Public viewing of Institute film set July 12 at civic center

The public is invited to a viewing of the documentary film about The Institute for the Humanities at Salado 8 p.m. July 12 at the Salado Civic Center on Main St.

The 19-minute documentary is narrated by Bill Moyers and producer by Stephen Segaller.

The video reveals the history, scope and future vision of the Salado Institute.

"We are grateful beyond expression to Bill Moyers for spontaneously volunteering to narrate," said Dr. Harry Wilmer, founder and president of the Institute, "to Stephen Segaller for his gifted editing and directing, and to both for donating their efforts to the Institute for the Humanities at Salado."

No reservations are necessary to attend the viewing.

Barbara Jordan and Maya Angelou are two of the distinguished lecturers that the Institute for the Humanities at Salado has brought to this small village.

Chamber discusses park improvements, animal control

by Tim Fleischer
Editor-in-Chief

The Salado Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors met in regular session July 8 at the Salado Civic Center to discuss improvements to Pace Park, animal control in the area, marketing and the by-laws, among other topics.

The board approved $2,300 for additional electrical outlets in Pace Park to be used during the Art Fair.

"Artists have come to expect electricity in their booths for lighting and fans," said Art Fair Chair Hulda Horton. "If we didn't get the work done, we would have had to return $700-800 to the artists."

The new outlets will provide for approximately 75 booths on the lower level of Pace Park.

The board approved a budget amendment to increase the capital improvements expenditure for Pace Park to cover the $2,300 cost. The budget originally allotted $1,200 to improvements. Best Way Electric Co. was paid for the work June 28.

The board also approved giving $100 seed money for an animal control effort.

Teresa Tolbert, president of the Mill Creek Homeowners Association, discussed the problem of wild dogs in neighborhoods in the Salado area.

The animal control effort would seek donations from some of the larger groups in the village. The money would be used to pay $10 fee to take animals to the Temple Animal Shelter.

"Volunteers will capture the animals and deliver them to the Animal Shelter," Tolbert said. "We will make every effort to be sure that the animal is not someone's pet before taking it to the shelter."

The board also voted to spend $418 on large signboards, which can be placed around the village and can be re-used for the different events in the village.

Vernon Holt reported that Cap-A-Bus would create 11 signboards for $38 each. Signs could be interchanged for each event, payed for by the sponsoring organization and could also be reused, Holt said.

Elinor Tope reported that the recent membership drive by the Merchants Committee resulted in nine new members.

The Merchants Committee will meet at 8:45 a.m. July 11 at the Salado Civic Center. Non-members are also invited to the meeting to become a part of this active committee.

To-date, the Merchants Committee has $11,900 in membership dues. To become a member of the merchants committee, a business must first be a member of the Chamber of Commerce.

By-laws chair Jim Patterson reported that a draft of the by-laws is ready and will be reviewed before being presented to the board at its September meeting. The review committee will have until July 31 to complete its review so that changes may be made before the by-laws committee makes its recommendation at the Aug. 12 meeting of the board.

The by-laws will face final approval at the October general membership meeting of the Chamber.

Old Salado School Foundation Chairman Ken Clapp invited the board of directors to the Aug. 10 dedication of Lions Park and the Bandstand. Lt. General Thomas Schwartz will be the main speaker on "Volunteerism."

A Ft. Hood Army band will also perform in the bandstand.

The public is invited and encouraged to attend the 9 a.m. Aug. 10 dedication. Refreshments will be served.

Saladoan attends Girls State

Carrie Ann Puckett recently returned from participation as a citizen of the American Legion Auxiliary Bluebonnet Girls State which was held in Seguin, at Texas Lutheran College.

Miss Puckett who will be a Senior at Salado High School this fall, was elected to the office of Municipal Judge and appointed to the Girls State Water Development Board. Her attendance at Girls State was sponsored by the Belton American Legion Auxiliary.

Girls State was organized as a National Americanism activity in 1937 by the American Legion Auxiliary. Non-partisan and non-political, the purposes of the Girls state program are to provide citizenship training for girls of high school age, to afford them the opportunity to live together as a self-governing group and to inform them of the duties, privileges, rights and responsibilities which they will assume as adults. They learn the problems of government by simulating the duties of city, county and state officials. Each year Citizens are selected at local levels from students who have just completed their junior year in high school. The selection process is based in principal on character, leadership and scholarship.

Carrie is the daughter of Charles and Kim Wilson of Salado.

SISD Board meets in regular session July 9

The Salado ISD Board of Trustees met in regular session 7 p.m. July 9 at the Salado Civic Center.

The board heard reports from campus principals, maintenance personnel and the superintendent.

The board also adopted TASB Update #51 and discussed Block Scheduling at the High School campus.

The board accepted the resignation of Angie Wallace, high school history teacher and girls coach, who has moved to Austin.

The board considered Rod Stockstill's recommendation to hire Tiffany Wisehart as elementary music teacher.

The board meeting occurred after presstime July 9. Action taken on the above-items will be reported in the July 17 issue Salado Village Voice.

Several weeks ago, this column alerted Saladoans to a super big event headed our way during the early morning hours of August 10. Namely the dedication of the new village bandstand and park area just south of the Civic Center. Plans call for a 9 a.m. starting time.

This week we have additional information relative to the event. The Board of Directors of the Civic Center Foundation announced

Off the Record

by Ken Clapp

late last week that Lt. General Thomas Schwartz, Commander of III Corps and Fort Hood (You met him at the 1996 Chamber banquet) will be the featured speaker and as a special treat he is bringing part of the famed Fourth Infantry Division Band with him.

The band, under the baton of Warrant Officer First Class Fred Catchings, will present a stirring concert for those in attendance.

A crowd of up to 300 villagers is expected to attend the special event that will not only mark the completion of the bandstand project but also officially dedicate the entire civic center complex including the renovated main building, the Art Center, the bandstand and Lion's Park.

The permanent benches and tables are in place around the bandstand thanks to the Salado Lions. That entire area has been officially designated the "Lion's Park" by the Civic Center leaders as a way of thanking the service club for the special gift to the foundation plus their pledge to help maintain the park area on a permanent basis.

The dedication planners have wisely set the relative cool nine o'clock start for the August 10 program, at which time General Schwartz is expected to announce the first of several "Partnerships" between certain battalions at the Fort and communities in the area surrounding Fort Hood.

We have learned that the First Battalion, Fourth Aviation Regiment will be Salado's "Partner". The group is headed by Lt. Colonel Doug Eller, who will be in town later this month to take a look at his new "Partner".

Chamber President Lloyd Parks will accept the partnership plan on behalf of the village. His board having unanimously voted to take part in the novel arrangement.

The First-of-the-Fourth is an Apache Helicopter air group, so it would be this writer's guess that someone is going to get a ride on one of those whirlybirds one day soon.

Best advice is to mark Saturday, August 10, 9 o'clock in the morning.

Come early and grab a seat around the new bandstand at the civic center and be prepared for a great military band concert, a speech on "Volunteerism" by one of our nation's top army leaders and wind up the one hour program with some refreshments and a tour of the civic center plus a look at the new art center where you can take a peek at some of our local artists in action.

The entire program will be over before it gets too hot and will certainly be well worth the early morning effort.

DO-NO-GOODERS

The local chapter of the international Do-No-Gooders club, that meets with alarming regularity at the Stagecoach Coffee Shop, were at it again last week. Subject was the amazing ability of President Clinton to overcome adversity.

One DNGer noted he had been checking the polls and discovered that large numbers of Americans believe that: (a) the President was involved in some highly questionable financial dealings when he was Governor of Arkansas - 56%; (b) Clinton knew and approved the FBI files caper - 51% and (c) there was some truth in the scandal concerning the Pres' extra curricular marital activities down in Little Rock - 54%!

Then, amazingly - the same polls showed that despite all this negativity, President Clinton is holding a steady 53 percent approval rating over his chief adversary - Bob Dole!

Several members of the local political muse-tank could not explain this anomaly until it was pointed out that national opinion polls include large numbers of the yuppie and much younger "X" generations and that this segment of our population may not find anything wrong with such carryings-on as are being assigned to the President!

Sad commentary, if true!

GOOD DAY, BAD DAY

The Republican Party's presumed candidate for President, Bob Dole, had some ups and downs last week, according to all accounts in the print and electronic media.

 The year is 2035 and humankind subsists in a desolate netherworld following an airborne viral holocaust. Desperate scientists time-shuttle a convict, James Cole, to the past in hopes of discovering a means of saving the future. When Cole arrives in 1996, he's deemed mad and placed in an asylum where he meets patient Jeffrey Goines and Dr. Kathryn Raily, who come to believe Cole. Their only clue to the mystery of the virus is a series of symbols from a group known only as the Army of the 12 Monkeys.

Recycling set at Salado Plaza

Most of us are familiar with the ecological "three r's"; reduce, reuse and recycle. Recycling is the easiest and most convenient of the three.

In September, the third year of recycling in Salado will be celebrated. Volunteers and old timers are still recycling on the green trailers at the IGA parking lot or curbside recycling with Clawson Disposal is available.

Newcomers are invited to join in, to help reduce the landfill. Recycling is held 9 a.m. - noon, every 2nd and 4th Saturday of the month (not every other Sat.) at the IGA Village Foods Parking lot.

Products accepted for recycling are newspaper, cardboard, magazines, junk mail, clear brown and green glass, aluminum and tin cans, plastics #1 and #2 and plastic bags.

Bottles, cans, other containers should be rinsed and drained. Remove lids and boxes should be flattened.

Garbage is not accepted. If you have any questions, call Karen 947-8195 or 947-5552.

Bloody Bill Longley published by Miller

Bloody Bill Longley, the newest publication by Bell County Attorney Rick Miller, is now available at the Bell County Museum bookstore.

The signed and numbered edition, which retails for $29.50, details the life of this Texas gunfighter. Miller has completed extensive research on this individual and states that much of Longley's reputation as an "honorable gunslinger" lies within the realm of fiction.

"Longley had never been definitively researched," Miller said. "But the myths and legends about him didn't survive when you examined the facts."

"I enjoyed getting to the reality and truth about him, to find out the truth about him and what made him tick," Miller added.

The book contains rare photographs and thorough bibliography.

Miller has been county attorney since 1993. Prior to that, he was a private attorney in Killeen from 1983 to 1992. He obtained his law degree from Baylor University in 1983, and was Killeen's Chief of Police from 1976 to 1979. He is the author of three biographies, including The Train Robbing Bunch (1983) and Bounty Hunter (1988), and has written a legal text, Texas Firemen's Ind Policemen's Civil Ser- vice Law (1991).

Also available at the museum bookstore are the last 11 copies of the 1988 two-volume publication, Story of Bell County, published by the Bell County Historical Commission. The set retails for $75.00, and is not scheduled for reprinting at this time.

The museum has also published a bronze commemorative coin which sells for $10.00. "These coins are the first in a series of coins to be produced annually," said Museum Director Stephanie Turnham. "This year's coin depicts the Charter Oak on the reverse side, commemorating the founding of Bell County, in 1850." The reverse side of the coin depicts the Bell County Museum.

"These coins make great gift items, and are great collectibles," Turnham added. "A new coin will be struck annually with a different symbol of county history each year."

Bell County Museum Board of Trustees Gaylon Christie and Bryant Reeves were instrumental in the production of the coin.

The Bell County Museum is located at 200 N. Main, Belton. Museum hours are Tuesday through Saturday from 1-5 p.m. Admission is free and guided tours are available.

News of the Churches and People of our village

Salado ESP group to meet July 15

Salado Area E.S.P. will meet 10 a.m., July 15 at the fellowship hall of the First Baptist Church.

Joan Hoffman will be presenting the program. Joan is a native of Texas growing up in San Angelo. She attended Baylor University. She and her husband Jack moved to Salado in 1980. After a brief re-

Joan returned to Salado last year.

She has been painting for about 20 years and helped organize the Salado Village Artist in 1983. Water color is her favorite medium while still life is the form of presentation she prefers. Joan will present some of her work for examination and demonstration.

The fellowship and game time will follow the program. Lunch will be at noon. Everyone is invited to bring a covered dish and join in the fun.

According to spokesperson Ruby Townsend if you cannot stay for the fun and lunch feel free to attend the program.

Olympics set at Church of Christ

Youth director Brooks Frazier announced this week that the quadrennial Salado Church of Christ "Olympics" will be July 13.

Frazier said full details will be made available to all participants this week but the important thing is for the young people to select a team partner as soon as possible.

Each team is composed of one boy and one girl so it is time for the boys to pick a girl who can run, jump and swim. Girls to select a boy with the same qualities.

Teams can be made up of friends and neighbors of church young folks.

All this will take place at Bennie and Wylene Williams home so the pool can be used for swimming events as well as a cooling off spot when the races are completed and winners announced.

Methodist Youth selling Bar-B-Q to pay for trip

Saladoans should plan to take a day off from cooking July 13. The Salado United Methodist Church youth group will sell barbecue lunches to go 11 a.m.-1 p.m. Pickup is at the church. Lunches consist of barbecue beef brisket, beans and potato salad, cost is $5.00 per plate. Tickets are now available, call 947-5482.

Enjoy great barbecue and help out the Salado Methodist Youth Group.

The Youth Group will enjoy the beach at Port Aransas July 24-28. Cost for the trip is $75.00, and should be paid in full by July 12.

Vacation Bible School July 15-19 at Cedar Knob

Vacation Bible School Olympics "Go for the Goal" will be held at Cedar Knob Baptist Church July 15-19.

Beginning each day at 9 a.m. and ending at noon. The Head Coach is Pastor Alvin Reese Sutton. Coaches are Jodie Jackson and Mylisa Preece and special team coaches are Keys Valley Youth Group.

Players will be your children. Awards and family night will be held 7 p.m. July 19.

Salado Historical Society President George Kolb presents Lucile Robertson with an award from the Society for the continued preservation of the Robertson Plantation, which has been inhabited and owned by the Robertson family since it was built in 1852 by Col. E.S.C. Robertson. Also pictured above is Vic Means, Historical Society board member. The Historical Society gave awards for preservation and restoration of historic structures within the village as well as structures moved into the village. The awards were presented during the Fourth of July Picnic in Pace Park.

Jarrell SummerFest July 20 with barbecue & dance

Reserve the day and evening of Saturday, July 20, for a big time in Jarrell. That's the day and evening of the Summerfest and the Firemen's Barbecue and Dance. Another way of stating it is "the Fourth Annual Summerfest" and the "43rd Annual Barbecue and Dance." This year, the two organizations, the Jarrell Civic League and the Jarrell Volunteer Fire Department, have combined forces to make it the biggest and best old-fashioned family-fun day ever.

The official opening time of booths will be at 10 a.m., but in order to take advantage of the cool morning hours, a volleyball tournament (3-men or 3-women teams) will begin at Jarrell's First Baptist Church at 8 a.m., and a horseshoe tournament begins at 9 a.m. near the downtown area (watch for signs).

To join the volleyball tournament, call the organizer, Charlie McDonald, at 817-793-3062. There is a $30 fee for each 3-person team. Only registered players are permitted to bring coolers to provide for their needs. The proceeds of the event will be used for a prize to the last team to play and donations.

To join the horseshoe tournament, appear with a partner, fill out the form, and pay a $5 fee. Its organizer is Chunky Rhea. Proceeds, after the purchase of 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place trophies, benefit Jarrell Civic League.

Vendor booths opening at 10 a.m. will feature arts and crafts, plants, baked goods, etc., as well as food and drink to sustain visitors' strength. For children, there will be games offering very nice prizes, a petting zoo, and other activities, such as a train ride, all planned to keep youngsters entertained. To rent a booth, call Dolly Danek at 512-746-2792 or 512-746-2185.

Immediately after the 3 p.m. parade featuring the newly chosen "Miss Jarrell," there will be a live auction conducted by auctioneer Linda Smart. At various times throughout the day, Ms. Smart will wear her other hat and sing with the band, "Snakebit," under the leadership of Tommy Brandtstetter.

If you should be interested in joining the parade with a float, antique vehicle, or whatever you would like to show off, call Eric Chasteen at 512-746-2792 or Dorothy Jones at 512-746-5656.

As the evening hours draw nigh, there's no need to worry about dinner because the Jarrell Volunteer Firemen and their Ladies Auxiliary will have been busy preparing a fresh and sumptuous repast of fried chicken, barbecue, and sausage with all the trimmings, to be served from 5-9 p.m., with "to go plates" available. The charge will be $5 for adults and $3 for children.

After dinner, tamp it down by walking round and round the silent auction tables to locate that treasure you can't live without and make your bid.

And to top off the evening, the Firemen's Dance in the Firemen's Pavilion will begin at 8 p.m. The band "Sterling Country" of Taylor will provide the music.

All proceeds from the day's events will benefit the Jarrell Civic League and the Jarrell Volunteer Fire Department. The League uses its funds to promote the overall betterment of the community through a newsletter, town beautification, park fund, and contributions to worthwhile causes. The Fire Department uses its monies to maintain and upgrade the department's training and its facilities and equipment.

Refreshments will be available throughout the day, so no coolers, please.

Navy P. O. Ewell returns from deployment

Navy Petty Officer 3rd Class Chad D. Ewell, whose wife Jenny is the daughter of Marilyn and Tim Fleischer of Salado, has returned to San Diego, after completing a six-month deployment to the Western Pacific Ocean and Persian Gulf with Strike Fighter Squadron 147 (VFA-147) embarked aboard the aircraft carrier USS Nimitz.

Ewell is one of more than 200 squadron members aboard the carrier who completed the nearly 45,000 mile voyage. Ewell's squadron, homeported at Naval Air Station Lemoore, California flies the F/A-18C Hornet, a twin-engine supersonic strike fighter which features an all weather intercept, identify destroy and ground attack capability. The aircraft is proudly flown by the Navy's Blue Angels Flight Demonstration team.

While in the Persian Gulf, aircraft from the USS Nimitz flew more than 4,500 missions to enforce the international no-fly zone over southern Iraq. In response to Chinese military exercises near Taiwan, USS Nimitz shifted from Persian Gulf to the East China Sea, relieving the aircraft carrier USS Independence.

In all, aircraft from USS Nimitz flew more than 8,700 missions totalling 18,000 hours.

Ewell and fellow squadron members also visited Hong Kong, Singapore, Thailand, and the United Arab Emirates, and participated in several community relations projects.

The deployment was USS Nimitz's first with integrated crew of men and women. This produced more than 65 million gallons of water for cooking, showering, general consumption and supplying the steam driven catapults and propulsion plant - enough water to supply the average American household for 600 years.

The 1991 graduate of Copperas Cove High School of Copperas Cove, joined the Navy in July 1992.

Services held for Alice Larue Bell

Services for Alice Larue (Graham) Bell were held July 2, 1996 in the First Baptist Church Chapel in Rankin, burial followed at Lawnhaven Memorial Gardens in San Angelo.

Mrs. Bell was born Jan. 23, 1901 in Wichita Falls to Walter and Alice McConnell-Graham.

She married Roy Lee Bell, Sr., in Wichita Falls on Feb. 17, 1919. Her husband preceded her in death on Dec. 27, 1983.

Mrs. Bell and her family moved to Rankin in Feb. 1932, where she lived until 1986 when she moved to Manor Park Retirement Center in Midland.

Mrs. Bell was a member of the Eastern Star, and served twice as Worthy Matron of Rankin Chapter. She was a member of the Rebekeh Lodge #8 in Rankin and was the recipient of the Decoration of Chivalry. She was active in community affairs in Rankin and had been a sustaining member of Boy Scouts Troop #56 since 1932 and received a Silver Beaver Award in 1986. She had been a member of the First Baptist Church of Rankin since 1932 and taught young people and married couples classes for many years.

She was a former member of the Hospital Auxiliary and the Business and Professional Women's Club serving as president of both organizations. She was a member the Rankin study Club and Rankin Ceramic Club. She was a member of mother's club which raised money to buy the first band uniforms for the Rankin High School Band.

She served on the advisory board of the Rankin Senior Citizen Center and helped raise funds for furnishings for its present building.

Mrs. Bell worked for Western Union in Rankin, at the post office for a number of years and as a bookkeeper for several businesses.

She is survived by five children: Howard Bell of Salado; Luline Burns of Springer, Oklahoma; Mary Mims of Midland; Bob Bell of Snyder and Roy Bell of Odessa. 11 grandchildren; 24 great-grandchildren; 16 great-great grandchildren and one great-great-great grandson; and numerous nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by four brothers and two sisters.

The family requests memorials be directed to the Boy Scouts of America or a favorite charity.

Sorting Out Campaign Finance Reform

If I were going to give a title to the campaign finance reform legislation under consideration in the Senate now, I would call it "The Incumbent Protection Act of 1996," because that is what its limitations on expenditures would accomplish.

Campaign finance reform is one of those seemingly simple issues that becomes complicated on closer examination.

We should not limit campaign contributions across the board in the way that currently is being suggested. Any limit of this kind, voluntary or otherwise, would favor incumbents because it would inhibit the right of a challenger to go out and raise more campaign funds than an incumbent who already enjoys greater name recognition. Challengers would have no way of overcoming that very real disadvantage. We want to level the playing field, not tilt it.

That said, there are a number of common-sense principles I believe can be invoked in order to strengthen the current campaign finance law and make it more equitable.

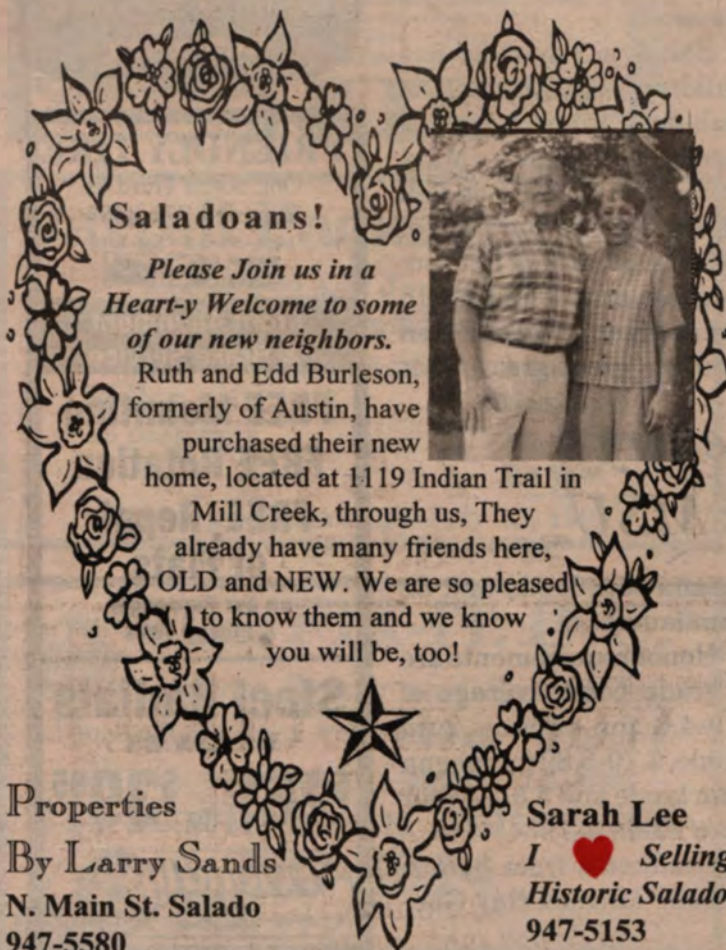

* I support the idea of requiring that 60 percent of a congressional candidate's campaign funds be raised from individuals within his or her home state. This rule would ensure that the people of each state have the ultimate say in the outcome of their congressional elections.

* I support limiting the use of personal wealth to finance campaigns. Right now there are no limits on the amount of personal wealth a candidate can spend on his or her own political campaign. Such candidates also are entitled to go out and raise campaign contributions, after the fact, and repay themselves. This is inherently inequitable. I think we can fairly, and constitutionally, set a limit on the amount for which such candidates can be reimbursed for up-front expenditures from their personal pocketbooks.

* I support limiting political action committee (PAC) donations to the same amount as individuals are entitled to donate to a candidate. The vast majority of PACs are cooperative, grassroots efforts within a specific group, or company, such as a teachers' association, a union or a tax-limitation group. Most people who contribute to PACs give small amounts of money. If someone wants to participate in the process, they should be encouraged.

* I support the idea of doing away with the congressional franking privilege for mass mailings during election years. I do not use and have never used the franking privilege for mass mailings at any time. It is, "frankly," an advantage for incumbents provided at taxpayer expense which should be canceled.

Campaign finance reform is a work in progress. But this is a plus — not a weakness. The ability to fine tune and improve the political process while preserving our basic democratic institutions is one of the great strengths of America.

Many people say they feel helpless when they see a child traveling unrestrained in a vehicle. There is something they can do about it.

This week in the Waco District, the Texas Department of Transportation

(TXDOT) is launching a new traffic safety program called "Please Be Seated."

If a person sees a child not legally restrained, the observer can fill out a card providing information about the violation. That card is then mailed to TXDOT's traffic safety office in Waco, and a reminder about Texas Child passenger safety law is sent to the owner of the vehicle identified.

"This program originated in the Fort Worth District and has been very successful," said Cindy Parks, the traffic safety specialist for the Waco District. "Car crashes injure or kill more children than any disease, and these are often preventable with the use of seat belts or child safety seats."

"We hope this program will help us educate drivers and save lives," said Cindy Parks, who will be sending the vehicle owner a letter, educational materials and a list of local agencies and businesses with child safety seat loaner programs.

In Texas, child passenger safety laws require every child under the age of two to be in a federally approved safety seat at all times. Any child between the ages of two and four must wear a safety belt or be in a child safety seat at all times, and, regardless of age, all front seat passengers of cars and light trucks must be buckled up.

The cards are available at any TxDOT office, sheriff's departments and hospitals in Bell, Bosque, Coryell, Falls, Hamilton, Hill, Limestone and McLennan counties. For more information, call Parks at 817-867-2806.

Keep kids busy with home inventory

by Ilene C. Miller
 Co. Ext. Agent

Even though summers seem to get shorter and busier every year, time still drags for many school-age children. Parents can help by getting kids started on a summer project to fill their time.

One project useful to the whole family is a home inventory book. A home inventory is a record of everything you own. It is a valuable aid in case of a fire, theft, or other loss of property. It provides a basis for estimating lost value and establishing insurance claims. In addition, a home inventory help your family determine the amount of insurance you need to cover your possessions.

For kids, creating a home inventory is helpful for other reasons. It makes them aware of the value of items in their home. It gives them a chance to find out the history of family heirlooms or antiques that have been passed from generation to generation. And it provides a source of fun and pride through taking pictures and producing a useful product.

Equip your children with camera and film, pens, loose-leaf paper and a notebook binder. On each sheet of paper, your child or children will place a picture of one item in your home and a description of the item. The description should include information such as the manufacturer, model and serial number. For some items, like appliances or electronics, your child may be able to find a current newspaper or magazine advertisement showing a similar item. That ad can be added to the inventory page, to represent replacement value of the item.

Review the inventory with your children periodically and discuss the items they have listed. You may be able to add information about when the item was purchased, how much it cost, or how long it has been in the family. Remember to include items stored in the attic, garage, drawers and closets as well as easily overlooked items such as furniture and wall hangings.

As the children conduct the inventory consider having them engrave an identification number on appliances, electronics, collectibles, or other items. Engravers are usually available from local police departments or insurance agencies. Engraved items are less attractive to thieves and aid in matching items with, owners when stolen goods are recovered. Use your driver's license number to mark your items.

Helping your children stay busy and feeling productive this summer may be the key to keeping them healthy and happy. It could make the summer easier on the whole family, too.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, national origin or disability.

For Crisp Salads

Storing Foods Properly

It takes more than good intentions to keep fruit and vegetables fresh and crisp in your refrigerator, say home economists from Whirlpool Corporation. You must: a) prepare fruits and vegetables correctly before storing them; b) keep crisper drawers closed tightly and, c) set crisper humidity controls properly.

For best results they offer these simple suggestions:

- Refrigerate most vegetables except potatoes, sweet potatoes, mature onions, most winter squash, eggplant and rutabagas. These vegetables require cool dry storage. Most other vegetables require the high-moisture storage provided by the refrigerator's sealed crisper drawers.

- For longest storage life select high quality vegetables when shopping. And quality levels will not be the same for all items in a package so sort vegetables as soon as possible. Eliminate decayed ones, used bruised or soft ones immediately and store the rest in a crisper.

- Wash and drain leafy vegetables, store them in plastic bags or sealed plastic containers and store them in the crisper. Storing in sealed containers retains the moisture needed to keep leafy vegetables from wilting. After washing, drain vegetables thoroughly on paper towels. Too much water produces brown spots on leaves and speeds decay. Close crisper drawers tightly.

- Peppers, cabbage, and other odorous foods should be wrapped or bagged to avoid transferring odors to other vegetables in the crisper. Mushrooms should always be stored in paper bags, not plastic, for longer crisp life.

- Maintaining the refrigerator section between 34°F and 40°F is best food storage. Temperature controls should not be set so low that foods in crispers freeze. Freezing will cause most fruits and vegetables to turn brown and wilt, and will leave water in the crisper bottom and on the crisper cover. Crispers with humidity controls should be set High for most vegetables and Low for fruits with skins (oranges, apples, lemons, etc.).

- Fresh vegetables should be stored only for their recommended times. When stored too long they brown, wilt and decay. Decaying food builds up water in the bottom of the crisper, causing other stored foods to decay.

Upon returning from shopping it's tempting to immediately store perishables in the refrigerator—with every intention to prepare them properly for storage later. For crisper salads—fight these temptations!

Applications taken for emergency drought farm loans

Applications for emergency farm loans for losses caused by drought are being accepted at the Farm Service Agency (FSA) office located in Gatesville, James I. McWilliams said today.

Bell County is one of seven in Texas recently named by Secretary of Agriculture Dan Glickman eligible for loans to cover part of actual production losses resulting from the damages and losses caused by the drought.

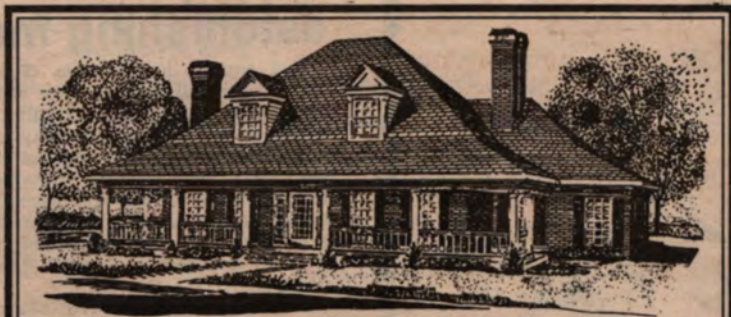

James I. McWilliams said farmers may be eligible for loans of up to 80 percent of their actual losses or the operating loan needed to continue in business, whichever is less. For farmers unable to obtain credit from private commercial lenders, the interest is 3.75 percent.

"As a general rule, a farmer must have suffered at least a 30 percent loss of production to be eligible for an FSA emergency loan," Mr. McWilliams said. Farmers participating in the Federal Crop Insurance program will have to figure in proceeds from those programs in determining their loss.

"Applications for loans under this emergency designation will be accepted until January 21, 1997 but farmers should apply as soon as possible. Delays in applying could create backlogs in processing and possibly over into the new farming season," James McWilliams said.

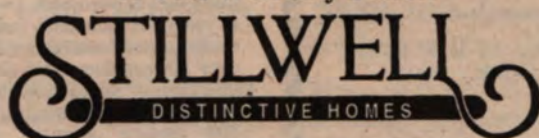

FSA is a credit agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It is authorized to provide disaster emergency loans to recognized farmers who work at and rely on farming for a substantial part of their living. Eligibility is extended to individual farmers who are U.S. citizens and to farming partnerships, corporations or cooperatives in which U.S. citizens hold a majority interest.

The FSA office is in Gatesville is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday

The two lives of the lion of wall street
A unique individual and an astonishing medical discovery

Most people live one life. Jack Dreyfus has had two. The first was filled with remarkable accomplishments as he founded the Dreyfus Fund, a leader in the development of the mutual fund industry. Dreyfus became known as "the most singular and effective personality to appear on Wall Street since the days of Joseph Kennedy and Bernard Baruch" (Life magazine).

Jack Dreyfus

His second life began in 1963 when, in the midst of a severe depression, he accomplished something unheard of. He asked his physician to let him try phenytoin, a medicine not usually prescribed for depression. It brought him back to good health overnight. When he saw six others have similar recoveries and learned the medicine was essentially being used just to treat epilepsy, he realized he had an obligation to investigate further.

To do this, he did a most unusual thing; he retired from his two highly successful businesses, established a charitable medical foundation, and has spent the last thirty years of his life and eighty million dollars of his money obtaining information about the many uses of phenytoin. Over a period of years, his foundation found that the medicine had been reported useful for over 50 symptoms and disorders by thousands of independent physicians in 38 countries, in 18 languages, in over 300 medical journals. On three occasions the Dreyfus Medical Foundation sent bibliographies (the last containing 3,100 medical references) to all the physicians in the United States.

Because of a flaw in our system of bringing medicines to the public, phenytoin is only listed for its original use with the FDA. Dreyfus' attempts to correct this tragic misunderstanding have led to the highest levels of government—he has met with two Presidents, four Secretaries of Health, four Commissioners of the FDA, and many others, in an attempt to get the narrow listing of this versatile medicine expanded to a more appropriate listing. But he has found government too busy with problems to have time for solutions.

In his just-published book, The Lion of Wall Street (Regnery Publishing, Inc.), Jack Dreyfus recounts, with wit and modesty, the story of his incredible life and his ceaseless efforts to make phenytoin available to millions of Americans and others around the world. The Dreyfus Medical Foundation is giving copies of The Lion of Wall Street to 45,000 libraries throughout the United States. It is available in bookstores nationwide.

The extinct elephant bird was so huge it could not fly. The largest was about ten feet and weighed about a thousand pounds.

Deadline July 12 for Jewel in the Crown

The deadline for the next edition of Salado: A Jewel in the Crown of Texas is 5 p.m. July 12.

Advertising costs will remain the same: $75 for a quarter-page, $135 for a half-page and $240 for a full page with spot color available at $25.

"The Jewel will be handed out at the gates of the Art Fair again this year, as well as our usual distribution points: Salado shops, galleries, boutiques, restaurants, and in the rooms of the Stagecoach Inn and bed and breakfast inns," said publisher Tim Fleischer.

Ad confirmations can be made by calling Marilyn Fleischer at 947-5321.

"The cover for our next Jewel will feature a spectacular pin-and-ink of the Salado College ruins by Salado Artist Ronnie Wells," said Marilyn. "It will be one of our best covers ever."

The next printing of the Jewel will have 20,000 copies distributed on stands until the winter publication in November.

"The Jewel in the Crown continues to be an effective means of advertising for Salado shops, restaurants, inns and services," said Tim about the magazine.

Comptroller's Office to be available in Waco July 17

Danny Carrizales of the Comptroller's Waco Field Office will be available July 17 to assist local taxpayers in the Waco area.

Danny Carrizales will be on hand 10 a.m. to 12 noon at the Comptroller's Waco Enforcement Office, 801 Austin Avenue, Suits 810 to discuss tax questions.

"State taxes can very complex and we understand that taxpayers can't just pick up and come to Austin whenever they need answers to their questions. That's why we bring these free services to you," State

Comptroller John Sharp said.

Danny Carrizales will be available to deliver quick and accurate information to all tax questions, assist with filing tax returns, collect on delinquent taxes and provide other valuable information.

Those who are unable to attend the Waco seminar can call the Comptroller's toll-free hotline at 1-800-252-5555 for additional assistance.

For more information about the seminar, call the Waco Field Office at 817/755-7700.

Jo Beck to show at 30th Annual Art Fair

Jo (Bergin) Beck has been selected to show in the 30th Annual Salado Art Fair Aug. 3-4 in Pace Park.

Jo (Bergin) Beck is a native of New Castle, Indiana and received a B.S. degree in Art Education from Ball State University.

While teaching art in the Indianapolis School System, she married; during the intervening years as the Beck family was transferred across the United States, Jo continued to paint and exhibit her art work in various juried shows and galleries.

Although her primary medium is watercolor, Jo has created numerous cross-stich designs for June Grigg Designs and a line of color prints which are being promoted through a mail order business.

She has been teaching in various galleries and presenting workshops throughout the Southwest and the Southeast.

Her studio, which includes a teaching facility and a sales gallery, is located on the family ranch in Blanco.

The times for this year's fair will be 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Aug. 3 and 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Aug. 4.
Admission is $3.00 for adults and children under 12 are free.

Tony Calabrese to show at Art Fair

Anthony (Tony) Calabrese is one of over 190 artists to show at the 30th Annual Salado Art Fair Aug. 3-4 in Pace Park.

Calabrese was born in New York City and was educated as an engineer with degrees in Chemical and Electrical Engineering.

His career as a watercolor artists began in 1972, first on a self-taught basis and soon after by attending the Houston Museum of Fine Arts School of Art.

He has had paintings accepted in many juried exhibitions and has exhibited in several Houston Watercolor Society Traveling Shows.

Calabrese's painting can be found in many private collections throughout the country.

His work is basically realistic in style, concentrating on rural and marine subjects. He attempts to achieve strong dramatic effects by the use of tonal contrast. Textural qualities are also important elements of his work which compliment the natural scenes he portrays.

Calabrese now teaches watercolor painting and drawing at the North Harris County College. He is an active member of The Watercolor Art Society of Houston, The Art League of Houston, The National Watercolor Society and The Southern Watercolor Society.

He has been associated with the Estelle Stair Gallery in Rockport and the Milly Webb Gallery in Kingwood.

The times for this year's fair will be 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Aug. 3 and 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Aug. 4.

Admission is $3.00 for adults and children under 12 are free.

First came the news that Dole was apparently willing to toss out the hard-line votes of one third of the delegates planning to attend the San Diego national conclave next month, when he announced that he was not going to allow the anti-abortion zealotites to select his running mate.

This effectively killed the intolerance and abortion litmus tests planned for the vice presidential candidates.

Many GOPers, together with a large number of conservative leaning moderates, cheered this stand of independence by Dole.

These applauders are not pro-choice extremists, just centrists who are willing to let both sides of the issue co-exist within the party.

Two days later the happy hurrahs were dampened when Dole went on TV and allowed as how he was not all that certain that cigarette smoking was addictive.

This naturally led to the question: "Does this opinion come as a result of the big bucks given to the Dole campaign by the tobacco industry?"

The resulting brouhaha followed him around for several days on the campaign trail thus defusing his speech-making efforts to rally the troops.

When Dole blew a fuse over the cigarette issue he returned to his nettlesome days of blaming all woes on the "knee-jerk, liberal" press, thus reminding folks of the former Senate Majority Leader's propensity for showing a testy streak during hard questioning sessions.

He needs to remember the old newspaper adage - "Never pick a fight with folks who buy ink by the barrel".

That's -30-

Those who trust the most stand to lose the most to phone crooks

by Dan Morales
Texas Attorney General

It is sometimes said that greedy people are the easiest victims of con artists, telemarketing schemes and fraud. Well, that is simply not true, according to a study conducted by Princeton Survey Research Associates. Nice, honest people are more likely than others to send money to total strangers in exchange for the promise of a sure-fire business opportunity, a cash prize or a fantastic vacation.

The Princeton study concerns us because the Elder Law and Public Health Division of the Office of the Attorney General is charged with protecting the interests of older Texans, who are generally more open and trusting than their younger counterparts.

Many seniors are ashamed or embarrassed to report being victimized by fraud. They think that it was their fault, or that they should not have been so gullible. The truth is that con artists and telescamuners are finely honed professionals who take advantage of older people precisely because of their trusting nature. Unless properly warned, even the wiliest Texan can have difficulty dealing with sharp perpetrators of fraud.

The facts

What characteristics make an easy mark? Who is likely to be tricked, and who is not? The Princeton study found that:

- Older fraud victims are more likely to be in the workforce than other adults.
- The social and community activities of older fraud victims rival or surpass those of their peers.
- Affluent and well-educated Americans are often targeted and tricked out of their money by con artists.

- People who have suffered a recent tragedy (such as the loss of a loved one) are likely to give money in sympathy to others.
- More than one-third of older fraud victims volunteer work on a regular basis.
- Two-thirds of fraud victims went to church at least once during the week before the study interview.

The reason why

It turns out that courtesy and trust are the most reliable traits in indicating whether a person may be a victim of fraud.

Unfortunately, it stands to reason. If you comport yourself in an honest and upright manner, you are likely to think others will do the same. Sadly, this is far from true. Con artists take advantage of people who just cannot bear to hang up the phone on a caller that keeps talking.

They also take advantage of trusting people. If you find it hard to believe that someone would flat-out lie to you, then that person may find it all the easier to tell tall tales about his or her product or service. Much too often, there is no product or service - just an all-too-efficient bilking mechanism.

Beware

If you recognize any of the following traits in yourself, you may be an easy touch.

Are you reluctant to hang up the phone or shut the door in a salesperson's face? By listening to their pitch, you are dramatically increasing your chances of being victimized. Smooth-talking operators know already what to say in order to get your money. Giving them more time to talk is like giving a sniper more time to aim a rifle.

Do you believe that phone salespeople are all just doing their job, and need to make a living like everyone else? Perhaps you should be a little skeptical. After all, telephones are no mystery - thieves know how to pick up a handset and dial, just like everybody else. Telescammers know you have not won a prize and they do not care. All they want is your money.

What you should know

Think of the following the next time you get a sales call. If you hear anything that reminds you of these tips, you have the permission of the Attorney General of Texas to hang up.

- First of all, it is just plain illegal for anyone to ask you to pay anything - even shipping costs - for a "prize."
- Ask for written information through the mail; illegal "boiler room" callers will usually hem and haw or hang up quickly.
- Never let anyone send a courier to pick up your payment that is just a way to avoid mail fraud laws.
- Never give out your credit card or bank account number to strangers over the phone.
- If you do not want to be called again by a particular phone salesperson, ask that person not to call you again and to take you off his or her calling or mailing list. If they call again, they will be breaking the federal Telemarketing and Consumer Fraud and Abuse Prevention Act.

Be an assertive consumer do not let others take advantage of your trusting nature and innate courtesy.

Since when do you have to agree with people to defend them from injustice.

—Lillian Hellman

Village Artists set Kid's Art July 20

Salado Village Artist, Inc. will again sponsor a special Children's Art Day 9 a.m. - noon July 20 at the Salado Art Center. Last year over 25 Salado children enjoyed a special morning of art activities. The artists are anticipating another great response. Children who have completed the first grade through those how have completed the fifth grade are invited to participate. Activities will include special art projects, painting and drawing. All supplies will be provided by the Salado Village Artists, Inc. There is no formal registration form to complete, however it is strongly recommended that parents indicate their child or children will participate. This is important since the space at the center is limited. You may call Mary Ellen Parks at 947-9277 to let them know your child will attend or if you are seeking more information. Parents should bring children to the Salado Art Center by 9 a.m., July 20. Be sure to dress you children in clothes suitable for a morning of art activities.

Newest Camelot Collectible is postage stamp

Just weeks after a small group of the rich and famous paid over $34 million for 1195 lots from the Jacqueline Kennedy auction, collectors are suddenly racing to obtain a Limited Edition set of nine commemorative postage stamps that were just issued in honor of the former First Lady.

"This commemorative stamp issue may be the only Jacqueline Kennedy collectible that is within reach of the average collector," stated John Van Emden of the International Collectors Society, exclusive worldwide distributor of the stamps. "And this is only because the low issue price was established before the recent auction."

Each of the nine colorful stamps has a face value of 200 Francs, and is about four times the size of a regular U.S. stamp. They are legal for postage in The Republic of Chad, and are accepted by every postal authority around the world.

"The auction proved these stamps are clearly priced way below what collectors would be willing to pay for them, but in fairness to collectors, we will be honoring our original issue price until our supplies run out," added Van

Emden. "In fact we opted for a first-come first-served sale instead of an auction for these Limited Editions in order for everyone to have an equal chance of obtaining a set."

Experts are already predicting that this Jacqueline Kennedy issue may be the fastest selling collectible stamp ever. "They're really quite stunning with all the colorful images printed together on the same commemorative sheet," added Van Emden.

Gotta have 'em? They are available for a short time at their original issue price of $9.95 (plus $3 postage and handling) for the complete set of nine different stamps. You'll also receive a numbered Certificate of Authenticity attesting to their Limited Edition status. The most you can buy is 6 sets. Contact The International Collectors Society, 10045 Red Run Blvd., Suite 170PRY, Owings Mills, MD 21117, or you may call toll free 1-800-671-0070.

Congressman Chet Edwards Reports

FEDERAL PROGRAMS AVAILABLE TO ASSIST AG PRODUCERS DURING DROUGHT

The worst drought in more than 100 years has slowly burned Central Texas to a crisp. Fields and pastures that normally would have been green and growing are instead stunted and brown.

Farmers are watching their crops struggle to grow in the dry soil.

Cattle ranchers are being forced to sell portions of their herds or completely liquidate because of high grain costs. The prices they are receiving are sometimes half or even less of what they took to the bank last year.

Businesses small and large that provide goods and services to agriculture producers are suffering because cash, like the land, is drying up.

Central Texas needs rain — badly. Right now we're entering what is normally the driest part of the year. The prospect for appreciable precipitation is slim to none.

While we may not get rain, there is some assistance through federal emergency programs.

I have been working with the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) to secure federal funding for emergency programs to assist Central Texas producers.

The 12 counties in the 11th Congressional District listed for emergency assistance programs include: Bell, Bosque, Coryell, Falls, Hamilton, Hill, Lampasas, McCulloch, McLennan, Milam, Mills and San Saba.

Budget constraints have meant funding reductions for many emergency assistance programs. Working with the USDA, I and other members of Congress have been able to persuade them to continue and extend an emergency feed program until August 31, for cattle producers who were previously enrolled.

The USDA will also provide $70 million in assistance to producers in Texas and Oklahoma who have suffered grain losses during the drought.

To be eligible, producers must have crop insurance and a previously-established record at their local Farm Service Agency office of both grazing and harvesting their small grain acreage.

Land idled through the Conservation Reserve Program is also being opened on an emergency basis and for a small fee to either grazing or haying.

The USDA is also providing emergency loans for eligible producers. Loans through the Small Business Administration are also available for businesses impacted by disasters in counties where they do business.

For more information on any of these programs, please contact the local county Farm Service Agency office.

Internal Revenue Service rules also permit ranchers to defer reporting income that is generated due to forced cattle sales.

In spite of this assistance, what Central Texas needs right now is a long, slow rain. Only good old-fashioned prayer can make that happen, not any government program.

Until those prayers are answered, we will need to work together to pull through this stretch of dry days, low prices and ruined crops. The survival of family farmers and ranchers is not only important to Central Texas — it is of vital importance to all Americans.

Biggest hobby in America is to have stamp collections

Do you collect stamps? Did you know that stamp collecting is the number one hobby in the world?

You can collect for fun or as an investment.

Stamps taken from envelopes you receive in the mail can be enjoyable because there is such a variety of stamps in the mail system. Just put the envelope in warm water and the stamp will lift off in a few seconds.

Hobby shops offer a variety of stamp albums and information.

If you are more serious about stamp collecting you may want to buy plate blocks or entire sheets of new stamps as they are issued. Commemorative stamps depicting people, places or events are issued throughout the year and are sold for about 60 days. definitive stamps are sold year after year.

The Salado Post office has several stamp collecting kits. Ask us about stamp collecting.

New stamps to be issued on July 12 are 32 cents Folk Heros and on July 20 32 cents Centennial Olympic Games.

One should never know too precisely whom one has married.

Cattle prices may steady in coming months

by James M. Davis
Co. Ext. Agent

It would sure be nice to write about something besides drought, nitrate poisoning, prussic acid poisoning and low cattle markets for a change. But that seems to be the topic everywhere one goes these days. About the only real positive thing in agriculture these days is the fact that all grain prices are real good (if you're selling). Of course, grain prices are terrible if you are a cattleman buying food for cheap cows.

The regional cow slaughter report sent by Dr. Ernie Davis, Extension Livestock Marketing Specialist at A&M does look positive for reducing cattle numbers. Perhaps this down market will be short lived.

Dr. Davis says that unprofitable calf and cattle prices and drought news have many analysts examining regional cow slaughter data for signs of beef cow herd liquidation. The slaughter data is reported for each of 10 regions in the U.S.

Due to drought conditions, the Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma region may be of the most interest. Beef cow slaughter in that region was 25,900 head for the week ending May 25. That was the largest weekly beef cow slaughter since December 4, 1984!

Slaughter is also running well above last year and the 1990-94 average. Year to date, beef cow slaughter in the Texas-Oklahoma region is the largest, as a percent of the January beef cow inventory, since 1984.

Beef cow slaughter is running ahead of year ago levels, as a percent of the inventory in each region, except the Mountain states. Mountain states slaughter is actually the smallest since 1991. Good grass conditions as well as the area being heavily a Fall culling region are probably contributing to slower slaughter.

In the Lakes States, beef cow slaughter is the largest, as a percent of the inventory, since the weekly data began in 1984. Slaughter in the Southeast, Southwest, Pacific Northwest, and Western Corn Belt are the largest since the early 1990s, as a percent of the beef cow inventory.

Large supplies of US calves born in 1995 are still on summer grass and will be placed later this summer. That could cause placements to rebound rather quickly.

Feed cattle marketings in April were reported as 5 percent above last year and 13 percent above 1994. However, the USDA also reported that Federally Inspected steer and heifer slaughter was up only about 2 percent from a year earlier.

Keys to feed cattle supplies and prices in the next few months will be cattle turnover in feedlots and cow slaughter. Turn over rates could remain high as heavy weight feeders need fewer days on-feed. Cow slaughter may remain rather high, but smaller percentage increases in recent months are projected for this summer if pasture and range conditions are adequate. Still, feed cattle supplies during the next three months will tighten and support fed cattle prices.
