

BoA allows NEVs, mulls subdivisions

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Aldermen on July 1 approved the second and final reading of an ordinance to provide for the operation of Neighborhood Electric Vehicles within the Village limits. The board also approved the first reading of an ordinance to provide for the operation of All-Terrain and Utility-Terrain Vehicles within the Village limits.

The ordinances line up the local rules with state law in terms of safety equipment and license plates.

Village administrator Don Ferguson announces that golf carts cannot be required to have license plates after the Texas legislature passed a law in 2021 prohibiting that requirement. Other off-highway vehicles may be required to display license plates, however.

In other business, aldermen directed Ferguson to continue work on changes to the Subdivision Regulations in terms of access, block length and fire protection.

Potential changes in the Subdivision ordinance may include maintaining the 1,200 foot limit for block length, but for variances to extend a block up to 2,000 feet with requirements such as wider street widths, sidewalks on each side of the street, mid-block turn-arounds of 90 foot radius for fire trucks and village-approved traffic calming measures such as roundabouts, speed bumps or chicanes.

The block length for cul-de-sac streets is currently 1,000 but could be extended to 2,000 feet with the safety measures used above.

“We have a contradiction in the ordinance,” Ferguson said, pointing to the requirement for a subdivision to have two exits regardless of its size. “We’re caught in a tug of war. For large subdivisions, we think it is reasonable to have two exits.”

Ferguson suggested adopting language that for every 40 lots in a subdivision, that there be two stub-outs and an exit Saladoans gathered for the annual tradition of the Salado Historical Society Fourth of July Picnic. Gen. Jason Walrath (above) was the speaker. The Community Chorus sang patriotic songs. Meanwhile Sons of the American Revolution appear to be going over battle plans.

Correas & Legends: A family tradition of 25 years

By ANNIE (CORREA) JOHNSTON

“Correa, family of 5”, is what Beth and Rolly would say when they would sign in for dinner at a nearby restaurant.

Rolly and Beth moved their family from San Antonio to Salado in April 1994. Beth sought theater to find a way to introduce her children to the arts and community that so richly enhanced the quaint little town of Salado, Texas.

After seeing the 1995 production of Salado Legends, Beth knew she had found a great outlet for her little ones and called Tablerock Outdoor Amphitheater to see if her children could become involved in a production. Unbeknownst to her, the ACTUAL author and creator of Salado Legends would meet them at the theater and quickly took all 5 Correas to be a part of the 1996 musical drama that was (and still is) held each summer. Jackie saw Rolly, 6-year old Tyler and 12 year old Dustin and quickly told them they would make good Tonkawa Indians and even cast Rolly as Indian Chief! The following year, Jackie Mills created the role of “Douglas”, the youngest McDougal child and awarded Tyler as the first “Douglas”. She also wrote him a song called, “When Will I Grow Up and Be Big”. He did! He is 6’4! Jackie did not leave the girls out! She decided that Beth could be a fabulous “Culture Lady” and 10-year old Annie would make a wonderful school girl. So, each night during the summer for many years, this “Correa, family of 5” had a purpose, a community to sing to, to dance with and to just enjoy!

That was only the beginning of theater for the Correa family. The boys were involved in theater in high school and Dustin even came back for tech work as an adult. Beth became involved in community theater and led children’s Christmas musicals for their church. The family has changed over the years. The children have grown up and moved away with families and new friends of their own. But Beth and Rolly remain as active community members.

Beth has had the Salado Legend’s role of a Culture Lady, Texas (saloon gal), and

Saint Stephen Catholic Church holds VBS July 26-30

St. Stephen Catholic Church invites children to Rocky Railway Vacation Bible School: Jesus' power pulls us through. A summer kids' event called Rocky Railway VBS will be hosted at St. Stephen Catholic Church from July 26 to July 30. At Rocky Railway, kids discover through life's ups and downs that Jesus' power pulls us through. Kids participate in memorable Bible-learning activities, sing catchy songs, play teamwork-building games, engage in fun snack-eating experiences, take part in one-of-a-kind Bible Adventures, collect Bible Memory Buddies to remind them to trust Jesus, and test out Sciency-Fun Gizmos they'll take home and play with all summer long. Plus, kids will learn to look for evidence of God all around them through something called God Sightings. Each day concludes with the Rock Wrap-Up with Marissa and Shannon that gets everyone involved in living what they've learned. Rocky Railway is for children from 4 years to 5th grade and will run from 6 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. each day. For more information, call the church office at 254-947-8037 or go to the St. Stephen website at www.saintstephenchurch.org.

Wildlife Grant to complete the trail, and since then, it has served the community as the Halloween Fright Trail, Dinner that precedes the Salado Legends productions, and other fabulous uses throughout the years. Beth has 12 years of directing the Salado United Methodist Church Children's Musicals as well as 10 years of experience finding grants for incoming businesses and non-profits. She will be the Co-Director for the 2021 Outdoor Musical Drama, Salado Legends.

GET YOUR PASSPORT TO A FUN DAY

Christmas in October introduces the Jingle Walk

The second weekend in October has long been an eagerly anticipated time for Salado's annual "Christmas in October" shopping event. This year the Salado Ladies Community League is excited to provide a new and fun way to shop local for lovely clothing and unique, one-of-a-kind gifts for your whole Christmas list.

Each $25 Passport entitles you to collect a special gift from each of the participating businesses you visit while shopping that day. This year's event is supported by many of your favorite Salado businesses along the Salado "Magic Mile".

The Christmas in October Jingle Walk takes place on two days: Friday, Oct. 8, noon - 7 p.m., and Saturday, Oct. 9, 10 a.m. - 4 p.m., and the purchasing the Passport entitles you to shop on both days.

Only 250 passports are available for this event (limit 6 per person). To purchase yours, starting on September 1, go to the Central Texas Tickets website at central-texas-tickets.com and click on the Salado Christmas in October Jingle Walk event.

Baylor University celebrated more than 7,500 graduates of the Classes of 2020 and 2021 during six in-person commencement ceremonies May 6-8 at McLane Stadium on the banks of the Brazos River. Salado, TX

The following Salado students received their degrees during the commencement ceremonies:

Stephanie Davis Ferguson, Doctor of Education, Educational Administration, Graduate School, May 2021.

Ryan Neil Flanagan, BBA, Accounting, Cum Laude, Hankamer School of Business, May 2020

Ryan Neil Flanagan, MACC, Accounting, Hankamer School of Business, May 2020.

Madison Leigh Krystyniak, BA, Journalism, College of Arts & Sciences, May 2020.

President Linda A. Livingstone, Ph.D., presided over the outdoor ceremonies that honored nearly 2,800 spring 2021 Baylor graduates, as well as more than 4,700 May, August and December 2020 graduates, whose ceremonies were canceled or held virtually due to the COVID-19 pandemic. The commencement ceremonies also were the first held outdoors at Baylor since May 27, 1955, when graduation was held in what was then called Baylor Stadium (later renamed Floyd Casey Stadium).

The Mayborn Science Theater, located on the campus of Central Texas College, recently announced its July show lineup which includes Saturday and weekday matinees, Laser Friday and a night sky tour.

Tickets for the Saturday shows are $7 for adults, $6 for children age 3 to 11 and free for theater members.

The Saturday lineup begins at 11 a.m. with "Mars One Thousand One." Follow space reporter Miles O'Brien through the first human mission to Mars - a daring 1,000-day mission to fly an international crew to the red planet and return them safely to Earth. Witness firsthand the astronauts' brave attempts to put human footprints on Mars.

At 12 p.m. is "Kaluoka'hina: The Enchanted Reef." Hidden in the vast oceans of our planet, this one-of-a-kind tropical reef is full of adventure and mystery. After a volcano catastrophe, two young fish must restore the magic of their home and save their beloved reef. The humorous adventure is filled with many informative details about the fantastic world under water and sharpens our awareness about preserving our environment.

"Dinosaurs at Dusk: Origins of Flight" is at 1:30 p.m. This action-packed, animated show gives the audience a close-up view of early Earth and the fantastic animals that once roamed its surface and ancient skies. Follow the adventures of a father and his teenage daughter as they travel back in time through several geological periods, hike through rain forests, scale ice cliffs, sail over prehistoric oceans and parachute into a vast sinkhole in their search for the first flying animals.

At 2:30 p.m. is "Rusty Rocket's Last Blast." Rusty Rocket, who, after decades of teaching the basics of rocket physics, has decided to retire. With one final mission to command, Rusty takes the rocket rookies and the audience on an introductory tour of the solar system focusing on a variety of planetary environments. Along the way, the audience learns Rusty is related to every famous spacecraft which explored the solar system.

One of the newest shows, "Whale Super Highway" is at 4 p.m. The show follows humpback whales and blue pygmy whales on their 6,500-kilometer migration down the coast of Western Australia to the freezing waters of Antarctica and back. The show provides a stunning look at life in the waters of Western Australia and reveals fascinating information about whales.

Water well testing is essential for owners.

AgriLife offers water well testing webinar July 20

By SUSAN HIMES
AGRILIFE EXTENSION SERVICE

The Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service's series On the Line with AgriLife provides free under-30-minute presentations on a variety of topics important to Texas agricultural producers. The upcoming topic on July 20 is The Importance of Water Testing.

The free program starts at 8:30 a.m. and is held on the Zoom meeting platform. Advance registration is recommended at <https://bit.ly/JulyOnTheLine> or participants may call 346-248-7799 and use meeting number 928 4849 9995 on July 20 for access.

The Importance of Water Testing webinar will feature Joel Pigg, AgriLife Extension water well safety specialist, Bryan-College Station, as the guest speaker.

"I think this program is going to be really beneficial for all well owners in Texas, especially if you have never had your water tested in the past," said Pigg.

Water well testing is essential for owners, Kempken said. A simple test can help you better understand the contents of your water and if you should make any changes to your existing water well system.

The AgriLife Extension county agents of District 10 host the On the Line webinar on the first Tuesday of every month. District 6 county agents host it on the third Tuesday of every month.

Additional information on the series can be found on the District 6 Facebook page. Videos of past topics and a schedule of upcoming ones are also available online. To receive text reminders about programs, text @OTLWA to 81010.

Keep Your Garden Looking its Best All Summer Long

BY MELINDA MYERS

Summer means hot and often dry weather for many gardeners. Keep your garden looking its best with less water and maintenance throughout the summer.

Spread a layer of organic mulch like leaves, evergreen needles or woodchips on the soil surrounding plants. This helps keep plant roots cool, conserves moisture, suppresses weeds and improves the soil as it decomposes. Use a three- to four-inch layer of coarser material like wood chips and a thinner, one-inch layer of finer materials like leaves. Pull the mulch away from the trunk of the tree, stems of shrubs, and base of flowers and vegetables.

Water thoroughly to encourage deep, drought tolerant roots. Light, frequent watering promotes shallow roots, making plants more susceptible to drought and other environmental stresses.

Check new plantings every day or two and water often enough to keep the root area and surrounding soil slightly moist. Gradually extend the time between watering. Most plants thrive with an inch of water each week. Let soil moisture not the calendar be your guide. Adjust your watering practices based on temperature, soil type and rainfall.

Water gardens early in the day to reduce water lost to evaporation and the risk of disease. Consider using drip irrigation or soaker hoses to apply water directly to the soil where it is needed. You will conserve moisture and help reduce the risk of spreading disease with overhead watering.

Check container gardens daily. Water thoroughly, until excess water exits through the drainage hole, whenever the top few inches of potting mix are dry. Succulents like to go a bit drier while moisture-loving plants prefer evenly moist soil.

Continue weeding throughout the summer. These unwanted plants compete for water and nutrients. Many are hosts for insects and disease, attracting them to the landscape and putting your garden plants at greater risk.

Remove faded flowers (deadhead) to improve the plant's appearance, encourage more flowers or prevent reseeding. Self-cleaning plants like impatiens, cuphea and calibrachoa need no deadheading to keep blooming. Columbine, Amsonia, and bee balm are a few perennials that produce lots of seedlings. Deadhead these and other plants that produce more seedlings than you desire. Stop deadheading perennials in late summer or early fall to allow seed heads to form. The seed heads add winter interest and many attract songbirds to the garden.

Use twigs, decorative stakes, or other supports to keep tall, floppy plants standing tall in the garden. Take time to mask functional supports so staked plants still look their best. Consider decorative stakes or convert found items into garden art that adds interest while keeping your plants upright.

Don't fret when some of your annuals stop blooming during the hotter days of summer. Lobelia, French marigolds, and sweet alyssum are a few annuals that may stop flowering (heat stall) during hot weather. Continue to water and trim back as needed. Then wait for cooler temperatures and flowers to return.

Add a few hanging baskets or containers for extra color and pizzazz. Place containers and hanging baskets in lackluster garden areas like the front entrance, next to the patio or anywhere a bit of fresh color is needed.

Employ a few or all of these strategies to keep your garden looking its best. You will be amazed at the big impact such small efforts can provide.
