

Local Hero

Salado native is 1 of 18 named recipient of Carnegie Medal

Salado native Allen Sirois is among the 15 Americans and three Canadians that the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission announced Sept. 23 as 2019 recipients of the Carnegie Hero Medal.

Sirois is the son of Stephanie Hood of Salado and grandson of Monroe and Linda Moore of Salado.

Sirois will be presented with the Carnegie Hero Medal on Jan. 14 by the Belton City Council and Belton Fire Department, which nominated him for the award.

On May 26, Sirois was working on the loading dock at McGregor Welding Supply in Belton when he heard an explosion.

"The earth shook," he told Salado Village Voice. "I'm not kidding. It sounded like a bomb."

Sirois looked up in time to watch a cement truck, which had a passenger side tire blow out, hit the metal barricades leading to the fly-over of I-35 NB to Highway 190 WB in Belton.

The cement truck flipped over and landed in the median on the driver's side.

"I saw that it was crashing so I grabbed a fire extinguisher and ran toward the truck," Sirois said. "We have a lot of fire extinguishers."

By the time he got there, the truck was already in flames, ignited by diesel fuel.

The cab of the truck was crushed and the driver, Melvin Belcher was trapped inside.

"He was stuck," Sirois said. "He couldn't crawl out the windows either."

The passenger side door was stuck, too, but Sirois — who had crawled on top of the truck despite it being in flames — was able to force the door open.

"He was caught up in the seat belt and couldn't crawl out," he said. "I reached down and grabbed him around the arms and pulled him out."

By that time, there were two others on the scene before ambulance and police arrived: Manuel Magadan, a 2018 SHS graduate and Manny Alvarez, another employee at McGregor Welding Supply.

Manuel and Manny helped Sirois get Belcher off of the truck and away from the flames that were spreading quickly. He suffered minor injuries including burning his arm.

Melvin Belcher (left) and Allen Sirois (right) met officially when the Belton Fire Department presented Sirois with the Citizen Life Saving Award in June of 2018.

The Carnegie Medal is a bronze medallion three inches in diameter and is awarded to civilians who risk their lives to an extraordinary degree saving or attempting to save the lives of others.

Just as Sirois was pulling Belcher out, the diesel on the passenger side tank exploded, spraying him, Belcher and the door. "I got lucky," he said. "It could've been a lot worse."

It could have been much worse for Belcher, too, had Sirois not been so close by.

"I think if we got there a minute later, it would have been too late," he said.

Sirois went in, he says, for the "same reason anyone would. I would hope someone would do it for me."

Other recipients of the Carnegie Hero Medal are these: Rebecka Blackburn, Leduc, Alta.; Sommer Marie King Leduc, Alta.; Jason P. Maxwell, Maple Valley, Wash.; Kote Mhitari, Sandy, Utah; Phillip H. DiLuca, Clinton, Maine; Todd D. Lyford, Dover-Foxcroft, Maine; J. Ryan Thornton, Thornton, Colo.; Michael Douglas Barkhouse, Walton, N.S.; Leon Wright, Orlando, Fla.; Jordan Scott Lambay, Okinawa, Japan; Richard Thomas Krochta, Florissant, Colo.; Richard J. Gandolfo, Suffolk County, N.Y.; Robert M. Hosey, Coplay, Pa.; Nathan Scott Wanhala, Santa Cruz, Calif.; Heather

Zabrowski, Olympia, Wash.; Darren M. Smith, Vero Beach, Fla. and David Covington, Rockingham, N.C. About the Carnegie Hero Medal

Established April 15, 1904 by Andrew Carnegie, the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission was created to recognize outstanding acts of selfless heroism performed in the United States and Canada. The Commission awards the Carnegie Medal to those who risk their lives to an extraordinary degree while saving or attempting to save the lives of others.

The Commission's Deed of Trust established a $5 million fund to recognize persons "in peaceful vocations" who act to "preserve or rescue their fellows." Each hero to be recognized, or the next of kin, was to receive a medal, reciting the heroic deed it commemorated and carrying the Biblical quotation: "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends" (John 15:13). More than $40 million has been given to more than 10,000 awardees or their survivors over the life of the Fund.

National Night Out set Oct 1 at Johnny's

Salado National Night Out will be held at Johnny's Outback 6-9 p.m. on Oct. 1, sponsored by the Salado Police Department and Mill Creek Community Association.

The Salado National Night Out will give Salado residents and evening to get to know their neighbors as well as their first responders.

There will be live music, family activities, food and drinks available.

National Night Out is an annual community-building campaign that promotes police-community partnerships and neighborhood camaraderie to make our neighborhoods safer, more caring places to live. National Night Out enhances the relationship between neighbors and law enforcement while bringing back a true sense of community. Furthermore, it provides a great opportunity to bring police and neighbors together under positive circumstances.

Millions of neighbors take part in National Night Out across thousands of communities from all 50 states, U.S. territories and military bases worldwide on the first Tuesday in August.

Texas and select areas celebrate on the first Tuesday in October.

Parachutist drops in to cut ribbon at Salado Airport

Salado Airport held its ribbon cutting in an unusual way as Wendy Faulkner parachuted in to cut the ribbon as she made a landing Sept. 24 at the property located at 15771 S. I-35.

Salado Airport is a 50-acre private airport with a 3,500 foot grass runway. The airport is currently being used by Skydive Temple for commercial parachuting operations and Chute and Shoot Store retail operations.

Salado Airport LLC is selling 75 hangar lots and hangars as Salado Airport Condominiums.

Lots are 100-year land lease with a renewable 50 years. According to the Salado Airport website, the transaction is the same as a simple fee transaction. Because lots are leased, minimum sizes required by the Subdivision Ordinance do not apply.

Each lot will have water, sewer and electrical available and hangars will be custom built on your lot.

Phase 1 has 75 lots listed ranging in price from $52,500 to $119,920. Lot sizes vary with some being 55 feet by 71 feet.

The project is being developed as a Condo Development, according to the website.

Hangar sizes are these: 50' x 50' x 16'; 50' x 50' x 25'; 60' x 60' x 16'; 60' x 60' x 25'; 70' x 70' x 16' and 70' x 70' x 25'

Golf carts at night are now all right

BY TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Salado aldermen amended the golf cart ordinance to allow the night-time operations of golf cart on Village roads on a 3-2 vote Sept. 19.

By adopting the change, all golf carts that operate on Village streets must be equipped with the following equipment: headlamps, tail lamps, reflectors, parking brake, mirrors, and a slow-moving vehicle emblem.

Aldermen debated but took no action on adding verbiage to the local ordinance concerning insurance and licensing requirements for operating golf carts on Village streets.

The board discussed what members called conflicted verbiage in HB 1548 which now requires that golf carts that are operated on public streets must now have a license plate. HB 1548 prohibits the registration of golf carts by the state but puts in place golf cart license plates to be issued by the county tax assessor's office.

Bell County Tax Assessor's office does not have the actual license plates sent from the state or a process in which to issue them to golf cart owners. HB 1548 became state law earlier in 2019. The license plates will be issued for a cost of $10 minimum. They will be valid for as long as someone owns a cart. If a golf cart is sold to another buyer, that person must get a new license plate.

The newly amended golf cart ordinance will require some time for education of the public about the new rules before enforcement begins.

According to police chief Pat Boone, the Village is awaiting a formal decision from the state DPS about whether a golf cart is considered a motor vehicle and therefore must be operated by a licensed driver.

Alderman Frank Coachman said that in HB 1548 golf carts are not considered motor vehicles under section 501.002(17). Section 501 is the Certificate of Title Act and deals with title of vehicles. Section 501 deals with the registration of vehicles. But even in that section (502.001) a golf cart "means a motor vehicle designed by the manufacturer primarily for use on a golf course."

HB 1548 in four different places states that "golf cart" has the meaning assigned by by Section 551.401. Section 551.401 now states: "Golf cart" and "public highway" have the meanings assigned by Section 502.001.

Section 502.001 states: "Definitions: (18) "Golf cart" means a motor vehicle designed by the manufacturer primarily for use on a golf course."

Alderman Amber Preston-Dankert referred to a letter written at the request of a private citizen to the DPS concerning whether golf carts must be operated by licensed drivers on public roads.

The undated letter from Scott Hewitt, a sergeant with the Texas DPS State Crash Reconstruction Team wrote that "In short, the operators of golf carts on public roadways are required to have a valid driver's license when operated in this manner."

He further stated in the letter that the "Transportation Code never grants specific driver's license exemptions to the operators of golf carts, therefore they fall under TRC 521.021."

He added that "Golf carts operated in this manner are also required to maintain proof of financial responsibility per TRC 601.051."

"There is not an insurance exemption for golf carts operated under the authority of TRC 551.404 -- i.e. in a municipality that has authorized operation within a specific city."

According to Village administrator Don Ferguson, the Village legal counsel reviewed the letter by Sgt. Hewitt and supports his findings in terms of licensed drivers.

Chief Boone told Salado Village Voice this week that he is waiting for a formal decision from DPS on insurance requirements for golf carts to be operated on public roads and on whether golf carts can be operated on public roads only by licensed drivers.

Once he has that information, he will work with the Salado community to educate golf cart owners on the rules of the road, to include equipment, insurance and licensing issues.

"We don't want to run out and start issuing a bunch of citations," he said.

Many communities across the state that have adopted golf cart ordinances have put in place further regulations in terms of local permitting, requiring operators to be licensed drivers and requiring liability insurance to operate on public streets.

Spike in oil prices should have plunged world stock markets

The Markets

Our Index of choice, the S&P 500 Stock Index (SPX) closed out the week ending September 20 with a tiny gain of 0.52% at 2992.07. While the index is up an impressive 19.34% year-to-date and 5% for the last month, it has only eked out about a 2% gain from this time last year. On Thursday, after the announcement that the Federal Reserve cut short term interest rates another 0.25%, it briefly soared to nearly 3020 but, as has been usual over the last year, negative trade war news dropped it back to lower levels.

After an optimistic surge upward, the yield on the ten-year U.S. Treasury note zig-zagged downward during the week but managed to hang on to a 16.7 basis point rise to close at 1.724%, still well below the 90-day T-bill's yield of 1.928%. As a result, we still have a decidedly inverted yield curve. West Texas Intermediate Crude oil (WTI) followed suit, rising 5.96% for the week but is still almost 18% down from a year ago and only up 0.85% for the last three months.

One of the more notable events of the past two weeks was not what happened in the markets, but what didn't happen. Historically, an attack on a Saudi oil refinery, eliminating about 5% of the world's oil supply would have caused an impressive spike in the price of oil. A few decades ago, the "Tanker War" in the Persian Gulf caused a near doubling of oil prices almost overnight. That spike would have then likely caused a panic in the stock markets around the world.

On September 14 the attacks on two major Saudi refineries, eliminating about 5% of the global oil supply, caused so little market disruption that WTI rose only to $62 and then promptly dropped back to

Market & Economic Update

By Jeffrey W. McClure

$58. The stock markets barely budged. The reason there was so little reaction in the markets was that the U.S. has become the world's largest oil producer and the second-largest exporter. We and the world are no longer at the mercy of Arab oil suppliers. It has taken us nearly 50 years since OPEC's embargo crippled the U.S. economy, but we are finally in the position where a major disruption in oil supplies from the Persian Gulf is a mere blip on the U.S. economic radar. This is an event worth noting and for which we should give thanks.

The Economy

There was little comment this month as the Conference Board's Index of Leading Economic Indicators (LEI) was released. The Index reading produced what we see as a very accurate but uncertain prediction as it came in with a change of exactly zero. Meanwhile, the lagging indicator dropped 0.3 and the coincident indicator rose 0.3. The signal was clear if extremely ambivalent. The risk of a recession occurring in the next 12-18 months is real but at the same time, the current indicators are extremely healthy.

For the month of August, building permits, mainly for multi-family, rental properties, soared at an annualized rate of 2.6%, the labor market continued its steady beat of something approaching full employment, while personal income and consumer spending increased at a 3.6% annualized rate. Meanwhile, the yield curve, transportation, financial markets, and manufacturing continued to look sour. When it was all taken together, the negatives and the positives balanced out.

Just as in most of the past year, the overall impression was that we have an economy that is straining at its physical constraints of a shortage of skilled labor and a dramatic rise in the price of some raw materials but is being held back by the trade war with China, a slowing global economy, and declining business investment. The result is a profound economic uncertainty. That uncertainty is holding back businesses investment and as time goes by, an ever-increasing threat to this economic expansion.

There was a minor financial earthquake this week as overnight interbank lending rates suddenly jumped from below 2% to 10% as a shortage of money emerged in the money-center banks of New York. The reasons were complex but were related to the recent Congressional delays in funding government operations. Once the funding was authorized, the Treasury rushed to replenish its cash reserves, draining the system of ready cash. At the same time the Treasury, because of this year's trillion or so dollar deficit was soaking up cash as it auctioned off short-term obligations. Fortunately, the Federal Reserve was ready and able to loan out tens of billions of dollars to cover the shortage and all was well at the end of the week. In short, an unpleasant money shortage occurred but the system worked the way it was designed, and things returned to normal.

Bernie Sanders and the Anti-People Crusade

At least Bernie Sanders is an equal opportunity misanthrope. He doesn't like rich people, and it turns out he doesn't necessarily like poor people, either.

At the recent CNN town hall on climate change, a questioner asked the socialist senator if he'd be "courageous" enough to endorse population control to save the planet. Sanders answered "yes," and then, after referring to abortion rights, endorsed curtailing population growth, "especially in poor countries around the world where women do not necessarily want to have large numbers of babies."

He's looking at you, sub-Saharan Africa. The Sanders riff is the latest instance of a rising anti-natalism on the left, which has gone from arguing that carbon emissions are a problem to arguing that human beings are a problem. They release carbon emissions, don't they? Q.E.D.

When a proposition has the support of Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez, who questions the morality of having children, and Bill Nye the Science Guy, who has discussed punishing people for having children, it's on the way to universal assent among a certain segment of soi-disant thoughtful progressives. A headline in The New York Times even asked, "Would Human Exinction Be a Tragedy?"

Undergirding the anti-natalist position is the belief that we are facing a global catastrophe, such that additional babies will tip the planet into uninhabitability for everyone. This goes beyond the best evidence, and discounts the human capacity for adaptation that is one of our chief attributes.

The view that human beings are an unsustainable drain on limited resources goes back to the 18th-century thinker Thomas Malthus and, more recently, the Stanford University biologist Paul Ehrlich. In his 1968 book "The Population Bomb," Ehrlich put an emphasis on overly fertile Third World countries, just as Bernie Sanders did.

But if consumption and carbon emissions are the concern, it's rich people in developed countries who are the bigger problem and should be dealt with accordingly (a task for which Sanders is dismayingly well-suited). As Benjamin Zycher of the American Enterprise Institute notes, rising incomes -- considered an unalloyed good by anyone who experiences them

-- invariably increase energy consumption.

What are we to make of an agenda that seeks to diminish the number of human beings overall and to make those who enjoy material prosperity less wealthy? At a more fundamental level, the anti-natalists have a gross materialistic view of humanity. For them, we are a series of inputs and outputs, and if one particular output is considered undesirable (in this case, carbon emissions), it reduces the value of human beings altogether. No one who isn't a cracked ideological extremist or perversely blinkered economist actually looks at people this way. It doesn't account for relationships or for joy, for the wondrous distinctiveness of every person, no matter how poor or humble.

People aren't a burden; they are a resource and a gift. Any movement that regards them any other way is profoundly misguided and deeply anti-humane. Build windmills if you must, but don't try to scare people out of having children -- or much worse, facilitate abortions -- in your zeal to shave some fraction of a degree off the global temperature 80 years from now.

New Mandatory Harvest Reporting Required for Antlerless Deer Harvest

AUSTIN – The hot, dry conditions that have been gripping most of Texas could make Saturday’s archery-only white-tailed deer season opener a challenge for bowhunters, yet those who know how to work the conditions can still find good hunting. For the first time this fall, hunters are required to report all antlerless deer harvested in 21 south-central Texas counties—see details below.

“Although dry conditions should encourage deer to frequent feeders more consistently and more often, the hot temperatures may curtail movement during much of the day except for the periods around dawn and dusk,” said Alan Cain, TPWD white-tailed deer program leader. “Until cooler temperatures arrive and deer movement picks up hunters may consider using game cameras to narrow down peak deer movement near their favorite hunting location and increase chances of success.”

Texas boasts a robust white-tailed deer population of about 5.3 million deer which should contribute to hunter success this season. Despite the deterioration in range conditions over the last several months with the 100-degree weather and wind, Cain notes “Hunters should expect an excellent deer season with above average antler quality and fawn recruitment.” Cain explained that good rains early in the fall of 2018 that set the stage for an excellent crop of winter weeds lasting well into the spring. The excellent habitat conditions continued into early July and were critical in providing the nutrition bucks needed to maximize antler growth.

While the archery-only season kicks off this weekend and runs through Nov. 1, the general gun season opener is still more than a month away on Nov. 2. A special youth-only weekend season is set for Oct. 26-27. The general season runs through Jan. 5, 2020 in North Texas and Jan. 19, 2020 in South Texas. A late youth-only season is also slated for Jan. 6-19, 2020. For additional late season deer hunting opportunities and county specific regulations, consult the 2019-2020 Outdoor Annual of hunting and fishing regulations.

New this fall, hunters in parts of south-central Texas will be required to report all antlerless deer harvest in Austin, Bastrop, Caldwell, Colorado, Dewitt, Fayette, Gonzales, Guadalupe, Karnes, Lavaca, Lee, Waller, Washington, and Wilson. Counties also included in that change are Goliad, Jackson, Victoria, and Wharton counties north of U.S. Highway 59 and Comal, Hays, and Travis east of IH-35.

Any antlerless deer harvested during the archery, youth-only, muzzleloader, and the 4 doe-days during the general season is required to be reported to the department within 24 hours of harvest using either the “My Texas Hunt Harvest” mobile app (for iOS and Android) or on TPWD’s My Texas Hunt Harvest web page.

Anyone can get the “My Texas Hunt Harvest” app at tpwd.texas.gov/myhunt. The app works without a data signal as long as it has already been downloaded to the device. The app is also bilingual and available in Spanish to customers who use Spanish as the main language setting on their phone or other mobile devices.

Hunters are also reminded to review the TPWD chronic wasting disease regulations for information about CWD testing requirements and carcass movement restrictions for the 2019-2020 season. Also as a reminder, Texas hunters harvesting deer, elk, moose, or other susceptible species in other CWD-positive states must also comply with carcass movement restrictions when bringing those harvested animals back into Texas. Additionally, the Texas Animal Health Commission has mandatory testing requirements that apply to elk, red deer, sika, moose, and reindeer.

To the Editor

Priorities can be a very difficult thing!

How could it be, that one of the oldest entities in the Historic Village of Salado, The Salado Museum and College Park, be so ignored? Especially when celebrating the 60th Anniversary of the museum and the dedication and renaming of the Clans Hall and building in honor of the founder, Lucile A Robertson. Who by the way, also founded the Scottish Gathering and Highland Games. Which is now in its 58th year and now the largest in the state.

Invitations were sent to the Village Administrator, Mayor, and all the Alderman. Did any of them show up? The answer, is NO.

A reminder to all, the Town of Salado and the Salado College were created simultaneously on October 8, 1859.

Hopefully this is not because they do not care, maybe it is because their priorities are not where they should be.

The Village Administrator, Mayor and the Alderman owe the Salado Museum and College Park Board of Directors, the Robertson family and the entire community of museum supporters, a sincere apology.

Respectfully,

Salado Fall Sweep Sept. 28

Fall has arrived and so has the time for another community cleanup day in Salado. Residents are encouraged to take part in the Salado Fall Sweep and America Recycles Day sponsored by Keep Salado Beautiful on Sept. 28.

"This is a great opportunity for Salado residents to do their part to help keep our community a clean and attractive place to live, work and visit," said Keep Salado Beautiful Coordinator Lisa Nix. "Volunteers of all ages are welcome to participate in the event."

Individuals interested in taking part in the clean-up are asked to gather at 8:30 a.m. on Saturday, September 28 at the Salado Civic Center located at 601 N. Main Street. After registering, participants will be provided trash bags and trash pickers and then dispatched to designated locations in the community to pick up trash and debris.

Donuts and water will be provided.

Eagle Disposal will provide dumpsters in the parking lot of the Civic Center where volunteers can deposit their bags of collected litter and recyclable goods. Drop off your used electronics for the Salado High School Robotics Team. There will be prizes for the most unusual item and the most collected.

"Our volunteers make such a difference in Salado," Nix said. "Fanning out across the Village and collecting trash along the roadsides, creek banks and in other public areas in our community is a great way to spend a Saturday in September, while giving back to your community."

Local Scouts, as well as representatives of local service organizations, are expected to join other volunteers in the community clean-up effort that will last from 8:30 a.m. to 12 p.m.

The Fall Sweep is a community-wide collaborative project coordinated and sponsored by Keep Salado Beautiful. For more information, please contact Lisa Nix at 254.947.5153 or keepsaladobeautiful@yahoo.com.

Keep Salado Beautiful was established in January of 2009 and is an active local Keep Texas Beautiful Affiliate. Brown's toe hands Ducks defeat

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

With 30 seconds left on the clock, Wrook Brown's 41-yard field goal dinked the crossbar but went over to lift the Salado Eagles over the Taylor Ducks on the own homecoming here in Taylor. The kick gave Salado a 24-21 lead, which they secured for the win when Latrell Jenkins fell on a fumble after a long pass and run with 13 seconds left.

This was the closest game for the Eagles, reminiscent of their heartbreaking loss on opening week to Troy. The Eagles struck first after Greg Washington stopped Taylor quarterback Michael Schneider short of a first down on fourth and 10.

On the first play from scrimmage, Reid Vincent took the hand off behind Joe Sampson's block and ran 73 yards for a touchdown with 6:17.

Salado's offense spent just 46 seconds on the field in the first quarter as Taylor chewed up 79 yards of artificial turf on a 12-play drive. Ryan Barcuch scored on a 32 yard reverse with 41 seconds left in the first. The Ducks tied it with the kick at 7-7.

Salado returned the favor with a 68-yard, nine play drive, topped by Hunter Turk's 9-yard dive. Wrook Brown's kick made it 14-7.

Thanks to a Peyton Miller sack, the Eagles nipped a drive at their own 44-yard line and were buried at their own 2-yard line with the punt out of bounds.

Six plays later, Reid Vincent needed through the Ducks' defense for a 68-yard touchdown that was called back to the Eagles' 24 due to a holding call. Salado ended up punting, a dribbling effort of 21 yards that barely crossed midfield.

The Ducks took six plays before tying the score with 50 seconds left in the half on a quarterback draw for 19 yards to top the six-play, 53-yard drive.

The Eagles nudged ahead at the beginning of the fourth on a 3-yard dive by Turk and kick by Brown, 21-14. The 63-yard, 10-play drive ate up more than eight minutes of clock.

The teams swapped possession before Taylor took four minutes to drive 73 yards. A flag brought back a 23-yard run for Taylor to get it to the Eagles' 4-yard line but Schneider hit Jayson Saucedo for a 35-yard touchdown with 4:20 left in the game, knotting the score at 21-21 with the PAT and 4:02 left in the game.

Salado drove from their own 21-yard line over the next four minutes. After Hutton Haire was sacked for a loss on third down, Reid Vincent ran for a first down and a flag against the Ducks moved it to Taylor 40-yard line. Brown dashed to the 27-yard line. On third-and-eight, Vincent got it to a fourth-and-two. The Eagles were hit with a penalty, moving it back 5 yards.

After a time-out, Brown booted the kick, bouncing over the cross bar for the winning field goal with 30 seconds left to play.

Eagles face 3 ranked teams back-to-back in tough 9-4A

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Salado Eagles will face top 10 opponents back-to-back-to-back to start District 9-4A Div. 2 play in what is inarguably the toughest 4A district in the state with three teams ranked in the top 10 by Maxpreps and two teams ranked in the top 10 by Dave Campbell's Texas Football magazine.

First on the list: the Connally Cadets, who are 4-0 so far, with a convincing 51-20 win over Gatesville last week. The Cadets return nine offensive starters and seven defensive starters from last year's 8-4 squad.

The Cadets were third place in district last year and lost 24-6 in the second round of the playoffs to Pleasant Grove, the eventual state runners-up and top-ranked team in 2019.

Last year, Salado handed Connally a 40-35 loss, one of just two district games the Eagles won in 2018.

Dave Campbell has the Cadets at #3 in 4A Div. 2 rankings after the fourth week, while Maxpreps has them at #6 in state.

"Each week is a challenge," coach Alan Haire said, "and we look forward to see where we stack up against the best!"

The Cadets run a two-back spread offense with junior Kavian Gaither at quarterback, senior running back Jay'Veon Sunday and junior back Trey Walker.

Gaither has thrown 21 completions on 33 passes for 376 yards and four TDs.

Sunday has 612 yards on 64 carries in four games, scoring 10 touchdowns.

The Cadets have a lot of experience with 18 seniors on the roster.

To beat the Cadets, the Eagles will have to execute their clock management ground game and eliminate costly offensive penalties, particularly holding and false start, illegal motion and offsides calls.

"No matter who we play we must overcome ourselves," coach Haire said. "We always work on the basics weekly."

Last week, the Eagles had a 73-yard touchdown run from the line of scrimmage called back due to a holding penalty and in the first week, a long return for a touchdown was called back against Troy.

The Eagles offense counts on misdirection, great timing, a sure-handed quarterback (Hutton Haire) and smart play by offensive linemen who are typically going against larger defensive linemen through the use of traps and other blocking schemes.

It is an aggressive run offense in which Salado's backs are often past the line and in the defensive backfield before defenders know which of three runners in the slot T have the ball.

"You have to be careful because you do not want to take their aggressiveness away," Coach Haire said. "We will just need to work on better technique."

Last week, the Taylor defense loaded up the box and blitzed the run in the second half. Salado will have to adjust to defenses trying to time the snap count and fill the running lanes with bodies. "We will execute with different paces to control that," Haire said. "It is part of the game."

So far, the Eagles have shown the ability to compete with large, strong teams like Troy, a game which hinged to defeat due to some costly errors and big chunks given up by the defense on single plays.

The longest run given up by the Eagles last week was 18 yards, a far cry from the two runs of 70+ yards given up in week one.

Through four games, the Salado defense has allowed 141 yard per game on the ground and 94.5 yards passing per game.

The Eagles lead their opponents by three turnovers in the takeaway/giveaway category.

The Eagles offense puts 370 yards per game on the board, more than 90% of it on the ground.

If the Eagles can keep Connally's explosive running back Sunday, who has a long run of 63 yards thus far this season, on the sidelines, and keep the Cadet defense on its heels with the multi-back attack of Wrook Brown (59-420 yards), Reid Vincent (34-302) and Hunter Turk (37-263), they may surprise state-ranked Connally on Sept. 27.

The following week, they face Robinson Oct. 4, ranked #9 by Campbell and #4 by Maxpreps and #7 (Maxpreps) Lorena Oct. 11.

Lady Eagles Volleyball bested by Crawford and LaGrange

Salado Lady Eagles fell in straight sets to the Crawford Lady Pirates 13-25, 13-25 and 13-25 on Sept. 20.

In the first set, leading 11-5. Crawford went on a six-point tear to put the set out of reach 17-5.

Crawford led 18-11 before tearing off five straight points to eventually take the second set 13-25.

Salado got within 2 points in the third, 10-12 before the Lady Pirates rattled off seven straight for an insurmountable lead.

Landry Rogers led Salado with five kills, followed by Amy Manning and Taylor, four kills each, and Liz Ford and Wilk, one kill each.

Megan Manibuson, Haileigh Wilk, Rogers and Breigh Oliver all had aces.

Salado Lady Eagles came out competitive, but would fall in straight sets at home to the LaGrange Lady (15-25, 19-25, 16-25) on Sept. 17.

Sophomore Lainey Taylor would provide most of the energy for the Lady Eagles collecting 7 kills and two blocks. Senior Landry Rogers also contributed 12 kills of her own.

JV Red

The JV Red girls came out with great energy against a talented La Grange team. After falling behind 6-14, Salado would claw back to 16-20 before eventually falling 18-25. Salado would not be discouraged and come out swinging in set two. Morgan Shaub would keep the Lady Leps off balance for much of the night serving 7 times including 2 aces. After a back-and-forth match, the Lady Eagles were tied 16-16 before losing some momentum. They would eventually fall 20-25, but not without putting up a fight.

JV White

The young JV white squad got off to a great start, but would eventually fall in three sets. Kiara Garza set the tone for the Lady Eagles in the first set with 5 kills and a block as the Eagles won 26-24. The Lady Eagles would have victory in sight, but fall late 25-27. Macie Pittman would also play well for Salado, but the Lady Eagles were unable to stop the La Grange momentum in set 3 losing 15-25.

Austin Tinplate Trackers return

The Austin Tinplate Trackers model railroad enthusiasts will have a display at the Salado Church of Christ Activities Center Oct. 5-6.

The display is free to the public and children will have the chance to operate the model trains (with assistance from the Tinplate Trackers, of course). The display will be open 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. Oct. 5 and noon - 4 p.m. Oct. 6.

The Tinplate Trackers of Austin, Texas is a 3-rail O-Gauge Model Train Club located in the Austin area. The club participates in a number of model railroading activities and events in Central Texas.

Membership is open to anyone having interest in Trains. Our website is constantly being updated so please check back frequently.

The Tinplate Trackers are people who enjoy the operation of O-gauge tinplate trains on modules that are basically standardized, yet open to unlimited improvisation. The largest layout created by members was 40 feet by 60 feet.

Tinplate refers to toy trains and track — such as American Flyer, Marx and Lionel -- built before World War II, when they were actually made of metal. However, toy trains built today are mostly plastic but the tinplate rails still remain. Tinplate trains are larger than most scale model trains and are lots of fun.

A module is a unit, a short section of railroad, built to standard specifications so that it can be joined with other such units to form an oval layout. It is distinguished from a sectional layout, used by many clubs, which is made up of a number of units which assemble in only one way. The Tinplate Tracker modules, made in a few basic types, can be assembled in many different ways.

Author Anne Beiler at Barrow Brewing Co Oct. 1

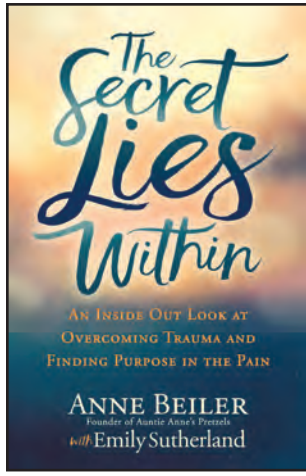

Barrow Brewing Co will host a book signing with author Anne Beiler at 6 p.m. on Oct. 1. Beiler is the author of The Secret Lies Within and founder of Auntie Annie's Pretzels.

Long before founding everyone's favorite soft-pretzel shop, Auntie Anne Beiler held deep dark personal secrets stemming from the tragic loss of her 19-month-old daughter as well as a six-year extramarital relationship with a manipulative and abusive pastor. Hiding these secrets within nearly cost Beiler everything from her marriage to her very life, until she learned a new secret – one that brought her peace and freedom.

Now, in her latest book The Secret Lies Within: An Inside Out Look at Overcoming Trauma and Finding Purpose in the Pain, co-written with Emily Sutherland, Beiler shares her real success story – conquering the shame of her hidden past. In the book, released Sept. 10, from Morgan James Publishing, Beiler encourages readers to share their own painful scars so they can find the same heart-healing that she discovered.

"I do not get to choose how my story began, but I do get to choose how it ends," wrote Beiler. "I hope to offer a spark of hope to anyone who feels isolated and stuck in a story they didn't ask for and didn't want."

Born and raised in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, Beiler grew up in a traditional Amish community that valued hard work and keeping feelings to oneself. From an early age, she was taught not to confront others or pay attention to emotions and to ultimately bottle everything up inside, a pattern so deeply ingrained in her psyche that she was not equipped with the tools she needed to navigate tough emotions.

Following her daughter's death, and compounded by years of sexual abuse, the burden of guilt and shame haunted Beiler, nearly tearing her family and marriage apart. Finally realizing that freedom could only come through telling the truth, Beiler's outlook on secrets and emotions was transformed, and she moved from teetering on the brink to thriving in the fullness of God's grace and redemption.

By sharing her own pain, Beiler reminds readers they are not alone. She weaves brief stories of other brave individuals throughout her own and presents a picture of hope for those who have experienced their own loss, grief and shame.

"I know the pain that comes with keeping these secrets tucked inside. Fear and shame will lie to you, isolating you and do whatever possible to keep you silent," said Beiler. "I pray that reading this helps people to see that they aren't alone and encourages them to start opening up so they can experience God's redemptive grace and break free from the lies."

As Beiler knows from experience, nobody is exempt from pain or heartache. The rawness of her testimony is timely for anyone who has been carrying secret burdens and for all who desire to be equipped with the proper tools for healing and recovery when tragedy inevitably strikes.

"This book will be transformative in your life. Anne's transparency shows us we are not the 'only one.' Her honesty and authenticity are refreshing and healing.

As you read this book, you will find a safe friend." said Ruth Graham, author of Fear Not Tomorrow, God Is Already There.

Anne Beiler began twisting pretzels in 1987 to support her husband's visions of offering free counseling services in their community. What began as a single farmer's market stand grew into Auntie Anne's, Inc., the world's largest hand-rolled soft pretzel franchise.

But Anne's journey towards success began many years before the first pretzel was rolled when she and her husband experienced any parent's worst nightmare – the loss of a child. This propelled Anne into years of darkness, depression and despair but out of her and Nation's Restaurant News. Anne also received honorary doctorates from Eastern College and Elizabethtown College.

Anne sold Auntie Anne's in 2005, and today speaks to audiences around the world, inspiring people with her authentic stories and life experiences. Her mission is to help encourage others to overcome themselves and become the more they desire.

Her latest book, The Secret Lies Within, offers an inside out look at trauma and how to overcome through sharing your story. In addition to The Secret Lies Within, she is also the author of Twist of Faith: The Story of Anne Beiler, Founder of Auntie Anne's Pretzels. Anne and her husband live in Salado and are parents to two daughters and proud grandparents to four grandchildren.

Grand Opening Week at J.Genevieve

J.Genevieve prepares to celebrate the launch of the brand and creative space with a full Grand Opening Week.

Owner Jess Mall launched J.Genevieve, a Central Texas based, empowered, woman founded and run creative brand, on June 6. "I'm so pleased with how these first few months have shaped up," says Mall, "I gave the business some time to breathe and develop over the summer and now we're gearing up to celebrate. For a week."

Photo sessions are booking, custom art is moving off the walls into people's homes, and the various events housed at the HQ are filling up, even though J.Genevieve has been in soft opening mode for the past several months. "I'm looking forward to introducing the brand to the Central Texas community if they haven't encountered it already," comments Jess, "The support has been so amazing from the beginning and I can't wait to see what happens when I kick everything into high gear." Grand Opening festivities will kick off on Oct. 1. The HQ, J.Genevieve's creative art space, will be open special hours; noon - 8 p.m. from Oct. 1 - 5. The official ribbon cutting will take place 5:30 p.m. on Oct. 1. Raffle drawings for various J.Genevieve services will take place each day [must be present to enter] and art previews will be available.

The open house style week is free and open to the public.

week will culminate with a J.Genevieve UNLEASHED Art Bash at the HQ located at 209 South Main Street from 7 - 11 p.m. on Oct. 4. The festivities include an interactive graffiti mural led by the artists of Laced and Found, complimentary tequila cocktails with a take home cantarito, queso bar compliments of Hecho en Queso, eclectic record spinning by DJ Mitch of Belton, a silent art auction and local artist showcase and higher end raffle drawings.

Artists featured at the HQ will be present along with Jess to meet and mingle with J.Genevieve's guests and all Salado based artists have been invited to feature one piece at the event celebrating the local legend of the mermaid Sirena.

Tickets to the Art Bash are $10 in advance, $15 at the door and children 12 and under are free.

A portion of the proceeds from the evening will go to benefit Sirenafest's All Abilities Playground Project in Salado. Mall makes it clear that "I want folks to understand that it's an important facet of J.Genevieve to support talents and pursuits that challenge, transform and uplift our community and those who travel to visit and encounter us in this unique corner of Texas." Mall expresses that through the J.Genevieve brand by housing art from featured local artists as well as herself and by supporting causes like the Sirenafest All Abilities Playground Project.

Information and tickets for the Grand Opening week at J.Genevieve is available at jgenevieve.com. Questions about the events can be directed to Mall at info@jgenevieve.com.

Opening lead — king of spades.

Assume you reach four hearts on the bidding shown, and West leads the king of spades. How would you play the hand?

You seem to have four inescapable losers — two spades and two clubs. The only realistic chance is to find the opposing clubs divided 3-3, in which case dummy's fourth club can be established for a spade discard. The fly in the ointment is that if West gains the lead while you are trying to set up the long club, he will cash two spades to defeat you.

You must therefore assume not only that the clubs are divided 3-3, but that East has the K-Q-x (or K-Q-J) as well as just the one spade he is marked with on the bidding. However, even if East has the K-Q-x of clubs, you will have to play very carefully, as the actual declarer discovered when he went down one.

He won the opening spade lead with the ace, cashed the A-K of trump and then played the ace of clubs. All would have been well had East routinely followed low, but instead he alertly dropped the queen of clubs under the ace. As a result, West eventually gained the lead with the jack, and the contract was kaput.

To neutralize the potential unblocking play by East, declarer should cross to dummy with a trump to trick two and lead a club toward his hand. If East plays low, South takes the ace and concedes two tricks to the K-Q.

If East instead splits his honors when the first club is led, declarer allows him to hold the trick. Assuming East returns a diamond, South wins in dummy and leads a second club toward the A-10. If East plays the king, declarer again lets him win, while if East follows low, declarer takes the ace and then concedes a club to the king. Dummy's remaining high trump later provides the entry to the established club.

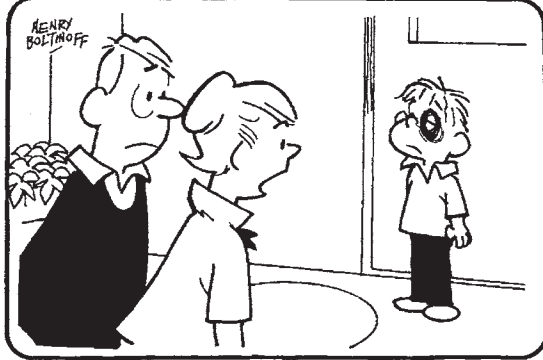

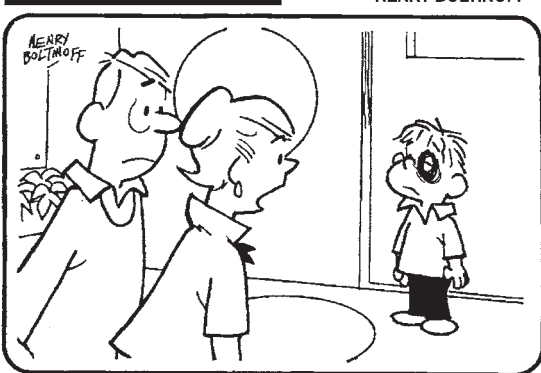

By handling the clubs in this delicate fashion, South assures that West can never gain the lead, and the contract — with a hefty assist from Lady Luck — comes rolling home.

There are many practical household solutions for everyday problems. Here are a few tips to make your home life easier.

- Remove wax spills on carpets and clothing by placing several paper towels or a brown paper bag on the wax and applying a warm iron to absorb.
- Remove ink stains on leather furniture with hair spray. After it dries, wipe away the stain with a mixture of vinegar and water.
- Sharpen garbage disposal blades by tossing in ice cubes and processing as usual.
- To speed up drainage of your tubs and sinks, pour down a cup of baking soda, followed by a cup of white vinegar. After a few minutes, flush the drain with a gallon of hot water.
- Remove heat and moisture stains on wood with white toothpaste. Rub the toothpaste on the spot, and wipe it off with a soft cloth.
- Remove hairspray residue on your vanity counter by spraying it with a mixture of two parts water and one part liquid fabric softener.
- To remove crayon from walls, use a hair dryer to heat up the wax, then wipe off. If color remains, use a wet cloth with bleach.
