groups and individuals from throughout our neighboring area. Two noted singer and songwriters will perform - Jodi Jackson and Richard Paul Thomas, the RSVR Rhythm Rockers will share their dance magic, and the audience will be delighted by Summer Knights, a men's barbershop quartet, as well as Port of Call, a jazz/swing instrumental group. Other performers include musician Cindy Williams, Yee-Haw Texas with their dramatic talents, Darrell Leverkus on the piano, and the Lewis-Janacek Family Band. Local school and church groups scheduled to perform are the Belton High School Madrigals, Grace United Methodist Church Handbell Choir, the Salado United Methodist Church Children's Choir, as well as the Salado United Methodist Chancel Choir.

Entertainment will alternate every 15 minutes with the opportunity for visitors to eat, purchase baked goods and auction items while enjoying this year's Jubilee talent. Admission for the event is $2 per person with proceeds being used for community youth activities. Mark your calendars to attend the Jubilee.

Lady Eagles add 2 more to list of victims

By Tim Fleischer
Editor-in-Chief

Salado Lady Eagles warmed up on two more victims to ready themselves for a playoff run which will begin later this week.

Call Salado High School at 947-5429 for information about the first playoff game.

Lady Eagles 78
Granger 55

Scoring 52 points in the second half, the Salado Lady Eagles sharpened their talons on the 1A Granger Lions Feb. 11 in Granger.

Salado led by just one at the half, 26-25, but came out like gangbusters in the second half, scoring 26 points in the third and fourth quarters, while holding Granger to 13 in the third and 17 in the fourth.

Adrienne Akins led the scoring with 21 points coming on 10 field goals and one point at the charity stripe. Nikki Jackson followed with 20 points 16 in the second half.

Also scoring for Salado were Sarah Buchanan, nine points; Lauren Quirk, eight points; Tessa Schreiner and Lindsay Quirk, six points each; Robyn Womac, four points and Jennifer Tsosie and Meagan Joiner, two points each.

Lady Eagles 37
Mildred 34

The Lady Eagles warmed up with Mildred Feb. 12 in Crawford was a low-scoring tight match with the teams tied at the end of the first period 6-6. Mildred took a 17-11 lead at half-time before Salado took over 26-22 in the third.

Akins led with nine points, followed by Lauren Quirk's, eight points.

Also scoring were these: Buchanan, six points; Womac, five points; Joiner and Jackson, four points and Schreiner, one point.

Salado Eagles win district basketball championship for 1st time in 15 years

By Tim Fleischer
Editor-in-Chief

Alan Haire was a freshman at Salado High School the last time the Salado Eagles varsity boys basketball team won the district championship. It has been 15 years since the Eagles have won a district basketball championship.

But now the Eagles under his tutelage have nailed the District 26AA Championship with a 51-40 win at home over Troy Feb. 11.

This marks just the fourth time in 15 years that the Eagles will be going to the playoffs in basketball.

One of those few times, Coach Haire was a player on the Salado team. Haire was a sophomore in 1986 and was moved up to the varsity squad for the first round of the playoffs.

The Eagles got shellacked 89-17 by Snook. Haire scored one of the rare Eagle points during that game on a free throw shot late in the fourth quarter. "Coach Dulaney was nice enough to put me in," Haire said. He hopes this year's Eagles will fare better in the playoffs than that team 14 years ago.

Salado will face the winner of the first round playoff game between the third place team from District 27AA and the second place team from District 28AA. The Eagles' first playoff game will be Feb. 24-26. The date and location will be set the middle of the week. Salado fans will need to call the High School office at 947-5429 next week for ticket information.

The Eagles are 9-3 in district going into their last game of the regular season. Salado faced Holland Feb. 15 after press time so results of that game are not available for this week.

Regardless of the outcome of the game with Holland, Salado will have first place in district over Academy and Johnson City after beating Troy Feb. 11.

until the last game when Salado faced Troy Feb. 11.

After a see-saw first half, in which Stephen Fewell's three-pointer gave the Eagles their lead going to the lockers, Troy took a 33-24 lead after three periods.

But the Eagles scored more points in the final eight minutes than during the rest of the game, pouring on 27 points while holding Troy to just seven points.

SYSA seeks sponsors for Spring soccer season

Salado Youth Soccer Association is seeking sponsors for its spring season, which will begin next month.

"Having fields here in Salado is a wonderful advantage for our youth because families do not have to drive a great distance in order for their children to play soccer," SYSA President Mark McGaugh stated.

Donations from sponsors "help numbers of children to have a lot of fun learning life lessons and socialization skills," McGaugh stated, "as well as having a great opportunity to get some exercise and learn about team spirit.

"The continued support of our community and merchants is what makes it possible for the Salado Youth fourth-quarter onslaught. Grimm scored all 13 of his points in the fourth quarter, while Gamble added seven of his nine points.

Troy Smith led the Eagles' scoring with 17 points. Matt Stowell had four points, as did Jeremy Whitacre. Fewell had three while Larry Whitt had one.

Salado JVA 32
Troy JVA 44

Salado's JVA Eagles lost to Troy 44-32 Feb. 11. Jarrod Whitfield led the scoring with 15 points for the night. Dan Watson had seven points. Matt Ward had five points while David Matthews and Cody Quirk each had two points.

Salado JVB 56
Troy JVB 15

Salado JVB scored enough in the first quarter to quell the Troy JVB, but added another 40 points.

Salado led 16-2 after the first period, adding to it in the second. They took a 33-6 lead to the lockers.

Jose Tonchez had 12 points to lead the JVB Eagles. Thomas Kays scored 11 points to follow.

Beau Bartlett, Adam Coffman and Stephen Hayes each had six points. Brad Ray and Aldo Rocha had five points and David Faber had four points.

In painting, the term trompe l'oeil refers to fine, detailed rendering of objects to convey the illusion that the painted forms are real and three-dimensional. The term literally translates as "fool the eye."

Mild winter still possesses deadly danger

Even with only one sustained cold spell in Central Texas, residents need to be aware of a silent killer. Malfunctioning gas, oil and kerosene heaters can release carbon monoxide (CO) gas into the surrounding air and present a serious health threat to family members. More than 200 accidental deaths are caused by carbon monoxide (CO) poisoning each year in the United States. "The Central Texas Poison Center documented 169 carbon monoxide related cases in 1999," says Doug Borys, director of the Central Texas Poison Center, located at Scott and White Hospital in Temple.

The Silent Killer

Commonly known as the "silent killer," its presence is not known until symptoms of the exposure are experienced. It is a colorless, odorless, tasteless, dangerous gas. When the gas is inhaled, it reduces the amount of oxygen the blood can carry to the vital organs, in particular, the heart and brain. Continued mild exposure may result in serious long-term effects. However, since the gas cannot be detected without special testing equipment, it usually goes unnoticed, resulting in the majority of people being killed while sleeping.

Symptoms

Symptoms of exposure the odorless, colorless carbon monoxide gas include headaches, dizziness, irritability and nausea. Take care not to confuse beginning flu or cold symptoms with CO poisoning which typically affects the entire family simultaneously. If several members of the family are sick, but feel better after being away from home for a period of time, carbon monoxide poisoning should be suspected. The treatment of CO poisoning is fresh air and oxygen.

Safety Tips

Several measures can be taken to prevent an exposure to carbon monoxide in the home. Before turning on your heating system each winter, have it inspected by a qualified contractor. Clean your chimney and flue, ensuring that is clear of leaves, branches, birds' nests or other obstruction. Gas, oil, or kerosene type space heaters should be cleaned and serviced yearly. When using these heater, follow the manufacturer's instructions and allow for good ventilation. Carbon monoxide detectors are essential in homes with fuel source heat including space heaters, wood burning stoves and fireplaces.

Suspected CO Poisoning

"The best ways to prevent an exposure to CO is to regularly maintain your heating system and install a detector," says Carolyn Insall, the community education specialist for the Central Texas Poison Center. Insall explains, "When the temperature drops, the welcomed warmth from many heat sources comes with the unwelcomed presence of carbon monoxide." Anyone suspecting carbon monoxide poisoning should call the Central Texas Poison Center at 1-800-POISON-1 or 1-800-764-7661.

Your lawn
breathe!

We can help by aerating.

Aeration makes it easier to have a great lawn.

You can improve the look of your lawn or turf, reduce watering requirements, and reduce the need for lawn chemicals with regular aeration. Aeration reduces soil compaction, the basic cause of many lawn and turf problems. Treatment is simple and affordable.

Salado events part of year long Bell County Sesquicentennial

In March of 1999 Luther Brewer appointed Vic Means as Chairman of the Salado subcommittee of the Bell County Sesquicentennial Committee. Pat Barton, Mary Belle Brown, Doris Denman, Jackie Mills, John Montgomery, Patsy Sanford and Doug Willingham also serve on the subcommittee.

Monthly meetings of the Salado subcommittee have produced four scheduled Salado events that will appear on the Bell County Sesquicentennial Calendar. The Bell County Sesquicentennial logo will be displayed on Salado event's programs, fliers, newsletters, tickets and printed materials.

The events are as follows: May 29 - Memorial Day Services at the Salado Cemetery, sponsored by the Salado Cemetery Association, Events Chairman, Mary Belle Brown; June 10 - Salado Reunion at the Salado Civic Center, sponsored by the Salado Reunion Committee, events chairman, Patsy Sanford; July 4 - 4th of July Picnic in Pace Park, sponsored by the Salado Historical Society, events chairman, Johnny Watson; August 5 - Salado Legends Outdoor Historical Musical Drama Sponsored by Tablerock Festival of Salado at Goodnight Amphitheater, events chairman, Jackie Mills.

In addition to the four scheduled events, The Salado Historical Society will award several "Salado Landmark Awards." One of the landmark awards, for the cattle dipping vat that Tablerock Festival of Salado, Inc. has preserved, will be awarded to the dedication of the Tablerock Walking Trail on Nov. 18. A Texas Parks and Wildlife grant to Tablerock for one-half of the walking trail cost has helped turn the walking trail from a dream to a reality for Salado Village residents and visitors to enjoy.

The Historical Society will also issue a "Salado Landmark Award" to the Barbee House, 5 p.m. July 4 in Pace Park. The Barbee

House will receive the award for its use as a meeting place for the Church of Christ in Salado. The house was built in 1908 and was moved, in 1943, from the east side of Main Street to the west side where it now stands. The house was used as a meeting place for the church until 1961.

The Texas Historical Commission and the Texas Department of Transportation will place a marker, which was purchased by the Salado Historical Society, on Salado's Main Street iron walking bridge in the year 2000. The iron lenticular bridge, one of eight remaining bridges west of the Mississippi River and one of 24 remaining in America, was originally built in 1889 over Cowhouse Creek in Coryell County. The Texas Department of Transportation saved the bridge from destruction by moving the historical masterpiece to its Texas highway right-of-way location on Salado's Main Street.

A Subject Marker for the Baptist Congregation will be awarded by the Texas Historical Commission in May of 2000, for the 136th anniversary of the founding of the church. The early congregation of the First Baptist Church in Salado was made up of many of the founding settlers, including, Major A. J. Rose, Dr. Welborn Barton, O. T. Tyler, Dr. B. D. McKie, and President Lyndon Johnson's great-grandfather, Rev. George Washington Baines.

Masonic Lodge holds Fish Fry March 18 school library

Salado Masonic Lodge will don their aprons again this spring to sponsor the annual Fish Fry March 18 at the Salado Intermediate Cafeteria.

The Masons will serve fried catfish for $5 per plate 3-7 p.m. with to-go orders available as well as sit-down meals.

Homemade desserts will also be available after (or even before) the meal.

Proceeds from the Fish Fry will be used to benefit Salado Intermediate School Library as well as the Masonic Lodge's annual scholarship to a graduating Salado High School senior.

The lodge will turn over proceeds from the Fish Fry to the Salado Intermediate School Library for the purpose of buying new books to fill the shelves of the new library.

The Masonic Lodge awards a $500 scholarship to a graduating Salado senior through its essay contest.

Salado Masons will begin selling tickets for the Fish Fry this week.

To order your tickets, call Village Pharmacy, 947-3185 or Salado Village Voice, 947-5321.

Sweet Adelines at CAC March 21

Recalling the heartaches and memories that war creates between loved ones, Chisholm Trail Chorus of Sweet Adelines International will perform two poignant songs during a "send-off" show on 7 p.m. March 21, at 7 p.m. at the Cultural Activities Center in Temple. Admission to the 30-minute performance will be two canned goods, which will be donated to a local food pantry.

Chisholm Trail Chorus is comprised of more than 50 women from Austin, Temple, Belton, Troy, Lorena, Hewitt, Waco, China Springs, Kempner, Copperas Cove, Killeen, Harker Heights, Rogers, Liberty Hill and Georgetown.

The chorus will compete in Houston March 25 with 16 other choruses throughout Texas and Louisiana for the opportunity to represent Region 10 at international competition in Portland, Ore., in 2001. Each chorus performs two contest songs: a ballad and an "upbeat" tune. This year, Chisholm Trail will sing, "Oh How I Miss You Tonight," and "Original Dixieland Jazz One-Step." In the past, Chisholm Trail has earned second, third and fourth place medals at regional competition.

In addition to its contest songs, the chorus will also perform "In The Mood," "Jukebox Saturday Night," "Tuxedo Junction" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic" at the send-off show at the CAC. Also scheduled to perform are two chorus quartets: "Musical Persuasion" and "Ambition." The quartets also will be competing in Houston for Regional medals.

Sweet Adelines is a non-profit singing organization dedicated to promoting four-part harmony, barber-shop-style singing for women. Chisholm Trail's choreographed repertoire includes swing, ballads, easy listening, jazz, Broadway show tunes, patriotic and Christmas music.

The chorus is directed by Carol Scherer. Assistant director is Christie Fisher.

In addition to its annual fall show, Chisholm Trail Chorus performs at many regional events, including the Salado Christmas Stroll and the Belton Fourth of July celebration, as well as at nursing homes and corporate functions. Rehearsals are held at 7 p.m. every Thursday at the Cultural Activities Center in Temple. Visitors are welcome. For more information, contact Carol Scherer in Belton or email: ChisholmTrailers@aol.com.

Democrats old-fashioned dinner Feb. 19 in Temple

The Bell County Democratic Party will host an Old Fashioned Dinner, 6 p.m. Feb. 19 at the Gober Party House, 1516 W. Ave. H in Temple.

The menu will consist of a variety of meats, vegetables, salads, and desserts, plus tea and coffee. The cost is $10 per person.

The featured speaker will be U.S. Rep. Chet Edwards of Waco. Democratic candidates running in the Primary Election in Bell County are also invited to speak.

Tickets for the events may be obtained by calling any of the following phone numbers 698-1880, 773-9220, 634-6461, 771-3793 or Democratic Headquarters at 933-1907. Telephone reservations will be honored.

All Democrats and supporters of Rep. Edwards are invited to attend.

Jaycees Family fun series starts Feb. 27 at CAC

The CAC Temple Jaycees Family Fun Series will host Zachary Scott Theatre's presentation of "Degas Little Dancer," 2:30 p.m. Feb. 27.

Produced by the children's theatre division of the Zachary Scott Theatre of Austin's Project InterAct, it tells the story of the fictitious friendship between famous artist and a young ballerina who posed for this much praised sculpture, The Little Dancer.

Through the hours they spend together, a deep and humorous friendship develops as the outspoken child takes on the impressionist Master Artist.

Tickets are $5 for adults and $3 for children. Contact the Cultural Activities Center at (254) 773-9926 for reservations.

Funded in part by a grant from the Texas Commission on the Arts.

First of Bach Fest March 20

Local organist Faythe Freese will give an organ recital 7:30 p.m. March 20, at St. Paul Lutheran Church, 3501 Red River. Freese will perform loved and little known organ pieces by Bach, Buxtehude and Pachelbel and will be joined by the Austin Children's Choir. This concert is part of the first annual Texas Bach Festival which commemorates the 250th anniversary of the death of Johann Sebastian Bach with performances of his works between March 9 and March 21, 2000. Tickets are $18 preferred seating, $12 general admission and $10 students/seniors. For tickets call (512) 719-3300 or (512) 454-TIXS.

Organist Faythe Freese is an Assistant Professor of Organ at Concordia University and the Artistic Director of the Austin Children's Choir. Freese, a former Fulbright Scholar, has studied with Marilyn Keiser, Robert Rayfield, William Eifrig and Phillip Hegring.

The first annual Texas Bach Festival will conclude with the ever-popular The Four Seasons by Vivaldi performed by the Orchestra of St. David's on Tuesday March 21, at 8 p.m. at St. Martin's Lutheran Church 606 W. 15th. The concert features violinist Laurie Young Stevens. Tickets are $18 preferred seating, $12 general admission, and $10 students/seniors.

The inaugural Texas Bach Festival is the first combined production of the newly formed Chorus Austin. Chorus Austin is an umbrella non-profit organization that manages the productions and operations of the Austin Civic Chorus, Austin Vocal Arts Ensemble, Orchestra of St. David's and the Summer Musical for Children.

Chorus Austin is funded in part by the City of Austin under the auspices of the Austin Arts Commission and by the Texas Commission on the Arts. For tickets or more information call (512) 719-3300.

Faythe Freese's performance is sponsored in part by the Austin Chapter of the American Guild of Organists. The first annual Texas Bach Festival is sponsored in part by KMFA 89.5 FM and the Austin American-Statesman.

Tap & Jazz classes begin

Nationally-trained choreographer, Broadway dancer, and actress Joanna Zercher Langthorn is currently accepting students for ladies' jazz and tap classes.

Tap/Jazz classes are $30 per month and will be offered Wednesday evenings for ladies 18 and over. First month's tuition fee is required upon registration and is non-refundable.

Children's classes are ongoing through early May. For information about ladies' classes, summer workshops for children, or to inquire about fall classes, Contact Joanna Zercher Langthorn at 778-1816.

A graduate from Southern Methodist University, Ms. Langthorn has performed on Broadway and toured around the country as a professional dancer, actress and choreographer. Trained in jazz, modern dance, ballet and tap, she has been teaching for 10 years. Locally, Joanna has choreographed several musicals for the Temple Civic Theatre including "Fiddler On The Roof," "My Fair Lady," and "Li'l Abner".

Clay classes taught by Visual Arts Coordinator

A new series of Clay Classes, taught by Marilyn Ritchie, Visual Arts Coordinator of the CAC, will begin Feb. 21. Classes will be held on Monday evenings, Feb. 21 - March 27, from 6 p.m. - 9 p.m. and on Tuesday mornings, Feb. 22 - March 28, from 9 a.m. - noon.

Classes are open to students of all levels - beginners to advanced. "Each student will have the opportunity to develop their skills and techniques on a individual level," explains Ms. Ritchie. Cost is $60 per person and you may register by calling the Center at 773-9926. For more information about the Clay Class, contact Marilyn Ritchie.

Mineral Wells sold Crazy Water Crystals

Tumbleweed Smith

Years ago, Indians fell in love with Palo Pinto County because it offered plenty to eat and drink. Outlaws liked it because the trees and giant boulders made great hiding places.

At one time, mulberry orchards were maintained to produce silkworms.

The area's past includes legendary cattlemen, coal miners and wildcatters. Palo Pinto County has produced 20 million barrels of oil and is rich in minerals.

Its natural timber resources include forest cedar, oak and pecan. It is a place where the bald eagle soars. It is home to deer, quail, turkey and dove.

Some pioneers poked holes in the ground and got some funny tasting water that turned out to have medicinal properties that could cure everything from rheumatism to mental disorders.

The word got out and people came here from all over to drink the water and bathe in it. Two hundred thousand people a year visited Mineral Wells searching for renewal: good health, a place to relax for awhile and gain perspective on their lives.

Prominent people came: superstars in movies and politics.

Film maker D. W. Griffith put up the Hollywood sign in California after seeing the Welcome sign on the hillside in Mineral Wells.

The city got the reputation as the nation's greatest health resort.

Somebody got the idea to evaporate the mineral water and sell the resulting residue. It was packaged under the name Crazy Water Crystals, advertised on radio and sent all over the world. Customers only had to add tap water to the crystals to make mineral water.

The Baker Hotel, fashioned after the Arlington in Hot Springs, AR, and the Crazy Hotel are monuments to the healing waters that made the city famous.

World War II and the invention of sulfa drugs brought an end to the bath house heyday of Mineral Wells.

Now, water of another sort...lake water...is bringing people to Mineral Wells, to once again relax and heal and gain some perspective on life.

They enjoy the Brazos

River Valley with its wooded hills, scenic roads, clear sky and the feeling of space and freedom.

Nearby landmarks like inspiration point, lovers retreat and penitentiary hollow are intriguing places to visit. Some Mineral Wells homes have unique and significant architectural characteristics.

Creative individuals see opportunity in the cross timbers and build companies that produce helicopter parts, bricks, pharmaceuticals, fiberglass pipe, leather goods and agricultural products.

This city, nestled at the foot of two mountains, offers picturesque water, appealing scenery and active, loving people.

Primary Concern is to vote

Dear Editor:

Voting-it's a Primary concern! The Party Primary Election Day is Mar. 14 and early voting begins Feb. 28. Texas ranks near the bottom in voter turn-out for Primaries. Are you planning to vote? The Primary is where the choice is made for whose name goes on the ballot in November and those few who vote in the Primary are the ones who make that choice for you if you don't vote in the Primary. You say you are an Independent? Sorry, you don't count because Texas does not allow Independents to vote as such in the Primary. However, Independents can vote in the Primary by declaring at the polls they are Republican or Democrat and then can vote in that Party's Primary. After all, we do have a two-party system--at least for now.

If you do vote in the Primary, you are eligible to attend your Party precinct convention. And whether or not you attend your Party precinct convention, by having voted in the Primary, you are eligible to be elected to your Party's county convention based on a formula determined by the number of voters who voted in the Primary. Furthermore, introducing a resolution for consideration for inclusion in your Party's platform begins by voting in the Primary.

Now that you have a better understanding of Why it is so important to vote in your Party's Primary, let your voice be heard! To quote Robert Maynard Hutchins, former President of the University of Chicago: "the death of democracy is not likely to be an assassination from ambush. It will be a slow extinction from apathy - indifference and undernourishment." We cannot and must not let that happen.

Out of Eden in concert UMHB

Out of Eden, a contemporary gospel music trio of three sisters, will be in concert at the University of Mary Hardin-Baylor, 7:30 p.m. March 3 in the W. W. Walton Chapel on campus.

Tickets may be purchased in advance from the UMHB Information Station for $10, group rate is $8 for 10 or more people, and the charge will be $12 at the door. Contact the university recruiting office or the Information Station for ticket information.

Heavily influenced by the grass roots of R&B, Out of Eden mixes smooth, mature vocals over beds of full production. Guitars, strings, horn sections and intricate loops layer the Pop/R&B release No Turning Back. The blending of their music provides a cross section of potential, while the writing and production stands secure with its peers. Landing prime positioning with BET, a summer '99 tour with Monica, UPN's Moesha show and the Box Office smash Dr. Dolittle; Lisa Andrea, and Danielle have begun to live the "super plan" intended for them since their youth. "No Turning Back represents our lives," says Out of Eden's Lisa Kimmey Bragg (producer, principle songwriter, lyricist), "We have a heart for our peers and a desire to tell our generation that you don't have to lose yourself in today's impressionable society."

The production of No Turning Back showcases the talent of producer/songwriter Lisa Kimmey Bragg. She recalls working with production partners Todd Collins and Mike Linney. "I wanted to spend time getting everything sonically perfect, from the vocals and programming, to the guitar and drum sounds. I enjoyed working with a team that brought so many ideas to the project. The collaborative effort afforded a luxury of production diversity on No Turning Back." Lisa continues, "I have worked with Producer/Gotee Brother Todd Collins since our label debut with Gotee Records (Lovin' The Day '94). He knows how to get what I'm trying to achieve." Out of Eden expresses that it was a mature decision to work with engineer Serbin Ghenea and assisting producer Sherri Blair.

Spending time pouring over lyrics kept us determined to put our utmost into each song. Andrea Kimmey Baca speaks of the skill her oldest sister introduced to the album. "I had always known that Lisa's lyrics brought an impact to our records, but she has exceeded our expectations in how she blended her musical production with the passion of the lyric." Danielle adds, "Lisa has a supernatural ability to do something perfectly, she has captured our lives in her writing."

Out of Eden compresses quality musicianship, lyrical sentiment and a goal they have harbored since the beginning of their calling. Out of Eden doesn't expect everyone to share the conviction they have on their lives, but they enjoy the challenge of the opportunity to communicate it. In the gallant of girl groups like Xscape, TLC, and Total, Out of Eden comes from a different perspective; a positive approach. The three sisters agree that there is a shift, or numbness that has taken place in our society and it is their goal to bring something positive to the table. "God created us and together we want to say don't waste your time with all the negativity out there. We want to get our music out." Out of Eden has reached the point of No Turning Back.

Literary competition deadline March 27

The City Federation of Women's Clubs offers opportunities to writers in Bell County to participate in the 2000 Louzelle Rose Barclay Literature Contest. The deadline is March 27. The literature awards in poetry, non-fiction, fiction, plays and children's literature will be presented during the luncheon in April.

Persons eligible to participate are residents of Bell County, students attending any college or senior high school in Bell County, patients at the V.A., Hospital, and Bell County residents who are temporarily away in colleges, universities or the armed services.

Contestants are limited to a total of five entries.

Judges will be non-residents of Bell County, currently engaged in the field of literature and fully qualified as literary critics.

Manuscripts must be original, unpublished and never before entered in the Louzelle Rose Barclay contest. Manuscripts should be typed double-spaced with a pseudonym (pen name) attached to each page. A separate sealed envelope containing the name, address and phone number of the contestant should be stabled to each entry.

Antiques & Antiques!

Potholders and other handmade kitchen items are becoming popular with collectors. They can be displayed or used, and can be found at rummage sales and flea markets for under $10. The most popular are crocheted potholders shaped like pants, dresses, faces or pieces of fruit. Bright colors or unusual designs are a plus. Potholders made of woven loops of fabric are still being made. The old loops were made of cotton, while the new ones are of synthetic fabrics. Quilted and embroidered potholders show off the needlework of an earlier time. Other examples for the home are trivets (sometimes made of thread-covered bottle caps), doilies and kitchen towels with edgings or embroidery.

Q: I have a low, oval, wooden table with six matching stools that are shaped so they can be pushed under the tabletop. The top and edges of the stools are intricately carved with an oriental battle scene. When and where was it made, and what is it worth?

A: Your carved low table and matching stools were probably made in China or Hong Kong sometime in the 1930s. The set was made to be exported to the United States, where the style was popular. The set is worth $1,500.
Tip: Protect your wooden floors by keeping dirt out of the house. Use floor mats inside and outside the doors.

Belton Acoustic Concert Series features King & Judd

The Belton Acoustic Concert Series presents Austin-based singer-songwriter Shelley King, in concert with guitarist-vocalist Kyle Judd, Feb. 19.

Shelley King grew up singing gospel in her native Arkansas, and listening to great women vocalists like Etta James, Aretha Franklin and Pattie LaBelle, all of whom influenced and encouraged her powerful, soulful singing style. Later, while living in Houston, she performed in musical theater and aspired to the Broadway stage. However, her love of bands like Creedance Clearwater Revival and The Allman Brothers led her from the theater to live music venues, where she could showcase her own dynamic blend of blues, country, folk and gospel.

King's first paying gig was at a South Austin restaurant, but she was soon sharing stages with performers like Joe Ely, Jerry Jeff Walker, Lucinda Williams and Willie Nelson. She and her band have appeared at the North By Northeast Music Conference in Toronto, Riverfest in Little Rock, and Central Texas' own Old Settlers' Music Festival.

In October of 1998 King released her first CD, Call of My Heart, on Lemonade Records. The album is currently being heard on radio stations across Texas and overseas, and in Austin on stations like KUT-FM, KGSR, KOOP, and KLBJ. The title cut has been adopted by Austin songstress Toni Price. A second CD is due to be released this summer.

She will be joined by Kyle Judd, guitarist and vocalist with King's band. A Houston native, Judd began performing in high school, and later toured with nationally-known acts like Eddie Raven and Bobby Vee. He moved to Austin over a decade ago, and soon struck up a musical partnership with Shelley King that continues to this day.

The concert will be held in the smoke-free, alcohol-free environment of the Fellowship Hall at First United Methodist Church of Belton, located at 205 East Third Avenue in Belton. The doors open at 7 p.m., the music begins at 7:30 p.m., and the $8 admission includes childcare for pre-teens and refreshments during intermission. Please call 512/997-9329 for additional information.

7th Annual Civic Center Auction set for March 4 at Intermediate school

Tickets for the Seventh Annual Civic Center's "Premier" Auction went on sale last Monday and before the week was over nearly 100 tickets had been sold, according to Lloyd Parks, ticket sales director.

The well-received annual auction, set up to raise funds for the maintenance and operation of the Civic Center, will begin with a barbecue meal prepared by Lucye's Place at 6 p.m. with the auction starting promptly at 7 p.m. - both activities to be held in the new intermediate school cafetorium on Thomas Arnold Road.

Funds from the auction will be used this year to recarpet the Meadows Auditorium at the center as well as entering into a major repainting project throughout much of the building. Work on preserving and repainting the bandstand are on the schedule and if funds are available the roof of the storage facility will be painted.

The meal consists of barbecued sirloin and chicken, sausage, potato salad, cole slaw, a variety of relishes plus beans, bread, iced tea and homemade brownies donated by Civic Center Board members and Cathy's Boardwalk Cafe.

Tickets for the meal and auction are on sale at Compass Bank, First State Bank, Lucye's Place and at the business office of the

Civic Center. DONATIONS POURING IN

Donations from Salado businesses as well as from private homes began arriving the middle of last week and include, in addition to the six hand crafted wagons and stagecoach from Wilbur and Jessie Foster (see photo-story this page), a Hammond electric organ being donated by Bob Cottle.

The organ will be played so as to entertain auction-goers during the supper period and later as they walk around examining the various items to be auctioned, as well as those interesting articles in the "silent" auction display.

Other special gifts that have arrived at the Civic Center include: a beautiful handmade quilt, donated by Auction Chairman Patsy Sanford; a basket filled with special gifts from Stan and Leigh Drake, owners of the Village Pharmacy; a cash donation from Garlyn and LaJuan Shelton; homemade brownies from Cathy's Boardwalk Cafe, Frank and Cathy Carlson and a framed watercolor painting by Ken and Melba Clapp.

Also donated is a painting by Jerry Goodman; a round of golf by Mill Creek; a nearly new treadmill by Lloyd and Mary Ellen Parks and also from the Parks, a bread making machine and from Bennie and Wylene Williams, owners of Robertson's, one of their famous smoked hams.

Sunday brunch for four at the Stagecoach Inn has been donated and from George and Becky McAulay, owners of The Store at Old Town Salado, several sets of popular and professionally handcrafted jewelry.

Salado merchants will be contacted throughout this week and next by Civic Center Board members to see what items can be donated for the popular auction and villagers are asked to call the civic center office at 947-8300, to report items they plan to give to the auction.

Large items will be picked up the day of the auction by civic center board members. Other gifts should be brought to the civic center so they may be displayed prior to the auction.

First Baptist Church Ladies Retreat March 10-11

The Women's Ministry at the First Baptist Church recently announced the 2000 Ladies Retreat is to be held March 10-11 at Summers Mill Retreat & Conference Center in Belton.

Joyce Martin and Linda Keir will be the keynote speakers at this event. They are both from the Austin Woodlawn Baptist Church.

Linda has been an elementary and middle school teacher as well as a Sunday School teacher for 23 years.

Joyce has taught women about different personality types for several years, helping individuals to recognize those traits in themselves. She is a licensed family therapist.

Cost to attend the retreat is 4 persons to a room $40 or 2 persons to a room $60.

For more information and to place your reservation for this event call 947-8346.

Diets high in sugar do not cause hyperactivity

Ilene C. Miller
Co. Ext. Agent

Sugars come in many forms. Sugars are carbohydrates. Dietary carbohydrates also include the complex carbohydrates starch and fiber. During digestion all carbohydrates except fiber break down into sugars. Sugars and starches occur naturally in many foods that also supply other nutrients. Examples of these foods include milk, fruits, some vegetables, breads, cereals, and grains.

Americans eat sugars in many forms, and most people like their taste. Some sugars are used as natural preservatives, thickeners, and baking aids in foods; they are often added to foods during processing and preparation or when they are eaten. The body cannot tell the difference between naturally occurring and added sugars because they are identical chemically.

Sugar comes in many forms including: sucrose, glucose, dextrose, fructose, corn syrups, or corn sweeteners. Look for these words on labels if you want to moderate your consumption of sweeteners. Many of us waste calories on highly sweetened foods that don't have many vitamins, minerals or protein. Many of these foods are located at the top of the Food Guide Pyramid.

Scientific evidence indicates that diets high in sugars do not cause hyperactivity or diabetes. The most common type of diabetes occurs in overweight adults. Avoiding sugars alone will not correct being overweight. To lose weight, reduce the total amount of calories from the food you eat and increase your level of physical activity.

For very active people with high calorie needs, sugars can be an additional source of energy. However, because maintaining a nutritious diet and a healthy weight is very important, sugars should be used in moderation by most healthy people and sparingly by people with low calorie needs.

A food is likely to be high in sugars if one of these terms appears first or second in the ingredients list or if several of them are listed. Brown sugar, fructose, honey, maltose or corn sweetener, invert sugar, molasses, corn syrup, glucose (dextrose) lactose, table sugar (sucrose) and high-fructose corn syrup are other terms indicating sugar.

Extension programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, national origin or disability.

Fodor's Best B&B Stay

Good grass produces good springtime calving

James M. Davis
Co. Ext. Agent

Spring calving time is just around the corner. The market is much improved over last year and, if we can have good grass growing weather this spring and summer the cow-calf producers will have a chance to make up for the losses they incurred over the past four to five years. Things have really been bad for the cow-calf producer since the drought of 1996.

As prices improve there is renewed excitement in the beef business. Many producers will be out shopping for new and better bulls this spring. A tool that has received a lot of attention lately is the use of EPD's to select individuals within a particular breed.

A measure that is valid for comparing all individuals within a breed, from any location, across all years is Expected Progeny Difference (EPD). Calculated by larger breed associations, EPD is an estimate of the average genetic content an individual can transmit to progeny. It combines the individual's record with those of relatives and progeny. As progeny records accumulate, EPD values become more accurate and reliable. EPD is the most dependable estimate of genetic transmitting ability.

All breed associations with EPD calculate the average differences among individual animals for birth weight, weaning weight, yearling weight, and maternal influences on weaning weight (usually incorrectly called "milk"). Some associations report various combinations of calving ease, gestation length, scrotal circumference, yearling hip height, mature weight and height, docility, and "stayability" (longevity in the herd). A few breeds report carcass traits including weight, ribeye area, fat thickness, cutability (percent lean).

The most common error producers make is trying to compare the EPD of one breed to EPD of another breed. It can't be done! For example: if an Angus bull has plus value for birth weight, his calves still might be smaller at birth than a Charolais bull whose EPD is a negative value for birth weight.

Many producers fall into traps of trying to compare one breed to another. Decide the breed you want to use then look at the EPD values within that breed.

Extension programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, national origin or disability.

Cold fronts affects fishing

Keith Warren

I'm often asked how cold fronts affect fishing and when it is the best time to fish surrounding cold fronts. My answer is different depending on whether you are saltwater fishing or freshwater fishing.

To begin with, a cold front is a dramatic change for fish. The wind and air temperature chill the water. Fronts early in the fall actually improve fishing because they drop water temperatures to a point which is comfortable for the fish.

However, by this time of year a northern will actually chill the water to a point that fish become less active and eventually dormant. This is especially true for freshwater fish. When planning a trip in freshwater it is usually best to fish the day before the front. Even the day the front is blowing through fishing can be pretty good. The fish are on the move to deeper water and will usually feed. However, the day after the front these fish are tough to catch. The water temperature has dropped to a point that they won't feed. It may only take a couple of days of mild weather to get the fish moving and feeding again.

Saltwater fishermen fish shallow water bays which become off color in high winds. Generally the changing of clear water to muddy water will slow fishing down. Consequently, the fishing will be slow as the front blows in. The bottom of bays consist of sand which is heavy. This off color water will clear fast because of the weight of sand.

Even though the water temperature has dropped, these fish will bite. Locating them is the key. As the water cools these bay fish will move to deeper water. To locate them you'll need to fish along channels and deep holes. Once you get a bite, work that spot thoroughly. I've caught as many as five different species of game fish in one spot the day after a northern. Watch the weather, and plan your next trip so that you can take advantage of the change in weather.

Keith Warren is the host of Fishing & Outdoor Adventures (formerly known as The Texas Angler Television Show) along with Hunting & Outdoor Adventures, both of which broadcast statewide. Catch Fishing & Outdoor Adventures from January through June and Hunting & Outdoor Adventures from July through December on Fox Sports Southwest Cable Network on Sundays at 8:30 a.m.

Rock Creek and Main Street Salado

FOR SALE - REAL PROPERTY ONLY!

With touches of New England, quaint but spacious showrooms (OR living rooms) designed by Patricia Lamb in 1981, are works of art in themselves with high vaulted ceilings, wood floors, on pier and beam foundation, pegged exposed structural beams. The more recently added "Cathedral Room" with ceiling peaking at 27' and incredible light catching wall of argon windows, further enhances the views and brings the beauty of the natural setting of picturesque, Rock Creek, to the inside. Landscaping, includes 2 fish and Lilly ponds, Limestone paths, patios and aviary beside the creek. Front Entry, Brick Display or Parking area shaded with the huge Live Oaks to "Welcome Home" family and guests, clients, or customers.

Established in 1985 as one of the village's most beautifully unique and commercially successful locations...EQUALLY WONDERFUL property to reclaim for residential use! Dream Home Extraordinaire!!

Silver-Haired Legislators sought

Texans 60 years of age and older have the opportunity to become a representative from the Central Texas Region (Bell, Coryell, Hamilton, Lampasas, Milam, Mills and San Saba counties) to the Texas Silver-Haired Legislature (TSHL) beginning Jan. 1.

The TSHL is a dedicated group of advocates who will provide valuable insight on aging issues during the Texas Legislative Session and by providing older Texans an opportunity to become more knowledgeable about the Legislative process through involvement. Legislators also promote good government for all Texans through active participation in public affairs and by providing an avenue through which older Texans may serve as a resource to public and private sectors, boards and commissions as well as provide services that will compliment other senior citizen groups, organizations and agencies.

If you are a person 60 or older and a Texas registered voter, you may file as a candidate for election in the TSHL up until Feb. 29. Terms are for two years and a $5 filing fee is required. No compensation is provided to TSHL members.

Anyone interested in receiving additional information and/or forms may visit the Area Agency on Aging of Central Texas at: 302 East Central Avenue, Belton, TX 76513 or contact, Isabel Gibson at 800-447-7169.

Spanish Classes bring valentine cheer

The Spanish classes of Yvonne Harmon and Claudia Cabaniss at Salado High School created special Valentines that were given to the residents of Crestview Manor Nursing Home in Belton. Harmon developed this project in order to allow students the opportunity to bring a little cheer into the lives of the elderly within our community. "Many of these residents have no family or loved ones who visit, so small things such as this means a great deal to them," said Echo Jacobson. "This may be the only attention that they receive," added Sam Daniel.

Both Cabaniss and Harmon agree that their students were happy to be given the opportunity not only to cheer up the residents, but to also show their creative side in a subject area which can sometime get bogged down in just grammar. "There is more to learning than what comes out of a textbook. Our students would be willing to do more in the community if only given the chance, and this type of assignment just proves that," said Harmon.
