The Salado ISD Board of Trustees set the tax rate during a regular session Sept. 16 at the Salado Civic Center, following a Sept. 9 public hearing.

The board was expected to keep the tax rate at $1.2897.

The meeting was held after press time, so results will be published in the Sept. 24 issue.

In other business the board considered adoption of a resolution from Harker Heights on Christmas in October promises to be a wonderland of Christmas decorating ideas. (photo by Marilyn Fleischer)

"I'll Be Home for Christmas" Oct. 11-12 at Civic Center

Christmas in October will feature beautiful trees and tables on display at the Salado Civic Center Oct. 10-11, sharing unique and wonderful ideas for Christmas decorating.

The theme for this year's Christmas in October is "I'll be Home for Christmas." It will be open 9 a.m.-4 p.m. Oct. 11-12 with admission at the door of $5 for adults and $2 for children ages 2-11.

Over 35 displays will be shown in the Civic Center, while the Bake Shop and Grandma's Pantry will be in the Historical Society log cabins on the grounds of the Civic Center.

Christmas ornaments will be on sale in the Historical Society room in the civic center. Potpourri and baked goods from ladies throughout the village will also be on sale during Christmas in October.

"The Salado Historical Society so graciously offered the cabins this year, which should offer a quaint and cozy feeling," said LaFon Ditzler, chairman of the Christmas in October event.

There will be carolers and Santa Claus in the Gazebo 11 a.m.-1 p.m. Oct. 11.

Everyone is asked to please bake for the annual event. Proceeds from Christmas in October will go to projects throughout the village, including the Salado Volunteer Fire Department and scholarships for Salado High Students.

Baked Goods can be delivered to the Civic Center Oct. 9. Containers for the baked goods may be picked up from the Civic Center next week.

For more information about Christmas in October, please call LaFon Ditzler at 947-5792 or the Salado Chamber of Commerce at 947-5040.

SHS seniors nominated for Wendy's High School Heismans

Elizabeth Whiteley and David Kirk, seniors at Salado High School, have been nominated for the fourth annual Wendy's High School Heisman Award.

The national awards program, created by Wendy's, the National Association of Secondary School Principals and the Downtown Athletic Club in New York City, recognizes academic achievement, community service and athletic accomplishments of high school senior men and women.

Whiteley has lettered in basketball for the past three years. She has also lettered in track and cross country. Kirk has lettered in football, basketball and baseball for the past two years.

Principals at the nation's estimated 23,000 high schools were invited to nominate one male and one female student-citizen-athlete for the awards competition. Entries will be evaluated by the scholastic review service CTB/McGraw-Hill to narrow the field to 1,020 state finalists and soon to 102 state award winners, which includes the District of Columbia.

David Kirk

Elizabeth Whiteley

A distinguished panel of judges, including past Heisman Memorial Trophy recipients as well as education, business and community leaders, will review the 102 state award winners and name 12 national finalists, one male and one female representing six geographic regions, who will each be invited to New York City to participate in the Heisman Memorial Trophy weekend festivities at the Downtown Athletic Club. One male and one female will then be selected as the national winners and honored during the Heisman Memorial Trophy national telecast Dec. 13 on ESPN.

Bell Museum curator will address Salado Historical Society Sept. 18

Stephanie Turnham, curator of Bell County Museum, will be the guest speaker at a general meeting of the Salado Historical Society at 7 p.m. Sept. 18 in the Civic Center.

Open to all society members and the community at large, the program will include an update on the organization's previous projects and a report on its goals.

Society President Dale Gore and members of the board invite the public to attend the event for information and entertainment.

PRESSING QUESTIONS

The best part of this job is hearing what Texans from all over the state have to say. The hard part is getting the views of all 18 million of us! While in the Senate I have kept my election pledge not to make use of the franking privilege (free postage for members of Congress) to conduct surveys or for political purposes. But I'm still vitally interested in what's on your mind.

So, to help my staff and me obtain feedback from constituents, I hope you will take time to clip our annual survey, fill it out and mail it in with your opinions and observations. A big thanks to your local newspaper for publishing this questionnaire.

The three earlier surveys showed that Texans have excellent insights to offer regarding America's most pressing issues. I look forward to reading your responses.

SURVEY QUESTIONS

 Taxes:
Do you believe that tax reductions should come in the form of an across-the-board reduction in the income tax rate? Or do you support more targeted tax incentives, for example, to encourage savings for college or retirement?
If Congress could throw out our current tax system and start fresh, would you favor a consumption tax instead of an income tax?
Or a flat income tax of 20 percent for everyone?
Any other reform?
Congress' efforts to be fiscally responsible may result in a budget surplus in the near future. If a surplus accrues, do you think Congress should use it to reduce the national debt, or to provide Americans with additional tax relief?

 Campaign finance:
Do you support reforming federal campaign finance laws by imposing stricter limits on contributions by individuals? By unions? By corporations? By non-citizen permanent residents?
Do you believe there should be limits on the amount of their own money individuals or organizations can spend to support or oppose candidates or specific political issues? (There are no such restrictions currently.)
Why?
Some proposals for campaign finance reform include public (government) financing of political campaigns. Do you favor such a plan?
Are there other specific reforms you support?

 Education:
Do you support or oppose the establishment of national, standardized achievement tests for all public school students?

 Trade:
Since NAFTA was implemented in 1993, there has been a dramatic increase in jobs and export growth in Texas and the U.S. What are your views on expanding NAFTA to include Chile and the rest of Latin America?

 Environment:
Do you support Congressional efforts to roll back excessive regulation by federal agencies?
Most endangered species live on private property. Do you believe that private property owners have a role to play in the effort to protect species?

 Transportation:
The new budget bill that just passed includes more than $2 billion for Amtrak on the condition that the railway makes meaningful reforms in the way it operates. Do you believe it serves our national interest to maintain rail passenger service?

 Foreign policy:
Do you favor further expansion of the NATO alliance?
Do you believe the United States should spend more money, less money or about the same amount it does now to support NATO?
Do you believe our European allies are paying their fair share of the bill?

 Energy:
Congress is considering deregulation of the electricity industry. Some analysts suggest that deregulation could cut electricity prices by 25 percent for the average family. There would, however, be transitional and operational costs borne by each electricity consumer. Do you believe electricity deregulation will be beneficial to you?

 Arts funding:
Do you favor federal arts funding?
Would it make a difference if most of the support were to go directly to the states allowing state arts commissions to decide which institutions or groups were to receive grants?

 Comments:

Please send your responses to me at 284 Russell Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C., 20510. I look forward to hearing from you.

New tax code is enrichment plan for tax accountants, attorneys

If you have been feeling all warm and fuzzy over the recently enacted tax-cutting, budget-balancing law, you might want to consider what this new hunk of legislation did to our crazy mixed-up tax code. The code that forces taxpayers to cough up $157 billion a year just to have the incomprehensible forms filled out by wily shamans who alone comprehend the "ins and outs" of the mysterious income tax reporting system.

According to the Heritage Foundation, the new tax bill, created 185 additional sections to the tax code and changed another 824 parts of the present Byzantine plan, in the hopeless task of "helping" you pay your so called "fair share" on or before April 15, each year.

Despite the hoopla surrounding the signing of the balanced budget-tax reform law (much like a circus side show complete with three card monte and a shell game), the Research Institute

Off the Record
by Ken Clapp

of America reported needing 3,132 pages of special copy just to explain the new tax rules and regulations!

This attorney-lobbyist-accountant enrichment plan is an excellent reason to enact a flat tax and get rid of the current code before we all end up as permanent residents of the local funny farm.

SKULLDUGGERY AT THE TOP

Not to be outflanked by the revenue writers, we now discover that our congressional leaders, including GOP Senate Majority leader Trent Lott and House Speaker "Eye of the Newt" Gingrich, slipped a tax break for the tobacco industry into the tax reform measure - to the tune of $50 billion, designed to help these weed selling no-gooders pay their mounting legal bills - at taxpayer expense.

Question comes to mind - who knew about this flim-flammery and when did they know it?

Naturally Gingrich and Lott knew the minute this underhanded skullduggery was placed in the bill without debate or admitted sponsor. They quickly paddled over to the White House and begged Clinton to sign the bill rather than return it for correction, since it had many goodies that both parties and the public were demanding (they said) - especially the impact the tax reform had on the balanced budget legerdemain. And timing was important to hold the votes they claimed!

These two symbols of conservative high-handedness (Lott-Newt) promised the President they would repeal the tobacco insult immediately after a respectful period of jubilee especially prepared for a befuddled citizenry. Not to mention the vote-caching by members of Congress.

The Senate did follow through and deep-sixed the provision in a 95-3 vote last Wednesday. The House is expected to follow suit this week. Complete with appropriate public tub-thumping by all hands except the aging anachronistic embarrassment from North Carolina - Jessie Helms, who naturally voted against the plan to strip the special tax break from his death-dealing tobacco buddies.

So much for this week's version of "Our Government In Action"!

Eagles give Moody blues, 42-6

by Tim Fleischer
Editor-in-Chief

"Sometimes you eat the bear. Sometimes the bear eats you."

American Indian proverb

The Salado Eagles ate the Bear, the Cat and any other woodland mammal on the way to a 42-6 trouncing of the Moody Bearcats Sept. 12 at Eagle Field.

The convincing win brings Joe Mullins record to 2-0 at Salado, as they Eagles get ready to travel to Liberty Hill 8 p.m. Sept. 19.

While Moody jumped out to an early lead, on a 32-yard run by quarterback Josh Norman, the night belonged to Salado. The point-after try failed, giving Moody its only lead 6-0.

Running back Taylor Hutton scored three times in the second quarter on runs of 3 yards, 2 yards and 17 yards.

The first TD run capped a 62-yard, seven play drive with 11:11 left in the half.

The second TD run finished a 32-yard drive of 12 plays with 4:07 left in the half.

Mitch Lindley recovered a Moody fumble to set up Salado's final scoring drive of the half.

Runs by John McLaughlin totaled 27 of the 52 yards of the drive. Hutton dashed 17 yards for the end zone with 1:19 left in the half to give Salado a 21-6 lead going to the lockers.

Defense and special teams scored all three touchdowns in the second half.

With 2:39 remaining the third quarter, Joe Barron returned a line drive punt 41 yards for a touchdown.

Just a minute later, Drew Oldham picked off a Moody pass and scampered 27 yards into the endzone with 1:20 left in the third quarter.

Oldham wasn't done yet, as he stole another Moody pass and ran 35 yards for a touchdown on the first play of the fourth quarter.

Josh Lee booted each of the six PATs through the uprights for the night.

The Eagle defense held Moody to just 161 yards total offense while the offense gained 235 yards.

Mitch Lindley, Juan Jimenez and Derek Ward each picked up a Moody fumble.

Tanya Hurst is 3rd performer for Salado Sept. Sunday Nights

Tanya Hurst is the next performer slated for the September Sunday Nights Series at Tablerock Amphitheater on Royal St. 7 p.m. Sept. 21.

This series is provided at no charge as a service to the community by the First Baptist Church of Salado. Each Sunday performance offers inspirational entertainment suited for the entire family.

The September Sunday Nights Series is underwritten by the First Baptist Church of Salado. Due to the natural settings of the amphitheater, those attending should bring a lawn chair or blanket. In the event of rain, the performance will be held in the Thomas Arnold Elementary Cafeteria.

Cliche that it is, nevertheless it's fair to say that Tanya Hurst "has it all." Starting with a background in most forms of dance, mixing in a lifelong love of and talent for singing, adding performing experiences at Opryland U.S.A. and Branson, Missouri, and topping everything with a strong Christian faith, Tanya is poised for a future that promises to be brightly decorated with success.

At 24, Tanya Hurst has only just begun her career as a "positive country" artist. According to Richard Huggins, Tyler, TX, who is helping Tanya develop her career, positive country encompasses themes of upright values that can be appreciated by persons of many backgrounds as well as of religious faith. It has led to a unique form of concert presentation, a combination of secular country music and inspirational Christian music. Huggins states, "I feel that this concert format works well for the church of this age, where new forms and methods are being used to reach an increasingly secular culture." He adds, "I think it's a great mix-entertainment and inspiration in the same package."

This "package" has been wrapped in many different papers through the years. It began with dance and music training throughout her childhood and high school years, involvement in school productions and church presentations, and continued through college singing groups to her acceptance into two nationally-recruited summer performing ensembles in Nashville, TN, and Branson, MO. At Nashville's Opryland U.S.A. theme park she appeared in "Country Music Showcase," with the particular responsibility of imitating most of country music's leading female country singers. She danced and sang her way through a fast-moving show that traced popular country music over the decades. And though invited back to perform for another season at the southern theme park, she chose instead to accept an offer to appear in a new music review in Branson, MO, a review that centered itself around contemporary Christian music. Again, all that she had prepared herself for came of use during the many dance and song numbers.

Along the way, though, Tanya kept her sights trained on finishing her education, recently graduating from the University of Texas at Tyler with a degree in elementary education. Now a teacher of preschool children in Tyler, TX, Tanya also helps lead a worship leadership team at Tyler's Pollard United Methodist Church. She and her husband, Brandon, have one son.

THE ILLUSTRATED BIBLE

There Are No Boundaries for God

"O Lord our God, other lords besides thee have ruled over us, but thy name alone we acknowledge. They are dead, they will not live ... But thou has enlarged all the borders of the land."

— Isaiah 26: 13-15

There are no limitations on God, no restraints on the scope of His wisdom in guiding the destinies of all living things on the earth He has created. Why then do so many persons feel that they can adapt God to their own conveniences and needs? Why do so many feel that they can turn to Him in time of travail and pay Him no heed when they are not troubled? God is an omnipresent influence, not to be boundaried by the whims or wants of the self-centered. He cannot be put aside except for Sunday services or when called upon by those craving favors. Many lords, secular and temporal, have come and gone but the one true God endures eternally.

Zelma Taylor named Village Artist of Month

The Salado Village Artists have named Zelma W. Taylor artist of the month for the months of September and October.

Her work will be on display in the lobbies of the First State Bank and Compass Bank.

"Winnowing Grain," a Taos Indian village scene with a woman using the wind to clean the chaff from grain, may be seen at First State Bank.

At Compass Bank will be seen "Friends" -- a collie dog watching over baby chicks; "On A Windy Day" -- two children flying kites; "Snooty" -- a smiling pig; "Primroses" -- a field of primroses and bluebonnets; "I Like You Too" -- a boy with his pig. "Cotton" -- a still life of an open boll of cotton.

The painting bug hit Zelma years ago when she still had small children underfoot. Her first studio was the kitchen where her husband and children became skilled in dodging paint and easel on the way to the refrigerator.

In 1979, Zelma and her husband moved to Salado. Being a charter member of the Robstown Art Colony and a member of the South Texas Traditional Art Association of Corpus Christi, provided her with the knowledge and enthusiasm to encourage Andy Phair in organizing the Salado Village Artists.

Zelma paints in oil using the old masters' technique of "under painting." The finished product achieves a smooth finish due to the three applications of paint required. The late Elizabeth Simpson of Corpus Christi was Zelma's instructor in this technique for several years.

She also has a Certificate of Recognition from Famous Artists Schools, has studied with Guy Morrow of Corpus Christi and Robert Garden of Fort Worth, and has attended workshops with Dalhart Windberg of Austin and Frederick Taubes of New York City.

Eagles to face Panthers Sept. 19

by John Eubanks

The Salado Eagles varsity football team will attempt to go 3-0 for the first time in years when they play at Liberty Hill Sept. 19.

Game time is 8 p.m.

The Eagles are coming off a 42-6 victory over Moody Sept. 12. Their 2-0 record is the best start by a Salado team that first-year Head Coach Joe Mullins can remember in his eight years at the school.

Salado will be facing a Liberty Hill team that beat Mason 31-21 last Friday after opening the season with a loss to Troy.

"We've got our work cut out for us this week," Mullins said.

Mullins is impressed with Liberty Hill's offense, especially the pass-catch combination of senior quarterback Jake Basey and receiver Lance Jordan.

"They throw the ball 35 to 40 times and run a lot of shotgun (where the quarterback lines up several yards behind the center instead of directly behind him)," Mullins said. "They look good to me on film. We'll make some adjustments to put some pressure on the quarterback. He's accurate."

Defensively, Liberty Hill runs a 4-3, just like Salado's opening opponent, Riesel. Salado won that game, 27-26.

Liberty Hill spoiled Salado's Homecoming last year with a 19-6 win. The Eagles committed six turnovers and were penalized eight times for 95 yards.

Sprint, to put in writing something to the effect that if we petition for another vote and succeed in adding four new communities to our local system - we can do so at no additional cost!

The word came from Linda Green, Sprint's Customer Relations Manager. It was clear and to the point. If Salado decides to petition to add four new phone exchanges to the current expanded calling area and should the subsequent vote be positive - then the village will expand their non-toll call area to four new towns without increasing their current fee of $3.50 per residential and $7.00 per business line.

A copy of the memo is on file at the Chamber of Commerce headquarters as well as the Village Voice office. The petitions are also at those sites.

MAIN STREET'S FUTURE

Have you been wondering about Main Street's look now that the highway folks have almost completed the bridge and sidewalk project?

The added hot-mixed asphalt walkways on both sides of Main have unfortunately succeeded in highlighting the deteriorating roadway, leaving an unfinished look to the project.

The antique walking bridge is in place and looking great (despite the grousing from a few "anti" everything grumps); old timey street lights erected and the landscaping, to include ground cover and new trees around the bridge, is underway.

Jim Cowan, Bell County Highway Engineer, told this column that resurfacing Main Street, although needed badly, is not part of the original bridge-walkway plan but that as soon as funding is available, the surface work on Main St. will begin.

Asked when this might take place, it was apparent that we are going to have to compete with other road projects in the area for the necessary dollars - but knowing Engineer Cowan, Salado will get its fair share in the very near future.

We owe Cowan a deep debt of thanks for all that he has single-handedly done for the village over the years up to and including the current bridge project. And he's not finished yet!

So - patience becomes the operative word as the current project winds down and we wait for new Main Street paving bucks to appear.

Nice word - patience. Easy to say but hard to love.

That's -30.

Dear Friends,

Please vote yes for the school bond proposal on Sept. 27. We desperately need a new school, and we needed it yesterday. Many people have moved here from urban and suburban districts and are all too familiar with overcrowded schools where the quality of education goes down with too many pupils, not enough teachers, not enough lockers and books, cafeterias packed and noisy, no common areas for students to gather peacefully, no practice fields or gyms for all the athletic teams, and numerous other conditions that create a breeding ground for problems too numerous to mention here.

If you have any doubts about the urgent needs of the district, please take a tour of the elementary school to see for yourself. Be sure to go during the lunch hour when the cafeteria is forced to feed students faster than a McDonald's! While you're there, ask to see the nurse's office, which is now located in a space no larger than a closet, with water not easily accessible! The professional staff of Salado ISD should not be asked to do their jobs in such deplorable conditions.

As a whole, Salado's students are great young people, as our schools are relatively safe and free from many problems routinely found in the larger districts; which help us all have a much nicer, safer place to live. We need to maintain this quality by facing the fact that growth to this community can't be stopped, but rather must be dealt with and managed, and most especially in our schools.

It was very encouraging to attend a meeting with civic leaders on Sept. 2, most of whom not only voiced their support for the bond, but also volunteered their time and gave money to help it pass. Most of these people don't have children in the schools, yet they realize that quality schools benefit everybody in a community. As a parent of a school-aged child, I want to personally thank these citizens as well as the hard-working school board for caring so much.

This is an appeal for support to parents of school-aged children and older citizens alike who are committed to providing for future generations the very best education possible, as our parents did for us. This vote is very, very important; please say yes to the children of Salado.

Sincerely,
Deborah Aldridge

Eagles to face Panthers Sept. 19

by John Eubanks

The Salado Eagles varsity football team will attempt to go 3-0 for the first time in years when they play at Liberty Hill Sept. 19.

Game time is 8 p.m.

The Eagles are coming off a 42-6 victory over Moody Sept. 12. Their 2-0 record is the best start by a Salado team that first-year Head Coach Joe Mullins can remember in his eight years at the school.

Salado will be facing a Liberty Hill team that beat Mason 31-21 last Friday after opening the season with a loss to Troy.

"We've got our work cut out for us this week," Mullins said.

Mullins is impressed with Liberty Hill's offense, especially the pass-catch combination of senior quarterback Jake Basey and receiver Lance Jordan.

"They throw the ball 35 to 40 times and run a lot of shotgun (where the quarterback lines up several yards behind the center instead of directly behind him)," Mullins said. "They look good to me on film. We'll make some adjustments to put some pressure on the quarterback. He's accurate."

Defensively, Liberty Hill runs a 4-3, just like Salado's opening opponent, Riesel. Salado won that game, 27-26.

Liberty Hill spoiled Salado's Homecoming last year with a 19-6 win. The Eagles committed six turnovers and were penalized eight times for 95 yards.

Sprint, to put in writing something to the effect that if we petition for another vote and succeed in adding four new communities to our local system - we can do so at no additional cost!

The word came from Linda Green, Sprint's Customer Relations Manager. It was clear and to the point. If Salado decides to petition to add four new phone exchanges to the current expanded calling area and should the subsequent vote be positive - then the village will expand their non-toll call area to four new towns without increasing their current fee of $3.50 per residential and $7.00 per business line.

A copy of the memo is on file at the Chamber of Commerce headquarters as well as the Village Voice office. The petitions are also at those sites.

MAIN STREET'S FUTURE

Have you been wondering about Main Street's look now that the highway folks have almost completed the bridge and sidewalk project?

The added hot-mixed asphalt walkways on both sides of Main have unfortunately succeeded in highlighting the deteriorating roadway, leaving an unfinished look to the project.

The antique walking bridge is in place and looking great (despite the grousing from a few "anti" everything grumps); old timey street lights erected and the landscaping, to include ground cover and new trees around the bridge, is underway.

Jim Cowan, Bell County Highway Engineer, told this column that resurfacing Main Street, although needed badly, is not part of the original bridge-walkway plan but that as soon as funding is available, the surface work on Main St. will begin.

Asked when this might take place, it was apparent that we are going to have to compete with other road projects in the area for the necessary dollars - but knowing Engineer Cowan, Salado will get its fair share in the very near future.

We owe Cowan a deep debt of thanks for all that he has single-handedly done for the village over the years up to and including the current bridge project. And he's not finished yet!

So - patience becomes the operative word as the current project winds down and we wait for new Main Street paving bucks to appear.

Nice word - patience. Easy to say but hard to love.

That's -30.

Lady Eagles break losing streak with Lampasas win

The Salado High volleyball team played four matches at the Florence Tournament Sept. 11-13, winning one to break a six-match losing streak.

The girls took a record of 2-9 into a Sept. 16 home match with Bartlett. Results were not available before this issue's press time.

The Lady Eagles opened the Florence Tournament Sept. 12 with a 15-11, 12-15, 15-6 loss to Florence.

"It was probably our best match we've played all season," coach John Black said. "The games went forever, three rotations each time, which is a lot. There was a lot of siding out and hitting. There were a lot of points that everyone had to work for."

It was the team's fifth straight loss.

"They just can't get over that hump," Black said. "That makes our fifth match we've gone to three games this year and haven't been able to close out."

That changed the next day, Sept. 13, when Salado won the first of three games, 14-16, 15-5, 15-11 to Lampasas. It was Salado's first three-game victory this season.

The Lady Eagles got a scare in game three when Lampasas cut into Salado's 14-8 lead. But the girls hung on for the win.

Sommer Wilson and Lori Matthews were Salado's top servers. Matthews was serving in game two when the Lady Eagles ran off eight straight points.

Black was hoping the momentum would carry over to a match against Granger, and it did for awhile.

Salado won the first game, 15-11, but lost the next two by identical 16-14 scores. The score in the second game was fairly even when Sarah Summers suffered an ankle injury.

The Lady Eagles hung tough without her, but lost to a Granger team that had beaten Salado in three games earlier this season.

Black said the entire team played well against Granger and singled out Katie Punchard for her serving.

Salado's third and final match of the day was a 15-8, 15-11 loss to Moody.

Black said the girls may have been drained after the previous two matches that went three games. The Lampasas match was Salado's sixth three-game match in a row.

"We're teetering on top of the mountain, but the rock just won't fall on our side," Black said.

Prior to the tournament, the Lady Eagles were coming off a 15-3, 11-15, 15-7 home loss Sept. 9 to Milano, a team that beat Salado 15-9, 15-6 in the Aug. 19 season opener on the road.

Black said the girls played much better in the rematch with Milano, but came out flat in the first (15-3) game. He said the effort was much better in the second game.

But in the third game, "The girls wanted to win so bad they tried to do everything perfect, and when they didn't, they got down."

The JV lost to Milano in three games. Black said the girls stopped attacking in the last two games and had some breakdowns in receiving serves.

The varsity and JV will compete in the Granger Tournament Sept. 20. The varsity will start at 8:30 a.m. against Chilton, and the JV will start at 10:30 a.m. against Bremond.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Central Telephone Company of Texas doing business as Sprint ("Sprint") has filed a Petition with the Public Utility Commission of Texas ("Commission") to establish a fee for the purpose of recovering lost revenues and increased costs associated with Expanded Local Calling Service (ELCS) petitions for several Sprint exchanges pursuant to the Commission's Substantive Rule 23.49(c)(12) passed as a consequence of S.B. 632, 73rd Legislature-Regular Session.

If approved, the monthly increase in charges to Sprint's local exchange customers will be $.34 per month, per customer line. This means that the current ELC surcharge rate will increase from $1.15 per month, per customer line to $1.49 per month, per customer line. Prior to final approval by the Commission, all Sprint local exchange customers subscribing to basic local service customers who are not already paying a $3.50 (Residential) or $7.00 (Business) ELCS charge will be billed the additional monthly amount beginning on an interim basis no sooner than the October 1, 1997, billing cycle. Sprint has requested this rate be implemented on an interim basis, subject to refund, until such time as the Commission has entered a final order on this matter.

The net annual effect on the revenues of Sprint will be $0.00 as the requested fee replaces lost revenues and reimburses Sprint for the increased direct cost of service associated with all of Sprint's ELCS implemented into service between April 2, 1996, and May 31, 1997. The total lost revenues and increased costs associated with ELCS for Sprint's ELCS implemented into service between April 2, 1996, and May 31, 1997, is $665,209.80.

The deadline for intervention in this matter is November 10, 1997. Persons who wish to intervene in or comment upon these proceedings should notify the Commission by November 10, 1997. All requests to intervene should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 1701 N. Congress Ave., P.O. Box 13326, Austin, Texas 78711-3326. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Office of Customer Protection at (888) 782-8477 (Toll Free) or (512) 936-7136 for text telephone, or by writing the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 1701 N. Congress Ave., P.O. Box 13326, Austin, Texas 78711-3326.

NOTIFICACIÓN PÚBLICA

La Central Telephone Company of Texas haciendo negocios bajo el nombre Sprint ("Sprint") ha presentado una Petición a la Comisión de Servicios Públicos de Texas ("Comisión") para establecer una tarifa con el propósito de recuperar ingresos perdidos y aumentar los costos asociados con las peticiones del Servicio Expandido de Llamadas Locales (ELCS) para varios intercambios de Sprint en conformidad a la Regla Substantiva de la Comisión 23.49 (c) (12) que pasó como consecuencia de S.B. 632 de la 73era Sesión Regular de la Legislatura.

Si es aprobado, los cargos mensuales para los clientes del intercambio local de Sprint aumentarán a $0.34 por mes, por cada línea de cliente. Esto significa que la tarifa ELC actual aumentará de $1.15 por mes, por cada línea de cliente a $1.49 por mes, por cada línea de cliente. Antes de la aprobación final por la Comisión, todos los clientes del intercambio local de Sprint suscritos al servicio básico local que aún no están pagando un cargo de $3.50 (Residencial) o $7.00 (Comercial) por ELCS, les será facturado la cantidad mensual adicional empezando en una base intermedia, no antes del ciclo de facturación del primero de octubre 1997. Sprint ha solicitado que esta tarifa se implemente en base intermedia, sujeta a reembolso, hasta el momento en que la Comisión haya emitido una orden final en este asunto.

El efecto neto anual en los ingresos de Sprint será de $0.00 ya que la tarifa solicitada reemplaza pérdidas de ingresos y reembolsa a Sprint por el aumento de costo directo de servicios asociados con todos los ELCS implementados en servicio entre el 2 de abril de 1996 y el 31 de mayo de 1997. El total de las pérdidas de ingresos y aumento de costos asociados con ELCS para los ELCS de Sprint implementados en servicio entre el 2 de abril de 1996 y el 31 de mayo de 1997 es de $665,209.80.

La fecha de vencimiento para la intervención en este asunto es el 10 de noviembre del 1997. Personas que deseen intervenir o comentar acerca de estos procedimientos deben de notificar a la Comisión a no más tardar del 10 de noviembre del 1997. Toda solicitud para intervenir debe ser enviada a la Public Utility Commission of Texas, 1701 N. Congress Ave., P.O. Box 13326, Austin, Texas 78711-3326. Se puede obtener información adicional llamando a la Oficina de Protección del Cliente de la Comisión de Servicios Públicos al (888) 782-8477 (sin cargos) o (512) 936-7136 para teléfonos de texto o escribiendo a la Public Utility Commission of Texas, 1701 N. Congress Ave., P.O. Box 13326, Austin, Texas 78711-3326.

Perils of producing outdoor dramas include bad smells, serenading frogs

by John Eubanks

Dr. Raymond Carver gave the Salado Lions Club some insight into the perils of producing historical dramas outdoors — everything from weather to smelly costumes to “crickets and frogs serenading” — and then entertained the Lions with songs from an historical play he wrote.

Afterward, Jean Tarbutton gave the Lions a brief overview of the $6.5 million school bond election Sept. 27.

Carver, who has a degree in playwrighting and dramatic literature from the Yale Drama School and holds a Ph.D. from Denver University, is the author of more than 20 full-length plays and over 100 songs.

He wrote “The Land and the River” in 1971 for the centennial of Fort Concho in San Angelo, staged on the banks of the Concho River.

“In the show which I wrote, the city water department provided enough pumps in the river to allow us to create a flood representing the big one which destroyed the town back in 1881, and it was scary,” Carver said. “All outdoor shows try to look larger than life or they don’t look as if they belong outdoors, right?”

Carver said outdoor shows such as “Texas” at Palo Duro Canyon, “Fandangle” at Albany and “Salado Legends” at Tablerock Theatre have a lot in common.

“They’re all the product of a lot of hard work and research and a desire to entertain and enlighten audiences,” he said. “They require teamwork and cooperation, and you have to have a director/production team that can control the great numbers of people involved. I’m talkin’ slave drivers. And these shows cost a lot of money. Even when they cut corners.”

Carver gave credit where it was due: to those who produce the plays, including “Salado Legends” producer Jackie Mills.

“Shows like ‘Salado Legends,’ which has played for five seasons, reflect credit on the people who make it happen,” he said, adding, “I’ve got to hand it to people like Jackie Mills who manage to hang in there year after year.”

Carver listed the problems common with outdoor shows, adding humor as he went.

“Audiences hate to be hot,” he said. “I overheard a guy in the audience say, ‘Margaret Ann, let’s don’t hold hands. It’s too hot.’”

And then there was the dead

fish smell along the Concho River, where the “The Land and the River” was staged.

“We had to bring the city commissioners down to the river to smell it before they’d authorize doing something about it,” he said.

“And speaking of smells, can you imagine what historical costumes smell like if they’re too expensive to dry clean or don’t get washed every night? Nobody wants to get down wind of actors in smelly costumes.”

Bugs are a major problem, too. “Not only do bugs crawl up and down your legs and all over your body parts and get in your hair, but they fly into your mouth -- while you're singing. Have you swallowed a prickly, fuzzy moth lately?"

Carver said "directors have to discipline actors to get them to hold still while fire ants and mosquito chew on 'em."

And then there's the noise from "planes overhead, trains, passersby, talkative audiences and crickets and frogs serenading."

Carver noted that stage spotlights aren't really meant to be used outdoors, "where the rain shorts 'em out, and bugs attack, get fried and die, and fall into the audience. And people say, 'Look at the size of this bug just fell on me. Oh my gosh, it's still alive!'"

Carver, a trustee for the Bell County Museum in Belton, followed up his appearance at the Lions Club with a Sept. 13 one-man show, "We Had A Grand Time, Didn't We, Kid?" at the Cultural Activities Center in Temple.

All proceeds went toward development of the museum's endowment and special projects of the Board of Trustees.

LIONS NOTES: The aforementioned Tarbutton told the Lions that he will be voting for the school bond proposal -- which involves the building of a new middle school -- because it's a good plan, "and, of course, there's a need."

The Lions were also told that for taxpayers over 65, their taxes are frozen, so if the bond election passes it will not increase their taxes at all. In fact, with the new homestead exemption, they will see their taxes drop.

In other Lions news, local artist Ronnie Wells will be the speaker at their next meeting, Sept. 24 at Mill Creek Country Club.

The Blush of a Country Morning by Dalhart Windberg.

Windberg Gallery to open in Salado

Internationally known artist Dalhart Windberg will be opening a Salado gallery at The Colony, located in the 200 block of North Main Street, on Sept. 20.

He brings with him a prominence recognized in America's leading art centers where his paintings are presented, such as Carmel, Sedona, Santa Fe, Aspen and San Antonio.

His ample portfolio includes landscapes, seascapes, traditional still lifes, European settings and country themes, which find their way into any number of homes and collections. He paints that which suits his fancy, journeys overseas to capture Grecian expression or to the American West to paint the Grand Tetons, or around his native state, Texas, to immortalize Texan favorites, the longhorns, windmills and wildflowers.

Reared in Goliad County in southeast Texas, he has been living and working most of his life in Central Texas. Dalhart and his wife of 42 years, Evelyn Faye, and their two sons, Michael and Richard, will be on hand at the Salado gallery at various times. A grand opening is planned for a later date.

Tickets now on sale for The Cemetery Club

Bell Co. Museum will open new exhibit on Civil War in Nov.

A new exhibit, Civil War and Reconstruction in Bell County, will open Nov. 8 at the Bell County Museum in Belton. The exhibit will explore national and state issues leading up to secession, soldiers who mustered out from the area, and the troubled post-war Reconstruction period.

"The Civil War period remains a popular subject in American history," said Jodi Wright-Gidley, museum curator. "Although time and space restraints make it impossible to cover the entire spectrum of Civil War history, we are narrowing the focus of the exhibit to local and regional involvement."

By 1860, the issues of states' rights, slavery, and economic division had created a bitter rift between the Northern and Southern United States. After South Carolina seceded from the Union, other southern states followed. Texas was divided on the issue.

Governor Sam Houston addressed county citizens at Belton on January 5, 1861, and made a plea for Texas to remain in the Union, hoping to avoid war. However, Bell County proved to be pro-Confederacy when 468 voted to secede and 198 opposed the move.

Out of a population of 4,000 persons in the county, 1,100 men mustered out and fought for the Confederacy; about one-third of those returned. In addition, approximately 300 Bell Countians joined the Union forces. Deserters from both sides were reported to have hidden among the cedar breaks in rock shelters of Northwestern Bell County.

Lawlessness was rampant in the area during the Civil War and Reconstruction period. The chaos began to subside in 1874 when 103 vigilantes stormed the county jail in Belton and murdered nine prisoners accused of horse theft and murder.

The exhibit will include artifacts, photographs, maps, and information. In order to augment the quality of the exhibit, the museum welcomes input from the public which may include information on Bell County soldiers and artifacts from the period which could be donated or lent to the museum. Photographs, weaponry, uniforms, diaries, letters, Confederate memorabilia and camp equipment are examples of items appropriate for the exhibit. The exhibit will close June 30, 1998.

The museum is open Tuesday through Saturday, 1-5 p.m. and is located at 201 North Main in Belton. Admission is free. For more information call 254-933-5243.

Historians to gather Sept. 18

The Salado Historical Society general membership meeting is scheduled 7 p.m. Sept. 18 in the Salado Civic Center. The evening of entertainment and information will present "Everything You Ever Wanted to Know about the Historical Society," with an update on previous project and a report on future goals. All members and prospective members are encouraged to attend this meeting.

If you are planning to exhibit a hog at any livestock show this year, you must call in to the County Extension Office by Sept. 22 to order your validation tags.

Order dates have changed for roasters and broilers for the Bell County Fair. Please make a note of these changes. Roaster orders are due Oct. 15 and broilers are Nov. 12. Again, this is for the Bell County Fair.

Broiler orders for the Houston and San Antonio Livestock shows are due to Pam or Chris by Oct. 10. No exceptions! No late orders will be accepted.

Don't forget, Sept. 29 at 6:30 p.m. Dr. Fred Thornberry will be at the County Extension Office to discuss poultry 4-H projects. These will include broilers, turkeys and the brand new roaster project.

The Bell County 4-H Food Show has been set for Oct. 4, at the Bell County Expo Center in the Special Events Room. Record forms will be due by Sept. 23. Forms may be picked up at the County Extension Office. We would like everyone to make a second dish (this is optional) and bring it Saturday night to the County 4-H Banquet.

Also this year there will be no heating facilities at the District 4-H Food Show, therefore we will not have any at the county food show. All dishes will need to be brought in an ice chest to keep it hot or cool.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, national origin or disability.

Did you know you can catch catfish when "fishing under the birds?"

by Keith Warren
Texas Angler

Let me begin by saying, if you haven't purchased your new fishing and/or hunting license by now, it's time to do so. Also, the new Texas Parks & Wildlife Outdoor Annuals are available at most tackle stores and/or places where hunting and fishing licenses are sold.

When the subject of fishing under the birds comes up, images of white bass, strippers or speckled trout usually come to mind. What would you say to catching catfish under the birds? Crazy? Weird? Well, I am here to tell you that catfish can be caught "under the birds," but not in the way you're probably thinking.

Cormorants are common residents on most reservoirs and rivers in the state. Eating literally tons of fish, these birds often have massive roots over the water in which they go to in the evenings. What goes in must come out, so the area under these roots is usually full of fish flavored cormorant dropping which is a natural chum for catfish.

On Lake Falcon, Toledo Bend and in parts of the Brazos River, catfish literally school under these cormorant roosts. Blue and channel cats in particular frequent these spots and can be caught there fairly easily.

One of the best methods is to fish a chunk of cut bait, shrimp or nightcrawler under a cork. These roots are often over shallow water, so fish accordingly. If it's big cats you want, you might try cut bait or live shad on the bottom. If you're fishing with cut bait, make sure that your bait is not too large. I like to fish with as small a chunk as I can get away with.

Fishing at night when the birds are actually roosting can be very good. At night, big flatheads often prowl the shallows, so it might not be a bad idea to chunk out a palm-sized bream or carp. To add to your success, fish with a Kahle hook. They have a much better hookset on catfish than standard shank types.

These techniques might sound a little strange or even nasty, but when it comes to catfish, men have been known to go to even farther lengths.

Keith Warren is the host of The Texas Angler TV Show, which broadcasts statewide. Check your local listings for showtimes. You can catch teh Texas Angler at P.O. Box 310601, New Braunfels, TX 78131, or visit us on-line at www.txang-hoa.com.

Battery Dance Company sets Temple date

The famed BATTERY DANCE COMPANY (BDC) of New York will present its widely acclaimed SONGS OF TAGORE with the theme, 'America Salutes India,' celebrating 50 years of India's independence, on September 27 at 7:00 PM at the Temple High School Auditorium.

Jonathan Hollander, Artistic Director and Choreographer, founded Battery Dance in 1976. Jonathan has choreographed over 50 works some of which have been presented at such venues as Lincoln Center, Kennedy Center, Smithsonian Institution and Dallas Museum of Art, as well as on the first national tour by an American dance company in Poland. He has been recognized worldwide for his creative depth and nobility. Guided by a vision and aesthetic noted for its eclecticism, elegance and humanity, his Company has drawn on a vocabulary which embraces both ballet and modern dance, the classical traditions of Indian dance, folk styles originating from Balkan and Slavic regions as well as American square dance. His works have also taken him to Poland, Finland and elsewhere in Europe.

BDC is the most highly visible American dance company in India, having toured the major cities in India several times since 1992, the most recent from February 27 to April 22, 1997. The 1997 tour presenting Songs of Tagore took BDC to most of the major cities in India and to Colombo and Kandy in Sri Lanka. Jonathan has served as a Fulbright Lecturer of Dance in India and has collaborated with several prestigious cultural institutions in India. In the United States, BDC presented Songs of Tagore in several cities including Washington DC at the SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION, in New York and Houston at the Asia Society, in Dallas at the Dallas Museum of art, and in Fort Worth at the Kimball Museum.

The schema of Songs of Tagore follow a progression of songs written by Nobel Prize winning Poet-saint of India, Rabindranath Tagore, on the subjects of The Seasons, Love and the Spiritual Aspect, in a celebration of physical and transcendent imagery. The songs are performed in the original Bengali with English translations provided on the playbill. Hollander has assembled a team of artistic collaborators whose love for

Markie McTravel adds new staffer

by John Eubanks

Shelley Nagel has joined the staff at Markie McTravel travel agency in Salado Plaza. Owner Joan Schrock hired the 1990 Salado High graduate for the agency that opened earlier this year at 213 Mill Creek Drive, Suite 100. The grand opening was held last month.

Nagel has a degree in social work from the University of Mary Hardin-Baylor. She said she uses the "people skills" from social work when booking reservations. She is currently working part-time.

Asked about her favorite travel spots, she said, "I love Colorado, of course. It's such a beautiful place."

Two of her favorite places in Colorado are Silverton and Ouray, north of Durango on scenic U.S. Highway 550 in the southwestern part of the state. Mountains above 10,000 feet in elevation dot the area, and nearby is the Ouray Hot Springs Bath.

"My dad's from Washington state, and I really love that a lot, too."

She singled out Deception Pass, near Whidbey Island, north of Seattle, as one of her favorite spots in Washington.

"It's where the fresh water meets the sea water," Nagel said. "It creates a lot of riptides and strong currents, and some of the boats don't make it through (the pass) the first time they try."

Nagel lives in Temple with husband Chris. She is the daughter of Buck and Dee Buckley of Salado.

Shelley Nagel has joined Markie McTravel.

Tagore as well as their expertise and talents have been pooled to make Songs of Tagore a rare and profoundly compelling stage experience. American composer Gerald Cohen, a summa cum laude with distinction from Columbia University, has created instrumental interludes to form a continuum joining the groupings of songs and helping to support the choreographic element of the work. Painter Anil Revri of New Delhi and Washington, DC, and costume designers Sandhya Raman and Noelle Braynard, a founding member of the Battery Dance Company, have brought their talents and vision to the designing of sets and costumes for the production. Pat Dignan, Battery's resident lighting designer, won accolades from the press in Europe and the U.S. for his evocative lighting design.

THE ARTISTS

The dancers are all seasoned performers and distinguished teachers who have a wide array of experience with choreography and performance including with other companies. They have performed at the Downtown Dance Festivals, been on international tours including India, Sri Lanka, Germany and Poland. They are Lynn Kennedy, Kevin Predmore, Jaan R. Freeman, Katherine McGowan, Tony Morales, and Adrianna Thompson.

The guest performer is Sucheta Chapekar, dancer, teacher and choreographer. She is in the front rank of Bharata Natyam, a pure classical dance form of India, which traces its origin to almost 2,000 years. Trained by distinguished Gurus, Sucheta has performed extensively throughout India and abroad. She holds MFA and PhD degrees in dance, and is a visiting professor at the Faculty of Performing Arts of Poona University. She has won several coveted awards in India for her innovations, artistic excellence and scholarship.

Sanghamitra Chatterjee, Vocalist, has performed and recorded extensively in India, specializing in the songs of Tagore, Bengali modern songs, folk songs and other forms of Indian music. In addition to her tours of the U.S., India, Sri Lanka and Poland with Battery Dance Company, she has also collaborated with Kathak (another form of pure classical dance of India) dancer, Janaki Patrik.

Samir Chatterjee, Musician, is one of his generation's foremost classical tabla players. He has performed throughout the U.S. and Poland with Battery, and has been a mentor, translator and musical director for Songs of Tagore.

Badal Roy, composer and tabla player, introduced tabla to the jazz world as a member of the Miles Davis Band, with whom he toured and recorded extensively. He has performed regularly and recorded with John McLaughlin, Herbie Mann and Pharaoh Sanders among others. Badal has attracted critical attention throughout Europe and North America for his performances with Ornette Coleman, most recently at the Lincoln Center Festival, and in South America for his work with the Brazilian guitarists Duofel. "Seen By A River" was Badal's first composed score for dance and he has performed the work with Battery Dance throughout the U.S., India and Sri Lanka. His 1994 dance score, "Testimony", a collaboration with guitarist Ken Wessel, was performed in India and throughout the U.S. as part of PURUSH: Expressions of Man. Badal is featured on many recordings and two new CD's, "One In The Pocket" on the Nomad label and "Endless Radiance" by Tutu Records, are being released this season.

Pneumonia vaccine could save thousands of lives each year

Thousands of lives are being lost every year because people are unaware of a readily available vaccine.

It is the vaccine for pneumococcal pneumonia, an illness that annually claims thousands of lives, mostly adults older than 65 but also very young children and people with certain chronic illnesses.

Too few people even know about the vaccine, said Dr. Daniel M. Musher, an infectious-disease expert at Houston's Baylor College of Medicine and Veterans Affairs Medical Center.

"The sad fact is that many people whose lives could be saved by the pneumonia vaccine do not get inoculated because they are unaware of it and they are not pressured by their physicians to take it," Musher said.

"Research has shown that people are more likely to get inoculated against pneumonia if their doctors recommend it," he said, "and, though the numbers of those getting the vaccine are rising, there are still too many people who need it but are unaware of it."

The vaccine is also important, Musher said, for people with lung disease, heart disease and any kind of immune-system disorder, including HIV infection.

"People who have had their spleens removed are especially susceptible to pneumococcal infection and must be vaccinated," he said. The spleen helps clear bacteria from the blood, and its absence leaves a person prey to pneumonia infections.

At one time it was widely believed that the beneficial effects of pneumonia vaccine persisted for a lifetime, but, Musher said, research at Houston's VAMC has shown that vaccination probably should be repeated at five- to 10-year intervals.

For people without spleens, Musher recommends revaccination every five years.

Young children are also especially susceptible to pneumonia, Musher said, but the vaccine is not effective in people younger than 2.

While pneumonia is not generally a major killer of otherwise-healthy people between toddler age and 65, Musher said, "I personally have had every member of my family vaccinated against pneumococcal infection. It can't hurt, and it may well save a life."

For those who may not be aware, the Monday Club has been a very generous contributor to Salado Methodist Church over the years.

Following are some of the major projects they have been instrumental in supporting:

1. The Piano in the church Sanctuary.
2. The coffee-maker, cooking utensils, and refrigerator for the kitchen.
3. The material and the needlework for the Church Communion Pad.
4. The purchase and installation of the sign at the front of the Church.
5. The recent installation of the ramp between the Sanctuary and the Fellowship Hall.
6. The newly installed gutters.
7. Annual support for the Youth groups.

8. Bibles for the Youth Groups.

This support has been constant even though the Monday Club has no direct affiliation with the Church and many of its group are members of other Churches in the Salado area.

There is one way to reciprocate and help the Monday Club. Part of their income is derived from the sale of their Cookbook. Since they are currently in the process of updating it, they would welcome any "tasty" recipe you might send them for inclusion in their revised Cookbook.

If you have a special recipe, please send a copy to Bea Stewart in the Church office who will, in turn, pass it on to the Monday Club.

Before turning cattle out in Dahliagrass pastures check seedheads for ergot

by James M. Davis
Co. Ext. Agent

Before turning cattle into pastures with Dallisgrass you need to check the seedheads of the grass for ergot. Sticky honeydew on the seed heads is a sign of ergot. Ergot is a parasitic fungus that grows in the seed heads of small grains and pasture grasses such as ryegrass, dallisgrass and bahiagrass. Ergot poisoning in cattle is most commonly observed on pastures containing a high percentage of dallisgrass. A toxin produced by ergot is extremely poisonous to livestock, especially cattle. The toxin produced by er-got interferes with circulation, resulting in reduced blood flow to the extremities of the limbs and tail. Lameness is often an early symptom, with a sloughing of the tip of the tail and possibly the feet if cattle continue to consume the ergot. The central nervous system can be stimulated and the depressed. Elevated body temperature and increased respiratory or pulse rate may also be observed.

Because ergot grows primarily in seedheads, pasture clipping and grazing management that retards or prevents seedhead development should be practiced.

Cattle showing signs of ergot poisoning should be switched to an ergot free diet immediately.

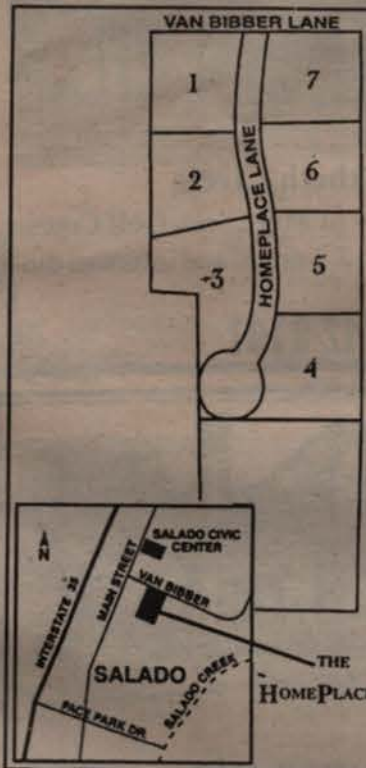

As summer winds down and we enter the fall season, most cattle producers will be selling their 97 calf crop and culling cows before winter sets in.

Last year's advise to ranchers was liquidate, liquidate, liquidate. This year, Texas is well ahead of the nation in liquidating its cattle. But Extension livestock marketing economist Dr. Ernest Davis warns ranchers not to get too bullish. Davis says cattle prices could reach record highs if ranchers will just be patient. He expects prices to top 100 dollars per hundred-weight by the year 2001 if liquidation continues nationwide. If the national liquidation ends too quickly, Davis predicts prices will drop more over the next three years and recovery will not start until after the year 2000.

A new study at Texas A&M reveals people will pay top dollar if they're guaranteed a tender cut of beef. In the first part of the study, Texas A&M animal science assistant lecturer Shanna Boleman had consumers test three categories of steak. The most tender was in a red package. The white package had steaks that were somewhat tender and the blue-packaged steaks were tough. Boleman found that participants were able to distinguish the three degrees of tenderness. In the final phase of the study, the consumers were asked if they would pay 50 cents a pound more for steaks if they were guaranteed tender, Boleman says the answer was a resounding "yes". Boleman says this should be the economic incentive cattle producers need to raise more tender beef.

THE HOMEPLACE

Nestled on a tree-covered knoll in Salado's Historical District, THE HOMEPLACE represent the much sought-after lifestyle of yesteryear. A winding lane meanders around large live oaks to a dry creek crossing. Its character reflects a day in history where people shared time together on front porches. Only a short walk away is excellent shopping, art galleries and dining, giving a reflection of Salado's past.

THE HOMEPLACE will reflect proportions, detailing and simplicity of true classical architectural styles. "Something old, something new" literally comes to life as treasures from historic homes are blended in harmony with new construction. The best of yesterday . . . built better today.
