Most elegant Christmas at Stagecoach Inn Oct. 8

It only happens one day of the year...Christmas in October. The preparations began months ago come to fruition 10 a.m.-6 pm. Oct. 8 at the Stagecoach Inn Complex. You can count on a multitude of holiday ideas and gifts to be waiting for you.

The bazaar is back this year with great emphasis placed on craftsmanship and elegant materials. There will be dozens of scented lace and ribbon sachets along with other scented items. Decorated boxes for your personal treasures, neck pillows, tote bags, jewelry bags. There will be decorative as well as utilitarian items for the home.

Things just for children will be offered, and of course, Christmas items including wreaths, stockings, angels and numerous jeweled velvet ornaments.

In addition to the bazaar there will be baked goods for sale and over 30 displays of trees, holiday tables, dolls and pillows and nativity scenes.

Still more, you don't want to miss ...the live music, refreshments, informal modeling and the delightful way to begin your Christmas Shopping.

Tickets are $4 at the door. This event is sponsored by the Salado Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary. Proceeds provide funds to the local volunteer fire department, scholarships, support of other organizations, and to the beautification of the Village of Salado.

Christmas trees and tables will be displayed at Christmas in October this week.

Mayfield Library fundraiser set Oct. 11

Board of Directors of the Mayfield Library and Museum and Friends of the Library in Holland will sponsor a benefit dinner Oct. 11 at the Holland School Cafetorium. Retired Superintendent Weldon Bowman will prepare one of his special meals. The menu includes roast beef with brown gravy, new potatoes, seasoned green beans, tossed salad and homemade bread. A $6 donation will include all-you-can-eat, ice tea and homemade peach cobbler.

The noon meal will be ready at 11:30 a.m. Carry-out plates will be available. Everyone in the area is invited to join family and friend after church to support this community fundraiser. Proceeds will help defray renovation costs for the library.

By-laws to be approved

Chamber general membership meeting Oct. 12

The annual general membership meeting of the Salado chamber of commerce has been called for Oct. 12 according to Denver Mills, president of the organization. This year's session will be held at the newly refurbished Halley House on Main Street.

The Board of Directors will meet at 6 p.m. for their regular monthly business meeting to be followed at 7 p.m. by the general membership gathering.

Agenda items for the membership meeting include a report from the Director Nominating Committee headed by immediate past president Pete Jennings. Major changes in the Chamber of Commerce's by-laws will also be discussed and presented for approval. In both cases - director nominations and the by-laws additions can be made from the floor.

President Mills will also name the Officer Nominating Committee which will be charged with presenting a slate of officers following the election of new directors. This report is scheduled to be presented at the regular November Board meeting set for 6 pm. on Nov. 9. That meeting is to be held at Salado High School.

Mills noted: "The directors of of this year's chamber board are in hopes that a good many members of the chamber will take time-out from busy schedules to attend the general membership meeting Oct. 12. It will give all of us a first hand look at the newest bed and breakfast facility in Salado as well as to take part in the annual meeting."

Refreshments will be served.

Immediately following the October general meeting ballots will be mailed to all members so that four new directors may be selected to serve a three year term. Directors whose terms expire this year include: Bob Cottle, Suzi Epps and Dale Kehn. Denver Mills' term expires this year but as outgoing president he remains on the board in an ex-officio capacity for one year.

Mind Warp

rated R

starring Marta Alicia, Bruce Campbell, Angus Scrimm

Our rating: *

by Tim Fleischer
Editor-in-Chief

Mindwarp is the worst movie I've ever seen. First, it is a stupid premise for a movie. Post-nuclear societies below and above ground, etc., etc. A young woman dissatisfied with living in "Infinisynth," a synthetic world of dreams. So she goes above ground where she is taken captive by "crawlers," cannibalistic mutants.

Mindwarp is disgustingly gross in its violence and dehumanized slaughter.

Most of the budget for Mindwarp must have been spent on red Jello and ketchup. This is the extent of the special effects make-up.

Mindwarp is a good title. It best describes the mind of any sicko who enjoys this dog.

"I'm from the government and I'm here to help you!"

Well Known Oxymoron

News from the Federal front in Washington was not all that good last week when it was announced by Internal Revenue Commissioner Shirley D. Peterson that some 2000 agents of the IRS would be shifted from day to day tax examinations over to tracking down those citizens who routinely fail to file tax returns and as a result have not paid a penny to Uncle Sam for lo these many years! Now that sounds good, right? Sure, up until the second paragraph of the Associated Press story in which the commissioner noted that her agency would "work with" these dead-beats who voluntarily admit their sins by "helping" them reconstruct their missing 1040's; compute their taxes and allow them to pay their debts in an easy installment plan! Some may work out a deal to pay even less than they owe! How about that?

The rest of us pay our dues on time and if questioned usually go along with whatever the IRS

Off the Record

by Ken Clapp

says. Failure could result in having our bank accounts, savings and salaries frozen until we pay up. Not so for the crooks who don't pay anything for years on end and then get the "kid glove" treatment when they are caught. We got a tail wagging the dog problem here or else some real hoodwinking has been going on for years by the friendly tax collectors who claim equal-treatment-for-all-taxpayers as a working motto!

He's Baa-ack!

One positive thing that can be admitted to about the on-again, off-again and now official re-entry of squirrely Ross Perot's presidential candidacy is that since July 16, we have not been burdened by listening to his whinnying gripe-filled twang. All that changed on Oct. 1, when "Mr. Fix-it" climbed back into the political ring because his bought and paid for "volunteers" asked him to do so! Poppycrack! The whole deal was orchestrated from the outset!

He told the media he would not answer any questions he felt not relevant to the campaign. He would of course, determine what is or is not relevant. that should result in some interesting press conferences! Perhaps he (Perot) could hand out secret decoder rings to the press so his message can be truly understood. Sort of like returning to the great old pre-TV days of radio and Little Orphan Annie.

At any rate we only have 27 days left to listen to this pint sized ego-maniac and certainly that is worth something. On the other hand-Tonight Show host Jay Leno did characterize him as the "perfect" candidate and politician. "He (Perot) is too small to see; too rich to bribe and usually quits before he does any real damage!"

Won't it be grand when the election is over and all we have to worry about is the depression, deficit, low interest earnings, unemployment and a 1992-93 TV log full of the worst trash in electronic history?

Debates, Debates

If President Bush and Governor Clinton and their handlers had a lick of sense they would have told Ross Perot to go fly a kite when it came time to have their debates. Perot has nothing to lose by saying anything that comes to his strange operating mind. He can't win and yet he has the money to qualify him for running for our highest office. All he will do is mess up both the major contenders as they debate and end up being a laughing stock himself. Question also comes to mind is why the Libertarian candidate for President is not raising all sorts of cain since he qualifies for the debates even more so than Perot. What a messy political season this has turned out to be - and we all thought it couldn't get worse!

Rep. Edwards returns $232K unused office funds in 1991

U.S. Representative Chet Edwards, who returned $232,000 in unused office expense funds in 1991, has been ranked in the top 20 percent for office expense savings among members of the U.S.

House of Representatives, according to a national newspaper report.

A USA Today and Gannett News Service series exploring the spending habits of the U.S. House of Representatives reveals Edwards spent only 75 percent of his official expense account running his Washington, D.C. and Waco offices.

"I believe my first responsibility is to the people of the 11th Congressional District who pay my salary and expenses," Edwards said. "Part of my job is to give the taxpayers their money's worth and still serve the needs of my constituents."

USA Today reported last week that Edwards was one of only 90 members out of 435 House members and five delegates who spent only 75 percent of their allocated expense budget in 1991. Total budgets are derived through a formula that includes funding for office expenses, payroll and franked mail.

"There have been abuses of mass mailing privileges from some congressional offices," Edwards said. "I have resisted covering Central Texas with congressional mailers. I do try to read and personally respond to every single letter from the District and keep Central Texans informed about what Congress is doing."

"When the economy is floundering and people are tightening their belts, I believe Congress should cut its own spending," Edwards said. "This ranking is proof that the people of Central Texas can have their questions answered, their problems solved and their interests served while costs are kept down."

Fall Fiesta set Oct. 17

The renovation project to bring back the old red school house on Main street is expected to get a real shot-in-the-arm financially on Saturday, Oct. 17, when the fundraising arm of the mammoth rebuilding endeavor presents a unique and interesting auction that is expected to draw a large crowd, according to Patsy Sanford, chairman of the fund drive. The event is slated to begin at 6 pm. at the Salado school cafeteria.

Prior to the silent and later the not-so-silent auction will be a barbecue feast prepared by the Salado Lions Club with fixings and trimmings being supplied by volunteers from the village. Tickets are now on sale at either of the banks, the S&W store, Seasons of Salado, Sir Wigglesworth, Royal Emporium and the Stagecoach Coffee Shop. Price is $5 for adults and $2 for children. Tickets may also be purchased at the door on Oct. 17.

Over 100 items will go on the auction block including some special services that will attract interest. Included in this category may be a monthly pie or cake especially prepared for the buyer which will be delivered to the highest bidder over a year's time period. Car washes, babysitting, and a variety of other special services are being sought as auctionable items.

All proceeds will go towards the work expected to begin on Nov. 30, to completely renovate the old school building on Main Street which will be turned into a village civic and cultural center housing the public library, historical society's exhibit, chamber of commerce offices, visitors center, senior center and public restrooms.

Reaching the high potential child

Investment Ideas

In today's world, you sometimes wonder if the little guy has a chance. Most of the time, you hear about the multi-millionaire or the large corporation making all the money. But in reality, you don't have to be a business tycoon to make money. In fact, maybe all you need are a few good investment ideas.

This is where my weekly newspaper column, "Investment Ideas," comes in. My name is Mike Miller and I am an investment broker at A.G. Edwards Temple Office.

Ours is one of more than 440 A.G. Edwards offices nationwide, making our firm the largest brokerage firm headquartered outside of New York. A.G. Edwards offers a full line of investments and financial services and caters to individual investors.

Since we at A.G. Edwards stress the importance of serving the individual needs of investors, it is probably a good idea for you to know me as an individual as well. I live in Temple with my wife Janice and I enjoy bridge in my spare time. Most of my week, however, is devoted to helping my clients make the right investment decisions for their particular circumstances.

In the investment business, a lot of things have changed, but one thing that hasn't changed and probably never will is that people want to make money.

There are literally hundreds of investment vehicles and strategies available. But which investment is right for you? The answer is one that fits your individual situation best. Some investments have high risk but also have potentially high rewards. Others are "slow," but safe. It's your money and you have to make the decision where to put it.

This column should help you better understand the many available investment vehicles and strategies. It will also address such issues as saving for your children's educations, managing your retirement income and saving money on taxes.

I look forward to providing you with a wealth of information, which in turn could help you make better, smarter investment decisions. See you every week in "Investment Ideas."

Does your child ...

*display a great curiosity about his/her surroundings?

*have a longer attention span than other children his/her age?

*have a wide range of interests which he/she actively pursues?

*prefer the companionship of older children and adults?

*perform better in school than his/her peers?

*have a high degree of verbal ability and advanced vocabulary?

If the above characteristics accurately describe your child - it is possible that your child is a high potential child. To help foster a high potential child's educational talents it is important that parents employ practices at home which will enhance, develop, and direct these potentials.

Give your child plenty of exposure to good books, magazines, newspapers, encyclopedias, and charts.

When planning weekend trips and family vacations consider places which would offer enriching experiences for the high potential child (museums, libraries, art galleries, educational institutions, historical places or theatres).

Encourage your child to pursue hobbies and collections.

As an independent thinker your child may have values and thoughts which do not correspond to your own. Let the child know that while you may not agree with him you respect his opinion.

Instill within your child discrimination in taste by discussing the giving examples of what is good and what is poor. The quality of such medias as television, radio, cinemas, newspapers, and comics serves as avenues to refine your child's tastes.

As a risk taker the high potential child sets himself up for failure. The child must be rewarded for taking risk, whether or not they succeed in the particular task.

Work with your child in developing his social skills in relation to other children his age. Social skills are usually the high potential child's weakest skills.

Insist that your child does the best of his ability in all the work he does. Getting straight "A's" is not acceptable work if it involves only a minimum amount of effort.

Finally, remember that above all else the high potential child is a child. Don't expect him to be incredible, fantastic and interesting all of the time.

High potential is not a synonym for perfect!

Mars, the only planet whose surface can be seen in detail from the earth, was named after an ancient Roman war god.

John and Stella Milne, of Scotland, enjoyed visiting with Salado shopkeeper Becky McAulay so much last year that when they returned to Salado this year, they brought a gift to her. They gave Becky a tartan from the McAulay clan. "We decided we couldn't come back to Salado this year without paying Becky a visit," said John.

S.R. Greenwood, Chairman of the Board Salado National Bank, and John H. Wilson, Vice Chairman, along with the Board of Directors announce the association of T. Gerry Gamble as President and C.E.O. of the Salado National Bank.

Gamble has been actively engaged in banking for 15 years including positions with Interfirst, Temple, NBC of Texas and Boerne, and more recently with banks in the Valley. Gamble has extensive experience in credit and finance along with business development skills. He also was engaged in public accounting, a complement to his banking ability.

Gamble is a graduate of Southwest Texas State University with a BBA and accounting degree. He also is a graduate of Southwestern School of Banking and National Commercial Lending School. Gamble is married and has two children.

"We are elated and excited with the addition of Gerry to our staff," said Greenwood, "especially since I have had the privilege of working with Gerry during our time with Temple National Bank-Interfirst, and know his capacity as a manager and the personal touch he brings to banking. He is well informed in the area of community banking and as Salado National Bank expands its services, products and customer areas, he brings added strength to our staff."

The staff and Board of Directors of Salado National Bank extend an invitation to its customers along with Gerry's new friends in this area to come in for a visit.

Twain on tour in Belton

"The reports of my death have been greatly exaggerated!" Mark Twain said in 1906. To prove his point, veteran actor Ken Richters will present his unique one-man production of Mark Twain on Tour: America's First Stand-Up Comedian 8 p.m. Oct. 10 in W. W. Walton Chapel on the campus of University of Mary Hardin-Baylor.

Since 1978, Richters has performed as the celebrated humorist throughout the United States, Canada and abroad. With more than five hours of specially edited material from which to draw, this unique production takes on a new direction each time the curtain goes up.

Richters requires almost three hours of make-up application to effect the transformation from a young, dark-haired actor to the crusty, grey-haired Twain in his 70s. The physical changes are relatively sudden when compared with the more than two years of preparation and research that allows Richters to don the personality and mannerisms of Twain as easily as he puts on the white linen suit that has become the humorist's trademark.

The actor first portrayed Mark Twain while a student in Connecticut. He went on to work in community theater, Broadway plays, soap operas and television. Well-known for his considerable vocal range, Richters has become favorite in the field of commercial and industrial performing. He served as executive producer and spokesman for the C.H. Dexter Corporation, a Fortune 500 Company, for its Capabilities Project series.

Ken Richters as Mark Twain was brought to acclaim in 1981, following a performance in Washington, D.C. Television newscasters from across the country has great fun covering Mr. Twain's salty comments

Tickets for this area only performance of the international tour of Ken Richters as Mark Twain on Tour: America's First Stand-Up Comedian: are limited. For additional information, call 9394590.

Services held for Proctor

Graveside services for Lester E. Proctor, of Belton, were held Oct. 1 at the Pleasant Hill Cemetery near Nolanville with Rev. Jay Beavers and Rev. Alvin Reese Sutton officiating.

Mr. Proctor died Sept. 28 in a Belton nursing home.

He was born April 4, 1900 in Salado to William M. Proctor and Lou H. Jarnigan Proctor. He was a lifetime resident of Bell County and has lived in Belton since 1925. He married Thelma Gladys Proctor in 1928 in Nolanville. He worked as transportation manager for the Southwestern Transit Company until he retired in 1955 and then ranched near Salado for many years. He was a member of the First United Methodist Church in Belton.

He is survived by a daughter, Mary Lou Marks, of Belton; two grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests memorials be made to the First United Methodist Church of Belton of the charity of the donors' choice.

Salado FFA has busy summer

Salado FFA students had a busy summer attending leadership camp and the State FFA convention. Justin Hodge, Bill Boyd, Danny Hill and Michael Fiebig attended the state FFA Convention this summer.

At the convention, Fiebig and Boyd served as voting delegates and Justin served diligently on the Courtesy Corp. They were accompanied by J. Brit Owen, the SHS ag science teacher.

While attending the convention, the Salado FFA Chapter received several awards: 10 percent Growth in Membership, 100 Percent Membership, Tri-Star Award, BOAC, Chapter Safety and Superior Chapter.

Danny Hill and Trey Bethke also honored Salado by receiving their State FFA Degrees.

Four Salado FFA Chapter officers attended leadership camp this summer. Bill Boyd, Rudy Kelley, Teresa Bush and Misty Del Toro attended camp where they met with other FFA members from communities of surrounding areas. At the FFA camp, skills in leadership were developed, which the members plan to put to use as Salado FFA officers. The FFA camps try to give all students the ability to be respectful, the ability to lead and above all the FFA camps give students the opportunities to believe in themselves.

Johnson completes course

Marine Pfc. Keith J. Johnson, son of James N. Johnson of Salado, recently completed the Basic Disbursing Course.

During the 12-week course at Marine Corps Service Support Schools, Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, NC, students receive classroom instruction consisting of regulations, pay and allowances, travel entitlements, disbursing aspects of public funds, auditing techniques and disbursing office organization and managements.

The 1989 graduate of W.B. Travis High School in Austin joined the Marine Corps in November 1991.

Safe Rides offered by Scott & White

Families in Bell County who have newborns or are expecting babies needs to remember that buckling children, even tiny infants, into safety seats is the law. It is also the best way to protect the child in case of accident. Last year in Texas, 99 children under age of five were killed in automobile accident, 74 of those children were unrestrained.

Scott & White has launched a "Safe Rides" program to help ensure that every infant in Bell County has access to an approved car safety seat. The seats are loaned until the baby outgrows it, usually between six and nine months of age, then returned to Scott & White. The fee for using the seat is $25, $15 of which is refunded when the seat is returned.

Classes are offered weekdays at 4 p.m. Call 774-3363.

Eagles lose to Moody

After suffering their first loss, the Salado Eagles face undefeated Florence Buffaloes in the district opener 7:30 p.m. Oct. 9 at Eagle Field. The Eagles lost 28-20 to Moody Bearcats Oct. 2.

The last minute of the game proved fatal for the Salado Eagles as the Moody Bearcats scored the winning touchdown with 7 second remaining to secure a homecoming win.

Salado scored on its first possession when Jeremy Fischer followed Mark Tubbs' block for a 50-yard quarterback sneak. Steven Sather converted the extra point to give Salado a 7-0 lead with 10:25 left in the first quarter.

Salado scored again in the first quarter on a 36-yard run by Richard Berumen. Sather converted again to give Salado a 14-0 lead with 4:15 left in the first period.

The second period belonged to the Moody Bearcats as they evened the score by halftime.

Salado scored again in the third quarter as Chris

Jason Hosch runs against the Moody Bearcats.

Duzich's one-yard run topped a 60-yard drive. The extra point failed.

Moody tied the game in the fourth quarter and scored the winning points with seven second left in the game.

Salado will face undefeated Florence in the district opener, but Coach Dan Wasik said Florence has not faced a tough opponent in pre-season.

"It will be a tough match," Wasik said. "We have the ability to beat every team in district, or to lose to every team in district. This is a very competitive district this year."

Florence will come at Salado out of the I-formation and will defend with the 5-2 defense.

With almost 60 players, Florence will have a deep bench.

GLC remains undefeated

The players of the GLC boys soccer team "soccered" the Temple Jaycees team and left their opponents stunned with a score of 16-0.

In the past game conference the Temple coach commented that the Salado speed and passing left his players flatfooted.

The game was played on the opponents end of the field the majority of the time with a brilliant display of ball control and aggressive defense that enabled the offense to keep constant pressure on the Jaycee goalie.

The scoring was led by Josh Lee with a career high of 5, John McLaughlin with 4, Erich Szafron with 3 and Taylor Hutton with 1. In an attempt to keep from running up the score defensive backs were moved to forwards and resulted in first time scores for Nick Long, Will Barbour and Zack Brown.

Unselfish play, aggressive defense and well disciplined offense remain the keys to the teams 3-0 record.

The Salado GLC soccer team won its fourth game of the season, defeating Temple Heartland, 6-0.

The GLC defense has not been scored on this year.

The Heartland team gave the Salado kickers its toughest game of the season, testing the defense, but the GLC defense stiffened and held Heartland in check.

Scoring was led by Josh Lee with 3 and single scores by Nick Long, Taylor Hutton and John McLaughlin.

Teamwork remains the basis for the team's success. The team will rely on unselfish passing and strong defense when it faces the undefeated Gulf Coast team Oct. 10.

Greenwood leads D.C. tour

Holly Greenwood will escort a group of students to the nations' capitol June 1-4, 1993.

This trip to Washington, D.C. is specially designed for adolescents by Lakeland Tours Inc. of Charlottesville, Virginia.

The itinerary includes places of historic interest such as the White House, the U.S. Capitol, the Smithsonian, the Vietnam Memorial, Arlington National Cemetery, Mt. Vernon, the F.B.I. building, the National Zoo and many others.

The all-inclusive tour price of $729 covers air fare, deluxe accommodations, all meals, insurance, sightseeing fees, chaperone and escort services, evening security, evening activities and airport transfers. Personal spending money is the only exception. There are NO hidden costs! A deposit of $125 is required and the remainder of the sum is paid to Lakeland Tours in installments.

Parents are welcome to go. Sign up before Oct. 22 with Holly Greenwood at 947-8469.

Friends Feeding Friends begins in Salado at IGA

Local effort for the needy begins with a drop box at IGA Village Foods.

Friends Feeding friends is a joint effort by Temple-Belton Board of Realtors and KCEN-TV to meet the needs of the poor and homeless not just by words, but by action, according to Bill Bartlett, Salado coordinator for the project.

The third annual Friends Feeding Friends Fund and Food Drive began recently and will continue until Oct. 22.

Last year Friends Feeding Friends was a tremendous success with over 2,500 pounds of food collected in Salado. Salado High School Future Farmers of America helped to collect and distribute the food. Their involvement helped earn them a Future Farmers of America National award "Building Our American Communities."

Village Foods was a major contributor as well as other organizations and individuals in Salado that donated food and money.

This year most of the food collected will be distributed by the FFA to needy families and the remaining food will be given to the food pantries in Salado. A collection box has been placed at IGA Village Foods in Salado and Bill Bartlett asks that when you shop there to please buy a can or two extra of food and drop in the collection box.

Local church, school and civic groups are also encouraged to get involved in this project.

If Bill Bartlett has not contacted your organization, call him at 947-5050.

Services held for William Blaylock

William Schuler Blaylock age 80, of Salado died Sept. 28, 1992 in a Round Rock Nursing Home.

Graveside funeral services were held Sept. 30, 1992 at the Salado Cemetery with Rev. Joe Bentley officiating.

William Blaylock was born Sept. 23, 1912 to Connie Davis and Minnie Bell Blaylock in Amity, Texas. He was raised in Bell County and lived in Houston Texas for 45 years. He was Chairman of the Board of L.L. Rideway's Inc. with over 50 years of service. He remained in that position until his death. He retired to the Salado Mill Creek area. He was also on the Board of Directors of Salado National Bank. He served as a Mason and was a member of the Methodist Church.

He is survived by his wife Bee Blaylock; 2 sons Brent C. Blaylock of Round Rock and William S. Blaylock Jr. of Houston; 7 grandchildren and 2 great-grandchildren. He was preceded in death by his brothers Jaquin Blaylock, Red Blaylock, O.C. Blaylock and Maurice Blaylock. Harper-Talasek Funeral Home was in charge of the service.

Announcing . . .

T. Gerry Gamble

ANOTHER ADVANTAGE OF SALADO NATIONAL BANK

S.R. Greenwood, Chairman of the Board, and John H. Wilson, Vice Chairman, along with the Board of Directors of Salado National Bank have the pleasure of announcing the association of T. Gerry Gamble as President and C.E.O. of the Bank. Gamble previously worked with Greenwood at Temple National Interfirst Bank and more recently has been in an executive position with banks in the Rio Grande Valley. A graduate of Southwest Texas State University, Southwestern Graduate School of Banking and National Commercial Lending School and a Certified Public Accountant, Gamble is uniquely qualified as a professional banker.

"Gerry Gamble is the very right person at the right time for our bank" Greenwood said, as he brings professional abilities to assist in expanding our services, products and customer area. We have positioned ourselves to aggressively compete in our market area and under his leadership we expect to play a pivotal role in community banking in Central Texas."

"We invite our customers and Gerry's friends in the area to come in for a visit." Wilson said "and we will be holding open house for the next 30 days to formally welcome Gerry".
