An Open Exchange of Ideas

McCain's Dubious High Ground

For people supposedly occupying the moral high ground, John McCain and his band of Republican rebels defying President Bush on the issue of interrogation have a strange attachment to confused argumentation.

They maintain that the United States can't define more precisely its obligations for the treatment of unlawful combatants under the vague language of Common Article 3 of the Geneva Conventions to allow the tough interrogations of terrorists, as Bush proposes, lest our troops in turn be tortured upon capture. McCain warns that such a definitional exercise risks "the lives of those Americans who risk everything to defend our country."

What pleasant, alternate reality does the Arizona Republican inhabit? Perhaps he missed the story a few months ago about the two American soldiers captured by al-Qaida in Iraq. Al-Qaida released a video of them, described by the British newspaper The Guardian: "One of them, partially naked, had been beheaded and his chest cut open. ... Fighters were shown turning the bodies over and lifting the head of the decapitated man."

This is savagery immune to a domestic legal debate in the U.S. Maybe McCain and Co. think that the U.S. debate at least will influence our more reasonable adversaries. But since when have we fought a regime -- Saddam's Iraq, Milosevic's Serbia, North Vietnam, North Korea, Imperial Japan, Nazi Germany -- that is not barbarously committed to repression and murder?

No one in the U.S. had broached clarifying Common Article 3 in 1967 when McCain was shot down and captured by the North Vietnamese, who proceeded to beat him routinely and keep him in solitary confinement for years. The North Koreans were equally disgusting. As a U.S. Senate committee concluded: "American prisoners of war who were not deliberately murdered at the time of capture or shortly after capture, were beaten, wounded, starved and tortured."

Ah, if only the North Koreans had known how committed we were to giving the widest possible Common Article 3 protections to terrorists, maybe they would have re-thought their detention policies. McCain and Co. have a case of treaty fetishism. That is the belief that a piece of paper will alter the behavior of thugs. But a government will abide by the Geneva Conventions only if it is civilized; and if it is civilized, it is unlikely we will be fighting it.

The irony is that, for all his preening, McCain supports what he would call "torture" if the conditions are right. He has said of a ticking-time-bomb scenario -- a terrorist has information of an imminent attack -- "you do what you have to do. But you take responsibility for it" (i.e. get sued or prosecuted). In other words, McCain wants to make it legally problematic for interrogators to undertake the very interrogations that he supports.

In real life, the closest we get to a ticking-time-bomb scenario is the one that prompted the CIA interrogation program -- the capture of high-level al-Qaida operatives with knowledge of ongoing plots. McCain can't bring himself to say that he opposes the program outright, so he professes to support it, but refuses to give the program the legal cover necessary for it to continue. And this is the moral high ground?

GOP shaken over Foley scandal; House Ethics group investigating leadership inaction; Demo takeover is predicted

Politicians and their related state and national parties - both Republican and Democrat, need to be aware that by wrapping themselves in self-styled cloaks of righteousness, they are skating on very thin ice since the standards they embrace (for whatever purpose) brook no individual (or group) failures especially their ideas about "correct" moral behavior, superior virtue, and piety.

The Republican Party may have learned this "fact of life" the hard way in recent days, as their promotional banners and mottos touting "Our values," "Our belief system" and "Our Values- Voters" (whatever that means) have become tattered with embarrassment.

FOLEY SCANDAL EXPLODES

A repugnant scandal rocked the GOP on September 29, (last day of the current congressional session), when six-term Representative Mark Foley (R-Florida) abruptly resigned shortly before NBC released documented information that Foley, who headed the Congressional Caucus on Exploited Children, had a long history of sending sexually explicit e-mail, and other suggestive internet correspondence to teenage boys employed as Pages in the House of Representatives.

That explosion revealed yet another example of dishonoring a high public office. And adding to the horror were the emerging facts that House leaders and some followers, had created what appears to have been a "covert caucus," apparently designed to keep a tight lid on "in-house & member" problems.

These officials totally abused "their" power, by knowing about the despicable pedophilic activities and doing (or saying) nothing to protect the young people in their care.

Leaders of the "cover-up" group were Republicans Dennis Hastert, Speaker of the House; John A. Boehner, Majority Leader; and Rep. Thomas Reynolds, National Republican Congressional Committee Chairman.

ETHICS COMMITTEE

Immediately after the scandal broke GOPers began distancing themselves from Foley and the suddenly embattled Hastert who is frantically denying he was told of the problem before the story broke. That stance was blown when GOP majority leader John Boehner (R-Ohio) ratted on his boss: "It's in Hastert's corner. It's his responsibility." So much for loyalty at the GOPtop!

Late last week, Hastert, while adamantly brushing aside demands for his resignation, activated a "special" group from within the House Ethics Committee with orders to launch an immediate investigation into the Foley disaster, with results due before the November 7, election.

The question of "who knew what and when" will be the first order of business, along with discovering the extent to which young pages have been harassed by members of congress from either party.

Subpoenas for witnesses and documents have been issued. Several members of congress reported, from their home headquarters, plans to investigate (in January 2007) how the Pages are supervised and protected.

Promising future studies and investigations are old tricks lawmakers use to "fade the heat."

FOLEY'S PEDOPHILIA WELL KNOWN

Evidence already gathered, indicates Foley's attraction to young boys was well known by many House members during the past five years. Result? Mild warnings - but only to the Pages! Later the matter became more intensely obvious, yet nothing was done - other than concealing the problem.

And, finally when ABC broke the story, most "in-the-know" members suddenly developed memory-losses concerning the pedophilic warnings about Foley.

Memory does strange things when all "hell breaks loose" in the political arena. Recollections suddenly become elusive and with an astonished "who-me?" look, these schemers scurry around seeking a place in which to hunker-down. A dodge that rarely succeeds.

FOLEY'S EXCUSES

Foley's lawyer is racing around telling the public that the disgraced congressman has entered a rehab center for alcoholism treatment.

Also on the pettifoggng-excuse list: (a) Foley was intoxicated when he sent the e-mails; (b) He is gay; and (c) he had been molested by a clergyman when he was a young boy.

Knowledge that Foley was a homosexual drunk, and messing around with young boys was well known for years, so trying to build a case that he's a victim rather than a predator, would be laughable, if the matter were not so devastatingly serious.

LIMBAUGH HALF-RIGHT

As expected, right-wing talking TV heads and print commentators cranked up their machines and offered a wide variety of analyses on how best to resolve this expanding political meltdown within the GOP.

One "interesting" mouthing came from Rush Limbaugh who serves as cheerleader for extreme conservatism. He's a guy who moves at mach-speed in full support of the Bushies, while rarely slowing down to pick up facts.

Limbaugh declared, following the NBC exposure, that the entire Mark Foley matter was the product of a liberal conspiracy!

Well folks, he was half right, which is better than average for "Mr. Standpatism," because this disgrace does have a conspiratorial slant to it, and that assigns culpability to both House Republicans and Democrats.

Members on both sides of the aisle knew about Foley's nasty predilection as an active pedophile years ago and did nothing - thereby creating a "conspiracy," and consequently all are guilty. The moment Foley's disgusting activities became known, he should have been forced to resign, and the pages immediately counseled and protected from any future pedophilic dangers.

But the game in D.C. is "cover-up" unless the media spotlights a problem, and then "it's protect your backside time!"

REMINDER ABOUT CASTING STONES

Democrats have been warned by their leaders to keep their mouths shut and let the scandal unwind without "partisan-judicial" comment, since nothing can stop the force of disgust that's mounting against Republican leaders in particular, and Congress in general. We would also remind Demos of the biblical admonition about casting the first stone.

George Will, a scholarly conservative columnist, ended his October 5 column with a statement that fits perfectly with the conclusion to this week's "Off The Record."

Will noted that Democrats need only 15 seats to take over the House, and that if they cannot now win at least that minimum number "they should go into another line of work."

More on TXU plans

Your Voice

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,

I find all the fuss about the proposed TXU power line routes interesting and some of it possibly misleading.

I have heard it said that this power line will benefit only TXU by allowing them to transport electricity to the south of Salado. I hardly think that line will benefit only power users to our south. Electricity can travel in both directions on that line and it will be tied into the Texas power grid established by ERCOT. If TXU finds that it cannot meet the demand for power in Salado for whatever reason, electricity can be moved North on that line to serve our needs. Bell County and the surrounding area are growing and will continue to grow. This means there will be a continuing need for additional power in this area. This power line is nothing more than evidence that Central Texas is continuing to attract people and industry.

As for the line being an eyesore and being a distraction for the Salado Historical District I don't think that will be the case. First, the proposed route east of Armstrong Rd. will be more than four miles east of Main Street. The towers may be as much as 170' tall, but I don't think they can be seen from Main Street. I'm not sure how far west of I-35 the proposed west route is to be located, but if it can be seen from Main Street, it will hardly be a distraction. And I think we may all rest assured that TXU will not locate that line close enough to any school for it to even remotely pose a problem for the students. As for people seeing the line from Main Street, that is a possibility, but most people are accustomed to seeing big power lines and to those people these lines are just a sign of continuing growth in an area.

Speaking of distractions, I wonder how many people were even aware of the existing sub-station about 1.5 miles north of Salado before this debate started? I have lived in Salado seven years and I have seen the power line crossing I-35 from the West countless times. It was just another high voltage power line to me and I never looked to the east to see where it was going. I expect the new line will be just as unnoticeable after a few weeks. I will say the existing line on the west side of I-35 certainly does not seem to have any adverse effect on the grass growing in that pasture or the cattle grazing on that grass.

Mention has been made of the potential for illnesses from this line. I've heard similar stories for many years. I have yet to hear of one single illness known to be caused by one of these power lines. I lived by and worked in and around these lines and the power plants where the electricity is generated for more than 40 years and I suffered no ill effects. One writer mentioned that induced voltage from this power line could cause harm to a person. Of course that is true, but the person being harmed would have to be within a few feet of the line for this to happen. All I can say is if this happens to someone, they should not have been climbing on that tower in the first place.

There is talk about it damaging Salado Creek and disrupting the ecology in the area where the line is located. I'm sure an EPA mandated environmental impact study has been done for the proposed route. Any potential damage or disruptions will be addressed. TXU does not just draw a line on a map and say this is where we will put the line. They may select the route of preference, but they will have to prove it will not have an adverse effect on Mother Nature.

ERCOT may have determined the need for another power line from San Antonio to Temple. However, companies like TXU and Reliant use 10 to 20 year business projections to decide where to locate power plants and high voltage power lines. If they didn't plan this far ahead, many of us may not have the dependable power supply we enjoy. I read where this line is projected to be completed in 2010. That means construction probably will not be started before 2009. Since a line of this magnitude will take less than a year to construct many changes can occur before that date.

From where I sit, this power line is just further proof of our ever-growing population and the energy needs that comes with that growth.

Sincerely,
Bob Smith

Salado loses another business due to codes

To the Editor:

Once again, the Village of Salado has lost another business venture.

My husband and I have been in the planning stages to open a new business on our property located at 700 N. Main Street since April 2006.

We got a permit, paid for an Environmental Survey and had the existing building that was on the property removed so that we could place a more tasteful and aesthetically-pleasing structure on the property. We then met with the Inspector to measure and discuss the size of our building. At that time, we were told we had room for a 30' wide building. Just needed to be sure we allowed 5 foot setbacks on either side to comply with the fire code. After expenditures in excess of $8,000, we were told by the Inspector that placing a 30' wide building on our property would be in violation of the "Historical District Ordinance." This ordinance states that there must be a 10' set-back from any existing structure or property line.

We submitted a written request to go before the Board of Aldermen and discuss the possibility that our property be removed from the "Historical District." There is no historical structure located in the area from Old Town Salado on the west side of Main Street down to and including Compass Bank.

Letters to the Editor

In response to our request, we were given two options: 1) submit a rezoning application to the Village, along with a $300 fee, or 2) request a variance to the setback requirements which constitutes submitting an application along with a $75 fee. Either way, all property owners within 200 feet of our property must be notified of our request at least 10 days prior to the public hearing. The P&Z meets on the second Tuesday of the month, therefore our request would not be heard until Nov. 14. AND our request to be put on the next Board of Aldermen agenda was denied.

What's up with that??? We, as citizens, feel we should be able to speak to the Board of Aldermen without paying either a $300 or $75 fee to discuss a variance or any other subject that might come to mind. Why are we subject to a P&Z committee of which the ordinance states two of these members making up the committee DO NOT even have to be citizens of the Village?

I would also like to add that copies of this letter denying our right to go before the Board of Aldermen were sent to Bruno Matarazzo and Alderman Suzi Epps. Seems to me, the Mayor and all of the Aldermen should be advised in such cases.

In the event any of you reading this letter think our concerns are petty -- get ready for that "city tax" that will soon be imposed on all of the citizens due to lack of sales tax revenues.

Salado undefeated in District 25AA

Eagles dominate Cougars, 40-5

By TIM FLEISCHER

Seth Collins carries a Jarrell defender as he tries to dive through the line during the Salado Eagles' 40-5 win over the Cougars Oct. 6.

For the second straight week, Salado Eagles defense has held its District 25AA opponent to less than 100 yards offense while the Eagles' offense has amassed over 200 yards, this time en route to a 40-5 thumping of the Jarrell Cougars at Eagle Field Oct. 6.

The convincing win clearly puts the Eagles in the hunt for a playoff spot, if not an outright district championship two weeks into district play.

Just as they did against Academy, last year's district champs that are now 0-2 in district play, Salado exhibited its dominance early, drawing blood within the first three minutes of play. The Eagles defense sacked Jarrell punter Patrick Sherek for an eight-yard loss at the Cougars' two yard line. The Cougars faced the fourth-down-and-forever in their first possession due to a tough defense that threw Josh Fletcher for a five yard loss on first down and nabbed quarterback Kaleb Cox for a 13-yard loss on third down thanks in part to a bad snap.

Salado's Leo Galvan followed blockers around the left side of the line for the five-yard touchdown run. He had been caught in the backfield on first down for a three-yard loss. Galvan added the point-after kick for Salado's early 7-0 lead.

Most of the first half looked like a defensive showcase as neither team was able to move the ball much. The Cougars took advantage of Andrew Sumner's interception of a David Rosenau pass at the Jarrell 48 yard line by driving to the Eagles' eight yard line in six plays, where they settled for a 25-yard Brodie Carlin field goal with 7:00 left in the half to get as close to Salado as they would for the whole night, 7-3.

Salado's Tyler Wright blocked Sherek's punt when the Cougars faced fourth down at their own 27 yard line. This gave Salado the ball at the Cougar 17 yard line. Rosenau dropped back into the pocket and then dashed untouched through the Cougars defenders for the 17 yard touchdown at 2:07 in the half. The PAT was wide right, giving Salado a 13-3 halftime lead.

The Eagles blew the door off the hinges in the second half, scoring 27 points, and allowing just two points by Jarrell on a point-after try that was returned 90 yards.

Salado drove 70 yards in six plays midway through the third quarter, with Galvan diving in from the one yard line. Rosenau hit Tanner Myers for 10 yards before running a quarterback draw up the middle for 12 yards to get across midfield. Galvan moved the ball eight yards before Blake Newman took the handoff, ran around the right end,

Girls improve to 6-4 in district, Lady Eagles sweep Jarrell, Troy

The Salado Lady Eagle volleyballers earned a pair of district victories in games last week, defeating first Troy, then following that up with a win over Jarrell.

Against Jarrell Oct. 6, the Lady Eagles won in three straight games, downing the Lady Cougars 25-21, 25-16 and 25-16. "We started this match pretty flat, but finally got something going in the last two games," commented Coach Bree Holz. "Jarrell served very tough in the match, which made it difficult to get into an offense."

On the night, sophomore Danielle Hazzard registered 10 kills, one ace and five digs, while junior Lauren Haire recorded seven kills to go along with two assists. Junior Kamyille Palomino tallied four kills, one ace and five digs, and senior Larissa Ingalsbe put together 22 assists, two aces and two digs.

Prior to the win over Jarrell, Salado dispatched Troy in four games, winning by a final of 25-14, 25-19, 20-25 and 25-20. Coach Holz credited the team's defense with the win. "This was a great defensive victory for us," she said. "We blocked their hard attacks well, and were able to read their offense - whether they were tipping or swinging - and adjusted to it. We've got to take this momentum and use it through the rest of district play."

Ingalsbe had another strong all-around performance versus Troy, putting together nine kills, 35 assists, six digs and one block. Hazzard had 13 kills, two aces and eight digs, and Rooney notched 11 kills, 11 digs and one block. Haire had eight kills to go along with one dig and one block, while Palomino came through with four kills, 14 digs, three aces and one block, and sophomore libero Lindsey Coffey had 15 digs.

The wins improved the Lady Eagles to 6-4 in district, and 15-10 overall.

JV White shuts out Jarrell 38-0

JV Red improves to 5-0

On the strength of explosive offense coupled with stifling defensive play, the Salado JV "Red" team cruised to 5-0 by thumping Jarrell Oct. 5 by a final of 41-7.

In a rarity this season, the Eagles actually found themselves trailing after the first quarter, as the Cougars collected an Eagle fumble and returned it 70 yards for a touchdown and the game's first score.

In the second quarter, the Eagle defense forced its second turnover of the game, which was recovered by Josh Rodriguez, setting the Eagles up with great field position. However, Salado was unable to cash in on the opportunity, and on the ensuing possession Jarrell drove the ball down to the Eagle 10-yard line before Garrett Ward blocked an attempted field goal. Three plays later, the Eagles got on the board when Jared Lutz scored on a 20-yard run. The PAT was blocked, and the teams went to the half with Jarrell nursing a 7-6 lead.

Receiving the kickoff to start the second half, the Eagles promptly marched 70 yards down the field to take the lead. A 40-yard pass from Ward to Bryce Dunks helped set up a 10-yard TD run by Clayton Whitmire. Matt Ming hauled the two-point pass from Ward to give Salado a 14-7 lead. From then on, Salado would dominate.

On the ensuing kickoff, Justin Berumen stripped the ball away from the Cougar ball carrier. A few plays later, Berumen plunged into the end zone from two yards out. On Jarrell's next offensive play Salado again stripped the ball and Ward collected the loose ball and returned it 40 yards for another score. Before the quarter would end, Salado would force yet another turnover, setting up the offense in great position to start the fourth.

In that quarter, Whitmire scored from 10-yards out for a touchdown. Later, as Jarrell was driving for a score, Sean Meredith picked up a pass in the end zone and took it just passed the goal line. After Jacob Peschel gave the Eagles some breathing room with a pair of nifty runs, Whitmire took the ball, made a nice cut, and scampered down the field untouched for an 80-yard touchdown run, bringing the score to its 41-7 final.

"We played the first half pretty sluggishly, and turned the ball over a few times after getting great field position," said Coach Scott Ringo. "In the second half, though, we physically beat Jarrell and played exceptionally well."

The defense had a strong second half, limiting Jarrell to only six offensive plays.

Salado JV "White" - 38
 Jarrell - 0

The Salado "White" team, composed primarily of freshmen, throttled the host Jarrell team, dominating from start to finish. The win improved the team's record to 2-3.

On the game's third play from scrimmage, Michael Norman picked off a Cougar pass and returned it 47 yards for a score. On the next Eagle drive, Trae Liller scored on a 42-yard run, and Danny Michaels added the two-point conversion. Also in the second, Jace Peralta took it in from the 11 yard line for the score, and also successfully ran in the two-point try.

In the second half it was more of the same, as Peralta notched another score, this time on a three yard plunge. In the fourth quarter the Eagles put together a long drive, culminating in a seven yard touchdown run by Clayton Weatherly. Michaels' two-point run capped the scoring.

"This was a great team effort," said Coach Rocky Boaz. "The players were focused and ready to play, and all their hard work paid off."

Standouts in the game included the entire offensive line, and defensively, Juan Magadan, Scotty Villareal and Jose Castello turned in fine performances.

Salado Eighth - 28
 Jarrell - 16

In the victory over Jarrell, Cole Calder scored on a 60-yard run, Hunter Ward hauled in a 70-yard touchdown pass, Braxton Tucker scored on a 40-yard reception and Chris Norman scored on a 10-yard run, and also converted the two-point try. Coaches said it was a great overall team effort. The eighth graders are 1-2.

Salado Seventh - 12
 Jarrell - 16

The seventh graders suffered their first loss in this close game. Austin Sylva scored in the opening quarter on a 60-yard run, and Payton Best scored in the fourth quarter on a 60-yard touchdown reception. The seventh graders are 2-1 overall.

finally getting tackled at the one yard line. The PAT gave Salado a healthy 20-3 lead with 4:57 left in the third quarter.

The defense forced Jarrell to one of its six three-and-out series, taking over possession at the Eagles 29 yard line. Rosenau led Salado down the field on a 36 yard pass to Myers, followed by a 12 yard run to the left side by Newman, scoring with 1:08 left in the third period. Galvan's PAT brought the score to 27-3.

The Eagle defense, which allowed only 87 yards total offense on the night, forced another three-and-out, this one capped by a 19-yard punt, giving Salado the ball at the Jarrell 39 yard line.

Seven plays later Seth Collins found the endzone from the two yard line. The highlight of the drive was when Salado lined up for fourth down and six at the Cougars' 35 yard line. Rosenau dropped back into the pocket, scrambled out of the protection and away from Jarrell defensive linemen and threw to Newman for 15 yards and a fresh set of downs at the Cougar 20 yard line. Rosenau then ran for another 12 yards and hit Myers for six yards to get the ball to the two yard line. The PAT snap went over the holder's hands and Jarrell's Denis Crathers picked up the loose ball and ran it 90 yards into the other endzone for two points to the Cougars, bringing the score to 33-5.

Salado's final score came after the Eagles snuffed Jarrell's Fletcher at the Cougar 46 yard line on a fourth down and one to go. Collins then took three straight handoffs up the middle, the final one for the 36-yard touchdown with 3:09 left in the game. A successful PAT kick brought the score to 40-5.

Justin Konzen had 14 tackles and two quarterback hurries. Matt Fritsch had 13 tackles (2 unassisted tackles), and knocked down a pass. Tyler Wright had nine tackles (2 unassisted) and knocked down a pass. Blake Hancock registered nine tackles (2 unassisted) and had two quarterback hurries. Ethan Williams had five tackles (1 unassisted, a tackle for loss and a sack), and four quarterback hurries. Leo Galvan had seven tackles (two unassisted). Alonzo Galvan had seven tackles (two unassisted and a tackle for loss) and a quarterback hurry. Patrick Prince had seven tackles. Dallas Butts had seven tackles (one tackle for loss). Justin Powell had six tackles and a quarterback hurry. Kevin Jackson had four tackles (one unassisted and a sack). Adam Patton had three tackles, an interception and knocked down a pass. ## Eagles face district's top offense

For a decade, the Rogers Eagles have dominated the district, but last year saw a dramatic drop in their performance, which allowed Salado to crush their district 25AA nemesis 35-0. Expect Rogers to put up some offense this week when the Eagles squad face off in Rogers at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 13.

If Salado is unlucky this Friday the Thirteenth, the Rogers squad could put up a lot of offense. Currently Rogers leads the district in overall offense with 1,897 yards through five games. However, Troy held Rogers to just eight points in last week's win, 30-8.

In order to replicate that,

Salado will have to key on R. J. Ledford and Ricky Brenick, who are the second and third leading rushers in the district with 547 yards and 507 yards respectively. Ledford is also the top receiver in the district with 269 yards on 14 receptions, for an average of 19.21 yards per catch.

Salado's defense may be the antidote to Rogers' offense as the Eagles have allowed less than 100 yards total offense in three of their five games, including the last two district matches.

"We will have to get lined up and be sure to be in the right spots," Head Coach Jeff Cheatham said.

"Rogers gives defenses a lot of problems with their varied formations."

Salado will continue to rely upon its multi-pronged offensive attack. "We may not have any of leaders individually, but we are winning now because of a total team effort," Cheatham said, adding that each of his runners and receivers "brings a different element to the game."

Salado shares first place in district at 2-0 with the Rosebud-Lott Cougars. Rosebud-Lott travels to Jarrell this week, while Troy visits Lago Vista and Academy hosts Florence.

Cattlemen's Ball Oct. 21

Salado Education Foundation is making final preparations for this year's Chisholm Trail Cattlemen's Ball at Tenroc Ranch 6:30 p.m. Oct. 21.

"This year's Cattlemen's Ball is going to be phenomenal," said Bill Kinnison, chair of the Salado Education Foundation (SEF). "Not only is there delicious food served by Johnnie's Steaks and Barbecue and great music by Fred Fuller and his band, the SEF will recognize one of the winners of the Innovative Teacher's Grant and a high school student who received one of the Foundation's Scholarships. The sponsors this year have generously supported our efforts, and the efforts of everyone to make this Cattlemen's Ball outstanding."

Lanell Campbell chairs this year's Cattlemen's Ball. Her committee has been working since January on this event. "Providing college scholarships, sponsoring the Youth Art Fair, and the Innovative Teaching Grants are so important to the future of the youth of our community," Campbell said, "it requires our best efforts."

Part of Campbell's job as chair has been to receive auction items for the Cattlemen's Ball. Some of the items that will be auctioned off during the evening are these: cooking class for eight; hunting trips; barbecue pit trailer; UT football tickets; golf clubs; a fishing trip; a painting by Kathleen Letourneau; antique rocker; family photo with CHP; a dessert every month for a year; hunting knife; rifle and much more.

"Not only do people have the opportunity to win a great auction item," Campbell said, "they have a lot fun trying to win it."

Sponsors for the Cattlemen's Ball are the following: Century 21 Bill Bartlett Real Estate, Lone Star Grading, ACME Brick, Air Control, Blair-Williams; Billy Pipes, Bradshaw Construction, The Candy Corner, Cap-A-Bus Sales and Service; Centraland Title Company, Documass, Edward Jones Investments, Embarq, First Community Title, First State Bank, First Texas Brokerage, Greg Fritsch, Grace Ranch, Greenway, Inc., Ronnie and Sandy Heller, Herff Jones, Indeco Sales, Jimsco Glass, Knight Star Emergency Operations Planning, Lastovica Angus Farms, Lloyd Parks, Norman Building Supplies, Lockridge Priest, LTC Ira Black, Jr., MBIA Corporation, McLane Company, Inc., Moman and Associate Architects, Monteith Title, Ocean Quest Pools, Dr. and Mrs. Randy and Julie O'Rear, Perry Office Products, Pollock Paper, Promotion Motion, Donna Riedel, Salado Floors and Walls, Salado Public Liobrary, Salle Mae Loan Service, Southwest Securities, State Farm Insurance Salado, Tenroc Ranch, Texas Tradition Custom Home, The Carpet, Tile and Appliance Center, Turley and Associates, Ken and Jenna Vanhoozer and Wolff Construction.

"I hope everyone in Salado will attend this year's Cattlemen's Ball," Kinnison said. "It is more than just a social occasion, it is the community coming together in support of Salado youth."

Tickets for the Cattlemen's Ball, which are $75 per person, may be purchased by calling 947-5479, ext. 7005.

Convenience food...a marketer's dream

These are interesting times! We live in a time where there seems to be every type of time-saving technological device possible.

Yet, there still doesn't seem to be enough hours in the day to get everything done. Because of this dilemma, people normally create extra time in the day by making repetitive lifestyle choices that create long-term health problems. Three of these lifestyle choices are not eating a proper breakfast, lunch and dinner.

Breakfast: People no longer value the first and most important meal of the day enough to schedule time around putting it together and sitting down to eat it. If we truly understood the havoc that this bad habit creates on our health we would certainly reprioritize what is really important.

Lunch: Following the growing trend in America of passing on breakfast: lunch has become even that much more important. But, because of time constraints, this meal is purchased and consumed as quickly as possible.

LIFESTYLE AND WELLNESS

By KEVIN McCauley

Dinner: As the evening approaches, and the majority of America hasn't consumed one item that even resembles a nutritious food, it is good to know that there will be time to finally sit down around the table with the family and enjoy a real whole-food meal. Unfortunately...that is not the case. Because of traffic, work, school events, meetings, etc, there once again is no time to prepare a meal that will provide the proper nutrients to your body for optimal health.

So, here is what is happening in America to take up the slack of our time-deficient country: Convenience Food.

No time for a nutritious breakfast? No problem, boxed cereal to the rescue. Most people don't realize that, yes, there has been a study done where rats were healthier after eating the cereal box rather than eating its contents.

No time for lunch? No problem, your favorite fast-food drive-thru to the rescue. Most people confuse calories with nutrition and that is a horrible mistake. There is nothing "valuable" about purchasing a 5,000 calorie meal for fewer than $5. If you want your body to flourish and run optimally it is time to avoid foods that have been refined, enriched and are of poor quality.

No time for dinner? No problem, your options are endless...and fast. But once again, if you, and your family, are consuming foods that are cheap and of low quality, how can you not expect this lifestyle choice not to ultimately destroy your metabolism and overall health?

It is clear with grab-and-go foods that convenience trumps nutrition. There are some things that should be convenient, but 80 percent of the time (100 percent if you are already diseased), food should not be one of them. So, not only are the times interesting, but they are also very scary. Why? Because there are beginning to be all sorts of new convenience foods on the market that are being labeled and advertised as healthy. We are talking about a billion dollar market and money talks. Please understand this: Marketers know you have time constraints and they know as a country we are struggling with health issue. Honestly, what do you think these marketers motivation is? Your health or your pocket book?

What products do you think these companies will try to sell you, and why? They will sell you convenience foods because they are fast, perfect for people with no time. How do you think they will do it? They will tell you that they are healthy and good for you.

Don't believe it!

Early Salado woman, teacher to be the subject of upcoming historical sketch Oct. 17, 19

Local writer Charlie Turnbo will present a brief sketch entitled "Charlotte Hallaran Jones - A Woman Perfected," to the Daughters of the Republic of Texas, 1 p.m. Oct. 17 at the First Baptist Church of Salado, and at the Salado Public Library 6:30 p.m. Oct. 19.

The subject is the wife of Dr. Samuel Jackson Jones, former Salado College professor and co-founder of Thomas Arnold School. Charlotte Hallaran Jones was born in New Orleans, orphaned in childhood, and served early on as a missionary to Mexico and later as a teacher at the Texas State Penitentiary at Huntsville. After her marriage to the professor, they relocated to Salado where they raised a large family. Here, she named their new private school after English educator Thomas Arnold. Jones also served on the faculty and sponsored the school's literary club.

While home-schooling five children, she was the private school's most ardent supporter. A gifted multilingual scholar, poet, musician, and Bible teacher at the Methodist Church, Jones was an inspiration to her family, students and neighbors. A collection of her poetry and stories will be shared in the presentation.

The library meeting is free and open to the community. For further information, contact the Salado Public Library at 254-947-9191.

FYXU [V]b[ ] HY YYa YbhcZf]g Contract Bridge

By Steve Becker

If someone aims a gun at your head, it is a good idea -- as a matter of self-preservation -- to disarm him if you can.

An analogous situation sometimes occurs at the bridge table when a particular opponent threatens your chance of making the contract. In that case, you try, if possible, to eliminate the threat.

Let's say you're declarer at three notrump in today's deal. West leads a spade -- presumably fourth-best -- and you win East's ten with the queen. You see that the contract can be made easily enough if West has the king of diamonds. He can be finessed repeatedly, and you would in all likelihood wind up with five diamond tricks, after which you can drive out the ace of hearts to assure either 11 or 12 tricks.

However, there's no way of knowing for sure that West has the king of diamonds, and if the finesse loses, East will return a spade and establish West's suit. Then, if West has more than four spades and also the ace of hearts, you will go down.

Once you reach this point in your considerations, you might see the advantage of leading the queen (or jack) of hearts at trick two instead of taking an immediate diamond finesse. The effect of this play is that, for practical purposes, you assure the contract.

West is the dangerous opponent, and he is the one who may have a pistol (the ace of hearts and spade length) in his pocket. You can disarm him by leading the queen of hearts before you do anything else. If he has the ace and takes it, you intend to duck the spade return and win the next spade.

Now when you take the diamond finesse, you are on safe ground. If the finesse loses, either East will not have a spade to return (because he started with only three of them), or East will lead a spade (because he started with four of them), in which case the contract is safe.

Of course, if West does not take the first heart, you can then try the diamond finesse with impunity and finish with at least nine tricks. Either way, the contract is assured by leading a heart first.

Clans to gather in Salado November 10-12

Bagpipes will echo, kilts will sway, dancers will leap at the pageant of Scottish culture, heritage and tradition known at the Gathering of the Clans, Nov. 10-12 in Salado.

Authentic Celtic cuisine, caber tossing, world-class competitive dancing and bagpiping will highlight the 45th Annual Gathering to be held on the Robertson Ranch (visible from Interstate 35, off the southbound access road across from Stagecoach Inn).

Guests at the family-oriented gathering, which supports the Central Texas Area Museum, can delve into Scottish ancestry and heritage while visiting with representatives of clan societies, take pleasure in folk performances, cheer the children's games or wind amongst the many vendors and artisans selling a wide variety of Scottish goods.

The athletic competition will expand this year from one day to two days, with athletes ages 18-39 beginning competition 10 a.m. Nov. 11 and athletes over 40 contending at 11 a.m. Nov. 12. Officiating will be David Boyens, a former Navy Seal who has been involved with Scottish heavy athletics for more than 20 years. Boyens, who formerly coached throwing events for the Baylor University track and field program, will oversee the tossing of the stone, hammer, weight for distance, weight for height and caber.

The highland dance competition will be coordinated by Donna Cusack, assisted by renowned Canadian judge Joy Tolev. This highly athletic dance contest will feature continuous performances of the Highland Fling, Scottish Hornpipe, Sword Dance, Sean Triubhas and the Lilt. Dancers from Houston's St. Thomas Episcopal School took high honors in these dances at World Championships.

Ranch visitors will also see demonstrations by the Scottish Country Dance Alliance of Austin, led by Anne Marshall and Elizabeth Chenault. Scottish Country Dancing differs from Highland Dancing by being more similar to American square dancing.

The bagpipe and drum competition, for individual pipers and drummers, as well as for bands, will send reverberations across the grounds.

Participants include the host band, St. Thomas Episcopal School, which this year won its fifth Juvenile World Pipe Band Championships in Scotland, and also finished first at the renowned Cowal Gathering. Other bands expected to participate include the Silver Thistle Pipes and Drums of Austin, and the Tulsa Pipes and Drums among many others.

Renowned piper Rose Adams will chair the piping competition. Don McKee, of Colorado, will serve as drum major during the opening and closing festival parades, featuring the massed pipe bands. McKee was a marine pilot, and is currently an engineer and sculptor. Others judging using rules of the Eastern United States Pipe Band Association, will include Ray S. MacKay, Robert Richardson and Ian K. MacDonald.

Drumming judges will include four-time world champion drummer Blair Brown. Brown won the World Pipe Band Championships in 1995, 1996, 1999 and 2001. He was World Drum Corps Champion in 1999, Australia Pipe Band Champion in 2001 and North American Pipe Band Champion in 2002.

Even more competitions include the shortbread contest and the bonniest knees contest.

Featured folk singers at the festival include Carl Peterson, Hugh Morrison, David Sparks, Arthur Gordon Mason and the Drambeauties. New to the festival will be artist Jed Marum, whose songs will be featured in the upcoming film, "Bloody Dawn."

Other Nov. 10 activities include the Genealogy Workshop, moderated by Bill Buckner of the Waco-McClellan County Library, from 10 a.m.-4:30 p.m. Cost is $30. In addition, those arriving Nov. 10 can attend the Fingertip Supper for $12.50. Both will be held in the Hall of the Clans in the Central Texas Area Museum on Main Street.

Day passes to access all events on the ranch are $10 for adults on Nov. 11 and $8 Nov. 12. Children's admission is $3 either day. Pre-registration is suggested.

In addition, guests can purchase tickets for special performances by some of the top festival talent, including contest winners, appearing at the Ceilidh (pronounced kay-lee) at 3 p.m. Nov. 11. While a Ceilidh is a traditional Scottish dance, the event will feature folk singing and dance performances, as well as Karla Morton reciting a portion of her contemporary epic poem, "Wee Cowrin' Timorous Beastie," which tells of the love life of 17th century pirate John Murray. The Tattoo, a twilight performance of bagpipe bands, as well as other entertainment, will follow at 5:30 p.m. Cost for either event atop the ruins of the old Salado College (located off Main Street behind the Stagecoach Inn) is $6 for adults and $3 for children.

Another special event of the weekend will be the Tartan Gala Dinner and Dance, 8 p.m. Nov. 11. at the Old Stagecoach Club. Carl Cooper and musicians will set the mood with melodies and tunes for the dinner dance. Tickets are $40 for individuals and $75 for couples.

In addition, a worship service to include a "Kirking of the Tartan" ceremony will be held 9 a.m. Nov. 12 in the Old Stagecoach Club. Jim Haney will preach at the service, coordinated by Adrian Fletcher, a Church of Christ minister from Munday, TX. Fletcher, who is a long-time museum trustee, will oversee the blessing of family tartans and a "Flowers of the Forest" ceremony, honoring friends of the museum who have died in the last year.

A comprehensive schedule of events and entry forms is available at the festival website, www.ctam-salado.org, for call the Central Texas Area Museum at 254-947-5232.

Ambassadors are active

Salado Ambassadors will welcome more than 580 people to the village this month who are gathering in Salado as part of a civic, social or church group.

The group prepares welcome bags with information about the village for groups who have booked their gatherings in Salado through the Tourism Department. The welcome bags include Salado: A Jewel in the Crown of Texas and many other advertising and information pamphlets and goodies.

"The Ambassadors are a growing group and would like to have more people in the community join us as we are getting a lot of groups coming to Salado especially this month," said Tourism Director Debbie Charbonneau, who works closely with the group.

In addition to greeting groups coming to Salado, the Ambassadors are active in manning the visitor's information center on weekends and welcoming new businesses to Salado at Salado Chamber of Commerce ribbon cuttings.

If you are interested in learning more about the Ambassador Program, join them for lunch noon Oct. 18. The lunch is free for anyone interested in joining the group. RSVP by Oct. 13 to Charbonneau, Tourism Director, salado tourism@vvm.com or 254-947-8634.
