The Veranda will be featured on Tour of Homes May 4-5

A relocated building that during its over 125 years has been a hotel, a boarding house, a sanatorium, a brothel and finally a private residence before it was abandoned and marked for demolition will be one of seven unique structures open to the public during Salado Historical Society's Historic Home Tour May 4-5.

The Veranda, moved from Lampasas and restored by a group of local businessmen, now serves as a professional office complex. Relocation originated in 1993 when Joe David Stanford, owner of the local site, and Tim Brown, who had bought the Lampasas property several years before, joined with Glenn Hodge and Billy Pipes to accomplish the venture.

In the adaptive reconstruction of the building, care was given to duplicate the original. The building was dismantled and the cut limestone blocks numbered for precise reassembly. Much of the flooring and interior doors came from the Texas capitol old lumber and other vintage materials were used.

Other structures to be opened 10 a.m.-6 p.m. May 4, and 1-5 p.m. May 5 include:

The Fowler House, 1301 North Main, built in 1872 by Confederate veteran and professor of mathematics at the Old Salado College, now the residence of Rev. and Mrs. Dale Gore. The cottage on the property, home of Frances Bissett will be open also.

The Barton House, one of Salado's oldest homes, built in early 1800's by one of Salado's first physicians, Weldon Barton. The three-story native stone house is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Denman.

The Farr House, 20 Rose Way, moved in 1993 from its original location in Belton and restored to its 1870 appearance by owners Mr. and Mrs. George Kolb.

The Boles-Aiken Log Cabin, on the grounds of the Old Salado school, discovered and restored by the Salado Historical Society in 1986.

The Car Barn, east side of the access road, housing a collection of vintage automobiles restored by Dr. Don Ellis.

601 Old Mill Road, recently purchased by Jimmy Murchison, decorated in an eclectic mix of traditional, antique, and contemporary furnishings.

Tickets for the tour of homes are available at the Chamber of Commerce office at the Civic Center for $7 in advance or $8 when purchased the day of the tour at any of the properties.

Winds of Change have blown through both political parties

One of the more interesting facets of modern day politics is the metamorphosis that has taken place in both the Democratic and Republican Parties over the past few years.

You may be old enough to remember how all-powerful the Texas Democratic Party was when a primary victory was "tantamount to election" simply because there was no other party holding a primary in the Lone Star State.

It was a party composed of divergent ideas and dis-the results of the civil rights bill nor the voting rights law that followed a year later.

And he was right.

Those stalwarts of the Demo conclave were the heart and soul of the party. They funded it and controlled it and when they saw the new handwriting on the wall - that blacks, Hispanics, women and others - were soon to be admitted and fully listened to in the power meetings - well, it was just too much.

MCGOVERN RULES

Then in 1972, the crowning blow was struck. Along came George McGovern, and his hand crafted set of convention and party membership rules that were to track exactly the demographics of the State and National populations - men and women, black and brown, white and yellow, even those with strange life styles.

Added to this mix came labor and a final blending of disparate opinions so that every "ism" known to mankind could become a voice of agitation including the strong anti-Viet Nam feelings of that day plus the hate filled screaming young people who were rebelling against everything except money from home.

The McGovern procedural plan was to listen carefully to each group of kooks and include their ideas in a mish-mash politely called "The Platform"! All this was far too much for the moderate Demo-

WINDS OF CHANGE

Then came the winds of change that had been whispering in the background for some time.

Most of us who follow politics opined that the subversion within the Democratic Party took place when George McGovern and his "rules" gang took over in 1972.

A closer inspection of political history places the date some eight years earlier. It actually came on a summer day in 1964, when President Lyndon Johnson was signing the Civil Rights Act of that year. He leaned over and with a bit of sadness in his voice - as if peering into the future - told a close media friend: "With one stroke of this pen, I have destroyed the Democratic Party in the South, as we know it today."

What he meant in effect was that the southern conservative wing of his party would not take kindly to

ESP is in for treat Apr. 15

Again E.S.P. is in for a real treat 10 a.m., April 15, at the fellowship hall of the First Baptist Church as they gather to hear one of their newer members Eleanor Grisham Dugger.

The title of her program is "God's Rx for Dry Bones". The presentation will include tidbits of humor from the Bible, hilarious moments as a pastor's wife and the beneficial effects of laughter on physical and spiritual well being.

Eleanor has lived in Salado for several months now, however, this is not the first time she has lived in Salado. She and her preacher husband lived in Salado in 1954 and 1955. Derald, her husband, was pastor of First Baptist Church at that time.

She graduated from Mary Hardin Baylor College, Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary and Southwest Texas State University. She retired from Austin ISD in 1993 after 33 years as an elementary school teacher and as an administrator in curriculum and instruction. Recently retired as the Austin Area Director of the IES Language Foundation. During the past 46 years she has served with her husband, Derald, in his pastorates of several churches across Texas.

Her interests are teaching, church recreation and drama, music, foster grandparenting and Heisey glass. She has one son, Alan who lives in Austin with his wife Jann and three children.

As usual, there will be games and fellowship following the program and lunch at noon.

Individuals 55 plus in the Salado area are invited to join the group.

Benefit auction, dance Apr. 13 at Jack's Barn for Donnie Cain family Relatives and friends of Donnie Cain will hold a Benefit Dance and Auction Apr. 13 at Jack's Barn in Pace Park Salado.

Donnie Cain suffered severe head injuries in a head-on collision with a drunk driver which took the life of his wife Katherine and 22-month-old son Joseph.

Donnie Cain graduated from Salado High School in 1980 and lived in Round Rock at the time of the accident.

The Cain family was traveling to the DFW Airport to attend a relative's funeral when their vehicle was hit by Roberto Zaragoza's speeding truck, which jumped the center median, according to police reports.

Toxicology reports released by the Tarrant County Medical Examiner's Office revealed that Zaragoza, who was also killed in the accident, was driving with a blood-alcohol level of 0.41, about four times the legal limit. The average person with that blood alcohol level would have been comatose or dead, officials said.

The benefit at Jack's Barn will include an auction 1-4 p.m. with items and gift certificates from area merchants.

A dance will feature Lonestar Moon and Slashbelly and The Voodoo Hounds. Admission is $5 per person, with children admitted free.

Barbecue plates will be available for $5 per person. There will also be hotdogs, hamburgers and sausage sandwiches. Soda and tea will be available.

Anyone who would like to contribute can make checks payable to Mark or EmmaJean Cain (Donnie's parents), 12909 FM 2305, Belton, TX 76513.

The benefit auction and dance are open to the public and any contributions will be appreciated.

Ewell is in Western Pacific

Navy Seaman Chad D. Ewell, whose wife Jenny, is the daughter of Tim and Marilyn Fleischer of Salado, is in the Western Pacific ocean near the island of Taiwan with Strike Fighter Squadron 147 embarked aboard the aircraft carrier USS Nimitz.

Ewell is one of more than 200 squadron members aboard the carrier providing a naval presence in international waters. Ewell's squadron is monitoring the Military exercises and missile firings that the Peoples Republic of China has been conducting in the Waters around Taiwan.

Ewell's squadron's home based at Naval Air Station Lemoore, Calif., flies the F/A-18C Hornets a twin-engine supersonic strike fighter capable of providing protection against enemy aircraft, delivering ordnance on targets ashore and at sea, and providing close air support for troops on the ground.

Ewell's squadron traveled more than 4,000 miles in one Week from the Persian Gulf, where it had been helping enforce the no-fly zone over southern Iraq. With more than 70 tactical aircraft on board, USS Nimitz is operating with other missile-equipped surface ships and submarines and other units of the USS Independence Battle Group, forward based in Japan. USS Nimitz have completed more than 5,000 arrested landings aboard the carrier and have flown more than 12,000 hours during the first half of the six-month deployment.

Ewell's involvement in the deployment is an example of the mobility of forward deployed naval forces and how Sailors and Marines can respond on short notice to crises around the world.

Ewell's squadron is scheduled to return to the United States in June.

The 1991 graduate of Copperas Cove High School of Copperas Cove joined the Navy in July 1992.

Letter to the editor

Dear Editor:

I feel that we are very fortunate to have Stan Drake and his Village Pharmacy here in Salado. Several times I have needed medicine for Cy or me and after Scott & White calls it in to Stan, he will have it ready and usually delivers it to us. The other evening though, at 6 p.m. Cy's doctor's nurse called and said that Cy had pneumonia after having a chest x-ray that morning and that he needed to start some antibiotic as soon as possible. We asked her to call the pharmacy here and I was hoping that it was still open. I did not realize that Stan stayed open until 7 p.m. Anyway, in 15 minutes, Stan called and said that he would be delivering the medicine in 15 minutes. I immediately thanked God for that young man! I do not drive at night and I knew I would have to wait until morning to get that medicine. I also knew it was very important that Cy start that medicine as soon as possible.

Cy and I thank God for many blessings and Stan Drake is one of them. We also appreciate his wife Leigh who has delivered our medicine one or twice.

Sincerely,
Minta Landrum

Shakespeare played at UMHB

For the first time in over 25 years, the spirit of William Shakespeare will grace the stage at UMHB, initiating an appreciation for the aged classics that laid the foundation on which today's modern productions have been formed.

The Department of Communications and Dramatic Arts will present "The Tempest" April 24-27 at the Lucille Capt Amphitheater. This will be the final production that Dr. Charles G. Taylor, Asst. Professor of Speech And Drama, will direct at the university before retiring.

Dr. Taylor has been itching to perform Shakespeare since last year. "I wanted to play 'Prospero,'" he stated honestly, but continued to explain that the main reason he wants to present "The Tempest" because there has only been one Shakespeare play produced at UMHB since he came to the campus. "It's to present classics like Shakespeare's works because it isn't "big box office" stuff. But it's the kind of thing college theaters should do," he said adamantly.

Dr. Taylor chose "The Tempest" because of the thought-provoking subject matter that it presents to intent observers.

"I think it's a healthy example of the theme of reconciliation, not revenge, and I think it shows Shakespeare at his finest imaginatively in certain places. This is a very moral play and a prime example of how Christian he was, though it's certainly not syrupy, saccharine, sanctimonious, or self-righteous," Dr. Taylor commented.

No open tryouts were held for the casting of the show because it is being offered as a credit course for anyone who is affiliated with the show in any way. Dr. Taylor spread the word that the class was available and hoped to get a variety of students enthusiastic and dedicated about working on the production.

Serving as Assistant to the Director is sophomore Vivian Phipps. This position serves as the director's

Forecast 90% for allergies

When the forecast calls for a 90 percent chance of sneezing and wheezing, don't leave home without your allergy medications.

"April is prime time for tree pollen, so people with allergies should be prepared," said Dr. Jack Mazow, an allergist at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

One way to prepare is to check the pollen count in your area. Television and radio stations and newspapers often include pollen counts in their weather reports. Many cities have telephone hotlines that give the day's pollen count. When the amount of tree pollen per cubic meter of air exceeds 300 or is described as "moderate," "heavy," or "severe," allergies are more likely to be provoked.

Visible tree pollen can serve as a warning signal too.

"The yellow-orange pollen that coats your car and sidewalk generally comes from pine trees," Mazow said. "Ironically, pine pollen does not usually trigger allergic reactions, but it can be a reminder that other types of trees which do cause allergy symptoms are pollinating."

Pollen from oak, ash, pecan and willow trees are common causes of spring allergies, Mazow said. Grass pollen and ragweed pollen are the major allergy irritants during the summer and fall, respectively.

Pollen lands on nasal membranes, causing the body to release histamine and other chemicals that can trigger allergic reactions, such as sneezing, watery eyes, and itchy nose and eyes.

To help prevent or control allergy symptoms Mazow suggests over-the-counter antihistamine or decongestant pills.

"For more severe symptoms, try an over-the-counter decongestant nasal spray, but don't use it for more than five days because the spray might aggravate symptoms," he said. For more severe allergies, ask your physician to prescribe stronger antihistamines and nasal sprays. "These are moderately effective," Mazow said, "and new antihistamines available by prescription only are less likely to cause drowsiness."

You might also consult an allergist who can determine a possible cause. Injections of increasing amounts of the allergy-provoking substances, such as pollen extracts, help the body develop immunities to them. "The shots work best if begun a few months prior to allergy season," Mazow said. "There is a small risk of allergic reaction to the injections, so they must be given with care."

Regardless of which medication you choose. The important thing is to have it handy. If you forget to check the pollen count before going outdoors, your eyes and nose will eventually remind you.

We must open the doors of opportunity. But we must also equip our people to walk through those doors.

War declared on litter in Texas Apr. 13

It's an all-out war against litter, and on Saturday, April 13, more than 130,000 Adopt-a-Highway and Keep Texas Beautiful volunteers from across the state will lash out against litter in the eleventh annual "Great Texas Trash-Off."

Part of the Texas Department of Transportation's (TxDOT) "Don't Mess with Texas" anti-litter campaign, the Trash-Off is one of the nation's largest one-day cleanups.

More than 100 Adopt-a-Highway groups will be out on state highways in the eight-county Waco District with Keep Texas Beautiful groups in Waco, Woodway and Killeen also sprucing up city streets, county roads and parks.

Salado Adopt a Highway Groups include Salado FFA, FM 2843, south of Salado, 9 a.m., Salado Church of Christ Youth Group, FM 2484 north of Salado, 10 a.m.; Road's End and NR Longhorns, FM 2483 south of Salado, 10 a.m.;

According to Doris Howdeshell, director of TxDOT's Travel and Information Division, the combined effort of the Great Texas Trash-Off, Don't Mess with Texas and Adopt-a-Highway has helped change behavior about littering and has reduced the amount of litter on Texas roads. These anti-litter programs also save the state between $2 and $4 million a year in litter pickup expenditures.

"Awareness of TxDOT's antilitter programs is very high in the state, and we've made great strides in reducing roadside litter," Howdeshell said. "The Great Texas Trash-Off" is one single day on which we hope to see the whole state cleaner for the traveling public. Our hope is that seeing 100,000 people cleaning up after litterers, and seeing miles and miles of clean roads will make drivers think twice about throwing something out of the car. Ultimately, our goal is zero tolerance—we will have done our job when no one in Texas litters."

The Salado Lions Club meet on the second and fourth Wednesday of each month.

Eagles beat Somerville, tied for 1st

After defeating the Somerville Yeguas last Tuesday night, the Salado Eagles were tied atop the district standings with the Lexington Eagles.

Thanks to some shabby fielding by Somerville, the Eagles were able to jump out to a 2-0 lead after one inning. Jerome Peoples and Paul Mashburn had singles in the inning, but Yeguas errors allowed Salado's runs.

The Eagles built their lead to 3-0 with a run in the second. Again it was thanks to Somerville's generosity. Billy Hughes walked and scored on an error in the outfield.

Roger Buckley, pitching for Salado, blanked the Yeguas through the first three innings. A Salado error in the fourth inning allowed Somerville's first run.

In the bottom of the fourth with a 3-1 score, Salado came back with two more runs to close the door on Somerville. Chris McGregor lead off with a walk and stole second. After a strike out Shawn Easley singled McGregor home. Easley eventually scored on another Somerville error.

Three straight Yegua singles accounted for a single run in the fifth. Chris Frazier came in and put out the fire with Salado holding a 5-2 lead.

The Eagles came back with another run in the sixth while Somerville added one in the seventh. Salado's run came on David Kirk's double and a Somerville error.

Salado played good defense on the night. They did not produce many hits but made good contact all night, they struck out only four times all night.

Roger Buckley received credit for the win, pitching four and one-third innings of strong baseball. He scattered six hits and struck out seven. Chris Frazier pitched the final two and two-third innings. He struck out three.

The Eagles next game will be in Lexington April 12. The winner will have the upper hand in the district race. The J.V. starts at 5 p.m. followed by the Varsity game at 7 p.m.

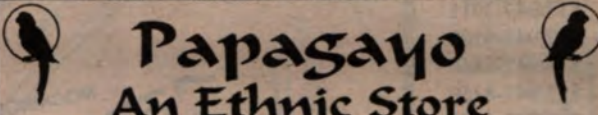

Bell pioneers to be honored

Bell County pioneers will be honored 2 p.m., April 20 at the Hillcrest cemetery at 1606 N. Main St. in Temple.

Dedication of the Cenotaph to Goldsby and Elizabeth Childers and their children, one of the first families to settle in Bell County.

The family of nine children came to Texas from Adams County, Illinois in 1832 in a wagon train with Rev. Daniel Parker. They spent two years in Nashville with the Robertson Colony while waiting for a Land Grant and in 1834 had the grant surveyed on the Little River - near the town of Rogers. The marker is placed on the Childers plot in Hillcrest Cemetery.

Descendents of the six Childers children have contributed to the marker and will take part in the ceremony. Members of the Edward Kellum Chapter, Texas War of 1812 will dedicate a War of 1812 marker to Goldsby Childers which is incorporated in the marker.

SHS Spanish Club earns trip to Astroworld

The Salado High School Spanish Club earned their April 5 trip to Astro World by participating in the Scholarship Fund Raising Activities and by selling Spirit Links, and helping at the dance and car wash.

According to Ms. Harmon, "The kids had a great time even though it was cold and rainy." Harmson also awarded her "Have You Lost Your Mind" award to Tiffany Higgenbotham, Tia McKee, Karen Worden, Steven Cloud, Marie Soto, Stefanie Burns, Alex Peden, Jonathan Phillips and Chrystal Whiteley for bungee jumping.

"The kids represented our school and the Spanish Club in the best way possible by having a good time and behaving themselves. Now, on to Fiesta Texas May 4," said Harmon expanding on the trips success.

Save water by taking a shorter shower, or install a low-flow shower head. You could save up to 450 gallons of water per month.

Always check for leaking faucets, toilets or pipes. A steady leak in a toilet can waste 2300 gallons of water per day.

Listen to the weather forecast to know when to water outdoors.

Always, water the lawn and the landscaping plants during the cool, early morning hours to minimize water loss due to evaporation.

Dispose of cleaners, solvents, paints and auto fluids (which contain toxic substances) at a special collection center.

Outdoor landscaping plants and household plants can be watered with the dirty waste from fish tanks. This waste is rich in nitrogen and phosphorous.

mouth backstage. Dr. Taylor said he selected Phipps because "she's reliable, interested and capable. She'll know the show as well as I do."

Cast members from the UMHB student body include Ike Johnson, Brian Jacoby, George Spelvin, Jeff Swindoll, Matthew Neese, DeGorian Smith, Jason Billingsley, Jeremy Thompson, Derek Jones, Mary Ator, Donna Ray, Kerry Dickerson, Leslie Kemmerer, and Bonnie Himel.

Guest appearing in the play are two UMHB alumni: Sam Fincher, who will play the part of Caliban, and Betsi Chamlee, who will play Ariel. Dr. Taylor instructed both of these alumni during their college days at UMHB. Having kept up with their progress in theater, Dr. Taylor has asked them to return to the university's stage for this production.

Other alumni working on "The Tempest" include Fred Baker, who is designing the set for the outside production. Baker has had an active part in the happenings on campus as he also designed the set for the monumental production of "A Dream, A Reality," the historical sesquicentennial drama, and "The Male Animal," which was performed last fall.

John Dungan, lighting director for the Bell County Expo Center, is another alumni who will be designing the lights for the outdoors production.

Dr. Taylor has scheduled to perform "The Tempest" in the amphitheater because "it's an outside play. It is set on an island in the Mediterranean Sea," he explains.

Much time and planning has and will be spent on the production of "The Tempest." Dr. Taylor and the cast and crew who are working on the set desire a quality performance and are committing their efforts to make it a fascinating, memorable performance.

"I hope that our audiences will leave with at least a theoretical knowledge that not only is Shakespeare worthwhile, but he's understandable in terms of any age, including today," says Dr. Taylor. "I hope to tell this story well and to make it my bye-bye! to this stage of my career."

Tickets for the production cost $6.00 for adults and $4.00 for students. The April 24 performance is FREE for UMHB faculty, staff and students with IDs. All other performances will be by paid admission only. For more information call 939-4601.

A severe drought which had plagued Central Texas for several years came to an abrupt end on Wednesday, September 7, 1921 when the rains came... and came ... and came.

The Temple Daily Telegram reported on September 8 "Long Drought Ends; Lampasas has good rain!" This same article stated, "Hearne, Texas is under water" and that communicating out of Houston with points in the interior of the state were broken and "meagre reports show a considerable area is affected." The Houston Weather Bureau reported at 10:30 P.M. on September 9 that 23.5 inches of rain had fallen in Taylor in the previous 24 hours.

A rainfall which shattered all records and floods which hit every stream in Bell and surrounding counties changed the pattern of thousands of lives who suffered loss of crops, livestock, homes, and family members.

It all started with a hurricane which blew onto the Texas coast. Observers described the fierce lightning, the garish green hue of the sky, and water which fell - not in drops but in great sheets hour after hour.

Ten thousand square miles of farm bottom land were inundated and angry waters took out homes, bridges, railroads, culverts, and all types of buildings. Temple and Belton received three or more inches during the day on September 9th causing the inter-urban cars to be waterbound. Killeen reported a "gully washer". And the rains continued.

On Sunday morning, the 11th, the headlines in the Telegram read, 250 lives believed lost in flood at San Antonio; business section of city inundated; Little River at the highest stage ever known in Bell County." This same article stated, "All Bell County streams raged out of banks yesterday following one of the most torrential rains in the history of Central Texas."

Crops just ready to be harvested suffered total destruction and hundreds of farm animals were swept away. Streams rose from 25 to 50 feet with bales of cotton, large drifts of uprooted trees, hogs, cattle, and horses being swept away over an area 5 to 6 miles wide in low-lying areas. Schools were closed, some for extended periods of time.

Reports coming in to the county seat of Belton told of many bridges being washed away with the Salado bridge over Salado Creek on Main Street being "possibly the greatest loss."

Rail communications to Temple were badly damaged. The Santa Fe trains were on schedule coming from Ft. Worth to Cameron but there the Little River Bridge and 4000 feet of track were under water. Eleven and one-half inches of rain fell at Cameron, 20 inches at Rogers, and 25 to 30 inches at Salado. In Salado, in addition to the bridge, the W. R. Berry store building was swept "practically clean", the homes of the Belk and J. L. Ward families were washed away and 5 or 6 other homes badly damaged. The great body of timber was washed away from along Salado Creek. Trees said to be more than 100 years old were torn away leaving the banks bare and the stream greatly widened. The beautiful campground which had drawn visitors to the area for over a century was gone forever.

Outside of Bell County in neighboring Williamson County, 38.2 inches of rain fell at Thrall. Twenty-five people drowned. In the next few days as the waters receded, an additional 30 bodies were found.

Late Sunday evening Maynard Roberson, division master mechanic and F. W. Leatherberry, division engineer, of the Santa Fe Railroad System, were reported missing and presumed drowned near Cameron where they had been working crews to re-establish the railroad which had been washed away. Their capsized boat was found near a trestle on the Cameron side of the flooded Little River. Their bodies were recovered on Wednesday, the 14th.

Many tragic stories and stories about people drawn together by tragedy and caught up in helping each other would be told for years to come.

The final related story of the flood and its aftermath was told in an article in the Temple paper on Friday, September 16. A Red Cross nurse was sent to the area to assess sanitary conditions. It was determined that the final needed chore was that of burning bodies of hundreds of dead animals found up and down streams when the water receded. This was necessary in order to prevent the spread of disease and contamination of the streams.

Mini College deals with crime

by Ilene C. Miller
Co. Ext. Agent

American consumers lose more than $1 billion annually to fraud. Central Texans will have an excellent opportunity Apr. 25 to wise up to crime in their communities and to learn what resources are available to assist them with consumer complaints.

The Bell County S.A.L.T. Council and the Texas Agricultural Extension service are co-sponsoring a seminar on crime prevention and safety issues. The Extension Mini College is being held at the Bell County Expo Center in Belton and is open to all interested consumers regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, disability or national origin. Registration for the event is $10.00 per person which includes breaks and a registration packet. Registration deadline is Apr. 19.

The Extension Mini College is a joint educational effort with the following groups and law enforcement agencies: A.A.R.P.; Bell County Sheriff's Office; Retired Senior Volunteer Program; City of Belton Police Department; City of Harker Heights Police Department; City of Killeen Police Department; City of Temple Police Department; Crime Victim's Coalition.

The Extension Mini College runs 8:30 a.m. - 3 p.m. and features 12 separate workshops, commercial and educational exhibits, and a luncheon drama program highlighting scam and frauds. Participants can choose from the concurrent sessions according to S.A.L.T. Chair Jane Fort.

1. HOME SECURITY/PERSONAL SECURITY presented by Ed Young and Bill Llewellyn, Temple, Police Department.

2. TELECOMMUNICATIONS explained by Hall Martin, Investigator for the Texas Attorney General's Office.

3. POSTAL FRAUD discussed by a U. S. Postal Service representative.

4. SCAMS AND SOLICITATION led by Jim McCarroll, Killeen Police Department.

5. CRIME VICTIM'S SERVICES presented by Jill Hargrove of the District Attorney's Office.

6. FIRE AND MEDICAL SAFETY taught by Tom Pechal, Temple Fire Department.

The final concurrent session of the day will feature presentations by area law enforcement agencies on the programs and services each agency offers to their community. This is a good opportunity for senior consumers to get to know their local law enforcement officials.

The five sessions will feature Bell County Sheriff's Department, Belton Police Department, or Harker Heights Police Department, Killeen Police Department and Temple Police Department.

crats. They started an exodus that continues to this day as they convert either to full fledged Republicanism or starboard leaning moderates.

The final straw came with the nomination of George McGovern as the Democratic standard bearer for president in that wild year of change that pitted the moderates against the liberals within the party.

It was then that the old Demo hands were heard to say: "I didn't leave the Democratic Party - it left me!"

Many think the only salvation for the Democratic Party is a return to moderation. And this they cannot seem to do. Their long range future, as a power-packed political party, would appear uncertain at best.

CHANGING GOP

Now, what of our friends in the Grand Old Party of Abe Lincoln, Theodore Roosevelt, Dwight Eisenhower and Ronald Reagan? How have they fared over the years and more importantly how are they getting along today?

Traditionally, the GOPers were a rather select group. They included folks, mostly of one color, interested in all aspects of protected commerce while eschewing government and taxes at all levels.

And as government grew wildly from the 1930's on - they had a ready made strawman to set up and knock down for political purposes and gain.

Today the conservative leadership is in the process of throwing open the tent flap as they encourage one and all to "enter in and enjoy the fruits of solid conservatism such as lower taxes, smaller government and a wide variety of social issues".

They are even talking about the plight of the working class - something unheard of in past years.

Once this opening, of the Republican Party, to one and all is completed - the ensuing and loudly discordant noises will remind folks of an old fashioned Democratic convention.

Listen carefully today and you will hear the sound and fury of the super right wing anti-abortionists; anti-free traders; anti-immigrationists; anti-gun controllers and the usual anti-big (or small) governmentalists joined at the hip with the anti-taxers.

All crying for their day at the GOP conventions - State and National. Their ideas as planks in the platforms. And favors requested for granting their votes to party leaders and candidates.

Sound familiar? Should - it comes straight out of the tattered and torn Democratic Party hymn book. And we are not talking "Happy Days Are Here Again" either.

As if this were not enough - the GOPers even have potential party disaffections as we note Pat Buchanan's threat to walk if he doesn't get his way.

And the biggest battle of all, within the conservative party, is coming right out of the Religious Right or Christian Coalition who are demanding they call the major political shots.

This does not even touch the financial side of the Republican ledger. You know, the boys and girls who supply the funds for candidates and their TV and other campaign expenses. These folks naturally expect a lot of cow-towing since they are putting up the cash. And they don't want a bunch of dopey social issues to get in their way. These are the power brokers, found within any political party, who brook little sass from the rank and file.

FRUITS OF INCLUSION

It is popular today, to have social and governmental issues held up for debate and discussion. Makes everyone feel included and appears that democracy is holding forth in fine fashion.

Problem is, many of these neo-conservative ideas are held by zealotites who curry no favor nor allow much in the way of compromise. They have the strong feeling that if you are not with them - you are in the wrong. Or you are not religious. Or you are evil, mean, dumb or worst of all - liberal!

As Republicans taste the fruits of inclusion in their new rainbow of people and ideas, their problems escalate in geometric progression. Just too many ideologies to please at one time.

FUTURE?

Both political parties historically moved ahead with flank speed when the political shots were called from within their moderate leadership ranks.

When they allowed and encouraged every nutty idea to surface and become a force that had to be noticed, problems developed in to what is today's political potpourri of demands, rigidity and hatred.

And worst of all has come a steady decline in popularity and support as evidenced in polls that show Americans, in general and regardless of party affiliation, having less faith than ever in their party systems and little or no confidence in their elected officials.

Today's open-tent policies and politics, by our two major political organizations, might very well be the opening prelude to a third party extravaganza.

And that might not be all that bad!
