Fire Department's open house Oct. 4 showcases equipment

The Salado Volunteer Fire Department invites you to an open house at the fire station on Stagecoach Rd. 7 p.m. Oct. 4. The open house is part of Fire Prevention Week Oct. 3-9.

Salado firefighters will showcase the new equipment of the department as well as the station itself.

One of the new pieces of equipment is the breathing air compressor and cascade system. The Masonic Lodge held a Fish Fry in May to help finance this system. The Salado Fire Department is the only volunteer department in Bell County that has this type of equipment.

During this fire prevention week, the department will be educating the children of the community.

Classes from Thomas Arnold Elementary will tour the Fire Station Oct. 4. The department will be at the school doing presentations on Oct. 7.

Visitors to the Salado Volunteer Fire Department Open House Oct. 4 will have a chance to see the department's newest equipment.

With help from Ft. Hood, the department will bring the Learn Not to Burn trailer to the school. The trailer is set up like a miniature home that the kids will be in as it begins to fill with stage smoke. They will have to be able to stay low and crawl to a secondary exit. This is an exciting and innovative way to reinforce the presentations that the firemen make in the classrooms.

Salado's Shawna Cunningham, reigning

Central Texas Miss Flame will be on hand at the Open House. Hollie Koch, the 1999-2000 Salado Fire Department Miss Flame will also be present.

"The department encourages all citizens of the community to come out and join us for the open house," said Fire Chief Wayne Rutherford, "This will give everyone a chance to meet our local firefighters, see the equipment and discuss the future of the community."

SHS has National Merit Scholar Semi-finalist

Salado High School Senior Adrienne Akins has been named as a Semifinalist in the 45th National Merit Scholarship Program. Adrienne now has an opportunity to continue in the competition for one of 7,600 Merit Scholarship awards, worth over $28 million, to be awarded next spring.

Adrienne is an active participant in a variety of activities at Salado High School. She played on the state finalist basketball team for the 1998-99 season, and she is involved in basketball, track, cross-country, and tennis. She is a member of the National Honor Society and the Spanish Club. She has also been involved with Student Senate, P.R.I.D.E., and the Serteen Club. She has been a member of the state championship team in UIL the area of mathematics, and has been on a state-qualifying team in the area of UIL Literary Criticism. Adrienne has also been a regional qualifier in the area of Editorial Writing. She is a member of the Fellowship of Christian Students, and she serves as an officer in her church Youth Council.

Adrienne Akins

She is a member of First Baptist Church of Salado. Adrienne has not yet decided what college she will attend.

Adrienne is the daughter of Rick and Susan Akins of Salado. She is the granddaughter of Viola Cornelius of Salado and Ferris and Ramona Akins of Ballinger.

The National Merit Scholarship competition was entered by nearly 1.2 million students in over 20,000 U.S. high schools. Fewer than one percent of entrants were designated as semifinalists. Merit Scholarship winners will be announced in the spring.

Auxiliary readies for Christmas in Oct. at Salado Civic Center

The days are ticking down until the 17th annual "Christmas In October" sponsored by the Salado Chamber of Commerce Ladies Auxiliary 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Oct. 8-9 at the Salado Civic Center. Tickets will be for sale at the door for $5 per person.

Following the theme "Viva the Arts", various forms of the arts will be incorporated in the many holiday displays.

The most current fashions from the renowned Grace Jones shop will be modeled throughout the day. Grace Jones is known for presenting couture from the highly acclaimed fashion houses such as Geoffrey Beene, Bill Blass Christian LaCroix and Lagerfeld. A fashion surprise will be shown from the new Paris designer Douglas Anderson.

Salado artists Troy Kelley, Ronnie Wells, Larry Prellop, B. Herd and James Blair will have work exhibited in the upstairs gallery for the visitors viewing pleasure.

Entertainment will include Mexican dancers, a wandering harmonica player, classic and modern piano arrangements as well as the Salado Women's Chorale. Refreshments will be served throughout the day.

Christmas vignettes and a variety of decorated Christmas trees will spark ideas for your holiday decorating. Salado's Bed and Breakfast Inns will present an array of elegant and festive table settings.

Visitors will have the opportunity to win items that have been donated by Salado merchants. Drawings will be held throughout the day.

The famous "Salado Christmas in October Bake Sale", will offer scrumptious baked items furnished by the best cooks in Salado. The baked breads, cakes, cookies and brownies are ready to eat or to freeze for your holiday treats.

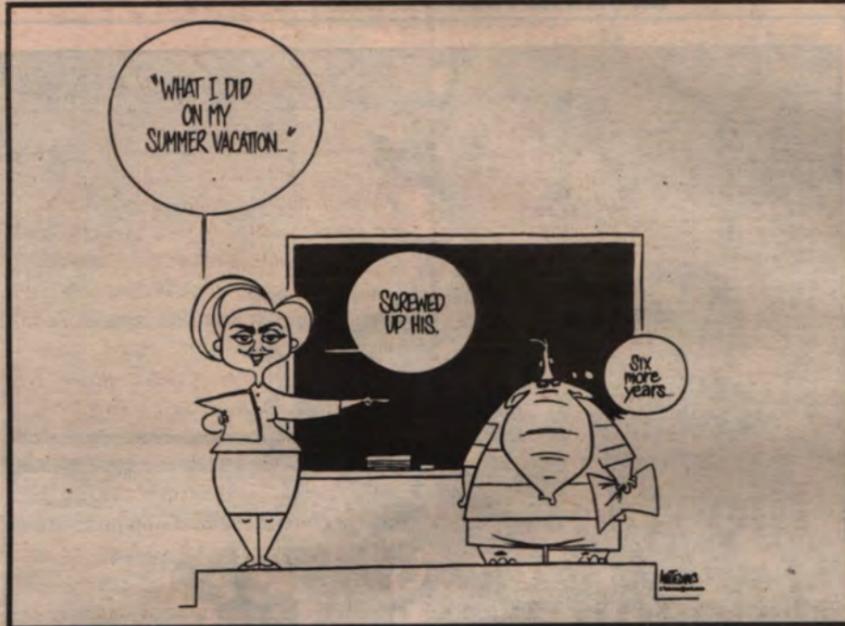

Salado, an historic and quaint village is located halfway between Austin and Waco (exit 284) making Salado a central location for day trips, vacations and business meetings. It is a village of elegant living, excellent golfing, fine dining and exclusive shopping in a relaxed atmosphere.

Proceeds from this event are used to benefit Salado beautification projects, scholarships, Volunteer Fire Department and Salado Family Relief.

An Open Exchange of Ideas

Support our firefighters SVFD Open House Oct. 4

Saladoans will have the opportunity Oct. 4 to meet with their volunteer firefighters and see the advances the department has made in recent years.

Salado Volunteer Fire Department will host an Open House 7 p.m. Oct. 4 at the Fire Station located on Stagecoach Road.

The Department will showcase its new equipment, which includes two new pumper trucks, as well as giving local people a chance to discuss the future of the community.

The Open House affords us the opportunity to thank our firefighters personally for the exemplary job they do in our community.

Named First Responders of the Year in 1997, Salado Volunteer Fire Department is a model other small communities hope to emulate.

We are fortunate in Salado to have a core of dedicated firefighters, well-trained volunteers and professionals who volunteer their time in their hometown. Many of our volunteers are paid firefighters in other communities. Others work in our village and are willing to sacrifice their time during emergencies of all sorts.

Our Voice

Editorial Opinion

As the I-35 corridor continues its explosive growth, the demands on our volunteers to be well-trained, committed and well-equipped will grow.

Because the fire department is situated in an unincorporated community, it receives no local tax dollars. Its annual budget comes completely from department fund-raisers and community donations.

So it is important next week to not only thank the firefighters with words, but with deeds. By that, we mean donations.

If you have not already given money to the SVFD this year, take the opportunity to do so during their Open House. If you have already given money this year, please consider increasing that donation as the duties of the fire department have increased over the years.

By doing this, we can help make sure they are ready when it is our home, or our business at risk. --- T.F.

PROPOSED STATE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT REVIEW BEGINS TODAY

(Writer's Note: Starting today and continuing for the next four issues of the Salado Village Voice, this column will feature a description and analysis of the 17 amendments to the State Constitution that will be voted on November 2. We will also present the pros and cons relative to the amendments. And finally, will offer a recommendation concerning each of the proposed changes to the highest law of the State.)

AMENDMENT ONE GUBERNATORIAL VACANCY

Amendment One deals with revising the procedure to be followed when there is a vacancy in the office of Governor and/or Lieutenant Governor. The obvious reasoning behind this move is the current belief that the present Governor - George Bush - may be our next president. Thus creating a vacancy in the Governor's Office in Austin.

The current State Constitution is unclear concerning the important fact that should the Governor die, resign or become unable to continue serving, the Lt. Governor would naturally move up - but not necessarily have to give up his present job as head of the Senate. This obviously causes some political concern about a massive concentration of power that the original framers did not have in mind when they approved a weak executive form of government for the Lone Star State.

This proposed amendment does in fact properly solve the problem concerning succession to the office of governor by moving up the Lt. Governor, forbidding him to hold both offices and requires the Senate to immediately select a member of that body to serve as Lt. Governor until the next regular election.

While resolving one problem the amendment creates two others including what is meant by the new term "permanently disabled or absent" sufficient to create a vacancy. Second problem is what to do if both offices - that of Governor and Lieutenant Governor should be vacated at the same time.

This amendment should be approved since there is a chance that our current governor will be leaving office before his term expires and we don't need a battle over the outside chance that Rick Perry might become Governor and try to hold on to the leadership of the Senate at the same time. We doubt if even Perry would try such a stunt but strange things happen in Austin when the politicians are left to their own devices. Best to put procedures in writing as this amendment would do if passed.

We can solve the other problems with another amendment two years down the road. "Solve what you can when you can", is a valid rule when dealing with the murky details of constitutional law and revision.

Recommend Approval of Amendment One.

AMENDMENT TWO REVISITS REVERSE MORTGAGE LAW

The second of this year's 17 proposed amendments to our state constitution revisits, for the second time in two years, the matter of reverse mortgages.

Two years ago, permission was granted by voters to allow banks and other financial institutions to lend homeowners money on the equity they have created in their home - a major change in the homestead act. Also in the 1997 amendment was a provision that

Off the Record
by Ken Clapp

gave banks permission to create what was termed "reverse mortgage loans". It is this section of the previous change that is being refined in this year's Amendment Two.

Simply put, a reverse mortgage allows a senior citizen to borrow money on his homestead with no repayment of interest and principal due until the borrower dies at which time the lender recoups the loan by selling the property.

Banks found many problems with the 1997 law and as a result few if any reverse mortgages were made. The banking industry and its lobby created this current amendment as a means of clarifying the lending procedure while giving more protection to the lender.

These changes force the borrower to properly maintain the home in question; raises the age of the borrower from 55 to 62; spells out conditions relative to default and requires prompt payment of taxes and insurance by borrower - all added to the new lending plan and should result in lenders going after this market with vigor.

Since the lending agency in this reverse mortgage plan is subject to court supervised foreclosure it would appear that all interests are being protected, therefore there seems to be no reason to be opposed to this amendment.

Based on the intent of this amendment we would recommend passage. In actual practice, should the lenders have created a way of creating mischief with this proposal - sort of a step in the direction of "The Law of Unintended Consequences", then we would recommend that steps be taken immediately to remove this plan from the Constitution.

Recommend approval of Amendment Two.

AMENDMENT THREE TOSSES ARCHAISM

Proposed Amendment Three to the current Texas Constitution came about when members of the 76th Legislature - while seeking a complete rewrite of the document - came across a number of "duplicative, obsolete, archaic and ineffective" provisions and words that lawmakers felt should be eliminated or brought into current language usage.

Fortunately the complete redo of the constitution failed but parts of some 81 sections were recommended for change - either through word modernization or outright repeal under the "archaic-deletion" philosophy. These changes are all found in Amendment Three.

This writer read the entire state constitution along with the recommendations for change as noted in this amendment and found no substantive problems or errors that would merit opposition to the plan.

"The present constitution is a sound document but has some "deadwood" in it and these archaic and ineffective items need to be removed" - according to legal scholars favoring this amendment.

A few interesting changes might be appropriately noted in passing. The term "voter" has taken the place of "selectors". This writer thinks "selector" is the more descriptive word, but since "voter" is more commonly used today, the proposed change was made.

The section in the present document

The Ryder Cup

Digressions

Tim Fleischer

The Europeans should just take their golf balls home and not play anymore, the bunch of cry babies.

Listening to Jose Maria Olazabal whine about the American fans reaction to Justin Leonard's clutch putt on the 17th hole of his Ryder Cup match really made me want to slap the Spaniard for hijacking a great American ideal.

That of blaming someone else for your failure. As they had to hand over the victory to the Americans after leading 10-6 going into the final day of golf, the Europeans complained about the excessive celebration following Leonard's putt. Rather than looking in the mirror and blaming themselves for choking, the Europeans had to find another scapegoat.

What really irks me about the Europeans is the possibility of losing that great American institution of shifting blame. Next, they'll be blaming us for stopping Hitler and ending World War II too soon. Oh, wait, Pat Buchanan's already done so.

I digress.

It's only natural to look for some other reason for defeat. Look at any sport.

Football, where faith in the referees is so low that there is instant replay to second guess them.

Or baseball, where coaches, players and ump's cuss each other and kick sand in each other's faces over calls at homeplate.

But golf has always been the one sport where the competitors took responsibility for their own play (except John Daly, who has never taken responsibility for anything).

Until now. Now you can blame the spectators who pay good money to see you and cheer you on. Now, you blame the folks who pay your salary, who make your mortgage payment for you, who bought your car and put food on the table. If not for the fans, where would the money be?

Personally, I watch golf rather than taking sedatives. It is a sport best viewed through the back of the eyelids.

In recent years, as more people are exposed to the game, the crowds at pro golf matches are becoming a little rowdier.

Which I think is fine. In fact, I think golf should become a contact sport, like hockey.

Golf should have enforcers on each hole. Each golfer would have no more than 25 seconds (like football) to setup and shoot. Imagine a Ryder Cup wherein a stiff-upper-lipped Brit tries to sink a 45-foot putt before a 6'5" 275-pound man named Bubba runs in to tackle him. You'd have higher scores, but the game would be played much faster.

Besides, we Americans would send the Europeans home without the Ryder Cup and missing a few teeth.

And that wouldn't be bad at all.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I believe the issue of gun control is a complicated one. Both anti and pro gun control advocates should, in my opinion, allow for reasonable compromise.

It is understandable that your personal experience in Killeen could leave you with a very defined stand on the gun control issue, and it is your right to express your opinion. However, I found your "tongue-in-cheek" article in last week's Salado Village Voice to be offensive. I was angered by what I considered to be a flippant commentary on truly tragic events.

Respectfully,

Alice Wells

First aid is on the way for Texas' rural hospitals

by Kay Bailey Hutchison
U.S. Senator

Texas' rural hospitals, and all hospitals for that matter, operate on very slim margins yet manage to bring cutting-edge medical care to the communities they serve. But changes in Medicare payments to hospitals have put many institutions in a bind. Others are fighting for their lives.

Rural communities across Texas have felt the impact of hospital closures for more than a decade now. When a rural hospital closes, local residents lose access to routine, preventative care, not to mention emergency services that can save life and limb. Doctors and other highly trained professionals move away. Then people must drive a hundred miles or more in some cases to get the care city dwellers take for granted. Local economies suffer when jobs are lost. Existing businesses may have to move, and new businesses won't locate in places where health care is unavailable. Hospital closure can be a death-knell for struggling towns.

Now the Health Care Finance Administration (HCFA) says it will make cuts in its payments to hospitals that are much greater than what Congress expected in its 1997 Medicare bill. At the same time hospitals face Y2K costs, higher blood supply costs and higher prescription drugs prices - increases in operating expenses that were not anticipated in 1997.

The biggest single dollar issue facing these institutions is a scheduled reduction in the annual inflation adjustment for standard, inpatient Medicare payments (what hospitals are paid for treating Medicare patients diagnosed with specific illnesses). Until now, Medicare has provided annual increases in payments to make up for increased hospital costs due to inflation. But hospitals are no longer going to receive that annual inflation adjustment.

To address this looming crisis, I am introducing legislation to restore some of the planned rollbacks in Medicare payments to health-care facilities.

This will provide a temporary shot in the arm to hospitals already hard hit by overall Medicare provider reimbursements cuts, and particularly cuts in outpatient services. As hospitals learn to adjust to the new reimbursement system for outpatient services, continuing to receive inflation adjustments might just mean the difference between disaster and survival.

Other rescue efforts for hospitals are underway, as well, and I am cosponsoring a number of bills that have been introduced to strengthen hospitals' financial position. One would limit hospitals' losses under the new outpatient reimbursement system; another would increase the reimbursements made to rural hospitals for seniors in Medicare Choice-Plus (managed care) plans.

Finally, my successful effort to ensure that Texas' tobacco settlement funds stay in our state and out of the clutches of the federal government has meant that many rural hospital districts are receiving a financial boost. My bill keeping the federal government's hand out of the tobacco settlement cookie jar passed into law as part of a larger emergency spending bill signed by the President in May. As a result, Texas counties are in line to receive more than $2 billion, including a lump sum payment of $300 million from the fund this year. A $1.8 billion permanent trust account also has been established by the state so that each county will get its share, every year, in perpetuity.

Texas hospitals aren't out of the woods yet, by a long way. But I don't believe Congress will stand by and watch them close. First aid is on the way.

that deals with giving state aid to indigent confederate soldiers or sailors was taken out - as was the history behind that provision.

And the old law that only property owners could vote for property tax increases was deleted. The idea that property owners should be given sole say on property tax hikes has merit but flies in the face of the federal voting acts, so out it goes.

All in all - this amendment appears to be benign and probably should be approved even though opponents may have a point when they declare that this is an example of constitutional tinkering when constitutional revision would be better.

Recommend passage of Amendment Three.

NEXT WEEK

Next week we will review Amendments Four, Five and Six - all three important matters dealing with the home-stead law; taxable charities and state employees serving as elective officials.

The great lion hunter of Texas

Stories on Texas

Tumbleweed Smith

Henry McIntyre grew up around Fort Stockton hunting coons with his dogs. He always wanted to hunt bigger game so he started hunting mountain lions. He has done it professionally for the last 20 years. He has killed 200 mountain lions since 1990. He usually gets about 20 lions a year. In the last 98 days he has shot nine mountain lions.

Henry learned many of his lion hunting skills from Blackie Woods, who lives in Van Horn. He describes Blackie, now 90 years old, as the best lion hunter in Texas or anywhere else.

Henry lives in Valentine and hunts about 170 days a year on several ranches in the Texas mountain country. "I hunt from Valentine to Balmorhea and from Kent to Shafter," says Henry. "When I kill a lion I show it to the rancher or somebody who works there, then I skin it and sell the hides. I cut the meat up and cook it and feed it to my dogs."

Cat hides sell for $150-$300 depending on the size of the skin and the desire of the buyer. "When I get a deep freeze full of them I usually find an advertisement and send them somewhere."

Henry just got a lion hide coat he had made in Eureka, Montana by a master furrier named Randy Richards. Henry sent him nine hides, Randy tanned them and made Henry a coat and charged him $1,000. The coat is heavy and Henry is looking forward to wearing it this winter.

Ranchers want the lions cleared out because they kill deer. The landowners wish to keep deer herds up for hunters who pay good money to get a trophy deer on mountain ranches. "In 1990, the herds were so small nobody could kill a decent buck," says Henry. "They knew the lions were eating them. That's why I got the job. On the ranches where I've worked, they've got quite a few deer back now."

Henry has a dozen dogs that help him hunt mountain lions. Some cost as much as $5,000. He lost one of those expensive dogs when the dog tangled with a mountain lion on the edge of a mountain and the dog and the lion both fell into the canyon below.

"I always take a straight dog with me," says Henry. "That's one that won't bark on nothing but a lion." He hunts horseback or on a mule. "I start out at about 3:30 in the morning during the summer. If it's gonna happen, it's gonna happen early. When the heat comes, the scent is gone. As soon as it's light enough to see I just unload, get on my horse or mule and go to ridin' down through them canyons where they travel. Whenever the dogs smell a track they just take after it. Sometimes they trail it and catch it, sometimes they don't. When I ride up to a lion, I get on the ground and shoot him, gut him and put him on my mule or horse and haul him out."

Some of the mountain lions are heavy. "A male lion will weigh a little over a hundred pounds, maybe up to a hundred and thirty. A female will weigh from sixty to eighty pounds."

He uses a 30-30 rifle and a Glock 17 pistol. His pickup bed has a partition down the middle of it. One side is for his horse or mule, the other is for his dogs. He takes people on mountain lion hunts occasionally.

Gift & Talented class bake for Christmas in October project

Jane Bartlett's intermediate gifted and talented class have been preparing for their community project of Christmas in October.

To accompany 7th and 8th grad economics the classes toured Brookshire Brothers with Dale Kehn and bought ingredients to bake cookies with Mrs. Salisbury's homemaking students. The cookies will be donated for the sale of baked goods at Christmas in October.

Fifth and 6th grades are concentrating on ecology and decided to create a recyclable Christmas Tree. An aluminum Christmas tree was located and the student's created ornaments from recyclable materials.

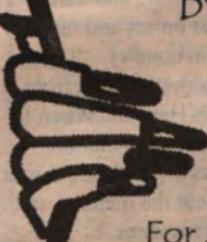

The decorated tree will be displayed Oct. 8-9 during Christmas in October at the Salado Civic Center.

Commissioners fund Airport Study and Sesquicentennial

by Tim Fleischer
Editor-in-Chief

Bell County Commissioners approved funding two projects during their Sept. 27 meeting: the county's portion of the economic impact study on the Killeen Airport Expansion and the Bell County Sesquicentennial program.

Commissioners approved $20,000, which is the county's portion of the economic impact study of the expansion of the Killeen Airport.

Proposals for the study, with a cap of $100,000, are due for consideration this week. Other entities which have pledged support of the study include Killeen, $35,000; Copperas Cove, $25,000; Temple, $5,000; Harker Heights, $5,000 and Belton, $3,000. Georgetown will contribute $7,000 to the study and Lampasas will give $1,000 for the study,

Part of the study, according to Bell County Judge Jon Burrows, is to consider the impact of the Killeen Airport expansion on the Temple Airport.

County commissioners also approved $12,500 to fund the Bell County Sesquicentennial Committee, which is headed by Dr. David Yielding, of Killeen.

The Sesquicentennial Committee is working with communities in the county to have various celebrations of the County's Sesquicentennial in 2000.

The Bell County Sesquicentennial invites towns, communities, and organizations desiring to sponsor activities promoting the history of Bell County during the year 2000 to do so.

See the list of events for the Sesquicentennial.

Commissioners also approved 10 holiday periods for a total of 13 days off for county employees in 2000:

Martin Luther King Day, Jan. 17; Presidents Day, Feb. 21; Good Friday, April 21; Memorial Day, May 29; Independence Day, July 3-4; Labor Day, Sept. 4; Columbus Day, Oct. 9; Veterans Day, Nov. 10; Thanksgiving, Nov. 23-24 and Christmas, Dec. 25-26.

In other business, commissioners authorized the county engineer to advertise for bids for the following items: metal culverts, fuel, oil and grease, reinforcing steel, two 12-cubic yard dump trucks, three six-cubic yard dump trucks and uniforms for the road and bridge department.

Commissioners also approved the final plat for Mountain Oaks Addition, a 70-acre development with 27 lots off of SH 195 near Killeen.

The court approved traffic control devices including a stop sign on Quail Ridge and Royal St.

THE ILLUSTRATED BIBLE
God Accepts the Good

"Truly I perceive that God shows no partiality, but in every nation any one who fears him and does what is right is acceptable to him." —Acts 10:34-35

Paul's words to the Roman centurion Cornelius, a godly man but a Gentile, set forth clearly the doctrine that God recognized no distinctions between men. Jews, Romans and other peoples were fully welcome in God's eyes if they followed His precepts of righteous living and offered Him the awe and respect which were His. We have but to look at the universality of Christianity today to realize how far-seeing was Paul. From its humble beginnings in those narrow confines in which Jesus' ministry flourished, the faith He imbued in His followers has been spread around the world. No matter where or among what peoples, God's impartiality can be seen where good men believe.

Wolves howl throughout game

by Tim Fleischer
Editor-in-Chief

Salado's conflict with the Cedar Park Timberwolves Sept. 24 was a typical David-Goliath story with the Eagles being David and the Timberwolves being Goliath.

Only this time, Goliath won. The Timberwolves cruised to a 34-14 win over Salado.

Despite the final score, Salado got within a stone's throw of dropping the much larger opponent. Cedar Park has a student population of over 1,200 with three grades (9-11), while Salado has just over 300 students in grades 9-12. Next year, Cedar Park is expected to be a full-fledged 5A school with all four grades.

After trailing 20-7 at the half, Salado took the second half kick-off and marched 60-yards to score.

Michael Schoepf found Paul Lucas in the end zone from the Cedar Park 2 yard line with 8:04 in the third quarter. A pass interference call against the Timberwolves brought the ball to the 2 yard line. The wolves were called for over 100 yards in penalties for the night. Lucas' PAT brought the score to 14-20.

Andrew Hanson, who

Salado team runs into giant Timberwolves, over and over and over had just been moved up to the Eagles' varsity squad, recovered the ensuing kickoff at the Cedar Park 34 yard line. After being sacked on first down, Schoepf found Tigger Day for a 34-yard strike. A holding call against the Salado offense negated the play and Salado would not see the endzone again. The Wolves took over on downs when they stopped the Eagles at their own 27 yard line.

Cedar Park then marched 73 yards in less than three minutes. Quinton Smith scored on a 46-yard run to give the wolves a 26-14 lead.

Saladou would spend the rest of the night chasing the Wolves on defense and with their backs to the wall on offense.

Even though the Wolves had two touchdowns called back, they seemed to score at-will with long TD runs by both Quintin Smith, who carried for 254 yards, and Raymond Ferguson, who carried for 165 yards.

Salado's only other

touchdown brought the Eagles to their closest margin, 7-12.

Brent Hansen intercepted Timberwolf quarterback Michael Swoda's pass and ran 15 yards to the Cedar Park 38 yard line with 1:52 left in the first quarter.

Schoepf connected with Lucas for a 9 yard touchdown with 3 seconds left in the quarter on a third and goal situation.

Salado will face Lorena here at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 1

JV Eagles succumb to the pack

The JV Eagles played their second home game of the season Sept. 23 when they hosted 4-A Cedar Park's JV. The scoring was all one-sided with Cedar Park winning the game 34-0. The Salado JV drove the ball several times, but stopped themselves short by penalties or dropped balls.

The second half showed the Eagles making an improvement over the first half with the Eagle defense holding Cedar Park to just 6 points.

The Junior Varsity will travel to Lorena next Thursday, Sept. 30.

Salado 8th Grade Dominates Cedar Park

The Salado 8th Grade hosted Cedar Park Sept. 23 with the Eagles coming out on top 38-0. The Eagles defended their homefield with the first Eagles offensive play resulting in a 50 yard touchdown run from Scott Bates' throw to Bryan Bailey. The try for two failed.

Bates ran in from six yard out on Salado's second possession. Luis Trujillo added the conversion with a 14-0 first quarter lead.

Trujillo added a touchdown early in the second quarter on an eleven yard run. Bates hit Matt Trolinger with a pass for the conversion.

The opening play of the second half was a Cedar Park pass that was picked off by Bates and returned 30 yards for another Eagle touchdown. Trujillo scored the conversion for a 30-0 lead.

In the fourth quarter, Matt Brown scampered in from eight yards out and added the conversion for the final 38-0 score.

Karleigh Goodnight is player of the week

The Salado U10 Big Red soccer team felt their first loss Sept. 24 against the Bartlett White team. Goal keeper Travis Eddy stopped 5 of 7 goal attempts by Bartlett before playing mid-field.

Left forward Matt Ming, right forward Preston Watkins and striker Brooks Williams worked the ball hard going to the Bartlett goal and trying to score.

Mid-fielders Kristen Berumen, Sara Sebti and Kourtney Singleton fortified the middle of the field by backing up the forwards and aiding the defense.

Full backs Shelby Platt, Jackie Ryon and Jordan worked hard on defense with great tackles and hard kicks up-field. Second half goal keeper Lauren Culver helped the Big Red defense by stopping two goal shots from the Bartlett team. Karleigh Goodnight played striker and in mid-field had 4 tackles and one goal.

"I've picked Karleigh Goodnight as the Big Red player of the week because she always gives 100 percent to the team," said coach Tracey Eddy. "She was nursing an injury but wanted to get in there and play and ended up scoring. Our whole team is working hard together and I am proud of them all." The Big Red team is sponsored by First State Bank.

Lady Eagles win game

by Blake Cameron

The Salado Lady Eagles defeated the Holland Lady Hornets Sept. 21 in Salado for their first district Volleyball win.

The Lady Eagles dropped the first game 5-15, but then came back and won the second game 16-14, as well as, the third game 15-2.

The Lady Eagles attack was led by middle hitter/blocker Robyn Womac who had five kills, three blocks and four digs. Other key players were Sarah Buchanan with seven digs and three kills; Lauren Quirk with three kills and two blocks.

The Junior Varsity lost though against Holland in three games, while the freshman team won 15-3, 15-1. Also a quick Junior High note: All four teams defeated Holland in Holland on Sept. 20.

Eagles

Chase Simpson had several receptions offensively for Salado. Matt Brown, Josh Mitchell and Tim Roberts also had good games offensively.

On defense Kris Stineman, Bill Tubbs, Travis Turk and Ben Marsh did an outstanding job.

7th Grade Eagles Defeat Cedar Park

The 7th Grade Eagles

had a 30-0 victory Sept. 23 over Cedar Park at Eagle Field.

Devon Dunn's first quarter 15 yard run put the Eagles on the board with Dunn making the two point conversion. The first quarter also saw Nick Bell run the ball in from the 5 yard line adding to the Eagle score.

In the second quarter, Devon Dunn had an outstanding 70 yard run with Bell making the conversion. Austin Rogers ran 60 yards for an Eagle touchdown in the third quarter with Dunn adding the final 2 points for the Eagles.

Outstanding defensive players were Nick Bell and Tommy Lyssy.

Matt Jennings and Joseph Shumate were outstanding offensive players.

Royce Wiggin named Mean Green player of the week

Royce Wiggin (Fleischer)

The Salado U12 "Mean Green" soccer team beat the Bartlett Blue in their first game Sept. 24. The final score was 6-2.

Travis Kemp led the team with 5 goals out of 10 attempts. Brandon Hollis secured the win the one goal. Hunter Pappas made a direct kick goal that was called back on a technicality.

The Mean Green team did an excellent job of passing the ball on target. Royce Wiggin (Fleischer) had 5, Hunter Pappas Travis Kemp, and Cassidy Ryon each had 3 and Brandon Hollis and Hunter Pappas had 6 on target passes.

The team stopped the Bartlett Blue with great defense. Royce Wiggin (Fleischer) led the team with 11 tackles followed by Hunter Pappas who had 6 each and Cassidy Ryon had 5.

Royce Wiggin (Fleischer) and Hunter Pappas both held off the Bartlett goal attempt by stopping 4 each.

"I've chose Royce Wiggin (Fleischer) to be the Mean Green player of the week because of his strong defense. He held the back field many times by stopping the Bartlett goal strikes. The team played together very well and more importantly, their attitudes were awesome," said Coach Tracey Eddy. The Mean Green team is sponsored by the Salado Village Voice.

Your lawn can't breathe!

Aeration makes great sense for your lawn

- Reduce the maintenance required for a beautiful lawn
- Reduce the amount of watering your lawn needs.
- Increase the efficiency of fertilizer and pesticides, helping reduce the amounts you use.
- Minimize disease, pest and weed problems.
- Treat problem areas

When soil has a lot of traffic, the air in the soil gets "squeezed" out. Plant roots die when they can't breathe. When soil is compacted, roots tend to grow close to the surface where they are more susceptible to drought and require more watering. Aeration helps your lawn stay healthy.

TIP OF THE MONTH:

After you receive your flu shots for this winter season you can do more to help prevent colds and flu virus. Echinacea and Zinc have been shown to help reduce the risk of getting sick. Echinacea has been shown to promote healthy immune system function. Taken when first exposed to a cold or flu virus, Echinacea can reduce the risk of colds and flu. Or if taken after symptoms begin, it can reduce the time of illness by 40-50%. In most cases, taken as recommended, it is safe for children and older adults. Zinc Cold Lozenges have also been proven to reduce the risk of illness, but must be taken cautiously, as Zinc can be toxic in higher quantities. For more information contact your local Chiropractor

Approximately two million people in the U.S. are effected by a hearing loss severe enough to significantly disrupt normal communication. But, there is no reason to suffer in silence.

Fortunately, digital technology is opening up a new world of sound for the hearing impaired, where previously, even the most powerful hearing aid might not make sounds either loud or clear enough to be of use.

You may think that hearing diminishes simply because we age. But, hearing loss is usually the result of damage or disease to the middle ear, the inner ear or the auditory nerve. Losses resulting from disorders of the middle ear may be treated through medical or surgical intervention. Those with sensorineural hearing loss benefit from today's advanced hearing aid technology.

In digital aids, built-in chips regulate sound quality. Digital technology helps fine-tune high frequencies as well its lower frequencies. And, as a bonus, many of today's hearing aids are, so small no one knows they are there.

One of the most exciting treatments for hearing loss is a cochlear implant, a handful of tiny electrodes and wires surgically implanted deep in the inner ear that stimulate the auditory nerve when damage to the cochlear prevents stimulation from occurring normally. The average adult can expect to achieve 75 percent understanding of sentence materials using without visual cues.

Devices cost approximately $17,000, which includes both the implantable receiver stimulator and the external speech processor and microphone-headset. Surgery and rehabilitative costs run from $10,000 to

In most cases, surgery for cochlear implantation takes two to three hours and requires an overnight stay.

Results vary from patient to patient. But, seniors tolerate the surgery well and have a similar range of outcomes as younger adults. Overall, seniors report that cochlear implants significantly improve their quality of life and reduce the isolation and depression associated with deafness in older persons.

So, if you have a hearing problem, you might want to check out the latest technology. There's no better time to tune in.

Staying Skin Smart

(NAPS)—Skin cancer has reached epidemic proportions in America, with over one million new cases detected each year. It's especially important for seniors, as role models to children and grandchildren, to practice good sun safety techniques year-round.

"Skin care has never been more important. Rates of skin cancer, and its most serious form—melanoma—are soaring," said Dr. Arthur Balin, of the Balin Medical Center for Dermatology in Philadelphia. "Everyone, especially seniors, should follow these simple tips: avoid midday sun, wear a wide-brimmed hat, seek shade and wear a full-spectrum sunscreen with an SPF of at least 29 every day."

"It's never too late for seniors to be concerned about skin care," said Stephanie Lederman, executive director of the American Federation for Aging Research (AFAR). "One in five Americans develops skin cancer in their lifetimes. With a little precaution, you can reduce your chances of becoming one of those statistics."

Spanish Club benefits from Orange Lady's experience

On Sept. 16 and 21, Minta Landrum was guest speaker in the Spanish I classes at Salado High School. Landrum taught school in Eagle Pass for over 30 years and is an expert on Hispanic culture. She is a strong supporter of the Spanish Program at the high school.

Landrum began by explaining, "el grito de Dolores," which begins the celebration on el 16 de septiembre (Sept. 16). This holiday is in celebration of Mexico's independence from Spain. It is very much like our July 4th celebration.

She also took the students through each Mexican holiday celebration explaining the significance and the type of preparation necessary for each. The students learned the comparison between our Halloween and el dia de los muertos the Hispanic celebration Day of the Dead. The students had not been aware that el dia de los muertos is a celebration of the lives of lost family members and friends, not a satanic ritual.

Landrum took the students through the Posada during the Christmas celebration explaining how the procession represents Joseph's and Mary's passage looking for a place to stay. The students enjoyed hearing how Minta decorates her home each year with authentic home made decorations, which are significant in the Hispanic culture.

While explaining to the class how cascarnes are used during the Easter celebration, each student expressed an interest in making them.

"The students were curious about Landrum's passion for the color orange and how she became known as the orange lady. They definitely thought it was a great way to look at life and really thought it was a hoot that Ms. Orange had recently had her little sports car painted orange," according to Spanish teacher Yvonne Harmon.

"A Woman of Independent Means" slated to hit stage Oct. 8 at Temple Civic Theatre

The Temple Civic Theatre will present a special one night only performance of "A Woman of Independent Means" with Judy Greene and Shirley Pinkston, Oct. 8. This adaptation by Judy Greene of Elizabeth Forsythe Hailey's best-selling novel of the same name had a successful run last fall with the Living Room Theatre of Salado.

Tickets are $8 and may be purchased at the Temple Civic Theatre Box Office Monday through Friday from 9 a.m.-1 p.m. or on the night of the show. The performance will begin at 7:30 p.m.

For further information, call 778-4751.

Saslav Duo to perform in Temple Oct. 12

At age 17, he was the youngest member of the Detroit Symphony. She began piano lessons at age three and earned a Fulbright Scholarship to the Akademie fuer Musik in Vienna. In 1962 they formed a musical duo both personally and professionally. Ann and Isidor Saslav, of the Saslav Piano and Violin Duo, bring the beauty of classical chamber music to the Cultural Activities Center on Oct. 12 at 7 p.m.

The opening performance of the CAC's 1999-2000 Performing Arts Series, the Saslav's have experienced a tremendous amount of musical success as talented individual artists. Ann Heligman Saslav, a native Texan, was discovered at age 13 by the famed pianist, Menahem Pressler, with whom she studied. She graduated from the Curtis Institute in Philadelphia, where her teachers included Isabelle Vengerova and Mieczyslaw Horszowski. Mrs. Saslav spent several seasons at the Tanglewood and Marlboro Festivals. She has toured extensively as a recitalist, chamber musician and concerto soloist throughout the United States, Europe, Canada, Mexico and New Zealand.

Isidor Saslav has been the concertmaster for three leading American orchestras, the Buffalo Philharmonic, Minnesota, and Baltimore Symphonies, in addition to the Dallas, Washington, and Baltimore Operas. His master teachers include Mischka Mischakoff, Josef Gingold and Ivan Galamian. He has been a faculty member at the Peabody Institute, the Eastman School of Music, the University of Minnesota, and SUNY, Buffalo. Currently, Isidor Saslav is a visiting professor at Stephen F. Austin State University and is the director of the East Texas Institute for Strings. Former concertmaster of the New Zealand Symphony Orchestra (six seasons), Saslav is a noted Haydn authority with his editions of the Haydn String Quartets regularly published by the prestigious Henle Edition.

"Easily proclaimed masters in their respective musical fields, the Saslav Piano and Violin Duo will be an entertaining and delightful opening concert for the 1999-2000 Performing Arts Series," promises David Pennington, CAC Executive Director. "Having recently traded their careers with big-city orchestras for a mixture of orchestras and public engagements as a duo, we were very excited that they accepted our invitation to perform at the Center." The Saslav's have also turned their professional attentions to young audiences, introducing students to the history and passion found in classical music.

"They will also appear in this year's Arts-In-Education program at the CAC," explained Pennington, "Elementary and middle school students in the Temple and Belton ISD will be treated to a special award winning concert designed to pique their curiosity in chamber music, theory and composition and history."

Season tickets for the entire 1999-2000 Performing Arts Series are still available for purchase from the Cultural Activities Center. An adult season ticket is $50, with a $5 CAC membership discount and a $5 senior citizen discount available as well.

The Cultural Activities Center Performing Arts Series is funded in part by a grant from the Texas Commission on the Arts, Heartland Arts Fund and the National Endowment of the Arts. Sponsors for the Saslav Piano and Violin Duo performance are The Carpenter Foundation and Mr. and Mrs. Sol Neman.

For more information on the Performing Arts Series or any of the programs and activities at the Cultural Activities Center, contact the CAC at (254) 773-9926.

1st Class Williard Steele helps humanitarian effort in Kosovo

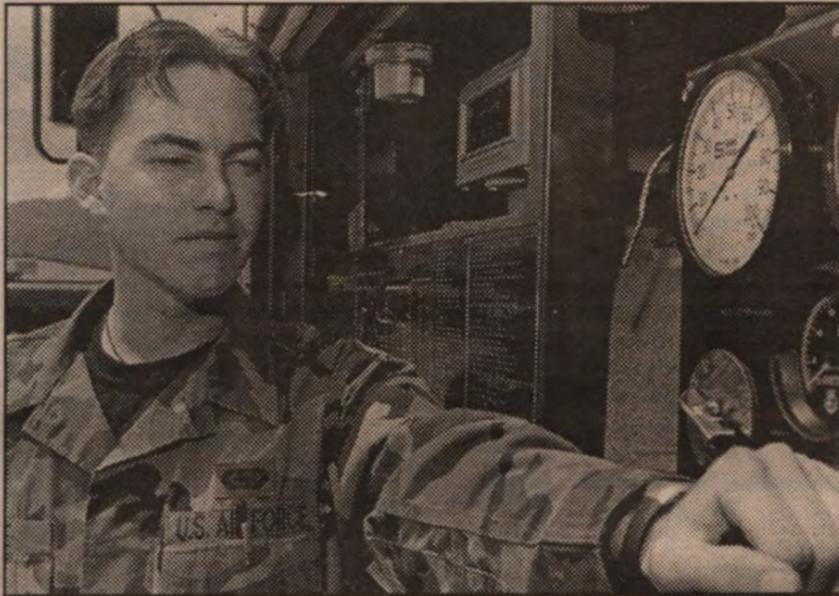

With the end of Operation Allied Force, and the air campaign over Serbia, and with NATO forces firmly in place in Kosovo, the son of a Belton couple is ensuring that the ethnic Albanians who were forced from their homes are allowed to return home safely.

Air Force Airman 1st Class Willard B. Steele, son of Steven and Janet Steele of Belton, is stationed at Aviano Air Base, Italy - the launch pad for NATO's air strikes and humanitarian relief efforts in Kosovo.

The efforts in Kosovo have caused operations at Aviano Air Base to surge beyond normal day-to-day levels. At the height of Operation Allied Force, Aviano Air Base was at force levels that exceeded the work production percentages of Operations Desert Shield, Desert Storm and Vietnam.

In order to provide the humanitarian relief efforts of Operation Joint Guardian, U.S. forces are currently flying out of Aviano Air Base to rebuild airfields and other infrastructures so aircraft can deliver people and much needed supplies.

Steele is providing operational support to the U.S.

1st Class Willard B. Steele and allied forces assembled at Aviano Air Base as a fuels specialist.

"I supply fuel for anything and everything that needs it," said Steele, a 1995 graduate of Belton High School. "Without us, the jets supporting the mission wouldn't leave the ground."

With the end of the 79-day air campaign in Yugoslavia, and the humanitarian relief efforts going into Kosovo from Aviano Air Base, Steele now has time to reflect on the hard work done during these operations.

"When this operation kicked off, I issued about 20 to 50 thousand gallons of fuel a day to aircraft," he said. "I worked in 12-hour shifts. Now, the pace has slowed a lot, and the amount of fuel issued is down to about 15 thousand gallons a day."

There's still a lot of work to be done in Kosovo. People's lives, homes and war-torn cities have to be rebuilt. All of the work done to rebuild this nation may not completely repair the problems in Kosovo, but Steele feels good about helping to bring peace by simply doing his job.

"This was definitely an experience. I can look back and know I did something good in my lifetime," he said. "I wouldn't have been able to do this without the support of my family."

Historically, Operations Allied Force and Joint Guardian will be viewed as a military success. But, the people of Aviano who were involved in those efforts are more satisfied with the fact they could help Kosovar Albanian refugees return home safely.

Doctors on sidelines at HS games

Now that fall athletics have begun at Texas schools, it's not only coaches and players that gear up to hit the fields and courts. Scott and White's doctors suit up, too.

Senior staff and resident physicians volunteer their time during the school year, providing their services along the sidelines to treat any injuries that may occur during games. The Family Practice, Orthopedics and Emergency Medicine Departments at Scott and White all participate in the program, which serves 38 area schools spanning from Goldthwaite, San Saba and Bartlett to Rockdale, Cameron and Chilton, as well as the Central Texas Stampede hockey team.

"Residents are assigned schools for home games. In this area, we're usually covering both of the schools playing, so there's almost always a Scott and White physician at the games," said Sports Medicine Program Coordinator Ronald Scott, ATC, LAT, who travels three days a week during football season, visiting each school. "If a team goes into the playoffs, then that resident follows them as long as they're playing. "It gives them good management skills on the sidelines," he said. "They get to see injuries first-hand, and the mechanics of the injuries. They learn to interact with the players, coaches and fans."

All the residents undergo an 8-10 week lecture series, put on by the senior staff before they begin working games, Scott said. The lecture series gives the residents an overview of sports medicine injuries, and shows them what to look for. At the end of the series, they're given a comprehensive exam.

Although participation in the program is mandatory for the residents, a significant number of senior staff physicians stay heavily involved as well, mainly because they enjoy what they do.

"I have always been involved with sports. I played high school football, even considered (briefly) becoming a coach," said Dr. Glen Couchman, who serves Salado. "I enjoy the kids, the coaches and the games themselves.

"It is a good way for me to relate to my own kids (and them to relate to me) who are involved in competitive sports," he said. "As a family practice doctor, I like seeing young people in my practice. I think that being a team doctor encourages kids to come to me as a physician, even when they have a non-sports-related medical problem."

The love of sports is a common theme among sideline physicians. Most played in the past, and those who didn't are avid fans, which makes their involvement that much more fulfilling.

"A lot of our people have played high school sports themselves," said Dr.

Texas early day tractor, engine association fall show rolls into Temple Oct. 1-3

If you're hungry for mouth watering Bar-B-Que, beans and cornbread and homemade ice cream, supper will be ready at the 28th annual Texas Early Day Tractor and Engine Association's fall show, Oct. 1-3 in Temple.

Step back in time and experience the toe tapping rhythms of two cylinder engines as small as toys and as large as the massive cotton gin engine. Look on while these ancient machines sputter and pop, while performing labor saving shores such as corn shelling, wheat threshing, water pumping, or ice cream making.

And, for those tractor aficionados, you'll enjoy a sea of red, green and yellow with hundreds of tractors parading, pulling, and demonstrating their horsepower. If you're in the market and in the mood, you might just swing a deal for a rare rusted treasure that by next year just might come alive with a little elbow grease and know-how.

Need some advice? Temple's the place to ask the question. Need a part? You're sure to find just what you need. Christmas is just around the corner, and hand-made crafts, antiques, toys, books, and anything related to our agricultural heritage are sure to please.

Take exit 302 West on Nugent avenue off IH-35 to 1717 Eberhardt Road for 48 acres of fun! Adult admission is $4, with children under 10 free. Become a member for $20 and enjoy newsletters, get-togethers, and the fun of restoration and preservation!

Rural Texas Women display now on view at Bell County Museum

Rural Texas Women: 1930-1960 is now on view through December at the Bell County Museum. The photopanel exhibit pays tribute to the industrious, ambitious, and hard-working, women of rural Texas, and includes photographs of Bell County and Milam County women of the period. Also included in the exhibit are artifacts on loan from the Bell County Extension Office.

The exhibit features 54 photographs taken from the University Archives of the Sterling C. Evans Library at Texas A & M University. The pictures were taken, collected, and preserved by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The Texas Humanities Resource Center, organizer of the exhibit, stated, "The pictures in this exhibition are fascinating, because they present everyday Texans going about the task of making a living, during some of the most challenging, indeed catastrophic, years of this century. They fascinate, too, because they relate a bygone way of life that now seems much less complicated, less stressful, less circumscribed-though those who lived it may differ with these idealized assumptions."

Holly Mathis, museum curator, stated, "We are thrilled to be able to host this exhibit which features a fundamental aspect of Bell County-its rich rural heritage." The exhibit is made possible by the Bell County Museum's Friends of the Museum Association. The Bell County Museum is located at 201 N. Main in Belton. Museum hours are 1-5 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday. Admission is free and guided tours are available.

Time to prepare Pansy beds

Ilene C. Miller
Co. Ext. Agent

Cooler fall days ahead mean changes in the garden. Here is a garden checklist from Extension Master Gardeners and Extension Horticulturist Dr. Bill Welch to help you prepare for fall.

October through November is an excellent time to purchase bulbs while there is still a good selection. Bulbs can be planted at any time, except tulips and hyacinths.

* Refrigerate tulip and hyacinth bulbs until mid to late December before planting. The lower part of the refrigerator is best. Do not leave bulbs in air-tight plastic bags during refrigerator storage.

* Plant bulbs in well-prepared beds. The base of the bulb should be at a depth that is three times the diameter of the bulb. Set the bulbs in clay soils, slightly shallower.

* Start collecting leaves for composting. Be sure to have enough soil on hand to cover each 6-inch layer of leaves with several inches of soil. Add about 1 pound of a complete lawn or garden fertilizer to each leaf layer to provide the necessary nitrogen for decomposition. Thoroughly wet the leaf layer before adding soil.

* Prepare planting beds for pansies as soon as they are available at garden centers, and the night temperatures begin to cool. Pansies need well-drained soil and at least a half day of sun. It is best to use started plants, as seed is difficult to handle.

* If you wish to save caladium tubers for another year, dig in late October and allow them to dry in a well ventilated but shaded area. After 7 to 10 days, remove the leaves and dirt; then, store in dry peat moss, vermiculite, or similar material. Pack so that the tubers do not touch each other, and dust with an all-purpose fungicide. Store the container in an area where temperatures won't drop below 50 degrees.

* If twig girdlers have infested your trees, and many twigs and branches are dropping, make sure these are collected and destroyed, since the eggs are deposited in that portion of the branch that drops to the ground.

* There is still time to divide and reset perennials such as phlox, violets, iris, day lilies and Shasta daisies.

* October is a good time to reduce the potential for insects and disease in next year's garden. Clean up the garden, removing all annuals that have completed their life cycle. Remove the tops of all herbaceous perennials when they finish flowering, or as soon as frost kills the leaves.

* Holly plants with a heavy set of fruit often suffer from a fertilizer deficiency. Applying a complete fertilizer late in October can be helpful and will provide a head start next spring. Don't forget to water well.

Extension programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, national origin or disability.

5-10K Run & Health Walk

The 9th Annual Gapper Gallop, a 5K-10K Run and Health Walk, sponsored by Altrusa International of Copperas Cove, will be held Oct. 23 at Ogletree Gap, located just one mile West of Copperas Cove on Highway 190.

The run and health walk will begin at Ogletree Gap and continue through scenic and hilly Ogletree Gap residential area. Preregistration will be at Schlotszky's, 80 - Cove Terrace Shopping Center, Copperas Cove Oct. 15 and Oct. 22 from 6-8 pm.

Registration will be taken the day of the run beginning at 8 a.m. at the Gap. There will be eight age categories in each run. Trophies will be given for the three finishers in each age group in 10K and 5K runs; trophies to overall, youngest and oldest participant; award for the largest military unit or organization or largest school group participating; and everyone who enters will receive a participation ribbon and a chance to win $100 cash in drawing.

Archeology Month at County Museum

Children in grades three, four, and five are cordially invited to celebrate Texas Archeology Awareness Month at the Bell County Museum. The Archeology Funshop will be held from 9 a.m.-noon on Oct. 2, at the museum, 201 N. Main, in Belton. Preregistration is required and a $2 fee will cover the cost of materials.

Temple College anthropology and archeology instructor Carol Macaulay and professional archeologist Al Redder of Waco will conduct the Funshop. The Funshop will include discovering what an archeologist does, why archeology is important, and the ethics involved in professional archeology. Participants will then learn basic archeological techniques and excavation procedures, and will then conduct a simulated excavation on the museum grounds. Refreshments, including the ever-popular "Dirt," will be served.

Texas Archeology Awareness Month was established by the Texas Historical Commission, the Texas Archeological Society, and the Council of Texas Archeologists. The purpose of the month is to promote a better understanding of scientific archeology, prehistory, and native American cultures and to further preservation of our state's irreplaceable archeological heritage. Archeological sites in Texas date from earliest prehistoric times to the 20th century, from ancient campsites and rock art to Spanish missions and settlers' homesteads.

Carol Macaulay received her master's degree in anthropology from Texas A&M University, and is active in field schools sponsored by Texas Archeological Society. She has also done field work at the Gault Site in Bell County, and at the Rainbow Lake site in McLennan County. Al Redder is the principle investigator of the Horn Shelter in Bosque County, and discovered the site along with Frank Watt in 1962.

Space is limited to 20 participants.

To preregister, call the museum at 254/933-5243.

Chisholm Trail Chorus Sweet Adelines to honor military with songs Oct. 23

As the turn of the century approaches, the Chisholm Trail Chorus of Sweet Adelines International will honor the past, present and future contributions of our nation's military with a barbershop musical show Oct. 23, at 7 p.m. at the Cultural Activities Center, 3011 N. 3rd St. in Temple. Tickets are $8 and available at the door.

More than 50 women will take the stage to present "Salute: A Musical Tribute to our Nation's Military," showcasing war-era tunes such as "Oh, How I Miss You Tonight," "Tuxedo Junction," "Cohan Medley," "Battle Hymn of the Republic," "I'm Proud to be an American" and "Jukebox Saturday Night."

Chisholm Trail Chorus is directed by Carl Scherer. Assistant director is Christie Fisher. Chorus members are from Temple, Belton, Troy, Lorena, Hewitt, Waco, China Springs, Kempner, Copperas Cove, Killeen, Harker

Heights, Rogers, Liberty Hill and Georgetown.

Special guests for the evening include the quartet, "Trail Mix," comprised of Chisholm Trail members Paula Drury of Belton, Joyce Tangedahl and Georgia Best of Temple and Darlene Beghtel of Waco. Toe-tapping entertainment will also be provided by the award-winning quartet, "Musical Persuasion," which includes Chisholm Trail's director Scherer of Belton, Geri Davee and Nancy Bourell of Austin and Jean Dragoo of Gruene.

Also sharing the stage that evening will be Charlie St. George and The Memory Makers. Charlie St. George is a retired Air Force Senior Master Sergeant who is "working harder than ever as a veteran advocate and a big band leader. For the past 10 years, his radio program, "Veterans View," has aired on Public Radio KNCT-FM on Sunday afternoons. St. George spins the big band records from his own collection, and provides listener veterans with current policy changes from The Veterans Administration and other veteran organizations- His Veterans newspaper column appears twice monthly in the Fort Worth military newspaper, The Sentinel.

The Memory Maker Orchestra has gained an enviable reputation for entertaining as well as performing for events from San Antonio to Odessa. The Memory Makers are not to the Temple area, having played at the Mayborn Center, the Stardust Ballroom Dance Club, The Wildflower Country Club and St. Luke's Catholic High School. The single, most memorable event for the Memory Makers, St. George says, was the 1995 appearance at the Admiral Nimitz Reunion at Fredericksburg. Forty thousand World War II veterans and their families from all over America gathered there to celebrate the 50th Anniversary of WWII. President and Governor Bush were in attendance. That evening, The Memory Makers entertained 3,000 dancers under the stars at the Guadalupe County Fairgrounds.

Sweet Adelines International is a non-profit singing organization dedicated to promoting four-part harmony, barbershop-style singing for women. In addition to its annual show, Chisholm Trail Chorus performs at many regional events, including the Salado Christmas Stroll and the Belton Fourth of July celebration, as well as at nursing homes and corporate functions. Rehearsals are held at 7 p.m. every Thursday at the Cultural Activities Center. Visitors are welcome.

Q: We have an old soup dish that my husband's grandfather remembered from his childhood. He was born in 1860. The bowl is white with a pink border of flowers, people, dogs and scenery. The pink decoration in the center is a picture of a castle, three people and a statue of a rider on horseback, with a background of mountains and trees. On the bowl is a shield with the word "Walmer" above the initials "E.H." How old is the dish? Where was it made?

A: Your soup dish is a piece of Staffordshire china made in England. It is decorated with one of the romantic transfer designs used by potteries during the 19th century. The initials "E.H." refer to the pottery where the dish was made-probably Elijah Hodgkinson's pottery, which worked in Hanley from about 1867-1872. The pattern name, "Walmer," refers to the scene picturing an English seaside resort where King Henry VIII built Walmer castle.

Q: About 25 years ago, I was given a red molded plastic Mr. Peanut bank by an 80-year-old friend who said the bank was old. There is a coin slot in the top of the removable hat. The body is shaped like a peanut shell. What can you tell me about my bank?

A: The Planters Nut and Chocolate Co. was formed in 1906. The company's symbol, Mr. Peanut, was created 10 years later. Your bank is one of countless Mr. Peanut collectibles. It was made in the 1950s and came in red, tan, green, pink, orange, blue, yellow, black and tan, and clear plastic. The prices with the rarity of the color. A red bank sells for about $10.

Humane Society hosts 4th annual benefit dinner Oct. 5

The fourth annual benefit dinner and auction will be held Oct. 5 from 6:30-9 p.m. at the Salado Mansion by the Salado Humane Society.

Following one of the Mansion's delicious Mexican buffets will be Bill Hall auctioning off unique treasures donated by our Salado merchants.

In the last three years this benefit has been an enjoyable and entertaining night out for friends and neighbors while providing funds for the homeless dogs and cats of Salado.

The Humane Society's goal is to benefit the village by reducing the amount of stray animals. The funds from this event will go towards spaying, neutering, rabies shots, food, shelters and adoption.

Tickets may be purchased for $25 at Sir Wigglesworth, Village Pharmacy, and at the door.

Sports Dr

George Bartels, who covers Belton High, the University of Mary Hardin-Baylor and the Central Texas Stampede. "In my opinion, you get a much better perspective on the game from the sidelines rather than you do in the stands. I'd much rather be walking around on the sidelines, where the action is."

Being a sideline doctor for football, volleyball, basketball or soccer isn't all limelight and glory. It is a lot of work, and demands that a large amount of time be invested. Almost all the time volunteered is after-hours, and often extends well past the end of the game.

"You get calls and field questions during the day, the evenings and weekend from people who get hurt

"As a family practice doctor, I like seeing young people in my practice. I think that being a team doctor encourages kids to come to me as a physician, even when they have a non-sports-related medical problem."
Dr. Glen Couchman

said Dr. Bartels. "You've got to enjoy sports, and be a fan. Most of us follow these teams in the papers. I think that's what really makes it interesting. If not, then it's just work."

The sports medicine volunteer program has grown dramatically since it was expanded to include area schools in 1991 by Dr. Bill Hamilton. It now includes a popular Sports Medicine Clinic on Saturday mornings during football season that is heavily utilized by area schools.

"That allows us to address Thursday and Friday injuries, and advise them on their status" said Mr. Scott. "We've done that since 1989, and the Physical Therapy Department is involved. It's a good service to the surrounding communities."

"Our program has expanded a lot since 1991, but it probably isn't going to grow much anymore" he said. "We're already covering all the schools around our Regional Clinics. Geographically, we've gone out about as far as we can go."
