

Village in talks to buy sewer

BY TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

The Village may pursue purchasing a 50,000 gallon per day wastewater treatment plant that currently sits outside of the Village limits but within the extra-territorial jurisdiction of the Village.

There have been preliminary discussions between the Village and Celts International, the owner of the treatment plant located on a proposed development of more than 60 acres at the corner of FM 2484 and I-35. The southern portion of the property is in the Village ETJ while a northern portion is in the Belton ETJ.

Discussions have been for the Village to buy the plant for $100,000 with future payments to the developer coming from impact fees and sewage fees until the developer's costs ($5 million) are recovered.

Village administrator Don Ferguson told aldermen at their Sept. 15 meeting that the village has discussed the possibilities with the developer over the past week. "It opens a whole lot of opportunities to bring to that area," he said.

The Village would have to work with the city of Belton to release its portion of ETJ to the Village so that the property could then be annexed into Salado.

"That plant offers some significant opportunity. Right now we pump waste across the city and up the hill. As the area grows, we are not interested in pumping entire west side up the hill," Ferguson said. "We need to have a plant on the west side. There is going to be a lot of growth on the west side."

Salado Police Chief Gary McHone and officer Sam Mikeska were recognized at the Sept. 15 Village Board of Aldermen meeting with the Life Saving Award Officer Mikeska and Chief McHone responded to a report of a medical emergency involving an unconscious individual at a local residence Aug. 19. Both of these officers took life-saving measures by initiating and performing CPR on the individual. The individual was transported by EMS to an area hospital. (COURTESY PHOTO)

Local man seeks bone marrow transplant for multiple sclerosis

BY TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Walt Tollefson needs our help.

The long-time Saladoan is seeking a specialized treatment not currently available in the United States to halt the progression of the multiple sclerosis that he was diagnosed with several years ago. The treatment is a bone marrow transplant that utilizes the patient's own hematopoietic stem cells rather than the marrow of a matching donor.

In layman's terms, the hematopoietic stems cells are harvested from the person and are used to restore the normal hematopoiesis of the patient after that patient has been exposed to high dose chemotherapy delivered to aim immunosuppression.

About a month ago, Walt came to me to talk about the treatment and what it would mean to him. "It will stop this disease," he said.

For the last seven years, I have watched Walt as the multiple sclerosis has rapidly progressed. In the early 2010s, Walt was hiking four to six miles a day from his house that sits on a wet weather creek next to Bill Hall. He and his wife of 38 years keep their horses Travler (who is a miracle story in himself, but save it for another day) and Ruby, a giant, black Percheron and dogs and tend a garden.

Walt and I go way back, which is why I am telling his story to my readers in hopes that they will help him to reach a goal of $65,000 to pay for the treatment, travel, lodging and a caregiver.

Marilyn and I have known Walt and Karen Tollefson for the better part of 30 years here in Salado, Texas. About 20 years ago, he saved our business, the Salado Village Voice newspaper! At the time, he had just started a computer repair business when I came to him in desperation with a dead file server containing all the newspaper archives, customer files, pages, photos, stories and image files. We were sunk. He was able to recover the data for us and build a new file server and backup system, making it possible for us to continue in business.

Up until the mid-2010s, Walt worked on computers for small businesses and residents in the Salado area. He was a one man mobile shop who probably rescued hundreds of others who found themselves in the dire situation that Marilyn and I were in when a computer turns into a brick. He built systems for my house and my business and was someone I could call regardless of the time. Most of his customers knew him that way. They were his friends and he was a rescuer. Forget Saul, you better call Walt.

But then in 2014, an opportunity came up that would allow him to retrain as a pilot, and return to his first love of flight. While he was training for a regional airline, he had a seizure and lost consciousness in midair. Thankfully he was not flying the plane at the time. However, this led to several months of doctors trying to determine what was causing the seizure, loss of feelings in limbs and so on.

He was finally correctly diagnosed as having Multiple Sclerosis. Since then, the disease has progressed to the point that he now uses a wheelchair full-time. His long-term prognosis is bleak. He has lost the use of his legs as well as his left hand and arm, yet he still finds a way and finds joy in tending a sizeable garden, his giant horse Ruby and his dog, while hugging his wife of 38 years Karen.

About a month ago, Walt found what he believes is an answer to his prayers, through a bone marrow transplant. This treatment is offered through Clinica Ruiz in Mexico. The treatment requires a 28-day stay in Puebla, Mexico with a full-time caregiver on hand. His wife Karen will not be able to stay the entire time, so Walt will need to hire a caregiver while he is there recovering from the treatment. You

Consumer Price Index up 8.3%, setting off drop in markets

The Markets

It was a rough week in the stock market. The S&P 500 Stock Index (SPX) fell 4.77% to close at 3873.33. That left it down about 19.2% from its high back in January, up 5.63% from its low point in June, and down 12.62% from this time last year. Looking longer term, as we do, the SPX is now up 35.27% from this time back in 2019, before the pandemic, and perhaps more impressively, up over 73% from where it was in March 2020, only about two and a half years ago. The stated reason for the fall this week was that the trailing one-year CPI inflation number came in only slightly lower than it did last month. More on that below. Our other followed stock index, the CRSP Mid-Cap Value Index, dropped 4.88% for the week to 2294.29 and is now down 11.66% from its high in January and 5.97% from a year ago.

The benchmark 10-year U.S. Treasury note yield rose an impressive 4.3% to 3.455% for the week. With the 2-year yield standing at 3.85%, the 2-10-year yield curve is again decidedly negative. The yield curve beyond 10-years remains resolutely positive causing the yield curve indicator to be a mixed signal. West Texas Intermediate crude oil (WTI) prices were stable, falling about 1% for the week, to $85.27 per barrel. Markets are behaving oddly, note that bonds, the supposedly reliable alternative to stocks, are down about as much this year as stocks with the Bloomberg Aggregate Bond Index down about 15%, and even gold, widely hailed as a hedge against inflation, is down over 18% from its high in March.

The Economy

The gorilla in the markets this week was clearly the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) announcement that their Consumer Price Index (CPI-U) was up 8.3% from a year ago with even the core CPI, where food and energy are not counted,

Market & Economic Update

By Jeffrey W. McClure

up 6.3%. That report was widely quoted as the reason for the stock market decline with the underlying argument being that with inflation that high, the Federal Reserve was almost certainly going to raise interest rates too far and strangle the economy. Even a short glance at the actual report, rather than the headlines, seems to us to tell a different story. For starters, the one-year rate was lower than last month. Then, there was the, to us glaring, issue that the monthly inflation rate for July was 0% and for August was a mere 0.1%. Yes, for both months, energy fell 7.6% and then 10.1%, but the inflation wave was led by energy as petroleum costs soared following Russia's invasion of Ukraine and it took a few months to filter through to prices in general. Almost everything we use in our economy has an energy cost component, so it is reasonable to see the price of just about everything go up a couple of months after the price of oil rises as it did from about $75 per barrel last fall to $120 in June. With the price of oil down about 40% from its high, we are not surprised to see an end to month-to-month high inflation. Yes, given the labor shortages and wages rising at an annualized rate of about 5% for the past six months, we expect the Federal Reserve to kick rates up to the 3% or even 4% range, but it is also clear that the underlying cause of this inflation spike, the cost of fuel, has ceased to be a factor.

Another issue that worried the markets this week was another Labor Department news release where good news is bad news. New jobless claims for the week ending on Sep. 10 were only 213,000. If we take out the seasonal adjustment, the nominal claims were just under 156,000 compared with almost 266,000 a year ago. Employers are simply not laying off very many workers and that suggests a very strong economy. Unfortunately, with the unemployment rate at only 3.7%, there was a fear that the Fed will feel free to really put the pressure on the economy to slow things down.

Then came another report, this time from the Commerce Department, that retail spending rose 0.3% in August, an annualized rate of 3.6%. Retail sales are the biggest factor in our GDP, so, again, there was evidence of a hot-running economy. To confuse things even more, the Producer Price Index for final demand, a measure of wholesale prices, dropped 0.1% for the month with the price of goods falling 1.2% and the price of services up 0.4%. Giving weight to that report was the news, again from the BLS, that the price of imports to the U.S. fell 1%. Monthly import prices have been falling since April of this year. Those numbers are important because price increases in imports, like that of petroleum, have led the domestic inflation numbers consistently.

The more we look at the total picture, the more it looks like the inflation spike we have seen was just that, and not the entrenched long-term inflation monster we had to fight in the early 1980s. We are hoping that if there is no monster to fight the Fed will not need to take severe action and we will have the soft landing to which Chairman Powell has referred, as the economy cools a bit but doesn't stall out.

Angelic Herbs marks 26 years

To the Editor:

Anniversaries seem to encourage a time of reflection. While preparing for my 26th Anniversary business celebration, I reviewed the sales tax information in the Salado Village Voice. Sadly my business is not contributing to those numbers as much as it once did.

Starting out in business the challenge was to beat the 5 year odds as it was often predicted new businesses fail in less than 5 years. Somehow I was blessed to survive the first 5 years in spite of the threat and the smoke from fire in the business next door, being in the path of the tornado that hit Jarrell, and 9/11. In the following years the National recession, floods, highway construction and challenges with caregiving for aging parents plus business locations also presented challenges. Like other small business owners the love of what I do gave me the strength to survive while not always thriving. This last round with Covid, internet shopping, and the increased operating costs have been especially tough on small retail business owners. Some have moved on to retirement or the next chapter of their life. Several have mentioned the influx of shoppers once they decided to close and wondered why they had not seen those same shoppers while they were struggling to stay open. Fortunately the Wellness area of my business has sustained a little better.

Some would say it is time to retire. But though loving what I do, using my lifetime of experience and consistently learning more ways to help people achieve their next level of Wellness would make doing so a waste of what I have to offer. To be very transparent, I am committed to help those who continue to come to me for support (though I also desire to serve others as well). Working in retail since I was about six years old, I love helping people find just the right thing to fulfill their needs or satisfy their hearts desire.

When I first moved here I would often go in to Austin to fulfill my needs though quickly learned if I just took a moment to get familiar with Salado, I could find what I needed right here. Like some of my business owner friends who have moved on, I would like to get to know you more now instead of when I might have to write a letter sharing my sadness in having to close.

In the meantime, I invite each of you to come by during my 26th Anniversary celebration if nothing more than to revisit or visit for the first time. I settled on a more low key smaller extended celebration to reduce the chance of more experiencing the discomfort of Covid. Please see my ad in this weeks paper for Celebration Hours...of course, every day I am in business is a celebration.

In Ukraine, There's No Substitute for Hard Power

The ongoing Ukrainian counter-offensive, if successful, could reshape the war and the geopolitical contours of Europe.

It is a testament to Ukrainian pluck and staying power but, above all, to the advanced weapons that the West has put in the hands of the Ukrainians.

Soft power, the coinage of political scientist Joseph Nye for the ability of a country to get others to do what it wants without coercion, is important; hard power is absolutely indispensable.

This is easy to forget in a West that believes deeply in democratic ideals and moral example. Even if it is true, as optimists believe, that the arc of moral history bends toward justice, an armored division can smash and bend it back.

The history of the West is in part the history of arms races, in fortresses, cannons, ships, rifles, aircrafts and much else.

Empires have risen and fallen on the strength of military hardware. Cities have conquered or been destroyed. Armies have triumphed or dissolved.

After the Russian invasion of Ukraine, Volodymyr Zelenskyy had bucketfuls of soft power. He was the most admired man in the world. He spoke at the United Nations, to Congress and other national legislative bodies, and even at the Grammys. What did that get him? It helped solidify the good will of Western countries, which was essential. He constantly tried to leverage that sentiment, though, for the hardheaded priority of more weapons.

Rich Lowry

Zelenskyy could still be admired in death, or in a Russian prison, or as an exile. Yet, if he wanted to continue to be admired as the leader of an independent country, he needed sheer firepower.

Ukraine's cause hasn't gotten any more just or inspiring over the last couple of months; it's gotten better armed.

Ukraine couldn't win a straight-up artillery fight with the Russians, and in fact it was losing one in a grinding war of attrition. A HIMARS, or high mobility artillery rocket system, versus artillery fight, though, is a different matter.

The Ukrainians have used these long-range, precision systems provided by the U.S. to hit Russian artillery parks, ammunition dumps and logistical hubs. The strikes have caused breakdowns in Russia's fuel and ammunition supplies as well as in the cohesion of its troops and command-and-control.

The Ukraine war has been a conflict of stark phases and strategic adjustments and re-adjustments. The Russians will presumably have their answer to the current Ukrainian push, and if they don't, one reason will be that they are running out of those pillars of hard power

-- men and materiel.

Paul Lockhart writes in "Firepower," his book about the history of weapons of war: "Technological sophistication and military might are, to be sure, not synonymous but closely connected, and military might is a vital factor in the calculus of international relations. Great powers tend to have great weapons, or at least a lot of really good weapons."

We should be mindful of this, not just in the assistance we provide to Ukraine but in our priorities for ourselves. Our military budget needs to be much bigger, and our defense industrial base is wholly insufficient to the new, more threatening international environment. We would run out of rockets quickly in a war with China. Even supporting Ukraine at the current level has been a strain.

The United States is a marvel of soft power, binding allies to us, attracting people all over the world who want to come here, and reaching the most far-flung places in the world. What we've been able to provide Ukraine that has been most telling, though, hasn't been diplomatic or moral support, rather a system that can put a rocket directly on a target up to 50 miles away.

That's been the game changer, as better, more sophisticated military technology has always been from long bows, to arquebuses, to fighter jets. There is simply no substitute for hard power. Rich Lowry is editor of the National Review. (c) 2022 by King Features Synd., Inc.

can find out more about the treatment by visiting <https://www.hsctmexico.com>. According to the Clinica Ruiz website, Doctor Ruiz Argüelles and Doctor Gómez-Almaguer have performed more than 3,000 HSCT procedures during more than 20 years for hematological and autoimmune diseases, out of which over 900 have been for MS. Positive results have been achieved in over 78% of patients transplanted at Clinica Ruiz, which includes both relapsing and progressive patients. Walt found out two weeks ago that he qualifies medically for the treatment. Now he has until November to raise $55,000 for the treatment. The additional $10,000 will cover his and Karen's travel, as well as the cost for the full-time caregiver and other unforeseeable costs (lodging and caring for his animals while Karen visits, lodging for Karen, etc.). Walt and Karen were full-time caregivers to Karen's parents in their final years. Karen has not been able to return to work as she is full-time caregiver for Walt since he began to lose his mobility as the MS progressed. Walt hopes to stop the progress of the disease and to regain some of his mobility and quality of life. If you know Walt, you know how strong and how deep his faith in God remains. He continues to have that Dennis the Menace smile and infectious laugh. He has accepted his mortality but wants to hold on to his wife for longer than the doctors have given him (18 months to two years) without this treatment.

I have established a Go Fund Me for Walt (<https://gofund.me/9a74ae78>) as well as a medical benefit fund account in his name at the Salado Horizon Bank. You can also bring a check or cash to the newspaper office at 213 Mill Creek Dr., Suite #125, Salado, TX 76571 or mail payment to Salado Village Voice, PO Box 587, Salado, TX 76571.

If you have known Walt from his years of working on computers, being in the Masonic Lodge or the Rotary Club (where he delivered flags for more than a dozen years), or being a show-stealing walk-on character in the annual Salado Legends play, this is the time to show him your love.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♦	Pass
1 ♥	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
1 NT	Pass	3 NT

Opening lead — ten of spades.

This deal was played many years ago in a tournament in Vienna. It features an exceptional defensive play by West, who laid a clever trap for declarer and then had the satisfaction of watching him fall right into it.

After bidding all four suits at the one-level, North-South arrived at three notrump. West decided that the best hope to defeat the contract was to find his partner with strength behind dummy's spades. So he led the spade ten, which declarer ducked to East's queen. East then shifted to a low club, taken by dummy's queen.

South had eight tricks — a spade, four diamonds and three clubs — and concluded that the best chance for a ninth lay in developing a heart trick. So at trick three, he led the ten of hearts from dummy, on which East played the three and South the five. But instead of taking the trick with the jack, West followed smoothly with the deuce!

This apparent stroke of good fortune had the desired effect on South. Convinced that East must have the jack of hearts, declarer led another heart toward his Q-9-8 in an attempt to score an over-trick. The second heart lead met with a cordial reception from West, who proceeded to cash four heart tricks for down one. His brilliant duck of the first heart trick had lured a greedy South down the road to disaster.

Of course, declarer could have romped home with nine tricks after the ten of hearts held. But how many players would be able to resist the temptation to try for an extra trick once the heart jack was "proven" to be with East? As for West, had he taken the first heart trick, South could not have been stopped from making the contract.

Academy hands Eagles 37-15 Homecoming loss

By JOHNNY WHEELER
SPECIAL CONTRIBUTOR

The Salado Eagles hosted the Academy Bumblebees in a Homecoming match-up that featured two teams with a mirror-image offensive philosophy. The only noticeable difference was Academy's Quarterback Kasey Mraz is a lefty. A packed Eagles Stadium was rocking as these two rivals, whose stadiums sit about 10 miles apart as the eagle flies, squared off in an east Bell County showdown.

The game slipped away from the home team in eight decisive minutes. Salado QB Luke Law found Caden Strickland on a 12-yard scoring pass to pull within two at 17-15 with 2:39 to play in the third quarter. Academy would answer with a quick-strike 59-yard touchdown pass from Mraz to a wide open Zane Clark down the left sideline, and after the kick the Bees led 24-15. With seven seconds to play in the third quarter, Mraz engineered a time-consuming drive on the next Academy possession, capping it off with a one-yard TD and the lead was 16 with six minutes to play, 31-15, ending the 8-minute of game clock which doomed the Eagles.

On this Homecoming night Salado won the toss and elected to receive. A two and one-half minute drive gave Salado an early lead. Seth Reavis returned the opening kickoff to the Eagles' 47. After two passes set up first down at the 21, Law, Kase Maedgen and Reavis combined on carries to set up first down at the two. Law powered to the end zone for the first touchdown of the game and it was 6-0.

The point after attempt was a great example of heads-up play as holder Drew Bird picked up the fumbled snap, rolled left and hit Tight End Garrett Combs with a perfect "Fire" pass for the two-point conversion and an 8-0 Salado lead with 9:23 to play in the first quarter.

The two squads traded short possessions before Academy answered after recovering an Eagle fumble at the Salado 21 with 7:44 to play in the first quarter. The Eagle defense stiffened, with Dillon Combs and Adam Benavides keying a defensive effort, helping force a 21-yard field goal which cut it to 8-3 Salado at the 4:56 mark of quarter number one.

Salado's next possession looked promising when Law hit Reavis with a 25-yard pass to set up first down at the Eagle 40. An apparent strike deep into Academy territory was erased by an offensive pass interference penalty, forcing a Salado punt.

Academy wasted no time in taking the lead which it would not relinquish. Starting on his 32 Mraz sandwiched short runs with a pass to reach the Salado 49. Senior running back Zane Ward, who entered the game as his team's leading rusher with 229 yards in three games, added to that total when he swept right, picked up key blocks, and rambled 49 yards to paydirt. The kick made it 10-8 late in the first quarter.

A holding penalty and a quarterback sack thwarted the next Salado possession, and after trading punts, the Eagles drove to the Academy 16, only to have a promising drive halted by two big defensive hits and an offensive holding penalty. The Bees took over at their 42, with a pass from Mraz to Scott Brazeal setting up first down at the Eagle 39 with 1:18 to play in the first half. A pass to Ward at the one set up a Mraz touchdown, and Academy took a 17-8 lead to intermission.

Salado High School's Homecoming Court was introduced at halftime, and Tyler Anderson was named as Homecoming King, with Amy Ortiz named Homecoming Queen.

Salado forced a punt on Academy's first possession of the second half, with the Eagles taking over near midfield following a Bee punt. The drive stalled, and a 47-yard field goal try was no good with 8:24 left in the third quarter. Salado's Bird and Dusty Rhiddlehoover keyed a defensive stand on Academy's next possession, setting the stage for an 84-yard Eagle TD drive starting at 5:19 to play in the third period.

Law passed 12 yards to Roman Law, then connected with Strickland for 24. Strickland capped the drive with a 12-yard scoring pass from Law to cut it to 17-15 with 2:39 to play in the third quarter. The next eight minutes mentioned earlier would contribute to the Homecoming crowd going away thinking about what might have been.

After Academy took a 31-15 lead midway through the final quarter, the Bee defense took over, quickly forcing a punt. Academy took over at the Salado 43 with 5:16 to play. Ward led the final scoring drive, with a 33-yard scamper to the Salado 4, followed by a TD reception from Mraz to make it 37-15 after the kick failed.

Academy and Salado both have 2-2 records now.

Cavahn Wilson led the Eagles defense with 8 tackles and 3 tackles for loss (TFL).

Garrett Combs had 5 tackles and 4 assisted tackles (AT). Davis Graham made 5 tackles and 3 ATs. Drew Bird made 6 tackles and an AT. Adam Benavides made 4 tackles, 3 ATs; AJ Fach made 5 tackles; Dusty Rhiddlehoover made 3 tackles, 2 ATs. Lincoln Hossfeld made 3 tackles, an AT and an interception; Dillon Combs and Nolan Miller made 2 tackles and an AT each; Darisu Wilson made a tackle and 2 ATs.

The Eagles face a tough test Sept. 23 as they travel to Boerne to meet the #5 ranked Greyhounds, who moved to 4-0 with a huge 52-27 win over Gregory-Portland Friday. Academy travels to Troy next week.

JV Eagles 28
Academy JV 14

Salado JV Eagles scored 14 points in the fourth quarter to notch their first win over the season, beating Academy 28-14 on the road Sept. 15.

Navis Miranda scored on a 40 yard run in the second quarter. The Eagles trailed 14-7 at the half.

Salado tied the score in the third on a 55-yard catch and run by Korbin Konarik.

Miranda added two more touchdowns in the fourth, both short runs of 3 yards each.

Miranda and Konarik led the Eagles offense.

Caleb Dockray and Isaac Ramirez led the defense.

"The Eagles did a great job this week bouncing back after a touch loss to Lake Belton the week before" Coach Robbie Gillen said. "The Eagle defense gave the offense great field position all night, helping us beat the Bees."

Salado 9th 18
Harker Heights 14

Salado jumped out to an early lead on a 12 yd touchdown run by Devonte Foster. The PAT was blocked by Harker Heights making the score 6-2 in the 1st Quarter. In the 2nd quarter both teams would score, as Heights would take the lead on a 4 yard touchdown. The 2 pt conversion failed and the score was 8-6 Heights. Right before the half, Salado would take the lead on a 4 yd touchdown run by Luke Bausser. The 2 pt conversion would fail and the Eagles took the lead into half 12-8. The Eagles would add another touchdown in the 3rd quarter on 35 yard pass from Hudson Oglesby to Levi Ball. Once again the 2 pt conversion would fail and the score was now 18-8 for the Eagles. Late in the 4th quarter, Heights would answer with their own 11 yard touchdown run to bring the score to 18-14 for the Eagles. Heights would attempt a 2 pt conversion, but once again were unsuccessful.

Offensively the Eagles were lead by Damonte Foster who had 15 carries for 72 yards. Defensively the Eagles were lead by Michael Edmondson who recorded 9 tackles.

Salado had 165 yards rushing and 96 yards passing for a total of 261. Heights had 157 yards rushing and 32 yards passing for a total of 189.

The Eagles are currently 3-0 and return home this week for a game against Boerne that will start 4:30 p.m. Sept. 22.

8th grade A

After punting on their first possession the Eagles took control of the game by scoring the second time they had the ball. Daniel Hernandez ran in from 6 yards and Landan Noske added the conversion for an 8-0 lead. Hernandez added to the score with a 32 yard run in the second quarter. Julian Gerena bumped the score to 16-0 with the conversion. Gerena hit Noske with an eleven yard pass as time ran out in the first half but the conversion failed. Early in the 4th quarter Salado added to their 22-0 lead when Braden Heber hit SC Inman for a 36 yard touchdown pass. The kick failed. Later Noske intercepted a pass and returned it for the Eagles final score. Academy scored late on a long pass and was successful on the conversion for the final 34-6 score.

A combined 7 & 8 B team tied Academy 14-14. 8th grader Webb White scampered in from 6 yards out to start the scoring. The conversion failed. Academy came back and took an 8-6 lead. In the 2nd quarter 7th grader Jackson Tracy had a 48 yard run for a touchdown and Brendan Baird ran the conversion across for a 14-8 lead. Academy returned the ensuing kickoff for a TD but failed on the conversion to tie the game at 14.

Lady Eagles win 13 of last 15

Salado's Varsity squad has won 13 of their last 15 including six straight. The girls hosted the visiting Lady Mustangs of Marble Falls in a non-district match on Sept. 16.

Salado wasted no time coming out swinging in a dominating 25-10 first set victory behind a diverse offensive attack. The second set would get off to a bit slower start before the Lady Eagles settled in and moved to a commanding 2-0 set lead with a 25-13 win. Errors would catch up with Salado as they let Marble Falls steal the third 19-25 before turning on the gas again in the fourth to put away the Lady Mustangs 25-13. 6 rotation OH Reese Rich led all attackers with 15 followed closely by S/RS Livia Niu (12) and MB Macy Morris (10). Across from Niu was Haleigh Wilk who finished the night with 18 assists and 2 blocks. DS' Katey Bartek and Grace Clemons had a great night getting balls up.

The Lady Eagles moved to 19-14 and look forward to keeping the momentum going against former district opponent, Georgetown Gateway Tuesday night. Results were past press deadline.

JV Red (20-4)

The JV Red team won comfortably in two over the Lady Mustangs 25-9 and 25-12. Strong serving by London Woods backed by clean defense and Marble Falls never had much of a window. OH Karlee had some big swings on the night as well.

JV White (14-8)

It was a tighter match in the JV White gym, but the Lady Eagles still prevailed in two (25-19, 25-22). It was a great team effort from everyone and Coach Vasquez is pleased with the progress.

The Lady Eagles move to 19-14 and look to keep the momentum going as district play will begin district play this week hosting Waco La Vega on Sept. 23 and traveling to Waco Conally on Sept. 27.

Walk to End Alzheimer's is World's Largest Event Dedicated to Alzheimer's Care, Support and Research

BELTON, TX, 9/20/22 – The Alzheimer's Association is inviting Bell County area residents to join the fight to end Alzheimer's by participating in the Alzheimer's Association Walk to End Alzheimer's® on October 8 at Liberty Park in Belton, Texas.

On Walk day, participants honor those affected by Alzheimer's with the poignant Promise Garden ceremony – a mission-focused experience that signifies our solidarity in the fight against the disease. The colors of the Promise Garden flowers represent people's connection to Alzheimer's – their personal reasons to end the disease.

More than 6 million Americans are living with Alzheimer's disease – a leading cause of death in the United States. Additionally, more than 11 million family members and friends provide care to people living with Alzheimer's and other dementias.

In Texas alone, there are more than 400,000 people living with the disease and 1,085,000 caregivers.

This year, the Bell County Walk will feature Lauren Adams, evening anchor of KXXV 25 News, as an emcee. Adams joined KXXV 25 News this summer, having most recently been a senior reporter in Columbia, S.C. Her career spans 20 years and has included numerous journalism awards as well as several Emmy nominations. During Operation Iraqi Freedom, she served as an embedded reporter in Iraq. "We're so excited to have Lauren Adams as the emcee for the Bell County Walk this year," said Christine Casebeer, development director of the Alzheimer's Association Capital of Texas Chapter. "To have her partner with us for the ceremony for the Walk to End Alzheimer's is very special and will be compelling for Walk participants."

Alzheimer's Association Walk to End Alzheimer's® The Alzheimer's Association Walk to End Alzheimer's is the world's largest event to raise awareness and funds for Alzheimer's care, support and research. Since 1989, the Alzheimer's Association mobilized millions of Americans in the Alzheimer's Association Memory Walk®; now the Alzheimer's Association is continuing to lead the way with Walk to End Alzheimer's. Together, we can end Alzheimer's.
