Grant Teaff speaks to Lions Aug. 10 at MC

Grant Teaff

Grant Teaff, popular former head coach at Baylor University, will address the Salado Lions Club meeting Aug. 10. Coach Teaff enjoys a reputation as one of the most successful and honored coaches of the Southwest Conference.

He is one of 22 people serving on an appointed NCAA Committee studying the possibility of a national playoff for Division I football. He is currently executive director of the American Football Coaches Association, which moved its headquarters from Florida to Waco in March, 1994.

Of his 30 year coaching career, 21 years was spent at Baylor. His overall record as coach was 163-146-8.

He was born in Snyder and graduated from Snyder High School. He graduated from McMurry College in Abilene with B.S. in Physical Education and an M.S. in Administrative Education.

The Salado Lions Club meets the second and fourth Wednesday of each month at 11:30 a.m. in the dining room of the Mill Creek Country Club.

SISD Recognized

TEA releases accreditation ratings for Texas schools; Salado High School achieves Recognized status

by Tim Fleischer
Editor-in-Chief

Salado I.S.D. is one of just 52 districts in Texas to be Recognized by the Texas Education Agency, which released its accreditation ratings last week.

In addition, Salado High School is among the top 8 percent of 6,200 school campuses in Texas to be Recognized by the TEA.

Salado I.S.D. and Salado High School met the Recognized level performance standards for all base indicated and demonstrated required improvement on Texas Assessment of Academic Skills (TAAS), according to the TEA report released Aug. 1.

To achieve the Recognized status, all schools within the district must be and TAAS scores surpassing the standard for recognized districts.

Salado High School had 70.8 percent of its seniors take either the SAT or ACT college entrance tests. The school had 16.7 percent of its seniors in 1993 score above the criterion of 1,000 on the SAT and 24 on the ACT.

The Recognized supplemental acknowledgment standard was not applicable to Thomas Arnold Elementary because the school has no graduates and no students taking college entered Acceptable or higher. Thomas Arnold Elementary was rated Acceptable by the TEA.

Recognized campuses automatically qualify for a Texas Successful Schools excellence award and may apply for an additional TSSAS inclusion award. The TEA will inform school districts of TSSAS awards in September. The rating standards for recognized school districts are the following: at least 65 percent passing each subject area (all students and each student group) in the Spring 1994 TAAS, a dropout rate of 3.5 percent or less and an attendance rate of 94 percent for grades 1-12. The district had an attendance of 96.4 percent, a drop-out rate of 1 percent

Salado Art Fair nets $53K for Chamber of Commerce

by Tim Fleischer
Editor-in-Chief

The 28th Annual Salado Art Fair will net over $53,000, according to co-chairs Don Owens and Jean Davis.

Owens and Davis reported to the Salado Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors Aug. 8.

"We had 8,404 pay to attend the Art Fair," Owens said, adding that with volunteers, artists, children and others who attended the Fair without paying admission, total attendance was over 10,000. Gross ticket sales were $25,216.90 for the weekend.

Booth rentals totaled $33,112.00 from the artists. Advertising on the Art Fair fans grossed $910.00.

Advertising sold to artists in the Salado Village Voice Jewel in the Crown of Texas totaled $1,250.00. The Salado Village Voice gives the Chamber 8 pages at no cost for the Art Fair. The Chamber used the pages for a map of the grounds, a list of the Artists showing and to sell $25 ads to artists.

Total income for the Art Fair totals $60,488.90 to date with income from ice sales and concession fees outstanding.

The Chamber has received and paid most of the expenses for the Art Fair, including printing, advertising, trash services, portable toilets, postage, and buses. Total expenses this year will be approximately $6,500.

The Chamber will net approximately $53,000 from the Art Fair, which is more than budgeted and more than last year's Fair.

"I have been involved with a lot of civic projects over the years," Owens said, "but I have never seen one which goes so smoothly. This has truly been a Village effort and everyone involved should be commended for their good work."

Roy Hector, chair of the Pace Park committee, reported that he has discovered some problems with the facility, namely inadequate electrical service and inadequate toilets.

"Updating the electrical service at Pace Park should be high on the planning list for the future," Hector said.

Hector was given the authority from the Board to seek out a contract with an individual to maintain and manage the Park.

This would include mowing, trash pick-up, setting up tables at the pavilion, minor repairs and other items which the Chamber has had to purchase on a pay-as-you-go basis.

The Chamber voted to pay approximately $725 as its portion of a memorial plaque to be placed at the entrance of the Salado Civic Center.

The plaque listed the names of the board members of the Chamber and Old Salado School Foundation during the renovation of the old school.

The Chamber reached an understanding with the Pace Park trustees by which the Chamber would manage, operate and maintain the park. The Chamber is responsible for the day-to-day operation and usage of the park. The Chamber also receives money from rentals of the pavilion.

Chamber President Jap Barrett announced Charles

Allen as the chair for the 1995 Antique Show. Wylene William is chair of the Fine Arts Show to be held Feb. 11-12 1995 in the Salado Civic Center.

The Chase

rated PG-13

Starring Charlie Sheen, Kristy Swanson, Cary Elwes

Our rating: **

by Tim Fleischer
Editor-in-Chief

The Chase has no plot, few laughs and terrible acting. Other than that, it's a great movie.

Charlie Sheen stars as Jack, an innocent man who escapes from prison after being wrongly convicted of being the Red Nosed Bandit. He stops at a convenience store for gas and smokes. Two police come in for donuts and coffee, I guess, and unwittingly happen upon the escaped con.

Jack grabs a hostage, Natalie, who happens to be the daughter of a billionaire, to make his getaway.

From this lousy premise, we endure and hour and a half of Jack and Natalie falling in love, etc., while avoiding police cars, police helicopters, rogue road warriors, traffic jams, and television news crews.

The only redeeming value to this movie is its ridicule of the electronic news media in its over-coverage of events. The only laughs are from the coverage the news media gives the escape and the lengths to which reporters go for the story. With my brothers and sisters in the electronic news media, though, it is either laugh at them or cry at the fact that they have destroyed an honorable profession. End of mini-lecture.

But please take my word for it and miss this chase.

Art Fair success for community

The 1994 Salado Art Fair went down in the history books as a resounding success according to co-chairman Don Owens and Jean Davis. The loot from nearly 10,000 visitors was still being computed at press time but profits are expected to equal or exceed last year. The artists went home happy with their sales and all in all it was another great first weekend in August free from the vicissitudes of Texas weather.

Which brings us to the only cloud on the horizon. The funds derived from the annual art show carries the Chamber of Commerce through the year. There is a bit that comes from membership dues and a dab from the antique show but in the main - nearly 70 percent of the $90,000 current annual budget comes from the successful arts and crafts extravaganza.

What would happen if the weekend was rained out? We can imagine the officers of the chamber - hat in hand - beating down the doors of local banks seeking loans to tide the group over until funds were available next year. Grants to the library, scholarships, youth activities, civic center, street lights, fire department, Pace park, merchants committee activities, and

Off the Record

by Ken Clapp

the list goes on and on; all these and more would be halted or curtailed.

That is why - at this point in time, chamber officials are casting about for fund raising ideas that would back-up the big money raising art fair.

A Spring indoor art fair, expanded antique show activity, auto rally and other events are on the table.

Reserve funds that always gave the chamber a cushion have been donated to two major civic projects over the years with only one coming on line - the Main Street Civic Center.

It is imperative that the chamber keep all their eggs out of one basket, so to speak. Depending almost entirely on one massive fund raising event that relies on good weather is going to bankrupt the chamber one of these days.

Either the chamber is going to have to reduce the wide scope of support of everything they do in town or create a larger supply of money to pass around to soften the ever expanding cry for funds.

If there is a down side to not being incorporated it would have to be that the chamber has had to become the city provider without the tax base necessary for such an effort. By being the only village wide elected entity - the chamber gets most of the complaints and many of the dollar requests. Also because it is a highly visible agency that is super active and has some bucks in the bank.

Rumor Untrue

After some in-depth investigation we have come to the conclusion that there is absolutely no truth to the rumor circulating through town that the increased number of pigeons, that are apparently the cause of our creek pollution, were imported to the village on purpose! Only a curmudgeon of the highest order would start such a tale, although the end result has been the disappearance of the non-commercial, out-of-town creek people that bother us with destructive habits. Guess we could just keep the off-limits signs in place even after the rains flush and clean things up - or does that sound like just another irascible obfuscator of the human comedy we call life in the village?

Marilyn Fleischer, Managing Editor

Ken Clapp, Political Commentary

Dear Editor:

This paper has published or will publish an announcement of a public meeting in Salado on August 16. The Golden Cheeked Warbler Habitat Protection Plan will be discussed.

Some property owners are angry and confused about this, as there has been an amazing amount of wrong information circulated. Anyone who is concerned about this will have an opportunity at this meeting to hear a very reputable National Wildlife Federation executive, Russell Hyer, discuss the issue, and he will answer questions.

Many people are baffled as to why we should protect wild animals and plants, and perceive this protection as a waste of time, energy and money. Humans are often dependent on other species for well-being. Nature weaves an intricate web of animals (including humans) and plants; connected and interdependent.

However, it is possible that the warbler is not essential to human well-being. The bird may be only an indicator, the tip of the iceberg. In very simple terms, when the warbler's environment is compromised, so may our environment be damaged.

On Aug. 27, at the Belton Expo Center, a political rally will be open to the public. Several candidates will speak, including at least one who has openly criticized the protection plan.

Voters should hear both points of view. Arguments are likely to be extreme so that the astute observer will realize that saving the bird per se is NOT the issue. The issue is the environment for humans. In fact, a set of regulations designed to protect the warbler may be the best way to protect us all from poorly placed rock quarries, refineries, and power plants, as well as from bad water, foul air, dust and noise. We should consider the issue in that context and vote accordingly.

Eagles start 2-a-days, picked to win district

Salado Eagles football players started two-a-day workouts last week in preparation for the 1994 season, which starts Sept. 2 at home against Riesel.

The Salado Eagles return 14 lettermen from the 9-2 1993 District Championship team, which lost to Riesel the first game and Mason the last game.

Six will return to the starting offense. They are these:

Jason Hosch, 5'6", 185 lbs., senior, All District tailback.

Jereme Hosch, 5'6", 195 lbs., senior, All District fullback.

Jerry Soto, 6'2", 270 lbs., Senior, All-District tackle.

Brian Hill, 5'9", 185 lbs., senior, All District guard.

Jerome Peoples, 5'7", 180 lbs, junior wing back.

Marshall Adams, 5'10", 220 lbs., senior center.

Other expected to start on the offense are these:

Shane Johnston, 6', 165 lbs., senior, quarterback.

William Culp, 5'8", 145 lbs., junior, wide receiver.

Shaun Reichert, 5'10", 180 lbs., junior, tight end.

Gabe Soto, 6'0", 240 lbs., sophomore, tackle.

David Dunlap, 6'0", 180 lbs., junior, guard.

Head Coach Dan Wasik said he expects to see Salado have a more balanced attack this year, rather than relying so much on the running game.

"We have a big, strong line again this year," Wasik said, noting that the average weight on the offensive line is close to 220 lbs.

The Eagles will continue to run a 5-2 defense. Salado lost an All-State linebacker (Richard Berumen) and All-District linebacker (Chris Duzich) to graduation.

Michael Sierra, first string All State Nose Guard, will return for his final season as an Eagle. Sierra has beefed up to 240 lbs. at 5'9".

Also returning to the defensive line-up are these:

Jereme Hosch, All-District cornerback moved to linebacker position.

Jason Hosch, All-District cornerback.

Brian Hill, tackle;

Shawn Easley, 5'7", 160 lbs., junior, cornerback.

Jimmy Deaton, 5'8", 160 lbs., senior, defensive end.

Jesse Finger will return after missing 10 games last year to a leg injury. Finger was named All District defensive tackle as a freshman and sophomore year. He weighs 235 lbs. and is 6'0".

Others who may start for the defense are these:

Jerry Ratliff, 5'9", 220, senior, defensive end.

Rusty Wasik, 5'9", 195 lbs., sophomore, line-backer.

David Berumen, 5'8", 175 lbs. sophomore, safety.

Joshua Goodnight, 6'0", 200 lbs., sophomore, safety.

"There is still a great deal of competition for starting positions on both the defense and offense," Wasik said. "The line-ups today may change before Sept. 2, depending on effort and who is hitting and playing hard."

Artist of the Month

The Salado Village Artists have named the Artist of the Month. Lavonia Reeves, an oil painter who has been creating mostly still life paintings for 18 years. A number of her paintings are on display in Peoples National Bank Salado and First State Bank Salado.

Lavonia was born in Comanche County but moved to Bell County 60 years ago. She worked as an insurance consultant at Scott & White Hospital for 20 years before retiring in 1977. She studied art under Alice Mitchell, Laura Reinowski at the CAC and Marjorie Habday. She is a member of the Salado Village Artist and has been a member of Bell Fine Arts. In addition to painting, Lavonia enjoys traveling, sewing and gardening.

The Salado Village Artists promote and encourage a diversity in art, from stitching, sculpting, oil, watercolor and acrylic painting. Several workshops are planned each year. The group has recently completed renovating the old ag building on the grounds of the Salado Civic Center to be an Art Center for Salado.

The first meeting of the group was held in the new quarters on Aug. 2. The renovation project was undertaken with considerable community assistance.

While a formal open house is planned for later, all members of the community who have generously helped are invited to stop by to view the new quarters. All Villagers and visitors to Salado are invited to view Lavonia's art that is displayed in the Salado banks through the month of August.

Ribbon-cutting for Totally Haire and Tanning was held Aug. 4. Tammy Haire is owner/stylist of the establishment and Karen McKee is stylist. Totally Haire is located on the west access road of I-35, 947-0700, next to S&W Chevron.

TNRCC tries to reach agreement with Big Chief over clean-up of site

by Cathy Rashin
TNRCC

In the last week of July, attorneys for the TNRCC Petroleum Storage Tank Division met with attorneys for the Responsible Party for contaminated water from the former gasoline station site on the west side, of I-35 Big Chief Distributors. The purpose for the meeting was to reach financial agreement as to who would take certain actions to clean up the contaminated water and to define and remove the underground plume of petroleum product.

An agreement was reached. Now it must be signed. Then it must go to a TNRCC Commissioner. A design for cleanup had to be put on hold until an agreement was reached; now after approval by the Commissioner, it can be continued.

Now State Lead (that is, Cathy Rashin) can get the system set up (after design is completed). A pump must be set up. A 600 foot pipeline to carry the treated water, to discharge into Rock Creek (north of the Texaco site) must be placed. TexDot has to be involved as this line must be placed along the highway.

This has been done: Contaminated water and samples from the small bore pipes around the site have been removed. State Lead will dispose of the remaining contaminated soil when action can be resumed.

Big Chief Distributors is responsible for an assessment of the problem. They have hired a geologist, Dan Ayre as a consultant. Wells will be drilled to locate the plume of contamination. A "receptor survey" will be done, to determine all the risks (of contamination). They will monitor the wells they drill. Actual work may begin in November.

Lean beef can stay a part of low-cholesterol diet

When a cholesterol-lowering diet is prescribed, lean beef can stay on the menu. Researchers at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston have determined that eating lean beef in a cholesterol-lowering diet produces reductions in levels of total blood cholesterol and low density lipoprotein, the "bad" cholesterol, similar to those achieved by eating chicken.

"The keys to keeping beef in a heart-healthy, low-fat diet are the amount of fat in the meat and the portion size," said the study's principal investigator, Lynne Scott, director of the DeBaakey Heart Center's Diet Modification Clinic at Baylor and The Methodist Hospital.

The study was funded by the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

Watch our for food poisoning

Hectic food preparation can increase the chances for food poisoning, especially among young children.

Children are more vulnerable because their intestinal tracts and immune systems are not fully developed, said Dr. Kathleen Motil of the USDA's Children's Nutrition Research Center at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston, and they may have less resistance to the bacteria that cause food borne illnesses.

Symptoms of food poisoning include stomach cramps, nausea, diarrhea, vomiting and, in some cases, fever. Symptoms appear from 2-36 hours after eating and last several days.

When children become ill, parents should make sure they get plenty to drink to prevent dehydration.

"Oral rehydrating solutions, available in pharmacies, are better for toddler and pre-schoolers because they contain appropriate concentrations of salts (electrolytes) that maintain their body fluids," Motil said.

A glass of wine can help

When steak is on the menu, a glass of wine may make dinner healthier for those concerned about cholesterol levels.

Moderate amounts of alcohol with a high-fat meal can increase the level of high-density lipoprotein, "good" cholesterol, without increasing the level of low-density lipoprotein, "bad" cholesterol, according to researchers at the DeBaakey Heart Center of Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

The alcohol boosts an enzyme that increases the body's efficiency in metabolizing fat, said Dr. Henry J. Pownall, and the extra amount of enzyme means more HDL is made than LDL.

Coffeehouse Players ready Love Letters

The Coffeehouse Players, a newly formed theatre group based in Georgetown has set the cast for its first production, Love Letters. Rehearsals are underway for A.R. Gurney's unusual performance piece and the show will open Aug. 11 at the Cianfrani Coffee Company at 715 Main St. in Georgetown.

Currently The Players range in age from early twenties to over sixty, with a wide variety of theatre experiences. Such inclusion is a primary goal of co-founders Xenia Wolff and K.F. Hoke-Witherspoon.

Love Letters spans a life time of correspondence between a woman and a man who grew up together, but go their separate ways. Though physically apart, over the years they become deeply caring and much needed friends.

Director Nick Sweet points out that this bitter-sweet comedy is unique because, in the authors own words, the piece "needs no theater, not lengthy rehearsal, no special set, no memorization of lines and no commitment from its two actors beyond the night of the performance."

Show dates include Thursday-Saturday nights with Sunday matinees, Aug. 11-28. Evening shows 7:30 p.m.; Matinees 2:30 p.m.

For more details call 512-244-3697 after 7:30 p.m or 512-869-0844 Mon.-Fri.

Salado Legends Aug. 12-13

The final performances of Salado Legends for 1994 will be Aug. 12-13 at Goodnight Amphitheater on Royal St.

Dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m. followed by the performance at 8 p.m.

Salado Legends weaves the legends of the Tonkawa Indians, the dreams of Spanish explorers, and the hopes of the McDougals from Salado's Scottish settlement into a panoramic tale.

Jackie Mills is the author of Salado Legends. Mike Doggett directs

"Salado Legends." Original music and words were written by Saladoans Greg Berry, Wayne Garner, Richard Paul Thomas, Theron Palmer and Jackie Mills and by M.L. Bolton of Belton, Buster Cearley and Rick Ford. Choreographer for "Salado Legends" is Melinda Danford.

Dinner Reservations are required. Call 947-9205 for more information. Tickets for the dinner are $5 each. Tickets for the dinner and play are $15.00 each.

Tickets are available at Fletcher's Books & Antiques, Peoples National Bank, First State Bank.

Mill Creek to host 2 person tournament for members

Mill Creek Golf & Country Club will host a member/member Two Person Golf Tournament Sept. 9-11.

The entry fee of $150 per team includes 1) contribution to cash prize fund 2) Calcutta social Friday evening which includes a Mexican Buffet supper for each player and their spouse 3) cash awards and BBQ supper for each player and their spouse Sunday evening. The schedule of events is:

Sept. 9- 6:30 p.m. Calcutta party and Mexican Buffet at main club for players and spouses. Happy hour drinks. Additional guests are welcome at $10 per person (inclusive).

Sept. 10- 8:30 a.m. tee times begins. Format is single best ball with full handicap. Although there are no formally scheduled activities Sat. evening., the dining room will offer a special 12 oz. prime rib dinner at $12.95, plus tax and service charge. Denny Shaw will be on the piano.

Sept. 11 - 10:30 a.m. tee times begin. Format is single best ball with full handicap; however, each player' ball must be used at least four times. 5:30 p.m. BBQ Supper at the main club, happy hour drink prices. Additional guests are welcome at $10 per person (inclusive).

The number of flights will be based on the number of entries. Flights will be determined by total team handicap. Ladies teams and couples teams are encouraged to join in the fun. Since the ladies will be playing from the red tees with full handicaps, there would be some great scores in these flights. As in the past, all prizes will be paid in cash.

Championship Aug. 27-28 for men

On the weekend of Aug. 27-28, Mill Creek will hold its Annual Men's Club Championship Tournament. The format will be flighted according to their handicaps preceding the start of the tournament. Also, there will be a Senior's Flight (over 55) this year.

Entry fee is $15 and includes hors d'oeuvres following the completion of Sunday's play. Deadline for the entries is Aug. 21. Sign up at the Pro Shop.

trance exams. "The school board, teachers and community have worked long and hard," said Supt. Steven Ervin. "It's about time that they received their just recognition."

"Salado I.S.D. is blessed with wonderful groups of students to teach and a community that supports the school in every way possible," Ervin said. "Salado Parents and Teachers adopted a goal four years ago of achieving Exemplary status for the district, putting Salado I.S.D. among the top 1 percent of schools in the state. This is a big step in that direction," Ervin said.

"Being among the top 4 percent of schools in the state is pretty good in itself," he added. According to the TEA, only 52 school districts in Texas achieved Recognized status. Only five districts in the state achieved Exemplary status.

Zip! Pow! Zing! Open house is the thing! August 15 6:30- 8 p.m. at Salado High School and Thomas Arnold Elementary.
