

Safety concerns aired before SISD trustees

BY TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Salado school trustees faced a crowd of more than a hundred parents May 15, many of whom were concerned with an incident the week before involving a threat made by a Middle School student and the district's response, or apparent lack of response, in informing parents of the incident.

Salado ISD Superintendent sent a letter May 13 to SISD parents and employees to address "A lot of misinformation has been circulating about a student at Salado Middle School the past few days."

Prior to that letter, the school was silent on the incident. Meanwhile, discussions blossomed on local social media groups and pages and a group of parents formed a "Parents for Safer Salado Schools" coalition that advocated parents taking their children out of Salado schools on May 15 as a "statement of advocacy for safe schools and transparency."

In the May 13 letter, Dr. Novotny stated that he is "limited in the details that I am able to share because of the Family Educational Rights Privacy Act (FERPA)...that protects the privacy of students and parents."

He further stated that the district would not share details about the incident, even without using the student's name because "many students and parents already know the identity of the student. Thus, any information shared regarding this situation would be a violation of this student's privacy."

"The safety of our students and employees is even more important than the privacy of a student or parent," Dr. Novotny stated. "If there is an 'articulable and significant threat' we can disclose information under the 'health or safety emergency exception' to FERPA."

The middle school threat assessment team met and "determined that there was not a threat to school security or the safety of our students and employees."

Dr. Novotny said that the district "promptly and thoroughly investigate(s) all threats or potential threats to school security. For those of you that would prefer to report information anonymously, we have a Safe Schools reporting system in which you can report information via text, web, e-mail, or phone. This is available at the "Report Incident or Bullying" link under the "Quick Links" on the right side of our district website (www.saladoisd.org) and this is the direct link: <https://saladoisd-tx.safeschoolsalert.com/>"

He further stated that,

"Students that violate the Student Code of Conduct may be assigned consequences such as In School Suspension (ISS), Out of School Suspension (OSS), Discipline Alternative Educational Placement (DAEP), or expulsion and placement in the Juvenile Justice Alternative Education Placement (JJAEP)."

According to the letter sent to SISD parents and staff, the district has six school counselors, a mental health counselor, a licensed police officer for each of the campuses and a School Marshals program "which we have school district employees become licensed as School Marshals after completing training through the Texas Commission On Law Enforcement (TCOLE). These School Marshals work and train with our police officers to provide an additional layer of safety and security for all of our students and employees."

He asked parents and staff to "promptly report anything that could be a safety concern" by contacting a school administrator or Salado ISD Police Chief Gary McHone at gary.mchone@saladoisd.org or 254-947-6950.

He further asked that parents and staff "not spread inaccurate and unfounded information about a student or situation through social media or other means. Social media is a wonderful way to stay in touch with friends and family, however, it is often not a good way to obtain accurate information from people that don't have direct knowledge of a situation. If you see or hear information on social media or through word of mouth and you don't know if it is true, please contact a school administrator instead of sharing information that is potentially inaccurate."

"While FERPA often limits what information we are able to share, we will promptly investigate allegations and dispel misinformation," he stated. "Students make mistakes and they are held accountable for those mistakes through our Student Code of Conduct. However, students do not deserve to be ostracized by our school and community due to false information spread through social media or other means. As a result of misinformation on posted on social media and through word of mouth the last few days, we have a student who has been publicly shamed and falsely accused."

Although the topic was not listed on the school board agenda for the May 15 meeting, two people addressed school safety during the public comment period: Jennifer Winkler and Ray McCullough.

Winkler is assistant principal at Thomas Arnold Elementary, a position she is leaving at the end of the school year.

Thank you for the opportunity to speak. I know my time is short so tonight I would like to share my thoughts on how our school, Thomas Arnold Elementary needs all of you and how I think Salado ISD will come out on top in the midst of the increasing growth and therefore, the new challenges that are in conjunction with this growth. I believe positive change can happen here because of everyone in this room... if we work together.

"As you know, I am stepping aside in just a few days, but my love, devotion, and belief in this town, this school, and these teachers will not change," she said.

"This year we have experienced the hardest behaviors we've ever seen," she said. "On a weekly basis teachers have to evacuate classes for an aggressive student who cycles through behavior choices."

Substitutes, she said, "have seen staff jumped on from behind and pulled down by their hair, kicked in the head, spit in their faces, slapped, pinched until skin was removed and bleeding, bit more times than we could ever tally, and been witness to every type of bodily fluid you could think of."

"The teamwork between our staff is exceptional," she said. "When the hallway is being blocked by staff protecting a child in an aggressive state, teachers seamlessly move their classes around the action to reroute and place themselves in between the chance of physical harm on anyone of their own students."

"How can we creatively, fairly, and equitably create a learning environment desired by all. This will take a true community effort (not a them vs. us mentality - this has to stop and we must work together)," she said. "This collaboration could create the beacon for other districts to follow. How can we come together as proponents of public education to make positive change?"

While the district has "incredible counselors, and a mental health counselors on campus.... these professionals are so booked that our most traumatized students don't have access to them during moments of escalation, so paraprofessionals rush in with guidance in social skills, and deescalation techniques, every single day. We have the best. But the reality is, these are once a week band aids, and not the solution to the gravity of the aggression or the aggressor in many instances."

"I'd like to propose that we be proactive rather than reactive, consider creating a committee that evaluates the issues, plans and then helps to improve practices across the district not just our campus," she said. "Why survive year after year when we could thrive?"

With more than 1,000 students ranging in age from three to 11, Thomas Arnold Elementary School is "in fact needy and in need of your attention and efforts as our world is presenting to us new challenges at younger ages than ever before."

"I encourage you, this coming year, to place this question at the top of our district's goals: How can we retain the best teachers to continue to produce foundational excellence?"

These adults come to work every day for the kids alone... Their successes lie within a moment a student learns the correct pencil grip and can write for the first time. When countless hours of small group work develops a reader for the first time. When the dream of future fine arts or athletic awards are built from the encouragement of a special teacher taking to time to teach hand over hand... There are no public accolades for this."

"There are laws that can make planning difficult," she said, "but we have the leadership, the community, the teaching passion, and the love to be the "exception to the typical public school rule" ... to lead the way with plans and protection for both students and staff ... to think outside of the box and deliver a public school that meets aggression with effective procedures, and road maps to help us all be socially, emotionally, and academically successful."

"But this will take great effort, research, and ingenuity," she concluded. "This has to begin from this leadership and school board and I believe with all my heart, this is the place to make this happen."

A parent of a Salado student addressed the board as well, saying that Dr. Novotny's letter "caused more of a concern than not. My student knows one of students involved."

He said that "All we ended up getting was that something was going on but nothing is going on."

"Why is it that our students told us something that was much different than what was in that letter," he asked.

He said his own child is being harassed at school, but is being told "at this point to just get along with this student."

He said that his child should "not be told to just stay in this position. Thomas Arnold and the Middle School continue to be an issue. It is escalating even to this day."

In the business portion of the agenda May 14, trustees canvassed the election results and gave oaths of office to Savannah Hennig, Eric Malmin and David Matthews for three-year terms on the board.

The board also

- Hired a new assistant band director for the middle school and an assistant principal at Thomas Arnold Elementary

Library District celebrates 25th anniversary on May 20

The Salado Public Library District will celebrate its 25th year as a library district and its 20th year in its current location on May 20. On that day, the Salado Public Library will close at 2 p.m., and the anniversary party will be from 4-6 p.m.

at the library. Refreshments, recognition of library supporters, door prizes and final scavenger hunt prizes will be given.

The celebration began last month with a local authors' book signing at Barrow Brewing Co. in Salado. Authors Charlene Ochsner Carson, Howard and Debra Lufburrow, Jackie Mills, Mary Katherine Parker and Sheri Wall discussed and signed their books. Donations to the Friends of the Salado Public Library were accepted also.

Other anniversary celebration events have included a four-week scavenger hunt, with clues published each week, starting on April 20. The first person to submit the correct photo answer each week won a prize.

All those giving correct answers will be entered in a drawing for additional prizes to be given at the anniversary party.

Salado volunteers founded the Salado Public Library in 1986. Salado citizens voted to establish the library district in 1998, and the library moved to its current location in 2003. The Salado Public Library District encompasses 134 square miles and serves more than 8,000 people.

U.S. could default on debt in early June if ceiling is not raised

The Markets

For yet another week, the drumbeat of the economic news was that things are bad, really bad, and almost certainly going to get worse. But also once again, the people who buy and sell stocks and equity mutual funds, invest in their retirement plans, and are the core of what makes the system we rely upon to work just kept on keeping on. The S&P 500 Stock Index (SPX) did indeed decline, but only by less than 3/10 of one percent as it closed out the week at 4124.08. It is now down 14% from last year's high point in early January, but at the same time up 7.36% this year, over 15% from last October, and is over 44% higher than it was three years ago. The CRSP US Mid Cap Value Index was down about 1.5%, closing at 2262.07, mainly because that is where the regional bank stocks tend to be, and down 12.87% from its top last year.

The yield on the benchmark 10-year U.S. Treasury note rose just a bit to end the week at 3.46% while ultra-short-term Treasury bills soared above 5% with the one-month bill rising to 5.79% on fears that the U.S. may, for the first time in its nearly 250-year history, default on its debts in the next month. West Texas Intermediate crude oil fell to $70.09, pretty much in the middle of its trading range this year.

The Economy

While there was rejoicing about the continuing low level of month-to-month inflation and its potential to stop the Fed's interest rate rises, another issue now has the lead in U.S. economic news. Finance and market leaders are both unanimous and loudly proclaiming that a failure to raise the federal debt ceiling in the next few weeks would send the U.S. and world economies into a

Market & Economic Update

by Jeffrey W. McClure

possibly severe recession. First to the news from the Bureau of Labor Statistics at the Labor Department. The headline Consumer Price Index (CPI) one-year number fell to 4.9%. While that was a high number it is also the first time the one-year CPI has fallen below 5% in eight months. The better news was that the Producer Price Index (PPI) for final demand, a proxy for wholesale prices, rose only 0.2% in April following a drop of 0.4% in March. What we have seen over the years is that the PPI tends to indicate what the CPI will look like a few months later. At the same time import prices, another number that tends to lead the CPI by several months are now 4.8% lower than they were a year ago. For the month import prices were up, but the areas generating the monthly rise were among the most volatile and it was the first significant rise in import prices in over a year.

Another bit of good news that was actually good news arrived as the Census Bureau reported that orders, production, and delivery of construction equipment, trucks, building supplies, and industrial software are rising at a solid rate despite the slowdown in other areas of manufacturing. Those items are historically the leaders when the economy is in the doldrums and is about to accelerate.

In one of those "bad news is good news" reports, the Labor Dept reported that new applications for unemployment insurance for the week ending on May 6 rose 22,000 to 264,000, the highest number since October of 2021, while the number of people with ongoing claims rose by 12,000 to 1.81 million. Members of the Federal Reserve Board have consistently stated that they were watching labor statistics for indicators showing a cooling in the jobs market to tell them whether they had raised rates far enough. This set of reports may just fit the bill.

There remains one dark cloud on the economic horizon. Janet Yellen, the Secretary of the Treasury warned that because of lower-than-expected tax receipts last month, the Treasury will begin to default on governmental debt early in June unless the debt ceiling is raised. The Congressional Budget Office confirmed her estimate. Major financial institutions announced they were preparing to go into emergency mode if the ceiling is not raised before the Treasury stops paying its creditors. Moody's Economics, one of the most reliable of forecasters, warned that failure to pay legitimate government debt for even a short period of a week or less could create an unprecedented crisis and a recession that could be severe. Since 1789, the U.S. government has never failed to pay its creditors on time. Any failure to do so would result in permanent damage that could easily spiral out of control, and, at the same time, dramatically increase the deficit and likely trigger a serious economic downturn as the Treasury would be forced to pay higher interest rates and the recession triggered by that event would lower tax receipts.

SB 896 should die in the House

By THOMAS S. LEATHERBURY

No legislation does more to advance Texans' First Amendment rights than the 2011 Texas Citizens Participation Act. The act quickly dismisses unmeritorious claims attacking speech, association and petition rights; stays discovery until appellate courts decide claims are sufficiently supported; and awards attorney's fees and costs to successful movants. The act particularly addresses situations where resource-rich Goliath sues to silence David, armed with a slingshot and a pro bono attorney.

But the Texas Legislature continues hacking away at the act's protections, narrowing Texans' First Amendment rights. Because of isolated cases elevated by well-connected Goliaths, Senate Bill 896 targets the stay shielding constitutionally protected activity from costly discovery and trial until appellate courts weigh in.

SB 896, which passed the Senate, lifts the stay of discovery and trial when: The trial court finds the act motion 1. was frivolous or filed solely for delay; 2. was untimely; or 3. involved speech or conduct excluded from the act by the ever-burgeoning list of exemptions.

Why should all unsuccessful Texas Citizens Participation Act movants benefit from a stay on appeal? Respectfully, trial courts get it wrong sometimes. Appellate courts often reverse trial court findings of frivolousness.

Trial courts run busy dockets, few have law clerks to help research, they may be less familiar with constitutional issues, and, unfortunately, sometimes trial courts dislike movants' speech as much as plaintiffs do.

SB 896 proponents argue the issues of timely filing and exempt speech or conduct are straightforward. Their lack of experience with and shallow research on the act shows. Appellate courts affirm denials of TCPA motions based on timeliness or exempt conduct in fewer than half of cases.

In the 2017 case of Hearst Newspapers LLC vs. Status Lounge Inc., the trial court misunderstood the Texas retraction statute's time periods and denied the TCPA motion as untimely. The appellate courts reversed and held the motion was timely, after almost five years.

In another case involving a company called Kinder Morgan, the trial court held the motion challenging an amended pleading was untimely. The Texas Supreme Court corrected that erroneous holding years later.

In these and countless other cases, with no stay, the cases can go to trial (after incurring thousands of dollars in costs conducting written discovery, depositions, discovery motion practice and appellate mandamus proceedings) while the appeals of denials of motions to dismiss are pending — when the trial courts should have granted the TCPA motions to dismiss.

On exempt speech and conduct, the law gets murkier. The Texas Supreme Court hasn't construed many of the exemptions, particularly those the Legislature added in 2019. Some have not been interpreted by our intermediate courts of appeals. Underresourced trial courts make their best judgment on multiple questions of first impression, but history shows that trial court decisions are often wrong.

In a Better Business Bureau case, it took more than four years for the appellate courts to correct the trial court's mistaken ruling that commercial speech was involved. Without the stay, the parties would engage in costly discovery proceedings in the trial and appellate courts and go to trial while the wrongful denial of the motion to dismiss is appealed.

Proponents of SB 896 have personalized the stay in isolated cases involving apparent gamesmanship, with little thought to the harm that lifting the stay does to Texans' First Amendment rights and pocketbooks and to orderly judicial administration.

The need for appellate review is strong. The stay allows for full implementation of the Texas Citizens Participation Act's promise by allowing appellate courts to decide whether lawsuits are meritorious enough to proceed before subjecting parties and courts to expensive discovery, inevitable discovery disputes and multiple motions on tight time frames. The Legislature should reject SB 896.

Absurd 14th Amendment option on national debt

now has written another op-ed in The Times saying he's changed his mind.

Desperate times call for desperately motivated reasoning.

In an interview on "This Week with George Stephanopoulos," Treasury Secretary Janet Yellen repeatedly refused to say the 14th Amendment is off the table; at the same time, she said invoking it would cause a "constitutional crisis."

She's right about that, at least.

It's a dead giveaway that the 14th Amendment option is a ridiculous contrivance that pretty much everyone in authority dismissed the idea until now.

Although the 14th Amendment as escape hatch was bandied about during the debt limit confrontation in 2011, the Obama administration ultimately dismissed it. "Like every previous secretary of the Treasury who has confronted the question," the Treasury Department general counsel wrote of his boss, Timothy Geithner, at the time. "Secretary Geithner has always viewed the debt limit as a binding legal constraint that can only be raised by Congress."

Indeed, the debt limit is not some innovation dreamed up by the House Freedom Caucus. It was first passed in 1917 as part of the Second Liberty Bond Act. This was hardly a congressional power grab. Before the advent of the debt limit, as Georgetown law professor Anita S. Krishnakumar points out, Congress authorized each bond issue, generally to fight wars and bolster the economy during recessions. The debt limit is the logical extension of Congress' power to tax and spend.

The 14th Amendment does say that "the validity of the public debt of the United States, authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned."

It's absurd to pretend that this provision somehow authorizes the president to arrogate to himself the fiscal powers of Congress if the debt limit isn't raised or -- more to the point -- isn't raised in a manner to his liking.

The House isn't saying that the debt ceiling shouldn't be extended, only that it should happen with accompanying spending reductions that make it more likely that our debts will be honored in the future.

Even if the debt limit is breached, it doesn't mean our debts will be written off. Under a 2011 Treasury contingency plan, other payments would have been delayed. This makes the 14th Amendment argument even more attenuated.

The Biden administration could save itself the trouble of trying to twist the Constitution to suit its narrow political purposes if it simply sat down with Congress and negotiated in good faith.

JEAN (JEANIE) FIELDER HERRINGTON
 MAY 9, 1929
 MAY 13, 2023

Jean (Jeanie) Fielder Herrington, 94, of Belton, passed away peacefully on Saturday, May 13, 2023. She was born on May 9, 1929, in Salado, Texas, the daughter of Elmer Lawrence and Emma Ida (Anderson) Fielder. She married James Harold Herrington in Belton on September 11, 1947. She met Harold while picking cotton and was married for 73 years.

She was a member of the Salado Church of Christ and in fact Jeanie was the oldest living member of the Salado Church of Christ until she passed away.

Jeanie grew up during the Great Depression in the Salado area working in the fields with her family and swimming and fishing with her siblings in Salado Creek. She enjoyed school and she liked playing basketball. She later graduated from Mary Hardin Baylor University with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Education. She was a very good student.

Jeanie was an elementary school teacher first in the Academy School District and then for many years in the Belton Independent School District before she retired. She loved the little kids that she taught and she had a profound influence on their lives because she cared. Jeanie enjoyed cooking for the family, canning vegetables from the family garden and quilting.

Jeanie enjoyed going to bluegrass festivals with Harold. She loved the music but looked forward to visiting with new and old friends. Jeanie enjoyed camping out. Jeanie's younger brother Neal and aunt Ruby traveled to many of the festivals with Jeanie and Harold. That was a special blessing for Jeanie. Jeanie loved to listen to gospel grass that was sung by southern quartets at the festivals.

Jeanie was truly a child of God and a disciple of Jesus Christ. Her faith was evident in the light in her eyes and her pleasant smile. She was hard working, intelligent and innovative. She had a tremendous work ethic but was also loving, charitable, honest, and always trying to help. She loved her family, her children, her grandchildren and especially her husband Harold.

She was preceded in death by her parents, Harold and three of her siblings.

Survivors include two sons, Jimmy Herrington and wife Pat, Robert (Robby) Herrington and wife Melissa of Belton, and a daughter, Barbara Bruner, and husband Mike of Temple; seven grandchildren, one great grandson and her brother Neal Fielder and family.

Services are in the care of Broecker Funeral Home, Salado. Please sign the guest book at www.broeckerfuneralhome.com.

To the 140....

Thank you to the 140 people who voted for me in the last Village election. I hope none of the votes were accidental? Some have told me they had to redo their choices since the names were bunched pretty close together on the ballot.

We all know how easy it is to hit the wrong button on our computer and phones!

Nevertheless....I'd like to assure all those who supported me that I don't get embarrassed by losing. My mom was a firm believer in ... "If at first you don't succeed...."

Of course I am becoming more like the Chinese saying...if you fall 7 times, stand up 8 times....or even like The Susan Lucci of Salado.

My promise...I will attend every BOA and PNZ that I possibly can, and keep you all alerted to significant events!

Again, thank you....

HELEN JOY HAYS
JULY 25, 1936
MAY 13, 2023

Mrs. Helen Joy Hays, age 86, of Salado passed away May 13th, 2023 at her residence in the presence of her loved ones.

She was born on July 25, 1936, in Thorndale, TX, a daughter of Ruby and Coulter Cravy. She raised her children in Austin, TX, made a life in Round Rock, TX and later in life called Salado, TX home.

Helen was preceded in death by her husband, Winston Hays; daughter, Deborah Lynn Price; son in law, John G. Keller. She is survived by her daughter Kathy Keller; son, John Hoyt and wife Susan Hoyt; grandchildren, Spencer Price, Kevin Keller and wife Robin Keller, and Kasey Smith and husband, Sam Smith; great grandchildren, Branson and Sadie Smith and Wyatt and Addison Keller.

Helen was a long-time member of the Salado United Methodist Church, and when she wasn't serving there, you could find her at the ballpark watching her grandchildren and great grandchildren play ball. She loved to write, and her family would spend countless hours poring over her written words and prayers. Helen enjoyed playing hand and foot and dominoes, feeding hummingbirds, and giving anyone that would listen her opinion on God and politics.

For most, Helen was not known by Helen, but instead "Nana". She was not only Nana to her given family, but also to her community. Her love for Jesus spilled over in every area of her life, and in her death, she would challenge us all to draw nearer to God and shine Jesus' light brightly in this world.

The visitation will be Thursday, May 18th, 5:30 – 7:30 at Broecker Funeral Home in Salado, TX. Services will be Friday, May 19th at 10:30 AM at Grace Church in Salado, TX with a luncheon to follow. The burial will be in Salado Cemetery after the luncheon.

In lieu of flowers, please send donations to: Grace Church, 5798 FM 2484, Salado, TX 76571

The Two Gentlemen of Verona

Tablerock Festival of Salado is excited to announce that Professor Kelly Parker, Director of Theater at McLennan Community College, and his theater students are coming once again to perform a Shakespeare play for the annual production of Shakespeare on the Rock.

This year's production will be "The Two Gentlemen of Verona." It will be performed June 2-3 at the Tablerock Goodnight Amphitheater located at 409 Royal St in Salado.

Tickets are $10 for Adults and $5 for children 12 and under. The gate and concession stand will open at 6 p.m. The show starts at 7:30 p.m. Purchase your tickets online at CentralTexasTickets.com or you may always purchase tickets at the gate on show nights.

"The Two Gentlemen of Verona" is a comedy by William Shakespeare and is considered by some to be Shakespeare's first play. The play deals with the themes of friendship and infidelity of two friends, Valentine and his best friend, Proteus, and the two girls they are in love with, Julia and Silvia. What comes about is a truly topsy-turvy love story, that has all the conflict between friendship and love, and the foolish behavior of people in love.

It is the first of his plays in which a heroine dresses as a boy. The highlight of the play is considered by some to be Launce, the clownish servant of Proteus, and his dog Crab, to whom "the most scene-stealing non-speaking role in the canon" has been attributed.

Cemetery Memorial Day service set May 29

The Salado Cemetery Association will host the annual Memorial Day Service at 9:30 a.m. on Monday, May 29 at the Historic Salado Cemetery on Baines Street. Everyone is invited to honor our veterans on this special day and pay tribute to their service to our country.

The purpose of the Memorial Day ceremony is to remember the veterans buried not just in Salado Cemetery but in all of the Salado-area cemeteries, including family and church cemeteries, by a roll call of their names by LTC (Ret)

Stephen Peters. All Veteran's grave sites will have flags placed on them before the service by Cemetery Association Board members. The Veterans are from the Texas Revolutionary War, Early Day Rangers, Home Guard, Indian Wars, Mexican War, Confederate and Union Armies, Spanish American War, WWI and II, Korean War, Vietnam War, and from peace time service.

Bell County Sheriff's Posse will again present the colors at the start of the service. Honors will be given to each of the armed services. Remarks will be given by Luke Duell, a local veteran. Taps will be played at the conclusion of the service.

Light refreshments will be served following the closing of the Memorial Day ceremony. Seating will be provided by the Village of Salado. PLEASE NOTE: In case of rain, the Memorial Day service will be held at the Pace Park pavilion. The guidance is: If it is raining at 8 a.m., the service will be moved to Pace Park.

Library plans summer reading challenge

Salado Public Library invites patrons of all ages to take part in its Summer Reading Challenge this year over a four-week period June 3-July 1.

Registration for the Summer Reading Challenge will be May 22-June 1 at the Library.

Programs for all ages will be offered, with appropriate reading for each age group.

When you register, you will receive four Summer Reading Cards, each good for one week. Each card will be used as your reading log for that week and will serve as your raffle ticket.

Fill it out as you read every day. When you have completed your reading goal, turn in your card to the library for a weekly prize to be given to each age group and as your raffle ticket for the Grand Prizes, which will be awarded on July 8.

The Library will host a Summer Reading Kick-Off Party 10 a.m.-3 p.m. on June 3.

Salado Lady Eagles lost to Burnet 3-2 in nine innings at home May 11.

Burnet started the game with a run in the first inning. With one out, McKenzie Davis tripled to left and scored on a sacrifice fly to center by Maddie Moise.

In the bottom of the fourth, Katey Bartek walked. The Burnet catcher tried to throw her out, but the ball went over the first baseman's glove, allowing Bartek to score on the error.

Salado took a 2-1 lead in the fifth. Lexi Dudeczka walked and scored on a double by Ryley Litchfield. The ball got past the right fielder allowing Dudeczka to score and Litchfield to go to third. She was left stranded with the final out on a fly ball.

Davis scored the tying run in the top of the sixth for Burnet. With an out recorded, she singled to left and stole second base, going to third on an errant throw to second. She scored on a single to right by Moise.

In the bottom of the frame, Salado threatened to score when Bartek double to right. She advanced on a groundout to short, but Burnet got the final out with a strikeout.

In the seventh, Elyse De Arcos singled, but Lady Eagle third baseman Toni Pugh grabbed a bunt and turned it into a double play. A line drive to Dudeczka ended the frame.

Salado went three up, three down in the seventh to force the game into extra innings.

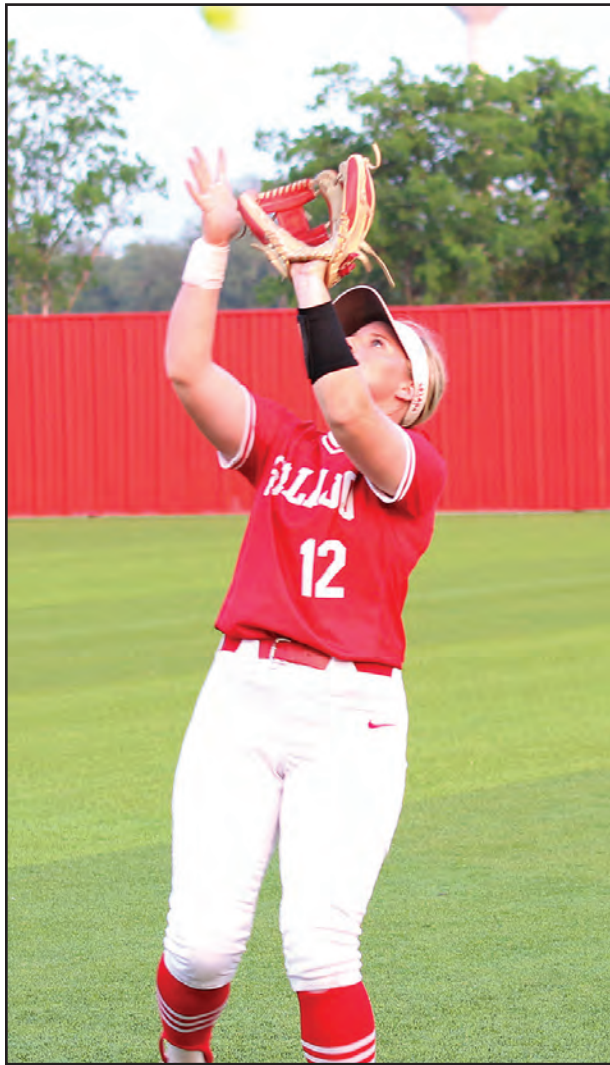

Burnet grounded out to Pugh and to pitcher Bri Waters and Waters got a strike out in the eighth. The Lady Dawgs returned the favor by putting out three batters to send the game to the ninth.

which is fairly standard play. This does not turn out well, because South next leads the queen of trump, disclosing the 4-1 trump division. You are now a deceased pigeon, whatever you do.
If you take your ace, South has an easy time scoring the rest of the tricks. If you don't take it, South has to work harder, but you still wind up behind the eight ball. He cashes the ace of hearts and begins to run dummy's clubs. Whether you ruff the third club high, low or not at all, your cause is hopeless.
Oddly enough, the correct play is to win the king of trump with the ace at trick four and lead a diamond! This might seem like a crazy thing to do — after all, you're presenting declarer with a ruff-and-discard — but it is a play that is virtually certain to defeat the contract.
What do you think South would do if you led the fourth round of diamonds at trick five? He doesn't know that the trumps are divided 4-1, and he would feel foolish indeed if he discarded a winner from his hand and West scored the setting trick with the seven or eight of trump. Holding the Q-J-10 of spades, South would be much more likely to ruff with the ten and hope for a 3-2 trump division. Once he did that, he could no longer make the contract.

Public hearing May 18 for annexation of FM 2843 ROW

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

The Village of Salado will conduct a public hearing 6:30 p.m. May 18 on the proposed voluntary annexation of the portion of TX-DOT right-of-way on FM 2843 from the Interstate 35 Access Road, west to a location just west of Mustang Creek Road in the Extraterritorial Jurisdiction of the Village of Salado.

The annexation petition, including a map and metes and bounds description, is available for inspection at the Salado Municipal Building. A Municipal Services Agreement for the tract will be available at the public hearing and copies will be available for inspection. After the public hearing, the Board will decide whether to annex the subject property.

The annexation of right-of-way along FM 2843 will then allow the voluntary annexation of Mustangs Springs at Salado, a 1,105.6 acre development northwest of the intersection of FM 2843 and Mustang Creek Road as the next step in the development agreement between the Village and Kerby Ventures, LLC approved by aldermen on Jan. 19.

Kerby Ventures LLC is proposing a three-phase development that will have 891.38 acres of single-family residential development, 31.41 acres of multi-family mixed use development, 27.46 acres of commercial-mixed-use development and 20.16 acres of commercial development. Kerby Ventures, LLC has agreed to set aside 15.13 acres for a public school along with more than 22 acres for private park land development.

The residential development will consist of 599 single family dwellings and 470 units of multi-family housing. Single family lots will range in size from 1 acre to 2 acres in size.

The agreement authorized variances from the Village subdivision requirements relating to block length, entrances, connectivity and right-of-way width. The developer proposed construction of a trail system in lieu of sidewalks. In addition to developing private park land, the agreement called for the developer to make a $365,000 contribution to the Pace Park All-Abilities Playground, which has already been received by the Village.

With the donation and $800,804 in construction of private parks in Mustang Springs at Salado, the Village will waive $861,000 in Parkland Development Fees and $304,804 in waived Parkland Dedication Fee.

The park and all public drainage easement within the development will be privately maintained by a property owners' association.

The developer will design, construct and operate properly permitted water and wastewater system to serve the project.

The agreement allows the Village to acquire and operate the water and/or wastewater systems at any point in the future under a separate utility purchase agreement. The developer has applied to Texas Commission for Environmental Quality for a wastewater permit (Proposed No. WQ0016294001) to authorize the discharge of treated wastewater at a volume not to exceed a daily average flow of 928,000 gallons per day. The domestic wastewater treatment facility will be located at FM 2843 within the development. The discharge route will be from the plant site to an unnamed tributary; thence to Butter-milk Creek; thence to Salado Creek.

The developer has not yet made application for a drilling permit from Clear-water Underground Conservation District (CUWCD).
