

Civility reigns at BoA

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Civility reigned at the Oct. 5 Village of Salado Board of Aldermen meeting. No one called for the Mayor to resign or the village administrator to be fired. No police escorted any citizen from the premises. Aldermen did not snipe at the Mayor or each other.

And business got done. Salado aldermen approved an agreement with Texas Department of Transportation concerning the installation and maintenance of permanent decorative lighting on the Main Street Bridge over Salado Creek.

The Village will fund the $30,000 for the initial installation of commercial grade RGB LED Neon rope lighting on the underside of the concrete bridge railing. The rope lighting would be placed in tracks that would then be screwed into the concrete railing. Approximately 600 feet of rope lighting would be installed.

The Village of Salado has wrapped the concrete railing on the Main Street Bridge over the Salado Creek with exterior rope lighting to “light” the bridge for community events in downtown Salado, according to Village Administrator Don Ferguson. This lighting helps illuminate the bridge for the thousands who attend downtown events each year, while at the same time providing decoration for the downtown business district.

The motion by alderman Paul Cox received a second from Jasen Graham and was unanimously approved.

Aldermen also approved a proposal from Salado Water Supply Corporation for the installation of a 126-foot tall, 300,000 gallon water tower just north of the Royal St.

and Royal View site where the current 50,000 elevated water storage tank stands.

The existing tank is undersized, outdated and needs to be replaced. It will be replaced with a new 300,000 gallon elevated tank. The installation of the new tank will require the removal of two trees. The site of the new tank will be just north of the existing tank site.

The new water tank will be similar in appearance to the SWSC elevated water tank located off Blackberry Road in the Village’s E-T-J.

The location of the proposed water tank is zoned Historic District. Elevated water tanks are not permitted in HD-zoned properties.

“A public need for the new tank has been identified and an elevated storage tank has existed for more than 30 years in the immediate area of the proposed new tank site,” according to Ferguson “As such, the Village staff is recommending approval of construction of a new 300,000 gallon elevated water storage tank at the proposed Royal Street location.”

Ferguson told aldermen that the Village approached SWSC about putting the elevated tank on the six acres that the Village wastewater treatment plant sits. “They were interested in that but got to looking at the elevation of the site, which will not be high enough,” Ferguson said.

The proposal was approved 5-0 on a motion by alderman Rodney Bell and a second from alderman Bert Henry.

Aldermen unanimously approved the Village applying for federal funds for major infrastructure projects: installation of a walking bridge at the low water crossing on Salado Creek at South Ridge Road and replacement of the low water bridge on Chisholm Trail near Elizabeth Circle.

The walkway will be installed on the upstream side of the low water bridge.

Ferguson told aldermen that he estimated the cost for each project to be $4-5 million.

Aldermen instructed Ferguson to include sidewalks and lighting for Royal Street in the request for federal funds.

The funding cycle for the federal funds is two years out, according to Ferguson.

Approval came on a motion by Bell and second by Henry.

Ferguson told aldermen that construction on the All Abilities Playground in Pace Park will begin Oct. 16. The existing playground will remain open for most of the construction, according to Ferguson, “When we start moving the large rocks, we will close it down,” he said.

Ferguson said he hopes that the playground will be open by March.

Aldermen learned that 10 applications have been received for the village administrator position with a pay range of $125,000-160,000.

Minimum requirements for the position are these:

- Bachelor’s Degree (Master’s Degree preferred) in public administration, planning, business administration, economics, finance, marketing, or a related field from an accredited college or university.

- Five years of increasingly responsible experience in economic development and project management.

- Proven track record with a municipal budget.

The position remains open until filled. However, the first review deadline is Nov. 2.

Saladoan among 13 veterans honored by U.S. Rep. Carter

U.S. Congressman John Carter (TX-31) honored 13 U.S. veterans from his district for their active-duty military service and their “after service” commitment to their communities, during an Oct. 7 ceremony at Temple College.

More than 200 people gathered in the Temple College Pavilion to recognize the veterans during the eighth annual Congressional Veteran Commendation Ceremony.

Following a welcome by Dr. Susan Guzmán-Treviño, Temple College’s provost and vice president for academic affairs and student services, and remarks by keynote speaker Brigadier General William Ryan III, Carter welcomed the gathered guests and spoke about the honorees.

“We’re honoring the ‘after service’ of service, where service never stops,” the Congressman said. “These are true American men and women who’ve chosen a life of service. ... That should be honored and cherished.”

The veterans represented more than 235 years of military service. Their community service activities following their time in uniform ranged from social to health care to religious to political and many areas in between.

“Temple College is very proud to work with Congressman Carter and his staff to host this special event to honor the service of our veterans,” Guzmán-Treviño said. “It was a privilege and an honor to help pay tribute to the incredible work they’ve done on behalf of the Central Texas community.”

Howard deserving of service honor

To the Editor:

Comparing what our elected world leaders wear on the grounds of our nation's capital to that of an underprivileged second grader is without question one of the craziest things I have read in my 35 years of life. We as a society have lost our connection to what it means to hold public office. Public servants, especially those in Washington DC, should be held to a higher standard, as these individuals represent our

Dear Editor,

How exciting it was to be invited to watch our dear friend and alderman, Jason

The Markets

The best news for the week in which October and the 4th quarter of the year arrived is that September is, at last, behind us. The S&P 500 Stock Index (SPX) started the new month and quarter with a rise of 0.48%, ending the week at 4308.50. That new number leaves the SPX up 12.22% this year, over 20% higher than it was last October and about 93% higher than it was in March of 2020. Of course, it is also down a bit over 10% from its high in 2022. The CRSP U.S. Mid Cap Value Index declined 1.53% for the week to 2227.32, leaving it down 4.80% year to date but up 4.34% from this time last year. Once more, if the old saying that "A bull market climbs a wall of worry." is true, then we must be in a serious bull market, because we find ourselves agreeing with Jamie Diamond that we have never seen such pessimism and fear in our over four decades of providing investment advice.

As has been true for the last couple of months, the big moves were in the bond markets. The 10-year U.S. Treasury note ended the week yielding 4.78% while the 20-year bond yield rose to 5.13%. All the Treasury bills with less than a one-year maturity date had a yield around 5.6%. Those numbers are hard to understand, so consider this. Just over three years ago, the 30-year U.S. Treasury bond was selling at $1,008. A 30-year U.S. T-bond sells for about $550 today. A portfo-

Market & Economic Update

by Jeffrey W. McClure

lio of long-term Treasuries has lost about 45% in market value in just over three years. Unfortunately, there were people, banks, insurance companies, and pension funds that bought those longer-dated Treasuries back in 2020 and are faced with the largest market value decline in Treasuries ever seen. If they hold them for the full 30 years, yes, they will get $1,000 along with the very low interest payments they received, but if they need the money now, they are going to take a big loss. There was some good news in the market this week too, as the price of a barrel of West Texas Intermediate crude oil dropped 8.8% from last week's $90.77 to Friday's price of $82.78. We expect to see that price reduction showing at the gas and diesel pumps soon.

The Economy

There was plenty of news in the economy for the first week in October and, as usual, the message was very mixed. Longer-term interest rates soared, taking some of the inversion out of the bond market, but in a manner most bond investors and traders did not expect. During most of 2023, pundits and traders were anticipating that we would have a full-blown recession by now and that, as a result, interest rates would plunge on the shorter end of the bond curve but that longer term rates would remain largely as they were. Instead, short-term rates have held steady while longer-term rates have risen to the highest level in 16 years.

On Friday, the Labor Department reported that American businesses created and filled 336,000 jobs in the month of September while unemployment held at a near record low of 3.8%. The "neutral" monthly new hire rate is around 150,000 to 200,000, so an increase in employment that high could easily be seen as an indication of overheating economy, causing the Federal Reserve to increase interest rates more than previously expected to dampen out inflation. Then the other shoe dropped. The Commerce Department's Bureau of Economic Analysis (BEA) released its Personal Consumption Expenditures Index (PCE) price changes. For one year, the PCE was up 3.5%, but critically, the "core" PCE, the metric to which the Fed pays the most attention, was only 0.1% higher than it was in August. The monthly change in core PCE early in the year was running along at 0.3%, then dropped to 0.2% over the summer, and is now down to 0.1%. In that same report, the BEA also stated that consumer spending, the largest single element in our GDP, rose 0.4%, an annual rate of 4.8%.

Even manufacturing, which is only 8% of our GDP, but carries a lot of symbolic weight, appears to be coming back. Back in June, the ISM Manufacturing Index was down to about 46, on a scale where numbers below 50 suggests contraction and over 50 indicates net growth. It has moved from that recession forecasting level of 46 to 49 in September. Better yet, the most important element in that report, Production, rose to 52, indicating that U.S. manufacturing has recovered from its slump and is expanding.

Yes, the data is confusing not only to lay people, but also to veteran economists. Hiring is proceeding at a near record pace, layoffs are few and small, personal spending, much of it by all those newly hired people, is accelerating, but inflation is slowing and currently is running at about 1.2% annually according to the core PCE. Meanwhile, employers, even in the slowed manufacturing sector, are hanging on to their employees. When asked why, the consensus appears to be that they are anticipating a surge in new business coming down the line. The overall picture remains the same with more confirmations each week. The American economy is growing nicely and seems to have the momentum to accept higher interest rates and keep on going.

Fire Department Champions National Fire Prevention

Fire Prevention Week is upon us, and the Salado Fire Department is amplifying a crucial message: "Cooking safety starts with YOU. Pay attention to fire prevention." In a collaborative effort with the National Fire Protection Association® (NFPA®), the longstanding sponsor of Fire Prevention Week™ for over a century, the Salado Fire Department is fervently supporting this year's campaign, which emphasizes, "Cooking safety starts with YOU. Pay attention to fire prevention™." The initiative's main goal is to spread awareness about the easy yet vital measures everyone can implement while cooking to ensure their safety and that of their loved ones.

As per NFPA's data, cooking indisputably remains the topmost cause for home fires and related injuries in the U.S. A significant portion of these fires is the result of unattended cooking. "Annually, cooking remains the top cause of home fires, making up a staggering 49 percent of all U.S. home fires," commented Lorraine Carli, the VP of Outreach and Advocacy at NFPA. "Such statistics reveal the pressing need for better public education regarding safe cooking practices."

Reiterating the importance of the 2023 Fire Prevention Week's theme, "Jim Franz" of Salado Fire Department remarked, "Cooking fires can escalate rapidly. Throughout my service, I've witnessed numerous homes devastated and individuals injured due to preventable fires."

To keep residents of Salado safe, the Salado Fire Department highlights the following pivotal safety guidelines:

Stay Vigilant While Cooking. Monitor what you're cooking continuously. Utilize a timer as a reminder.

Safety First with Pots and Pans. Always turn pot handles inward and have a lid at arm's reach. In case of a minor grease fire, promptly place the lid on the pan and deactivate the burner.

Maintain Safe Spaces. Enforce a 3-foot (roughly 1 meter) "kid- and pet-free zone" around cooking arreas, stoves, grills, or wherever hot food and beverages are being handled.

Fall Clean up scheduled for November 4

Cool weather is on the horizon signaling the coming of many Salado fall and holiday activities. This is the time of year when the Village really shines. In order to help Salado look it's best, the Salado Lion's Club, in conjunction with the Village of Salado, is orchestrating the "Keep Texas Beautiful Fall Clean Up". So mark your calendars. The clean up will be 9 a.m. - noon, Nov. 4. Lion's Club members and Village representatives will be handing out vests, gloves, bags and pickers. You can select a spot previously identified or select an area that needs attention. Trash bags can be returned to the Civic Center for reporting. So, you are invited to come solo, as a family, or as a group.

Scottish Folklorist lecture Nov. 10 at the Salado Museum

Scottish singer and folklorist, Ed Miller, will present a one-hour lecture in word, images and song, Friday, 1 p.m. Nov. 10, the Lucile A. Robertson Center at the Salado Museum, 423 South Main St., in Salado (www.saladoscottishfestival.com).

The lecture, The Scottish Folksong Revival from 1960 to Today, is sponsored by the Salado Public Library and the Salado Cultural Arts District in partnership with the Salado Museum and College Park. Suggested donation at the door is $10.

Ed Miller is a native of Edinburgh, Scotland, who came to Texas as a young man and has made Austin his home. He holds graduate degrees in Folklore and Geography from the University of Texas at Austin. In addition to having recorded ten CDs of Scottish songs, he leads folksong-based historical tours of Scotland and hosts "Across the Pond" every Sunday afternoon (4-5pm) on sunradio.com.

In addition to using a selection of slides and recordings to highlight his story, Mr. Miller will perform different versions of numerous folksongs to show what led to the Folksong movement and how songs were and continue to be altered to suit contemporary tastes. His presentation will include historical information on folksongs from unaccompanied traveler singers to solo guitar accompaniment to folk bands to "Celtic Rock" and even new age "acid Croft."

Ed Miller (www.songsofscotland.com) is the featured entertainer for the 62nd Scottish Gathering and Highland Games, November 10-12, at the Thomas Arnold Elementary School grounds. The Scottish event is the major annual fundraiser for the Salado Museum and College Park. www.saladoscottishfestival.com.

The museum is located at 423 South Main Street in Salado across from the Stagecoach Inn. College Park is located just south of the museum. www.saladomuseum.org.

Salado Elves raise funds to decorate Main Street Lamps

A dedicated group of Salado community members is collaborating to bring extra enchantment to Christmas in their town. The "Salado Elves" mission involves raising funds to adorn Main Street in time for the Christmas Stroll event, the first two weekends in December. The group was founded in 2022 by the local children's author, Jonathan Hal Reynolds, and is currently led by Lynn Greenfield and Brandy Sandor.

This year, their vision includes adorning the charming Main Street lamp posts with illuminated garlands, wreaths, and bows. Additionally, they intend to revitalize the gazebo lights at the Salado Civic Center, introduce lights to the historic green bridge, and illuminate the Main Street bridge over the creek.

In September, Greenfield met with Village Administrator Don Ferguson, who granted permission for the decorations as long as they maintain a uniform appearance. Once the necessary funds are collected, the group plans to purchase commercial-grade outdoor decorations from a wholesaler.

The goal is to invest in high-quality decor that can be enjoyed for years to come. Contributions can be made conveniently online via PayPal (search for "Salado Elves" on the PayPal site) or directly to the Salado Elves account at Cadence Bank. Your support will make Salado's Christmas even more magical.
