Summer will bring Reavis medical clinic, pharmacy to Salado

A medical clinic and pharmacy are scheduled to open in Salado in early summer, it was announced today by Nancy Reavis, CEO of Reavis Health Systems.

"Renovation is underway of office space in Salado Plaza, 100 Mill Creek Drive to house the Salado Medical Clinic and Village Pharmacy," Reavis said.

When completed in early June, the clinic will offer the services of a family practice physician and a family nurse practitioner according to Reavis.

"Availability of a nurse practitioner represents a growing trend in the country today," Mrs. Reavis said. "The family nurse practitioners is a master's prepared registered nurse who works as a skilled medical associate with the physician."

The Village Pharmacy, also to be located in Salado Plaza, will provide medical equipment and supplies in addition to filling prescriptions, according to Mrs. Reavis.

"When we opened Reavis HomeCARE offices in Salado in January we identified the need for additional health services here," she said. "And we are pleased to provide the medical services for the community."

Reavis HomeCARE, which is also housed in Salado Plaza, was the first local health care service to open in Salado.

Nancy Reavis, CEO of Reavis Health Systems, announces plans to open a medical clinic and pharmacy in Salado Plaza.

Reavis Health Systems has provided home health care services for northwest central Texas since 1984. Offices are also located in Georgetown, Cedar Park, Marble Falls and Lago Vista.

For further information call Reavis Health Systems at (512) 930-5877 or 947-0844.

Trampas Wilson

Wilson to play in College All-Star Game Apr. 8

Trampas Wilson has been named to the National Collegiate Senior All-Star Blue Team.

Pro-combines for the players (NFL-CFL Arena League and World League) will be held on April 7 and the National Collegiate Senior All Star Game will be played on April 8 at Pennington Field in Arlington. Game time is 7 p.m.

Wilson is a three year varsity letterman (92-94) at Tarleton State University where he holds the record for field goals in a single game (5) and field goals in a season (12). He ranked third in the nation in scoring for kickers, led TSU in scoring with 58 points and was named to the All-American Team in 1993.

Easter Egg Hunt Apr. 8 at Salado Civic Center

The Annual Salado Easter Egg Hunt sponsored by the Old Salado School Foundation will begin 2 p.m. April 8 at the Salado Civic Center. Children through age 11 are invited to attend.

Games and contests are planned and all children are invited to decorate an egg at home and bring their egg to the Easter Egg Hunt for entry in the "Best Decorated Egg" contest.

IGA Village Foods, M&M Mars Company and Nestle Company will furnish the eggs and candy for the hunt.

Face painting artist from Tablerock Festival and the Salado Village Artist will arrange for "Eggs on Your Face" and other face paintings.

If individuals or business organizations wish to donate prizes please contact

Melanie Kirchmeier at Century 21 Bill Bartlett 947-5050.

Salado Lions Club members will direct traffic and parking at the Civic Center to keep anxious Easter Egg Hunters from getting in the way of the Easter Bunny.

Library announces 2nd annual golf tournament

The Salado Public Library announces its second annual golf tournament benefit to be played at Mill Creek Country Club Golf Course May 22 with a shotgun start at 8:30 a.m.

The format is a four-person best-ball scramble with teams selected by luck of the draw based on handicap, except the first place team from last year's tournament must defend the trophy title.

Defending champions are Bill Piper, John McQueen, David Harvell and Virginia McCracken, this great team won with a score of 64! Will it stand? The entry fee of $50 includes green fees and carts for players, and must accompany your registration.

There will be awards for 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place teams and closest to the hole on number 2 and 16. A light punch and refreshments will be served at the 19th hole immediately following the last putt.

Please register for this fun day and support an essential service for the community of Salado. Registration forms may be obtained from the Salado Public Library or the Golf Pro Shop. All proceeds from the tournament go directly to the library. For more information call Roy Hector at 947-9939, or Pete Jennings at 947-9080. Mail completed registration form along with your check for $50 to the Salado Public Library, P.O. Box 706, Salado, TX 76571 or drop it off at the Pro Shop or the Library. Complete one form for each player.

Easter sunrise service set 7 a.m. Apr. 16 in Pace Park

Easter Sunrise Service is planned for Easter morning at 7 a.m., April 16, at the Pace Park Pavilion.

The Salado Women's Chorale will be singing with special music by Katherine Wende. Plan now to attend this very special service.

The Shawshank Redemption

rated R

starring Tim Robbins, Morgan Freeman

Our rating: *****

by Tim Fleischer
Editor-in-Chief

The Shawshank Redemption is, in my opinion, the best film of the year. But you couldn't tell that from last week's Oscars (from now on to be renamed the Gumpers).

Regardless of what the Academy thinks, I think The Shawshank Redemption is better than Forrest Gump. Further, I think Morgan Freeman deserved the Oscar for Best Actor much more than Tom Hanks.

The Shawshank Redemption is based on Stephen King's novella in Different Seasons, (the same collection of short novels which brought us Stand By Me). The novella is an example of King's best writing and its adaptation is the best done of a work by King.

The Shawshank Redemption is a compelling story more about freedom than about imprisonment, even though it is set in the Shawshank Prison in the early part of the century.

Robbins stars as Andy Dufresne, who is wrongly convicted of murdering his wife and her lover and is sent to Shawshank for life.

The Shawshank Redemption centers on Andy's struggle to keep his soul and freedom within the walls. It also centers on the friendship he has with Red, a lifer who has resigned himself to prison life.

The Shawshank Redemption is a great story; unfortunately, the Academy was so dumbfounded by Gump that it missed it.

Free at last, free at last ... thank God almighty the highway construction is done at last!!

"All entrances to Salado now open"

I-35 Signs

If the news noted above - indicating that the multi-month project on our portion of the interstate highway is at last over - does not bring sighs of relief and a rejuvenated feeling of well being to merchants, visitors and the rest of us - then we have been spending too much time worrying about matters of lesser import - i.e. post-school bond election finger-pointing; incorporation of Main Street; Pace Park problems or the multifarious activities of our elected officials down in Austin or up on the Potomac!

Speaking of our interstate highway (I-35) that now runs (or gallops) from Mexico to Canada: Have you ever seen or heard so much truck traffic in your born days? If we ever live long enough to see Mexico straighten out her peso and other problems and things really get rolling there will be nothing but bumper to bumper trucks plus vast and costly construction and renovation projects on I-35 'til the end of time, not to mention having exits closed 90 percent of each road-working year!

Off the Record
by Ken Clapp

Locally, we may wish we had all listened to our old jug-eared friend Ross Perot when the NAFTA debate was raging!

Mean-time Salado merchants: Keep those cash registers humming as visitors begin their return now that the access and egress routes are finally open to our little village.

Term Limits

Item number TEN in the Republican "Contract with America" is the matter of term limits for Members of Congress. It came down to an all important "up or down" vote late last week and failed to gain the 290 votes needed to place the measure on the constitutional amendment ballot.

Final tally had 189 GOPers (out of 230) plus 38 Demos (out of 204) casting aye votes. Don't know what happened to the lone independent - he may have just voted "present". At any rate there was defection within both parties and the hot-button item failed - despite overwhelming public support (some polls showed as high as 80% of the American public wanted term limits).

Despite what some experts have written - this does not mean that the "contract" has been broken. No - the framers of the pledge-of-ten only compacted to bring the matters to the floor of the House for vote! This was done. Promise kept!

Two types of House Member reactions are worth reporting as lawmakers set the stage for their return home to face voter reaction on this issue so dear to the hearts of many citizens plus the ever-present watchdog groups, chief of which is the Perot gang.

First came a publicly presented reason for his "no" vote that was honest and to the point from Rep. Henry Hyde (R-Illinois) who stated without stammering that he did not think it was his duty to tell voters in other Congressional districts how long they should keep their representative. He further felt it was not a matter the founding fathers favored or they would have included it in the Constitution in the first place.

He concluded his public statement by telling his home district constituency

A.C. Greene featured part of homes tour, antique show in Salado April 22-23

The A.C. Greene will be a featured part of the April 22-23 Bluebonnet Antique Show and Homes Tour.

On a bluff in Mill Creek sits a contemporary expression of Texas architecture by Darwin Britt, one of Salado's premiere home designers.

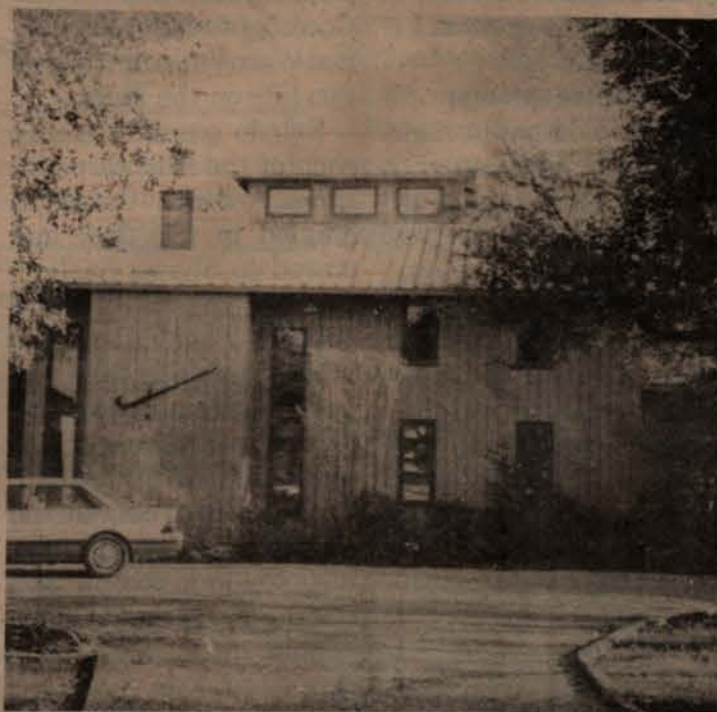

Owned by A.C. Greene, a noted Texas historian and author, and his wife Judy, this house is a fine example of harmony between a home and its surroundings.

Modern in style and softened through the use of old lumber from barns and warehouses, the home is rustic, yet sophisticated.

The use of the old materials and memorabilia seems fitting to someone so vitally interested in preserving the best of Texas.

Many of the art pieces in the home were created by A.C.'s two sons and Judy's daughter, who are all professional artists.

Other homes on the tour include the Johnston

The A.C. Greene home in Mill Creek.

Home, the old Van Bibber home (owned by Gene Street, the Gattenbein home and the Stockton Cottage.

Tickets to the Homes Tour, which will be open 10 a.m.-6 p.m. April 22 and 1-5 p.m. April 23 will be $7 in advance and $8 at the door. To purchase tickets early, call 947-5718.

The Antique Show will feature over 30 quality antique dealers from around the state. The Antique Show on the grounds of Salado schools, will be open 10 a.m.-6 p.m. April 22 and 10 a.m.-5 p.m. April 23. Tickets will be $3.

Robert Schenkkan to address Institute for Humanities

Robert Schenkkan, winner of the 1992 Pulitzer Prize for Drama for The Kentucky Cycle, is the third speaker in the Institute for the Humanities' spring series on Literature and Truth. The Kentucky Cycle gives a dramatic view of 200 years of family life in Appalachia and is significant in that it is the first time in the seventy-three year history of the Pulitzer that this most prestigious award was given to a play which had not first appeared in New York. In 1993 it appeared at the John F. Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C., and opened on Broadway in November of that year.

Robert Schenkkan's seminar, "Taking Kentucky Cycle to Broadway" is April 8 at the Allen Hall in Salado from 10:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. His Sunday Lecture, "Writing the Other: A Report from the Front Lines of the Cultural Wars" is April 9 at 4:00 p.m. at Mill Creek dining room in Salado.

Robert Schenkkan was born in Chapel Hill, North Carolina and raised in Austin. After graduating with highest honors at the University of Texas at Austin, he received his M.F.A. in theater arts from Cornell University. He has worked as an actor and writer on Broadway, Off-Broadway and in regional theaters.

Schenkkan is author of five full length plays and his works have won numerous awards including the PEN Centre West 1992 Best Drama Award and the Beverly Hills Theatre Guild/Julie Harris Playwriting Award. Schenkkan has also written a feature film, Tall Tales (Disney), and three original films for television: Crazy Horse (Turner Network), Majic (ABC), and Binh An (Showtime). He is currently adapting The Kentucky Cycle as a six hour, three part miniseries for HBO.

Schenkkan's seminar and lecture is funded in part by The RGK Foundation, Austin; The Trull Foundation, Palacios; The Potts and Sibley Foundation, Midland; The Harris Foundation, Chicago; and the Texas Committee for the Humanities. If you would like to attend the seminar or lecture, contact the Institute for the Humanities' office for information on space availability; 947-5729.

Eagles split games before district

The Salado Eagle baseball team was embarrassed by the Belton J.V. on March 28. The final score was 11-1.

The Eagle pitchers issued 10 walks on the night and Belton came up with several clutch hits to account for most of the runs.

It was very uncharacteristic of the strong Salado pitching staff and was their worst effort of the year. Jereme Hosch pitched three innings. He allowed four hits, walked 3 batters and hit one. Josh Goodnight pitched one and 2/3 innings. He gave up three hits and issued six walks. Chris Frazier pitched the last one and a third innings.

One thing that made the loss tough for the Eagles was that every Belton run was scored with two outs in the innings.

Goodnight and Jason Hosch both collected two hits each for Salado.

On March 31, the Eagle pitching returned to form. Goodnight and Frazier limited Waco Vanguard to only two hits on the night.

Salado scored a run in each of the first three innings. Brent Cabaniss singled in the first and scored on Shawn Easley's single. In the second Jerome Peoples opened with a walk. He stole second base. He moved to third on William Culp's sacrifice and scored on a passed ball. Jereme Hosch scored the Eagles third run by walking, stealing second and coming home on Frazier's double.

The final run of the night was scored by Jereme

Hosch in the fifth inning. He reached first on an error, moved to second on another error, and scored on Easley's single to left.

Easley led the way offensively for Salado. He was 3 for 3 at the plate with two rbi's. Jerome Peoples was 2 for 2 with 3 stolen bases. Josh Goodnight picked up his second win of the year on the mound for the Eagles. He allowed two hits in six innings. While striking out twelve and walking only one., Frazier pitched the seventh inning.

The J.V. team also split their games during the week. On March 24, Waco Reicher handed the J.V. Eagles their first loss of the year by the score of 8-5. Roger Buckley and Chad Kiphart each collected two hits on the night.

The J.V. defeated Waco Vanguard on March 31, 6-1. Eric Lopez and Chris McGregor each had two hits for Salado. David Kirk pitched the complete game. He gave up 3 hits in six innings and struck out eight.

UIL Academic teams take 1st places in district meet

The Salado High School academic team competed in the District UIL Contest March 29-30 and qualified 13 for the regional competition later in April.

The mathematics team continued its domination with the Number Sense, Mathematics, Calculator and Computer Applications teams all win first place. The Current Events team placed second.

In Number Sense, Vinny Michna took first place, followed by Brent Cabaniss in second and Kyle Anderson in third place. Alternate Kurt Salisbury would have been fifth had his score counted.

In mathematics, Cabaniss placed first,

Michna second and Anderson, third. Alternate Bill Boyd would have been fourth had his score counted.

Cabaniss also won the Calculator competition.

Boyd placed first and Ricky Engleking second in Current Events.

In Computer Applications, Marissa Lindley was first and Kim Claburn, second.

Kristin Cawthon placed third in Ready Writing.

Engleking, Justin Hodge, Kristin Cawthon and Molly Garner competed in speech events.

Engleking took first place persuasive speaking, followed by Hodge in third place.

Engleking was also third in prose interpretation.

Cabaniss and Engleking both qualified for regional in three different events.

Lady Eagles split double-header with Jarrell

The Lady Eagles softball team played Jarrell in a double header March 30. In the first game, Salado lost, 7-6. The team was led by Annie Ray, who hit a triple, and Becky Gidley, who hit a double. Amy Jackson hit two singles.

In the second game, Salado played great defense to hold off a last-inning run by Jarrell to win 12-11. Marie Grigsby led the team with three doubles and one triple. She batted in the winning two runs.

The girls play again April 6 against Holland here.

The Chisholm Trail Chapter of American Business Women's Association (ABWA) held its Annual Business Associate Event at Young Williams Manor March 28 with 24 members and guests were present.

The meeting began at 6:30 p.m., at which time each chapter member introduced their business associate or guests. Following a Mexican Buffet, those present enjoyed an entertaining program with moving, patriotic message by LTC Borah Van Dormolen, Commander of the Special Troops Battalion at Fort Hood. Her speech was entitled "Dare to be Square" and challenged each person to take a stand for morals and values in an age that seems to be losing its focus on these things.

The Chisholm Trail Chapter Women of the Year, Laura McQueary, was honored for her service to the chapter. Laura is active not only in ABWA, but also in the Salado Chamber of Commerce, Old

Dance classes start Apr. 17 at Wendland

Classes in foxtrot will begin April 17, in Wendland Hall and continue for four consecutive Mondays. On the fifth Monday there will be a "graduation" dance to celebrate completion of the course.

Under the direction of Drs. Nil and Harold Whittington, the classes are designed for both beginners and post-beginners and will be conducted from 6:30 to 8 p.m.

The foxtrot series follows the rumba classes now reaching conclusion and will be followed by a course in the waltz beginning on May 22.

Class size is limited to 20 couples. Singles may enroll if there is an equal number of male and female students.

To register for the foxtrot class, call the CAC at 773-9926.

Members of the CAC as well as the Cotillion and Stardust dance clubs, the Drs. Whittington are donating their time.

They have had extensive dance training with studios in Waco and Austin but note that "we are not professional teachers—we just love to dance and want to share that enthusiasm."

Class time is structured to allow special attention to beginners, plenty of practice opportunity, and individual attention.

Once in Blue Moon set for 7 p.m. Apr. 8

Magnolia
on the square

Experience a gallery of choices

947-0323 Salado Square, Main St. Salado

Once In A Blue Moon will play 7 p.m., April 8 at Tablerock Amphitheater. Tickets will be $3 to enjoy this performance offered by the Salado 4th graders who have written their own script.

Tablerock's "Young Authors" program is one of Tablerock Festival of Salado projects designed to boost self-esteem, empower the child and build team work.

Tami Brown Lopez of UMHB helped the students with casting and instruction of the student directors.

The 49 fourth graders also share the duties of parking, filming, scrap-books, concession stands, lighting, sound, music and all related aspects of production.

Proceeds from this production will be placed in the bank to be used for the senior class trip in the year 2003.

by J.D. FOX

I was a Second Lieutenant in the Texas National Guard, and it looked like we might be going to war just any day. When you are in the military and there is war on, then no one is safe for sure, but there are some places that are perceived to be safer than others. For some, the National Guard was considered to be a safe haven.

The Guard had recruited me from a surveying class in college in 1947 when the 49th Armored Division was being organized. There wasn't a draft, but I had stayed in, because of some lingering feeling from my teens that I was needed and it my patriotic duty. That was my perception. It may not have been reality, but it was my perception, and there is a time in every man's life when perception is more important than reality.

Our nation was involved in a "Police Action" in Korea and there were young men dying once more on foreign shores. It had been less than ten years since the beginning of World War II, but it seemed like a lifetime. That was perception also.

With the reinstatement of the draft, the ranks of Texas National Guard had swollen with many who hoped that they would not have to go to war. There were a few that joined our unit that were not only exempt from the draft, but some were not even medically fit for active duty with the military. The exceptions were known, but not noted. Patriots or slackers, they were all in together, and it became my duty to make sure that all in our unit towed the attendance mark.

Many who joined the guard felt like it was not like the real military, and they didn't really have to abide by the rules. They came to meetings on a regular basis in the beginning, but after a while they attended only if it was convenient. Soon enough, they might just quit coming all together. The legislature foresaw that possibility, and with the natural passage of time, laws were passed to provide punishment for those that were negligent in their duty to the Guard.

It became my job to enforce the rules, i.e., try to persuade the transgressors to do right, and failing in that, call the Sheriff and have them thrown in the county jail. I was a bad guy in those days.

In the course of my enforcement duties, every Wednesday night I got a list from the First Sergeant right after roll-call, showing those that were absent without leave (AWOL). Of course, they might be late, but being late was not an excuse, especially for those that found themselves chronically in that condition. Some of those fellows had a real sense of humor, and some had no sense at all. I soon learned who had mothers and grandmothers that were always ill. I soon learned all those that had bosses that kept the worker late on "Drill Night," and I soon learned who was always lying about their condition. Have you ever noticed that when a person makes an excuse it always involves his mother or grandmother, never his father or grandfather?

"Pvt. Smith, this is Lieutenant Fox. I see you didn't make it to drill tonight. What's the matter?"

"Uh, oh Lieutenant, I got sick this afternoon on the job, and the boss sent me home. He said to go to bed and stay there until in the morning. You know, so I'd be fit to work tomorrow. So, that's what I did, see, and I'm in bed right now."

"Well, that's too bad Pvt. Smith. Do you need anything?"

"Oh, no sir, not a thing. I just need to get my rest, I guess. Gosh, I don't know what could be wrong with me."

"Have you seen a Doctor, Pvt. Smith?"

"Uh, no sir, see the boss said a lot of the guys were coming down with it, and all I needed to do was get plenty of rest. Yes sir, that's just what he said, and that's just what I did."

"Okey, Pvt. Smith, I can tell you are pretty bad off, so I'm going to send Sgt. Dennis and a couple of his friends over to visit you, and maybe cheer you up."

"Oh, no, Lieutenant, you don't need to do that, not Sgt. Dennis!"

"Yeah, the more I think of it, the more I like the idea. Sgt. Dennis will be over in about fifteen minutes to cheer you up."

"Oh, no, not Sgt. Dennis. I tell you what Lieutenant, I'm feeling a lot better just since we started talking on the phone. You know, I've been resting all afternoon, and I think I'm feeling good enough to just come on down for Drill. I could be there in less than fifteen minutes. Would that be okey?"

"Yes, Pvt. Smith, that will be okey this time, but when you get here, be sure and report to me first thing so I can call off Sgt. Dennis, that is, so I can notify the 'Greeting Team'."

The 'Greeting Team' was a name that I thought up for the two or three Sergeants that went out to check on the absentees. No, they didn't mishandle anyone physically, but sometimes they did mess with the minds of the chronic absentees.

One night during the early spring, I was checking on a man that was well past the age for the draft. I looked at his record to see if he had done this before, and couldn't believe my eyes. He was old, really old. He was almost thirty years old when WW II started, and he had been in the Guard before then. His '201 file' read like an adventure story, and suddenly, I felt sorry for even reading about him. He had medals, and several of them. Who was I to be giving this man more problems? He had plenty before I was a teenager.

The record showed that he had no phone, and his address was on the north side of Wichita Falls. I could send the "Greeting Team" out to that address, or I could just wait to see what happened. As in all military units there is always a 'chain of authority', and I was one of the bottom links in that chain. If I didn't take some action, then I would have to explain to someone that would then have to explain to someone else until the report reached the top link in the chain. That's the Army way.

Before I could put the thing off, the Pvt. finally arrived. He was almost an hour late, and the meeting only lasted two hours.

"Pvt. Jones, you are very late. Can you explain yourself?"

Pvt. Jones was past forty years old and the lines in his face could have made him easily mistaken for fifty. He was rather short, no more than five-six. He had a stocky frame, but it was bent with years of misery that I would never know. His countenance was tired, but not humble. There was something about him that let me know this man had retained his pride after many tribulations.

"Yes, sir, I can. I usually ride with Pvt. Dulling, but he didn't call me or anything so I had to walk. It just took me this long to get here."

"Pvt. Jones, do you live at the address in your '201 file'?"

"Yes, sir, I do."

"Well, Pvt., that's got to be over ten miles. Did you walk the whole way?"

"Yes, sir, I did."

"But Pvt., why didn't you call me? I could have sent someone out in a Jeep to pick you up. You didn't have to walk all that way."

"Well, I didn't have a phone, and besides walking don't hurt so much anymore, not like in '42."

"In '42, did you do a lot of walking in '42?"

"Yes, sir, I walked for several days in front of a Jap bayonet. I was in the 'Bataan Death March'."

I lost my breath for a moment.

"You were in the 'Bataan Death March'?"

"Yes, sir, I was, and I made it through the whole thing. I was lucky I guess."

"Lucky?"

"Yes, sir, I was a little short guy, and those Jap guards didn't pay me much attention. Seemed like they sure didn't like the tall guys. The tall guys took most of the rough stuff. Yeah, I was lucky."

The man in front of me was confessing to having survived WW II in a Japanese prison camp under conditions unimaginable by most civilized people. He had suffered atrocity, starvation, injustice, near death, and watched his best friends die. He had recently rejoined the Texas National Guard, "so he could get some retirement." He didn't know that he couldn't get retirement, because he was already on a government disability. He had no home, no family, and could only find work as a day laborer. This was the same man that told me he was 'lucky'.

THERE IS A TIME IN EVERY MAN'S LIFE WHEN PERCEPTION IS MORE IMPORTANT THAN REALITY.

Garner marries Barker March 18

Charity Marie Garner of Salado became the bride of Larnce Virgil Barker of Killeen, in a double-ring ceremony March 18, at the Salado United Methodists Church and officiated by Rev. Joe Bentley.

The bride is the daughter of Ret. Capt. and Mrs. Wayne Garner of Salado. The groom is the son of Manuel Larnce Barker of Taylor and the late Bertha Barker.

Wedding music was provided by Robert Hill, brother-in-law of the bride.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted by the father, the bride wore a beaded pearl and sequined white satin bridal gown with long sleeves with a puff at the shoulders. Her cathedral-length train was hand beaded with pearls and lace appliques. She wore a English style bridal hat, accented with pearls and a lace back veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses, accented with teal green roses.

Tera Jackson of Salado, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were April Hill and Mollie Garner, both of Salado and sisters of the bride.

Joseph Dubec of Taylor, served as best man. Groomsmen were David Carrillo of Nolanville, and Jimmie Barker, brother of the groom from Taylor. Usher was Donnie Van Jackson of Salado.

A reception, dinner, and dance followed at the Harker Heights Community Center. The Grand March was led by the brides grandfather, Tommie H. Lostak of Danbury and her Aunt, Lorenda L. Baldwin of Alvin. Music was played by Sterling Country from Taylor.

After a wedding trip to Las Vegas, the couple will make their home in Nolanville.

The bride, a graduate of the University of Mary Hardin-Baylor and the groom of Sam Houston State University, and are both employed at the Ellison High 9th Grade Center in Killeen.

Village Artists host oil workshop Apr. 19-21

Salado Village Artists will hold an oil workshop taught by Victor Armstrong from Austin. This workshop will be held on April 19-21 at the Salado Art Center.

Victor Armstrong is a popular artist throughout the State and brings Texas landscapes to a new beauty in his paintings. An Austin native, he first studied art at Southwest Texas State University at San Marcos. After working as a commercial artist for a printing company and as a silk screen processor, he owned and operated a commercial and electrical sign company. Then, in 1970 he became a full time studio artist.

Armstrong has received many honors for his work, including being selected to show in an "Art of the West" exhibit in cooperation with the University of Texas. He has also displayed his work in Denver, Colorado and at the Texas State Fair. Earlier this year the Smith Gallery at Scott and White Hospital presented his work.

This workshop is open to both the experienced oil painter who desires to learn new techniques, and to the beginning oil painter. Artists who would like to learn to paint Texas landscapes, and western scenes would enjoy the workshop.

The cost for three days of oil painting instruction will be $120. You may make your reservation by sending a deposit of $50 to Salado Village Artists, Box 363, Salado, Tx. 76571 (Make checks payable to Salado Village Artists).

After receiving your deposit, you will receive a list of supplies and additional details about the workshop. Anyone needing more information may call 947-8322 or 947-0344.

Tips Help Secure Home, Prevent Crime

(NAPS)—Within the next 10 years, four out of 10 U.S. homes will be burglarized, according to FBI reports and statistics.

Police studies prove that most burglaries are committed not by professionals, but by juveniles who spot an open window, a faulty lock or some other "target of opportunity." In fact, more than 40 percent of home burglaries are what police call "no force" entries.

One of the most economical ways to increase security, according to the Schlage Lock Company, is to add a deadbolt to your exterior doors. Single cylinder deadbolts use a key on the outside and a thumb turn on the inside. Double cylinder deadbolts use a key to lock and unlock the door from both the inside and outside. The use of a single deadbolt is advised in most situations. The single deadbolt allows for quick and unhindered exits in case of fire or emergency.

Double cylinder deadbolts may be useful on doors that are near windows and are not used as emergency exits. If you purchase double cylinder deadbolts, leave a key in the lock when you are home, and remove it only when no one is home. That way, you can easily exit in an emergency, but retain full protection when the home is empty.

Make sure your deadbolt has at least a one-inch throw and a reinforced strike plate with three-inch screws. The throw is the total length of the bolt when it is projected out from the door in the locked position. A one-inch bolt helps prevent a burglar from using a car jack or crowbar to pry the door from the door jamb to disengage the bolt from the door frame.

The reinforced strike plate attaches to the door frame. It should be made of heavy-gauge steel and have at least three-inch screws for reinforcement. The reinforced strike plate's main purpose is to strengthen your door frame. When a door is violated, in most cases it is due to the door frame being fractured.

Some other security tips:

- Replace doors and/or door frames that are in poor condition. Doors should be made of solid hardwood or steel and have peepholes.
- Install a separate keyed lock to your garage door. Also secure the door leading from the garage to the house and/or the garden with a keyed entry lock and deadbolt.
- Secure glass doors by installing vertical bolts, or placing a metal rod or piece of wood in the track to help prevent intruders from sliding the door open.
- If you've just moved into a house or apartment, it's a good idea to have the exterior locks rekeyed or replaced.
- Don't hide spare keys in mailboxes, planters or under doormats. Those are the first places a burglar will look.
- Lock all doors and windows.

The Georgetown Heritage Society is pleased to announce the first annual Belfries and Bluebonnets Tour which will be held 10-4 p.m. a.m. Apr. 8 and 1-4 p.m. April 9.

This will be a rare opportunity to take a look inside nine of Georgetown's historic Churches while enjoying the best of the Texas Hill Country's wildflowers including Bluebonnets, Indian Paintbrush, Red Poppies, and more. In addition to the Historic Church Tour, the Williamson County art guild will host an art exhibit and sale. Internationally-acclaimed artist Dalhart Windberg and others will be showing at the exhibit.

This tour boasts 9 churches whose architectural example range from the Victorian Gothic first United Methodist Church circa 1882, to the Classic-Revival Main Street Baptist Church circa 1926, to the simple stone vernacular First Presbyterian Church circa 1872, which is the oldest in Georgetown, to the congregation-built AME Zion Sanctuary Church built in 1904.

Grace Heritage Center

Tickets are available at the Georgetown History and Visitor Center for $5 in advance and for groups and $6 at the door.

that he voted against the measure honestly and forthrightly and if that did not please them - then they could exercise the best term limitation of all - vote him out of office! Well done - Henry!

The second response came from our own Congressman Chet Edwards (D-Waco) who was not as forthcoming as his Illinois colleague.

Edwards first noted that he had voted for the so-called Dingell amendment that would have set up a 12 year term limit retroactively - a plan that would have wiped out the Speaker and all but a handful of brand new lawmakers. Edwards knew this would never pass but he wanted to get a positive term limit vote in hand and on the record when he later faced the home folks (a majority of which favor term limits). Then old Chet blasted Gingrich for pushing a term limit that would "grandfather-in" current members and allow them a new 12 year lease on their office space after the measure passed enough States to be added to the Constitution.

Fact of the matter is that our solon was opposed to term limits from "day-one".

Nothing wrong with that.

What is wrong is to not stand up and admit where you are coming from. Vote your conscience and take whatever lumps result from such a stance.

Those who support Edwards would have thought more of his vote if it had been honest and not an attempt to hide behind a known-failure-type-log such as retroactive term limits! Not so well done - Chet!

Overheard

The following should come under the title of "Quote Of The Week". It was overheard some few days ago during a meeting of the Salado Chapter of the World Famous "Do-No-Gooders" Association that meets with some regularity at the Stagecoach Coffee Shop. (You no doubt remember these worthies from previous encounters in this column)

Conservative DNG member Woodie (hole-in-one plug) Grisham was telling one and all about the nefariousness of the Shiites whose evil doings throughout the world are well known. He ended up his epilogue by noting to one and all that "Even worse than a plain every-day Shiite is a 'Liberal Shiite'!"

Take that you bleeding heart, left leaning, liberal Democrats!

The things you learn from these DNG coffee sessions is almost beyond belief and certainly worth the price of admission!

That's -30-
