The Salado Chamber of Commerce is partnering with title sponsors R&R Industries and the Stagecoach Inn & Shady Villa Hotel to host the 18th Annual Chamber Golf Tournament on Oct. 18 at the Mill Creek Country Club in Salado with an after party at Johnny's Steaks & BBQ.

This event begins with registration and ticket sales at the Mill Creek Clubhouse at 9:30 a.m. The tournament kicks off with a $50,000 Putting Challenge scheduled at 10:30 a.m.. To win the golfer must be very good or super lucky to make three consecutive putts of 10, 30, and 50 feet. Two additional putting challenges will also occur during this exciting new event. One of the putting challenges is sponsored by McLane Intelligent Solutions, a division of the McLane Group.

The Helicopter Ball Drop sponsored by Horizon Bank begins at 11:30 a.m. with Freedom Air flying their Robinson R44 aircraft over the golf course and dropping over 1000 marked golf balls. The ball closest to the hole will award the numbered winner $1,000. Raffle tickets for balls can be purchased in lots of 5 tickets for $20 or 1 ticket for $10 at the event or at www.salado.com.

The shotgun start for the golf tournament is at noon with registered teams of four players. The team fees include four players for $400,

Benefit set Oct. 15 for Salado native who is battling cancer

Friends are family are uniting around Salado native Tom Gidley, Jr. who is fighting cancer.

Steven Jackson, who grew up with Tom and went all 12 grades in Salado schools with him, is working with other classmates and lifelong friends for a fundraiser at Jack's Barn, 525 Pace Park Rd. on Oct. 15.

The event will kick off at 11 a.m. with $10 barbecue plates for sale throughout the day. "We'll be cooking it up ourselves," Jackson said. "There's Alex Berumen and several of us working on that."

A silent auction will feature gift baskets and cards from many of the shops in town. There will also be a live auction.

Some of the auction items include these:

- A sponsor table for six at Johnny's Outback concert.

A jewelry set from Salado Creek jewelers

- A Johnny Cash record collection all first pressings 18 total albums.

- A two-hour music session with Christian & Avery

- Horse riding lessons

Follow the Cancer Benefit for Tom Gidley Jr. Page on Facebook for details on silent and live auction items as they come in.

The event will continue into the night with live music by Lance Wade Thomas.

The son of Tom and Gaylen Gidley, Tom is a second generation Saladoan, born and raised in Salado. He graduated from Salado in 1990 and played football and baseball for the Eagles. He played football for the late Dan Wasik and was among the early baseball players for Melvin Bates. "We were in eighth grade when Coach Bates came to Salado," Jackson recalled.

Tom is married to Kelly and they have two children: James Thomas and Amber Nicole.

Like his father before him, Tom has been a lifelong self-employed electrician. He learned the trade working under his father.

He is able to work, but is limited by the effects of the chemotherapy he is undergoing to battle the cancer.

When he isn't working, his passion has been the drums. "He has played with several bands around the area," said Debra Jackson, who is working with her husband Steve to raise funds for the Gidleys. "Such a laid back personality until you get him behind his drums..."

Texas state historian to speak at chili supper

The Salado Historical Society is pleased to announce that Dr. Monte Monroe will speak at its upcoming annual chili supper 5 p.m. Nov. 7, at the Church of Christ Activity Center.

"This is generally a well-attended event due to the popularity of Hulda Horton's delicious chili but you can add this distinguished guest as another reason to attend," said local historian Carol Wilson.

Dr. Monte Monroe is dedicated to the dissemination and preservation of Texas history with an interest so broad that he uses the word "eclectic" to characterize it. In fact, few Texans are more qualified for speaking about Texas history than he. Over his long career — including his current positions as a member of the faculty at Texas Tech, the Archivist of the Southwest Collection and as our Texas State Historian — Monroe has amassed a long list of credentials, including writing credits, a host of professional memberships, and numerous other honors. "Naturally, his services as a speaker are in high demand," Wilson said. "Salado is fortunate to be on this esteemed speaker's agenda in early November."

The Historical Society asks that attendees bring a salad or dessert. Members and guests are welcome.

An Open Exchange of Ideas

Economy has 170 job openings for every 100 unemployed

The Markets
The first week of the new month and new quarter was another one where good news was bad news and the headlines proclaimed things as worse than they were, a not uncommon thing in our memory. Job growth cooled just a bit to extremely good rather than exceptionally good, and, of course, as that announcement was published, the market sagged. The S&P 500 Stock Index, our preferred, if flawed, representative of that amorphous thing called, "the stock market", rose 1.5% to 3639.66, although you would not have guessed it from the headlines. That small rise left it about where it was back in mid-June, down 23.64% year-to-date and 17.12% from one year ago. From a slightly longer perspective, the SPX remains up about 23% from three years ago, and up a whopping 63% from where it was in March of 2020. It is also worth noting that the bull market top just before the pandemic-induced bear market of 2020 was 3386, considerably lower than the market levels we are seeing now in what is decidedly a bear market. Our other followed index, the CRSP US Mid Cap Value Index closed at 2134.66, up about 1.7% but still down 17.81% this year.

The benchmark yield on the 10-year U.S. Treasury note rose 4% to 3.89% while its 2-year sibling climbed to 4.30% keeping the yield curve in a determinedly inverted condition and signaling a recession warning. If anything, the Treasury yield curve became more pessimistic as the 10-year note now has a higher yield than the 30-year bond. The bond market in general is having its worst year in modern history with the Morningstar Core Bond Index down 14.6% this year. The Treasury market is of the opinion that interest rates two and three years

Market & Economic Update

By Jeffrey W. McClure

from now will be in the 4.30% to 4.33% range. With short term rates still in the 3% range, that would suggest a 50% rise in rates is in the offing. The price for a barrel of West Texas Intermediate crude oil shot up almost 17% for the week to $93.20 as Saudi Arabia and Russia issued a joint statement that they were working together and would cut production to increase the price of oil.

The Economy

All other economic news was nearly drowned out by an avalanche of headlines and stories we call "Fed guessing." There had been some hope that when the Labor Department released its Employment Situation Summary on Friday, there would be bad news for jobs which in the upside-down way market traders are seeing things, would be good news. Sadly, for the traders, it appears the American economy continued to grow at a fast clip. Employers added a net, seasonally adjusted 263,000 new employees in September and the unemployment rate fell to 3.5%, tying the 50-year low it hit before the pandemic.

The problem with those otherwise delightful numbers is that to hold its own and have inflation around 2%, our economy should add about 1% per year to the employed population. That equates to about 134,000 net new jobs per month. Adding fuel to the fire, that same report put wage growth at 5% while the Fed's target is around 3.5%. This all may sound complex, but it boils down to a simple formula. 2% inflation plus a 1.5% per year increase in worker productivity equals 3.5% wage growth, and that makes for a well-balanced economy. When there are fewer employees than jobs, competition for those employees drives the price up. Once more the law of supply and demand raises its ugly head.

There was a little negative (good) news in that the number of job openings fell by about 1.1 million in August, meaning that we now only have about 170 job openings for each 100 unemployed workers. On the bright side, businesses were hiring about 600,000 workers each month this spring, so a drop to 263,000 suggests we are headed in the right direction, but we are not even close to being there.

John Williams, the President of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, suggested that interest rates would need to rise to around 4.5% to quell inflation. What does that mean in practical terms? 30-year fixed mortgage rates are currently running at about 7.54% and auto loans are about 6%. If the Fed raises rates 50% from their current level and auto loan and mortgage rates follow suit, as they historically have tended to do, mortgage rates could rise to over 11% and car loans to 9%. If that were to happen, it is likely that house prices would decline significantly, and car sales would crater.

The bottom line here though is still that we have a problem the rest of the world would love to have, a fast-growing economy that is creating more jobs than we have workers. Meanwhile, Europe and China are reporting economic statistics strongly indicating they may already be in recessions. If we had to choose problems, we would want ours and not theirs.

Life is a gift from God. GOP should prove this by protecting children

To the Editor:

Rep. Brad Buckley's campaign website says that he believes "life is a gift from God." And yet ... He voted against extending health benefits after pregnancy. He helped kick Planned Parenthood off college campuses in Texas, despite it being one of the foremost leaders in providing affordable health care—including cancer screening, STI testing, UTI treatments, and well-woman exams—to poor women. TWICE he voted against a measure to stop sexual assaults on college campuses and improve the support victims of sexual assault receive. He voted to block expanding health coverage to 1.4 million uninsured Texans. He voted against improving car seat safety laws.

He voted against a bill requiring HHSC to do a better job preventing illegal childcare operations. He voted to reduce the training required for adoptive and foster parents.

It's easy to jump on a Republican talking point. Apparently it's a lot harder, at least for Rep. Buckley, to take action to protect the well-being of the children and families actually living in his district.

Student Leadership Council at Thomas Arnold has 76 students

Superintendent's Corner

by Dr. Michael Novotny

We have a Student Leadership Council at Thomas Arnold Elementary that is sponsored by school counselor Melissa Wells. We started the program last year and had 55 members. This year it has grown to 76 members and more students are applying each week. The first task of the Leadership Council last year was to assist with student drop off at our elementary school each morning.

Fifth grade students have to meet five qualifications to be selected for the Leadership Council:

- 1) Maintain passing grades on progress reports and report cards in all subject areas
- 2) Maintain a courteous attitude
- 3) Be a good friend
- 4) Be a good role model at school
- 5) No disciplinary issues

Students that meet these qualifications complete an application and obtain recommendations from two of their current teachers. The students also need to complete an essay regarding why they have chosen to apply for the Leadership Council. If a Leadership Council member is not able to meet the qualifications at any time, the student will not be able to continue their Leadership Council duties.

The duties for Leadership Council members have expanded from morning drop off duty to also assisting at breakfast duty and lunch duty. Leadership Council students are available to help open milks, provide napkins and utensils, and assist in opening any items that our younger students aren't able to do yet.

Our Leadership Council meets once a week to discuss the duty schedule and upcoming events. We also have an idea box this year, in which students can submit additional ideas regarding how to help others at the school. The Leadership Council students create flyers of upcoming events, read to younger students, and raise and lower the United States and Texas flags at the school buildings. The most recent project completed by Leadership Council was creating a video to inform students about a fundraiser for the Parent Teacher Organization (PTO).

Students work hard all year and are provided a t-shirt and a field trip as a reward for their service. Anyone willing to make a donation to support the Student Leadership Council is welcome to contact Melissa Wells at melissa.wells@saladoisd.org or 254-947-6943.

Chapman's senior project gifts "In God We Trust" posters

Haley Chapman from Salado ISD is working on a senior project that will add displays of the national motto, "In God We Trust" to her school.

When Haley graduates from high school next year, she will leave behind a lasting reminder of the nation's foundation in faith. Haley is gifting Salado Independent School District with posters depicting the national motto "In God We Trust."

Superintendent Michael Novotny has also given permission for teachers to request these posters for their classrooms. The project is part of a nationwide movement to return displays of the national motto to public buildings, especially public schools. Texas lawmakers passed a

The bidding:

Opening lead — three of diamonds.

This deal occurred in the 1990 world team championship final between Germany and the United States. It arose early in the match and put the Germans, who ultimately won the title, ahead for the first time.

When a German pair held the North-South cards, they stopped at a quiet three notrump, making seven with the aid of no opening spade lead and a couple of diamond finesses.

At the other table, where Charles Coon and Mike Moss of the U.S. sat North-South, the bidding went as shown. West's two spade overcall was pre-emptive, leaving Moss awkwardly placed after Coon bid three hearts. He tried three notrump, which Coon raised to six.

Had West led a spade, South would have been down two before he could blink. However, West (Roland Rohowsky) did not lead a spade, seemingly handing declarer the slam. But Rohowsky's choice of a low diamond lead instead proved to have diabolical consequences.

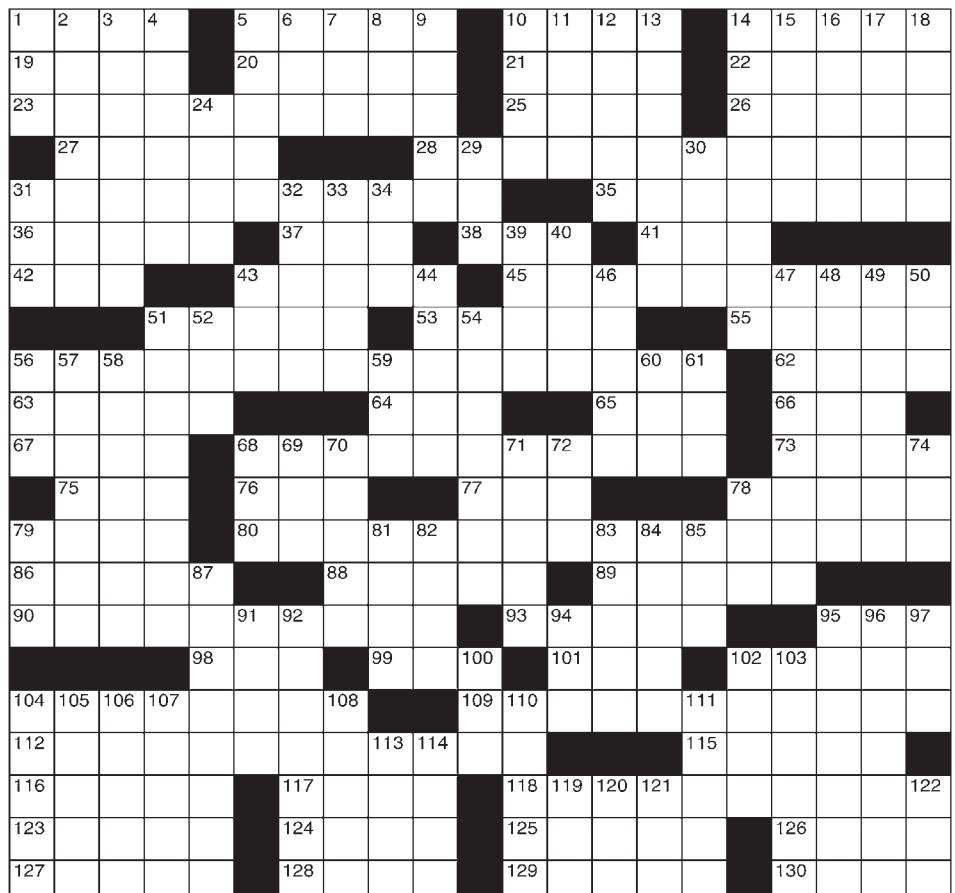

From Moss' perspective, after dummy was tabled, he could count 12 virtually ironclad tricks — six hearts, five clubs and the ace of diamonds. It would therefore have been the height of folly to risk a diamond finesse, which, if it lost, would give the opponents a chance to cash their top spades.

So Moss put up dummy's ace and tried to run the hearts. But when West showed out on the first heart, Moss' six heart tricks quickly shrunk to five, and he finished down one for a team loss of 820 points and 13 IMPs to the Germans.

Eagles start district with win

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

In the first 66 seconds of play, Salado and Robinson both put up touchdowns, combining for 28 points in less than six minutes of play in a raucous and turnover-ridden slugfest at Rocket Field Oct. 7 where the Eagles held on for a 33-24 district win.

Adam Benavides scooped up a Cody Martinez fumble on Robinson's first play from scrimmage and returned it for a 31-yard touchdown. Daniel Chtay kicked the point-after for the Eagles to lead 7-0 at 11:28 in the first.

The Rockets received the ensuing kick-off and on the second play of the drive, Tristyn Blackburn burned his way through the middle of the Salado defense for a 69-yard TD. The PAT tied the game at 7-7 with 10:54 left in the first.

Less than a minute and a half later Salado's Luke Law took the snap and ran it in from 5-yards to cap a 40-yard drive set up by Drew Bird's 26-yard kick return.

Chtay's kick made it 14-7 with 9:30 left in the first.

Garrett Combs and Nolan Miller stopped Blackburn on a fourth-and-1 try at the Eagle 41, but on the next play, the Robinson defense held Law up in the backfield for a sack and fumble return for a touchdown. The PAT tied the score at 14-14 at 7:32 in the first.

Salado took a 20-17 lead into the lockers after Maedgen dove in from the Rocket 1-yard line to finish a 12-play drive that ate up 3:32 and covered 69 yards. The Rockets blocked the PAT and would settle for a 26-yard field goal by Blake Borrego with 4:49 left in the half.

Law hit Morgan Adams for an 88-yard touchdown with 10:21 in the third to take a nine-point lead after the PAT failed.

The Rockets closed to within two after Jaxsen Ludlow hit Aleki Clark for a 34-yard touchdown pass with 11:49 left in the game.

The Eagles answered on their next possession as Law found Seth Reavis for a 14-yard touchdown pass. Chtay converted the PAT for the 33-24 winning score.

Robinson got across midfield in the closing minutes, but the Eagle defense stopped Ludlow short of the mark on a fourth-and-6 with 2:01 left to play.

The Rockets burned through their remaining timeouts but with under two minutes left, Maedgen ran through the middle of the Rockets defense for 43 yards, giving the Eagles a first down inside the Robinson 10. The Eagles ran out the clock instead of running up the score.

Adam Benavides led the Eagles defense by causing a fumble and returning it 31 yards for a touchdown as well as making 5 tackles, 6 assisted tackles (ATs) and a tackle for loss (TFL).

The Eagles had 514 yards total offense with 269 on the ground and 245 in the air.

Luke Law was 14-of 22 passing for 245 yards, two TDs and an interception.

Morgan Adams caught two passes for 94 yards and a TD. Seth Reavis caught five passes for 78 yards and a TD. Kase Maedgen caught three passes for 40 yards, Roman Law caught two passes for 21 yards and Caden Strickland caught two passes for 12 yards.

Maedgen led the Eagles with 157 yards and a touchdown on 24 carries. Luke Law had 80 yards and a TD on 12 carries.

Bird returned five kicks for 69 total yards.

Strickland punted twice for 84 yards with both punts inside the Robinson 20-yard line.

The Eagles defense held Robinson to 247 yards total offense, 102 in the air and 145 on the ground.

Also contributing on defense were Dusty Rhiddlehoover, 6 tackles, 6 ATs, 2 TFL; Davis Graham, 6 tackles, 3 ATs, 1 TFL; Cavahn Wilson, 5 tackles, 4 ATs, a TFL, a sack and 5 Quarterback Hurries (QBH); Garrett Combs, 5 tackles, 4 ATs, 2 TFL and 3 QBH; AJ Fach, 5 tackles and an AT; Lincoln Hossfeld, 4 tackles and an AT; Darius Wilson, 3 tackles and caused a fumble; Nolan Miller, 2 tackles, 1 ATs, a TFL; Drew Bird, a tackle, and AT, a PBU and an interception; Dillon Combs, 4 ATs and a QBH;
