

SISD voters approve both bonds, Texas says yes to 13

Salado ISD students should occupy a new high school in Aug. 2026 after local school district voters overwhelmingly approved a $235,960,000 bond proposition on Nov. 7. SISD voters also narrowly approved $34,490,000 proposition for a new stadium complex.

Work on the current high school to convert it to an elementary/intermediate school will take place during spring and summer 2026 to re-open in August 2026.

Work on Thomas Arnold Elementary will begin in summer 2026 and finish in 2027 or 2028, according to Superintendent Michael Novotny.

Construction of the new stadium is not “contingent on any of those projects, but is contingent on when we will have enough band capacity to sell those bonds,” Dr. Novotny said.

Statewide, voters approved all but one of the 14 propositions on Nov. 7.

Below are the results of the Nov. 7 general election.

PROPOSITION A
The issuance of $235,960,000 of bonds by the Salado Independent School District for a new high school; renovations at Thomas Arnold Elementary school; repurpose existing high school for an intermediate school; information technology infrastructure and HVAC replacements and levying the tax in payment thereof.

BoA approves infrastructure work

By TIM FLEISCHER
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Work will begin on two infrastructure projects after aldermen approved the low bidders at their Nov. 2 meeting.

Aldermen approved the $499,986.50 bid by Royal Vista, Inc. for the drainage improvement project at Stagecoach Circle. The proposed improvements include replace of several driveway drainage culverts on Chisholm Trail and installation of a subsurface drainage pipe on Stagecoach Circle.

The cost estimate by the Village Engineer for the project was $535,248. The project will be funded with $322,190.20 remaining in the America Relief Act Funding, along with $177,796.30 from the Village fund balance.

Eight other contractors submitted the following bids: WR Utilities, LLC, $696,219; Yoko Excavating, LLC, $1,271,124; SJ&J Construction, LLC, $1,191,456; J&L Construction LLC, $1,081,156.82; Bell Contractors, Inc., $852,834.22; Nelson Lewis, Inc., $1,042,062; Central Texas Site Prep, LLC, $1,142,606.90; Adams Materials & Excavation, LLC, $693,133.85.

The contractor was approved on a motion by alderman Jasen Graham, receiving a second by alderman Paul Cox (remote). Alderman Bert Henry joined Graham and Cox in voting in favor while Mayor Pro Tem Rodney Bell and alderman Jason Howard voted against.

Aldermen also approved Blacksmith Ventures, LLC to overlay Center Circle at a cost of $169,923. Also bidding were Bennett Paving, Inc., $204,830 and Texas Materials, $221,689.

Approval came on a motion by Bell and second by Graham. Henry voted against.

PID Developments
Aldermen took two actions concerning Public Improvement Districts during the meeting.

Aldermen approved FMS Bonds as the bond underwriters for the bonds to retire debt for the Sanctuary PID and the Sanctuary East PID.

Village administrator Don Ferguson told the board that the bond underwriter is responsible for analyzing the developer’s capacity to retire bond debt, acquiring bonds, taking them to market, marketing bonds and selling bonds to potential investors.

Sanctuary PID, according to the agenda packet and minutes of the Feb. 2, 2023 Board of Aldermen meeting, is composed of 49.43 acres at the southeast corner of I-35 and FM 2268. The total amount of PID bonds to fund improvement projects is $7.4 million.

Sanctuary East PID, according to the Feb. 2, 2023 agenda packet and minutes, is composed of 188.85 acres located to the north of FM 2268, south of Royal St. and east of IH-35. The total amount of PID bonds to fund improvement projects is $15 million.

Ferguson told aldermen that all four of the firms under consideration “have outstanding reputations. They are all excellent candidates.”

He added that the decision to recommend FMS Bonds came down to three things: “Experience in the region and understanding the market, efficiency, and competitive bond rates.”

“They are the gatekeeper,” Ferguson said. “They represent us, not the developer.”

According to P3Works,

a city’s PID debt is non-course to the city. The bonds are backed only by the assessment on property within the PID. All costs to the city incurred as a result of creating the PID, including staff, legal, engineering and consultant costs, should be paid by the developer via a cash escrow deposit with the City and are reimbursable from bond proceeds when the bonds sell.

According to P3Works, the issuance of PID debt by the city does not reduce the city’s bonding capacity. Also, the city keeps all of its ad valorem and sales tax revenues. However, in the case of Sanctuary, the development agreement allows for the developer to keep half of the city ad valorem taxes, half of the sales taxes and half of the Hotel Occupancy Texas generated by properties within the PID boundaries.

According to law, a PID may seek bonds totaling 1/3 of the value of the improved properties within the PID boundaries.

Aldermen approved FMS Bonds as the bond underwriter on a motion by Cox receiving a second from Graham. It passed 4-1 with Howard voting against.

The board approved a proposal to require all current and future PIDs to post signage at all entrances informing potential property owners that there is a PID assessment for all properties within the PID along with a phone number to the PID advisor for more information on the impact of that assessment. Howard gave the motion requiring the further public disclosure on PID assessment, receiving a second from Henry. It passed unanimously.

Fed signals U.S. return to reasonable, sustainable rate of economic growth

Our dear old favorite, if fundamentally flawed, U.S. stock market indicator, the S&P 500 Stock Index (SPX) turned in one of its typical counterintuitive weeks as it took off like the proverbial scalded cat for the week ending on November 3, as the Index rose a whopping 5.85% to 4358.34! If you are keeping score, that rise took it right out of any suspicion of being in a correction and returned it to bull market status. It is now up 13.51% this year, about 22% from last October, and 95% higher than it was in March of 2023. Of course, we must admit that the SPX is still down about 9% from its record high at the beginning of 2022. Not to be outdone by its older, larger sibling, the CRSP US Mid-Cap Value Index, our other followed market indicator, rose 6.28% for the week to 2278.76, although it is still down 2.6% for the year as well as being about 12% lower than at the beginning of 2022. A bit of hope was added to the picture as Morningstar reported that their models suggest that the U.S. stock market is significantly undervalued considering its recent decline and the unexpectedly high earnings reports coming in for the third quarter.

Once more, the bond market was the center of attention as the yield on the 10-year U.S. Treasury note fell to 4.57% from last week's top of just over 5%. The Treasury yield curve remained solidly inverted with the less than 1-year maturities remaining around 5.5%. In a distinct surprise, West Texas Intermediate crude oil short-term futures fell to $80.89 per barrel heralding the hope for lower fuel prices as we approach the holiday season.

The Economy

The week was chock full of economic reports from both private and government agencies, not to mention a meeting of the Federal Reserve Board. The stock market breathed a sigh of relief on Wednesday as, de-

Market & Economic Update

by Jeffrey W. McClure spite the upbeat news for the U.S. economy, it elected to hold interest rates steady for the near future in a range of 5.25% to 5.50% in a unanimous vote. There was real fear that the 4.9% annualized U.S. GDP growth rate reported last week would shift the Fed into a rate increase. In the news conference following the meeting, Chairman Jerome Powell said he expects the economy to soften in the months ahead and was willing to let the higher longer-term rates do their work without an increase in short-term rates. Over the last year, prices have risen between 3.4% and 3.7%, depending on which measure one uses, but recently inflation has steadied at an annualized rate of between 1.2% and 2.4%, about where the Fed wants it to be. Based on their public comments over the past month, Federal Reserve Board members have shifted their focus away from raising rates to the issue of leaving rates at their 22-year high for much longer than many commentators have anticipated.

As if to echo the Fed's assurance that the economy has or is returning to a reasonable, sustainable rate of growth, the Labor Department reported on Friday that U.S. employers added 150,000 jobs in October, half the unexpectedly high job growth reported in September. At the same time, the household survey indicated that the unemployment rate rose to 3.9%, very close to the theoretically sustainable rate of about 4%. In the same report was the counterintuitively encouraging news that the job creation estimates for August and September were revised downward by over 100,000.

To us, the most significant report of the week also came from the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS), one of our favorite government agencies. As a result of labor costs not rising as fast as unit production, the third quarter 2023, preliminary estimate of nonfarm business sector labor productivity increased at an annualized rate of 4.7%! For those unfamiliar with this obscure statistic, high labor productivity allows profits, and our Gross Domestic Product, to rise without creating inflation. U.S. workers are increasing production of goods and services at a rate 4.7% higher than labor costs are rising.

Tempering all the good news, were the reports from the Institute for Supply Management (ISM) on their Purchasing Managers' Index for services and for manufacturing. In that index, numbers above 50 indicate growth and below 50, contraction. The Services PMI came in at 51.8 suggesting reasonable, sustainable growth, while in the manufacturing sector, the index was reported to be 46.7. The key to understanding those numbers is to recognize that manufacturing is only about 11% of the U.S. economy while about 78% is composed of services. The remaining 11% of economic contribution is composed of business investment, net exports of goods and services, and government spending.

There was good news all around for the first business week in November as the Fed held steady, job creation appeared to return to a good, sustainable rate, inflation seemed to remain within the Fed's target range, and U.S. labor productivity soared. It is good to see our optimistic view from the beginning of this year validated.

Water Symposium Nov. 14

The 22nd Bell County Water Symposium will be held at the Cadence Bank Center (formerly Bell County Expo) in Belton on Nov. 14, sponsored by the Clearwater Underground Water Conservation District (CUWCD). The theme of this year's event is "Water Resiliency and the Never Ending Drought".

The legacy partners of the annual event are the Texas AgriLife Extension Service in Bell County, the Bell County Engineers Office, and the Bell County Commissioners Court.

The Keynote of the Day will be delivered by Dr. Hal Needham, an Extreme Weather and Disaster Scientist located in Galveston Texas. Dr. Hal has been an extreme weather and disaster scientist with 15 plus years' experience conducting data-driven risk analysis for disaster-prone communities. He specializes in science communication to both professional scientists and the public on extreme weather such as floods and drought. He hosts the Geo-Trek podcast <https://www.geo-trek.com/podcast>, ranked by FeedSpot as the #1 podcast on natural disasters.

Dr. Hal is also an international expert on coastal flooding and directs the U-Surge Project, which provides the first comprehensive coastal flood data for the United States, Australia, the Philippines, Bangladesh, and India. He is lead scientist for Flood Information Systems, where he develops address-based flood risk tools. He resides in Galveston, Texas, site of the deadliest natural disaster in U.S. history. He has obtained a B.S. from Penn State University and M.S. and doctoral degrees from Louisiana State University.

Bell County Judge David Blackburn, will welcome the day's attendees and give an update and understanding of the growth in Bell County. Judge Blackburn represents the county's interest in the Regional Water Planning Group known as Brazos G which participates in the State Water Planning Process

The first speaker of the morning will be Mr. Tony Smith, Associate Vice President of Carollo Engineers in Austin. Tony states that he has been fortunate to work with and lead experts on various multi-disciplinary projects in many states. He has served as the Project Manager for the development of 2016, 2021, and now the 2026 North East Texas Regional Water Plans. He is the Project Manager for the 2026 Brazos G Regional Water Plan of which CUWCD General Manager Dirk Aaron and Judge Blackburn serve and represent Bell County interests.

Brad Brunett, BRA's

Lower & Central Basin Regional Manager, will follow Smith with an update on BRA's Water Management Strategies including but not limited to the recent announcement of the "Belhouse Drought Preparedness Project". This project is a planned water transport system linking Lake Belton to Stillhouse Hollow Lake. He will also provide an in-depth update of the Allens Creek Reservoir which is a water supply storage reservoir planned for construction near the City of Wallis in Austin County. The reservoir is planned to be "off-channel," meaning it will be built near the Brazos River on Allens Creek, a tributary of the Brazos. A permit to build the reservoir was originally issued to Houston Lighting & Power Company (HL&P - a predecessor of NRG) in 1974 to provide cooling water for a proposed nuclear power plant. The power plant was not built, and eventually, HL&P allowed the water rights permit for the reservoir to expire.

The Brazos River Authority and the City of Houston purchased the 9,500-acre Allens Creek Reservoir site from Reliant Energy in 2000. For the past several years, the reservoir project has been on hold. However, due to the increasing need for water supply in the Brazos River basin, the Brazos River Authority purchased full rights to the reservoir from the City of Houston and the Texas Water Development Board in May 2022. The BRA will be the sole developer/owner of the reservoir moving forward.

Aaron, CUWCD Board President Leland Gersbach and the District's Geoscientist Mike Keester will present an update on the groundwater resources across the county and provide specifics on current uses of groundwater, pending permits and status of the groundwater resources across the region. "We will present updated data per our most recent studies conducted and funded by the district to address many of the new understandings of the depletion of artesian pressure in the Trinity Aquifer in the most southwestern portions of our County," Aaron said. "An update on the Edwards BFZ aquifer will also be highlighted as the resources and permittees have reduced pumping the last two years due to the persistent drought of 2022-23."

Dr. Hal will give the keynote address during lunch. Following a catered lunch, two very important panels of experts will specifically address "Aquifer Storage & Recovery the New Reservoir" by a seven-member panel of ASR experts and those pursuing the need for this invisible reservoir for Bell County. Planned and implemented strategies for the county will be laid out by the panelists. "We have been discussing this since 2019 and the time has arrived for the public to know the specific facts and ingenuity being applied by science experts and the regulatory community," Aaron said.

The final presentation will be one of the most important aspects of this year's symposium. "New and existing homeowners have expressed consternation and disbelief that public and private water use needs curtailment in times of drought," Aaron said. "The district, while empathetic to private investment in landscape, the future is upon us that use of potable water for landscape is coming to a major shift thus Rainwater Catchment is a strategy we all must do to protect our outdoor areas and trees." Allan Standen is the recipient of the 2023 Texas Water Development Rain Catcher Award recognizing his excellence in design and implementation of rain catchment in his home. He received this award on October 5, 2023.

The Standen residence was designed and built with rainwater harvesting in mind since municipal water service is unavailable in the neighborhood. The design provides for 100% of the household water needs by maximizing the 4,000-square foot metal roof collection area while minimizing the conveyance distance between roof eaves and storage tanks. The two 10,000-gallon storage tanks are located underneath an exterior deck, allowing the system to conform to the natural slope of the lot while keeping the tanks out of sight. By collecting and capturing rainwater, Standen has conserved local groundwater resources by avoiding the need to drill a well, minimized erosion, and provided water back into the watershed through an underground overflow pipe.

Allen will present on how he has adapted his entire home to rainwater use. "His originality and innovation and knowledge of how to adapt by innovation is key to his success," Aaron said. "Standen is not new to Bell County, because, as a professional geoscientist, he has overseen the development of the 3D visualization of the County for Clearwater, which has brought great discernment on how managing the resource is being affected by the geologic structure of the County and the influence of overuse in Williamson County has affected the resource in such a negative way that is now insurmountable to sustain the resource in the next decade."

Texas Farmhouse style home of Robinsons will be on Christmas Tour

The home of Roy and Deanna Robinson at 248 Van Bibber Rd. will be part of the Salado Historical Society Tour of Homes on Dec. 2.

The traditional farmhouse style home was built by the Robinsons in 2021.

The home will be decorated with antiques and restored items the Robinsons have collected over the year.

The land that the two-story home sits on is traceable back to the original land grant from Mexico to S.C. Robertson the to his son E.S.C. Robertson and then to the Hamblen family, which donated the property for the original red brick schoolhouse built in 1924.

A restored 1955 Ford F-100 pickup truck will be decorated and parked beneath the windmill in front of the house as a prop/backdrop for photos.

Other stops on the tour include these: Sam and Rhonda Dowdy, 9 Salado Commons, David and Lauren Patterson, 461 Van Bibber, Grear and Stacy Howard, 181 OW Lowrey, Jim and Lisa Gurno, 708 Whispering Oaks and the historic cabins on Van Bibber.

Tickets can be purchased at [centraltexas tickets.com](http://centraltexas tickets.com).

Harbuz retiring, closing Angelic Herbs

CJ Harbuz has announced her retirement and the closing of Angelic Herbs in Salado.

"It is with mixed emotions I announce the closing of Angelic Herbs Retail Store," Harbuz stated. "After over 27 years of serving our community, the time has come for me to close this chapter of my life. I am truly grateful for the loyalty and support of my customers and the community throughout the years."

"I am offering exclusive retirement sale discounts on all retail lines excluding supplements," Harbuz said. "This is your chance to take advantage of unbeatable prices on the high-quality purchases you enjoy. My inventory is limited, so act fast to secure the artisan pieces, cards, and spa lines you enjoy before they are gone. This is also a great opportunity to stretch those Christmas dollars or treat yourself to something you have been wanting."

"Most of all I cherish the memories we have made together. I hope you will stop by to visit or re-visit my store, to share some of your memories, and to perhaps add another," Harbuz said. "I am looking forward to creating the next chapter focusing on my passion to help people make better wellness choices. I have the outline and will share the chapter once it is ready for release. Until then, I look forward to seeing you around the village and wherever our paths may cross."

Co-hosted by the Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service, Texas Riparian Association and TWRI, the workshop will include a morning session at the Salado Museum and College Park, 423 South Main St., and an afternoon session with a walk and presentations along Salado Creek.

Attendees must RSVP by Nov. 13 at tx.ag/salado2023, or by email Alexander Neal, TWRI program specialist, Bryan-College Station, at Alexander.Neal@ag.tamu.edu.

The program will also include a lunchtime presentation with a catered lunch being offered for $15 or participants can bring their own lunches. The catered lunch price also helps cover the coffee and snack breaks.

“Riparian education workshops motivate informed landowners and local residents to adopt and support practices to better manage riparian and stream ecosystems,” Neal said. “Not only are water quality and quantity directly benefited by the proper management, protection and restoration of these critical areas, but also enhanced are the soundness of stream banks, fish communities and aquatic habitats, just to name a few.”

WORKSHOP FOCUSES

ON WATERSHED EFFORTS

“Stakeholders recognize successful water quality improvement requires implementing a variety of management strategies,” said Whitney Ingram, AgriLife Extension agent in Bell County. “The riparian and stream workshop is an educational event supporting this effort.”

Neal said the workshop will focus on the nature and function of stream and riparian zones as well as the benefits and economic impacts from properly functioning riparian systems.

“Riparian areas — the green vegetated land areas adjacent to the bank of a stream, creek, bayou, river or lake — are unique and important ecosystems that provide many benefits including habitat and forage,” Neal said. “The goal of the workshop is for participants to better understand riparian and watershed processes, the benefits of healthy riparian areas and what resources are available to prevent degradation while improving water quality.”

Workshop presentations will be given by representatives of TWRI, the U.S. Department of Agriculture’s Natural Resources Conservation Service, AgriLife Extension, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, the Texas A&M Forest Service and the Texas Riparian Association.

Neal said they can offer the workshop at no cost thanks to program funding provided through a Clean Water Act nonpoint source grant from the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

CONTINUING EDUCATION UNITS OFFERED

Ricky Linex, wildlife biologist retired from the Natural Resources Conservation Service, Weatherford, said participants will receive a certificate of completion and appropriate continuing education unit certificates at the conclusion of the training.

The workshop offers many types of continuing education units, including three units — two general and one integrated pest management — for Texas Department of Agriculture pesticide license holders. Foresters and professional loggers can receive six hours from the Texas Forestry Association, six and a half hours from the Society of American Foresters, and eight hours from the International Society of Arboriculture. It offers seven credits from Texas Floodplain Management Association, seven hours for certified crop advisers, and six hours for Texas Nutrient Management Planning specialists. The program may also be used for continuing education units for professional engineers and architects.

The riparian education program is managed by the Texas Water Resources Institute, part of Texas A&M AgriLife Research, AgriLife Extension and the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences at Texas A&M University.

Eagles fall to Madisonville

BY LARNCE BARKER
SPECIAL CONTRIBUTOR

The Salado Eagles traveled to Mustang Stadium in Madisonville to play their final game of the year. Both teams struggled offensively in the first drive of the 1st quarter but both defenses played well to force each team to punt.

Madisonville's second possession started at their own 40-yard line and drove the ball down the field with their speedy backs and receivers down to the Salado 1 yard line. The next play the Mustang QB punched the ball over the goal line for the first score of the game and the PAT was good to make the score 7-0 Madisonville.

The Salado Eagles offense struggled in their next drive to go 3 and out and punted the ball back to the Mustangs. The Mustang offense attacked the middle of the Eagles defense and scored on a 38-yard TD run at 10:26 in the 2nd quarter and the PAT was good to increase the score 14-0 Madisonville.

The Mustang defense would continue to stifle the Eagles offense after giving Salado their first 1st down of the game and got football back after a Salado punt. Madisonville 4th offensive drive would end up with a TD run up the middle of the defense again to bring the score 21-0 after the PAT.

Madisonville would kickoff to the Eagles when Kase Maedgen returned the kick-off to the Salado 41 yard-line. #8 Lincoln Hossfeld took the helm at QB and brought some spark to the Salado Offense. On 3rd down, Hossfeld had to scramble and connected with #2 Brendan Wilson for a 59-yard catch and run where Wilson kick in another gear to score the Eagles 1st touchdown of the game. After the PAT the score was 21-7 Mustangs.

The Eagles kick-off to the Mustangs where they returned the football to their 47 yard line. On their 1st play, the Mustang QB would connect with a wide-open receiver for a 53 yard TD and the PAT the score increased to 28-7 Mustangs.

This would be the halftime time score.

The Mustangs took the 2nd half Eagles kick-off and set up their offense and drove down the field when they scored on a 8 yard TD run and the PAT would increase their lead to 35-7 Mustangs. The Eagles would take their next possession and drive down the field with QB Hossfeld had a 30-yard run then finally scoring from 12 yards out to make the score 35-14 with the Mustangs still with the lead.

The Mustangs would score two more TD on offense to make the score 49-14. The Eagles QB Hossfeld threw a Pick 6 TD return and after the PAT the score would become 56-14. The Salado Eagles would end their Football season at 2-8 for 2023.

Salado JV Eagles lost to Madisonville 14-22.

Salado junior high teams swept their Madisonville counterparts: Eighth Grade 22-20; Eighth Grade B, 20-0; Seventh Grade A, 14-6; Seventh Grade B, 14-0.

Salado Lady Eagles bounced back from their worst single set loss of the entire season to beat Gateway Preparatory High School 15-10 in the fifth decisive set Nov. 7 at University of Mary Hardin-Baylor. Salado took a two-set lead, but the Lady Gators dominated all aspects of the game in the third and fourth sets.

Momentum appeared to be on their side, until Elsie Law hammered a kill to end a sustained rally and put Salado up 4-3 in the fifth set. Law and Livia Niu blocked a shot and Law blocked another shot to put the Lady Eagles up 6-3, forcing Gateway to call time out and regroup.

Niu fed Kael Wilcox for a cross-court kill and 7-3 lead before Gateway broke Grace Clemons' service. The two combined again to put Salado up 8-5. Niu stuffed a kill at the net to put Salado up 10-6.

Gateway called time trailing 11-6 and closed the lead to 11-9 when coach Clint Brown called time.

Niu set up Payton Ortega for a kill and 13-9 lead before Gateway scored their last point of the set, match and season. Niu fed Wilcox for a cross court kill to break serve. Ortega and Law combined on a block for the 15-10 win.

Niu led the girls with 5 service aces, followed by Macy Morris, 1.

Wilcox led the girls in attacking with 12 kills, followed by Haley Brown, 9, Macy Morris and Wilcox, 7 each, Law and Niu, 5 each, Reese Rich, 2, and Clemons, 1.

Law stuffed the net with 7 blocks, followed by Niu, 6, Morris, 5, Clemons and Ortega, 2 each and Brown and Wilcox, 1 each.

Congratulations to Salado High School senior Rebekah Booth

Congratulations to Salado High School senior Rebekah Booth for her success at the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo Archery Competition last month. There were three flights of shooters consisting of 300 different classes (Compound, Recurve, NASP Genesis and Barebow). Each student shot twenty rounds of three arrows in their flight.

Rebekah competed in NASP Genesis, Senior Female Division. At the conclusion of her flight she was in the top four of her division with a score of 256, which qualified her to advance to the finals. She had the highest score in the finals round and won a $1000 Scholarship, drink cooler, belt buckle and a Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo "H." We are very proud of Rebekah Booth and her dedication to the archery team these past five years!

Opening lead — four of diamonds.

In tournament bridge, you run into all kinds of bidding systems. Players are generally permitted to use any system or convention they want to, provided it can be readily explained to their opponents.

It is normal for a pair arriving at a table to announce that they play weak notrumps, or Flannery, or Precision, and so on.

Many years ago, when I was playing in a national tournament, we ran into a pair who announced they were playing "Goldschmidt." This was a brand-new one to us. They started to explain the convention, but we suggested that they hold the explanation until the situation to which Goldschmidt applied actually came up.

It never did. On the first deal, our opponents overbid their values a bit, got doubled and went down four vulnerable — 1,100 points. On the second deal, the one shown, they wound up in one notrump doubled.

I was East. I won the diamond lead with the king and returned the three. My partner cashed the J-A and led the five to my seven. I shifted to the jack of hearts, not bothering to cash my fifth diamond.

West took South's queen with the king and returned a heart, my nine forcing the ace. Declarer led the king of clubs to my ace, and I cashed two hearts and a diamond.

On the diamond, South, who by now had only the K-J-10 of spades and the queen of clubs left in his hand, was squeezed. My partner at this point had the A-Q-9 of spades and jack of clubs. When South discarded a spade, my partner discarded his club. A spade lead then gave us the rest of the tricks.

So the outcome was that South took only one trick, the ace of hearts. He went down six — 1,100 points (1,400 in today's scoring) — again!

We never did find out about Goldschmidt.
