

Early vote eclipsing all other mid-terms

The early vote turnout in Bell County has eclipsed every other mid-term election in Bell County history, including the midterms of 2010, which was the Tea Party revolution.

With four days remaining in early voting, 37,248 have cast in-person early voting ballots in Bell County. This represents 18.9 percent of the 196,522 total registered voters in Bell County. If Bell County keeps pace with the number of voters who cast ballots on Oct. 29, more than 50,000 will have voted in early voting.

Early voting is typically half of all ballots cast in the election, which could translate into a 50 percent turnout for a midterm election. The historic 2010 mid-term election which was the Tea Party revolution saw a 30 percent turnout in Bell County.

In 2014, the total number of early ballots cast was 21,790 and the total number of ballots cast in that midterm in Bell County was 43,906, which represented at 26 percent turnout of the 168,877 registered voters.

Through Oct. 29, 37,248 have cast in-person early ballots in Bell County. Early voting continues 7 a.m.-7 p.m. through Nov. 2. Early voting locations for Bell County are these: Belton - Bell County Courthouse Annex, 550 East 2nd Ave.; Killeen - Bell County Annex, 301 Priest Drive; Killeen - Killeen Community Center, 2201 E. Veterans Memorial Blvd; Temple - Bell County Annex, 205 East Central Ave.; Salado - Salado Civic Center, 601 North Main and Harker Heights - Parks & Recreation Center, 307 Millers Crossing Election day, the polls will be open 7 a.m.-7 p.m. Nov. 6. Voters in precinct 203 will cast their ballots on Election Day Nov. 6 at the Salado Church of Christ Activities Center, 215 N. Church St. in Salado.

Bring sides, desserts to chili supper on Nov. 5

Salado Historical Society (SHS) will host its Fall Chili Supper 6 p.m. Nov. 5 at the Salado Church of Christ Activity Center, 225 N. Church Street in Salado.

Guests are asked to bring a covered dish to complement the meal (breads, snacks, beans, vegetarian chili, desserts, etc.). Hulda Horton's Famous Chili and beverages will be provided by SHS.

County Judge Jon Burrows will be the key-note speaker at the event. Judge Burrows will be retiring at the end of 20 years of service. As County Judge he is the presiding officer of the county commissioner's court; judge of the county court; and budgeting officer of the county, managing an annual budget of over $90 million. He also has numerous duties pertaining to elections.

Judge Burrows has served on the Board of Directors of Temple College; Campaign Chair of United Way; Board of Director of the Temple Chamber of Commerce; teaches Sunday school at First Baptist Church of Temple; has been involved with the Temple Civic Theater and numerous other community service organizations. He is well known for his wit and compassion.

LTC James Earl Rudder

Troy Kelley stands beneath the clay sculpture of LTC James Earl Rudder, which will be soon be headed to the foundry for the mold making and bronze casting. The seven-and-a-half foot sculpture of LTC Rudder depicts him in full WWII combat dress. It will be placed on the lawn of the historic courthouse in Brady, Texas, county seat of McCulloch County. Brady was Rudduck's adopted hometown. The sculpture was commission by the Heart of Texas Historical Museum in Brady Texas. Dedication is scheduled for June 6, 2019, the 75th Anniversary of D-Day in Normandy France. LTC James Earl Rudder led his troops up Ponte Du Hoc during the Normandy Invasion. According to the WWII Rangers website www.iirangers.org: "In June 1943, Rudder was given the assignment to organize and train the 2nd Ranger Battalion at Camp Forrest, TN. He became the "hero of D-Day as Commander of the United States Army's 2nd Ranger Battalion." "1 Rudder's Rangers assaulted the beaches at Pointe du Hoc, climbed the 100-foot cliffs, destroyed the German gun batteries which threatened the entire US invasion force from Omaha to Utah beaches, and fought off German counter-attacks for two days until relieved. Their success did not come easily - the battalion's casualty rate was higher than 50% and Rudder himself was wounded twice." Kelley showed the clay during a private studio tour on Oct. 27.

Skirl of bagpipes coming to Salado Nov. 9-11

On Nov. 12, 1961, people from around the country who shared Scottish ancestry came together in Salado, Texas, for the First Gathering of All Scottish Clans. Tartan banners waved from 8-foot poles bearing the name of each clan and well over a thousand attended.

This year, Salado celebrates the 57th Scottish Gathering and Highland Games (www.saladoscottishfestival.com) on the grounds of the Salado Civic Center, Nov. 9-11. Heralding all things Scottish, this landmark event is the oldest Scottish festival in Texas and has been sponsored continuously by the Salado Museum for 57 years.

The three-day event includes the skirl of bagpipes, wearing of the tartan, tossing the caber, Highland dancing, Celtic musicians, shopping, food and more. One of the event's main features is the Clan Village, the largest gathering of Scottish Clans in Texas where members from 40 Scottish clans and societies will share information about Scottish history and genealogy.

On the evening of Nov. 9, a solemn torchlight ceremony is held on the banks of Salado Creek that recreates the coming together of the ancient Scottish clans to fight with Robert the Bruce for Scotland's freedom in 1314 at Bannockburn. The Calling of the Clans ceremony is free to the public and starts at 6:00 p.m. Nov. 9 Creekside off Royal Street just north of the museum building. A ticketed "Welcome Social" follows at the Museum.

The Gathering begins at 9 a.m. Nov. 10 on the Salado Civic Center grounds. Scottish athletics competition (including Tossing the Caber), Highland Dancing competition, bagpiping and drumming competitions, Bonniest Knees Contest, Scottish shortbread baking contest, live Celtic music, a Celtic marketplace, local and Scottish food vendors and more.

The official opening ceremonies begin at noon with the Bands and Clans Parade on Main Street followed by presentations and massed bagpipe bands on the Civic Center grounds. The parade will start at North Pace Park Road and move north on Main Street to the Civic Center grounds.

Events begin at 9 a.m.

Nov. 11 with the Kirkin' o' the Tartan, a traditional devotional service in which family groups carry banners of their family tartans and ask blessings on the families. Sunday activities include bagpipe band competition, Scottish athletics, Clan tents, pet parade and contest, children's games, live Celtic music, food, and shopping.

KTB grant will install native plant garden at Montessori

Keep Texas Beautiful (KTB) has recognized Keep Salado Beautiful as a recipient of the 2018 Native Garden Grant.

Through funding from Nissan North America, Keep Texas Beautiful will provide five affiliate communities with $800.00 and support needed to create and maintain a native plant demonstration garden.

To assist with the creation of the garden, Salado has received $800 to purchase a variety of gardening materials and to support their project. KTB will also provide gardening materials including sunblock, gardening gloves, and garbage bags, as well as additional training, templates, and marketing support. Gardens will be completed by Dec. 21.

Keep Salado Beautiful (KSB) partners with Salado ISD, Central Texas Master Naturalists, Bell County

Master Gardeners, the Village of Salado, and many more organizations to create and maintain pocket gardens, the Salado Sculpture Garden, the Salado Habitat Initiative and run the Fall and Spring Cleanup, Adopt a Spot, and more.

Keep Salado Beautiful is partnering with Salado Montessori to install the 2018 Native Demonstration Garden.

In May 2017 Salado

Montessori began restoring their property to its native state, reducing or eliminating mowing, spreading wild grass and milkweed seed, and hand weeding stinging nettle out of play areas. As a non-profit, Salado Montessori relies on volunteers.

Salado Montessori's vision is to create an inspiring native garden using native butterfly attracting flowers that will demonstrate to their greater community how we can put an end to the cultivated turf grass era, which creates food deserts for Earth's pollinators. They want to inspire people to create beautiful yards without using fertilizers, pesticides, or cultivated turfgrass.

"Our desire with this project is to demonstrate how a small patch of ground can provide beauty for people and food for small creatures, thereby inspiring our parents and the community to nurture and take pride in their own native pollinators while repairing the Earth we all share" says Alissa McClure, Founder of Salado Montessori, a 501(c)(3).

In addition to Salado, Keep Dallas Beautiful, Keep El Campo Beautiful, Keep Princeton Beautiful, and Keep Strawn Beautiful also received Native Garden Grant.

Trick or Treat October is the month for market corrections!

The Markets

As we have written before, it is October, the traditional month for market corrections. Investors did not apparently want to miss the opportunity, so they have given us one. The S&P 500 Stock Index (SPX) fell 3.94 percent, closing at 2658.57. Technically that does not amount to a correction as the decline from the high toward the end of September has been only about 9.3 percent but the Dow Jones Transportation Index and the NASDAQ Index are down more than 10 percent so we have at least part of the market clearly in "correction." That puts the SPX down about 0.56 percent year-to-date and only up about 3 percent from a year ago. It also is down from when the tax cut was announced last year, suggesting that the euphoria and economic boost from the $1.5 trillion in new government debt may be coming to an end.

SPX Index member companies have averaged a 22 percent year-over-year earnings growth this quarter. Unfortunately, analysts have been reported as saying that about 12 of those 22 points are a direct result of the tax cut rather than true economic growth. That means that even if we continue to see the exceptional real sales growth and profitability increases we have seen this year, the net in 2019 would drop to about 10 percent, which is about the long-term average for the Index. Another factor is that so far only about 57 percent of the SPX companies have exceeded their public estimates for earnings growth this quarter compared with about 75 percent last quarter. In short, earnings growth is normalizing and may have peaked for this expansion.

The reported general concern is that with new

Market & Economic Update

By Jeffrey W. McClure

tariffs scheduled for the 4th quarter, employment expenses rising in an overheated economy along with interest rates to dampen rising inflation, corporate earnings growth in 2019 may be less than impressive. The good news is that the forward price-to-earnings ratio of the SPX is now down to about 15, which is significantly below its long-term average of about 17.5. Historically, bear markets develop from moments when the SPX P/E ratio is well above its long-term average while bull markets are driven upward when the P/E is below average.

The yield on the 10-year Treasury note dropped to 3.076 percent this week on those same worries. U.S. Crude Oil dropped about 3 percent to $67.67, gold rose half a percent to $1,236, and the dollar rose about half a percent on the WSJ Index to 90.28.

The Economy

The big economic news this week revolves around the third quarter GDP growth report from the Commerce Department. The top line is that the first estimate (there will be three more) puts the annualized growth of the U.S. economy at 3.5 percent for the quarter. That sounds like an impressive number, but it represents a 17 percent decrease in growth from the 4.2 percent we saw in 2018's second quarter. A large part of the third quarter growth was an increase in government spending by 3.3 percent, including a 4.6 percent increase in defense spending. Over 2 percent of that 3.5 percent was from another suspect source, inventory building. Inventory building by businesses is, in essence, "borrowing" from future growth by spending on it today.

Car purchases were essentially flat while housing purchases fell at a 4 percent rate. Another yellow light came on as business investment growth was only 0.8 percent after rising to a nearly 9 percent rate last quarter. Spending on structures fell at about an 8 percent annualized rate, reinforcing the warning flag raised by declining home sales. Excluding defense, capital goods orders, the equipment that makes future growth possible, fell. On top of that, the U.S. trade deficit hit a record in September having risen now for four months, and this GDP report indicated a quarterly 2.4 percent increase in imports and a 2.7 percent export decrease.

We have mentioned this before, but the tariffs imposed by the U.S. appear to be having effects quite different from those the administration intended. The dollar has risen about 7 percent against the Chinese Yuan, effectively making imports from China less expensive. As the same time, some of our major exporters, like the heavy equipment manufacturer Caterpillar (CAT), have become less competitive because of those tariffs. In its report, CAT stated that the import tariffs have cost it about $40 million in this last quarter alone.

Cawthon, Sunshine recognized as Commended Students by College Board

Ian Cawthon and Ben Sunshine were both recognized this year as Commended Students by the College Board. This award is based on their 11th grade PSAT test scores and only 50,000 students out of 1.6 million high school seniors nationwide earn this recognition.

Ian is a senior at Salado High School. His hobby is "speedcubing," which is solving Rubik's cubes and other similar puzzles as quickly as possible. He has completed many of these competitions in under ten seconds and his personal best is 7.5 seconds.

Ian plans to study Aerospace Engineering at Texas A&M University.

Ben is also a senior at Salado High School. He participates in UIL academics (mathematics), robotics (project manager), varsity soccer (goalie), varsity band (percussionist), Mu Alpha Theta Mathematics Honor Society (vice president), and National Honor Society.

Ben plans on studying a math-oriented program at a top-tier college. He has already been accepted at the Colorado School of Mines

Superintendent's Corner

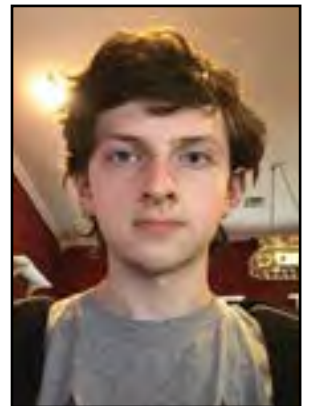

by Dr. Michael Novotny

and he is also applying to the University of California – Berkeley, Stanford, Rice, Cornell, and the University of Chicago.

Congratulations to both Ian Cawthon and Ben Sunshine for being recognized as Commended Students by the College Board!

Trump blows whistle on Russian cheating

Is the INF Treaty so important that the Russians should be allowed to cheat on it without consequence? That's the implication of the criticisms of President Donald Trump for saying that he's pulling out of the Cold War-era arms-control agreement. Mikhail Gorbachev deemed Trump's stated intention "unacceptable" and "very irresponsible," although it isn't the U.S. that has been flagrantly violating the treaty for years.

The Intermediate-Range Nuclear Forces Treaty, signed in 1987, was a central achievement of the Reagan-Gorbachev diplomacy of the late 1980s. The Soviets had deployed intermediate-range SS-20 missiles that could hit NATO countries from bases in the Soviet Union. The U.S. countered by deploying its own intermediate-range missiles in Europe. At the same time, President Ronald Reagan proposed the "zero option" to eliminate such missiles from the arsenals of both countries. As he sought to save the doomed Soviet system, Gorbachev agreed.

The Russians have recently made obvious their contempt for Gorbachev's handiwork. The State Department has determined since 2014 that Russia is in violation of the treaty, via the 9M729 ground-launched cruise missile. Tests of the noncompliant missile go back to 2008, and the Obama administration first told Congress of its concerns in 2011.

Supporters of the treaty say we should just pressure the Russians to comply rather than pull out. But when confronted with their cheating, the Russians simply deny it. Meetings of the Special Verification Commission, the treaty's mechanism for addressing compliance issues, have achieved nothing.

The Kremlin has remained unmoved, even though we have made it clear that we have them nailed. We have provided Russia the names of the companies involved in developing the missile and the coordinates of the locations of tests.

The Russians have persisted in it for the simple reason that it is in their interest. The former head of the Russian General Staff has commented that intermediate-range missiles would provide Moscow "national security assurance" -- by threatening Poland, Romania and the Baltics, the missiles would "cool the heads of these states' leaders."

One thing that the U.S.

and Russians can agree on is that it's senseless that they are the only two countries in the world that are notionally forbidden from possessing this category of weapon. "Nowadays," a Russian defense official complained in 2014, "almost 30 countries have such missiles in their arsenals."

China in particular is outdoing itself. The head of U.S. Pacific Command, Adm. Harry Harris, told Congress last year that the Chinese military "controls the largest and most diverse missile force in the world, with an inventory of more than 2,000 ballistic and cruise missiles. This fact is significant because the U.S. has no comparable capability due to our adherence to the Intermediate-Range Nuclear Forces Treaty with Russia." According to Harris, 95 percent of the Chinese missiles "would violate the INF if China was a signatory."

Given Russian cheating, the INF treaty as a practical matter only prohibits the U.S. from having such missiles. What sense is there in that? There's no reason to limit our capabilities and flexibility for the sake of an INF Treaty that doesn't even constrain its other signatory.

Rich Lowry is editor of the National Review.

CDC recommends a yearly flu vaccine for everyone 6 months of age and older as the first and most important step in protecting against this serious disease.

Vaccinate now to protect against flu this winter

Salado ISD nursing staff have reported that several students have already been out of school with colds, the flu and Strep throat.

"To prevent widespread flu/Strep throat in the school, we recommended that your child stay home from school if experiencing flu or cold symptoms," stated SISD Nurse Ashley Arisco-Faglie, RN, BSN.

She recommends that you should definitely keep your child at home for treatment, observation or a trip to the doctor if he or she has these symptoms:

- Fever (greater than 100 degrees by mouth. Your child may return to school only after his or her temperature has been consistently below 100 degrees, by mouth, for a minimum of 24 hours without fever reducing medication)

- Vomiting (even once)
- Diarrhea
- Chills
- General malaise or feelings of fatigue, discomfort, weakness or muscle aches

- Frequent congested (wet) or croupy cough
- Lots of nasal congestion with frequent blowing of nose.

You might consider keeping your child at home for an extra day if he or she has these symptoms:

- Very stuffy or runny nose and/or a cough
- Mild sore throat (no fever, no known exposure to strep)
- Headache
- Mild stomach ache

The Centers for Disease Control reports that currently influenza activity in the United States remains low. Influenza A(H1N1)pdm09, influenza A(H3N2), and influenza B viruses continue to co-circulate, with influenza A(H1N1)pdm09 viruses reported most commonly by public health laboratories during the most recent three weeks.

Seasonal flu viruses can be detected year-round; however, seasonal flu activity often begins as early as October and November and can continue to occur as late as May. Flu activity most commonly peaks in the United States between December and February.

Since 2010, CDC estimates that flu has resulted in between 140,000 and 710,000 hospitalizations each year.

CDC recommends a yearly flu vaccine for everyone 6 months of age and older as the first and most important step in protecting against this serious disease.

In addition to getting a seasonal flu vaccine, you can take everyday preventive actions like staying away from sick people and washing your hands to reduce the spread of germs. If you are sick with flu, stay home from work or school to prevent spreading flu to others. In addition, there are prescription medications called antiviral drugs that can be used to treat influenza illness.

The CDC states on its website: "Vaccination is especially important for people at high risk for developing flu complications, and their close contacts. Also, if you have a loved one who is at high risk of flu complications and they develop flu symptoms, encourage them to get a medical evaluation for possible treatment with flu antiviral drugs. These drugs work best if given within 48 hours of when symptoms start. CDC recommends that people who are at high risk for serious flu complications and who get flu symptoms during flu season be treated with flu antiviral drugs as quickly as possible without waiting for confirmatory testing. People who are not at high risk for serious flu complications may also be treated with flu antiviral drugs, especially if treatment can begin within 48 hours."

Nurse Arisco-Faglie recommends that everyone take these precautions:

- Wash hands frequently
- Do not touch eyes, nose or mouth
- Cover mouth and nose when sneezing or coughing, use a paper tissue, throw it away and then wash hands
- Avoid close contact with people who are sick

Darnell begins fall flu shot program roundups slated for Nov., Dec.

FORT HOOD, Texas – Carl R. Darnell Army Medical Center is set to launch its annual community flu shot program October 30.

Beneficiaries can receive their flu vaccine at their medical clinic Monday through Friday from 9-11 a.m. and from 1-3 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

As part of the annual campaign, CRDAMC will host several flu shot roundups:

November 17 from 9 a.m. – 2 p.m. at the Family Medicine Residency and Pediatric clinics.

December 1 from 9 a.m. – 2 p.m. at the Clear Creek Pharmacy.

December 15 at the Family Medicine Residency and Pediatric clinics from 9 a.m. – 3 p.m.

On average, between 5 percent and 20 percent of the U.S. population develops influenza annually, leading to more than 200,000 hospitalizations from related complications, according to the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC).

The influenza vaccine effectiveness (VE) can vary from year to year and among different age and risk groups. The CDC reports that in general, the highest VE is among young healthy adults and older children, stating that the flu vaccine can prevent 66 percent or more influenza infections in young children, with even higher estimates for older children.

The CDC, the World Health Organization and other medical officials continually monitor influenza viruses and outcomes and are responsible for determining the composition of the flu vaccine to combat the flu viruses that research indicates are most likely to cause illness during the upcoming season.

Local man given lifetime award as Texas Native Plant advocate

Dalton Francis Merz from Holland, was the recipient of the 2018 Charles Leonard Weddle Memorial Award at the Native Plant Society of Texas annual convention held in San Antonio. The award was for lifetime achievement in the field of native plants and for over 50 years of work advising landowners to value, properly use and conserve native range plants for livestock, wildlife and people. Mr. Charles Weddle, internationally known plant hybridizer, distinguished alumnus award from Texas Tech College of Agriculture.

This year marks Dalton Merz's 50th year of promoting the beneficial uses of Texas native plants.

For his entire adult life Dalton Merz has been an enthusiastic promoter of the conservation, wise use and re-establishment of native plant in the Texas landscape. As a Rangeland Management Specialist with the USDA, Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) formerly Soil Conservation Service he taught and advised landowners how to value, properly use and conserve native range plant for the benefit of livestock, wildlife and human beings. Throughout his life he has been a trustworthy and knowledgeable consultant on best management practices, prescribed burns, prairie plants, native grasses and forbs, identification of returning natives, and specialized control of invasive species.

He has been a willing speaker at large and small gatherings and has presented thousands of papers and talks to interested groups. Since his retirement from public service, Dalton has worked tirelessly as a private consultant, instructor, and part-time manager for the Central and South Texas landowners, county agents, Cecil Carter, president of Native Plant Society of Texas, presents the Charles Leonard Weddle Memorial Award for lifetime achievement in the field of Texas native plants to Dalton Francis Merz for over 50 years of work advising landowners to value, properly use and conserve native range plants for livestock, wildlife and people.

master naturalist and native plant enthusiasts. His farm near Salado serves as an example of the potential uses of native plants both on the range and in the yard. There one can see several plots devoted to his ongoing experiment with various native grasses and other native Texas plants. Obviously, he thinks outside the box and there is still much more to learn about the value of natives.

Dalton established the Native Prairie Replication Project at the Stiles Farm Foundation in Thrall. This is viewed at the annual field day. In 2014, he was named Outstanding Conservation Rancher by the Little River/San Gabriel Water Conservation District. In April 2015, Dalton was featured in the Progressive Farmer national magazine with an article and photos by Clay Coppedge entitled "Laying Down Roots." At 75 years old, he is busier than ever with his calling to spread the word of the value of native prairie plants. No matter how large or small the group he is addressing, you can find him tirelessly gathering plants to show his students or setting up a rainfall simulator to demonstrate how prairie plants hold water. He continues to engage in enthusiastic prairie walks and graciously opens his Darrs Creek Ranch in Holland, Texas to native plant novices as well as veterans. Fifty years of remarkable dedication to preserving and promoting native prairie plants has been his gift to Central and South Texas landowners and stewards.

Dalton was raised in Albert, Texas and went to school at Pleasant Hill, Stonewall and Johnson City. He graduated from Texas State University in 1966 with a degree in Rangeland Management. He worked for the USDA, Natural Resource Conservation Service (NRCS) 37 years in various locations; Bandera, Rocksprings, Sonora, Austin and Temple. He is the son of John Francis Merz and Dorothy Merz with 4 brothers; Jerry, Nathan, Bernie and Myron. Bernie presently lives on the Albert Family Farm. Jerry, Nathan and Myron also have degrees in Rangeland Management and worked for NRCS. The four Merz boys have over 100 years of service with NRCS, advising landowners in the wise use of private lands. Dalton and Brenda were married in Rocksprings 49 years ago and have 3 children; Jason, Bonnie and Kayli. Dalton is an active member of Texas Section, Society of Rangeland Management (SRM) and consults as a SRM Certified Professional in Rangeland Management.

Sons of the American Revolution member William Burke spoke at the meeting held at the Salado Public Library

William Allen Burke, a navy veteran from Belton and active member of the Salado Lions Club, gave a presentation at a recent meeting of the Sons of the American Revolution Chapter at the Salado Public Library.

Burke qualified himself for the Sons of the American Revolution through his Revolutionary War ancestor John Armsbury, who enlisted as a private in Dec. 1775 at Dartmouth, Massachusetts and served under Capt. Kempton, Nathan Relers and Col. Ebaneser Shephard until wounded at the battle of Troga Point, N.Y., in October 1776. He then served six months in the spring of 1778 under Capt. Ephriam Simmonds and Col. Lair Hillyard of Rhode Island.

Burke recently qualified another ancestor's service in the Revolutionary War, a descendent of Sir John Peckham, who was the first Peckham to arrive in the American colonies in 1638 in Rhode Island. Following a long line of John Peckhams, Abel Peckham served in the American Revolution as did his two sons Joshua and Peleg.

Abel Peckham was born Feb. 17 1733 in Westerly, Kings County, Rhode Island and died there in 1825. Peckham was a Private in the Westerly Militia, serving under Capt. John Gavit.

His son Peleg, born in

William Allen Burke

1762, was also a private in the Revolutionary War, serving under Capts John Gavit and Cole and Colonels Joseph Noyes and Samuel Ward.

Burke is an old school genealogist. Much of his love for genealogy can be traced to when he received a family Bible handed down through the years in the Peckham family. he also inherited a mantle clock from 1842 that belonged to his ancestor Sallie Peckham.

Burke attended the University of Kansas for five years and is a member of the National of the American Revolution, First United Methodist Church in Temple, Salado Lions Club and Past VFW Post officer 10377. He was a drummer for 15 years in the VA Center Band, spanning from 1991 to 2006.

Burke as a member of the Salado Lions Club has given scholarships to Salado students for several years.

St. John-Bartlett taking orders for Advent Braids

November 5 deadline announced for 2018 cheese braid orders St. John-Bartlett holds 40th Advent Fair on November 10

If you haven't already phoned in your order, Monday, Nov. 5, is the last day to pre-order tasty cheese-braid pastries from St. John Lutheran Church. Call the church office at 254.527.3341 to place an order.

Church office hours are Mon-Thur. from 9 a.m. -1 p.m. There is an answering machine so callers can leave their order information, including a telephone number where they can be reached.

The pastries are $10 each. Buyers are encouraged to pick up their freshly-baked pastries at the church's Teinert Recreation Center between 3- 6 p.m. Friday, Nov. 9.

St. John's WELCA group, Women of the Evangelical Church in America, has been celebrating the early start for Advent, and baking the delectable pastries, every year for the past forty years. Originally started as a coffee klatch to just visit and share Christmas creations the church ladies were handcrafting. The event grew in popularity so and was opened to the public in 1978.

"They take two days and a host of experienced cooks to make,"says St. John's 2018 cheese-braid chair and longtime church member Pat Stroud.

The public is welcome, and there is no charge to attend the Advent Fair. Held the second Saturday in November, doors to this year's Advent Fair open at 4 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 10.

In addition to the cheese

The cream-cheese pastries are available only once a year, when St. John's churchwomen spend two days creating a the treats they have become known for. Pre-orders are highly recommended -- they can sell out fast. This year's pre-order deadline Nov. 5.

braids, Advent Fair attendees can look forward to a home-cooked turkey and dressing dinner, also $10 a plate. Plates are served starting at 4:30 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 10. Both dine-in and takeout plates are available. Serving is scheduled to continue until 7:30 p.m. unless the food sells out early.

Desserts also will be sold.

A Country Store, live and silent auctions, are also held.

Benny's Ristorante Italiano

Benny and Xhusha Ismaili, along with their three children, cut the Temple Chamber of Commerce ribbon on the new location of Benny's Ristorante Italiano at 17 S. Main St. in Temple, next to In the Mood Ballroom. The new Italian restaurant is located in a recently restored and renovated historic building in downtown Temple. Benny's will offer hand-prepared Italian and Mediterranean menu that will follow the seasons. The new location has an outdoor patio in addition to the main dining area that can seat up to 60 people. With a Tuscan ambiance, Benny's features a wine bar offering hand curated wines to pair with each menu item. Mina's Toscana upstairs houses a private event facility with capacity of up to 80 guests. From meetings to weddings, this space includes every amenity such as A/V equipment to a stage, stocked bar, and of course, exceptional meal service. For more than a decade prior to opening Benny's, the Ismailis owned and operated Dibz in downtown Temple. With the opening of the new restaurant, many of the favorite dishes from Dibz have found their way onto the new menu at Benny's, including the Eggplant Rollatini (which is publisher Marilyn Fleischer's favorite dish -- she almost never orders anything else) and the Ravioli Diablo (Tim's favorite!) or Triple Delight (his second favorite!) with sausage, chicken and shrimp with penne pasta in a sunset sauce. Benny's Ristorante Italiano is open Tues--Thurs, 11 a.m.-9 p.m. and Fri-Sat, 11 a.m.-10 p.m. Temple has made significant strides in the past several years to revitalize its downtown and bring some great dining establishments to this historic area and Benny's is a fantastic addition to the area.

The Eagles' final score came on a 6 yard run by Frisby. Madisonville scored as well but could not convert the PAT for the final score of 28-26.

Helping the offense were Chance Hill, Logan Pitts, Josue Loza, Nicholas Sibbitt, Lucas Morvant.

Eagles fall by 1 to Madisonville, 42-41

By LARNCE BARKER
SALADO SPORTS

The Salado Eagles had one of their best offense performances at Mustang Field on Oct. 26 but fell one point short.

The Eagles racked up 557 yards of total offense, 481 yards rushing and 76 yards passing.

The Eagles up-beat tempo on offense caused havoc for the Mustangs most of the game. The Eagles Offensive line created holes and running lanes for Salado's running backs to score on their first offensive possession. Connor Cook would score on a 16 yard TD run and Wrook Brown would tack on the PAT to take the early lead 7-0 with 7:55 left in the 1st quarter.

The Mustangs would answer the Eagles with a 7 play drive of their own. Madisonville's Tyrese Brown would score on a 3 yard TD run and Mauricio Aceves would kick the PAT with 5:47 left in the 1st quarter to even the score 7-7.

The Eagles next offensive series would go 7 plays but falling short by 2 yards after the completed pass from Hutton Haire to Hunter Turk to turn the ball over on downs. The Mustangs would turn the football over on the 3rd play of their next series when Mustang's Tyrese Brown would connect with Gage Smith for a 7 yard pass completion when Salado's Peyton Miller and Caleb Self tackle and forced Smith to fumble when the Eagles Nader Smein would recover the football for Salado. After the Smein recovery, The Eagles next offensive series, Hutton Haire would score a TD run from 3 yards out on the 9th play of the drive and Wrook Brown split the up-rights for the PAT to regain the lead 14-7 with 9:56 left in the 2nd quarter.

Madisonville would start their next offensive drive from their own 35 yard line. Mustang's Athletic QB Tyrese Brown would use his arm to pass or legs to run to move the football to the Eagles' 2 yard line on 9 plays. The 4th down and goal from the 2 yard line, Tyrese Brown QB draw would fall short by the hands of the Eagles defenders Greg Washington, Peyton Miller, Bryce Wales and Wrook Brown for a Great Goal Line stand.

The Eagles would strike quickly on the 3rd play when Wrook Brown would take the Haire handoff and go 89 yard run for the Salado touchdown. After Brown caught his breath, he would kick the PAT and bring the score to 21-7 with 5:14 left in the 2nd quarter.

Mustang QB Brown would connect with WR Colby Sheppard on a 25 yard pass on the 4th play of the drive with 3:50 left in the 2nd quarter. Aceves would make the PAT for Madisonville to cut the Salado lead 21-14. Salado next offensive series would end with a Brown 28 yard punt and the Mustangs would have great field position at the Salado 43 yard line. Mustangs Brown would score on the 4th play of the drive on a 21 yard TD run and Aceves PAT was no good. So at the 1:21 mark in the half Salado would take the slim one point lead 21-20 into halftime.

Salado would receive the football the 2nd half when QB Haire would engineer a 22 play drive to throw a 14 yard wheel route to Wrook Brown. Brown would kick the PAT at the 4:21 mark of the 3rd quarter to increase the Eagles lead 28-20. Salado's defense would rise up again and force the Mustangs to turn the ball over on downs on their first offensive drive of the 2nd half. The Eagles picked up momentum when Cook would score on a 6 yard TD run on the 8 play drive and a Brown PAT good, Salado would lead 35-20 at the 11:42 mark of the 4th quarter.

Madisonville would take 3 plays when Mustangs QB Brown would hit WR Keyon Johnson for a 53 yard TD pass and Aceves would kick the PAT and with 10:47 left in the 4th quarter the Salado would maintain the lead 35-27. Salado's Cook fumbled on the football on the next offensive series when Mustangs Marcos Lopez scooped up the loose football and Eagles Tommie Barker tackled Lopez at Salado's own 31 yard line. The Mustangs with good field position would score on the 8th play of the drive when Mustangs Brown would score a 1 yard TD run to make the score 35-33 Salado with 7:34 left in the 4th quarter. Madisonville would set up for the 2 point conversion when Mustangs Brown attempted to hit TE Matthew Barrington on a jump pass but Eagles Peyton Miller deflected the conversion incomplete but wait, a little mustard on the lettuce, a holding call gave Madisonville another 2 point conversion try. This time Mustangs QB Brown kept the football and ran to the right side of the Eagles defense for the conversion to knot the game up 35-35.

Madisonville's on-side-kick attempt by Kicker Aceves was recovered by Salado's Bryce Wales to give the Eagles great field position at their own 49 yard line. On the 4th play of the next offensive series, Eagles Wrook Brown Buck Sweep handoff from QB Haire went 38 yards for the Salado touchdown but the PAT failed. Salado would take the lead back 41-35 with 5:45 left in the 4th quarter. The Mustangs would take 5 plays when QB Brown would hand-off to HB Uriel Willis to score from 5 yards out to tie the game for the 3rd time. Madisonville would take the lead back with the Aceves PAT and with 3:45 left in the ball game the score would be 42-41 Mustangs.

Salado would start off on offense at their own 30 yard line. The Eagles 9th play, QB Haire was flushed out on the pass attempt and ran the 4th and 7 play and fell 2 yards short to turn the ball over on downs. Mustangs Brown would kneel the ball twice in the Victory formation to run the clock out. The Final score would be 42-41 in favor of Madisonville.

Salado (3-5, 1-3) will play the Mexia Black Cats (2-6, 0-4) for a 7:30 p.m. kickoff Nov. 2 at Eagle Field.

Parker McCollum brings his no-holds-barred style to Johnny's Outback.

Austin singer, songwriter Parker McCollum at Johnny's Nov. 9

Parker McCollum is an artist on the ascent. The 6'3" Austin-based singer, songwriter and performer's fervent live shows — made up of self-penned songs fans already know every word to — have seen an exponential increase in attendance in just a year.

With his new 10-track Probably Wrong album (November, 2017) anchor-gives one hope for the horizons of roots music moving forward," and points to his "forward-thinking approach to a powerful expression of country music."

The Digital Journal says McCollum "epitomizes the best that Texas Country has to offer. This CD garners 4.5 out of 5 stars."

His live performances have drawn impassioned fan reactions and instant fan-loyalty. His following has grown exponentially resulting in a more than 50% increase in advance-ticket sales and sold-out headlining shows — all in just the last 12 months.

"He's already on the verge of a major breakout, already playing the most revered dancehalls in Texas and opening for legends — and yet he's still young enough to have room left to grow," says Lonestar Music Magazine.

Tickets for Parker McCollum at Johnny's Outback are available online at johnnyssteaksandbbq.com or at Johnny's Steaks and BBQ on Thomas Arnold Road. General Admission Tickets are $15 in Advance and $20 day of the show. Reserved Lawn Seating is $30.

ing his string of sold-out concerts, McCollum brings his show to Johnny's Outback on Nov. 9.

At just 25, McCollum is focused on touring as much as he is on songwriting and his determination is unshakable. When he's not on the road, he is booked in back-to-back writing sessions in Nashville.

This January, Rolling Stone Country named McCollum one of its "New Country Artists You Need To Know" calling him a "no-holds-barred, confessional singer-songwriter" drawing musical and songwriting comparisons to John Mayer and Jason Isbell.

McCollum released his second project, Probably Wrong — the acclaimed follow up to his debut Limestone Kid — in November (2017) amid glowing reviews, including:

SavingCountryMusic.com says, "Probably Wrong and Parker McCollum are not to be trifled with. He's put together a record that charts a way forward for country music, bridges two worlds in a divisive era, and

Marine birthday breakfast

The Central Texas Marines Organization is proud to host the Marine Corps Birthday Breakfast at the American Legion Post 133, in Temple at 7 a.m. Nov. 10. This event is celebrating the 243rd Birthday of the United States Marine.

Guest Speaker is Mark Austin Byrd. United States Marine Corps, 1967 – 1971. After receiving commission in 1967 attend The Basic School for Infantry Officer training and then flight school with the Naval Air Training Command in Pensacola. Trained in T34, T28 fighter/bomber, H-34, Bell Jet Ranger. Transitioned to UH1E gunships at Camp Pendleton and then one tour of duty in Vietnam, 1969-70 with HML 367, callsign

“Scarface 47.” Today, Byrd develops, designs, and creates original bronze sculptures, primarily memorials honoring American military heroes. The Central Texas Marines is an informal organization with the sole mission of hosting an annual Marine Corps Birthday Breakfast Celebration in central Texas. It is a time for Marines past and present and Navy personnel who served with Marines to socialize, hear guest speakers, and observe time-honored Marine Corps traditions which every Marine has experienced. The Central Texas Marines is planning for up to 300 guests to enjoy traditional “chow”, or food associated with field operations including “S.O.S.”, a concoction of gravy and ground beef served on a toast. The Central Texas breakfast event began in 2011 as an informal home gathering of Marines & Navy Corpsmen who served with Marines and live in the Bell County area. That year a total of twelve men attended. This year, the event is being held in Temple at American Legion Post 133 at 1300 S. 25th Street in Temple. Opening lead — ten of diamonds.

ple fashion after West led the ten of diamonds, on which dummy played the four, East the three and Weichsel the deuce! When West continued with another diamond, the fat moved irretrievably into the fire.

Declarer won East's jack with the ace, led a low trump to dummy's ten and ruffed the seven of diamonds, felling East's king and establishing dummy's queen as a trick. Next came a trump to the ace followed by a heart discard on the queen of diamonds.

Since Weichsel still had two trumps in his hand to ruff two of dummy's hearts, and since there were still three trumps in dummy to ruff the J-10-6 of spades, he wound up making the contract, losing only a diamond, a heart and a spade.

West could, of course, have defeated four clubs doubled by shifting to a heart or a spade at trick two. To be fair about it, however, the fact is that most defenders with the West hand, not seeing declarer's cards, would have continued with a diamond at trick two after the ten held the first trick.

The outcome was indeed more a tribute to declarer's skill than the result of a clear-cut error by the defense. Weichsel had quickly decided at trick one that on the bidding and opening lead, East was sure to have the K-J of diamonds, and he simply hoped that what did happen would happen.

As an abstract proposition, it seems impossible for South to make four clubs doubled in this deal, since he has four obvious losers consisting of a spade, two hearts and a diamond.

But Peter Weichsel did make that contract at the 1984 national men's pair championship, won by Weichsel and his partner, Mike Lawrence.

Giant Red-headed Centipede

The carnivorous Giant Red-headed Centipede likes dark places

While scouring the wilds of west Texas, southern New Mexico and northern Mexico, we often encounter many strange and intimidating creatures. Generally speaking, these encounters bring about an even deeper fascination for the natural world around us. However, I can unashamedly admit that there is one animal in the wilds of Texas that gives me the "willys", and that animal is the Giant Red-headed Centipede.

The Giant Red-headed Centipede (Scolopendra heros) is a type of arthropod that is a common resident through most of the Sonoran and Chihuahuan Deserts of the United States and Mexico. It ranges throughout Texas, and it is common throughout this state. It also occurs in Oklahoma, eastern Louisiana, and southern Missouri. It is a habitat generalist, meaning that it can thrive in a variety of habitats, as evidenced by its large natural range. Wherever it occurs, it prefers dark and humid environments, and many are found under rocks and other scattered debris.

Giant Red-headed Centipedes have a cylindrical body that is broken into either twenty one or twenty three (never twenty two) segments. Each segment bears one pair of legs, one on each side of the body, bringing the total leg count to either forty two or forty six. The name centipede actually translates into "hundred - feet," although this name is a misnomer. It is with this multitude of legs that this animal moves surprisingly fast, and quite erratic.

Wild About Texas

The body coloration varies from different shades of orange, brown, or black. The constant coloration that all specimens exhibit is the bright red head (hence the name red-headed centipede) and the black tail segment complete with black legs. The head is unique from other arthropods in that it contains two sets of "legs"; the first set is folded back and used almost as a type of antennae while the second set, known as the forcipules, are curved modified legs that are used to grasp food and inject venom. While some varieties of the three thousand plus described species have groupings of ocelli that form compound eyes, this species is not one of them. This species relies primarily on vibrations that it feels from the ground and motions that are picked up on its antennae.

This species of centipede is also the largest species in Texas, as well as the United States. Adults range in size from five to six inches, although it is not uncommon to observe specimens approaching eight to nine inches length.

While other arthropods and arachnids possess an exoskeleton that has a protective cuticle, centipedes lack that protective adaptation. Without this cuticle, centipedes desiccate very quickly and must always be near moisture, thus the reason that most are observed underground or under debris where humidity levels allow it to maintain its moisture content.

Like other members of its genus, this centipede is nocturnal and is strictly carnivorous, feeding primarily on other invertebrate animals such as crickets, moths, grasshoppers, and the like. However, large individuals have been known to feast upon the small lizards, snakes, and frogs. One species from South America has been observed even feeding on bats that it captures in midflight. The prey is subdued and injected with venom by the large forcipules, then pulled into the mandibles for live consumption.

Very little information is known on the breeding habits of this formidable looking creature. What is known is that there is no external copulation between males and females. Rather, the males will deposit a sperm cell for the female to find and absorb. Once the female prepares a nest in the soil, she will then lay between fifteen and sixty eggs that resemble small balls of yellow jelly. Unlike most other arthropods, the females of this species show great maternal care. The females will coil around the jelly-like eggs, protecting them from predators. She will often clean them, protecting them from fungi as well. However, if overly disturbed, this maternal care will cease, and she will eat the eggs. If the eggs are lucky enough to hatch during the two-month long incubation period, the babies, who look very much like the adults, fend for and take of themselves.

Giant Red-headed Centipedes are long lived compared to most arthropods from this area. Many specimens have a life cycle of six years or more.

The venomous bite of this uncommon yet fascinating creature is powerful enough to cause significant pain and swelling lasting several hours, but there has never been a documented human death from this species. Medical attention should always be sought, however, as the risk of anaphylactic shock is always a possibility. But remember, this animal is far more afraid of you than you are of it. We are nothing more to it than a predator that is thousands of times its size.

Salado Empty Bowl on Nov. 10 will benefit Family Relief Fund

Salado Empty Bowl will be 11 a.m.-1:30 p.m. Nov. 10 at the Salado Intermediate School cafeteria. The fundraiser features soups from many of the Salado restaurants and bed and breakfast inns coupled with a take home pottery bowl from local potters.

Tickets are $25 per person for the soup and the take home handmade pottery bowl or $10 for the soup lunch alone.

Proceeds from Empty Bowl benefit the Salado Family Relief Fund, established in 1996 as a non-profit tax deductible organization.

Since then, Salado Family Relief has helped thousands of children in the Salado area during Christmas time and back-to-school.

Each year, the Family Relief Fund provides Christmas for about 150 children in the Salado ISD. It provides back-to-school vouchers for clothing and supplies to 150 students each fall, as well.

Salado Family Relief Fund receives no tax dollars and relies entirely on contributions of money and in-kind services from local individuals, churches, civic organizations, businesses and groups.

Donations can be mailed to Salado Family Relief Fund, PO Box 461, Salado Tx 76571.
