Easter Sunrise Service moves to Tablerock

Realizing a need after the negative reaction of last year's crowd at what was then billed as the "last" Salado Easter Sunrise service, some of the local ministers/ pastors decided to continue the practice, yet with some obvious differences.

"We decided if we were to keep the service, we needed a new venue," said Joe Keyes, of the Church of

"We had been in the same location at the Pace Park Pavilion for so many years," Keyes said. "It felt like an appropriate time to make a change and try a reboot in a new place."

Keyes also stated that the plan is to make this year's service "more devotional in

The goal will be to keep the service to a shorter, more compact time frame, yet also involve more representatives from a larger number of local congregations.

Appraisals more closely reflect market value

BY TIM FLEISCHER EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

"There's not enough inventory out there for sale," Bell County Appraisal District Chief Appraiser Billy White told more than 100 residents last week.

Speaking about the recent jump in appraisals for Salado, he said, "As long as the inventory keeps going down and demand keeps going up, prices will increase. This isn't going to change until we begin building more houses in Salado or people stop moving here."

White outlined the appraisal process which saw many homes increase in market value by as much as 30 percent in some reported incidents.

The 14 appraisers for Bell CAD began field work in August 2018 to determine the market value of the 169,000 parcels of property in Bell County.

Appraisal districts are charged by state law to certify that all taxable property is appraised at the true market value.

Historically, tax appraisals have been considerably lower than market values.

However, if appraisal districts continue to fail in appraising properties at market values, they can cause school districts to lose state

For Salado ISD, that for a third year. If the values could mean a loss of more than $200,000 in state funding each year, White said.

The Comptroller compares the appraisal district valuations with its own. If the appraisals are less than 95 percent of the market values for a school district, it is redlined for the following year. If the appraisals are below the 95 percent of market value for a second year, the Comptroller will value do not come up to the market level for the third year, the Comptroller will withhold funds from the school district.

In 2017, Salado ISD was 92.65% of the market value. In 2018, SISD was at 93.11%, according to White.

The new valuations will bring the CAD appraisals within the margin of the market values.

To get an appraised value the properties in that district for a property, appraisers will review all sales within a neighborhood or grouping to determine how close appraised values are to the sales prices of similar properties. If an improvement has been made on a property, then the modifier/multiplier is applied to the new improvement on the property to get to the most recent appraised values.

Saladoan named MVP of National Champ bowlers

By Luke Botanos ASSISTANT DIRECTOR ATHLETIC MEDIA RELATIONS STEPHEN F. AUSTIN UNIVERSITY WITH ADDITIONAL REPORTING By TIM FLEISCHER EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

In her senior year at Stephen F. Austin University, Paige Beeney and the SFA won the NCAA Division 1 national title in bowling, besting top-ranked Vanderbilt in the finals.

Beeney, the daughter of Bill and Kim Beeney of Salado, now has two national titles under her belt at SFA. She was also named the NCAA Tournament MVP. The first national title came in her freshman year in 2016. She and fellow senior Dakotah Hazlewood now have two national titles during their SFA career.

The Ladyjacks recovered from an opening game setback (183-167) and bowled some of their finest games of the national championship week. In front of a national TV audience that watched live on ESPNU, SFA caught fire in game two of the match and never looked back.

Sophomore Dakota

Faichnie, who subbed into the match at the end of game one, took over the No. 2 spot in the Ladyjacks' lineup and sparked SFA's comeback by rolling a strike. It would be the first of six straight strikes for the Ladyjacks, who bowled their way to an impressive 222-166 game two triumph to even up the match at 1-1.

SFA's five-bowler lineup of freshman Carlene Beyer, Faichnie, sophomore Sarah Gill and seniors Beeney and Hazlewood all threw strikes to begin game three as the Ladyjacks held on for a 203-175 game win.

SFA totaled its highest pinfall of the night in game four. Getting three consecutive strikes from Faichnie, Gill and Beeney, the Ladyjacks closed out the game with a second strike from Beeney and back-to-back strikes from lynchpin bowler Hazlewood to take the fourth stanza 224-190 and go up 3-1.

Needing just one more game win to clinch the bestof-seven Baker match, SFA got a strike from Faichnie and then four-straight strikes from Beeney, Hazlewood, Beyer and Faichnie again. Hazlewood closed out the fifth game with a three strikes to seal the deal at 213-202 and secure the Ladyjacks' second national championship, 4-1.

Both of SFA's All-Americans claimed 2019 NCAA Women's Bowling Chamall-tournament pionship team honors. Beeney, who was named National Tenpin Coaches Association (NTCA) All-American honorable mention earlier in the week, was phenomenal in the match. She bowled eight strikes, picked up a spare and left just one frame open April 13 in the title match en route to being named NCAA Championship MVP. In the three traditional team matches during the week, Beeney averaged a 208.7 game score and knocked down a total of 626 pins.

"She really just channeled everything out and focused on just us and her and what she was doing, taking the environment out of play," said her coach Amber Lemke on Beeney's performance. "She provided a much needed spark and obviously set up our anchor multiple times to give Hazlewood a chance to win games. Anytime you have somebody who is throwing it as well as her in a setting like that everyone else feeds off of it. Beeney really provided a spark for the rest of us and we made a

TPWC Market and Economic Update

The Markets

For the week ending April 12, it initially looked a lot like we were in for a negative return in the stock market, as represented by the S&P 500 Stock Index (SPX), but as markets so often do, the trend reversed with a rise of 0.66% on Friday giving us a total weekly return of 0.51% to close at 2907.41, a mere 20 points below last year's record. That positive close provided a nearly 16% rise so far in 2019 and puts the market up 9.45% from this time last year.

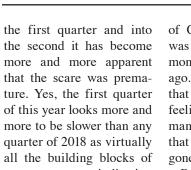

The surge of optimism that enabled a rise in the stock market was reflected in the bond market as well with the 10-year U.S. Treasury note yield rising 16.2 basis points (6.6%) to close out the week at 2.568%. That leaves the 10-year vield down 21 basis points from a year ago and still far below the 3.32% it hit in November but does reflect a move in a healthier direction. The ominous dip in the Treasury vield curve between 2 and 7 years remains in place but has mellowed a bit. West Texas Intermediate crude oil eked out a 0.79% rise to $63.76 holding on to an over 35% gain from last year. Gold was essentially unchanged. down 0.19% to $1,293.50 and remains substantially lower than this time last year, down 6.74%.

The Economy

All those market numbers taken together reflect what is going on in the economy. In the fourth quarter of 2018, we had a first-class recession and bear-market scare based to some degree on the government shutdown, threats of 25% tariffs, and a sudden slowing in consumer spending. As we have progressed through more to be slower than any quarter of 2018 as virtually all the building blocks of our economy are indicating slowing growth but there is a world of difference between a decreasing growth rate and a decreasing econ-The jump in the stock market and in Treasury yields came as the U.S.'s largest bank, J.P. Morgan, reported a record profit for the first quarter, up 19%. That was followed by an announcement by Wells Fargo that profits were up 14%. Both banks gave primary credit to consumer borrowing, mainly in credit cards. Both also warned though that if interest rates fell this year that their head of the International earnings growth could be lower in the future and if consumer spending slowed, so would their profits.

At about the same time as the bank earnings reports, the Labor Department reported that initial jobless claims across the nation fell to the lowest level since 1969 when the labor force was a fraction of the one today. Then, almost immediately following the good-news announcements by the two banks and the DOL, the University of Michigan reported that its April survey on consumer economic sentiment came in with a 3% drop from last month and was down 2% from a year ago. Perhaps more importantly the Index of Consumer Expectations was down 3.4% from last month and 3% from a year ago. Consumers reported that the tax cut-related good feelings were waning and many were of the opinion that their taxes had actually gone up!

Reflecting that set of conflicting data, the Federal Reserve Board's Open Market Committee (the Fed) released their minutes and they too see conflicting trends. The underlying economy is clearly going strong and has a lot of momentum, year over year inflation is running at or below 2%, the unemployment rate is about as low as it can get. At the same time, both manufacturing and services rates appear to be slowing and the global economy is clearly sagging toward zero growth.

Christine Lagarde, the Monetary Fund put it well when she said the near-term future of the global expansion depends on political decisions and actions on trade. The major trade issues will be decided by U.S. policy on tariffs. If the threatened 25% tariffs against the European Union and China are enacted, both will likely hit back with at least equal tariffs. That will likely tip the global economy into recession (where Italy, for example, already is). On the other hand, new trade agreements and removal of tariffs could and probably will give both the U.S. and the global economy the energy it needs to become the longest economic expansion on record.

HB3 reduces M&0 tax, increases funding per student

Last week I explained how our school district receives significantly less funding per student than all of the districts in our area and the vast majority of districts in the state. For those of you that didn't read my column last week, the following paragraph is a summary.

The average funding per student of the other 15 school districts in Bell County is $9,708, which is $1,861 per student above our school district. If Salado was funded based on the average per student funding of these other districts, our district would receive an additional $3,642,368 per year in funding. That would be a 23.7% increase in funding for our school district. It is very challenging to maintain competitive salaries for our teachers and other employees, manageable class sizes, and quality curricular and extracurricular programs given this financial disadvantage we have compared to most of the school districts in Texas and all of the school districts in our

This week I am going to continue the discussion regarding school funding and focus on House Bill 3. This is the school finance and property tax reduction bill that the Texas House passed by a vote of 148-1 two weeks ago. This bill would provide $6.3 billion in additional funding for school districts and $2.7 billion for property tax relief during the next two year biennium. House Bill 3 would need to be approved by the Texas Senate and signed by Governor Greg Abbott.

House Bill 3 would increase our funding per student (average daily attendance) by almost $446 (from $7,847 to $8,293) for the upcoming (2019-2020) school year. Based on our projected enrollment for next year, that equates to an additional $872,822 in funding. This

by Dr. Michael Novotny

bill would also reduce our Maintenance and Operations (M&O) property tax rate from $1.04 per $100 of taxable value to $1.00 per $100 of taxable value.

This additional funding would certainly help us increase salaries for teachers and other employees, maintain reasonable class sizes, and address some of the maintenance needs of aging facilities. Thus, I certainly support House Bill 3 because it would benefit our students and employees.

One way I believe House Bill 3 could be improved would be to reduce or even eliminate the inequity of funding between school districts. House Bill 3 provides a smaller increase in funding per student for Salado than the vast majority of the school districts in Texas and 14 of the other 15 districts in Bell County. Thus, House Bill 3 increases the inequity in funding per student, which would put our district even further behind other school districts financially.

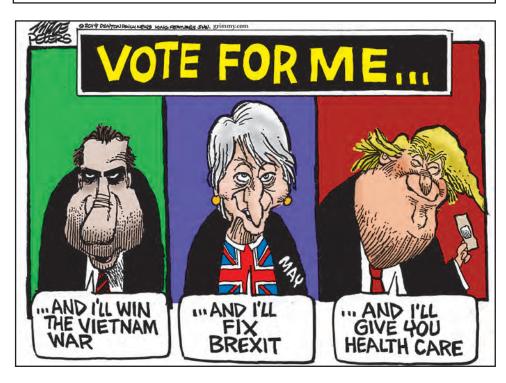

The chart below is a comparison of the financial impact of House Bill 3 for all 16 school districts in which part or all of the districts' boundaries are in Bell County. The funding per student is actually funding per "Average Daily Attendance" (ADA), because we only receive funding for students on the days they attend school. The enrollments of these districts vary considerably - from Bartlett with 320 students to Killeen with 40,593 students. In order to better compare them to our district, I also calculated what their total funding per year would be as a result of House Bill 3 based on our enrollment of 1,957 students.

The average funding increase per student of the other 15 districts as a result of House Bill 3 would be $984, which is more than double the $447 increase per student for our school district. Thus, House Bill 3 would increase the per student funding gap between our school district and the average of the other 15 districts from $1,861 per student to $2,399 per student. Based on our enrollment of 1,957 students, the total funding gap per year between our school district and these other districts would increase from $3,642,368 to $4,695,626. Our funding disadvantage as a percentage of total funding would increase from 23.7% to 28.9%.

I still support House Bill 3 in spite of the fact we would fall even further behind other districts from a financial standpoint. Could it be improved? Yes. However, as the French philosopher Voltaire once said, "The best is the enemy of the good." House Bill 3 would still provide our district an additional $872,822 that would benefit our students. House Bill 3 would also provide a slight reduction in property taxes by reducing our district's M&O tax rate from $1.04 per $100 of taxable value to $1.00 per $100 of taxable value.

The fate of House Bill 3 is now in the hands of the Texas Senate. Anyone that would like to share their opinion regarding House Bill 3 is welcome to contact the office of our State Senator, Dawn Buckingham, at (512) 463-0124 or (254) 939-3854.

Millions of Texas taxpayers have raised their voices, brought property taxes to the forefront

ANDY MEYERS COMMISSIONER PCT. 3

Millions of Texas taxpayers have raised their voices and helped bring property taxes to the forefront of discussion in the 86th Session of the Texas Legislature. While revenue caps and changes to the rollback tax rates have dominated the debate these last few months, there has been a significant push to address another highly effective method of lowering property taxes through transparency to taxpayers. Senate Bill 1253 by State Senator Lois Kolkhorst (R-Brenham) gives us citizens the full rights to examine how our tax dollars are raised and spent in special districts across Texas. If taxpayers are going to pick up the tab, they ought to be able to look at every item on the receipt.

As Fort Bend County Commissioner Precinct 3 representing the fastest-growing precinct, in one of the fastest-growing counties in the country, I have a lot of reasons to praise the work of the complex network of special districts that span across the metropolitan Houston region. The rapid growth of Fort Bend County has been made possible through hundreds of property tax collecting districts such as Municipal Utility Districts (MUDs), Levee Improvement Districts (LIDs), and other entities, and through the work of thousands of publicly elected board members who manage those tax-collecting districts.

Transparency for Texas taxpayers has made giant strides in the last decade. Starting at the top of statewide government, Fort Bend County resident and State Comptroller Glenn Hegar has a website that states, "open government is accountable government." On his official website, he provides online services such as searchable databases and data visualizations that help all Texans to understand state revenue, spending, and budget line items by agency and by subject matter.

Transparency for Texas taxpayers continues down to the city and county levels as well. In Fort Bend County, our citizens can go online and find annual budgets and audited financial statements that include the county's revenues and expenditures line-by-line. Our taxpayers can find the full agenda for every Commissioners Court meeting, along with backup document backups for items on that agenda. They can watch the commissioners meet live via streaming video online, or view archived video of previous meetings and workshops, and search the database of court agendas with any search term they like.

However, with special districts, there is no real transparency. There is no Texas law that requires special districts to make similar efforts to bring their information online for the public's benefit. They are not even required to maintain a website that lists the names of the publicly elected directors, or that identifies the time, date, and location of their meetings. Special districts are not even required to hold their meetings within the geographic boundaries of the district.

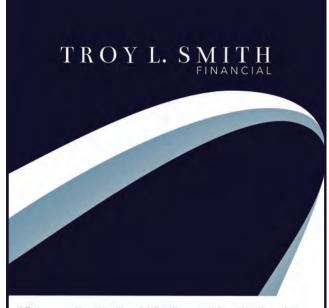

Senate Bill 1253 is a much-needed source of relief to taxpayers who are hungry for information and insight into their government. It brings budgets, meeting notices, names, and contact information to taxpayers who have every right to view these essentials, and it brings this information to them without the intermediary of legal counsel as gatekeeper. One of the common complaints I hear from citizens is how their special district chooses to hold their meetings dozens of miles away from the district in metropolitan Houston in the conference room of their legal counsel, making attendance virtually impossible for most working citizens.

Within my precinct in north Fort Bend County, it is commonplace to find special districts whose board has levied a property tax three times the rate assessed by the county. I know, because every year when the tax bills arrive in mailboxes, my office starts to receive calls from confused and disheartened citizens who call their county commissioner in despair after many hours of fruitlessly searching online for basic information on their special district. Some folks are able to find their district's phone number published through the TCEQ Water District Database, but they report that the phone rings straight to the attorney's office where legal counsel follows a carefully scripted process that protects the board's contact information.

Government of the people, by the people, and for the people should never be this complex. We should never add more layers to the onion when the technology exists to bring this information quickly, cheaply, and conveniently to taxpayers. As special districts add many thousands in taxes to our overburdened citizens, Senator Kolkhorst believes that it is time to give transparency to the taxpayers who pay those bills. I agree.

I proudly stand with Senator Kolkhorst in support of this legislation, and thank her for her commitment to provide transparency to all Texas taxpayers.

After picking up NTCA All-American First Team accolades April 10, Hazlewood was named to the NCAA Championship all-tournament team as she tallied seven strikes against the Commodores in the title match and collected five spares. She finished seventh among all bowlers in the three traditional team matches during the week, averaging a 220 game score with a pinfall total of 660.

Hazlewood and Beeney were both on the Lady-jacks' 2016 national championship team and close out their NCAA careers as the school's only two-time national champions in any sport.

Beeney started bowling at age 9, knocking down pins with her dad on Dad-daughter night every Sunday. She competed in youth bowling throughout high school and was a four-time high school state finalist. In 2014, she was a Teen Masters National Championship runner up. She was coached in high school by John Hood, playing at Georgetown Lone Star Lanes.

Beeney is a three-time NCAA All Tournament selection, twice as MVP. She was coached at the university level by Amber and Steve Lempke.

She was also named an NCAA Academic All-American four years running at SFA, where she maintains a 3.92 GPA.

10% Roll Back for Village Taxes?

Dear Residents,

I moved to Salado in 2011 after a 35 year career in education. My plan was to retire and help my mother stay out of a nursing home. She's 95 and going strong, so that plan is working!

My only other plan was to read all the books I missed while working. When my husband died, my daughter was 12 and I had two house mortgages and college expenses to manage. Today, my daughter is in the medical field in Austin, and I have no debt.

My life events made me a fiscal conservative, and that's how I would approach my duties as an alderman.

I will support a 10% across the board (except for the volunteer fire department) tax roll back. My research tells me the BOA has wasted a great deal of money with little accomplished to improve livability and safety in the village.

We rely on many wonderful volunteers to keep Salado beautiful, but as young families with two working parents move in, their priorities may be different than the retired volunteers.

Of course, some residents want more services from the village, and tell me they think taxes should increase. Having your taxes frozen when you turn 65 may make some more willing to call for an increase which doesn't affect them.

I worry about the young families who will face a large school tax increase in Fall 2019, and the business property owners who are also facing huge impact fees just to connect to the sewer fees just to connect to the sewer.

The village can help mitigate the financial shock of our growth with a little belt tightening. I've been there and done that in my own life, so let me help the village acquire a little real life financial wisdom.

Thank you for your support.

Appraisals

double in the funding formula. White said that the land values on appraisals were behind what the true market values were on sales

White said that there are 3,700 properties in Salado ISD and that in 2018 there were 400 real estate transactions. "There are a lot of properties moving in Bell County," he said.

of undeveloped lots recent-

He reviewed graphs that show Bell County and Salado to be at the lowest level of real estate inventory on record.

Most recently, Bell CAD compared the appraisal values to listing prices of properties that are currently on the mark in Salado ISD in Salado and found that those appraisals are at 84.37% of the listing prices.

White reviewed misconceptions about Homestead Exemptions.

"If the total market value of a homestead increases more than 10% from the prior year, then the appraised (assess, what you pay taxes on) value will only increase by 10% for that year," he said, "unless you have made new improvements on the property."

The 10% assessed value can be added each year until the value catches up to the true market value. So, for example, if your homestead increased by 30% this year, the taxable value will increase 10% this year. It will increase 10% next year and the following year.

White discussed what residents can do if they feel their home has been overvalued by the Bell CAD. He encouraged residents to come to the Appraisal District Office on weekdays up until the May 15 deadline to meet with appraisers and see what comparables were used to arrive at their value.

"If you bought your house in the past year and it the closing price was lower than our appraisal," he said, "bring those documents with you. If you have had a fee appraisal conducted recently and it is lower than ours, bring that information with you."

Residents who are unhappy with their appraisals may also protest online or by mail.

Salado Eagles Baseball dominate Burnet, lose to Lampasas

Burnet Salado

Salado Eagles beat Burnet easily 9-1 on April 9 in a home district game. The Eagles scored two runs in the bottom of the second. David Heath hit a double. His courtesy runner Zac went to third on an error by the second baseman fielding a hard grounder by Rustin Hale. Hale went to second and then third and Zac scored on an error by the catcher. Hale scored on a sac fly by Konnor Baird.

Salado added a run in the third. Ethan Scott singled. Parker Shelley sacrificed to get him to second. Dalton Hawes hit a hard grounder, reaching on an error by the shortstop and scoring Shelley for the 3-0 lead.

Hale scored a run for the Eagles in the fourth after leading off with a walk. He stole second and went to third when Baird was thrown out at first on a dropped third strike. Hale stole home for the run for a 4-0 lead.

The Eagles added two more in the fifth. Scott led off the frame with a walk. He went to second on a sacrifice by Shelley. Caleb Self walked. Hawes flew out to center and Scott went to third for runners at the corners with two outs. Heath walked, loading the bases. Hale popped up but an error by the third baseman let him reach and runners advance, including Scott to home plate. Courtesy runner Zac, in for Heath, scored on an error by the second baseman for the 7-0 lead.

JEFF KELLEY

#1. I feel the greatest strength in Salado ISD is our employees. All of our staff cares about our students and our community. One thing I think we can do to improve our employees is to ensure they have all the resources they need to be successful in the classroom.

#2. I feel the greatest weakness in our school district is the limited funding at the state level. I feel like we need to support any state representative that can make a difference in a positive way for school funding.

#3. I do not think that there is a strongest or a weakest campus. I feel like all campuses at this time are all working to the best of their abilities to make their students successful. This obviously varies campus to campus due to the age of the students on that particular campus.

#4. One thing that will help the traffic situation is after the new school is built having less people in that area. Until then I would like to see crossing guards to help with traffic flow and getting students where they need be more safely.

#5. At this point I would lean towards suggestions from our administration and teachers to lead us in what they feel is needed as I feel they will have a much better insight into what will help our students.

AMY McLane

#1. I believe the greatest strength of the SISD is the people. Our district is strong because of the teachers, the support steff, our principals and superintendent. I believe our teachers care and try to bring out the best in each student. We have a small school in a large district and we compete evenly in academic contests with much larger schools - thanks to the teachers who take the time to work with our kids. A teacher takes the time out of her/his day to email a parent with a word of encouragement, not just the bad news. I do believe the administration should continue to support the teachers and stay consistent with each student.

#2. A great weakness

in our district is a lack of CTE (Career and Technical Education) programs and I would like to see this area improved. By offering CTE programs such as welding, agricultural business or construction technology, students can learn skills needed to enter the workforce right out of high school. A food technology and safety class could help our students learn basics for working in a restaurant. An electrical technology class could help provide our community with our next Salado electrician. A turfgrass management program could study the effects of the new football field. A greenhouse operation program could collaborate with Keep Salado Beautiful by growing milkweed to be planted at Pace Park. I would strongly suggest adding more vocational programs to our district.

#3. I believe all the campuses have strengths and weaknesses, but each campus works together for the good of the district as a whole. Our district needs to continue to meet the state requirements regarding academic achievement on each campus. Our graduates need to be prepared to face the future, either in the workforce or at university. SISD needs to continue to keep the standards high and create seamless education plans from Pre-K to 12th grade for every student. Each campus has its separate challenges and student needs, but I believe the three campuses have to work in harmony for our district to succeed with all being a success. As Harry S. Truman once said, "It is amazing what you can accomplish if you do not care who gets the credit."

#4. Each day I drive

Thomas Arnold Road, in the morning and after school, and I am very aware of the issues regarding the traffic flow and the need for a safer system. Once the new middle school is finished, a good deal of the traffic will be moved to Williams Road, which will alleviate some of the burden during school hours. However, until that time, a change needs to be made. Suggestions could include traffic control officers, staggering start/end times, requiring students to be picked up in a car rather than walk out in the parking lot and/or using the area currently used for the baseball field as the bus line in the afternoon, creating an easier flow of car traffic in the main lot. I do believe a change is needed in regards to the traffic.

#5. I would like to see more CTE programs added to the curriculum and the District of Innovation plan gives more flexibility with this. In middle school, a class on investigating careers could give a 7th grader an idea of what he/she might want to do in the future. In high school, a building maintenance technology class could give a student the skills needed to enter the workforce as a building maintenance technician, immediately following graduation. Our district could use local craftsman and business leaders to help with the classes, providing a direct school-to-community link that will only strengthen Salado.

BRAND WEBB

#1. I feel that the support and involvement of the community are the district's greatest strengths and that can only be improved upon by the district continuing to engage and listen to the community. Another strength is that the district has been able to attract and retain great teachers, staff, and administrators. SISD can continue to improve by seeking additional funds and by continuing to look for innovative ways to utilize the funding it has in order to optimize educational opportunities.

#2. Anyone who has visited any of our schools knows they are very crowded, so I feel that SISD's greatest weakness is the lack of adequate space and aging facilities. Fortunately, we have taken a major step to address these issues with the passage of the recent bond and the beginning of construction on the new middle school along with other facility improvements. Unfortunately, the district is going to continue to be confronted with space and aging facility issues as the number of students moving into the district increases. This will make providing a safe and nurturing educational environment for our students a continuing challenge. For solutions to this issue, we will have to "think outside the box" in terms of how we utilize our current space in order to come up with innovative ways to use and enhance the facilities we currently have until such time that we are able to build and pay for new facilities.

#3. In a district the size of Salado, I feel that it would be counterproductive to single out one campus versus another as being "strongest" or 'weakest". Each of the SISD schools has completed a campus improvement plan in which strengths and weaknesses have been identified and improvement plans have been documented and implemented. While all SISD campuses do have their strengths and weaknesses, the way to best ensure that the district succeeds is to see that we continue to hire and retain highly competent teachers and staff, pay them competitive salaries, keep class sizes small, and guarantee that adequate educational funds and resources are provided to secure continued academic improvement for all students.

#4. Once the new middle school, baseball and softball fields are complete and the current sewage drain fields are no longer needed, some traffic will be directed away from the area and quite a bit of land will become available for use in helping to solve parking and traffic issues. Hopefully, the district is working now on a traffic plan that utilizes these spaces to enhance traffic flow and parking issues around the schools. In the meantime, the district might consider encouraging more students to ride the bus or carpool in order to reduce the number of vehicles coming to the schools. SISD should continue to work with the city and county on identifying and implementing circular routes and better utilizing all entrance and exit points around the schools to ease current traffic issues. Another suggestion is a "no left turn" policy for vehicles exiting the Thomas Arnold campus parking lots and drop off areas between cer-

#5. The district should continuously evaluate current college degree pathways and identify and implement courses that will prepare students for their college education. One area of interest to me is the development of a trades program to prepare those students who are not college bound for jobs in the trades sector which is rapidly losing skilled workers. With SISD being a relatively small district, it may be difficult to do this alone. The idea of partnering with other small local schools on such a program should be investigated.

Local Bootmaker hosts gathering of craftsman April 27 in Salado

By Stephanie Hood

The 10th Annual B & B Bootmaker's Gathering brings together leather craftsmen from across the southwest on April 27.

The gathering began when Duck Menzies, legendary Texas bootmaker, invited his fellow makers to join him for a bit of BBQ and boot shop talk.

The tradition continues, now hosted by Menzies' successor Dustin Lauw at Duck's Heritage Cowboy Boots on Brewer Road in Salado.

Lauw continues more than the annual gathering though. What began as 20 year old considering a career as a saddlemaker walking into Menzies' boot shop in Belton to order his first pair of custom made cowboy boots turned into a lifelong bond between mentor and apprentice. That first pair fit so well, Lauw ordered another and while he watched the boots take shape he realized that what he really wanted to do was make custom, handmade cowboy boots. Menzies agreed to teach him and Lauw never looked back.

Hours of painstaking, repetitive attention to detail is what it takes to make a custom fitted boot. You have to love it to be good at it. Menzies and Lauw shared that love of detailed craftsmanship and a friendship that led to Lauw inheriting the business and customer base after Menzies' death in 2014.

There is a level of skill involved in the mechanics of shaping a custom boot. But the true mark of a master is in the artistry. "Duck called me a top man." says Lauw. One look at his handiwork and you will understand why. He is a master craftsman when it comes to stitching and inlay work.

Clients meet with Lauw to determine a personal design, choose colors and types of leather. Top stitching on a custom cowboy boot is done with a single-needle machine, and it's done one row at a time. Lauw guides the leather through the machine and lines up the rows of colored thread next to each other, about 1/32 of an inch apart. Inlay combines multiple layers of shaped and cut leather into that process. Top stitching patterns are like calling cards for boot makers.

A pair of boots takes about 38 hours from start to finish at Duck's Heritage Cowboy Boots. Each pair is hand cut and formed on a last that matches the shape of each client foot to insure a comfort that you just cannot get off the shelf. Lauw is currently booking appointments about a year out. To make an appointment, call (254) 681-5300.

Custom handmade boots are something special in today's world of mass-produced goods. The circle of modern custom bootmakers is a small one, but they are a tight knit group of leatherwork artists that continue to improve and enhance their artistry through networking and the sharing of techniques.

The 31st Annual Tri-Regional meet of the Lincoln and Continentals Owners Club will be April 26-28 in Salado.

Lincoln and Continental owners gather April 26-28

The Tri-Regional Lincoln and Continental Owners Club Meet will be returning to Salado on April 26-28 for the 31st Annual all Texas LCOC meet. This year it will be held at the Holiday Inn Express Hotel in the Village of Salado.

For over three decades, the three Texas Regions of the Lincoln and Continental Owners Club have joined to put on a car show in Salado.

The Friday night welcoming party started out in the hospitality suite at the Stagecoach Inn. As the gathering grew, it became so crowded we had to make other arrangements.

Doc and Micki Ellis, long time Salado residents, were gracious enough to let the group have the party at their garage facility called the "City Garage" on I-35 just down the highway from the Stagecoach Inn. The "City Garage" is an old-timey garage from the 1940's era and for many years housed the Ellis' collection of vintage automobiles and memorabilia from the golden era of the roadside garage.

In late 2017 the Ellises sold the "City Garage" to Ron Harrison, a vintage and classic car restorer. Ron and his wife are again allowing the Lincoln and Continental Owners Club to have its Meet and Greet party on Friday night April 26 at the "City Garage."

The Lincoln and Continual meet has drawn as many as 60 cars and 100 + participants. Activities include early bird tour, Friday night BBQ, seminars, Peoples Choice competition, and Saturday night banquet and awards program.

The cars are on display for the public to view at the Holiday Inn Express, 1991 N. Stagecoach Rd., exit 286, on Saturday April 27.

Meet the candidates for Village of Salado Board of Aldermen

Four candidates have filed for three two-year terms on the Village of Salado Board of Aldermen.: Rodney W. Bell, John Cole, Dr. Amber Preston-Dankert and Linda Reynolds. The election will be May 4 with early voting April 22-30. Below is Q&A with the candidates.

In the coming editions, we will feature Q&A forums with the candidates on April 18, 25 and May 2.

Here are your first round of questions:

#1. How would you rate the economic health for Salado businesses? What would you suggest/support as an aldermen to improve this? (200 words)

#2. Will you support Economic Development Agreements with developers to bring more property into Salado? Will those agreements include waivers or reductions of the Sewer Impact Fees? How about property tax rebate, hotel motel occupancy tax rebates or sales tax rebates for commercial developments? If so, how much? If not, why not? (250 words)

#3. Should Salado pursue an agreement with the developer and owner of the TECQ wastewater certificate in the northwest ETJ (northwest corner of FM 2484 and I-35) in order to bring that future development and potential sewer facility into the Village? Why or why not? (200 words)

RODNEY W. BELL

#1. Since there is not a rating metric identified, I would say that we should always continue to improve and work for the economic success of Salado businesses. We should have a steadfast commitment to existing businesses and continue our focus on tourism and attracting visitors to our community. Maintaining a strong partnership with the Salado Chamber of Commerce and working together will help ensure a strong economic foundation that will benefit our existing businesses and residents.

#2. It will be highly unlikely that I would support an Economic Development Agreement with a developer to bring more property into our village. Our commitment needs to maintain our standards by adhering to our comprehensive plan. In addition, I would NOT agree to waivers or reductions to fees or taxes. My belief is that existing businesses have paid the cost in the past to invest and grow their businesses under a set fee and tax structure. We should reward the existing businesses that invested in our community. We cannot and should not blindly change the standard just to attract new growth. If developers want to be in our community, they should not expect waivers and tax breaks.

#3. The agreement being considered is a prime example of adding to the growth of our community. This cannot be done just to attract growth or additional revenue. I would be open to listening to the details around this addition, but I would not support tax rebates or waivers to our existing fee structures. In addition, I have a great concern for the environmental effects on the community as a whole. There is also a concern on how or if this facility would contribute revenue to the existing wastewater system or be independently operated. At this stage there are serious questions that need to be addressed before we move forward.

JOHN COLE

#1. From my point of view and without a comparison study with other communities of similar make-up, Salado appears to be struggling some. A few brief conversations with business owners and shoppers have revealed a few interesting points: similarity of items from store to store, the cost of doing business, the impacts of e-commerce trade, and unequal store recognition. As an alderman we must do our very best to support our downtown business that are the backbone of Salado. Some examples would be: fully recognize the impact of decisions that are about to be made by the BOA before they are made, review in-detail the return on investment for all village funded programs and activities that are in-place to help our businesses, hold open forums with business owners to hear their comments and concerns first hand and respond accordingly, work closely with TEXDOT to minimize the future impact of the main street improvement project, just to name a

cial agreements with developers. The existing BOA have imposed stringent demands on our existing businesses and the impacted residents regarding the new waste water system, so why give developers a break. We have a newly revised village comprehensive plan inplace to provide guidance and direction, and we have committees to oversee committees. If we make special agreements with every developer that comes along, we are setting a precedence by admitting we will do whatever it takes to develop out of desperation. We must stick to our plans and be smart about development and expansion or get rid of our plans if they no longer work in our best interests. As far as taxes, waivers, and rebates etc. NOT YET. We need revenue to maintain our roads, access ways, community upgrades & needed repairs, to include outfitting our fire department and our police department with the latest technology to address any emergency they may encounter. We need revenue to help sustain our community, and ONLY after these needs are addressed; taxes, waivers rebates etc. can be discussed. But remember, this is not a one man show, these types of decisions are a culmination of group discussions that should result in the most logical decisions.

#2. First off, NO on spe-

Developers want to come to Salado, so we need to stay the course. We need to guide them, so they develop in the best interest of Salado vs developing in their best interest. If we demand anything less, we will always fall victim.

#3. I think all existing and future services that may be beneficial to Salado need to be fully examined, modeled and analyzed. Any opportunity that can augment the city budget by adding a positive return on investment that may result in an alternative to future tax increases, should be fully investigated.

In closing; the next two years as very critical for Salado. Many see only negative, but I see only positive. We must stay focused and seek out all opportunities and potential benefits, identify any and all road blocks early on, and push forward today for a better Salado tomorrow.

#1. It seems that business is picking up in Salado. But, we cannot forget those businesses that have closed during the I-35 construction, and current construction projects. I feel that, although economic health is critical to a successful, well-balanced Village, the Board of Aldermen need help in monitoring this. With input from the Chamber, Tourism office, and direct business contact, we should first understand the needs of the businesses. Are the issues they face related to advertising? Access? Infrastructure? I believe that the answers will vary according to their location and business type. But, the root of the issue starts with communication. And, in order for businesses to communicate with the BOA, they have to trust the BOA. Relationship-building step 1.

#2. The answer is one I don't like to give often: it depends. I believe that a agreement, development when done correctly, can be beneficial to both the Village and the developer. But, "selling the farm" has become more of the norm in the Village. We have to first understand that people WANT to move to Salado. We need to have documentation ready to pass out to potential developers about all the PROS to being part of the Village. Infrastructure plays a BIG part of that discussion. Reductions, waivers, and rebates can be on the table, but not at the expense of increasing the tax burden on current residents and business owners. And, we must always consider how infrastructure repairs (i.e. roads, utility lines) will be funded if we give away too much. Property tax rebates, hotel/motel tax rebates, and sales tax rebates impact our bottom line, and we are not able to do as much to support current residents and businesses. It can be a slippery slope, and caution must be used before making promises we can't keep. With the school

expansion and associated tax increase, and the sewer tax increase, residents are TAXED ENOUGH.

#3. Absolutely! This plant would provide the ability to expand even more along the west side of I-35, provide closer access to the hotels, and allow for more development along FM 2484. That is, IF the facility could be procured without additional tax implications to the Village residents. Should the plant and infrastructure be donated, and the only cost would be to additions to capacity and regular maintenance of the plant and existing lines, it would be an excellent opportunity. Special caution must be given to the development of the plant, and its proximity to Capps Branch creek. And, the Village Engineer must be involved as early as possible to ensure that the specifications and requirements are appropriate for the needs of the Vil-

LINDA REYNOLDS

#1. HAPPY DAYS ARE....Every month, our Village Manager says Sales Tax is up over last year! The economic health of the village is excellent!

Can it be improved? Of course there is always room for improvement. As one businessman said to me, "I just need the village government to stay out of my way!"

The best action the BOA can take is to put money back into resident's pocket with a 10% tax cut. The village already receives in sales tax and franchise fees more dollars than property taxes.

Put money back in local tax payer's pocket, so they can enjoy a night out at many of our wonderful dining options. Put money back in tax payer's pocket so they can shop for Mother's or Father's day presents in our beautiful gift shops.

Let's boost the Salado economy and stay out of the business communities' way.

#2. I WILL LISTEN. You would think ANYONE elected to the BOA would support Economic Development as long as the highly paid Village manager and our Village lawyers give the OK. I will listen.

I would also want the go ahead from any neighborhood that may be impacted by a development project. Elected officials need to cause no harm to those who already chose to live in Salado.

I once heard an Alderman say, developers should want to be in Salado. We shouldn't have to give it away.

How about a survey? We did it for the deer. Why not ask the residents about economic development and how they envision the future of Salado.

I've heard enough people tell me why they moved to Salado to make me be VERY careful about all development plans. If our manager and lawyer say NO....as was the case with the Sanctuary....I will listen. If Bell County says, "Don't pass the concept plan..", I will listen.

If flooding concerns are expressed by neighbor's, I will listen.

If traffic concerns are expressed by neighbor's, I will listen.

In the past, decisions were made by three aldermen and the others were ignored. I may be one alderman, but you can count on me listening and making all decisions with the best interests of the whole village in mind.

#3 THAT COW HAS LEFT THE BARN! The gentleman developing the northwest corner of Salado tried, during the past year, to connect to our sewer. The two hotels that have been supporting the village with hotel and sales taxes also tried to join the sewer.

The current BOA with Fred Brown as mayor protem would not support a deal. Everybody keeps waiting for the pie-in-the-sky Sanctuary.

I think it is ironic that The Music Man is being performed in Temple, (Charlatan snookers a small town!)

Even with the past Village manager and lawyers saying NO...three aldermen pushed through the Sanctuary agreement.

I suspect the Belton mayor is waiting to welcome Pampa development group into their town as soon as the Salado Commercial Center WWTP is done and building begins...perhaps by summer.

I know I am hoping to be at the top of a list for condo purchase.

Cow out of the barn... ship has sailed.

A new BOA should certainly try to reach out....but I will not be holding my breath.

The bidding: North West East South Pass 1 🚓 1 🏚 Pass Pass Opening lead — queen of spades.

Appearances can be very deceiving. This is just as true in bridge as it is in everyday life.

Take this case where, because of an unlucky 4-0 trump division, South seems doomed to go down one in four spades, losing two trumps, a heart and a diamond. Yet when the play ended, declarer had 10 tricks, the opponents only three, and, what's more, there was absolutely nothing the defenders could have done about

When dummy came down, the play seemed routine. The obvious losers were a diamond, a heart and perhaps a trump. But when declarer took the opening spade lead with the king and East showed out, what had looked like an easy contract took on a decidedly different hue.

Undaunted, declarer proceeded to demonstrate that everything is not always as it appears to be. He started by playing the ace and another diamond, losing to the queen. West returned a second trump to the ace, whereupon South led a club to the ace and ruffed a club.

A diamond was ruffed in dummy, followed by a second club ruff. Declarer then cashed the K-A of hearts and trumped dummy's last club.

By this time, 11 tricks had been played, and South had won 10 of them. The last two tricks were taken by West's two spade winners, one of which obliterated his partner's heart trick. The four "sure" losers were thus telescoped into just three.

Declarer's 10 tricks came from scoring three ruffs in his hand and another in dummy to go with the A-K of trumps and four top winners in the side suits. Apparent defeat was converted into victory by getting maximum mileage out of the trump suit.

White-winged Dove

White-winged Dove are gregarious

Michael Price

Wild About Texas

"Just like the whitewinged dove..." These lyrics were made famous back in 1982 when Stevie Nicks (of the band Fleetwood Mac) released the single "Edge of Seventeen" from her debut solo album titled "Bella Donna". So popular was this song that it reached #11 on the Billboard Top 100 that particular year. One has to wonder whether Nicks could have possibly understood the impact of those lyrics on a young naturalist. "... sings the song that sounds like she's singing who, who, who".

The White-winged Dove (Zenaida asiatica) is a large species of dove whose natural range lies primarily in Mexico. It can also be observed in the United States in a slim line from southern California eastward to southern Florida. In Texas, it is a summer migrant in the Panhandle but occurs year-round in the Big Bend, Edwards Plateau, and Tamaulipan thournscrub eco-regions.

At first glance, this large species is somewhat drab in coloration. It has grayish brown upper and underparts with a distinctive large white patch on the outer edges of its wings. These distinctive white patches on the wings are where this species common name is derived from. It also has smaller, less noticeable white patches on the on the relatively short and rounded tail. The head, aside from the brilliantly colored orange-red eyes surrounded by blue skin is colored like the rest of the bird. The bill is dark blue, and only slightly curved, while the throat is grayish and typically unmarked. The legs are comparatively short and red tweetres.

es eighteen inches, it is the second largest species of dove that can be encountered in the west Texas.

The White-winged Dove is a gregarious species, commonly observed in large groups. It has been reported that these groups can number in the thousands in certain areas in the west, although groups of more than colored. With a body length of about twelve inches and a wingspan that approach-

twenty are rarely encountered in west Texas. They feed almost exclusively on grains and other seeds, although fruits from cacti and trees are occasionally accepted. The flight pattern is easily recognizable as it is a direct path with strong and rapid wing-beats. The strength of the wingbeats is often heard in the sound of whistle as the bird flies by.

These social birds pair up during the breeding season, with the male and female remaining monogamous during such time. The nest is placed either near the ground in various cacti plants or shrubs, or more commonly, in trees up to thirty feet above ground. The nest is made up of grasses, sticks and stems. More often than not, the male gathers the materials while the female is charged with the nest building. The two (rarely three) eggs are medium-sized (just over one inch in length) and unmarked and cream-colored. These eggs hatch in less than two weeks after the males and females alike take turns at incubating them. After hatching, both sexes continue to tend to the helpless young until they leave the nest just two weeks after hatching. Juveniles are colored similar to the adults, and up to three broods per year have been recorded.

White-winged Doves have been reported to fly over twenty miles to obtain drinking water. This is another species of bird that has adapted quite well to human habitation, utilizing man-made cattle tanks to supplant the need for natural water courses. The use of birdbaths and bird feeding stations with small seeds will attract this common species of dove to your yard for closer observation.

Texas MG owners return in May

The Texas MG Register 2019 Spring Gathering of the Faithful will be held for the 44th time in Salado on May 16-19.

The weekend gathering celebrates the magic of the cars and the many friendships made through the years. The GOF is an opportunity to see old friends and make new acquaintances. The trials and tribulations of owning, driving and maintaining these small British sports cars helps create a special bond with MG owners as knowledge is shared in keeping them on the road.

The event starts at the Salado Winery on May 16 at 4 p.m. for wine and hos d'oeuvres. There will be scenic drives, lunches, dinners and time to visit other MG owners during the weekend. The car show will start at 10 a.m. May 18 in Pace Park. The Awards Banquet will be later that night in Jack's Barn. The host hotel is the Holiday Inn Express in Salado. There will be a pizza party with a DJ at the host hotel parking lot on May 17, where dancing under the stars will be encouraged.
