An Open Exchange of Ideas

Oceans may separate us from China, but U.S. is not an island economically

The Markets

The S&P 500 Stock Index (SPX) bobbed up and down with vigor all week as various bits of news and rumor swept through the media but seemed repelled like a scalded cat from falling below the 3650 level. Then, on Friday, as the October options expiry date hit, instead of plunging, as it has every other month this year on that magical date, it soared! Something fundamental has changed. The SPX closed at 3752.75, up a very healthy 4.74% for the week. That rise still leaves it down 21.26% this year and 17.43% lower than it was a year ago, but up over 19% from three years ago and 68% from where it was in March of 2020. Meanwhile, the CRSP Mid-Cap Value Index rose 3.34% to 2188.36 leaving it down 15.74% this year and about 14% from last October. We hate to jinx this rally, but we get the feeling that we may have glimpsed the bottom last week.

The yields on Treasury securities were perhaps even more interesting, at least for market and economics geeks like us. The 10-year note yield soared from last week's just over 4% to 4.3% by midday on Friday, but then it fell back to close at 4.23%. That was not a surprise, but what happened to the 2-year note was. The yield (interest rate) for notes maturing two-years hence, fell from last week's 4.66% to 4.49% and, as a result, the yield curve became less inverted, and thereby is now predicting a less-severe recession may arrive sometime in 2023. West Texas Intermediate crude oil (WTI) joined the stock market in wobbling all week but wound up pretty much where it started at $85.90 per barrel, up 0.36%.

The Economy

As has been the habit of market and media pundits

Market & Economic Update

By Jeffrey W. McClure

for pretty much all year, the focus for the week was on inflation and a lot of guessing about what the Federal Reserve Board is going to do to fight it. Speeches by voting members of the Board are forming into a relatively clear picture that has short-term interest rates going up another 0.75% next month, but with much smaller increases or even a pause in rate hikes following that. Those comments were credited with the shifts we are seeing in the bond market and the stock market rise.

In the real economy things continued to happen and be measured, and some of them suggest the U.S. economic expansion may be moderating. September's retail spending report showed spending was flat for the month. So far this year, retail spending rose 8.2% through August, about the same as inflation, so a non-rise in retail suggests that demand may be moderating.

At the wholesale level, the prices of goods are disinflating but that fall in prices for things we buy was more than offset by the increase in services prices. Historically, goods prices lead services prices either going up or down. If the pattern we have seen over the past two months continues, inflation may be a thing of the past in six months to a year. The other good news buried in the Labor Department's reports is that wages are following price raises rather than leading them. If wages are following, the dreaded, "wage-price inflation spiral" is not a factor.

U.S. banks are reporting that credit card spending is not decreasing. They are also reporting that while consumer cash holdings are slightly below their peak, they are still considerably higher than before the pandemic. More, the banks are reporting rising earnings, higher than Wall Street expected, and are seeing no evidence of loan payment deterioration. So far, 70% of third quarter earnings reports by publicly traded U.S. companies have come in significantly higher than expected; another indicator that any possible recession is not showing up in the real world. Then came the news from the Federal Reserve that industrial production in the United States rose 0.6% in September after rising 0.4% in August. Those are not numbers that suggest the U.S. is sliding into a recession, rather, they are what we would normally expect early in an economic expansion.

Even as the U.S. economy continues to roar ahead, it is good to keep in mind that much of the rest of the world appears to be experiencing some very real economic stress. Natural gas shortages in Europe are already constraining industry, inflation is near or at the double-digit level, and surveys suggest that there is a near-universal expectation of a soon and possibly severe recession. China's massive real estate market looks like it has not imploded only because the government is propping it up. There may be oceans between us and them, but we are not an island economically. Economic decline in Europe and China may have an economic effect here.

Rep: Buckley on his record

To the Editor:

As your state representative, I have prioritized supporting women's healthcare and expectant mothers in need.

I voted for and helped pass legislation that extended Medicaid health care coverage to six months post-partum and supported successful efforts to ensure we had $345 million in our budget for women's health programs and $100 million towards the Alternatives to Abortion program. This $100m will ensure women in need have access to counseling, mentoring, care coordination, and material assistance, such as car seats, diapers, and housing.

We also passed omnibus foster care reforms that prohibits kids from being forced to sleep in CPS offices, as well as providing new tools to CPS to promote more local engagement and options for children. We allocated funding to provide an 11 percent rate increase for providers who work with high-risk children.

The pandemic showed us that we need permanent solutions to provide Texans with easier access to healthcare. I passed legislation that improves tele-health and makes these services more accessible and affordable. I also voted to cap the cost of insulin.

This session, I am fighting for new pro-family legislation that increases healthcare services for new and expecting mothers and their babies. Life is a gift from God, and we must ensure Texas children are protected and given every opportunity to succeed."

Thank you for your time!

Biden Deserves What He's Going to Get on the Economy

Rich Lowry

"maybe around 3%," but this represents "transitory factors."

A month later, Biden himself said inflation would be "temporary." Of course, it was on a path to 40-year highs.

It's one thing to spike the football in the end zone; it's another, as Biden keeps doing, to spike the football when it's third and long at midfield and getting repeatedly penalized for unsportsmanlike conduct.

Last week, he said inflation over the past three months averaged 2% on an annual basis, a new way of counting meant to obscure that the real annual rate was 8.2%.

This was reminiscent of his insistence that the inflation rate this past July was 0% because inflation was flat from June.

He similarly declared victory on gas prices, when they have been rising again, and has portrayed himself as scourge of the budget deficit despite his binge of further deficit spending.

If Biden is offering poor explanations for poor results, at the end of the day, it doesn't matter what he says. No presidential statement can compete with declining real wages and steeply increasing food costs.

The voters seem to be working themselves up to administer what is the only appropriate reaction to such heedless mismanagement and transparent spin on an essential matter affecting their daily lives, which is to make their discontent unmistakable at the polls in November.

Rich Lowry is editor of the National Review (c) 2022 by King Features Synd., Inc.

The S&P 500 is down more than 5% since Joe Biden's inauguration, and the Dow Jones Industrial more than 4%.

The Federal Reserve is ratcheting up interest rates, raising borrowing costs across the board.

And one of the most respected bankers in the country is warning of a recession, telling a conference that "this is serious stuff."

Yet, there was President Biden enjoying an ice-cream cone in Portland, Oregon, saying that "our economy is strong as hell."

Inflation? It doesn't worry him, at least not if the rest of the world could get its act together.

"Inflation is worldwide," he said. "It's worse off than it is in the United States. So the problem is the lack of economic growth and sound policy in other countries, not so much ours."

As polls show the economy growing in importance for the midterms -- the latest New York Times poll has 44% of voters saying it's their top concern, up from 36% in July -- Biden's overall performance on the issue matters even more, to his detriment and that of his party.

There are deft political maneuverers who react to circumstances as necessary, and then blinkered and mulish politicians who can't or won't acknowledge reality.

There are policymakers whose worldviews line up with basic economic laws, and then those always bound to be confounded by the real world consequences of their ideological fixations.

Salado Creek Ministries launched its first service to the community as "The Healing Connection," on April 27, 2019.

This was a 10 week experiment focusing on healing from the wounds of life.

"We found that there was a demand for such services in the community and initiated Home Connection Group," Robert Brott said. "We then experimented with our next public event on January 5, entitled, "Coffee With Christ," at the Historic Stagecoach Inn."

The group moved to Skype in 2020 to accommodate COVID-19 protocols but began meeting against in person at the Holiday Inn Express.

"We just purchased land for building on I-35, and "just look what The Lord has Done!" Brott said.

The ministry is currently classified as a "daughter work" sponsored by First Church, Harker Heights.

"Join our momentum as we follow The Lord to become a "mission" and then a vibrant autonomous Church in Salado," Brott said.

Brott is the lead minister of Salado Creek Ministries.

He is a retired Army Chaplain. He deployed to Kuwait, Iraq, and Afghanistan. He was awarded the Combat Action Badge and Bronze Star. He currently works full time for a non-profit agency conducting therapy for Veterans and their family members. He is trained and equipped to provide Pastoral Care to you and your loved ones.

He received his Master of Divinity from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth TX; his Master of Science in Community Counseling from Columbus State University, Columbus, GA; and is a Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist as well as a Clinical Supervisor. He is ordained with the United Pentecostal Church, Intl. He and his wife, Sarah, have been married for 35 years, and are happily settled in the Mill Creek neighborhood of Salado

MARY ANN (VAN HORN) (DEAKINS) FENDER
APRIL 11, 1934
OCTOBER 17, 2022

Mary Ann Fender passed away on October 17, 2022, at home.

She was born in Lansing, Michigan to Carol Henry Van Horn and Margaret Elsie (Clark) Van Horn.

Growing up she had an eye for a particular strapping young man down the street who was the son of her parents' friends. She always knew she was going to marry Frederick Calvin Deakins and have six children, but unfortunately, she fell short and only had five children with him. They were married on June 19, 1951 and had five children: Michael James Deakins (deceased), Deborah Sue (Deakins) Funderburk, Randall Calvin Deakins, Margaret Ann (Deakins) Carmichael, and Frederick Todd Deakins all married and gave her 12 grandchildren. Mary Ann was a tried-and-true Air Force wife over her husband's 20-year military career and during that time she raised her family in places like Massachusetts, New Jersey, South Dakota, North Dakota, Hawaii, and Texas. She eventually made it to Richardson, Texas in 1971 where she lived for 22 years. Unfortunately, Fred passed away in 1973 and Mary Ann raised her last two children as a single Mom.

In the Dallas area, she found employment as a Real Estate Agent and became an active member of Arapaho United Methodist Church. She was an enthusiastic volunteer for many church groups throughout her life and found joy in helping and serving others.

In June 1981 she married Richard Warren Fender, also a member of Arapaho United Methodist Church and was the proud Stepmother of Rick Fender, Robin (Fender) Connelly, and Ryan Fender, and three step-grandchildren.

In 1993 they moved down to Bastrop, Texas where they resided for 28 years and were active members of Bastrop United Methodist church. She was again widowed in 2020 and eventually came to live in Salado, Texas to be near family.

Mary Ann loved running her antique business, she loved all genres of music and especially attending symphony concerts. She could almost always be found with a four-legged furry loved one by her side, and she loved playing bridge with her bridge groups. Most of all, she loved being with her family and friends. The family requests charitable donations be sent to St. Jude Children's Hospital in lieu of flowers.

Services are in the care of Broecker Funeral Home of Salado. Please sign the guestbook at: broeckerfuneralhome.com.

PAID OBITUARY

MORRIS EDWARD (BO) WILSON
MARCH 8, 1944
OCTOBER 19, 2022

Morris Edward (Bo) Wilson, 78, of Salado, TX, passed away on October 19, 2022.

Morris was born on March 8, 1944 in Temple, Texas, to Edward Irvin and Faye Jeanell Conder Wilson.

Morris attended Roy Miller High School in Corpus Christi, TX, and graduated in 1962. While attending Miller High, he met the love of his life and wife of over 60 years, Sandra Jo Oswalt. Morris was a football player for the Miller Buccaneers state champion team of 1960. He went on to play for the University of Houston for 2 years.

Morris worked on several ranches including the 6666 Ranch in Guthrie, Texas.

Morris was a resident of Shamrock, Texas from 1978 to 1986 where he was a partner of C&H Supply and raised his children. He moved to Corpus Christi, Texas where he started Bo's Fishing Charters as a fishing guide. He enjoyed entertaining his clients and being back in Corpus Christi near his childhood friends.

Rose Mansion: Blending of old & new on tour Dec. 3

(PORTAL TO TEXAS HISTORY PHOTOGRAPH)

By CAROL WILSON
SALADO HISTORIAN

What's new at Salado's Historic Rose Mansion? Perhaps a better question might be: what remains historic at the recently renovated landmark?

Archibald Johnson, "A. J." Rose and his wife Sarah built this regal house for their growing family during a building boom that followed the Civil War.

Over the next three decades, they raised a large family here including first son William Seymour, "Seymour" Rose. After his widowed father's death in 1903, Seymour took possession of the house and by 1940, the structure was sheltering three generations named William Seymour Rose, ages 81, 50 and 19. The two elder Seymours, along with their wives, continued to share the homestead until their respective deaths—Senior in 1943 and Junior in 1971. This closed a significant chapter of the Rose family's history, marking a full century of ownership and occupation.

Walking through the home's little-changed parlor, music room, dining room and bedrooms today, one wonders how many Rose family births, weddings, parties, and deaths occurred within these sto-

This interior photo shows a portion of the entryway and staircase as well as one end of a long hallway that was once a porch. Shown here is a carefully positioned wooden box that hides a pipe that connects this old water pump to a cistern below the floor.

Just two years before his death in 1971, Mr. Rose (Junior) committed some of his memories about his home's history to print. Certainly no living person was more qualified to do so than he. That page of casual scribbles he dictated to a visitor in 1969, complete with a simple sketch showing the home's various additions, is itself a relic. The original house, he noted, was built over two years beginning in 1870. The architecture was of a traditional Greek Revival style featuring much symmetry, a rectangular shape with a protruding front porch and portico. As was customary, the original kitchen was made of stone, detached from the main structure, and relegated to space behind the house with other outbuildings. The first addition to the house, made in 1875, appears to have been positioned to bridge the space between the old detached kitchen and the rest of the home. That addition is marked by its flat roof.

There have been three versions of the kitchen: the original stone kitchen, an addition in which the stone walls of the original were replaced with more stable walls of red brick and the current exterior of the kitchen.

That kitchen was damaged beyond repair by a fire, but those beautiful red bricks, like so many other materials, have been ingeniously repurposed to remain with the property.

The transformation of this home is magnificent, but easily the best thing about the Rose Mansion is the young four-member Hyderkhan family.

Scott and Kellie Ann Hyderkhan, the new owner/residents, were perfectly suited for the task they undertook when they purchased and restored this landmark. They have taken every opportunity to showcase and preserve items of historical significance including some furniture, fixtures and decorations that were original, and have spared no effort or expense to honor the integrity of the home's history. An exquisite blend of old and new.

You can view this historical gem by attending the Historical Society's Home Tour scheduled 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Dec. 3. The Rose Mansion is one of five homes on the tour, which will also include, the Salado Historical Society log cabins on the grounds of the Salado Civic Center.

You may buy tickets at centraltexastickets.com or at the Salado library 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Nov. 26 from 9 a.m.-5 p.m. or 8:30 a.m.-2 p.m. Dec. 3.

Opening lead — three of diamonds.

In planning the play of a notrump contract, declarer's first responsibility when dummy appears is to count his certain winners. These are the tricks that can be taken immediately.

However, declarer may occasionally be lulled into a false sense of security if he completes this assessment superficially. As a case in point, consider what happened to South in today's deal.

Declarer played low from dummy on the diamond lead and won East's six with the eight. He could now count nine tricks — three diamonds, four clubs and the two major-suit aces — but the count was a false one. Taking four club tricks was easier said than done, due to the lack of an entry to dummy.

South began by cashing the diamond ace, learning that West had started with the Q-10-5-3. Next, in an effort to overcome the club blockage, he played the K-J of clubs, overtaking the jack with the queen. He then cashed the ace, hoping the ten would fall. When it didn't, he tried leading a spade to the queen, but after the finesse lost to West, he was out of ammunition and finished down one.

Actually, there would have been nothing wrong with declarer's counting to nine tricks if he had given more consideration at the outset to his entry situation. Since a side entry to dummy was needed to ensure four club tricks, the proper play at trick one was to take East's six of diamonds with the ace!

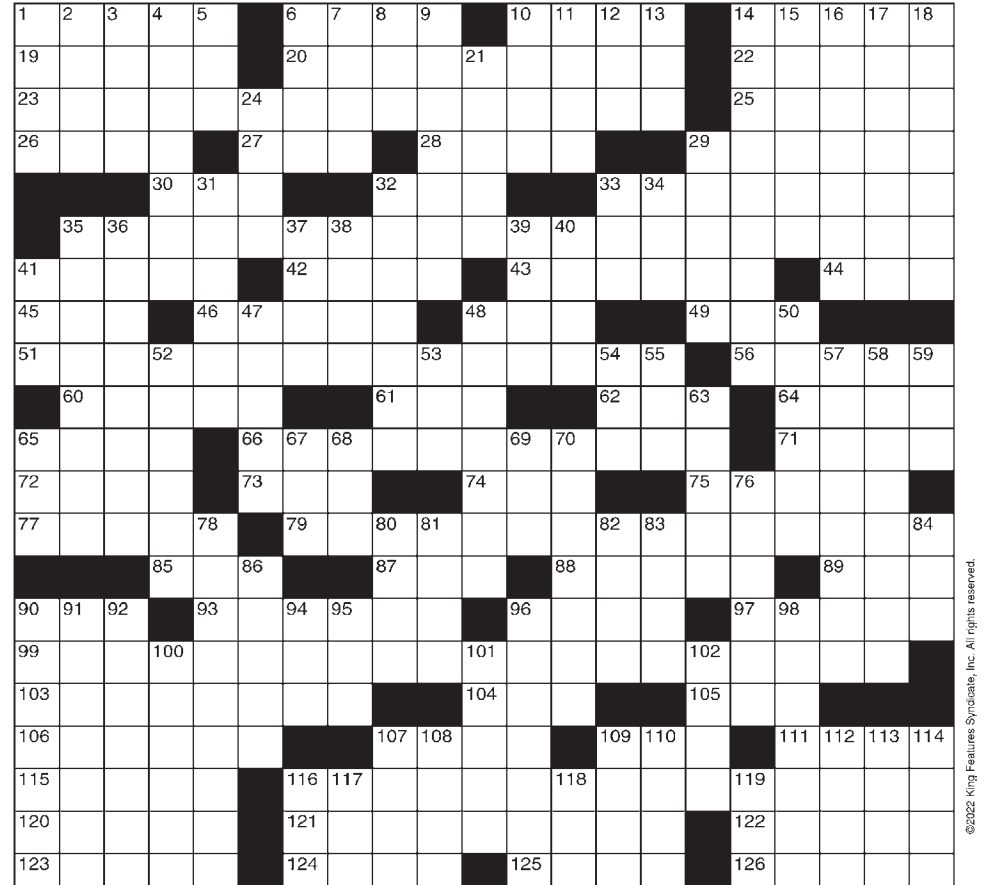

All that would then be needed for the contract to succeed is for West to have led from a legitimate diamond suit, certainly a normal expectancy against three-notrump. After taking the ace, declarer next cashes the king of diamonds and K-J of clubs, then leads a diamond toward dummy's J-9.

West can do whatever he pleases, but he cannot prevent South from sooner or later reaching dummy with the jack of diamonds to collect the A-Q of clubs for his eighth and ninth tricks.

Eagles fall to Connally 58-35

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Waco Connally's Kiefer Sibley went through the Salado defense like buckwheat through a goose, tallying 421 yards and seven rushing touchdowns on just 13 touches as the Cadets handed the Eagles a 58-35 District 11-4A-2 loss.

The loss drops the Eagles to 3-6 on the year and 1-2 in District play. Fortunately, the Eagles get a week off before they host the Madisonville Mustangs, who are atop district at 2-0 but host the 2-0 Cadets Oct. 28. Robinson hosts the Gatesville Hornets Oct. 28 in a game that could determine which team in District 11-4A misses the playoffs.

Four of the five teams in District 11-4A will make the playoffs. The Eagles could settle the issue with a win at home over Madisonville on Nov. 4.

But to do that, they will have to stiffen their defense, which allowed eight touchdowns, all on the ground. Sibley had seven of them, including runs of 99 yards, 91 yards, 74 yards, 58 yards, 49 yards, 32 yards and 2 yards. Ylon Nobles had a 34-yard touchdown in the first quarter as well. Waco had 550 yards on the ground and 24 in the air.

Salado found the end-zone as well, five times.

Luke Law hit Kase Maedgen for 6 yards to cap a seven play drive with 4:52 left in the half. Law ran in the two-point conversion and Salado trailed 16-8.

Connally would lead 30-8 before the Eagles scored on a 6-yard run by Maedgen with 9:49 left in the first half. Drew Bird toed the extra point to close the gap to 30-15.

Connally took a 44-15 lead to the lockers.

Connally went up 51-15 at 7:41 in the third on a 91-yard run by Sibley.

Salado answered with a six-play scoring drive highlighted by a 14-yard run by Maedgen, a 25-yard pass from Law to Seth Reavis and a 13-yard run by Law before Maedgen dove in from the Connally 3-yard line. A two-point try failed and the Eagles trailed 51-21 with 5:59 left in the third.

The Eagles defense stopped Connally on a fourth down try at the Cadet 39-yard line to set up a nine-play scoring drive, highlighted by a 29-yard pass from Law to Maedgen and a pass interference call in the end zone to set the ball up at the 2-yard line. Law dove in from the 1 with 1:41 left in the third. The PAT kick failed and Salado trailed 51-27.

Connally scored less than a minute later on a 58-yard run by Sibley. The PAT kick by Erick Lara put Connally up 58-27 going into the fourth.

The Eagles scored on a 15 play drive in the fourth quarter, topped by Law's 6-yard throw to Maedgen with 7:10 left to play. Maedgen then took a screen pass from Law and hit Morgan Adams for a 2-point conversion, making the score 58-35.

Law completed 18 of 41 passes for 200 yards, two touchdowns and an interception. Reavis was his favorite target, catching 10 passes for 124 yards. Maedgen had six catches for 56 yards and two TDs. Roman Law had two catches for 20 yards.

Maedgen led the Eagles with 167 yards on 22 touches and two TDs. Law followed with 20 yards and a TD on six carries.

Hickory Golf Tourney Nov. 5-6 benefits Salado Museum

Salado Museum and College Park will host its third annual Hickory Golf Tournament Nov. 5-6 at the Mill Creek Golf Course, designed by golf architect Robert Trent Jones II.

Entry is $150 per player. A set of hickory golf clubs may be rented for the tournament for $35. Clubs can be shared with other players. A commemorative ball of the tournament in a case is $5 while a sleeve of golf balls is $40.

Tee time on Nov. 5 will be noon with dinner served after the round. Tee time on Nov. 6 will be at 9 a.m. with lunch to follow.

Lady Eagles are District 23-4A volleyball champions

Salado Lady Eagles are District 23-4A champions after beating the China Spring Lady Cougars on their home court in a five-set match.

The Lady Eagles won the first two sets 25-20 and 25-23. The Lady Cougars won the third and fourth set to force the tie-breaker 25-18 and 25-23.

In the deciding set, Salado took an early 7-4 lead but China Spring fought back to tie the set at 11-11. Haleigh Wilk gave an assist to Livia Niu and Grace Clemons served an ace to go up 13-11. Wilk gave an assist to Reese Rich to break China Spring's service and make the score 14-12. The Lady Eagles won on a block by Niu.

Loss to Gatesville

Gatesville Lady Hornets ended the Salado Lady Eagles' win-streak at 14 on Oct. 21 coming onto the Lady Eagles' home court and winning in five sets, 25-10, 16-25, 25-16, 13-25, 12-15.

Haleigh Wilk had 6 aces to lead the girls in serving. Livia Niu had 10 kills to lead the girls in attacking the net, followed by Reese Rich, 9 kills. Macy Morris had 2 blocks. Wilk had 23 assists, followed by Niu with 11. Rich made 10 digs, followed by Sara Ellis with 8.

Win over Robinson

It was a late night for the 17th ranked Lady Eagles volleyball team as the first serve went up after 8 p.m. Oct. 18 against visiting Robinson Lady Rockets. Salado came into the match 7-0 in district play and would get all they could handle from a tough Robinson team. Unable to put the ball down consistently, the Lady Eagles found themselves in a hole early as they dropped the first set 22-25. Salado would answer in the second, but not without a fight from the Lady Rockets with a set score of 25-23. In a pivotal third set, it was Robinson that would outlast the Lady Eagles in another tight one, 25-21, putting Salado on the brink of their first district loss. Down 18-18 in the fourth set, the Red Posse would flip the switch and go on a 9-2 run to knot the match at 2 apiece. Salado could not be stopped and took the fifth (15-11) and the match. Freshman MB Elsie Law would be Salado's player of the game playing phenomenal defense racking up an impressive 5 blocks to go along with 5 kills. OH Reese Rich and S/RS Haleigh Wilk would provide much of the offense totaling 14 kills apiece with fellow S/RS, Livia Niu, collecting 13 of her own. Macy Morris would also be in on the party with 12 kills of her own and Freshman OH Haley Brown had several timely kills late in matches when the Lady Eagles needed the ball to go down. In her first game back from an illness, DS Sara Ellis would serve receive well, but it was DS' Jordan Ferguson and Grace Clemons that would anchor the defense and really shine late in the fourth set.

The JV Red would lose in three despite great effort and the JV White dropped their match in two.
