Can American Dream Survive is seminar topic at Institute

The Institute for the Humanities will take a look inward at American culture as it continues its spring seminar and lecture series "Despair and Hope: Cultural and Ethnic Survival." John Roth, the Russell K. Pitzer Professor of Philosophy at Claremont McKenna College (CMC) in California, will address the Institute on April 16-17.

On April 16, Dr. Roth will lead a seminar titled "A Place Called Hope: Can the American Dream Survive." The seminar will take place from 10:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Inn on the Creek.

Dr. Roth will then give a lecture at the Mill Creek Dining Room at 4:00 p.m. on April 17. The lecture will focus on "Private Needs, Public Selves: Talking About Religion in America" and will be followed by a discussion session and buffet dinner.

Dr. Roth joined the CMC faculty in 1966 after receiving his

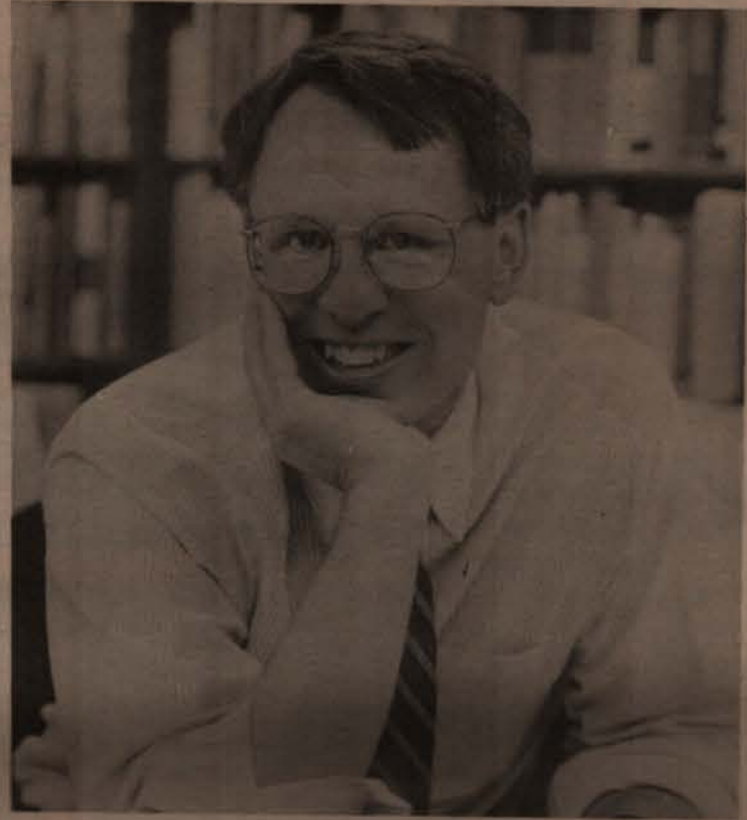

M.A. and Ph.D. in philosophy from Yale University. Three times since then his faculty colleagues have voted him the recipient of the Roy P. Crocker Award for Excellence. In 1988 he was also named the National Professor of the Year by the Council for Advancement and Support of Education and the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.

American studies, Holocaust studies, philosophy, and religion, are Dr. Roth's areas of interest. He has advanced his expertise in these topics through post-doctoral appointments as a Graves Fellow in the Humanities, a Fulbright Lecturer in American Studies, and a Fellow of the National Humanities Institute, Yale University.

Currently, Dr. Roth chairs the California Council for the Humanities. He also serves on the executive board of the Center for the Study of Religion and American Culture at Indiana University-Purdue University, Indianapolis.

SORE sets jaw for fight against rock quarry

by Tim Fleischer
Editor-in-Chief

"A small group of individuals has been giving of their time and energy. They have been fighting our battle for us. It is our turn to step up to the plate. We cannot allow this to go by."

This is what Bob Cottle told a group of about 90 Saladoans gathered at the Salado Civic Center to discuss potential rock quarries in the area.

Members of Save Our Resources and Environment (SORE) have been working since November to prevent a portable rock crusher from locating within a mile of their homes. The crusher would be within a mile-and-a-half of 170 homes, as well as the Stillhouse Hollow Lake Dam, Boys Scout Camp Tahuaya and the Outdoor Learning Center.

"We have a sparse following from county agencies, but we are developing a reputation and are becoming well known at all related state agencies," said Larry Gumpert, President of SORE.

Members of the group were able to meet with Gov. Ann Richards when she came to Temple for Capitol for a Day.

The group has been able to thwart the rock crusher for six months while government agencies conduct studies.

The Army Corps of Engineers is studying the possible impact of the rock crusher on the Stillhouse Hollow Dam and the Outdoor Learning Center.

Also, the golden cheeked warbler has been spotted nearby and the Fish & Wildlife Services may require a permit before the crusher can go to work.

The Texas Natural Resources Conservation Committee told Shallow Ford Construction, which wants to place a rock crusher on land owned by Ed and Patsy Hinkle, that it will require the company to apply for a water discharge permit.

"If TNRC requires this permit, there will be an opportunity for hearings and to present technical information of the potential damage of the rock crusher," said Myron Hess, of the Austin legal firm representing SORE: Henry Lowerre, Hess and Frederick.

The county is conducting an impact study on the roads in the area of the proposed rock crusher, but there has been no information released to date.

The law firm also informed Shallow Ford Construction of an intent to sue if the company violates any regulations or laws.

"In order to be of any effect, we must keep pressure on all these governmental agencies," Hess said. "We must push the issues."

Gumpert said that letter writing campaigns will help to push the issue. SORE has a list of agencies and officials to whom interested parties can address letters.

Contact SORE through the Salado Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 81, Salado, TX 76571.

"Usually a rock quarry like this is stopped," Hess said, "when the operator decides it's just not worth the fight."

Members of SORE have set their jaws to the fight.

SISD trustees to meet in regular session

The Salado ISD Board of Trustees will meet in regular session 7 p.m. April 19 in the high school computer room.

After hearing bookkeeper's and tax collector's reports, the board will approve bills and order payment. The board may also consider budget amendments, if necessary.

The board will consider approving the 1994-95 school calendar and approve waiver for In-Service days during 1994-95.

The board will consider a lease/purchase of a tractor-lawnmower.

The board will go into executive session to consider coaching positions, local stipends and insurance package for 1994-95 and employment of auxiliary employees.

The board may increase local stipends and insurance for district employees to be competitive with other schools in the district in contract offers.

Presently, Salado ISD pays $1,000 above base and pays $600 per year for health insurance. An average annual premium for a district employee is $1,700, according to Superintendent Steven Ervin.

Carlito's Way

rated R

starring Al Pacino, Sean Penn, Penelope Ann Miller

Our rating: ***

by Tim Fleischer
Editor-in-Chief

Al Pacino is one of my all-time favorite actors, but Carlito Brigante is little more than a compilation of the gangsters he portrayed in Scarface and The Godfather. And Carlito's Way is little more than a gritty, street tough version of The Godfather.

After serving time, Carlito is freed from prison and decides he will go on the straight and narrow. No more crime...

His promise lasts not at all as he is dragged back into the seamy underside of the neighbor. His legendary stature as a gangster leads to his quick rise in the underworld. It is also his downfall.

Carlito's Way is explosively violent and vulgar, just as Pacino's earlier Scarface. It is one of the few roles Pacino has done which cannot stand on its own.

Sean Penn is slimy as Carlito's lawyer and partner in crime. Penn deserved recognition for this portrayal, but was overlooked by critics. His is the best in the movie, easily stealing the show from Pacino. But he is not enough to save this movie from mediocrity.

Corridor counties discuss superhighway

Two important meetings were held in Salado this past week including a successful anti-rock quarry gathering that drew up to 90 villagers and later in the same week a session that encompassed most of the county judges from those counties that border the Interstate 35 corridor from Laredo to Gainesville. Both groups met at the Civic Center.

The rock quarry meet is reviewed elsewhere in this issue of the Salado Village Voice but there is no question that the group is having an impact.

I-35 Corridor

The I-35 Corridor Coalition, composed of county leaders from the 21 counties that the international highway touches in Texas, has the potential of being a most powerful political force if they can get fully organized. Some 6 to 8 million Texans reside in these counties and if you add the jurisdictions that border the central counties you would have well over half the population of the State. If you put the appropriate county judges together with the city officials, councils of government, school, utility, hospital and other special taxing entities in the I-35 coalition, you would have some heavy political stroke. Enough to draw notice from folks in Austin and Washington when it comes time to gain funding to upgrade I-35 that will hopefully be named (and funded) the official North American Free Trade Alliance highway. It would run from Mexico City to Canada and right through the middle of Texas.

Off the Record

by Ken Clapp

The I-35 Coalition will have to fight off two other groups in the State that want the designation of "Official NAFTA Highway" including folks who want the traffic to go from Laredo to Houston and northeast to Michigan and on into Canada. Another would have trucks leave Laredo and head for Abilene and finally wandering north and east until it reaches Canada. These ideas and more will be measured by those with control of highway funding purse-strings both in Washington and to a lesser degree, in Austin.

A quick look at I-35 on the map of the United States would give anyone, with a modicum of sense, a clear picture of the one route that was first built during the Eisenhower years as a military defense highway interconnect system that would run from Mexico to Canada, while linking all east-west highways along the line. This straight line from north to south is perfect for NAFTA's purposes and to shift from it would be costly and insane especially since just the re-do of I-35 will run into the tens of billions of dollars. Think what a brand new international highway starting from scratch would set us back?

It can be hoped that when the super highway is finished - some 10 to 20 years hence - it will have a designated section for trucks only. Perhaps even some Buck Rogers stuff including electronic guidance systems for cars and heavy vehicles that will keep them at a certain speed and separation with no work on the part of the truckers. Some 15 to 20 thousand trucks a day are moving back and forth across the Laredo Port of Entry right now and we can expect that number to double and then triple by the turn of the century. All moving up and down I-35 corridor, mostly at high

Writer's Round-up April 17 at Museum

A stunning array of Texas authors and their books will be at the Central Texas Area Museum 2 p.m. April 17, at the annual Writer's Round-up and Book Fair, Mrs. Sterling C. Robertson, museum director announced.

Some of the authors and books include: Betty Wilke Cox - Liz Carpenter, Girl from Salado, Eakin Press. Kathy Cronkite - On the Edge of Darkness: Conversations about Depression, Doubleday. Elizabeth Crook - The Raven's Bride and Promised Lands, Doubleday. Billy Porterfield - Diddy Waw Diddy, Harper Collins. Linda Post - Stony Ground, Eakin Press.

Each author will give a 10 minute summary of their works and then sign books.

Tickets are $3 for adults and $1 for those under 18 years of age.

Among the prominent book-lovers present will be Mr. and Mrs. Ed Eakin of Austin, who are longtime Texas publishers and Mike Cox columnist on Texana for the Austin American Statesman.

"We are bringing a van load of books up for fair," Eakin said, "so it is a good time for Bell County Folk to stock up on their reading material for summer and winter."

The books will include many on the current lists of both Eakin and Texas A&M Press, including the prize-winning biography of Annie Webb Blanton, Pioneer Woman Educator by Debbie Mauldin

Cottrell. All of the authors have many literary kudos to their credit. Betty Cox is a research librarian with a master of library science degree from Texas Woman's University. She grew up in Fort Worth, the daughter of a newspaper editor, has worked for several Texas newspapers, and is the mother of Mike Cox writer of Texana for the Austin American Statesman.

Kathy Cronkite, daughter of CBS newscaster Walter Cronkite, raises a family in Austin and is known for her talk shows on KLBJ. She has written an earlier book on the advantages and problems of children of celebrities. She was named Outstanding Woman of the Year, by the Mental Health Association, Austin area. Her magazine articles are numerous. Active in theater, Cronkite is at home before cameras, microphones and onstage. Her passion is for exploring people, cities, cultures and the outdoors.

Elizabeth Crook of Austin made literary history when her story of the first Mrs. Sam Houston was published two years ago. Raven's Bride is now out in paperback, as is her current best-selling novel Promised Lands. Crook is the daughter of Ambassador and Mrs. William Crook and a member of the prominent H.E.B. family.

Billy Porterfield, a Texas legend and columnist for the Austin American Statesman is a seasoned author and has six previous books to his credit including LBJ Country, The Greatest Honky Tonks in Texas, and Fathers and Daughters.

Linda Post, is a high school teacher in Temple High School and her remarkable book which is not only the spell-binding narrative of a crime but reaffirms the importance of restoring moral education in public schools and the need for teaching personal ethics as part of the liberal arts curriculum. Stony Ground provides hope and help for educators whose students have been caught up in a world of drugs, sex and violence.

The Readers and Writers Round-up was established more than 30 years ago and has been an anticipated event in Salado each spring.

How Hard Do You Work for Uncle Sam?

In an average American's eight-hour workday, nearly three of those hours are spent earning money for Uncle Sam, according to the Tax Foundation. With the new tax law, and some experts predicting additional changes or even higher taxes ahead, you may wonder if more of your workday will be spent paying taxes this year.

If you think higher taxes affect you in 1994, consider investing in tax-free or tax-deferred investments. The new, and potentially higher, tax rates make tax-advantaged investments more attractive.

One of the most common types of tax-advantaged investments is municipal bonds. Municipal bonds are issued by state and local governments or by authorities or agencies of these governments, such as school districts. The interest produced by municipal bonds is free from federal income tax and depending on the investor's state of residence and the bond selected, perhaps from state and local income tax, too. (Certain issues may be subject to the alternative minimum tax).

In addition, you may consider some types of government bonds to reduce your taxes. U.S. Treasury bills, notes and bonds, for example. All offer interest payments that are free from state and local taxes, although they are subject to federal taxes. Bills are short-term government securities with maturities of 91 days to one year. Notes have maturities of one to 10 years, and bonds are long-term securities with maturities of 10 years or more.

If you want to protect your money from taxes until retirement, consider other alternatives. Individual retirement accounts (IRAs), deferred annuities and life insurance all offer the opportunity for tax-deferred growth. With these investments, you don't have to pay taxes on your returns until you begin making withdrawals, which is usually at retirement. (There may be penalties for withdrawal before age 59-1/2).

An IRA allows you to invest your contributions into the investment vehicles that can best help you achieve your goals. Depending on your income level, and whether you are eligible for other retirement programs, your IRA contribution may also be tax-deductible.

A deferred annuity is a contract between you and a life insurance company whereby the life insurance company guarantees your principal and a death benefit for your heirs. An annuity allows your earnings to grow tax-deferred until they are withdrawn.

Some life insurance policies combine a death benefit with tax-deferred savings. Many of these policies offer competitive returns that allow you to build up significant cash value on a tax-deferred basis.

Starting now, work on ways to cut your 1994 taxes. That way, more of your workday will be spent paying you, not Uncle Sam. Your investment broker can help you decide which investments are appropriate for you.

Eagles hardballers open district with wins

The Salado Eagles opened their district baseball season in a big way. Salado pounded out 11 hits in a 16-5 win over the Liberty Hill Panthers.

After Jereme Hosch shut out Liberty Hill in the top of the first inning, the Eagles started the scoring with a bang. Five walks and rbi singles by Chris Jackson, Richard Berumen, Jason Hosch and Richard Jackson along with a sacrifice fly by Brent Cabaniss accounted for seven Salado runs.

Salado increased their lead with three more runs in the second inning. Jereme Hosch reached base when he was hit with a pitch. Jason Hosch followed with a single. Richard Jackson walked to load the bases. All the runners moved up on a ground out. Justin Brantley then delivered a double to right to drive in two more runs.

In the top of the third Liberty Hill was able to score their first two runs. They collected two hits in the inning but it was two Eagles errors that allowed the runs.

The Eagles came right back with three more runs. After Chris Jackson reached on an error, Berumen, Jereme and Jason Hosch had singles for two of the runs. A Richard Jackson sacrifice scored the third run.

In the bottom of the fourth with a 13-2 lead Salado added insult to injury. Brandon McGregor walked and moved to third on a Chris Jackson double. Jereme Hosch then blasted a home run over the right field fence.

Liberty Hill was able to score three runs in the top of the fifth. Two of the runs were earned as the Panthers collected two doubles in the inning and recieved a walk. But the runs were too little, too late, the game was called due to the 10 run rule.

Jason Hosch led the Eagles offensively going 3 for 3. Chris Jackson, Richard Berumen and Jereme Hosch all added two hits a piece.

Jereme Hosch picked up his fifth win on the mound for the Eagles. He allowed seven hits and struck out eight.

The Eagles travelled to Hutto April 8, and continued their offensive onslaught. Salado scored eight first inning runs. The big blows of the inning were a three run homer by Jason Hosch and a grand slam home run by Brandon McGregor in his second at bat of the inning.

Hutto was able to score two runs in the first. Salado pitcher Richard Jackson had trouble with the high mound and loose dirt. After recording an out Jackson walked two batters and injured his leg in the process. Chris Frazier relieved and allowed a single that scored the two runs.

Salado got the two runs back in the top of the second and put the game away with eight runs in the third. In the big third inning McGregor, Anthony Sniggs and Jereme Hosch all had singles. Chris Jackson added a double and Jason Hosch added his second home run of the night.

The Eagles were shut out in the fourth but the big bats returned in the fifth. Chris Jackson hit a two run homer and Mark Tubbs followed with a solo shot. This brought the score to 21-3.

Brandon McGregor, Chris Jackson and Jason Hosch all collected three hits on the night. Anthony Sniggs added two singles. Salado collected 16 hits on the night. Chris Frazier picked up his first varsity win for the Eagles. He pitched four and two-thirds innings, allowing 4 hits and striking out eight.

Salado will host Thorndale April 15. The winner will be in the drivers seat for the district championship. Both are 2-0 in district. Thorndale is 11-0 on the year, while the Eagles are 12-1.

Salado sets Mayfest 94

The citizens of Salado, the Salado Chamber of Commerce and the Council of Presidents announce "Salado Mayfest 94" will be held May 30, in Salado Pace Park. The new community-wide event will start immediately after the parade which was originally scheduled for April 9, but will now be Memorial Day.

Following the parade, which will begin at 10 a.m. in the IGA Village Foods parking lot and conclude in Pace Park, the May Fest will provide an opportunity for all of the citizens of Salado to have an afternoon together enjoying fellowship and participation in events that appeal to the young as well as the young-at-heart. Families are encouraged to join in the fun.

May Fest was a concept which evolved after months of discussion among members of the Salado Chamber of Commerce and citizens of the Village. Its purpose is to increase a spirit of cooperation among the various segments of the community and to boost participation in and excitement about the Annual Parade. The Chamber is proud to announce that Dana Britt has agreed to act as Chair of the event.

The second planning session will be held in the school cafeteria on 3:30 p.m. April 14. "A representative from each community organization is requested to attend the meeting," stated Britt.

Monday Club learns history of early doctors

"History of Medicine in Texas" was the topic of the program when the Salado Monday Club met on April 4. Guest speaker Dr. John L. Montgomery related many interesting points of Texas history particularly during the era of the quest for Texas Independence.

According to Dr. Montgomery, "This was a time when bleeding and purging were popular treatments, long before the discovery of antibiotics, anesthesia, or even a knowledge of the germ theory of disease."

"Small pox, yellow fever, and measles killed far more Indians than bullets or Anglo-Americans by arrow or tomahawk."

He also stated, "While the doctors of early Texas may have been poor healers, they were outstanding statesmen and courageous soldiers. Several were instrumental in the founding of Texas and fought at the Alamo, Goliad and San Jacinto. Seven were among the signers of the Texas Declaration of Independence on March 2, 1836."

Dr. Montgomery also discussed some of the discoveries and events leading up to our modern practice of medicine and the vast strides that have been accomplished in the past century.

Dr. Montgomery is president of Scott and White Clinic and Chief of Staff of Scott and White Memorial Hospital in Temple. He and his wife Alma reside in Salado.

Saladoans meet Sen. Wentworth to discuss Edwards Aquifer

Eight Saladoans and Butch Cleveland, from Temple, met with Senator Jeff Wentworth in Austin April 6, along with six people from Williamson and Travis Counties. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss concerns about the Edwards Aquifer. Saladoans who attended were Chamber of Commerce president Jap Barrett, Doris Denman (Salado Historical Society Historic District Committee member) and Cathy Sands (Chamber committee member) and Creek Watch volunteers Rich Castle, Jim Dale, Martha Harper, Karen Kinnison and Pat Merrill.

An excellent presentation of aquifer facts was given by a University of Texas graduate student Barbara Mahler, who is leading an ongoing graduate student study of Salado Creek, its springs and the Edwards Aquifer. She discussed aquifer characteristics and why the Edwards is designated by TNRCC as the Texas aquifer most susceptible to degradation and contamination. Also she pointed out that the Northern segment (our portion) is unprotected by the "Edwards Rules" which were written to give protection to this aquifer several years ago. She emphasized that now, with the population increase, it is extremely important to discover some way in which there can be protection against contamination and degradation of the aquifer.

Jap Barrett said he plans to make arrangements for her to address the Lion's Club on this topic as soon as possible.

The message was reiterated by Karen Haschke, who served on Critical Areas report in 1989 and 1990. She suggested ground water district be set up for the Northern segment (which includes the northern part of Travis County, Williamson county and southern Bell County). A ground water district has the ability to establish rules and regulations for the particular portion of the aquifer within their area.

Dr. Lauren Ross, geologist from Austin, was present. She expressed concern about a relaxation of standards in regard to soil cleanup at contaminated service stations (which will add to potential aquifer degradation) and indicated that Bell County is in serious need of aquifer protection.

Senator Wentworth said he will help in every way that is possible. He stated he will continue to be interested in aquifer protection and is a member of the Edwards Aquifer Oversight Committee (Senators Armbrister and Sims are the other two members). They have not met yet, but he will keep us informed. He indicated he would be supportive of any action we take to protect the Northern segment of the Edwards Aquifer.

All participants expressed that it may be possible to get some protection for our portion of the aquifer in place if we continue with this effort.

Between 1969 and 1979, Kaiser wrote or co-wrote, "Tell It Like it is," "Natural High", "God's People" and "Just for You," youth musicals with a blend of contemporary music and updating the Christian message that broke new ground. He has produced albums by such singers and performers as Tennessee Ernie Ford, Carol Lawrence, Burl Ives, Ray Price, Pat Boone, Ethel Waters, and many other well-known names.

The Britt & Kasper Family

Dear Friends:

We would like to thank each and every one of you for the concern and help you have given us over the past few weeks following the accident in which our son was severely injured.

We would like to especially like to thank the local churches and prayer groups for their continuing prayers concerning Jimmie Lee's recuperation.

Thanks also for the many beautiful flowers, cards, balloons and other token of affection.

At this time, we would like to report that Jimmie has made amazing progress in his healing. And perhaps soon will be able to resume a normal life.

It is our true belief that Jimmie Lee's survival took an active movement of God's hand and that his rapid healing is in direct response to the many prayers sent up on his behalf by all our Christian friends.

Thank you again for being part of this miracle.

Sincerely,
Jimmie and Nadine Gidley

rates of speed on from eight to 10 lanes of pavement.

The next meeting of the I-35 Corridor Coalition will take place at the Salado Civic Center on May 20.

Salado and I-35

Let us hope that when, not if, the super highway goes through our village it will do so in a deep trench with multiple sound baffles on either side of a wide landscaped motorway. Most communities alongside the corridor see growth and dollar signs. Salado may view things differently, but no doubt there is to be change acoming. Let us hope our leaders continue looking and planning for the future as they are doing now and not be hindered by those who would prefer to lock the gate now that they are safely ensconced in our happy, well placed and lovely community.

Capitol Moved?

A faithful reader called in to ask when the Capitol had been moved from Austin to Jarrell. Puzzled, we dug a bit deeper and discovered the query came as a result of seeing a sign located just north of Jarrell proclaiming that community to be the "Bull Capitol of Texas"!

Never fear dear reader - it would be impossible to relocate the offending result of our legislature and in-town bureaucrats more than a few feet either way of the granite headquarters in downtown Austin. The sheer magnitude of such a project boggles the mind.

The Jarrell signage refers to the auction barn in that city but the point is well taken!
