Early voting very low

SISD election set May 5

Four candidates seek election to two full three year terms on the Salado Independent School District board of trustees May 5. The polls will be open 7 a.m.-7 p.m. May 5 at the Salado Civic Center.

With only one day left in early voting, 173 people had cast ballots in the election of candidates.

Candidates appear on the ballot in the following order: Jackie Burson, Lisa McQueen, Carse Williams and Frank Carlson.

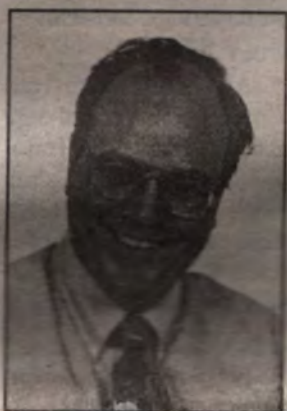

Jackie Burson

Lisa McQueen

Carse Williams

Frank Carlson

Jackie Burson

Jackie Burson is a native of Bell County, growing up in the Salado area, where he attended school through the ninth grade before transferring to Belton from which he graduated high school.

The father of Megan, a junior at Salado High, and Jamie, a sixth grader at Salado Intermediate, Burson has been married for 20 years to Janet.

Burson has worked as an installation and repair technician for 18-1/2 years with Sprint telephone company. Prior to working with Sprint, Burson has been the manager of a local ranch, worked in roofing and with Goodnight Homes. His wife Janet works in the accounting department of Scott & White.

He has been active with his children in raising show animals. He has been involved in the Salado Youth Fair Boosters, Salado 4-H and Salado Future Farmers of America. He served one term as a director of the Bell County Youth Fair.

Burson said he is running for the board because "if you're going to have children involved in things, the parents should be involved as well. I felt that it is time for me to serve in the capacity of the school board."

"I'm for all of the youngsters who go to our school, not just a select group of them."

"I can look at situations and try to do what is best for all of the children here," he added. "I don't have any axes to grind with anything and I am open minded about the school."

Burson said the role of a school board member is four-fold: "adopt the budget and set the tax rate, hire and fire the superintendent, set policies and communicate with the community. That's it," he said. "No board member has any authority outside of a convened board meeting. A board member should not be involved in the daily operations of the school because the final authority rests with the board."

Lisa McQueen

Lisa McQueen moved to Salado with her husband Al and daughter Sara Sebti two years from Harker Heights. Her daughter is in the fifth grade at Salado Intermediate School.

McQueen teaches Spanish and Cultural Anthropology at Central Texas College, where she has taught for 14 years.

She holds a B.A. in international studies from Juniata College in Pennsylvania. McQueen has an M.A. in foreign languages and linguistics from West Virginia University and is working toward a doctorate in Cultural Anthropology.

During her undergraduate course work, McQueen studied abroad at Barcelona. She also studied French for six months in France while working on her degree.

Al, her husband of four years, is a licensed professional counselor who works with elderly in nursing home situations.

McQueen said that she considers a school trustee to be "an important position for the community and I would like to serve in that capacity. The school board has a lot of input and important advice to give. I have a keen interest in the policies of our school district and the impact they have on our children and the community as a whole."

McQueen says her work in a community college gives her a unique perspective as a school trustee. "I see all kinds of people, from kids coming right out of high school to older students who are returning to college after a long absence. From that, I know that education is the key to making opportunities available."

Part of her job at CTC is teaching courses online, which she says would be useful in helping Salado schools develop curriculum that teaches "the skills students need to pursue

First Baptist Church and marker dedication May 6

The year was 1864. Abraham Lincoln was President. The Civil War was in its third year. Texas was under the Confederate Flag, and Sam Houston, the Governor of Texas, had recently been replaced for his refusal to take the oath of loyalty to the Confederacy. On May 25, of that turbulent year, a group of eleven men and women met in the Chapel of Salado College for the purpose of organizing a church. The church was named Salado Baptist Church of Christ. It was later renamed First Baptist Church of Salado.

The present congregation invites you to join them Sunday, May 6, 2001 at 2 p.m. for the dedication of a historical marker commemorating the devoted men and women who struggled to begin the congregation of like-believers in their small, frontier village.

Church records state that the purpose for organizing the Baptist church was so the people could "better honor God and serve their community".

Throughout its one hundred thirty-seven year history, the congregation has grown in membership from its original eleven members to approximately 900 members. Not only has the congregation grown in membership, it has grown in the ways in which it serves the community. The strongest of these ministries is the Sunday School which reaches over three hundred-fifty people each Sunday. The church also has a vibrant Men's and Women's Ministry which provides fellowship and Bible study to the men and women of the church and community. The church's dynamic Youth Ministry offers a variety of activities to educate and train the children and young people.

One of the most effective avenues for serving the community has been through the Child Development Center. The CDC was opened in 1992 for the purpose of providing day care for pre-school age children of working mothers as well as after-school care for older children. The center has the capacity of caring for 128 children. The child center, and the food pantry, which provides food for the needy on an on-going basis, enables the church to minister to the needs of families throughout the Salado area.

The historical marker, written in part, by Mary Belle Brown, one of Salado's local historians, and donated by Robert and Doris Denman, long-time, active members of the church, reads as follows:

"A baptist revival was held on the banks of Salado Creek as early as 1854. By about 1860, members of area Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian and Church of Christ denominations were meeting in an ecumenical house of worship. Each group held an all day service on successive Sundays."

"On May 25, 1864, eleven men and women organized the Salado Baptist Church of Christ in Church of Christ in The Chapel of Salado College. Charter members of this group, later renamed First Baptist Church of Salado, were James L. Smith, David Hair, Harvey Chamberlain, Nannie Reed, Nellis Wemott, Sarah Hanford, Rachel Austin, Eva Cockrill. Mary L. Carnals, Nannie Wilkinson and Sallie Wilkinson."

A training union for young people soon followed. There were 19 additional members by June 1864 and 111 members by 1877. A two story church and Masonic Hall on the North Bank of Salado Creek near Main Street was erected in 1878 on land donated by Bell County Pioneer and church member O.T. Tyler. Two years later, an ecumenical tabernacle was erected behind the church.

"The Baptist congregation sent missionaries C.Z. and Kate (Crawford) Taylor to Brazil in 1801. The Ladies' Aid Society, later the Women's Missionary Union and then the Women's Ministry, was organized in 1889. This work continued in the 20th Century, marked by the beginning of the ministry to Mary Hardin-Baylor College in nearby Belton in 1958. Notable members of the First Baptist Church of Salado include George W. Baines (the great grandfather of President Lyndon B. Johnson) who served as Pastor and was later President of Mary Hardin-Baylor. Others were educators at Salado College and beloved community members."

Miller elected Lions governor

L. Eldon Miller, a member of the Salado Lions Club was elected District 2-X3 Governor for the year 2001-2002 at the District Convention in Killeen April 21. Miller will succeed Richard Robinson of Killeen Evening Lions Club in July. Lion Miller will attend the Lions International Convention in Indianapolis, Indiana from July 2-7. He will be installed on the last day along with 700 other District Governors from around the world.

Lions attending the District Convention were (l-r) Bill Ruth, Joe Holt, George Dentry, Hulda Horton, newly elected District 2-X3 Governor Eldon Miller, Ed Care, Bob McGhee and Grover Jones

Lions International is the largest service club organization in the world. It has over 1,400,000 members in more than 43,000 clubs with 730 districts in 185 countries of the world. Lions International is located on every continent and since the end of the cold war has spread its good works to Eastern Europe and to Russia itself.

The dynamism of Lionism is its local clubs solving the problems of its local communities, while banding together to tackle the problems of blindness worldwide. Local Lions

Clubs provide eyeglasses to children and adults in their communities who cannot afford them. They run local fundraisers, such as "White Cane" Day to raise money for sight projects. Local clubs sponsor blind people to attend Lions World Services for the Blind school in Arkansas, which teaches a blind person to be independent and learn a skill. Local clubs sponsor blind candidates to obtain a leader dog at the Lions Leader

Dog school in Michigan. Both programs are at no cost to the recipient. Local clubs are part of a District, which supports often in conjunction with other districts a professional Eye Bank, which collects Corneas for transplant. District 2-X3 in conjunction with Districts 2-S3 and 2-S5 operates an Eye Bank that provided the gift of sight through cornea transplants to over 1,000 persons in 2000.

District 2-X3 Governor-

Elect L. Eldon Miller has been a member of the Salado Lions Club since 1992. He has served in all the Key Offices in the club except Secretary and rose to President of his club in 1998-1999. Mr and Mrs Joe Crawford of Gatesville announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Courtney, to Grant Kinsey, son of Dr and Mrs Nolan Kinsey of Salado. The bride-elect is the granddaughter of Bernice Sims and the late Herman Sims and Bobbie Sue Crawford and the late Otis Crawford all of Gatesville. The prospective groom is the grandson of Mr and Mrs Herbert Daniel of Harlingen and the late Mr and Mrs LeeRoy Kinsey of Salado.

Courtney Crawford and Grant Kinsey

Courtney is a graduate of Gatesville High School and received a bachelor's degree in psychology from the University of Texas at Austin. She teaches history and Spanish in the Oglesby Independent School District and is pursuing a master's degree in guidance and counseling. Grant is a graduate of Rotan High School and received a bachelor's degree in agricultural communications from Texas Tech University. He is a graduate of Baylor Law School and is an attorney with the law office of Susan N. Kelly in Waco.

The couple plans a 7:30 p.m. ceremony on June 23rd at the First Baptist Church in Gatesville.

James Donovan Killingsworth was welcomed into this world on April 3 at 9:44 a.m. weighing 6 lbs. 15 oz and was 18-1/2 inches long.

His parents are Brennan and Theresa Killingsworth of Salado. James also has an older brother named Matthew.

National Day of Prayer observed at UMHB campus

The University of Mary Hardin-Baylor will be participating in the National Day of Prayer meeting 11:55- 12:15 May 3 from on the steps of W. W. Walton Chapel on campus.

"We will be praying in small groups for our nation, our community, our schools, our leaders, the "Jesus" video project, revival in our nation, and many other things," said Muske.

National Day of Prayer is observed during finals week, during which there is already a lot of prayer, but we also need to dedicate prayer for our nation and its future. Everyone is urged to "pray without ceasing." On May 3, be conscious of the fact that you are entering into agreement with other believers all over the U.S. We will be praying for something, which we know for certain, is God's will -- revival!

Back to the Bible

The devil shows Jesus the world and says, All this I will give you, if you will bow down and worship me.

Though this offer would seem to relieve Jesus of the pain and suffering he will one day endure, he resists.

Away from me, Satan! he says. For it is written, Worship the Lord your God, and serve Him only. With this quote from Deuteronomy, the devil leaves Jesus, until a more opportune time.

LeFan selected as Church of Christ Minister

James LeFan of Temple, was selected as the new minister for the Salado Church of Christ at the regular men's business meeting on April 1. James is well known to members of the Salado congregation and following a recommendation by the Search Committee, chaired by Jasper Barrett, the men unanimously voted approval of LeFan to become the new minister effective June 1.

LeFan in accepting his new assignment reported he was "happily looking forward to being a part of the Church family here in Salado".

LeFan brings with him 57 years of experience as a Gospel preacher, lecturer, writer and a highly regarded speaker throughout the brotherhood.

LeFan and his wife Jackie have two sons, Mike and Kevin. They reside in Temple where LeFan has been enjoying semi-retirement since 1993, although he has been busy holding Gospel meetings and lectureships since that date including substitute preaching assignments for a number of congregations throughout the state.

LeFan graduated from Abilene Christian University in 1944 and has since that time been the recipient of a number of awards from his Alma Mater including Past President of the ACU Alumni Association; winner of the ACU Alumni Citation award and together with his wife Jackie, received the ACU "Christian Service Award" in 1993.

LeFan began his work following graduation from ACU in 1944 when he became associate minister at the Jefferson Church of Christ in San Antonio.

Later he served as the pulpit minister at the Missouri Street Church in Baytown and at the Western Hills congregation in Temple from 1950 to 1989. He continued serving in various ministries at Western Hills until full retirement in 1993.

LeFan is a prodigious writer having contributed articles to various religious publications. Many of his sermons have been printed in the ACU, Pepperdine, Harding, Lubbock Christian, Fort Worth Christian and Faulkner University lectureship books.

LeFan is a past member of the ACU Advisory Board; Fireman's Pension Fund Board; Past President of the Lion's Crippled Children Foundation, Inc.; past chairman of the Leon Valley Chapter of March of Dimes; past President and member of the executive board of the Bell County Rehabilitation Center. He also received special recognition from the Governor of Texas for work with the mentally retarded in 1966.

Donations needed for Project Graduation

Salado High School graduation is just days away. Parents and teachers would like to request everyone's support for a drug and alcohol free evening of celebration to honor the 2001 Seniors May 24.

The Texas Department of Public Safety first established Project Graduation in an effort to lower traffic and alcohol related deaths of teenagers.

In 1993 that number was reduced by 60% nationwide. This celebration is held in a controlled and well-chaperoned environment. It demonstrates to young people that a good time does not require the use of chemicals.

This is an important opportunity to instill positive values on young men and women as they embark on their journey into adulthood.

Project Graduation is collecting contributions from community businesses and personal donations from parents, friends and local concerned residents.

If you would like to support Project Graduation please send your donation to:

Project Graduation, P.O. Box 98 Salado, TX. 76571.

Please make checks payable to Salado High School Project Graduation.

Donations will be publicized in the Salado Village Voice newspaper for recognition and thanks. For tax purposes, a letter will be sent to contributors acknowledging donations.

Salado teams take silver in Austin tourney

Two Salado basketball teams took silver at the eight-team Austin North American Youth Sports basketball tournament held April 20-22.

The Austin Tournament featured Texas teams from San Antonio, New Braunfels, Hayes County, Bay City, and Austin.

The Salado Stars Eighth Grade Basketball Team defeated Austin Porter in game one, and defeated the Austin Westlake Hoops in game two. The Austin "Dawgs" won the championship game, in game three, by building a large lead in the first-half. Coach Jennings said,

The Salado Stars will play seven tournaments this Spring and Summer. The next tournament is at the Belton High School gymnasium May 4-6 and all are welcome to attend.

The Salado Slam brought home the second place medal losing Sunday night in the championship game to Tyler No Limit 25 to 18. The game ended with No Limit scoring 7 unanswered points in the closing minute to open up an otherwise tight hard fought contest. "I am awful proud of our 7 girls tonight" coach Jerry Smith commented, "they played tough team defense against a larger, taller team and hung in until the final buzzer".

Earlier in the tourney Salado played the Bastrop Lady Cubs and defeated the Cubs on a sudden death free throw made by Joshanna Washburn. The final score was 12 to 11. In the second game the Slam squared off against a quick Cedar Park Fire team. Salado jumped to an early lead that it never relinquished with a final winning score of 25 to 12. "We look forward to our next contest and will continue to work hard on all aspects of the game," Smith said.

Rotary to fly flags for you

Join your neighbors in a display of patriotism this year by flying the U.S. flag on Memorial Day, Flag Day, Independence Day, Labor Day and Veterans' Day.

The Salado Rotary Club is making it easy for any homeowner or business owner to do so.

Every year, the Flag Program for the Rotary Club continues to grow, as neighbors and friends join in flying the U.S. flag during the patriotic holidays: Memorial Day, May 28; Flag Day, June 14; Independence Day, July 4; Labor Day, Sep. 3 and Veterans' Day, Nov. 11.

It costs just $25 for a one-year subscription to the Flag Program -- in which the Rotary Club will place the flag to be flown on your property during the five patriotic holidays and return to take it down at the end of each of the holidays. That's about the

YES. I want to participate in the Rotary Club of Salado's American Flag Display Program for a yearly cost of $25. It is my responsibility to advise the Rotary Club of any sprinkler, plumbing, or electrical service locations. It is also my responsibility to insure that the metal flag sleeve does not rise above the ground level where it may damage any equipment for lawn maintenance.

By subscribing to the Flag Program, though, you not only show your patriotic colors, but also help the Rotary Club in its local projects. Of course, you can give more than the $25 subscription fee.

This year, the Rotary Club anticipates donating $1,500 from the Flag Program to the Salado ISD Education Foundation Scholarship program and $1,500 to the Communities in Schools program at Salado ISD.

Any funds beyond that will go to beautification of the village and Pace Park playground equipment, according to Rotary Club of Salado President Dale Gore.

Seniors Stowell and White get CTC scholarships

Matthew Stowell, Salado High School and Tyrell White, Academy High School are two seniors awarded scholarships by Central Texas College.

The scholarships can be used for various academic and vocational programs offered at CTC.

choose to take every semester. A $3,000 total scholarship will be awarded at $750 each semester if a student registers for 15 credit hours during Fall 2001, Spring 2002, Fall 2002 and Spring 2003 semesters each.

The scholarship size will be $2,400 ($600 per semester), if students register for 12 credit hours for each of the above semesters.

their education beyond high school."

She also understands the perspective that teachers bring to the school.

"A school board member must have a broad understanding of the needs, wants and desires of the community and the issues that come up before the board," she said.

CARSE WILLIAMS

Carse Williams completes his first term on the SISD Board of Trustees this year. He has served in several capacities on the board, including chair of the facilities committee and secretary of the board.

He has also chaired the curriculum and technology committee (two years), during which the McLane Computer Lab was brought on-line. He served on the construction committee that oversaw the completion of the Salado Intermediate School campus.

Carse and wife Bobbi have lived in Salado for almost seven years, moving here from Round Rock, where he operated a vending company for 35 years.

Carse and Bobbi have two sons and three grandchildren. Todd and Joanna lived here in Salado with Brooks, a fourth grader at Thomas Arnold, and Blake, a first grader here.

Todd is the principal of Tarver Intermediate School in Belton ISD.

Brad and Julie are the parents of Bailey, a four year old girl on whom Carse admittedly dotes.

Brad is the principal of Smithson Valley High School in Comal ISD.

Williams said that in his three years on the board, he has developed "a proven track record. I have never missed a called meeting of the board in the three years I have served. I have returned every phone call I have received from a parent or taxpayer. I may not have always given someone the answer they wanted, but I have given people answers to their questions of me."

"I am not influenced by any particular group," he added, "other than the students and taxpayers. On all but two occasions, I have voted my convictions." When prodded about those two occasions, Williams declined to answer on record.

Williams said that he thinks the district has improved in many areas during the three years he has served, most easily seen in technology.

"We are the envy of other schools in our use of technology," Williams said. In fact, there are some things we would like to do but can't because surrounding schools cannot match us in technology. They can't do what we're doing."

An important part of technology is incorporating it into the curriculum of the school, Williams said, which is something the district is working on now.

Williams said that he is not satisfied with the academic performance of the district. "With our demographics, we should be an exemplary school district," he said, adding that the schools should strive to do more for average students. "We do plenty for gifted and talented kids and for special education kids, but sometimes we have a tendency to neglect the average kid."

FRANK CARLSON

Frank Carlson has served two years as the President of the Board of Trustees. He will complete his first three-year term on the board in May.

He and Cathy moved to Salado 11 years ago and have owned and operated Cathy's Boardwalk Cafe since 1994. They have two children: Amy, who will graduate from Salado this spring, and Frank, who is a junior at Salado.

During his term on the school board, Carlson said he thinks that "there is a vast improvement in the school in morale from top down. I believe there's trust in the superintendent that's she's doing a good job. If you look at the team of campus principals, I think that we won't have the turnover that we have had in the past. The people in place will continue a long term commitment to

Carlson said that achieving exemplary status is a goal for which he wants the school to continue to strive.

A key component of achieving exemplary status is bringing up the scores of students who are economically disadvantaged or Hispanic, two sub-categories of student population in which Salado has scored below the requirement for recognized or exemplary status at the district-wide level.

"Robin has put in place a great program this year to bring the Spanish speaking parents of our students into the school. We are offering English as a Second Language classes to adults for the first time," Carlson said, adding that the district has "a moral responsibility to help these parents help their children. I think we will see a dramatic improvement in our test scores from this."

Carlson added that the district is expanding the program to be a dual language course next year, which will "teach English to Spanish speakers and vice versa."

Carlson said that while he has been on the board, the district has reduced its student to teacher ratio from 25-1 to 17-1 in many classes, especially in the elementary school.

"This is one of the long range planning committee's goals," he said.

Arthritis Pain Mystery Solved

Horse Liniment is the secret!

OCALA, FL. — An ingredient used to treat inflammation in thoroughbred racehorse legs, is now recognized as safe and effective for human use. The ingredient has been formulated into a product called ARTH-Rx™ and comes in a strength designed for humans. Researchers are excited and say the formula can relieve arthritis pain for millions.

Developed by the Phillips Gulf Corporation, ARTH-Rx is a breakthrough in the treatment of painful disorders ranging from minor aches and pains to more serious conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, rheumatism, tendonitis, backache and more.

Scientists suggest that ARTH-Rx works by intercepting the pain messenger substance that sends pain signals to the brain. Although the mechanism is not totally clear, pain is relieved in the affected area because the pain signal actually disappears.

ARTH-Rx is the only product on the market with Neurocaine and is available in a convenient, pleasant scented roll-on applicator without a prescription. According to a spokesperson for the company, ARTH-Rx is available in pharmacies, nutrition stores, and even some feed stores. ARTH-Rx can also be ordered by calling 1-800-729-8446, ©2000 PGC

May is Huntington's Disease Awareness Month

In 1967 Legendary Folk singer Woody Guthrie died of Huntington's disease, a hereditary brain disorder.

There is currently no effective treatment or cure for the 30,000 Americans with HD or the 200,000 who may inherit its deadly gene, but with the help of the Huntington's Disease Society of America there is hope.

The month of May is recognized as Huntington's Disease (HD) Awareness Month. During this time, the Huntington's Disease Society of America (HDSA) makes a specific effort to increase awareness of this devastating disease and what is being done in order to find a cure.

In recent months, several investigators from HDSA's Coalition for the Cure, an elite group of HDSA-funded scientists, have made significant advancements in HD research. Dr. Robert Friedlander's work on caspases and Minocycline were published in the journals. Nature and Nature Medicine. More recently, Dr. Christopher Ross' research on reversing cell death was published in the journal, Science.

Since 1996, HDSA's commitment to research funding has grown from $183,000 to $4 million in 2001, with a goal to raise $25 million for new research initiatives in the next five years. It is due to the continued advancements in research funded by HDSA that people affected by HD have every hope that effective therapeutics and, ultimately, a cure is on the horizon.

Huntington's Disease is an inherited, degenerative brain disorder that results in the progressive loss of control of both the mind and the body. Each child of an affected parent has a 50% chance of inheriting the disease. Presently, there is no effective treatment or cure for this deadly illness that affects 30,000 Americans and places another 200,000 at risk.

The Huntington's Disease Society of America is a national non-profit voluntary health agency that is dedicated to finding a cure for HD, by funding both basic and clinical research, while providing vital services to those affected by this life-altering disease. HDSA Centers of Excellence for Family Services provide state of the art medical facilities to our HD families across the country. With its 31 chapters and 3 affiliates, HDSA provides regional referrals and serves as a critical link to our families in the field.

Please join HDSA in celebrating HD Awareness Month. Each year, HDSA's chapters and affiliates host a variety of fundraising events in their local areas. Events taking place during HD Awareness Month include the Shoot for a Cure Hoop-a-thon and the Cure HD BMW Sweepstakes. All proceeds from these events directly support HDSA in our efforts to find a cure for Huntington's Disease.

During the month of May, and throughout the year, we urge you to support HDSA in efforts to find a cure for this deadly disease.

For more information about Huntington's Disease or HDSA, please contact the Huntington's Disease Society of America at 800-345-HDSA, hdsainfo@hdsa.org, or on the Internet at www.hdsa.org. HDSA is committed to making this the last generation with HD.

Car seat safety check up to be held May 17

Is your child's car seat safe?

Has it been recalled?

When can you turn your baby's car seat to face forward?

Am I using my child's car seat properly or not?

If these are some of the questions that have been nagging at you as a parent, help is on the way.

Safety experts will meet with parents in the parking lot at Salado Chiropractic in Salado Plaza Shopping Center 4-8 p.m. May 17.

The safety checkers will properly fit the car seat to the child, check it for recall status, age and damages and give parents proper recommendations and remedies for addressing any problems concerning their children.

Dr. Shirley Lynch, of Salado Chiropractic, is sponsoring the event so that parents can rest a little easier knowing that they have taken the proper precautions to protect their children whenever they are in the car.

Here are some facts to consider:

Thirty percent of infants are incorrectly turned forward facing in their car seat before they reach one year of age. Infants should ride rear-facing because the back of the car seat will support their head, neck and back and prevent spinal cord injuries in a frontal crash. Infants should also ride semi-reclined at a 45 degree angle to keep their heads from pitching forward, possibly closing off their airways.

Forty-five percent of three year olds are inappropriately moved from car seats to either booster seats or adult seat belts. Children should ride in a forward-facing car seat until they reach 40 pounds, usually at about age four.

Eighty-five percent of car seats are being misused in some way, including failure to attach the seat tightly to the vehicle, failure to fasten the harness correctly, failure to use the chest clip correctly, placing a rear-facing car seat in front of an airbag, and turning an infant-only car seat to face forward.

These are just some of the ways in which safety seats are being misused.

Parents can learn the best use of their car seats by meeting with safety experts 4-8 p.m. May 17 in front of Salado Chiropractic. The safety check is free of charge.

"I want to do all that I can to prevent spinal cord injuries in our community," Dr. Lynch said.

For more information about the event or Salado Chiropractic, call Dr. Lynch at 947-BACK.

Emergency residents in Central Texas rank first in nation

For the second straight year, Central Texas has the top ranking emergency medicine residents in the nation.

Doctors in the Darnell Army Community Hospital and Scott & White emergency medicine residency programs recently ranked first and second of 122 programs across the nation on the annual in training examination given by the American Board of Emergency Medicine. This is the third year in a row that both programs gave place in the top ten, since the emergency medicine program's inception in 1993.

The in training examination is administered by the American Board of Emergency Medicine to allow residents the opportunity to gauge their degree of preparedness for taking the written certification examination.

"This examination is the only means for program directors to judge how their program is doing in relation to others in the country," said Marco Coppola, D.O., FACEP, director, Scott & White emergency medicine residency program.

Coppola, who has been program director for three years, reintroduced a structured reading schedule, with weekly quizzes, as well as a two month review.

"This outstanding accomplishment is attributed to the hard work of the residents combined with a little structure, encouragement and empowering them to do their best," Coppola said.

Coppola specifically stated the third year class scored sixth in the country, up from 14th last year and the second year residents finished second. Notable performances include: Dr. Michael Cantu and Dr. David Fletcher, who scored at the 94th and 95th percentiles; Dr. John Gomez, who scored at the 97th percentile; and Dr. Rick Daniels, who scored in the 98th percentile for the second consecutive year.

The Scott & White senior staff physicians who work with the residents in the emergency department all hold faculty positions with The Texas A&M University System Health Science Center College of Medicine.

"Scott & White is an excellent atmosphere for learning," said Coppola. "Our faculty is very learned and highly trained and we are very accessible to the residents."

"The test scores are a reflection of individual high performances by the resident physicians, Dr. Coppola's efforts as program director, Dr. Stallard's efforts as assistant program director and the faculty's commitment to provide outstanding training. The program is clearly moving in the right direction," said Jerry Ray Baskerville, M.D. medical director and interim chairman, Scott & White department of emergency medicine.

"When patients from Central Texas come to the Scott & White department, they can rest assured that some of the top residents in the country are looking after them," Coppola said.

When to call 911...

Lights flashing. Sirens blaring. Emergency crews on the run. Comforting sights and sounds to those needing help.

But the time between the call to 911 and the arrival of an emergency team can seem like an eternity of fear and indecision when someone is ill or injured.

Minutes count in an emergency, and what people do before EMS arrives makes a significant difference to an injured or ill person, according to Kathy Perkins, chief of the Bureau of Emergency Management at the Texas Department of Health.

When you call 911, Perkins said, "you access the emergency care system and its personnel, available by telephone everywhere in Texas 24 hours a day. But until a trained team arrives, there are things people can do to help."

Recognizing an emergency is the first step in getting assistance for an ill or injured person. Most people consider auto crashes, severe chest pain, obvious broken bones and serious burns to be emergencies. But not all emergency situations are so apparent. Call 911 immediately if any of these conditions are present:

- * Serious bleeding;
  - * Unconsciousness;
  - * Neck or spine injuries;
  - * Signs of heart attack including uncomfortable pressure or fullness in the chest or chest discomfort with light-headedness, fainting, sweating or shortness of breath;
  - * Unexplained paralysis;
  - * Burns;
  - * No indication of breathing;
  - * Choking;
  - * Broken bones; or
  - * Head, chest or abdominal injuries.
- Common sense and knowing the victim also are important to assessing an emergency. "Factors such as stressful events, a pre-existing medical condition or abnormal behavior may signal that a person is in an emergency situation," Perkins said.

How you make the 9-1-1 call also is important. Stay calm or have someone else make the call. Give the 9-1-1 dispatcher any information requested. This information usually includes the address or location of the emergency, your name and the telephone number at your location, name of the injured or ill person and information about the illness or injury.

Stay on the phone with the dispatcher until you are told to hang up. Send someone to wait near the street or in the parking lot to direct the ambulance to the victim.

Do not move the injured or ill person unless the person is in immediate danger. Do not allow the person to eat or drink anything or to smoke. Keep the person calm and still.

"While we can be proud of the emergency medical services in Texas," Perkins said, "prevention is still the best way to avoid needing help." Safe, healthy lifestyle habits include:

- * Wearing seat belts and buckling children into child safety seats;
- * Being sure that all children 12 and under ride in the back seat;
- * Driving at safe speeds;
- * Avoiding alcohol and drug use while driving;
- * Keeping immunizations current;
- * Eating right and exercising regularly;
- * Keeping guns and poisons locked in a safe place.

Contact the TDH Bureau of Emergency Management at 1100 W. 49th St., Austin 78756, or call 512-834-6700.

Stop addiction or alcoholism by knowing the life cycle

By GARY W. SMITH
C.C.D.C., EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Whether a person is genetically or biochemically predisposed to addiction or alcoholism is a controversy that has been debated for years within the scientific, medical and chemical dependency communities. One school of thought advocates the "disease concept," which embraces the notion that addiction is an inherited disease, and that the individual is permanently ill at a genetic level, even for those experiencing long periods of sobriety.

Another philosophy argues that addiction is a dual problem consisting of a physical and mental dependency on chemicals, compounded by a pre-existing mental disorder (i.e. clinical depression, bipolar disorder, or some other mental illness), and that the mental disorder needs to be treated first as the primary cause of the addiction. A third philosophy subscribes to the idea that chemical dependency leads to "chemical imbalances" in the neurological system.

The fact remains that there is scientific research to support all of these concepts, but that none of these theories are absolute.

Based on national averages we have a 16% to 20% recovery rate. The message is clear that we have a lot more to learn if we are to bring the national recovery rate to a more desirable level. There is a fourth school of thought, which has proven to be more accurate. It has to do with the life cycle of addiction. This data is universally applicable to addiction, no matter which hypothesis is used to explain the phenomenon of chemical dependency.

The life cycle of addiction begins with a problem, discomfort or some form of emotional or physical pain a person is experiencing. The person finds this very difficult to deal with.

Here is an individual who, like most people in our society, is basically good. He has encountered a problem or discomfort that he does not have the ability to resolve. This could include problems such as difficulty "fitting in" as a child or teenager, anxiety due to peer pressure, identity problems or divorce as an adult. It could also include physical discomfort, such as a broken arm or a bad back. The person experiencing the discomfort has a real problem. He feels this problem is a major situation that persists and he can see no immediate resolution or relief from it.

We have all experienced this in our lives to a greater or lesser degree. The difference between which one of us becomes an addict and which one does not depends on whether or not, at the time of this traumatic experience, we are subjected to pro-drug or alcohol influences via some sort of significant peer pressure when the problem is manifesting itself. The painkilling effects of drugs or alcohol becomes a solution to the discomfort because the person experiences relief from the negative feeling associated with the problem. As soon as the addict experiences relief from the discomfort, he inadvertently attaches value to the drug or drink, because it helped him feel better. Even though the relief is only temporary, it is adopted as a solution to the problem and this assigned value is the only reason the person ever uses drugs or drinks a second, third or more times. At this point, it is just a matter of time before the person becomes fully addicted and loses the ability to control their drug use.

An Open Exchange of Ideas

Get out to vote

By Dr. Robin Battershell, Ed.D.
SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS
SALADO I.S.D.

This is your opportunity to have a voice in your schools! As of last Thursday, only 126 individuals had voted. Early voting continues through May 1. The regular election will be held on Saturday, May 5.

There are two very important items to vote on. First, you will be electing two school board trustees who will be entrusted with the welfare of your children over the next three years. Second, you will be voting on whether or not to approve bonds to pay for renovations to the elementary and to the high school. Both of these issues have a major impact on the future of YOUR schools!

Four candidates are vying for two positions. In ballot order, they are Jackie Burson, Lisa McQueen, Carse Williams, and Frank Carlson.

The bond is divided into two propositions, A and B. Voters can approve both propositions, one of the propositions, or neither proposition. A question and answer sheet is available at the Central Office and some local

We are also hosting a public forum on Tuesday, May 1, 7 p.m. at the Civic Center. This is a time for you to ask questions and receive clarification on the bond proposal.

Proposition A ($675,000 over a 15 year note) includes items deemed critical or high priorities, such as renovations to the high school roof, air conditioning system, and track. Also included in Proposition A are elementary school renovations.

Proposition B ($650,000 over a 15 year note) includes items needed for future growth and expansion, including renovations to the fine arts, agriculture, distance learning, and athletic facilities.

Ultimately, the decision is YOURS! Take this opportunity to make your voice known.

Redistricting plan upsets conservative's "applecart," Hupp blames Democrats

Remember the raging debate between Democrats and Republicans last year about how best to count heads in the nation's required decennial census? Conservatives wanted an exact head count, while liberals leaned towards some sort of scientific extrapolation designed to add numbers through a formula that would take into account folks thought to be missed for one reason or another.

That howling eventually died down and the enumeration went forward house by house. The figures were collated by the Census Bureau and sent to the 50 States for the purpose of reapportioning congressional and state legislative districts.

The Texas numbers were then crunched and re-crunched for weeks on end by both House and Senate redistricting committees. And finally, last week, out popped the current results that tentatively parcelled out the new boundaries for the 150 State House and 31 Senate seats.

REDISTRICTING PLAN BRINGS FORTH THE FOUR HORSEMEN OF THE POLITICAL APOCALYPSE: DOOM, DESPAIR, RAGE AND BLASPHEMY!

The Congressional form of this musical-chairs-disarrangement has to wait until state lawmakers get their house in order which may be well into late fall.

GLOOM AND DOOM

Once the tentative districts were announced by leaders of the Texas Legislature last week the Four Horsemen of the Political Apocalypse - Doom, Despair, Rage and Blasphemy arrived on the scene.

Within seconds the State's copier machines began spitting out mostly Republican press releases blasting House Speaker Pete Laney, his redistricting committee henchmen, the world in general and Democrats in particular - all by lawmakers who saw their sinecures about to be disturbed.

This was especially true here in Central Texas and more to the exact point - from Salado's statehouse rep - Republican Suzanna Hupp whose proposed district would run from Lampasas to the Rio Grande while excluding Bell County completely!

Dianna White Delisi's district, that currently includes all of Temple plus bits and pieces of the county north and west of her hometown, had to be shocked when Temple was divided right down the middle of 31st Street with Scott and White Hospital placed in a brand new district.

HUPP UNHAPPY

Hupp quickly blasted the new plan as a "hack job" by Demos and went on to make a most unwise-political (code for "dumb") statement, to the effect that the folks she represents in central Texas have little or nothing in common with people in her proposed district along the border. If that district remains intact - she will have some tough explaining to do when she heads south for a campaign visit.

Fact is, nothing is set in concrete at this juncture of the legislative session. Debate and acrimony will have to be endured followed by handholding and arm twisting behind closed doors and even then it is doubtful that agreement will be reached any time soon.

However, should a miracle occur and the proposed districts slip by - conservatives can (and will) call on Governor Perry to veto the entire mess and send the matter to the Legislative Redistricting Board - composed of four Republi-

Off the Record

by Ken Clapp

SALADO TO LOSE HUPP IF PLAN IS OKAYED; HALF OF TEMPLE TAKEN FROM DELISI'S DISTRICT. GOPERS ACCUSE DEMOS OF GERRYMANDERING DISTRICTS TO MAINTAIN MAJORITY IN TEXAS HOUSE.

cans and one lone Democrat. Bet you can guess how those lines will then be drawn.

In case you are unaware of the makeup of this all-powerful board - it includes Democrat Pete Laney, Speaker of the House and a quartet of Republicans: Bill Ratliff, Lt. Governor, Attorney General John Cornyn, Comptroller Carole Rylander and Land Commissioner David Dewhurst.

After these guys get through gerrymandering the State (and remember - their decisions are final), the legislature will be called back into session to draw up Congressional districts which will create another fire-fight, albeit with fewer players but more at stake, including possible control of the U.S. House of Representatives.

LAST RESORT: COURTHOUSE

Oh yeah - when all of the above is finished and should results not suit either liberal or conservative groupies in the state legislature or their lobby bosses, (who have a keen interest in the legislative and congressional dukedoms), the courts will become the final arena for dissent and decision.

And should it come to that - all parties are reminded that a judicial fiat is final - regardless of whether it is good, bad or indifferent!

BAD CALL BY THE SUPREMES

Tuesday, April 24, will long be remembered as the day a really bad decision was made by the U. S. Supreme Court. In a 5-4 vote, the supremes allowed as how it was within the limits of the Fourth Amendment to the Constitution to arrest, handcuff and jail a person for a misdemeanor type crime that is punishable only by a fine, such as a traffic violation.

The case in point dealt with a Texas woman who was driving without a seatbelt. Kids in the vehicle were also without restraints plus the lady did not have proof of insurance with her.

She was arrested, handcuffed and hauled off to jail in front of her kids. Later, the woman was granted bail and still later, pleaded "no-contest" and paid a fine.

Constitutional question was, and remains - does this violate the unreasonable search and seizure prohibition found in the Fourth Amendment? The high court said "No"! They did however note that the arresting officer used "poor judgement" and should have issued only a traffic citation.

What this decision actually does is add fuel to the police-abuse fire that is raging in parts of the nation.

It also makes more difficult the work of law enforcement officers who normally use good judgement and serve their communities well beyond the call of duty, day-in and day-out.

In this instance the high court made an error. An error that will have to be corrected on a continuing basis, by police officers at all levels, through the judicious use of common sense and balance when dealing with their fellow citizens.

That's -30-

A potpourri of letters

Dear Editor:

With the school bond election nearing, we wanted to voice our support for it. I know that many other people that are involved with the school on a daily basis also feel the same way. We are very lucky to have a school board that consists of credible, cost conscious people. The board members that I know, will see to it that we get the maximum bang for our buck. We are spending this money on the young people of our community. My gosh, for the cost of a night out to eat, we can make dramatic changes at OUR schools! What better investment can anyone make than to put it into our children. Someone did it for you years ago (we won't say how many). Allow me some other thoughts:

I went to a basketball game this year at the high school gym while it was raining. There were two or three 5 gallon buckets along the court to catch the rain!

We have a track that can't be used for track meets. The girls should have equal facilities with the boys.

I would guess 50% or more of our students participate in athletics. The community also uses many of these same facilities. With the high participation in athletics, it doesn't surprise me that 1/3 of proposition A is for athletic improvements.

Our students face tremendous challenges today. Any extracurricular activities we can encourage for them helps greatly. Renovating the band hall and ag dept. are examples of this.

In conclusion, people come from miles to shop downtown or play golf at Mill Creek. We take great pride in both. What a great message to send to all that we take just as much pride in our schools. Proposition A represents things that should of been done yesterday, Proposition B represents things that need to be done tomorrow. For the cost of a couple of times eating out, we can do what needs to be done. In fact, for those that are 65 and older, it won't even cost you a night out. I bet when the new, nice, take pride in, middle school was built, many didn't want it either. I also bet that no one has missed any meals due to spending the money to have it built. Vote yes for both Proposition A & B- the students are counting on you.

Dear editor:

I recently read that Army worms are becoming a problem in Central

Your Voice

Letters to the Editor

Texas. Six or eight years ago, we had a problem here and some of our trees suffered badly.

I remember that when I grew up in Cleveland, Ohio, everyone on our street had huge, soft maple trees in the front yard and every year, they were infested with yellow caterpillars. We controlled them by using TANGLEFOOT, a sticky substance that you paint around the tree trunk just below the branches. I was surprised to actually find TANGLEFOOT in a local nursery and painted it around my trees here. The next morning, several of my trees, but particularly the red oak, was covered solidly with army worms on up to the sticky ring. Then it was simple to spray them. I had no further problems.

Hope it works for others in the area with the same problem.

Dear Editor:

We think your readers might help with genealogy questions our family has about the two log cabins on Van Bibber Lane behind the Salado Civic Center. The Denman Cabin has been researched for a Texas Historical Marker, but we need help to determine how my great-great grandmother Nancy Denman (Mrs. Abel) White connects to the family cabin.

We can provide the genealogy information on the descendant side for the other cabin, Boles-Aiken. My father, Benjamin Bowles Whatley, was named for his great grandfather, Benjamin Bowles, who was married to Elizabeth Jefferies, niece of Henry Smith, first American governor of Texas (1835-1836). Thanks to Smith's brief time in office, we do have some information about Jefferies maternal ancestry. Our efforts to connect Bowles to Indian ancestry or even the other Bell County Bowles have perhaps slowed progress toward finding any ancestors for the cabin Boles.

Currently we have more family in Salado. We all appreciate and enjoy the Salado Village Voice and would be grateful for any insight, particularly information that would enable us to provide for the community a more substantive marker for Boles-Aiken Cabin.

Thank you,

An Open Exchange of Ideas

Protecting mineral rights

Q: My parents are retired and use mineral and royalty interests to help meet their living expenses. Recently they received an unsolicited offer to purchase their interests. The offer said that the enclosed bank draft was theirs if they signed an attached legal document in front of a notary and returned it to the company. The amount offered was a fraction of the value of the interests. Fortunately I stopped them from signing anything. What is being done to protect people from offers like these?

A: My office has been receiving an increasing number of complaints about unsolicited offers similar to what you described: a letter with a bank draft attached and a legal document that includes the name of the property owner and the property.

With many of these offers, the language in the mailing is confusing enough that it is difficult to tell whether the offer is to lease the property or purchase it. In addition, the small amount of money offered makes it look like a lease agreement when it is not. Unfortunately, many people sign away their interest rights without realizing what they have done. In other cases, after the property owner has signed over rights to the property, the purchasing company refuses to honor the bank draft, instead sending a check for a much smaller amount. Even though the sellers won't agree to the new offer, the company refuses to transfer the royalty or mineral interest back to the owner.

In addition, by signing the legal documents, the property owner grants the purchasing company power of attorney with respect to the transfer.

While these unsolicited mailings are not limited to Texans age 65 and over, the majority of those who respond are senior citizens. It is clear that these companies are targeting senior Texans.

The Texas Legislature, recognizing the potential for unwary mineral and royalty owners to be deceived, enacted a law in the hopes of providing some recourse.

According to the law, all mailed offers to purchase mineral or royalty property rights must contain the following statement in large print:

By executing and delivering this instrument, you are selling all or a portion of your mineral or royalty interest in (property name).

Anyone who sells rights to mineral or royalty interests in response to a mailed offer that does not contain this paragraph may have legal recourse.

If you receive an offer to purchase your property, you should receive a fair market appraisal of the property's worth. You should never agree to sell your investment without knowing its true value.

The State Bar of Texas provides a legal referral service that can help you find an attorney with relevant expertise. You can contact the State Bar at (800) 252-9690.

My office is tracking complaints about these types of offers. While we can't act or intervene on your behalf, we can take note of your complaint for possible enforcement actions. You can file a complaint with our office by calling (800)621-0508.

Bush Whacking Energy Sanity

Jim Hightower

"Crisis, crisis," squawks George Bush, pointing to the rolling blackouts, skyrocketing electric bills, and general energy mess made by California's de-regulated utility corporations. How does he propose to respond to the mess? Gotta pull out all the stops, he cries, demanding that Congress let Big Oil punch holes and build pipelines in the pristine Arctic National Wildlife Refuge. Plus, he says, we've gotta let the utilities churn out more pollution as a trade-off for generating more electricity. Gotta "unleash" American enterprise, is his line.

So, why does George W's energy budget slash the most enterprising sector of the entire energy industry?

He dumps more money into the failed approach of the oil, coal, gas, and nuclear giants, instead of shifting, as we ultimately must, to two cost-efficient, non-polluting approaches -- renewable fuels and energy conservation. Backed by modest government funding, entrepreneurs and conservationists have teamed up to make dramatic gains using these two approaches, creating more than $200 billion a year in energy savings so far. These programs provide the biggest, quickest, and cleanest bang for the taxpayer's buck -- yet renewables get Bush Whacked with a 36 percent overall cut in W's budget.

Indeed, R&D funds for solar, wind, geothermal, and hydrogen technologies are cut by half, and funds for implementation of these most promising energy sources are whacked by 76 percent. At the same time, Bush is moving to kill new efficiency standards that would save a third of the energy now consumed by air conditioners.

Meanwhile, Bush's budget throws more millions at nuclear power -- a failed and flawed energy source that already has sopped up $66 billion in tax-paid R&D spending.

Nuke promoters, however, were very energetic contributors to George W's presidential race, so now it's pay-off time. To fight for energy sanity, call 202-483-8491.

Voters will decide on 2 bond proposals

Salado ISD voters will decide on two bond propositions as the polls open 7 a.m.-7 p.m. May 5 at the Salado Civic Center.

The bond election includes two propositions totaling $1.3 million.

On the ballot are Proposition A, which totals $675,000, and Proposition B, which totals $650,000.

According to Salado ISD Supt. Robin Battershell, the payout schedule on Proposition A will be 15 years and will increase property tax rate by 3.04¢ per $100 evaluation.

Payment on Proposition B will be 15 years. It has been predicted to increase property taxes by 2.98¢ per $100 evaluation.

Together, the Propositions will require a 6¢ per $100 evaluation tax increase.

A voter can cast a ballot in favor of both Propositions, against both Propositions or in favor of only one Proposition.

Voters will decide two three-year positions on the Salado Independent School District board of trustees. The two positions are currently filled by Frank Carlson and Carse Williams.

Carlson and Williams are seeking reelection. Jackie Burson and Lisa McQueen also filed for the two at-large positions on the school board.

A voter can choose one or two names on the ballot for whom to vote.

A Jewel in the Crown of Texas extended deadline is May 8 for Summer 2001 issue

The advertising deadline for the next publication of Salado: A Jewel in the Crown of Texas is MAY 8 for the Summer 2001 edition. The street date is May 21. This edition will be on the stand and will continue to be distributed until August 21, 2001.

The summer issue of the Salado: A Jewel in the Crown of Texas will be distributed at the gates during the Salado Art Fair in August.

The Salado: A Jewel in the Crown of Texas is a magazine published four times a year by the Salado Village Voice newspaper. The next edition will have 20,000 copies printed on 50 # white offset paper. The heavy paper stock gives the magazine a longer shelf-life, as well as making it more attractive.

The Jewel is distributed in every store, shop and restaurant advertising in the magazine as well as stand distribution. Hotels, bed and breakfast inns put the magazine in their rooms for visitors to read and take home.

The Chamber of Commerce, real estate agents, bus tours, and groups planning to visit Salado are provided boxes of the magazine. Included in the Jewel magazine is a new user friendly shopping map of the village. To be listed on the shopping map, a business must have an ad in the Jewel.

While continuing to make improvements to the magazine, we have kept the cost the same as it has been for 12 years.

To reserve your next Jewel ad call 254/947-5321 or send in your order form.

MAY IS MOTORCYCLE SAFETY MONTH DPS urges motorcyclist to be safe

May is Motorcycle Safety and Awareness Month in Texas, and DPS urges all motorcycle enthusiasts—both experienced and inexperienced—to attend a professionally taught motorcycle course to hone their skills.

Texas Gov. Rick Perry, in his proclamation declaring May Motorcycle Safety and Awareness Month, urged all Texans to use Texas roads safely.

"Motorcycling is a popular form of transportation and recreation for many Texans. Our beautiful roadways and 12-month riding season contribute to Texas having one of the nation's largest motorcycle populations," Perry said. "We want everyone to be safe when they are traveling in Texas."

"More than 630,000 people in Texas have driver licenses that qualify them to operate a motorcycle," said Clifton Burdette, coordinator of the DPS motorcycle program. "Operating a motorcycle safely requires the use of special mental and physical skills. Riders attain these skills by attending professionally taught motorcycle operator training courses, as well as through personal experience."

The DPS Motorcycle Safety Unit offers basic and advanced motorcycle operator training courses in nearly 50 locations statewide. In 2000, more than 12,962 Texans took either the basic or advanced course.

The Basic Motorcycle Operator Training Course:

- * is for new or inexperienced riders or those with a Class M driver license who have not ridden for several years. Motorcycles and helmets are provided to students who need them during training.

- * is required for minors before they are eligible for testing for a Class M driver license.

- * may be used to waive the road test for a Class M driver license.

- * may qualify for ticket dismissal and/or insurance discount.

The Advanced Motorcycle Operator Training Course:

- * is an 8-hour course for experienced and licensed riders wishing to improve their cornering, braking and swerving skills using their own motorcycle.

- * may qualify for ticket dismissal and/or insurance discount.

Fresh spring fashions May 5

Salado United Methodist Garden Guild Chicks will be holding a "Stylish as a Spring Chick" Cio fashion show and luncheon 12:30 p.m. May 5 at the SUMC Fellowship Hall.

Prizes will be awarded. Some of the prizes given will be a manicure and a pedicure as well as a gift certificate from Cio. Seating for the show is limited and you must be present to win. Tickets are available at Cio or the Salado United Methodist Church. Tickets are $5.

We are delighted to present the latest in Spring fashion and accessories for the Salado United Methodist Garden Guild. The fundraiser will be used for the Noah's Ark Project. This is such a worthwhile project and we are excited to help with this event," said Virginia Cospoer of Cio...A Unique Ladies Boutique.

The Noah's Ark Project is a project sponsored by the Salado United Methodist Women. Through monetary donations, this project will provide animals and training to be self sufficient in countries throughout the world. The project offers shelter to families battered by the storms of hunger and poverty that are still raging around the world. Your generous gift launches a parade of farm animals on voyage to wherever they they're needed most. Your fit to the Noah's Ark Project will provide families with training. They will learn how to maintain a sustainable source of food and income. Families are required to pass on their training to other families in their communities. This project is not just about giving to families, it's about training people to become self-sufficient.

Site Visit Program offered TNRCC

Ever wondered if you need a wastewater permit or maybe an air permit? Concerned about whether you're handling hazardous waste properly? Interested in finding out if there are less toxic-and cheaper-alternatives to the substances you're now using in your business? Confused about how to find information on environmental rules? Maybe you need your own free environmental consultant for the day, on-site in your shop to point out problems and suggest ways to remedy them.

Sound too good to be true? Not with the Site Visit program offered by the Small Business and Local Government Assistance (SBLGA) section of the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission (TNRCC).

Since 1997, SBLGA's Site Visits have provided free, confidential help in identifying and resolving problems with environmental compliance.

The program helps increase your awareness. Many small businesses and local governments are unaware of state and federal rules intended to minimize pollution (such as controlling paint and dry cleaning vapors and requiring special handling and disposal of certain hazardous materials).

The environmental consultant contracted by SBLGA conducts the assessment and then reports to you any deficiencies in compliance, as well as recommended actions you can take to resolve those deficiencies or reduce or prevent pollution. Many of these options also can reduce your paperwork burden and save you money.

Facilities that have signed up for the program include auto body and repair shops, dry cleaners, metal finishers, printers, wood product manufacturers and finishers, local government fleet maintenance shops, and many more.

In fiscal year 2000, a total of 262 facilities took advantage of site visits, up from 225 the year before. Overall, about half were in compliance prior to the site visit; after the site visit, 92 percent were compliant. Common problems: no air permit or standard exemption or noncompliance with the permit or exemption; missing hazardous waste determinations and records; problems with hazardous waste containers and labeling; no storm water plans or permits; unauthorized wastewater discharges.

Although you are not obligated to follow up on the recommendations, if you correct all the compliance deficiencies identified during the site visit, you'll be eligible for the Compliance Commitment (C<sup>2</sup>) Partnership. If you qualify for the C<sup>2</sup> Partnership, you'll get a certificate of recognition from the TNRCC, entitling you to a one-year exemption from routine field inspections. In any event, all information from the site visit is kept confidential from any enforcement authority. The compliance assessment will not lead to an inspection nor will any citations be issued or penalties levied, regardless of whether corrections are made.

SBLGA provides the free site visits through a federal grant. The program is open to local governments and independently owned business with 100 or fewer employees.

Interested in scheduling your own free, confidential site visit? Call SBLGA at 1-800-447-2827. Even the call is free! Spanish-speaking consultants are available upon request.

Collector's items

Phonographs became popular household items in the early 1900s. A large, clunky wooden box topped by a metal or wooden horn was the most popular shape for the new music-making machines. The phonograph had to hold a record that was shaped like a disc or a cylinder. It had to be open so that the record could turn. The horn amplified the music. The strange looking device was tolerated because the idea of music on demand was so appealing.

A few of the early designers tried to hide the phonograph mechanism by making it to resemble another piece of furniture. One phonograph, made about 1910, was a forerunner of the jukebox. Twelve cylinders were kept inside the top of a round table in a restaurant. A coin was inserted, and one could select a song. The music played and could be heard through a small earphone on a flexible tube. A small, portable phonograph was housed in a box shaped like a stack of books. Another was put inside a box topped by a statue of Buddha.

The most unusual were the Lampaphone and Phonolamp. They were popular around 1920. One was a table lamp, the other a floor lamp. Each had electric light bulbs and a phonograph hidden beneath large, fringed parchment shades. One of these oddities is now worth about $4,000.

Tip: To get candle wax off your antique table, use a hair dryer set on low heat. Melt the wax, then wipe it off.

The following recipe was taken from the cookbook "Salado Country Cooking." It was sponsored by the members and friends of the Monday Club from the Salado United Methodist Church.

Tips to recognize a fraud

The National Fraud Information Center offers the following tips and advise to help you recognize slamming, cramming and solicitation scams:

Slamming: when your phone service is changed from your regular provider to another company without your knowledge or consent. While long-distance service is the most common target of slamming, your local service may also be slammed if there is local competition in your area.

To slam you, all a crook needs is your business name and phone number. The fraudulent company then notifies your local phone company, which performs the switch in service provider.

Sometimes slammers create phony verifications. One ploy is to pose as your local or long-distance phone company and ask if you are satisfied with your service, if you want to take advantage of a new discount plan, or if you'd like to consolidate your telephone bills. Your "yes" answer is tape-recorded and used as proof that you agreed.

Cramming: when a vendor asks your phone company to bill you for voice mail, paging, internet access or other services that you never agreed to purchase.

To cram unauthorized charges onto your phone bill, all the crook needs is your business name and phone number. You might unwillingly provide that information, or it can easily be obtained from telephone directories and other lists.

Be careful when you fill out contest entry forms, product coupons or other promotional offers. Read the fine print to see if you are also agreeing to purchase services.

If a caller claims to be from your telephone company and asks questions about your service, offers a new service, or notifies you of a change in service, don't provide information or agree to anything immediately. Get the person's name and number and then call your phone company to confirm that the caller and the purpose for the call are legitimate.

Look at "junk mail" carefully before you dispose of it. If could be a "negative option" notice that you will be signed up for an optional service unless you contact the vendor to refuse it.

Don't return calls to numbers on your pager or answering machine that you don't recognize. You could be dialing a number that results in signing up for a service without realizing it.

Scams: It's sometimes hard to tell if a sales pitch is legitimate or fraudulent. You can't judge it by the tone of someone's voice, or how friendly or sincere the person seems.

Good salespeople are convincing, and so are crooks. But it's probably a scam if...

- You get a call or postcard from someone telling you you've won a prize and asking for payment to buy something, for processing and administrative fees, taxes or any other reason. Legitimate sweepstakes or prize offers don't ask for payment because it's illegal.

- The person says you have to take the offer immediately or you'll miss the opportunity. Legitimate companies don't pressure people to act without time to look into the deal.

Chemistry classes for kids

The University of Mary Hardin-Baylor announces registration for children's summer chemistry camps. Enrollment is for 4th, 5th, and 6th graders. The cost for the camp is $85 and the sessions are from 1:30 p.m.- 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Dr. Darrell Watson, professor of chemistry, has designed the camps to motivate middle school students towards science while giving them actual laboratory experience. Participants will make slime and nylon, turn pennies into gold and silver, and conduct many other exciting chemical investigations.

Session I is June 4-8, Session II is June 11-15, and Session III is June 18-22, which is advanced and designed for previous chemcampers.

Teachers interested in learning exciting hands-on science activities to utilize in their classrooms can participate at no charge. For information call (254) 295-4537.

A breakfast dining bay window looks out upon the spaciouly covered back porch while the tiled covered kitchen counter tops add a cheerful warmth to this well designed home.

Now building in South Shore in the prestigious Salado I.S.D. from $120's

"Custom built on your lot or ours."

Holland Homes presents the Avery. This home, now featured in the Wild Rose subdivision, is especially designed to show-off its beautiful features. Four large columns majestically stand on the front porch while a blend of brick and limestone, from the Salado Quarry, encase this stately home which rests on a 1/2 acre lot.

As you enter the Avery, the 10 foot ceilings elegantly invite you to view every inch of its approximately 2300 square feet. This is a spacious 4 bedroom, 3 bath home. A beautiful fireplace and built-in cabinets grace one wall of the large living room. Pull up a chair and sit at the kitchen bar and admire the beautifully covered granite counter tops or stroll into the master bath and gaze at the corner whirlpool tub. The bonus room upstairs, complete with a full bath, allows you the freedom to choose its purpose. Should it be your guest room, a kid's playroom, or a bedroom for an older child?

If any of this peaks your curiosity, take a drive today to the wild Rose subdivision and see what Holland Homes has to offer you. You may want to hurry, Holland Homes' usually sell before construction is completed.

Tips on getting your dream loan

The Federal Reserve Board recommends following these tips to improve your home loan:

Find The Deal

It's a good idea to shop for the right mortgage or equity loan. Shopping among three or four lenders could save borrowers thousands.

Ask the lenders you visit for a list of their current mortgage or interest rates. If the rate quoted is adjustable, ask how that will affect your payment.

Next, ask the lender about points and other fees. Make sure you know all of the costs associated with the loan or mortgage.

Negotiate The Deal

Lenders and brokers can offer different prices for the same loan to different consumers. According to the Federal Reserve Board, one reason for this is that loan officers are often allowed to keep some or all of the difference in price.

Ask the lender to write out all fees associated with the loan and ask whether he or she is willing to lower any of the individual fees (be sure they don't raise any others to compensate). Remember, there's no harm in asking lenders for better terms.
