

BoA to consider allowing night driving of carts

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Salado aldermen will discuss at their regular meeting 6:30 p.m. September 19 amending the current golf cart ordinance to allow for nighttime operations on Village streets.

The proposed amendment puts in place language that aldermen directed village staff at their Sept. 5 meeting to inject into the ordinance. Aldermen had just defeated a directive to staff that would have put in place some regulations suggested by aldermen John Cole.

"I went door to door and talked to as many people as I could before I was elected," Cole told an audience of about 70 at the municipal building Sept. 17. "The biggest concern I got was not the sewer. It wasn't Sanctuary. It wasn't expansion. It was golf carts."

He said the current ordinance "says we can do anything we want to do with a golf cart."

The room seemed to be divided evenly between those who wanted no further regulations and those who wanted regulations concerning children driving and other safety regulations such as seat belts and night time driving.

Discussion among residents at the town hall meeting went from those who wanted to restrict young children from driving golf carts to those residents who felt that any regulation was one more form of over-regulation by the government.

The current ordinance allows operation of golf carts on roads that are within the Village of Salado boundaries and have posted speed limits of less than 35 mph. Other than that, it defaults to state law regulating those operations.

According to the Texas Department of Motor Vehicles, "state law allows for use of golf carts with a slow-moving vehicle emblem in the following situations:

- in master planned communities with a uniform set of restrictive covenants in place,
- on public or private beaches,
- during the daytime and no more than two miles from where the owner usually parks the golf cart and for transportation to or from a golf course, or
- to cross intersections, including a road or street that has a posted speed limit of more than 35 miles per hour."

Municipalities are allowed to pass local ordinance allowing or restricting the use of golf carts.

In these cases, the golf cart must be insured and have the following minimum equipment: head lamps, tail lamps, reflectors, parking brake, mirrors, and a slow-moving vehicle emblem, according to the Texas DMV.

The issue of insurance on a golf cart brought various statements from residents. Some said they were covered on their property and off property by homeowners insurance. Others said that they found separate policies just for their golf carts. Others said that policies only covered licensed drivers operating the golf cart.

Whether local police will check proof of insurance for golf cart operators on public streets remains unanswered. They haven't so far.

Discussion on the issue during the hour long town hall seemed to get in the ditch more than any golf cart driving by anyone.

You can find a video of the meeting on social media, if you haven't already.

BoA mulls deals for new properties, issues legal threat to existing ones

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

The same week that aldermen will discuss and consider issues relating to the wastewater service extension policy for future developments in Salado" existing property owners received a postcard that stated that failure to connect by the Oct. 1 deadline may result "in the Village taking legal action to bring the property into compliance."

Currently the policy for extension of the sewer collection system is borne by the developer. Bearing that cost, the developer can deduct a portion of the overall impact fee of $3,750 per Living Unit Equivalent (LUE). The collection system portion of the Impact Fee is about $1,200.

Village administrator brought up development agreements with properties that may annex into the Village and tie into the sewer system that would allow those developers to be reimbursed for some of their costs of connecting to the sewer system.

Development agreements, Ferguson said, could include "reimbursement through increment financing, or some other type of refunding mechanism be it sales tax rebate or property tax rebate."

The Village has entered into two economic development agreements, one with a developer already in the Village limits (Stagecoach Inn) and one for a development that subsequently annexed into the village. Both of those agreements included rebates of varying percentages of hotel occupancy taxes, sales tax rebates, and property tax rebates. Further, the agreement with Stagecoach Inn waived any future sewer impact fees.

Aldermen will discuss possible changes to its current economic development policies, including the current requirement for a developer to pay the full cost of extending sewer to its location if requesting it.

For the 130-something original customers, though, which have generated sales tax for the Village for 19 years and property taxes to the village for a decade, there are no offers of economic development agreements or reimbursement of impact fees.

Instead, they get a yellow postcard that threatens legal action if they do not comply by Oct. 1.

Four generations make cupboard cookies for Christmas in October

By JENNIFER CLARK

Mary Hodge moved to Salado in 1946 after marrying C.B. Hodge. The Hodge family had been in the Prairie Dell/Salado area since the late 1800's and Mary's family, the Harrisons, arrived in Texas in the 1830's and were first citizens of the state. Mary is a 5th generation Texan, making Emerson, her great granddaughter, an 8th generation Texan.

Mary was a charter member of the Salado Chamber of Commerce Ladies Auxiliary when it was organized in the early 1970's. Christmas in October, the Auxiliary's annual fundraiser, quickly followed, alongside the Ladies Auxiliary Annual Bake Sale, and she has been cooking every year since. Now the annual baking has become a family tradition.

Proceeds from the Christmas in October Bake Sale are given back to the community each year, donated to local nonprofits and to provide annual scholarships for local high school students to attend college or technical school.

This year the Bake Sale will be held October 11 and 12 and volunteers like the Hodge family are always needed to support this annual event. The Auxiliary welcomes any baked items such as pies, cakes, breads, cookies, cupcakes and brownies. Baked items may be delivered to The Venue on College Street from 8 am to 5 pm on Thursday and Friday, Oct. 10 - 11, and from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. on Saturday, October 12.

Baking containers are provided free of charge at the Chamber Visitors Center (across from Stagecoach Inn) Friday, September 30 until Monday, October 7.

Support your community and join the Hodge family in this Salado tradition by baking for Christmas in October. The Ladies Auxiliary appreciates your support in baking for this year's sale.

An Open Exchange of Ideas

Retail sales up 4.1% from last year, auto sales up 1.8% from July

The Markets

Our dear old favorite index, the S&P 500 Stock Index (SPX), turned in an above-average week, rising 0.96% to close at 3007.39. That puts it still 20 points below where it was about six weeks ago, but on an improving trend after the Chinese government announced a suspension of tariffs on at least some pork and soybean imports in response to President Trump's short-term deferral of tariff increases from the current 25% to 30% on some goods. The week's close puts the SPX up 3.53% from a year ago.

The big market news was a 40.2 basis point rise in the yield of the 10-year U.S. Treasury note to 1.898%, again apparently on the potential for a breakthrough in the trade war. With the 90-day T-bill at 1.961%, the yield curve remains inverted and thereby still forecasting a recession, just not so strongly. West Texas Intermediate crude oil headed in the other direction, declining 3.33% for the week, closing at $54.86.

The Economy

The Commerce Department released its first estimate of what happened in the U.S. economy during the month of August. The good news was that vehicle purchases jumped 1.8% from July in response to lower interest rates and vehicle price cuts as the new model year draws near. Vehicle purchases were the driver in raising retail sales by 0.4% for the month. That was the good news. The other side of the story is that except for consumer vehicle purchases, consumer spending on retail purchases was the same as it was in July.

Looking back at the trailing numbers, retail sales are up a whopping 4.1% from a year ago, demonstrating how much of the last year's

Market & Economic Update

By Jeffrey W. McClure

GDP growth was driven by consumer spending. Almost exclusively based on consumer spending growth, the U.S. GDP grew at an annualized rate of 3.1% in the first quarter and at a 2% rate in the second. Considering that the jump in vehicle sales is very unlikely to continue, the underlying zero growth in other retail sales for the month caused the consensus for third-quarter GDP growth to be reduced to about 1.8%.

Unemployment remained at 3.7% for August although the creation of new job openings slowed. Overall, the economy continues to function at something approaching its full capacity. In another area where the headline number was different from the underlying "core" figures, the consumer price index (CPI), a widely followed inflation measure, rose only 0.1% in August. The backside to that report was that core consumer prices rose 0.3%, or 3.6% on an annualized basis for the last three months. That report put the rise in core consumer prices up 2.4% from a year ago, but on a trend that seems to indicate higher inflation may be in store for the months to come. Another supporting indicator, real hourly earnings, increased 0.4% in August, a 4.8% annualized rate. For the trailing 12 months, wages were up only 1.5%, so average real wages, probably the main driver of inflation, is accelerating.

The Chairman of the Chicago Federal Reserve Bank and a voting member of the Federal Reserve Board stated in a speech that the sustainable U.S. GDP growth rate was 1.75%. He cited a critical labor shortage, immigration restrictions, and trade policy uncertainty as the limiting factors on U.S. Growth. Separately, the Federal Reserve issued a prediction that 2019 GDP growth would be approximately 2.1% with lower growth forecast for 2020 and 2021.

The National Federation of Independent Businesses announced that 34.4% of its members reported that difficulty in finding qualified workers was limiting growth. That number is a new record with the previous record being 33% during the year 2000, just before the recession that began in 2001. In 2007, just before the Great Recession, the number stood at 27. That abnormally high percentage of businesses reporting difficulty in finding qualified workers is another indicator that the economy is running at or very near to its maximum capacity.

In an oddly contrasting data set, the number of retail stores closing or filing for bankruptcy in the first six months of 2019 has exceeded the number for all of 2018. Anecdotal reports suggest that the labor shortage, excessive debt, expansion that anticipated continuing retail sales growth, and the growth of online shopping were the culprits.

The bottom line is that the economy continues to drive forward at or near-maximum capacity but the growth rate is slowing and weaker businesses are beginning to show signs of stress.

Congratulation to Kathi Walrath for being named TASB Hero for Children

Congratulations to Kathi Walrath for receiving the Texas State Board of Education's Heroes for Children award last Friday. Only fifteen people in the entire state are selected for this award each year. During the ceremony in Austin, Kathi received a plaque recognizing her service, a copy of the board resolution honoring her service, a certificate of recognition from the governor, and photographs commemorating the ceremony. Her name will also be engraved on a perpetual plaque that is permanently displayed at the Texas Education Agency.

Kathi is married to Jason Walrath, who is a retired United States Army general and a commercial airline pilot. Their son, Jake is a graduate of Salado High School and a student and football player at Tarleton State. Their daughter, Olivia, is an eighth grade student at Salado Junior High School. The following is a brief description of the volunteer work performed by Kathi.

Kathi Walrath began as a room mother in her son's kindergarten class in Salado ISD, but her volunteer activities quickly expanded. She has since served as the Parent Teacher Organization (PTO) volunteer coordinator for about five years and PTO president for about seven years. Her activities have included organizing school holiday parties, chaperoning field trips, photographing school activities, chairing the Spring Fling, working the concession stands, and organizing numerous fundraisers. Most recently Kathi served on Salado's Long-Range Facilities Planning Committee, which culminated with the calling of a bond election. She then became treasurer of the Vote Yes for Salado ISD Political Action Committee. Kathi made calls and walked door to door handing out bond information, all while battling breast cancer. Her work paid off with an almost two-to-one victory at the polls.

Congratulations to Kathi Walrath for receiving the Texas State Board of Education's Heroes for Children award!

Yes, Gun Ownership Is a God-Given Right

The fastest way to trend on Twitter, and not in a good way, is to say that the right to bear arms is a God-given right.

Texas state Rep. Matt Schaefer established this beyond a doubt in a Twitter thread in the aftermath of the West Texas shooting spree. He said that he wouldn't use "the evil acts of a handful of people to diminish the God-given rights of my fellow Texans."

Progressives were aghast, and when actress Alyssa Milano objected, Texas Sen. Ted Cruz jumped in to support Schaefer's argument (in less bombastic terms).

The basic proposition isn't hard to defend, and indeed it is written into our fundamental documents. This doesn't mean that God wants you to own an AR-15, or that every jot and tittle of our current gun regime is divinely mandated. Far from it. Yet there is a natural right to self-defense, and gun ownership is inherently connected to that right in a modern society.

This is glossed over even by Democrats who have a connection to America's culture of gun ownership. Minnesota Sen. Amy Klobuchar said the other week, "I look at [gun legislation] and I always say, 'Does this hurt Uncle Dick in his deer stand?" That's not the question, though. The Second Amendment isn't fundamentally about Uncle Dick bagging deer, but about his ability to defend himself and his family.

The notion of God-given rights shouldn't be controversial. It is a bedrock of the American creed, written into the Declaration of Independence. Its preamble says, of course, that all men "are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights."

The Bill of Rights numbers "the right of the people to keep and bear Arms" among those unalienable rights. Why? Because the founders believed that everyone has an inherent right to self-defense.

As David Harsanyi notes in his history of the gun in America, "First Freedom," John Adams said in his defense of one of the British soldiers charged in the Boston Massacre in 1770 that self-defense was "the primary canon in the law of nature."

Owning a gun is an extension of this law of nature and has been recognized as such for a long time in Anglo-America. The right to bear arms had deep roots in England, and predated the Constitution on these shores.

There was no doubt at the time about the importance of the right to bear arms. Harsanyi writes that "not a single soul in the provisional government or at the Second Continental Congress or any delegate at the Constitutional Convention -- or, for that matter, any new American -- ever argued against the idea of individuals owning a firearm."

None of this is necessarily a trump card in the gun control debate -- the most commonly proposed gun control restrictions wouldn't substantially lessen gun ownership. It does mean, though, that there is a limit to how far gun control can go in America and that proponents of new restrictions should be fully aware that they are tampering with a constitutionally protected individual right.

If Uncle Dick likes to hunt, good for him. But his right to own a firearm doesn't begin or end there.

LTC (Ret) Lee Lanning shared topics from his book with SAR

LTC (Ret) Lee Lanning, USA, delivered a presentation at the Sept. 14 meeting of the local chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution on his book titled "American Revolution 100: the People, Battles, and Events of the American War for Independence".

In his book he gives the whole picture of the influential people of the American Revolution beginning with George Washington and Yorktown. Washington's greatest influence was on organizing the Army, while the militias were organized at the state level. He said history is not what happened but it is the influential people and what they did that make history. The 100 in the book focuses on those who were the most influential and battles that had the most importance. He mentions battles fought in the south as making a difference in the outcome of the revolution. Lanning

expects people reading his book to disagree with his 100, but his research lead him to these influential patriots (and traitors), battles and events.

LTC Lanning presented how he came to write this book plus 28 others. He began by keeping a daily journal while completing three tours in Vietnam. After which the Army sent him to journalism school for a master's degree. He began writing by editing the journals he previously wrote and came up with 1,000 pages. The first publisher he contacted was interested in his Vietnam experiences and agreed to print his book if he would condense it, which he did.

Individuals interested in researching their ancestors going back the American Revolution to see if eligible to join the Sons of the American Revolution (SAR) can contact the Texas Society Sons of the American Revolution website at txssar.org. The local chapter is the Heart of Texas Chapter (#26). Information on joining is available at the meetings. The goal of the SAR is to honor our ancestors and perpetuate our American heritage.

Good month for viewing planets with Astronomical Society

The Central Texas Astronomical Society (CTAS) will host public star parties on Sat., Sept. 21, from around 7:45 p.m. to 10:30 p.m.

These free events will be held at Overlook Park near the Stillhouse Hollow Lake dam outside Belton, and at the Hubbard City Lakes Park in Hubbard. CTAS members will provide telescopes for public viewing. Guests are also welcome to bring their own telescopes or binoculars.

CTAS will not have it's Sidewalk Star Party at Heritage Square, 3rd St., and Austin Ave. in Waco. It is cancelled this month.

As the sky darkens at twilight, in the north are NGC 457 (the ET Cluster or Owl Cluster), NGC 663 in Cassiopeia, and the Perseus Double Cluster. Just north of the Double Cluster is Stock 2 (the Muscleman Cluster) also in Cassiopeia. In Vulpecula is M27 (the Dumbbell Nebula).

This month we are able to look out of the plane of the galaxy during the evening. This makes more globular clusters and galaxies available for observation. M81 (Bode's Galaxy), and M82 (The Cigar Galaxy) in Ursa Major and M33 (The Pinwheel Galaxy) in Triangulum are easily visible.

In Hercules are two globular clusters, M92 and the very impressive M13 (the Great Hercules Cluster). Also in northern skies are galaxies such as M51 (the Whirlpool Galaxy), M101, and M31 (the Andromeda Galaxy).

September is a good month for the planets. Starting in the west are Mercury and Venus although they are close to the sun at sunset. Moving eastward is Jupiter easily visible in the South. Next is golden Saturn. Even Neptune and Uranus are up in the night sky but require small telescopes to see. This month Mars is too close to the sun to be seen.

You will be able to look at these and various other celestial objects this month. Check their website, <http://www.centexastronomy.org>, for directions to the site close to you and for more information.

If this event is cancelled due to weather, a cancellation notice will be posted by 5 p.m. on the CTAS website. You may register online for this event and receive monthly notices of future events.

Participants may want to bring a small flashlight (preferably with a red filter) to get around the parking lot and viewing area and a lawn chair to make viewing more comfortable. You may want a light jacket/hoodie. With the possibility of wind coming off the lake, dress for colder weather than you expect it to be.

Also mosquito spray is always a handy item as it is still summer and we're by a lake.

Eagles wallop Rebs 50-0 for homecoming

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

It could have been worse. Much worse. Alan Haire could have kept his starting backfield in for the second half. The refs and time clock could have stopped during the fourth quarter. Thankfully for the visiting Austin Travis Rebels, Coach Haire did call off the dogs in the third quarter and the refs and timekeepers all agreed to let the clock run. Despite that, the Salado Eagles beat the Travis Rebels 50-0 on Sept. 13 to improve to 2-1 on the season. The Rebels are winless, having won their last varsity football game on Sept. 22, 2017. The Eagles got off to a somewhat slow start, after forcing the Rebels to a three-and-out series. The Eagles fumbled on their first drive to turn the ball over and then the defense forced Travis into its second punt.

Wrook Brown, who only saw action in the second half as the kicker, took the first handoff of the second series and dashed through the Travis defense for a 71 yard touchdown at 5:53 in the first. Brown finished the night just short of 100 yards with 97 yards on eight carries and two TDs. Brown connected with Noah Mescher for a two-point conversion and 8-0 lead.

After the Salado defense forced another three-and-out series (seven altogether on the night), Mescher scored on a 34 yard run to top an eight play, 75-yard drive for the Eagles. Brown toed the extra point for a 15-0 lead.

Lucas Morvant sacked Steven Lopez to set up the next three-and-out series and Salado's next TD. The Eagles ate up 59 yards of their brand new artificial turf and Reid Vincent scored on a five yard run with 8:51 left in the half. Brown's kick made it 22-0.

Peyton Miller had a sack in the next series for Salado and the Eagles drove 68 yards in three plays with Mescher covering 52 of them in two carries. Vincent scored on a 16 yard run with 5:58 left in the half. Brown kicked for a 29-0 lead.

Salado gave up a rare first down before forcing a punt with under three minutes left in the half. Josue Loza fell on a snap over the head of the punter to give Salado the ball at the Travis 7 yard line. Two plays later, Brown dove in from the 2 yard line with 1:32 left on the clock. He kicked the PAT for a 36-0 lead.

Travis got across midfield for the first time in the game with just seconds left in the half, but Latrell Jenkins stepped in front of a pass and returned the interception 90 yards for a touchdown with no time left on the first half clock. Brown kicked the PAT for a 43-0 lead.

The Eagles received the second half kick off. On second and 9, Chris Bates bulled through the defense and sprinted toward the goal line for a 56 yard touchdown with less than a minute ticked off the third quarter clock. Brown's kick made it 50-0, at which point Haire's boys took control of the clock for the remainder of the game.

Toward the end of the third, Travis threatened to score with a successful drive of 10 plays but Rebel running back Darien McFerrin fumbled into the end zone where Ethan Scott fell on the ball for a touchback.

Miller led the Eagles defense, which allowed 66 yards on the ground and 51 in the air, with 10 tackles and a QB sack. Morvant followed with 8 tackles and a sack while Jacob Self had 7 tackles and caused a fumble. Travis Carter had 5 tackles. Greg Washington caused a fumble and had 4 tackles. Latrell Jenkins had an interception return for a TD. Josue Loza recovered a bad snap to set up a score.

Salado squads sweep University

Salado Lady Eagles beat the visiting Waco University Lady Trojans last week.

The varsity squad came out a little flat in the first set, dropping game one with a score of 20-25. This would be the only victory for University on the night as Salado came back with a vengeance to win the next three sets with scores of 25-18, 25-22, and 15-25. Outside hitter Landry Rogers had a big night with 11 kills and 8 assists. DS Breigh Oliver would also have a great game totaling 12 digs.

JV Red: The Lady Eagle JV Red squad came away with a convincing victory in straight sets (25-21, 25-6). After coming out a little slow, Salado would leave no doubt who the better team was in the second set. Freshman, Katey Bartek, and Junior, Janiah Del Rio, the combined for 9 kills, 8 digs, and 3 blocks.

JV White – Makayla Bush, Macie Pittman, and Kiara Dabney would serve strong and keep the Lady Trojans on their heels all night to win easily in two sets (25-8, 25-13).

Civil War Presentation at Salado Museum Features Historic Firearms

Salado Museum and College Park presents Galloping Thunder: Civil War Carbines, a presentation of historic firearms by author and Civil War weaponry expert, John C. Perry, at 1 p.m. on Sept. 28, in the museum meeting hall at 423 South Main in Salado. Admission for the special event is $10 for adults and $5 for children (under 6 free). Tickets can be purchased at the door or online at www.saladomuseum.org.

Perry will be showing and demonstrating a variety of weapons used by soldiers from 1861 to 1865, including muskets, carbines, pistols, bayonets, sabers and ammunition. His presentation will include information on the evolution of firearms, how weapons affected battle tactics, and the human toil the weapons took. He will also demonstrate how to fire a Civil War musket, carbine and pistol.

"In addition, John has generously donated a framed Spencer carbine bullet found on the Gettysburg battlefield and one of the Civil War books he has written to be used as a fundraiser for the museum," says Dave Swarouth, Salado Museum Executive Director. "Raffle tickets will be available for attendees to purchase at the event and winning tickets will be drawn at the conclusion of his presentation."

Perry has been a student of the Civil War ever since he found his first minié ball at the age of eight which started his lifelong passion of collecting relics and documents from that era. In addition to firearms, bullets and military items, his collection includes documents signed and/or written by Civil War politicians, generals and soldiers. Perry has written several books, two related to the Civil War, The Alamo of the Confederacy and The Myths and Realities of American Slavery. His latest book, Weapons of Destruction: The Firearms of the Civil War, is due out next year.

Christmas in October kicks off Holiday Season!

BY JENNIFER CLARK

Season's Greetings Salado. Fall is almost here and the holidays will be upon us in no time. The best place to kick off your holiday season will be at Christmas in October. Christmas in October is an annual tradition and fundraiser hosted by the Salado Chamber of Commerce Ladies Auxiliary and is scheduled for the second weekend in October each year. This year, mark your calendars for Oct. 11 and 12, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at The Venue on College Street.

This annual event is a preview of the upcoming Christmas season. Each year, local and area merchants creatively display holiday decorations, clothing, jewelry, food, and specialty home decor items. A Style Show featuring models strolling through the booth section displays the newest seasonal fashions and the Christmas in October Bake Sale is always a special tradition to the event. Customers enjoy shopping through the booth area and the bake sale area all in the same facility and, most importantly, have the opportunity to purchase delectable homemade pies, cakes, cookies, and a wide variety of other desserts. Aside from the abundance of shopping and edible treats, the Salado Community Chorus never disappoints as they entertain guests with festive Christmas carols on Saturday morning.

Visitors to Christmas in October this year will not only experience the sights, sounds, tastes, and charm of the Village of Salado, they will also be helping give back to the Salado community. The Ladies Auxiliary strives to promote events which enhance, improve, and support the community of Salado and Christmas in October is one of these events in which proceeds are given back to local organizations. In recent years the Auxiliary has donated funds to many local non-profits and also used them to provide annual scholarships for local high school students to attend college or technical school. Come support this festive fundraising event and get a jump start on your holiday shopping.

You may purchase tickets online at Eventbrite or at the door. Admission is $3 per ticket and kids 12 and under are free.

For vendor booth information, contact Tommye Prater at 254-541-6700.

Salado Culinary Festival this weekend

Join the Salado Community for a re-invented, event packed weekend of food, art, and chocolate during the Salado Culinary Festival.

Formerly known as the Chocolate and Wine Festival, Salado has revamped the traditional event into a more diverse, flavor-filled experience. "We hope to expose the evolving, creative spirit of Salado while supporting its local producers of food, beverages, and fine experiences" says Director of Tourism Chadley Hollas. "A resurgence of hospitality endeavors in Salado have brought new chefs, new ideas, and new flavors to our beloved Village. From Sir Wiggleworth's legendary fudge, to the delicacies available naturally in Salado Creek, we want people to take the opportunity to experience the impressive culinary talents of our Village".

Each year, the festival will feature a different theme. For 2019, in honor of the past Chocolate and Wine Festival, the theme will be the celebration of chocolate. Participants will have the chance to indulge in the taste of Salado, from its wine and beer, to the many culinary offerings, all based somehow in the year's decadently inspired theme.

In addition, various creative spaces will join the efforts of the festival to help add an artistic vibrancy to the experience. Hollas comments, "It's our hope that guests of the festival will discover an intimate yet engaging experience all while enjoying and inclusive look at our local artists, inns, wineries and restaurants."

You can design-your-own experience by choosing from the following menu of events:

September 20:
10 a.m.- 6 p.m.: Shopping Excursion with the Chamber of Commerce.

5-9 p.m. Join the Stagecoach Inn + J. Genevieve, Salado's most historic dining/lodging establishment and newest creative space, for an experience that brings historic and modern perspectives together.

September 21
10 a.m.- 8 p.m.: Shopping Excursion with the Chamber of Commerce

10 a.m.-3 p.m.: Play with Fudge and Fondant at Mud Pies Pottery

3-8 p.m.: Smash those Grapes at Salado Winery

6-9 p.m.: Dine with our finest, full-service restaurants and select artists. Pairings include Alexander's Craft Cocktails & Kitchen + Griffith Fine Art Gallery, Stagecoach Inn + J. Genevieve, and The Barton House + Uniquely Salado.

September 22:
10 a.m.-12 noon: Brunch at the Brewery

10 a.m.-6 p.m.: Shopping Excursion with the Chamber of Commerce

2-4 p.m.: Salado Culinary Competition benefiting the Garden of Hope of Central Texas at Stagecoach Inn

Full details for each experience are available at <https://visitsaladotexas.com/event/salado-culinary-festival/>.

L-Some events throughout the weekend are free, while others require purchasing a reservation in advance. Ticketed events will be designated and have their own links to purchase tickets for that particular experience.

Questions may be directed to Director of Tourism Chadley Hollas at chollas@saladotx.gov or 254.947.8634.

Opening lead — king of hearts.

One of the pitfalls a player must learn to avoid is to become overly committed to a particular line of play. The successful declarer is always prepared to alter his plan whenever developments indicate that a better approach is available.

Take this case where West led the K-A and another heart against four spades, East ruffing the third round. After overruffing, South drew three rounds of trump, on which East discarded two clubs. A club finesse then lost to the queen, and East returned the jack of diamonds.

Declarer won with dummy's ace and cashed the K-Q. When the suit failed to divide 3-3, South tried a second club finesse in order to get rid of his losing diamond. But the finesse lost, and East cashed his good diamond for down two.

There's no denying that declarer was unlucky. Had the diamonds split 3-3 or the trumps divided 2-2 after East ruffed the third heart, or had West held a club honor, South would have gotten home safely. Nevertheless, he should have made his game. Although his line of play had many chances to succeed, he failed to adapt to the circumstances he encountered.

Early in the play, he learned that West had started with six hearts and three spades. It was therefore reasonable to assume that East held length in both minor suits.

There was no harm in drawing three rounds of trump and taking a club finesse. But when East won and returned a diamond, South should have taken the trick in his hand and carefully reviewed his options.

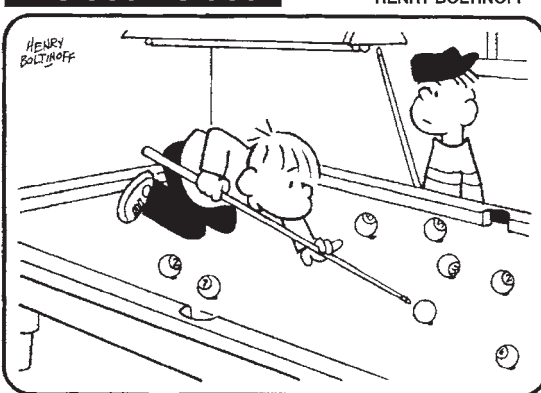

In order to retain his diamonds, East had been forced to discard two clubs when the trumps were drawn. So instead of testing the diamonds to see if they would split 3-3, declarer should first have led a club to the ace and ruffed a club. After East's king appeared, a diamond to the ace would have allowed South to collect the club jack for his 10th trick.

Salado Museum celebrates 60 years with open house

Salado Museum and College Park (www.saladomuseum.org) is celebrating its 60th Anniversary with an Open House 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sept. 21 at 423 South Main in Salado. The public is invited to stop by to enjoy refreshments, music and fellowship and to share their memories of the museum over the past six decades.

The celebration will continue that evening with a special reception during which the museum's Hall of Clans will be renamed to honor the museum's founder, Mrs. Lucile A. Robertson. Members of Mrs. Robertson's family, Salado Mayor Skip Blancett, and other special guests will participate in a ceremony dedicating the building as The Lucile A. Robertson Center.

"The people of Salado owe a huge debt of gratitude to Lucile Robertson. It was her vision and determination that saved the ruins of Salado College and many artifacts of Salado pioneers," says Dave Swarthout, Salado Museum Executive Director. "She was an inspiration, a driving force and a guiding light who made a real difference to this community."

The museum opened in 1959 as the Central Texas Area Museum. Mrs. Robertson served as its executive director from its inception until her death in 1997. The museum became Salado Museum and College Park in 2017 when it merged with the Robertson Colony-Salado College Foundation. Mrs. Robertson also founded the annual Gathering of the Scottish Clans in Salado in 1961 which celebrates its 58th year this November and is the oldest Scottish festival in Texas.

Mrs. Robertson's husband was a direct descendant of Major Sterling C. Robertson, an empresario whose land grants brought hundreds of families to settle in this area, and his son, Col. E.S.C. Robertson, who donated 100 acres of land to establish Salado College and the town of Salado.

There are many practical household solutions for everyday problems. Here are a few tips to make your home life easier.

- Remove wax spills on carpets and clothing by placing several paper towels or a brown paper bag on the wax and applying a warm iron to absorb.
- Remove ink stains on leather furniture with hair spray. After it dries, wipe away the stain with a mixture of vinegar and water.
- Sharpen garbage disposal blades by tossing in ice cubes and processing as usual.
- To speed up drainage of your tubs and sinks, pour down a cup of baking soda, followed by a cup of white vinegar. After a few minutes, flush the drain with a gallon of hot water.
- Remove heat and moisture stains on wood with white toothpaste. Rub the toothpaste on the spot, and wipe it off with a soft cloth.
- Remove hairspray residue on your vanity counter by spraying it with a mixture of two parts water and one part liquid fabric softener.
- To remove crayon from walls, use a hair dryer to heat up the wax, then wipe off. If color remains, use a wet cloth with bleach.
