Village seeks $30 Mil in Fed funds

"If you don't A-S-K, you don't G-E-T." Old salesman's adage.

The Village of Salado has certainly done that recently by submitting requests for more than $30 million in federal funds for sidewalks, drainage, road improvements and sewage projects.

The capital improvement project requests were submitted to U.S. Rep. John Carter's office as he prepares to submit proposals for funding in the upcoming federal budget process.

Rep. Carter's staff will review the projects to determine if any will be included in the congressman's funding proposal.

The Main Street Pedestrian Safety and Accessibility Walkway Project will involve the construction of an ADA-accessible walkway over Salado Creek. The current walkway, attached to the 1921 Main Street Bridge, "is unable to handle the large crowds that frequent the business district. The narrowness of the existing walkway prohibits two-way pedestrian traffic, often resulting in pedestrians, strollers, wheelchairs, and mobility aids spilling out onto the roadway," according to the request for $2.75 million in federal funds to build a separate walkway structure adjacent to the TxDOT bridge over Salado Creek.

The Royal Street Improvement Project will include ADA accessible sidewalks, decorative street lights and associated minor drainage improvements on Royal Street from Main St. to Smith Branch.

"Royal Street is a substandard Village-owned arterial roadway that carries more than 2,400 vehicles a day. That traffic count is projected to almost double in the near future because of growth in the Village and its ETJ," according to the request for $3 million in federal funds. The Village recently received $1 million in funds from the Killeen-Temple Metropolitan Planning Organization for reconstruction of the roadway's surface.

Enhancement Project ty ($650,000) would put sidewalks on one side of the street in three areas: Mill Creek Drive, Old Mill Road and Pace Park Rd.

The project would include minimal drainage improvements and construction of an estimated 6,050 feet of sidewalk on one side of the street for the following thoroughfares:

• Mill Creek Drive from N. Main Street to Chisholm Trail - 1,830 feet of sidewalk.

• Old Mill Road from Willow Creek Road to Chisholm Trail – 2,120 feet of sidewalk.

• Pace Park Road from Main Street to Main Street -2,100 feet of sidewalk.

The Stagecoach Circle/ Chisholm Trail Improvement Project is estimated at $7 million. The project will prevent flooding by directing stormwater away from homes while at the same time reducing soil erosion, removing toxic materials, and limiting the accumulation of stagnant water, according to the request. "Preliminary assessments indicate there will be a need to install some underground drainage structures in the area along with properly sizing any existing surface drainage structures that will remain," according to the request. It should be noted that compounding the Stagecoach Circle/Chisholm Trail drainage concerns are added stormwater flows generated by the recently completed I-35 Expansion Project," the request stated. "The Village raised the issue with TxDOT in 2017, but TxDOT took no action to resolve the problem at the time."

The West Village Road Development Project will be a redesign of thoroughfare from Thomas Arnold Road to Williams Road at a cost of $5.5 million.

"All the Salado ISD campuses and athletic facilities are located in the area of the subject roadway. In addition, there is an existing mix of occupied commercial and residential properties in the area," according to the request. "Construction is also underway on an 80+ acre mixed-use development that will add another 175 homes and 16 acres of commercial development in the area."

The is partnering with Salado ISD and Bell County to develop a concept plan for West Village Road that will have two travel lanes, a turn lane, underground utilities, drainage improvements, sidewalks and decorative

"The Village has entered into negotiations with a commercial developer regarding the possible acquisition of the developer's membrane wastewater treatment plant and lift station that were recently installed to serve a planned mixed-use development and other residential development on the west side. The permitted treatment capacity is 300,000 gallons per day," according to the request.

that area," the request states.

Automated Low Water Crossing Flood Gates Project is estimated at $150,000.

"The upgrade of the South Ridge Road and Chisholm Trail low water crossings with automatic gates, real time cameras and advance warning lights allows these crossings to be closed to traffic much more quickly, thus potentially saving lives," according to the request.

Bell County Drainage and Flood Study is a request for $6.5 million. The study is "intended to help reduce the risk of flooding throughout Bell County, potentially saving lives and property. Data from the study will be used to help guide regional flood prevention planning efforts. The study will identify future flood mitigation projects throughout Bell County and provide the information needed to help secure state and federal funding for such projects. Also, the study will produce updated FIRMs for Bell County and those municipalities located in Bell County."

Police Chief takes new job in private sector

Village of Salado Police Chief Pat Boone will resign his position effective April 1 in order to accept a corporate security position in the Central Texas area.

At the time the Village hired Boone as the Police Chief, he was the Director of the Central Texas College Police Academy, a position he had held since 2013.

Prior to assuming his position with the College, he spent 17 years with the Killeen Police Department where he rose to the rank of Lieutenant. In his years with the Killeen Police Department, Boone worked as a Patrol Officer, Shift Sergeant, Polygraph Examiner, Detective, SWAT Team Leader, and Supervisor of the Organized Crime Unit.

"While I am disappointed to see Pat leave, I am extremely excited for him and his wife as they enter this next chapter in their lives," Village administrator Don Ferguson stated in a letter to aldermen last week advising them of Boone's departure.

"Next time you run into Pat, please thank him for his service to the Village and wish him the best," Ferguson added.

Markets move to correction, driven by invasion, inflation

The Markets

Our preferred indicator of the U.S. stock market, the S&P 500 Stock Index (SPX), fell another 2.88% for the week ending on March 11, closing at 4204.31. That decline brings it down 11.79% from the beginning of the year and puts it firmly in a "correction." The only good news about the decline is that it was down even more on Tuesday and, despite some significant ups and downs, was relatively stable during the rest of the week. The internal battle between the bears and the bulls is now centered on how much damage the war in Eastern Europe, including the embargos and restrictions of critical commodities, will do to the American economy and associated corporate earnings. The other stock index we follow, the CRSP US Mid-Cap Value Index, closed at 2450.62, down 2.11% for the week and 5.65% year-to-date. The difference between the two indexes' declines is an indicator of where the damage has been done in the stock market. The SPX has been largely driven by large-capitalization, growth companies and that is where the biggest declines have been seen. So far this year, the S&P 500 Growth Index is down 15.8%, marking a stark difference between it and the Mid-Cap Value Index's decline of 5.65%.

crude oil (WTI) fell 5.25% to $109.09, and while it is up nearly 45% this year, remains in the general vicinity of where it was expected to be without the war in Ukraine.

The Economy

The economic headlines for the week continued to be about Russia's invasion of Ukraine and the expected effect of that war and the economic sanctions against Russia on the U.S. and world economies. Amid those headlines came the Labor Department's report that year over year inflation as measured by the Consumer Price Index (CPI), rose to 7.9% for the month of February. Separating the two issues was difficult as at least some of those price rises could be traced to the war.

The CPI 12-month increase was the highest we have seen since 1982, but in many ways bears no resemblance to the wage-price spiral we witnessed in the 1980s. Once more, the price of used cars and trucks led the way, up 41.2% since this time last year. The other big contributor was, unsurprisingly, gasoline and fuel oil, up 38% and 44% respectively. As usual, when we remove the often-volatile food and fuel categories, the number became more rea- are seeing, but for the pressonable, in this case 6.4%. A frequent question we suggest the U.S. economy are getting is, "If the U.S. has the momentum and fuel is now a major oil exporter, why are prices rising here?" The complete answer is complex, but a simplified version goes like this: Russia was recently supplying about 10% of the world oil supply, or about 4.5 million barrels per day. Since it invaded Ukraine, a lot of that supply has been halted. When prices go up in Europe, an oil seller in the U.S. will tend to sell to those buyers who offer the higher prices. To compete, a buyer of oil in the U.S. will have to raise the bid for that oil here at home, thus the price goes up both at the refinery and at the gas pump. The issue is more complex, but that is a major factor. Another critical issue to put this in perspective is that after factoring in today's improved average gas milage and fifty years of inflation, gasoline prices, even at $4.50 per gallon, are cheaper than they were in the 1970s.

The back side to that unpleasant news is that the total net worth of American households rose $5.3 trillion in the 4th quarter of 2021, to over $150 trillion. Even after factoring in inflation through history, that is by far the highest level of wealth ever held by American households. We are adding workers, increasing productivity, and ten of the twelve leading economic indicators remain positive. There is no question that increases in the prices of the commodities exported by Russia and Ukraine such as grains, certain metals, and oil will slow things down and extend the bout of inflation we

Sunshine Week: March 13-19 At the root of democracy: Free flow of information

BY KELLEY SHANNON EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR FREEDOM OF INFORMATION FOUNDATION OF TEXAS

As Ukrainians fight and die for democracy, Russia is arresting its own citizens who are protesting the war and threatening prison for journalists who report the truth.

The attempt to crush a democratic government and stop the flow of information comes as American news organizations and transparency advocates observe Sunshine Week from March 13-19, a time for highlighting government openness and a free press.

Certainly, let's commemorate the freedom of information we enjoy – and constantly strive to improve - in the United States. But it's imperative to contrast it with what's happening around the world and understand how devastating it is when a government allows only its own tightly controlled version of events to trickle out.

Earlier this month, Vladimir Putin's government changed its domestic media laws to make it a crime to distribute what it deemed to be "false news" about the war. Doing so could mean up to 15 years behind bars. Many news organizations pulled journalists out of the country or shut their operations; the government also cut off access to major social media sites, the Neiman Journalism Lab reported in its thorough rundown on the severe restrictions.

The censorship amounts to an "information dark age," according to the Committee to Protect Journalists, which called on journalists everywhere to stand in opposition.

Thwarting free speech isn't only happening in Russia. We simply need to think back to the Olympics a few weeks ago to remember the spotlight on China's crackdowns on dissent and free expression and its control of internet content. And, of course, there are other examples.

It's astounding – and a lesson for us all.

Blocking information is a favorite weapon of authoritarian regimes. Information is essential for democracy to flourish. The ability to examine public records and tune in to independent news sources enables us to speak out and hold our leaders accountable.

In our state, we are fortunate that the Texas Public Information Act, originally known as the Open Records Act, was established in the early 1970s to ensure citizens have the right to watch over government. It gives us the ability to obtain public documents and largely forces state and local officials who want to withhold information to argue to the attorney general's office - an umpire, of sorts - as to why information should be kept secret. The law presumes all records are open unless a specific exemption in law states otherwise.

In short, the Texas law is intended to give an advantage to the individual information requestor, not the government, unlike some states' information laws.

Public officials are only the custodians of our public records. They do not get to tell us what information we have a right to view. Texans want to see basic police reports, documents relating to a local school district's property purchase and a state university's athletics consulting contract. That's just a small sampling of how our state's Public Information Act is used.

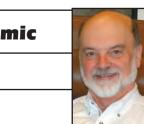

The law is not perfect. There has been incremental weakening of it over the years, but open government supporters work every legislative session with lawmakers of both political parties to strengthen the act. We should fight with all our might to protect it.

In the end, in a democracy, the people get to judge their leaders and decide whether they will remain in office or get voted out. The free flow of information is the people's path to questioning authority. That, ultimately, is real power.

"Grief Share" Groups Starting in Salado

If you are struggling with grief, or if others might be suggesting you talk to someone about your loss of a loved one, we are here for you. Grace Church Salado is offering an opportunity to help you while you grieve. Grief Share, a 14-week program, is now enrolling and open to all those in the greater Salado community who are grieving a personal loss. Due to the success of the fall sessions, and requests for a morning session; two sessions will be offered this spring. Tuesday evening sessions - start March 22, 6:30 - 8:30 p.m. Thursday morning sessions – start March 24 10 – noon. Grief Share consists of a network of 15,000- churches worldwide equipped to offer grief support groups. The program is nondenominational and features biblical concepts for healing from a person's grief. Each support group meets weekly; where the typical program consists of instructional videos, small group discussions, and workbook activities. As each session is a "self-contained" module, individuals can join in at any of the 14 sessions. The only cost would be for the workbook ($20). Leading the Salado group is Mary Hendrix, MTh., who has served for over 20 years as a hospice Chaplain. For questions on the Grief Share program in Salado, please contact Mary Hendrix at 858-232-4692.

When the double would be for penalties, four notrump is used as a takeout, asking partner to bid his best suit. Naturally, the four-notrump bidder should have substantial high-card values for this bid, since he is forcing his partner to respond on the five-level.

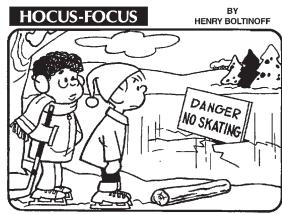

Once upon a time, many years ago, the legendary Harry Fishbein was playing in a high-stakes rubber-bridge game opposite a similarly illustrious partner and held the South hand. His four-notrump bid was well below par; he should have had at least three or four more high-card points.

His famous partner had never heard of four notrump being used as a takeout bid in this situation, and so failed to bid five spades over West's double of four notrump. Fishbein's redouble was intended to emphasize that he still wanted his partner to choose a suit. But again North failed to bid five spades (which was ice-cold). So Fishbein played the hand at four notrump redoubled, and lost seven hearts and three clubs to go down seven — 4,000 points!

The next day, North was overheard telling a friend about the gigantic catastrophe. "Imagine that Fishbe-in," he said. "I didn't even open my mouth, and he goes down 4,000!"
